SUBJECT

Proposed Rule - IDAPA 08.02.02.004, Rules Governing Uniformity, Incorporation by Reference.

Proposed standards revisions to the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel manual including the English Language Arts, Gifted and Talented, Library Media Specialist, Literacy, School Administrator foundation, Principal, School Superintendent and Special Education Director standards as well as proposed standards revisions to the Idaho Standards for Operating procedures for Idaho Public Driver Education Programs.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Sections 33-1254 and 33-1258, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Standards Revisions

The Professional Standards Commission follows a Strategic Plan of annually reviewing twenty percent (20%) of the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. In the fall of 2012 and the spring of 2013 the English Language Arts, Gifted and Talented, Library Media Specialist and Literacy standards were reviewed by committees of content experts. All standards and endorsements were revised to better align with national standards and best practices; then presented to the Professional Standards Commission for consideration. The Professional Standards Commission has recommended approval of all of the committee's proposed revisions including renaming the Library Science/Library Media Specialist standards and endorsement to Teacher Librarian.

Also during the spring of 2013, the School Administrator standards and endorsements were reviewed and revised by school administrator representatives. The proposed standards and endorsements have been aligned with the Idaho administrator evaluation standards, the language from the administrator evaluation rubric and the most current Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) Standards. The Idaho Foundation Standards for School Administrators include standards for principals, school superintendents and special education directors. The Professional Standards Commission has reviewed and recommended approval of all of the committee's proposed revisions.

Driver Education

In May, 2013 the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) provided a technical assessment to review the public driver education program in Idaho. The assessment identified needed improvements to the driver education program in the areas of novice teen driver education and training administrative standards.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

The driver education assessment was a shared effort with NHTSA, the Idaho Transportation Department Office of Highway Safety, Idaho Transportation Department Motor Vehicle/Licensing, Department of Education, Law Enforcement, Public, Online and Private Driver Education programs, parents and students.

Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel
Summary & Background

Overview of the past standards

The early standards for initial certification in Idaho were based on the 1989 National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) standards. These standards were "input-based", meaning a candidate was recommended for initial certification based on credits and content of courses successfully completed (transcript review).

Example - Past (input-based) Standard Format, Biological Science:

Twenty (20) semester credit hours to include at least six (6) credit hours of course work in EACH of the following areas: Botany and Zoology (some course work in physiology is also recommended).

The standards were seriously outdated, and Idaho was in danger of losing its partnership with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), which is the nationally recognized teacher education program accreditation body. In addition to being a benchmark for program quality, NCATE partnership helps Idaho program completers gain certification reciprocity opportunities with other states.

In 2000 Idaho adopted new standards based on the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC) model. These standards reflected a move to "performance-based" outcomes, meaning a candidate is recommended for initial certification based on the demonstration of what they know and are able to do.

In 2012 a committee of education experts was convened to review and revise the Idaho Core Teacher Standards. After thoughtful consideration, the committee recommended adopting the newly revised InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards (April 2011) as published. No substantive changes were recommended by the committee. The committee did recommend a formatting change to the ten InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards to match the rest of the existing Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel.

An important component of the teaching profession is a candidate's disposition. Professional dispositions are how the candidate views the teaching profession, their content area, and/or students and their learning. Every teacher preparation program at each institution is responsible for establishing and promoting a comprehensive set of guidelines for candidate dispositions.

Each proposed standard is broken down into two areas:

- Knowledge (what the candidate needs to know)
- Performance (what the candidate is able to do).

The performance, therefore, is the demonstration of the knowledge and dispositions of a standard. As the demonstration of a standard, the performances will also guide a teacher-education program review team when evaluating for program accreditation.

Revised Idaho Core Teacher Standards (InTASC 2011)

The "Idaho Core Teacher Standards" apply to ALL teacher certification areas. These are the 10 basic standards all teachers must know and be able to do, regardless of their specific content areas. These standards are described in more detail with knowledge and performances in the first section of this manual. The standards have been grouped into four general categories to help users organize their thinking about the standards: The Learner and Learning; Content; Instructional Practice; and Professional Responsibility. The summary of each standard is:

Standard #1: Learner Development. The teacher understands how learners grow and develop, recognizing that patterns of learning and development vary individually within and across the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical areas, and designs and implements developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.*

Standard #2: Learning Differences. The teacher uses understanding of individual differences and diverse cultures and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.*

Standard #3: Learning Environments. The teacher works with others to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning, and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.*

Standard #4: Content Knowledge. The teacher understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline(s) he or she teaches and creates learning experiences that make the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to assure mastery of the content.*

Standard #5: Application of Content. The teacher understands how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.*

Standard #6: Assessment. The teacher understands and uses multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the teacher's and learner's decision making.*

Standard #7: Planning for Instruction. The teacher plans instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals by drawing upon knowledge of content areas, curriculum, cross-disciplinary skills, and pedagogy, as well as knowledge of learners and the community context.*

Standard #8: Instructional Strategies. The teacher understands and uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections, and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.*

Standard #9: Professional Learning and Ethical Practice. The teacher engages in ongoing professional learning and uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly*

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professionals, and the community), and adapts practice to meet the needs of each learner.

Standard #10: Leadership and Collaboration. The teacher seeks appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals, and community members to ensure learner growth, and to advance the profession.

