BOARD ACTION

M/S (Atchley/Goesling): I move to set June 21-22, 2017 as the date and North Idaho College as the location for the June 2017 regularly scheduled Board meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

PLANNING, POLICY AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

1. Eastern Idaho Technical College (EITC) – Annual Report and Tour

As part of President Aman's progress report to the Board, the report included a tour of key areas on EITC's campus. Specific details regarding the institutions progress toward meeting its strategic plan goals may be found in the attached report.

WORKSESSION

Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs (PPGA)

1. 60% College Completion Goal – Data

Mr. Carson Howell, Director of Research at the Board office, provided a report on how the Board uses multiple sources and measures to track progress on the Board's 60% goal. Mr. Howell reported on the progress made to date toward that goal and the measures used to gauge progress toward the benchmark.

The educational attainment measure data is based on the American community survey. Dr. Hill asked many questions about the margin of error in the quantitative data. He and Mr. Howell agreed upon about a 3-4% level of uncertainty.

Mr. Howell reported on Idaho's data, in relation to national data in that Idaho is at national levels. Additional measures used for determining progress toward Idaho's educational attainment goal include dual credit, retention rates, remediation, and degree production. Related to dual credit, there is a 71% go-on rate for students who take dual credit courses, as compared to 45% of students who don't take dual credit courses. Data indicates that students who take dual credit courses also maintain a higher grade point average (GPA). Dual credit by institution generated questions surrounding why or how some institutions have been more successful at getting students to take dual credit courses. North Idaho College in particular has been especially successful with dual credit students taking courses on campus rather than at the high school. Dr. Clark asked to see a breakdown of the dual credit courses by core versus elective.

Related to retention rates at 4-year institutions, the current benchmark is 85% and Idaho is trending upward, but the institutions individually show different results. This appears to be particularly related to populations at each of the institutions, and the differences between institutions on how they handle student retention. Related to remediation, Mr. Howell reported on the SAT benchmarks on reading and writing, where the benchmark is now at 480 rather than at 500 (last year the test was different). He reported 62.4% of Idaho students met the statewide SAT benchmark; 35.4% of students meet the Math benchmark.

One area the Board is focused on is moving students directly on from high school to college. There is concern about students taking a “gap year” before going on to college. Based on high school feedback reports and postsecondary progress as of March 2015, one in two students go on to college. If students took a one year break or “gap year”, the go-on rate dropped to one in ten students going on to college. This indicates a tremendous need in getting students to go to college right after high school. The Board hopes direct admissions will have an effect on this situation. Mr. Howell reported on growth in degree production from 2010 to 2015 which shows promise. However, the growth in degree production doesn’t appear to be influencing the 60% educational attainment goal. Staff research shows growth in STEM fields and graduate mobility; many STEM students are graduating from an Idaho institution and then leaving the state. The question is why are they leaving? Data shows wages play a large part of influencing students, with Idaho’s wages at 56% of the average. In comparison to Oregon, Idaho’s wages are much lower.

Related to scholarships, Mr. Howell reported that for 2016 (FY17) the Opportunity Scholarship 3,763 students applied, and 2,289 have accepted; those students have an average GPA of 3.56. Related to tuition and fees Mr. Howell reported the average debt of Idaho graduates with four-year degrees is around $26K. He noted the proportion of students graduating from Idaho institutions with debt is one of the highest in the country; about 72%. He pointed out that Lewis-Clark State College (LCSC) had the least amount of debt for graduates. Keeping tuition and fees low for the benefit of students has been instrumental, and the Board is working on reducing time-to-completion which would also help drive down debt for college graduates. Mr. Howell reported on future policy initiatives, adding outcomes based funding should also help incentivize institutions.

Ms. Ybarra asked about student feedback and what staff found from the student surveys. Mr. Howell reported that the responses were broad, but overall summarized the need for better college counseling, that some students just need a push to gain confidence and encouragement, and effective communication to make sure students know they have the opportunity to go on and that guidance is available.

Policy initiatives the Board and staff are working on include a common application, and adults returning to higher education initiatives. Mr. Howell reviewed a chart of college attendance by age group. It emphasized the need for 20-24 year olds to return to higher education to move the needle on the Board's goal. The other age group areas included 25-34, 35-44, and 45-54, and all showed a gap between where they are presently and 60%, indicating the need for higher education in all age groups. Only the 55 and over age group came in at over 60% having a degree or certificate. Mr. Howell reiterated that the initiatives of the Board are all intended to improve educational attainment, regardless of the age range.

There was discussion about the 60% goal and the data presented. Dr. Goesling asked about the go-on rates for some of the sub populations in Idaho. Mr. Howell didn't have exact data, but remarked that the go-on rates for sub populations in Idaho are very poor. Dr. Goesling requested that the Board look at those populations and consider strategies for those groups. Dr. Clark pointed out an area of concern is not necessarily the go-on rate, but the completion rate – which is extremely low. Getting students to finish and remediation issues are areas where the Board needs to continue focus in order to move the needle. There was discussion about how Idaho compares nationally with go-on rates. Mr. Howell responded the national average was 62% in 2012 and Idaho is on the lower end at around 51-52%; the number one state is Mississippi.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Atchley/Goesling): To go into executive session pursuant to Section 74-206(1)(b) and (d) Idaho Code to consider the evaluation, dismissal or disciplining of a public officer, employee, staff member or individual agent and to consider records that are exempt from disclosure as provided in chapter 1, title 74, Idaho Code. A roll call vote was taken and the motion carried 7-0. Superintendent Ybarra was absent from voting.

Thursday June 16, 2016, 8:00 a.m., Eastern Idaho Technical College, Rooms 6163/6164, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Board President Soltman called the meeting to order at 8:00 a.m. Mountain Time for regularly scheduled business. There was one participant for Open Forum.

OPEN FORUM

Mr. Suketu Gandhi addressed the Board about including quality text books in education. He felt some of the text books approved by the Board should not be used, and that the Board should reject poor quality text books, especially in math. He reported they are not useful to students and quality, challenging exercises are missing. He recommended using upper math high quality text books in grade and middle schools, and also recommended involving university professors in determining board policies when it comes to education. He pointed out students in chemistry are not required to take upper division courses such as physical chemistry and quantum mechanics, both of which are foundational. By not taking these courses it renders them unsuitable to teach the subject. He added that foundational studies of new student education are missing for new grads, and pointed out a number of other deficiencies in upper division studies resulting in a disservice to the student. Mr. Gandhi felt this can be avoided by including university professors and knowledgeable people on the subject matter in the formulation of board policies. He felt this would be instrumental in removing inequality among students and districts through quality teaching by having the Board change the way it sets policy. He provided a handout for the Board.

CONSENT AGENDA

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Atchley/Hill): To approve the Consent Agenda as amended. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Atchley asked for unanimous consent to pull Tab 12, Idaho State University Teacher Preparation Program Review, from the Consent Agenda and to consider it during the Department's portion of the agenda. There were no objections to the request.

PLANNING, POLICY & GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

2. Presidents' Council Report

Dr. Tony Fernandez, current chair of the President's Council, summarized the details from the April 5 and June 7th President's Council meetings. He reported that at the April meeting presidents were apprised of the new presidential evaluation template and process. Interest was expressed by the College of Idaho, Northwest Nazarene University, and Treasure Valley Community College on being included in direct admissions, and collectively the presidents were not supportive of requests from out of state or non-public institutions, but understand those entities may develop a similar initiative of their own. They reviewed highlights from the 2016 legislative session related to higher education, and discussed outcomes based funding. Presidents discussed gun legislation and how it affects campuses, community college trustee zoning, and how student health insurance is being implemented at Boise State University. They also discussed Title IX policy, guidelines, timelines for the budget development process.

For the June 7th President's Council meeting, President Staben recommended the Board discuss several topics at future Council meetings such as direct admissions, medical education task force, diversity go-on rates, and a long term legislative agenda. There was consensus that these topics and applicable national trends could be discussed at future Council meetings. Board staff briefed the presidents on several timing and process improvements for direct admissions that also includes a radio and television campaign beginning in late summer. They were briefed about Title IX and issues surrounding trans-gender concerns; new signage is being considered and institutions would like uniform signage. They discussed a letter received by each of the institutions on ADA compliance which requested payment for legal services. They determined the letter appeared to be a broadcast letter and institutions have chosen not to respond. President Fernandez reported that they were briefed on a meeting at the Governor's office that included the Board president and Executive Director regarding DFM's involvement with CEC; the Governor was supportive of DFM's actions and future discussions on the matter are planned. The four-year institutions were notified that the Board is going to engage an external firm to conduct 360 evaluations. He concluded by saying the July Council meeting was cancelled, and the next meeting will be August 7th.

Dr. Fox, President of the College of Southern Idaho (CSI), recognized this as Dr. Dunlap's last meeting; Dr. Dunlap is retiring from North Idaho College (NIC) at the end of June. Dr. Fox publically thanked him for his work at NIC. Dr. Fernandez also recognized Dr. Fox as the incoming chairman of the President's Council. Board member Critchfield thanked

Dr. Fernandez for this service as chairman of the Council and for his clear and thorough reports.

3. Idaho Public Television (IPTV), Annual Report

Mr. Ron Pisaneschi, General Manager of the Idaho Public Television, provided an overview of IPTV's progress in carrying out the agency's strategic plan. He invited the Board members to tour the station in Boise and to see IPTV in action. He proceeded with an overview of their content and services, the budget, statewide delivery systems, and challenges facing IPTV. He pointed out that PTV is the most trusted broadcaster in the nation, reporting that public television is an educational resource for all ages. Mr. Pisaneschi discussed preschool services and programs with early education content, reporting that IPTV's programming content has demonstrated outcomes for early learners. He reviewed examples of secondary, post-secondary, and lifelong learning services, pointing out IPTV has partnered with the Board office on the Journey to College initiative through the College Access Challenge Grant (CACG), and are an integral part of the EPSCoR project. Additional postsecondary services include student training and internships, broadcast and on-line telecourses, and searchable videos to name a few.

Mr. Pisaneschi reported IPTV is the most watched public station per capita in the nation serving more than 460,000 viewers each week. He pointed out that their programming both nationally and locally is available on all the new platforms including cell phone and desktop. He reviewed the critical need for the transmitters and funding. He recapped IPTV's local productions and the major awards they received; IPTV was nominated for 11 Emmy's this year which included an Emmy for Outdoor Idaho. He clarified that high quality programming encourages an increase in giving by private donors which contributes to the longevity of public television.

Mr. Pisaneschi reviewed the FY17 budget and its highlights. Appropriated funding for FY17 is $9.3 million and he expressed gratitude toward the Governor and legislature for a 30% increase in their budget. He pointed out, however, that still more than 2/3 of their funding comes from private contributions and grants. In comparison to their peer groups, Idaho Public Television still receives the fewest dollars. Their FY18 line item requests include two educational outreach positions and related expenses. He reviewed issues with the transmitters and equipment, and the significant costs associated. Additionally, they will see an increase in lease payments on equipment because it has reached "end of life". He expressed great concern with the FCC repackaging and explained how the transmitters and the translators work together, and the problems with not having enough translators – the big problem is there may not be enough channels to go around. They are working with the congressional delegation to address this concern.

Dr. Clark thanked Mr. Pisaneschi for the exemplary work accomplished on their strategic plan.

4. 2017 Legislative Ideas

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the legislative ideas as submitted in Attachment 1 and to authorize the Executive Director to submit these and additional proposals as necessary through the Governor's legislative process. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield indicated there was a detailed, itemized list of legislative ideas provided in the Board's agenda materials and provided a brief summary of the legislative process. She asked if there were particular items for discussion by the Board.

Dr. Goesling expressed concern about the Professional Standards Commission (PSC) item and felt a member of the Indian Education Committee should have a seat on the PSC. He provided some historical background on why he feels it necessary for a member of one of Idaho's five American Indian Tribes or someone from the Indian Education Committee to have a seat designated on the PSC.

Mr. Soltman asked if there were other legislative ideas Board members would like to discuss today. Mr. Westerberg indicated the list of legislative items did not include outcomes based funding. Ms. Bent clarified that the list of legislative ideas are only those things that require legislation and does not include things like outcomes based funding that only go through the legislative budget process. Mr. Westerberg was comfortable with the explanation.

Returning to the PSC recommendation, Ms. Bent clarified what is in statute for the membership of the PSC and where the nominations come from. She clarified that the Native American Indian Tribal groups were not excluded and further clarified Idaho Code is very specific to not exclude groups from the PSC. She recommended that communications to all interested groups be clear and nominations to the PSC be encouraged. She also pointed out there have been a number of years when the PSC has not had enough members. Dr. Goesling recommended making an American Indian Educator one of the seats. Board member Hill pointed out there is an administrative rather than legislative solution to the matter. Dr. Clark added that the Board is particularly sensitive to the inputs and representation of the Tribes throughout its committees. After additional discussion the consensus was to proceed through some sort of administrative process and by working directly with the Department of Education to seek nominations from the Native American Tribes for the PSC, starting with the next cycle of appointments. Dr. Goesling recommended sending a letter to the three Tribal chairmen from the Board President on what was discussed today.

5. Institution/Agency Strategic Plans

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To approve the Institution, Agency, and Special/Health programs strategic plans as submitted in attachments 1 through 22. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield noted the institutions are starting a process shortly to review their mission statements which would be available next April. Mr. Westerberg complemented the institutions and agencies on their work on the strategic plans.

6. Early Literacy Assessment Working Group Report

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To adopt the recommendations from the Early Literacy Assessment Working Group to replace the current statewide Idaho reading assessment with an electronically-administered, computer adaptive assessment and to forward the request for proposal provided as part of Attachment 1 to the Department of Education for initiation of the request for proposal process subject to appropriation. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield pointed out the motion and recommendations before the Board today are additional items that it had not previously been considered. These include: (i) that the current statewide reading assessment (Idaho Reading Indicator) be replaced with an electronically-administered, computer adaptive assessment; and (ii) that the Request for Proposal (RFP) contained in the report be forwarded to the Department of Education for initiation of the RFP process. As reported, the Working Group consulted with the Division of Purchasing to create a Request for Information (RFI). The RFI was distributed through the Division of Purchasing process and from the responses to the RFI the RFP was developed. Ms. Critchfield pointed out the legislature appropriated approximately $10 million towards literacy intervention and there was current ongoing funding for the IRI. Ms. Ybarra responded the money appointed for literacy was a huge step, but there was not enough funding in the appropriation for the IRI. She clarified that the new money appropriated would be going straight to the districts and if we were to get a new IRI we would need to ask the legislature for additional money over what is currently funded.

7. Amendment to Board Policy – Bylaws

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the first reading of Board policy - Bylaws as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield pointed out this amendment would clarify the time period for which Board approval on a given item is relevant and when items need to be brought back to the Board for reconsideration. The recommended period is one year.

8. Amendment to Board Policy – Section I.P. – Idaho Indian Education committee – Second Reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the second reading of amendments to Board Policy I.P. Idaho Indian Education Committee, as presented in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield pointed out this amendment will streamline policy language and provides greater definition to the roles of committees and members.