Foundation and Enhancement Standards

The Core Teacher Standards apply to ALL teacher certification areas. The Foundations and/or Enhancements for each content certification area are behind the Core Standards in this manual, alphabetically.

Foundation and Enhancement Standards refer to additional knowledge and performances a teacher must know in order to teach a certain content area. The Foundation and Enhancement Standards, therefore, further "enhance" the Core Standard.

Example of content area Enhancements:

Standard #1: Knowledge of Subject Matter - The teacher understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the content area(s) taught and creates learning experiences that make these aspects of subject matter meaningful for learners.

In other words, Core Standard #1 basically states that the teacher must know the subject and how to create meaningful learning experiences.

Examples an Enhancement to Standard #1:

For Language Arts: The teacher integrates reading, writing, speaking, listening, viewing, and language study.

For Math: The teacher applies the process of measurement to two-and three-dimensional objects using customary and metric units.

In this way, the Idaho Core Teacher Standards, Foundation Standards and Enhancement Standards are "layered" to describe what a teacher in the content area must know and be able to do in order to be recommended to the state for initial certification.

Important enhancements for several content areas do not fall under the ten Core Teacher Standards. For example, a science teacher must provide a safe learning environment in relation to labs, materials, equipment, and procedures. This does not fall under an area that every teacher needs to know. Therefore, it is Standard # 11 under Science. (See the graph for further illustration and titles of additional standards in subject areas.)

In no case are there more than 12 overall standards for any subject area.

Pupil Personnel and Administrator Certification Standards

There are several certification standards for pupil personnel professionals and school administrators that are also addressed through the Idaho teacher certification processes.

- School Administrators
- School Counselors
- School Nurses
- School Psychologists
- School Social Workers

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

Because of the unique role of these professionals, their standards are independent of the Core Standards but are still written in the same performance-based format: Knowledge and Performances.

The process of Idaho standards development and maintenance

The move to INTASC based standards was developed in 1999 and 2000 with task groups from around the state composed of a variety of Idaho education stakeholders including teachers, higher education representatives, parents, school administrators, business people, and others.

Each task group averaged 5-10 people, for a total of over 250 participants statewide.

Members of the Idaho's MOST Standards Committee formed by the State Board of Education and standards-writing Task Groups together have dedicated a total of over 4,000 volunteer hours on development of these standards.

The Professional Standards Commission (PSC) continuously reviews/revises 20% of the standards per year. The review process involves teams of content area experts from higher education and K-12 schools. The standards are then reviewed by the PSC and presented to the Idaho State Board of Education for approval. Once approved, they are reviewed by the State Legislature and become an incorporated by reference document in State Board Rule.

The Idaho Core Teacher Standards were revised in the spring of 2012 to align with the InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards (April 2011). Starting with the 2012-2013 standards review cycle, committees of education experts were convened to review and revise the content area standards according to both current national standards and the InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards (April 2011).

Idaho Core Teaching Standards

All teacher candidates are expected to meet the Idaho Core Teacher Standards and the standards specific to their discipline area(s) at the “acceptable” level or above. Additionally, all teacher candidates are expected to meet the requirements defined in State Board Rule (08.02.02: Rules Governing Uniformity).

The following knowledge and performance statements for the Core Teacher Standards are widely recognized, but not all-encompassing or absolute, indicators that teacher candidates have met the standards. The evidence validating candidates’ ability to demonstrate these standards shall be collected from a variety of settings including, but not limited to, courses, practicum, and field experiences. It is the responsibility of a teacher preparation program to use indicators in a manner that is consistent with its conceptual framework and that assures attainment of the standards.

An important component of the teaching profession is a candidate’s disposition. Professional dispositions are how the candidate views the teaching profession, their content area, and/or students and their learning. Every teacher preparation program at each institution is responsible for establishing and promoting a comprehensive set of guidelines for candidate dispositions.

 This language was written by a committee of content experts and has been adopted verbatim*

Core Teaching Standards

The standards have been grouped into four general categories to help users organize their thinking about the standards: The Learner and Learning, Content, Instructional Practice, and Professional Responsibility. This language has been adopted verbatim from the April 2011 InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards.

The Learner and Learning

Teaching begins with the learner. To ensure that each student learns new knowledge and skills, teachers must understand that learning and developmental patterns vary among individuals, that learners bring unique individual differences to the learning process, and that learners need supportive and safe learning environments to thrive. Effective teachers have high expectations for each and every learner and implement developmentally appropriate, challenging learning experiences within a variety of learning environments that help all learners meet high standards and reach their full potential. Teachers do this by combining a base of professional knowledge, including an understanding of how cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical development occurs, with the recognition that learners are individuals who bring differing personal and family backgrounds, skills, abilities, perspectives, talents and interests. Teachers collaborate with learners, colleagues, school leaders, families, members of the learners’ communities, and community organizations to better understand their students and maximize their learning. Teachers promote learners’ acceptance of responsibility for their own learning and collaborate with them to ensure the effective design and implementation of both self-directed and collaborative learning.

Today's teachers make content knowledge accessible to learners by using multiple means of communication, including digital media and information technology. They integrate cross-disciplinary skills (e.g., critical thinking, problem solving, creativity, communication) to help learners use content to propose solutions, forge new understandings, solve problems, and imagine possibilities. STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Disposition

1. The teacher is constantly exploring how to use disciplinary knowledge as a lens to address local and global issues.
2. The teacher values knowledge outside his/her own content area and how such knowledge enhances student learning.
3. The teacher values flexible learning environments that encourage learner exploration, discovery, and expression across content areas.

Instructional Practice

Effective instructional practice requires that teachers understand and integrate assessment, planning, and instructional strategies in coordinated and engaging ways. Beginning with their end or goal, teachers first identify student learning objectives and content standards and align assessments to those objectives. Teachers understand how to design, implement and interpret results from a range of formative and summative assessments. This knowledge is integrated into instructional practice so that teachers have access to information that can be used to provide immediate feedback to reinforce student learning and to modify instruction. GLOSSARY OF TERMS

ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines

A nationally developed and agreed upon set of descriptions of what individuals can do with language in terms of speaking, writing, listening, and reading in real-world situations in a spontaneous and non-rehearsed context. For each skill, these guidelines identify five major levels of proficiency: Distinguished, Superior, Advanced, Intermediate, and Novice. The major levels Advanced, Intermediate, and Novice are subdivided into High, Mid, and Low sublevels. The levels of the ACTFL Guidelines describe the continuum of proficiency from that of the highly articulate, well-educated language user to a level of little or no functional ability. These Guidelines present the levels of proficiency as ranges, and describe what an individual can and cannot do with language at each level, regardless of where, when, or how the language was acquired. http://www.actfl.org/files/public/ACTFLProficiencyGuidelines2012_FINAL.pdf

Additionally, all teacher candidates are expected to meet the requirements defined in State Board Rule (08.02.02: Rules Governing Uniformity).

The following knowledge and performance statements for the Gifted and Talented Education Teacher Professionals Standards are widely recognized, but not all-encompassing or absolute indicators that ~~teacher~~ candidates have met the standards. The evidence validating candidates’ ability to demonstrate these standards shall be collected from a variety of settings including, but not limited to, courses, practicum, and field experiences. It is the responsibility of a ~~teacher~~ preparation program to use indicators in a manner that is consistent with its conceptual framework and that assures attainment of the standards.

The Idaho Standards for Gifted and Talented Education Professionals incorporate the National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC) and the Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) Gifted Educator Preparation Standards (2014).

An important component of the teaching profession is a candidate’s disposition. Professional dispositions are how the candidate views the teaching profession, ~~their~~ his/her content area, and/or students and their learning. Every teacher preparation program at each institution is responsible for establishing and promoting a comprehensive set of guidelines for candidate dispositions.

2. Beginning gifted education professionals model respect for diversity, understanding that diversity is a part of families, cultures, and schools, and that complex human issues can interact with identification of individuals with gifts and talents and the delivery of gifted services.
3. Beginning gifted education professionals advance the gifted education profession through participation in professional activities, learning communities, advocacy, and mentoring.

Supporting Explanation for Standard 9:

Beginning gifted educators practice in multiple roles and complex situations across wide age and developmental ranges requiring ongoing attention to legal matters and serious consideration of professional and ethical issues. Ethical principles and Program Standards guide beginning gifted educators. These principles and standards provide benchmarks by which gifted educators practice and evaluate one another professionally.

Beginning gifted educators understand gifted education as an evolving and changing discipline based on philosophies, evidence-based principles and theories, policies, and historical points of view that continue to influence the field of gifted education and the education of and services for individuals with gifts and talents and their families in both school and society. Beginning gifted educators understand how these factors influence professional practice including assessment, instructional planning, services, and program evaluation.

Beginning gifted educators are sensitive to the aspects of diversity relating to individuals with gifts and talents and their families, how human diversity can influence families, cultures, and schools, and how these complex issues can each interact with the delivery of gifted education services. Of special significance is the growth in the number and prevalence of English Language Learners (ELL) and the provision of effective gifted education services for ELL with exceptionalities and their families.

Beginning gifted educators also understand the relationships of the organization of gifted education services to the organization of schools, school systems, and education-related agencies within the country and cultures in which they practice. They are aware of how their own and others' attitudes, behaviors, and ways of communicating can influence their practice, and use this knowledge as a foundation to inform their own personal understandings and philosophies of special education.

Beginning gifted educators engage in professional activities and participate actively in professional learning communities that benefit individuals with gifts and talents, their families, colleagues, and their own professional growth. They view themselves as lifelong learners and regularly reflect on and adjust their practice, and develop and use personalized professional development plans. They plan and engage in activities that foster their professional growth and keep them current with evidence-based practices and know how to recognize their own skill limits and practice within them.

7. Beginning gifted education professionals identify and implement extension and acceleration options for individuals with gifts and talents.
8. Beginning gifted education professionals match student needs with appropriate program options and services.

Supporting Explanation for Standard 10:

One of the significant changes in education over the past several decades is the rapid growth of collaborative educational teams to address the educational needs of students. The diversity of the students, complexity of curricular demands, growing influence of technology, and the rising targets for learner outcomes in the 21st century has created the demand for teams of educators collaborating together to ensure all students are effectively learning challenging curricula. Beginning gifted educators embrace their role as a resource to colleagues and use the theory and elements of collaboration across a wide range of contexts and collaborators.