9. Amendment to Board Policy – Section I.Q. – Accountability Oversight Committee – Second Reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Hill): To approve the second reading of amendments to Board Policy I.Q. Accountability Oversight Committee as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield reported this amendment allows the committee more flexibility in appointment the chair.

10. Amendment to Board Policy - Section I.T. – Title IX Policy – Second Reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To approve the second reading of Board Policy I.T. Title IX as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield indicated there were no changes between first and second reading.

11. Amendment to Board Policy – Section IV.B. – State Department of Education, Standards Setting – Second Reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Hill): To approve the second reading of Board Policy IV.B. State Department of Education as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield indicated this policy is facilitating the process for review of various minimum subject matter content standards.

12. Career Technical Education – Content Standards

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To approve the career technical secondary program content standards as submitted in Attachments 1 through 6. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield indicated the motion would approve the career technical secondary program content standards.

13. Boise State University - Alcohol Permit for 2016 Home Football Games – Pre Game Events at Caven Williams Sports Complex

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Westerberg): To reject the request for a waiver of Board policy Section I.J.2.c.i. and approve the request by Boise State University to establish a secure area under the conditions set forth in this request contingent on attendees receiving a written invitation (a game ticket does not constitute a written invitation) and in full compliance with all provisions set forth in Board policy Section I.J. for the purpose of allowing alcohol service for the 2016 football season, famous Idaho Potato Bowl, the 2017 spring game, post-season bowl game, and if applicable, the conference championship game, with a post-season report brought back to the Board. The motion carried 7-1. Dr. Hill voted nay on the motion.

Ms. Critchfield indicated this item is a request to waive Board policy for the purpose of allowing alcohol service at BSU in a secure area for the 2016-2017 home football season.

Dr. Hill asked for some background on the item. Board President Soltman provided background and that at the June 2015 Board meeting, the Board approved pregame alcohol service for the University of Idaho (UI), Idaho State University (ISU) and Boise State University (BSU). Later, the Board waived a portion of Board policy I.J. to allow for the expanded alcohol service on a one-year basis with additional caveats which included a restriction on underage children entering the alcohol service area.

Dr. Hill commented that as a matter of procedure the Board should not continue to waive policy, but he was concerned about the process used to discontinue the waiver. There was additional discussion on the concerns of the policy and alcohol service during the games. Ms. Bent clarified that the motion does not discontinue alcohol service, but returns the practice to what it was previously, and went on to provide background on Idaho law regarding alcohol service and allowances pursuant to Board policy.

14. Boise State University – Alcohol Permit for 2016 Home Football Games – Pre Game Events at Stueckle Sky Center

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Westerberg): To approve the request by Boise State University to allow alcohol service in Stueckle Sky Center during the 2016 home football season, Famous Idaho Potato Bowl, the 2017 spring game, and if applicable, the conference championship game in full compliance with Board policy section I.J. The motion carried unanimously.

15. Idaho State University - Alcohol Permit for 2016 Home Football Games

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the request by Idaho State University to establish secure areas as specified in Attachment 1 and 2 for the purpose of allowing alcohol service during pre-game activities under the conditions outlined in Board policy I.J. subsection 2.c. for the 2016 football season. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield pointed out Idaho State University's request is for one secure area on the east side of Holt arena.

16. University of Idaho - Alcohol Permit for 2016 Home Football Games – Pre Game Events

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Westerberg): To reject the request for a waiver of Board policy Section I.J.2.c.i. and approve the request by the University of Idaho to establish a secure area under the conditions set forth in this request contingent on attendees receiving a written invitation (a game ticket does not constitute a written invitation), not under the legal drinking age is admitted into the alcohol service and consumption area of the event, and in full compliance with all provisions set forth in Board policy Section I.J. for the purpose of allowing alcohol service for the 2016 football season, the 2017 spring game, post-season bowl game, and if applicable, the conference championship game, with a post-season report brought back to the Board. The motion carried unanimously.

17. University of Idaho – Alcohol Permit for 2016 Home Football Game – Suite Club Seating

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the request by the University of Idaho to allow alcohol service during the 2016 football season and during the spring 2017 football scrimmage, in the Litehouse Center/Bud and June Ford Club Room located in the ASUIKibbie Activity Center under the conditions outlined in Board Policy I.J. subsection 2. The motion carried unanimously.

18. Community College Trustee Zones

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To approve the community college district trustee zones legal description submitted by the College of Southern Idaho as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Critchfield/Goesling): To approve the community college district trustee zones legal description submitted by the North Idaho College as submitted in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Critchfield/Clark): To approve the community college district trustee zones legal description submitted by the College of Western Idaho as submitted in Attachment 3. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield indicated today's motions would approve the community college trustee zones.

BUSINESS AFFAIRS & HUMAN RESOURCES

Section I – Human Resources

1. Chief Executive Officer Employment Agreements/Terms

The Board's Executive Director has completed the performance evaluations for the administrators of the Division of Career-Technical Education and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Salary recommendations for these positions are based on the evaluations and the individual agencies' Division of Financial Management approved compensation plans.

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Goesling): To approve an hourly rate of $69.60 (annual salary of $144,768.00) for Matt Freeman as Executive Director of the State Board of Education, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Clark): To approve an hourly rate of $54.47 (annual salary of $113,297.60) for Dwight Johnson as Administrator of the Division of Career-Technical Education, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Hill): To approve an hourly rate of $49.49 (annual salary of $102,939.20) for Jane Donnellan as Administrator of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, effective May 8, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve an hourly rate of $51.55 (annual salary of $107,224.00) for Ron Pisaneschi as General Manager of Idaho Public Television, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Goesling): To approve an annual salary for Dr. Robert Kustra as President of Boise State University in the amount of $396,561.73, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Hill): To approve an annual salary for Dr. Art Vailas, as President of Idaho State University, in the amount of $381,521.19, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve an annual salary for Dr. Chuck Staben, as President of the University of Idaho, in the amount of $374,010.00, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Clark): To approve an annual salary for Dr. Tony Fernandez as President of Lewis-Clark State College in the amount of $218,628.47, effective June 5, 2016. The motion carried unanimously.

2. Amendment to Board Policy – Sections II.B., II.F. and II.H. – Coaches and Athletic Directors – Second reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve the second reading of the proposed amendments to Board Policy Section II.H "Coaches and Athletic Directors"; Board Policy Section II.B "Appointment Authority and Procedures"; and Board Policy Section II.F "Policies Regarding Non-classified Employees" as provided in Attachments 1, 2 and 3. The motion carried unanimously.

And

M/S (Westerberg/Goesling): To approve the amendments to the single-year and multi-year model contracts as provided in Attachments 4 and 5. The motion carried unanimously

Mr. Westerberg indicated there have been no substantial changes between first and second reading.

3. University of Idaho – Multi-Year Employment Agreement – Men's Football Team Head Coach

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Goesling): To approve the request by the University of Idaho to enter into a four and one-half year employment agreement with Paul Petrino, as Head Men's Football Coach, for a fixed term expiring December 31, 2020 with an annual base salary of $178,526.40 and such contingent base salary increases, annual media payments, and incentive/supplemental compensation provisions as set forth in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg pointed out the motion extends the contract to four and one half years with essentially the same contract terms.

Section II – Finance

1. Amendment to Board Policy – Section V.X. – Intercollegiate Athletics – Second reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve the second reading of proposed amendments to Board policy Section V.X., Intercollegiate Athletics, as presented in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg indicated there were no changes between first and second reading.