They collaborate with their general education and other special education colleagues to create learning environments that meaningfully include individuals with gifts and talents, and that foster cultural understanding, safety and emotional wellbeing, positive social interactions, and active engagement. Additionally, beginning gifted educators use collaboration to facilitate differentiated assessment and instructional planning to advance learning of individuals with gifts and talents across a wide range of settings and different learning experiences. They routinely collaborate with other educators in developing mentorships, internships, and vocational programming experiences to address the needs of individuals with gifts and talents.

Gifted educators have long recognized the positive significance of the active involvement of individuals with gifts and talents and their families in the education process, and gifted educators involve individuals with gifts and talents and their families collaboratively in all aspects of the education of individuals with gifts and talents.

Glossary of Terms

ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines – a nationally developed and agreed upon set of descriptions of what individuals can do with language in terms of speaking, writing, listening, and reading in real-world situations in a spontaneous and non-rehearsed context. For each skill, these guidelines identify five major levels of proficiency: Distinguished, Superior, Advanced, Intermediate, and Novice. The major levels Advanced, Intermediate, and Novice are subdivided into High, Mid, and Low sublevels. The levels of the ACTFL Guidelines describe the continuum of proficiency from that of the highly articulate, well-educated language user to a level of little or no functional ability. These Guidelines present the levels of proficiency as ranges, and describe what an individual can and cannot do with language at each level, regardless of where, when, or how the language was acquired.

American Council of Teachers of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) – an organization for world language professionals of K-12 and higher education

Content-Based Instruction (CBI) – a method of teaching language where content is a means to language acquisition, and supports proficiency with challenging, informative, and complex communication

Critical thinking – an intellectually disciplined process of actively and skillfully applying, analyzing, synthesizing, and or evaluating information, which in its exemplary form transcends subject matter disciplines

Form-Focused Instruction (FFI) - attention to the formal aspects of language (grammar, spelling, intonation, etc.) and is a cognitive approach to language learning which holds that second language proficiency resides in both rule-based and exemplar-based knowledge. Rule-based knowledge consists of linguistic rules and is form-oriented, whereas the exemplar-based system consists of chunks of language: instances of language that are unanalysed and stored as a whole in our memories.

Scaffolding - a process that enables a student to solve a problem, carry out a task, or achieve a goal which otherwise would be beyond his or her unassisted efforts including instructional, procedural, and verbal techniques. See Zone of Proximal Development (ZPD)

Zone of Proximal Development (ZPD) - the distance or cognitive gap between what a learner can do without assistance and what that learner can do with a more capable peer or skilled adult, a locus for scaffolding

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule Changes to IDAPA 08.02.02.018, .021, .022, .023, .024, .026, .100 Rules Governing Uniformity.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-1254, 33-1258, and 33-114, Idaho Code
Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 08.02.02 - Rules Governing Uniformity

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

08.02.02.018.04. Standard Elementary Certificate - Area of Endorsement.

This clarification to rule is necessary to fully articulate the intent of the law. This rule was promulgated with the intent that only completers of Idaho approved educator preparation programs would be required to seek the area of endorsement. Because Idaho is one of the few states that does not offer a middle school certificate, the area of endorsement requirement better prepares Idaho graduates with the additional content necessary to teach, and be considered highly qualified, in the middle grades.

08.02.02.021. ENDORSEMENTS

This addition to the rule is necessary in order to clearly stipulate that all areas of endorsement require relevant experience in the specified content area.

08.02.02.022.11 ENDORSEMENTS A-D Driver Education (6-12).
08.02.02.023.03, .08, .13, .14 ENDORSEMENTS E - L English (6-12), Gifted and Talented (K-12), Library Media Specialist (K-12), Literacy (K-12).
08.02.02.024.14, .15, .16 ENDORSEMENTS M - Z Teacher Librarian (K-12).

The Professional Standards Commission follows a Strategic Plan of annually reviewing twenty percent (20%) of the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. In the fall of 2012 and the spring of 2013 the English Language Arts, Gifted and Talented, Library Media Specialist and Literacy standards were reviewed by committees of content experts. All standards and endorsements were revised to better align with best practices; then presented to the Professional Standards Commission for consideration. The Professional Standards Commission has recommended approval of all of the committee's proposed revisions including renaming the Library Science/Library Media Specialist standards and endorsement to Teacher Librarian.

The Driver Education endorsement has been struck from IDAPA because there is no longer a state requirement for teaching Driver Education courses, nor do any Idaho Approved Preparation Programs offer this endorsement.

08.02.02.026. Administrator Certificate

During the spring of 2013, the School Administrator standards and endorsements were reviewed and revised by school administrator representatives. The proposed standards and endorsements have been aligned with the Idaho administrator evaluation standards, the language from the administrator evaluation rubric, and the most current Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) Standards. The Idaho Foundation Standards for School Administrators include those for Principals, School Superintendents and Special Education Directors. The Professional Standards Commission has considered and recommended approval of all of the committee's proposed revisions.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

08.02.02.100. OFFICIAL VEHICLE FOR APPROVING TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS.

This clarification to rule is necessary because the Idaho accepted organization responsible for the accreditation of educator preparation programs has undergone a merger and changed names from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) to the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP).

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 08.02.02 .120, .121

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

On February 21, 2012 the State Department of Education (SDE) submitted an ESEA waiver to gain relief from the mandates of No Child Left Behind (NCLB).

Principle 3 of the waiver clearly outlined required elements of teacher and principal evaluation models. As a result, Idaho needed to make adjustments to our teacher evaluation model and adopt a principal evaluation model for the state. The excerpt below is from the cover page that accompanied the waiver which was presented and approved at the State Board Meeting on February 16, 2012 and again on October 18, 2012:

Supporting Effective Instruction and Leadership:

Idaho developed a statewide framework for teacher evaluation. Schools also receive financial rewards for effective instruction as measured by student achievement. The State Department is currently creating a statewide framework for principal evaluation which should be completed by May 2012. The state will use their frameworks to then make necessary changes with teacher and administrator preparation programs.

As a result of the work of both the Administrator Evaluation Focus Group and the Evaluation Capacity Task Force, both of which are referenced throughout the ESEA Waiver, the State Department of Education brought forth recommended rule changes for increased rigor and utility of teacher evaluations as well as a new section specific to administrator evaluation at the August 16, 2012 State Board meeting.

The State Board of Education approved these revisions during that meeting. On November 6, 2012, Idaho voters repealed the Students Come First laws that formed the foundation of Idaho's teacher and principal evaluation systems.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

Because of this, Idaho was no longer in compliance with the ESEA Waiver requirements which required student achievement and multiple measures to be a part of both teacher and principal evaluations. As a result, Idaho needed to work with stakeholders to extensively redraft the rules to bring Idaho's teacher and principal evaluation standards back into compliance with the ESEA Waiver requirements. Because of this, the Idaho State Department of Education vacated the rule making process to allow an Educator Evaluation Task Force to be convened to analyze the gaps between Idaho's current evaluation systems and what was needed to bring Idaho's evaluation system back into compliance with the ESEA Waiver requirements:

In December 2012, the Idaho State Department of Education submitted the following timeline and plan to the US Department of Education outlining how we would ensure that Idaho was in compliance with the ESEA Waiver requirements.

January – March:

- Convene Educator Evaluation Task Force with the specific goal of making recommendations on the following items to the State Board of Education:
 - The percentage of the evaluation that will be based on Student Achievement?
 - What multiple measures will be used in the evaluation, i.e. Parental Input, Student Input, Work Place Survey, etc.?
 - The inclusion of an Individualized Professional Learning Plan that will be created for each teacher based upon evaluation findings, and shall be used in subsequent years as the baseline measurement for professional development and growth?
 - How many observations are required annually and who must perform the observations?
 - Will administrators be required to complete a proficiency assessment prior to performing any evaluation or as part of their ongoing professional development for recertification?
 - Will we require a proficiency assessment for initial administrator licensure?

April – May:

- Take evaluation rule revisions for IDAPA 08.02.02.120 (Teacher Evaluation) and the addition of IDAPA 08.02.02.121 (Principal Evaluation) to the State Board of Education as Temporary and Proposed Rule.
- Receive State Board of Education approval of revisions to rule.
- Put rule revisions out for public comment.
- Receive final approval from the State Board of Education on Temporary and Proposed Rule.

2013 – 2014 School Year:

- Districts pilot revised evaluation models.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

2014 – 2015 School Year:

- Full implementation of revised evaluation models in accordance with ESEA Waiver requirements.

The attached documents include the revisions to IDAPA 08.02.02.120 and the addition of IDAPA 08.02.02.121 which are based on the recommendations and work of the Educator Evaluation Task Force. The rules received public comment following the State Board's initial approval and have been revised based on those public input. The modifications based on public comments include:

- Both Teacher (IDAPA 08.02.02.120) and Principal (IDAPA 08.02.02.121)
 - Replaced statewide assessment language from “ISAT” to “Statewide Assessment for Federal Accountability Purposes.”
 - Added “parents” to list of stakeholders that should be involved in the development and ongoing review of evaluation models.
 - Deleted the wording “if any” from the section of rule that is related to making personnel decisions based on evaluation.
- Teacher (IDAPA 08.02.02.120)
 - Added language that clarifies due to the potential transition from the ISAT to the SBAC Assessment next year, the use of Statewide Assessment for Federal Accountability Purposes will not be a required part of the evaluation until the 2014-2015 school year.
 - Districts would still be required to adopt an evaluation system in which 33% of the evaluation is based on growth in student achievement for the 2013-2014 school year based on local measures.
- Principal (IDAPA 08.02.02.121)
 - Added language that requires principal evaluations based on the new statewide standards to be piloted in districts during the 2013-2014 school year with full implementation during the 2014-2015 school year.
 - Added language to include “teacher input” as a multiple measure choice under the Professional Practice section.
 - Added language that requires principals to be evaluated at least once annually by May 1st.
- Added language that clarifies that while districts will pilot the new principal evaluation standards during the 2013-2014 school year, principals will be required to have 33% of their evaluation based on growth in student achievement during the 2013-2014 school year. Due to the potential transition from the ISAT to the Idaho Content Standards next year, the use of Statewide Assessment for Federal Accountability Purposes will not be a required part of the evaluation until the 2014-2015 school year.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

IMPACT

If the State Board of Education does not approve the changes, Idaho will be out of compliance with the requirements of the US Department of Education's ESEA Waiver application. If the waiver is repealed as a result, Idaho schools will continue to be held accountable under the NCLB mandates rather than the new system of accountability approved by the State Board on February 16, 2012.