2. FY 2017 Operating Budgets

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve the FY 2017 operating budgets for the Office of the State Board of Education, Idaho Public Television, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, College and Universities, Postsecondary Professional-Technical Education, Agricultural Research & Extension Service, Health Education Programs and Special Programs, as presented. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg indicated this motion approves the FY17 operating budgets. Mr. Chet Herbst reviewed the process for developing the operating budgets and the amount of work that goes into them by the institutions and agencies. This year they also accounted for the 27th payroll and program prioritization has also played an important role in how the budget is developed.

3. FY 2018 Line Items

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Hill): To direct the Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee to review the FY 2018 budget line items as listed on the Line Items Summary at Tab 3 pages 3-4, and to bring recommendations back to Board for its consideration at the regular August 2016 Board meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

4. Idaho National Laboratory – Lease Expansions Update

Mr. Westerberg indicated this informational update complements yesterday's visit to the INL facilities and viewing of potential construction sites for the proposed buildings. Mr. Chet Herbst provided some additional information on the item and reintroduced Mr. Van Briggs to review any additional details for the Board. Mr. Herbst reviewed the key points for the Board to consider, including the climate of the present bond market. The Idaho State Building Authority would provide construction management of the project and also oversee the financing of the project. The facilities would increase opportunities for Idaho students and support leading-edge research missions of the institutions, and have a positive economic impact for Idaho and its education system. Mr. Herbst reviewed next steps for the Board and outlined the formation of a working group/coordination team to support BAHR and the Board in exploration of the project. Members of the working group would include Board members and staff, INL, ISBA, institutional representatives, Governor's office and legislative officers.

Mr. Westerberg felt it the options developed by the work group would be ready to be considered by the Board at the August meeting. Mr. Soltman requested that Board members Atchley and Hill participate as members on the working group and develop recommendations for the August meeting. Dr. Hill reminded the group of the expeditious nature of this item. Dr. Hill was appointed as the chairman of the working group and enthusiastically accepted the assignment.

Dr. Clark asked for a prioritization of the site options. Mr. Briggs recapped those preferences and that "Site Option 3" was preferred, followed by site options 1, 2, and 4. He did clarify, though, that any of the site options would work. Dr. Hill requested Mr. Briggs get a requested site preference in order by the INL. Ms. Atchley asked for more information regarding the financing be made available to the Board. Dr. Goesling brought up the overall security of the facility. Mr. Briggs responded that there are a number of systems, alarms, and security measures for the facilities in place, specifically for the safety of the occupants, adding that the security budget from the Department of Energy is well over $110 million.

5. Idaho State University – Tuition Lock Initiative

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To approve the request by Idaho State University to implement its proposed Tuition Lock initiative, as described above, beginning in the 2016-2017 academic year and continuing in subsequent years until such time as the University requests restructuring or termination of the initiative. The base tuition for eligible students in each new cohort of the University's Tuition Lock initiative will continue to be set annually by the Board. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg indicated this provides the detail for final approval for ISU's proposed tuition lock initiative.

6. University of Idaho – Marketing Agreement for Intercollegiate Athletics – Learfield Communications

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Atchley): To authorize the University of Idaho to complete negotiations on a contract with Learfield Communications, Inc. for Intercollegiate Athletic promotions, sponsorships and corporate rights; and, upon completion of contract negotiations, to authorize the Executive Director of the Board to approve the final contract before execution by the University. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg indicated this is a request from the University of Idaho for a contract with Learfield Communications for promotion and multi-media rights for athletic promotions.

7. University of Idaho – Disposal of Real Property – Aberdeen Research and Extension Center

BOARD ACTION
M/S (Westerberg/Hill): To approve the request by the University of Idaho to dispose of the 0.7 acres of farm land referenced in Attachment 2 for the appraised value of $1,000; and further to authorize the University's Vice President for Infrastructure to execute all necessary transaction documents for conveying this real property. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Westerberg indicated this item is requesting the disposal of some real property at Aberdeen Research and Extension Center and provided history on the property. The property's effective separation from UI's use ever when the fence was originally constructed makes it poorly suited either for research or any other economic use by UI. Approval of the request will allow the UI to dispose of the referenced property.

8. Lewis-Clark State College – Spalding Hall Construction Project

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Clark): To approve the request by Lewis-Clark State College to proceed with planning and design for the upgrade of Spalding Hall, under project management provided by the Division of Public Works, for a projected cost of $4,000,000 funded through Agency and Permanent Building Fund, as described in Attachments 1 and 2. The motion carried unanimously.

AND

M/S (Westerberg/Goesling): To approve the revision to the FY2017 portion of Lewis-Clark State College's six-year capital plan as submitted in Attachment 4. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Herbst provided that LCSC is requesting Board approval to proceed with planning and design of an expanded-scope renovation project for the Spalding Hall facility on the College's Normal Hill campus in Lewiston. He provided details of the expanded scope of the project and that LCSC has been working with the Division of Public Works (DPW) on it. An updated capital plan will be submitted to the Board in August and when the planning and design is complete, it will also come before the Board for approval to proceed with construction.

At this time they moved to the IRSA portion of the agenda before proceeding with the Department's portion of the agenda.

INSTRUCTION, RESEARCH & STUDENT AFFAIRS

1. Amendment to Board Policy – Section III.T. Student Athletes – Second Reading

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Atchley): To approve the second reading of amendment to Board policy III.T.6, as presented in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Hill indicated there has been one technical change to the policy which is the insertion of the word "shall". The proposed amendments expand the reporting requirements from incidents that led to a conviction to those that are likely to lead to a legal investigation, and should improve the responsiveness and timeliness of reports on student athletic conduct issues to the Board and better reflect the capabilities of current communication modes.

2. Boise State University – Master of Science in Biomolecular Sciences

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Clark): To approve the request by Boise State University to create a new academic program that will award a Master of Science in Biomolecular Sciences in substantial conformation to the proposal submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Hill indicated BSU proposes to create a new program that will award a Master of Science (MS) degree in Biomolecular Sciences. The proposed program will be offered face-to-face in BSU's regional service area, and will require no additional resources because it will make use of existing courses already being taught in the existing Ph.D. in Biomolecular Sciences program.

3. Boise State University – Ph.D. in Computing

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Westerberg): To approve the request by Boise State University to create a new academic program that will award a Ph.D. in Computing in substantial conformance to the program proposal submitted as Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Hill indicated BSU proposes to create a new interdisciplinary program that will award a Ph.D. in Computing. He pointed out the importance of such programs, and that this proposed program will be offered face-to-face in BSU's regional service area. Investment in the creation of a Ph.D. in Computing will yield a wide range of substantial benefits such as training interdisciplinary scientists to use computing theories and engineering principles to contribute to research and solve applied problems.

4. Boise State University – Online, Bachelor of Applied Science Program

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Westerberg): To approve the request by Boise State University to create an online option for their existing, degree-completion program that will award an online Bachelor of Applied Science in substantial conformance with the program proposal provided as Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously,

M/S (Hill/Westerberg): To approve the request by Boise State University to designate an online program fee for the Bachelor of Applied Science of $297 per credit. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Hill indicated BSU proposes to create an online option for its existing, degree-completion program that awards a Bachelor of Applied Science (BAS) degree. Dr. Mathias reported that this would be the first online option for this program and it has been reviewed by the Technical Deans Council. Students will enter the program with a technical associate's degree (an AAS), and will graduate with an academic baccalaureate degree that builds on the foundation of the technical associate's degree. Dr. Schimpf added this is part of BSU's e-campus initiative designed to bring more undergraduate degree programs fully online to broaden access.

5. Boise State University – Online, Bachelor of Arts, Multidisciplinary Studies

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Atchley): To approve the request by Boise State University to create a new online, degree-completion program that will award a Bachelor of Arts in Multidisciplinary Studies in substantial conformance to the program proposal submitted as Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Hill/Goesling): To approve the request by Boise State University to designate an online program fee for the Bachelor of Arts in Multidisciplinary Studies in the amount of $297 per credit in conformance with the program budget submitted to the Board in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Hill indicated BSU proposes to create an online option for its existing, degree-completion program that awards a Bachelor of Arts in Multidisciplinary Studies. Dr. Clark applauded BSU for targeting adult learners.