Proposed Rule - IDAPA 08.02.03.103 - Requiring instruction in cursive writing in all Idaho Public Elementary Schools

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-118, Idaho Code, IDAPA 08.02.03.103 – Rules Governing Thoroughness – 2013 Resolution – HCR003.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During the 2013 legislative session Concurrent Resolution – HCR003 passed. This resolution requested the State Board of Education commence the rule making process to require that all Idaho Public Elementary Schools provide instruction in cursive handwriting. The changes to IDAPA 08.02.03.103 are being proposed consistent with this request.

IMPACT

The previous version of the Idaho Content Standards for English Language Arts contained content standards for cursive writing. On August 11, 2010 the Board adopted new content standards for English Language Arts that were to transition in over a three year period. Those new content standards will be required to be implemented in the 2013 – 2014 school year. The new English Language Arts content standards do not include standards for cursive writing, thereby eliminating the requirement that they be taught. The proposed changes would require cursive writing to still be taught at the elementary school level.

103. INSTRUCTION GRADES 1-12.

01. Instruction. Instruction is inclusive of subject matter, content and course offerings. Patterns of instructional organization are a local school district option. Schools will assure students meet locally developed standards with the state standards as a minimum.* (*This includes special instruction that allows limited English proficient students to participate successfully in all aspects of the school's curriculum and keep up with other students in the regular education program. It also includes special learning opportunities for accelerated, learning disabled students and students with other disabilities.) (4-5-00)

02. Instructional Courses. At appropriate grade levels, instruction will include but not be limited to the following: (4-11-06)

a. Language Arts and Communication will include instruction in reading, writing, English, literature, technological applications, spelling, speech and listening and, in elementary schools, cursive writing. (~~4-1-97~~)(___)

ADOPTED 2/28/2013 – HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION HCR003
Introduced by Rep. Linden B. Bateman

LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF IDAHO
Sixty-second Legislature First Regular Session - 2013

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 3

BY EDUCATION COMMITTEE

1 A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION
2 STATING FINDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE AND REQUESTING THE STATE BOARD OF EDU-
3 CATION COMMENCE RULEMAKING TO PROVIDE THAT CURSIVE HANDWRITING SHALL BE
4 TAUGHT IN THE PUBLIC ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS OF THIS STATE.

5 Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Idaho:

6 WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that handwriting, based upon
7 empirical evidence from neuroscience, plays a major role in the visual
8 recognition and learning of letters; and this is something the State of Idaho
9 should be aware of in an educational context. The State of Idaho recognizes 10 that those who learn to write by hand learn better; and

11 WHEREAS, there have been studies where cursive handwriting has helped 12 students with their fine motor skills and made them more graceful; these stu-
13 dents show more of an interest in art because they are able to form things
14 they hadn't before and they have new muscle movements that they didn't know 15 before; and

16 WHEREAS, there was an experiment involving two groups of adults in which 17 participants were taught a new, foreign alphabet. One group learned the 18 characters by hand, the other learned only to recognize them on a screen and 19 with a keyboard. Weeks after the experiment, the group that learned the 20 letters by hand consistently scored better on recognition tests than those 21 who learned with a keyboard. Brain scans of the hands-on group also showed 22 greater activity in the part of the brain that controls language comprehen-23 sion, motor-related processes and speech-associated gestures; and

24 WHEREAS, the Legislature also recognizes that there are reliable scien-
25 tific studies that show, for some important aspects of reading and composi-26 tion, digital technology may not be as important as handwriting; and

27 WHEREAS, the Legislature also recognizes that if the cursive script is 28 not taught, the time will come when people will not be able to read old di-
29 aries, journals, letters, documents and the like written in cursive. This 30 will have a negative effect on the study of genealogy and family history and 31 will weaken society's relationship to its past.

32 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Ses-
33 sion of the Sixty-second Idaho Legislature, the House of Representatives
34 and the Senate concurring therein, that the State Board of Education is re-35 quested to commence rulemaking to provide that cursive handwriting shall be
36 taught in the public elementary schools of this state.

37 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the State Board of Education shall report
38 its progress in its rulemaking pursuant to this Resolution to the Second Reg-
39 ular Session of the Sixty-second Idaho Legislature.

Temporary Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.105 – Graduation Requirements

REFERENCE

November 2006	Board approved Pending Rule amending high school graduation requirements.
June 2012	Board approved Proposed Rule amendment allowing flexibility in meeting the math graduation requirement.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-1628, Idaho Code
Section 33-1620, Idaho Code
Section 33-512C, Idaho Code
Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 08.02.03 – Section 105, High School Graduation Requirements

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

As the state moves forward with the State Board's 60 percent goal, students must be given the flexibility to move through Idaho's education system at their own pace and at a higher level. The State Board has long been an advocate of higher standards. To this end, the Department is seeking the Board's approval of three temporary rules:

1. Advanced Opportunities: Allowing students to receive content credit for classes taken prior to high school. (The Board previously approved this at their June 2013 board meeting, but the rule is being combined with other changes in this section and therefore needs to be reapproved.)
2. Allowing the Class of 2016 to receive credit for passing the Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (ISAT) as 9th graders.
3. Allowing students who do not take the college entrance exam in their junior year, to take it as seniors.

Advanced Opportunities:

During the 2013 Legislative Session, the Idaho Legislature passed Senate Bill 1091 and Senate Bill 1028, which were both based on providing students with opportunities to advance through their coursework at a more rapid rate by taking online overload courses paid for by the State of Idaho. This would then allow eligible students to either graduate early or take dual credit courses at the expense of the State of Idaho.

The 8-in-6 Program outlined in Section 33-1628, Idaho Code as established by Senate Bill 1091, is designed to help students complete 8 years of school work in 6 years:

- 2 years of middle school
- 4 years of high school

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

- 2 years of college, university, or professional technical education

Students may begin the program in the 7th grade and must complete at least one online summer or online overload course, in addition to their full course load, each school year. The state will pay for up to 2 online summer courses and 2 online overload courses per student per school year, for a maximum of 4 courses per year. The state will pay for a maximum of 8 credits of online summer/overload courses per student during their participation in the 8-in-6 program. The state will pay $225 per online course. If the cost exceeds $225, the student must pay the difference. The 8 in 6 program is limited to 10 percent of students in each grade level in participating districts. Unfilled slots can be reallocated first within the school district, then at the state level.

The Master Advancement Program (MAP) outlined in Section 33-1620, Idaho Code as established by Senate Bill 1028, is designed to allow districts and public charter schools to utilize mastery exams enabling students to progress more quickly through school. Districts and public charter schools must apply to participate in MAP. Students must meet the eligibility criteria set by local districts and public charter schools to participate. The student receives 35 percent of ADA as a scholarship. Thirty five percent of the ADA is distributed to the school district, and the remaining 30 percent is savings to the state.

The Advanced Opportunities (previously titled Dual Credit for Early Completers) program outlined in Section 33-1626, Idaho Code as established by Senate Bill 1091, is designed for students who have completed the state high school graduation requirements, with the exception of the senior project and math in the final year of high school, by no later than the beginning of the their final semester or trimester. Students meeting this criteria, are eligible for up to 36 postsecondary credits of dual credit courses paid for by the state or up to 12 AP or CLEP exams paid for by the state.

Currently, IDAPA 08.02.03.105 allows students to complete any required high school course with a grade of C or higher before entering grade nine, if that course meets the same standards that are required in high school, then the student will have met the high school content area requirement for such course. However, the student must complete the required number of credits in all high school core subjects as identified in Subsections 105.01.c. through 105.01.h. in addition to the courses completed in middle school. In reviewing these three programs, the State Department of Education believes that an amendment to IDAPA 08.02.03.105, is necessary for students to fully access and participate in these programs as intended by legislators. The amendments being proposed allows students to earn both the content and credit requirements for any high school course taken prior to a student entering the 9th grade if that course meets the following criteria:

- The course meets the same standards that are required in high school,
- The course is taught by a properly certified teacher who meets the federal definition of being highly qualified for the course being taught and

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

- The school providing the course is accredited as recognized by the state board.

In addition to the above changes, this rule revision addresses two points of clarification related to the math in the final year of school requirement. This revision clarifies that students who must return to school during the summer or the following fall for less than a full load of courses due to failing a course are not required to retake a math course as long as they have completed six credits of mathematics. This rule revision defines when a student's final year of high school begins as it pertains to the math in the final year of high school. This rule is necessary to clarify that the math requirement in the final year of high school may be taken during the summer preceding the student's final year of high school.

This rule is being brought forth as a temporary to allow students to begin taking advantage of the programs outlined in Senate Bills 1091 and 1028.

Class of 2016 ISAT Graduation Requirement:

In the spring of 2014, all Idaho students in grades 3-8 and 11 will participate in the Smarter Balanced Field Test. Since no student scores will be available from this test, Idaho will be requesting a waiver from the U.S. Department of Education to allow schools to roll forward accountability determinations (Star Ratings) from the 2012-2013 school year.

Incoming 10th graders (Class of 2016) will not participate in the Field Test, since it will only be administered to 11th graders. However, the 10th graders should also not be required to take the ISAT as a graduation requirement, since the ISAT is not sufficiently aligned with the new Idaho Core Standards.

To ensure accountability, but also allow for a manageable transition, the following changes are requested: To allow students that have previously received a proficient or advanced score on the 10th grade ISAT, administered to them in 9th grade, to receive credit for the achievement. Students who have not received a proficient or advanced score, must complete an alternative route, as defined in rule, but designed by local school districts. Districts will also have the PSAT in 10th grade, for the first time, to utilize the state paid exam as an alternative route. All 11th graders must also take a college entrance exam in 11th grade.

College Entrance Exam:

Currently, IDAPA 08.02.03.105 requires public school students who enter high school at the 9th grade level in Fall 2009 or later, to take one (1) of the following college entrance or placement examinations, before the end of his/her eleventh grade year: COMPASS, ACCUPLACER, ACT or SAT. The College Entrance Exam requirement was initially proposed as a measure to increase the percentage of Idaho's students going on to postsecondary education, by allowing students the opportunity to see their true college readiness potential. To ensure students have opportunities to take the college entrance exam, the rule is striking the portion defining the junior year as the only time the student can meet the requirement. The SAT will continue to be offered twice in the junior year and again in the senior year, as paid for by the state. However, by removing the “junior year” from rule it allows greater flexibility for those students who may miss taking the test.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

In addition to the above change, there is a need for the removal of the option of the ACCUPLACER Placement. The ACCUPLACER is designed to be given during a student’s senior year in high school, for course placement into college, and should not be given a student’s junior year. The purpose of the college entrance exam is for admittance into college, not as a course placement exam.