6. College of Western Idaho (CWI) – Construction Technology

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Atchley): To approve the request by the College of Western Idaho to offer a new Construction Technology program in substantial conformance to the proposal provided in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Dr. Shellberg from CWI introduced the program which is a new Construction Technology program offering an AAS degree and an Intermediate Technical Certificate to students upon completion of program requirements. He reported on the market demand for the industry and that they are estimating over the next 3-5 years a need for 7,000 workers in the construction field. He indicated they are repurposing funds from a less successful program to begin this new program in the Fall of 2017.

7. North Idaho College – Aerospace Technology Substantive Program Changes

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Hill/Atchley): To approve the request by North Idaho College to make substantive changes to the Aerospace Technology program in substantial conformance to those specified in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Lita Burns from NIC provided background on the program which began in 2014. After some initial cohorts went through the program they realized some changes were necessary. Ms. Burns summarized changes to the program which included reducing the total number of credits required for the AAS degree from 62 to 60. The courses have been made more efficient and provide more opportunities for students to customize their training in this area to meet specific industry needs. Additionally some of the courses are able to be taught as dual credit courses in the high schools.

At this time they returned to the Department's portion of the agenda.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION (SDE, Department)

1. Superintendent's Update

Superintendent Ybarra provided an update on some recent work of the Department, reporting on the success of the Idaho Challenge which relates to the standards in English Language Arts (ELA) and Math. Overall stakeholder feedback indicated 86% support in ELA and 90% in Math. She reported that related to legislation, they intend to stay focused on rural schools. She also reported they have a new Chief Policy liaison, Duncan Robb, joining the Department soon. Superintendent Ybarra discussed challenges with the teacher shortage, which is a national issue, and strategies to help teachers. She reported on scores in ELA and Math, and that Math is not where they would like it to be and ELA is making gains. The budgeting process will begin in July and they will start meeting with stakeholders and the Governor's office, and she provided highlights on the Departments focus areas.

Mr. Freeman reminded the Board and Superintendent related to the teacher shortage situation of the resources in the Troops to Teachers program.

2. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.02.004.02, Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Goesling): To approve the revisions to the Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations as submitted in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Ybarra/Atchley): To approve the Proposed Rule amendment to IDAPA 08.02.02.004.02, Rules Governing Uniformity, Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Ybarra indicated this proposed rule reflects a new approval date of the Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations by the Board.

3. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.02.004.03, Operating Procedures for Idaho Public Driver Education Programs

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Clark): To approve the proposed changes to the Operating Procedures for Idaho Public Driver Education Programs as submitted in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Ybarra/Hill): To approve the Proposed Rule amendment to IDAPA 08.02.02.004.03, Rules Governing Uniformity, Incorporation by Reference, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

4. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.02.004, .015, .022, .023, and .024, Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Hill): To approve the proposed revisions to the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel as submitted in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously.

M/S (Ybarra/Hill): To approve the proposed rule amendments to IDAPA 08.02.02.004, .015, .022, .023, and .024, Rules Governing Uniformity, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Ybarra indicated this proposed rule is for the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel.

Ms. Atchley asked if we feel these standards are set high enough. Ms. Ybarra responded they went through a lengthy and rigorous process in setting the standards. Ms. Lisa Colon reviewed the process they exercised with the PSC in reviewing and revising the standards. Dr. Clark commented supportively of the process and work reflected in the standards.

5. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.02.111, Bullying, Harassment and Intimidation

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Goesling): To approve the Proposed Rule amendment to IDAPA 08.02.02, creating a new section 111, Rules Governing Uniformity, Bullying, Harassment and Intimidation Prevention, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Ybarra introduced the proposed rule which is related to bullying, harassment, and intimidation. She added that this proposed rule was vetted through the negotiated rulemaking process in which they conducted six meetings throughout the state in April 2016. The limited feedback received was either for clarification or in favor of the rule. Mr. Matt McCarter was available for questions.

6. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.03.004.01 and 08.02.03.109, Special Education Revisions

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Atchley): To approve the revised Idaho Special Education Manual as submitted in Attachment 2. The motion carried unanimously

M/S (Ybarra/Critchfield): To approve the Proposed Rule amendment to IDAPA 08.02.03.004 and 08.02.03.109, Rules Governing Thoroughness, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Ybarra introduced the proposed rule which is related to revisions to the Idaho Special Education manual and other special education language in rule. Dr. Charlie Silva from the Department was available for questions.

7. Proposed Rule – IDAPA 08.02.03.110, Alternative Secondary Programs

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Critchfield): To approve the Proposed Rule amendment to IDAPA 08.02.03.110, Rules Governing Thoroughness, Alternative Secondary Programs, as submitted in Attachment 1. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Ybarra indicated this proposed rule change will update the rules governing Alternative Secondary Programs and relates to at-risk students and helps to better identify and give support to those students. Mr. Tim McMurtrey was available for questions.

At this time the meeting returned to the item pulled from the Consent Agenda and added to the Department's agenda, which deals with Idaho State University.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION (from Consent Agenda)

12. Idaho State University Program Review

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Ybarra/Critchfield): To adopt the recommendation by the Professional Standards Commission and to accept the State Team Report for Idaho State University as submitted, and to grant Conditional Approval based on the additional documentation submitted by Idaho State University for their English, English as a New Language, and Economics programs. And I move to direct ISU to provide an update on improvements to their teacher preparation program, as discussed, at the August 2017 Board meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

Ms. Critchfield clarified the reasoning for pulling the item from consent agenda, pointing out that ISU is refreshing their College of Education and exploring how they can improve their program. She offered an amended motion that includes a conditional approval based on what was submitted, and includes a request to provide the Board with an update on the improvements and changes. She commended ISU for reviewing its programs.

Dr. Woodworth-Ney provided that ISU has been working to review all of the programs at the College of Education and have transitioned their leadership team at the College of Education as well. They indicated they plan to bring forward a comprehensive report in August of 2017 relative to the college and the transition of programs. She added this was one of the recommendations from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

BOARD ACTION

M/S (Westerberg/Hill): To appoint Emma Atchley as Board President, Linda Clark as Vice President, and Debbie Critchfield as Secretary. The motion carried unanimously. The positions of the new officers take effect immediately.

Mr. Westerberg remarked on behalf of the Board, offering thanks to Mr. Soltman for the exceptional job guiding the Board through the last year. Mr. Soltman also recognized that this is the last meeting for Dr. Bill Goesling who has completed his five year term on the Board. Mr. Soltman presented Dr. Goesling with a plaque presented in appreciation of his passionate and dedicated service to the Board, and for his steadfast support of Indian Education and Veterans in Idaho. Dr. Goesling thanked the other Board members, staff, and institution staff for their good work and the privilege of working with them.

OTHER BUSINESS

There being no further business, a motion to adjourn was entertained.

M/S (Atchley/Critchfield): To adjourn the meeting at 11:45 a.m. The motion carried unanimously.

SUBJECT

Data Dashboard Discussion

REFERENCE

January 2016	Release of the 2015 IPEDS Data Feedback Reports.
April 2016	Each year, the state of Idaho pays for every public high school junior to take the SAT in April.
July 2016	Release of the April SAT test day results.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

This item will provide an opportunity for the Board to discuss potential data points that would be available in an Idaho Education dashboard. Staff will discuss examples of two specific data sources to help frame the discussion, the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) data feedback reports and SAT test day data.

The IPEDS reports are put together by the National Center for Education Statistics who compare the institution to the institution's selected peers. The peers included in this example report exclude the aspirational peers of Idaho State University (ISU). The IPEDS Data Feedback Report offers a comparative look for measures including enrollment, completion, tuition and fee rates, net price, and graduation rates, and is available for each of our institutions.

This item also includes a presentation of the 2016 April SAT test day data and patterns found in the data. This discussion will cover:

- The SAT data dashboard
- Patterns in SAT test scores by gender
- Patterns in SAT test scores by region
- Patterns in SAT test scores by urbanicity
- Future use of SAT test scores

Examples of data dashboards created by other education boards will be presented and discussed.

IMPACT

Public-facing data dashboards allow state policy makers, parents, students, school administrators, and institution staff access to reports produced using data collected in the Statewide Longitudinal Data System (SLDS). These dashboards will assist in determining the overall "health" of the education system or specific schools or institutions through a transparent tool.

NATIONAL CENTER FOR EDUCATION STATISTICS

IPEDS DATA FEEDBACK REPORT 2015

What Is IPEDS?

The Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) is a system of survey components that collects data from about 7,500 institutions that provide postsecondary education across the United States. IPEDS collects institution-level data on student enrollment, graduation rates, student charges, program completions, faculty, staff, and finances.

These data are used at the federal and state level for policy analysis and development; at the institutional level for benchmarking and peer analysis; and by students and parents, through the College Navigator (http://collegenavigator.ed.gov), an online tool to aid in the college search process. For more information about IPEDS, see http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds.

What Is the Purpose of This Report?

The Data Feedback Report is intended to provide institutions a context for examining the data they submitted to IPEDS. The purpose of this report is to provide institutional executives a useful resource and to help improve the quality and comparability of IPEDS data.

What Is in This Report?

As suggested by the IPEDS Technical Review Panel, the figures in this report provide selected indicators for your institution and a comparison group of institutions. The figures are based on data collected during the 2014-15 IPEDS collection cycle and are the most recent data available. This report provides a list of pre-selected comparison group institutions and the criteria used for their selection. Additional information about these indicators and the pre-selected comparison group are provided in the Methodological Notes at the end of the report.

Where Can I Do More with IPEDS Data?

Each institution can access previous Data Feedback Reports as far back as 2005 and customize this latest report by using a different comparison group and IPEDS variables of its choosing. To download archived reports or customize the current Data Feedback Report (DFR), please visit our web site at http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/Home/UseTheData.

COMPARISON GROUP

Comparison group data are included to provide a context for interpreting your institution's statistics. If your institution did not define a custom comparison group for this report by July 17, NCES selected a comparison group for you. (In this case, the characteristics used to define the comparison group appears below.) The Customize Data Feedback Report functionality on the IPEDS Data Center (http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/datacenter/) can be used to reproduce the figures in this report using different peer groups.

The custom comparison group chosen by Idaho State University includes the following 13 institutions:

- Kent State University at Kent (Kent, OH)
- Montana State University (Bozeman, MT)
- North Dakota State University-Main Campus (Fargo, ND)
- Northern Arizona University (Flagstaff, AZ)
- Northern Illinois University (Dekalb, IL)
- South Dakota State University (Brookings, SD)
- The University of Montana (Missoula, MT)
- University of Nevada-Reno (Reno, NV)
- University of North Dakota (Grand Forks, ND)
- University of Oregon (Eugene, OR)
- University of South Dakota (Vermillion, SD)
- University of Wyoming (Laramie, WY)
- Wichita State University (Wichita, KS)

The figures in this report have been organized and ordered into the following topic areas:

1) Admissions (only for non-open-admissions schools),
2) Student Enrollment,
3) Awards,
4) Charges and Net Price,
5) Student Financial Aid,
6) Military Benefits*,
7) Retention and Graduation Rates,
8) Finance,
9) Staff, and
10) Libraries*.

*These figures only appear in customized Data Feedback Reports (DFR), which are available through Use the Data portal on the IPEDS website.

NOTE: Graduation rate cohort includes all full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students. Graduation and transfer-out rates are the Student Right-to-Know rates. Only institutions with mission to prepare students to transfer are required to report transfer out. Retention rates are measured from the fall of first enrollment to the following fall. Four-year institutions report retention rates for students seeking a bachelor's degree. For more details, see the Methodological Notes. N is the number of institutions in the comparison group.

IPEDS DATA FEEDBACK REPORT

METHODOLOGICAL NOTES

Overview

This report is based on data supplied by institutions to IPEDS during the 2014-15 data collection year. Response rates exceeded 99% for most surveys. Detailed response tables are included in IPEDS First Look reports, which can be found at http://nces.ed.gov/pubsearch/getpubcats.asp?sid=010.

Use of Median Values for Comparison Group

The value for the comparison institution is compared to the median value for the comparison group for each statistic included in the figure. If more than one statistic is presented in a figure, the median values are determined separately for each indicator or statistic. Medians are not reported for comparison groups with fewer than three values. Where percentage distributions are presented, median values may not add to 100%. To access all the data used to create the figures included in this report, go to 'Use the Data' portal on the IPEDS website (http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds).

Missing Statistics

If a statistic is not reported for your institution, the omission indicates that the statistic is not relevant to your institution and the data were not collected. Not all notes may be applicable to your report.

Use of Imputed Data

All IPEDS data are subject to imputation for total (institutional) and partial (item) nonresponse. If necessary, imputed values were used to prepare your report.

Data Confidentiality

IPEDS data are not collected under a pledge of confidentiality.

Disaggregation of Data by Race/Ethnicity

When applicable, some statistics are disaggregated by race/ethnicity. Data disaggregated by race/ethnicity have been reported using the 1997 Office of Management and Budget categories. Detailed information about the race/ethnicity categories can be found at http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/reic/resource.asp.

Cohort Determination for Reporting Student Financial Aid and Graduation Rates

Student cohorts for reporting Student Financial Aid and Graduation Rates data are based on the reporting type of the institution. For institutions that report based on an academic year (those operating on standard academic terms), student counts and cohorts are based on fall term data. Student counts and cohorts for program reporters (those that do not operate on standard academic terms) are based on unduplicated counts of students enrolled during a full 12-month period.

Description of Statistics Used in the Figures

Admissions and Test Score Data
Admissions and test score data are presented only for institutions that do not have an open admission policy, and apply to first-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students only. Applicants include only those students who fulfilled all requirements for consideration for admission and who were notified of one of the following actions: admission, non-admission, placement on a wait list, or application withdrawn (by applicant or institution). Admitted applicants (admissions) include wait-listed students who were subsequently offered admission. Early decision, early action, and students who began studies during the summer prior to the fall reporting period are included. For customized Data Feedback Reports, test scores are presented only if they are required for admission.

Average Institutional Net Price

Average net price is calculated for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates who were awarded grant or scholarship aid from the federal government, state/local government, or the institution anytime during the full aid year. For public institutions, this includes only students who paid the in-state or in-district tuition rate. Other sources of grant aid are excluded. Average net price is generated by subtracting the average amount of federal, state/local government, and institutional grant and scholarship aid from the total cost of attendance. Total cost of attendance is the sum of published tuition and required fees, books and supplies, and the average room and board and other expenses.

For the purpose of the IPEDS reporting, aid received refers to financial aid that was awarded to, and accepted by, a student. This amount may differ from the aid amount that is disbursed to a student.