IMPACT

If approved, students will be able to take high school courses while still enrolled in middle school/junior high and meet the content and credit requirements for such course prior to enrolling in 9th grade. This will allow students to take advantage of the programs outlined in Senate Bill 1091 and Senate Bill 1028 as was intended by the Idaho Legislature. This revision will also provide clarification around the math in the final year of school requirement.

For the class of 2016 only, if a student has not received a proficient score on the ISAT as a 9th grader (utilizing the 10th grade test), students will enter an alternative route designed by the district.

There will be no tangible change for students by removing the junior year as the requirement for the college entrance exam. The SAT is offered by the state in the junior year. However, in cases of illness or other unforeseen circumstances, students would be eligible to take the test during their senior year and be allowed to graduate.

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.104, 105. Establish physical education requirements in elementary, middle school/junior high and high school and require cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training; changes to requirements regarding college entrance exams, and flexibility in math and science requirements.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-118, Idaho Code, IDAPA 08.02.03 .104, 105 – Rules Governing Thoroughness.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Physical Education:

Changes to IDAPA 08.02.03 - Section 104 and 105 are being proposed. Currently, there are no required minimums for elementary, middle school/junior high, or high school. This change seeks to set out minimum requirements for physical education at all levels. In addition, the change requires cardiopulmonary resuscitation to be taught in high school.

Research by the American Heart Association predicts by 2015, 41 percent of adults in the United States will be obese. With research confirming that regular participation in physical education outside of recess reduces risks to childhood obesity, regulation of physical education becomes imperative. In addition, regular physical education is associated with lower risks of cardiovascular disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, obesity, and becoming part of a statistic.

Beyond lower risks of diseases, students who are regularly active outside of recess have higher scholastic achievements and better in-classroom behavior while their unfit counter parts have high levels of absences and lower scholastic achievements. Studies also suggest that adolescents who participate in schools physical education performed better on standardized math and reading tests even when less time was allotted to academics. Changes to IDAPA 08.02.03 Section 104 ensure students have access to effective physical education. The Early Childhood Longitudinal Study published in 2004 showed that physical education programs are effective in combating childhood obesity, especially in young adolescents.

The American Heart Association, along with the National Association of Sport and Physical Education (NASPE) has released best practice data for physical education. The recommended minimum for students in elementary school is 150 minutes per week. The recommended minimum for students in middle school/junior high is 225 minutes per week. For those students in high school, a graduation requirement is recommended.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
AUGUST 15, 2013

This change also includes a provision to require CPR training in health classes in high school. Sudden cardiac arrest can occur at any time. Nearly 383,000 people have cardiac arrest outside of a hospital every year and only 11 percent survive, most likely because they don't receive timely CPR. Given right away, CPR doubles or triples survival rates. Teaching students CPR could save lives by filling our community with lifesavers – those trained to give sudden cardiac arrest victims the immediate help they need to survive until Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) arrive.

Engineering, Computer Science as Math and Science credits

The state of Idaho requires three years of science and of math in order for a student to graduate. The state has also put a strong emphasis on STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) education. Several technology businesses, higher education, and the Idaho Technology Council support expanding Idaho's graduation requirements to include STEM. This will allow students to take upper level STEM classes as core classes versus electives. Students need greater exposure to the applicability of math and science and by allowing this flexibility in graduation requirements; students could gain valuable exposure to high demand areas. A committee collaborated to propose students be allowed to take dual credit engineering or dual credit computer science or AP computer science as a math or science credit. Students must have completed Algebra II standards in order to be eligible for computer science as a graduation requirement. In addition, engineering and computer science is limited to 2 science credits for the purposes of graduation. The state of Washington recently passed similar legislation.

IMPACT

Physical Education:

In conjunction with the American Heart Association and the Idaho Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, the State Department of Education did the first ever quantitative study of physical education in schools. In reviewing data with 95 percent of elementary schools reporting, an average of 62 minutes of physical education is offered. In light of this data, we recommend requiring 60 minutes per week for elementary students. With 95 percent of middle schools and junior highs reporting, the average was 223 minutes offered. Again, because the schools are already so close to best practices, the Department recommends 200 minutes per week, phased to 225 minutes per week over five years.

With 100 percent of high schools reporting, 77 percent of high schools require physical education for graduation, and of those 83 percent of those require 2 credits. We thought the fiscal impact will be minimal to most school districts. This was confirmed when we analyzed the data further. When looking at physical education teachers and the number of sections they teach, it is estimated that implementing 2 credits of physical education, even without the waivers for sport participation, will add approximately 12 physical education Full Time Employees (FTE) statewide at an average of $35,000 per employee, equaling $420,000 of state support to school districts. In addition, as referenced above, schools will see lower absentee rates and higher academic achievement.

The fiscal impact to the CPR training is minimal. CPR can be taught by a number of EMS agencies, hospitals, or community educators. Requests for CPR training are almost always granted. In addition, this puts thousands of potential lifesavers, equipped with skills that could save someone in sudden cardiac arrest. This request requires districts to spend a minimum of one class period on CPR, but would allow local districts to spend additional time if necessary.