Core Revenues

Core revenues for public institutions reporting under GASB standards include tuition and fees; state and local appropriations; government grants and contracts; private gifts, grants, and contracts; sales and services of educational activities; investment income; other operating and non-operating sources; and other revenues and additions (federal and capital appropriations and grants and additions to permanent endowments). Core revenues for private, not-for-profit institutions (and a small number of public institutions) reporting under FASB standards include tuition and fees; government appropriations (federal, state, and local); government grants and contracts; private gifts, grants, and contracts (including contributions from affiliated entities); investment return; sales and services of educational activities; and other sources. Core revenues for private, for-profit institutions reporting under FASB standards include tuition and fees; government appropriations, grants, and contracts (federal, state, and local); private grants and contracts; investment income; sales and services of educational activities; and other sources. At degree-granting institutions, core revenues exclude revenues from auxiliary enterprises (e.g., bookstores, dormitories), hospitals, and independent operations. Nondegree-granting institutions do no report revenue from auxiliary enterprises in a separate category. These amounts may be included in the core revenues from other sources.

Core Expenses

Core expenses include expenses for instruction, research, public service, academic support, institutional support, student services, scholarships and fellowships (net of discounts and allowances), and other expenses. Expenses for operation and maintenance of plant, depreciation, and interest are allocated to each of the other functions. Core expenses at degree-granting institutions exclude expenses for auxiliary enterprises (e.g., bookstores, dormitories), hospitals, and independent operations. Nondegree-granting institutions do not report expenses for auxiliary enterprises in a separate category. These amounts may be included in the core expenses as other expenses.

Equated Instructional Non-Medical Staff Salaries

Institutions reported total salary outlays by academic rank and gender, and the number of staff by academic rank, contract length (9-, 10-, 11-, and 12-month contracts), and gender. The total number of months covered by salary outlays was calculated by multiplying the number of staff reported for each contract length period by the number of months of the contract, and summing across all contract length periods. The weighted average monthly salary for each academic rank and gender was calculated by dividing the total salary outlays by the total number of months covered. The weighted average monthly salary was then multiplied by 9 to determine an equated 9-month salary for each rank.

FTE Enrollment

The full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment used in this report is the sum of the institution's FTE undergraduate enrollment and FTE graduate enrollment (as calculated from or reported on the 12-month Enrollment component). Undergraduate and graduate FTE are estimated using 12-month instructional activity (credit and/or contact hours). See "Calculation of FTE Students (using instructional activity)" in the IPEDS Glossary at http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/glossary/.

FTE Staff

The full-time-equivalent (FTE) of staff is calculated by summing the total number of full-time staff and adding one-third of the total number of part-time staff. Graduate assistants are not included.

Graduation Rates and Transfer-out Rate

Graduation rates are those developed to satisfy the requirements of the Student Right-to-Know Act and Higher Education Act, as amended, and are defined as the total number of individuals from a given cohort of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates who completed a degree or certificate within a given percent of normal time to complete all requirements of the degree or certificate program before the ending status date of August 31, 2014; divided by the total number of students in the cohort of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates minus any allowable exclusions. Institutions are permitted to exclude from the cohort students who died or were totally and permanently disabled; those who left school to serve in the armed forces or were called up to active duty; those who left to serve with a foreign aid service of the federal government, such as the Peace Corps; and those who left to serve on an official church mission. Transfer-out rate is the total number of students from the cohort who are known to have transferred out of the reporting institution (without earning a degree/award) and subsequently re-enrolled at another institution within the same time period; divided by the same adjusted cohort (initial cohort minus allowable exclusions) as described above. Only institutions with a mission that includes providing substantial preparation for students to enroll in another eligible institution are required to report transfers out.

Retention Rates

Full-time retention rates is a measure of the rate at which students persist in their educational program at an institution, expressed as a percentage. For four-year institutions, this is the percentage of first-time bachelors (or equivalent) degree-seeking undergraduates from the previous fall who are again enrolled in the current fall. For all other institutions this is the percentage of first-time degree/certificate-seeking students from the previous fall who either re-enrolled or successfully completed their program by the current fall. The full-time retention rate is calculated using the percentage of full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates, while the part-time rate is calculated using the percentage of part-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates.

Total Entering Undergraduate Students

Total entering students are students at the undergraduate level, both full- and part-time, new to the institution in the fall term (or the prior summer term who returned in the fall). This includes all first-time undergraduate students, students transferring into the institution at the undergraduate level, and non-degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates entering in the fall. Only degree-granting, academic year reporting institutions provide total entering student data.

Tuition and Required Fees

Tuition is defined as the amount of money charged to students for instructional services, and required fees are those fixed sum charges to students for items not covered by tuition that are required of such a large proportion of all students that the student who does not pay the charge is an exception. The amounts used in this report are for full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates and are those used by the financial aid office to determine need. For institutions that have differential tuition rates for in-district or in-state students, the lowest tuition rate is used in the figure. Only institutions that operate on standard academic terms will have tuition figures included in their report.

SUBJECT

Five Year Plan for Higher Education

REFERENCE

December 2015	Board approved its 2016-2020 (FY17-FY21) Strategic Plan

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section I.M.1.
Idaho Code §67-1903

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Earlier this summer the Governor asked the Board to develop a five year plan for higher education. The Board's Strategic Plan (Plan) is in fact a five year plan for public education (inclusive of secondary and postsecondary); but fulfilling the Governor's request will require the Board to identify specific activities by which to operationalize the Plan. To that end, Board staff have mapped the Plan's goals and objectives to Board activities and initiatives, and categorized them as: "Proposed", "In Progress", and "Operational." For example, outcomes-based funding is "Proposed," while Direct Admissions is "Operational."

IMPACT

The Governor has indicated he wants "to work with the Board and the Legislature to providing meaningful, long-term support for higher education." His support, however, is predicated on getting buy-in from "a broad base of people and organizations …. [for] all the components of the plan for higher education."

An Operational Plan would serve as an advocacy piece for the 2017 Legislation Session.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Board will have the opportunity to discuss the discrete activities and initiatives identified in the Operational Plan, and provide feedback to staff for incorporation into the Operational Plan document.

In the interest of time, staff recommends the Board authorize staff to convene a group of stakeholders to review the Operational Plan (as amended if applicable) and provide recommendations back to the Board at its regular October meeting.

SUBJECT

Approval of amended terms for Operating Agreement with the University of Idaho Foundation.

REFERENCE

October 2008	Idaho State Board of Education (Board) consideration and approval of Foundation agreements for Boise State University, Idaho State University and the University of Idaho.
August 2009	Board consideration and approval of amended Operating Agreement with University of Idaho Foundation.
June 2016	Audit Committee reviewed proposed amendment to Operating agreement and agreed to forward document to Board with recommendation to approve.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section V.E. Gifts and Affiliated Foundations

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The University of Idaho (UI) and the University of Idaho Foundation (Foundation) have been successfully operating under the Operating Agreement approved by the State Board of Education (Board) in August 2009, and effective as of August 31, 2009. At this time the Operating Agreement is before the Board for periodic review and approval in accordance with Board Policy V.E.2.c. The parties have taken this opportunity to update the Operating Agreement with minor revisions, described below. In addition, the Exhibits have all been updated to include the most recent version of the original Exhibit.

a. Article VIII.E. regarding Board review of the Agreement is modified to provide that Board review will be as required by Board policy or as requested by the Board. This will allow for continued consistency between the Agreement and Board policy. The current policy states that the Agreement will be submitted to the Board for review and approval every three (3) years, or as otherwise requested by the Board.

b. The First Addendum to Operating Agreement between UI and the Foundation, entered into on August 31, 2009 is eliminated. This addendum addressed transition and timing issues related to transferring functions from UI to the Foundation in compliance with the Agreement. The transition is now complete making the First Addendum moot.

IMPACT

As anticipated in 2009, the parties have worked diligently to move functions from the UI to the Foundation. The parties now have split cash management functions, and currently the Foundation has eleven loaned employees who perform the functions transferred from UI to the Foundation.

UI does not anticipate a material financial impact on the UI or the Foundation. The proposed changes to the Agreement are minor and represent the continuation of current operations within current budgets.

UI will continue to monitor the efficacy of the operational structure and consider potential changes based on their experience. Any material changes will be presented to the Regents prior to implementation.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The proposed amendments to the Operating Agreement bring the document into alignment with current Board policy. There are no significant changes to the agreement terms previously approved by the Board during its 2009 review. The Audit Committee has reviewed the proposed amendments and has forwarded the agreement to the Board with a recommendation for approval. Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the agreement between the University of Idaho and the University of Idaho Foundation, as submitted in Attachment 2.

Moved by __________ Seconded by __________ Carried Yes _____ No _____

OPERATING AGREEMENT
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AND
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

This agreement ("Operating Agreement") is entered into effective the ___ day of ____________ ~~2009~~ 2016 by and between the University of Idaho ("University") and the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. ("Foundation"), as amended, it is a continuation and restatement of the Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009, which it fully replaces. The University and the Foundation are sometimes collectively referred to herein separately as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties."

WHEREAS, the Foundation is a nonprofit corporation incorporated on September 23, 1970, pursuant to the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act;

WHEREAS, the Foundation has been recognized as a tax-exempt entity under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;

WHEREAS, the Foundation's mission includes the management and distribution of private support to enhance the growth and development of the University;

WHEREAS, the Foundation and the University desire to set forth in writing various aspects of their relationship with respect to matters such as the solicitation, receipt, management, transfer and expenditure of funds;

WHEREAS, the Idaho State Board of Education and the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho (collectively the "State Board") have promulgated Policies and Procedures to be effective as of July of 2008 ("State Board's Policies and Procedures") which are attached hereto as Exhibit "A";

WHEREAS, Section V.E.2.c. of the State Board's Policies and Procedures requires the University to enter into a written operating agreement with the Foundation that sets forth their operating relationship; and

WHEREAS, the Foundation and the University intend for this agreement to be the written operating agreement required by Section V.E.2.c. of the State Board's Policies and Procedures.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and undertakings herein, the University and the Foundation hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

FOUNDATION'S PURPOSES

The Foundation is the primary affiliated foundation responsible for assisting the University in soliciting, managing and distributing private support for the University. Accordingly, to the extent consistent with the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, and the State Board's Policies and Procedures, the Foundation shall: (1) assist in the solicitation of, receive and accept gifts, devises, bequests and other direct or indirect contributions of money and other property made for the benefit of the University from the general public (including individuals, corporations, other entities and other sources); (2) manage and invest the money and property it receives for the benefit of the University; and (3) support and assist the University in fundraising and donor relations.

In carrying out its purposes the Foundation shall not engage in activities that conflict with (1) federal or state laws, rules and regulations (including, but not limited to all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and corresponding Federal Treasury Regulations); (2) applicable polices of the State Board; or (3) the role and mission of the University.

ARTICLE II

FOUNDATION'S ORGANIZATIONAL DOCUMENTS

The Foundation shall provide copies of its current Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws to the University. All amendments of such documents shall also be provided to the University. Furthermore, the Foundation shall, to the extent practicable, provide the University with an advance copy of any proposed amendments to the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws.

ARTICLE III

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES AND SERVICES

A. University Employees.

1. Liaison: The University's Vice President for University Advancement shall serve as the University's liaison to the Foundation (the "Liaison"). The duties and responsibilities of the Liaison are as follows:

a. The Liaison shall be responsible for communicating with the Foundation regarding the University's fundraising efforts and for coordinating any administrative support provided by the University to the Foundation.

b. The Liaison or the Liaison's designee shall attend each meeting of the Foundation's Board of Directors and shall report on behalf of the University to the Foundation's Board of Directors regarding the University's fundraising efforts. The Liaison may also report other information to the Foundation's Board of Directors that is pertinent to the common goals of the University and the Foundation.

2. Executive Director: The Executive Director of the Foundation is an employee of the University who is loaned to the Foundation. All of the Executive Director's services shall be provided directly to the Foundation as follows:

a. The Executive Director shall be responsible for the supervision and control of the day-to-day operations of the Foundation. More specific duties of the Executive Director may be set forth in a written job description prepared by the Foundation and attached to the Loaned Employee Agreement described in subparagraph c below. The Executive Director shall be subject to the control and direction of the Foundation.

b. The Executive Director shall be an employee of the University and entitled to University benefits to the same extent and on the same terms as other full-time University employees of the same classification as the Executive Director. The Foundation shall reimburse the University for all costs incurred by the University in connection with the University's employment of the Executive Director including such expenses as salary, payroll taxes, and benefits.

c. The Foundation and the University shall enter into a written agreement, substantially in the form of Exhibit "B" hereto, establishing that the Executive Director is an employee of the University but subject to the direction and control of the Foundation (generally a "Loaned Employee Agreement"). The Loaned Employee Agreement shall also set forth the relative rights and responsibilities of the Foundation and the University with respect to the Executive Director.

d. In the event the Executive Director resigns, is terminated according to the terms of the Loaned Employee Agreement, or otherwise leaves the employ of the University, hiring of the subsequent Executive Director shall be done in accordance with Foundation procedures, University procedures (including University equal employment procedures), and applicable law (including laws applicable to the University). The Foundation shall have the ability to terminate the Loaned Employee Agreement upon notice to the University as further set forth in the Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation must provide the University with prior approval to hire any employee that the Foundation and University intend to be a loaned employee before the University employs such individual.

e. The University and the Foundation may elect to enter into additional agreements for the loaning of additional employees to the Foundation by the University pursuant to terms substantially similar to the Loaned Employee Agreement attached as Exhibit “B.” The additional loaned employees shall report to either the Foundation Board or the Executive Director of the Foundation, in either case as determined by the Foundation Board and as specified in the additional loaned employee agreements. Such loaned employees shall have no function at the University other than to act in their capacity as employees loaned to the Foundation.

f. Termination of the Executive Director in accordance with the Loaned Employee Agreement shall constitute grounds for a termination proceeding by the University or for non-renewal of the Executive Director's contract with the University, if any.

3. Limited Authority of University Employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, no University employee other than an employee loaned to the Foundation shall be permitted to have responsibility or authority for Foundation policy making, financial oversight, spending authority, investment decisions, or the supervision of Foundation employees.

B. Support Staff Services. The University shall provide administrative support in financial, accounting, investment and development services to the Foundation, as set forth in the Service Agreement attached hereto as Exhibit "C" ("Service Agreement"). Except as specifically provided otherwise herein, all University employees who provide support services to the Foundation shall remain University employees under the direction and control of the University, unless it is agreed that the direction and control of any such employee will be vested with the Foundation in a Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation will pay directly to the University the portion of the overhead costs associated with the services provided to the Foundation pursuant to the Service Agreement or as otherwise determined by the agreement of the Parties.

C. University Facilities and Equipment. The University shall provide the use of the University's office space, equipment and associated services to the Foundation's employees upon the terms agreed to by the University and the Foundation. The terms of use (including amount of rent) of the University's office space, equipment and associated services shall be as set forth in the Service Agreement.

D. No Foundation Payments to University Employees. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the Foundation shall not make any payments directly to a University employee in connection with any resources or services provided to the Foundation pursuant to this Article.

ARTICLE IV

MANAGEMENT AND OPERATION OF FOUNDATION

A. Gift Solicitation.

1. Form of Solicitation. Any and all Foundation gift solicitations shall make clear to prospective donors that (1) the Foundation is a separate legal and tax entity organized for the purpose of encouraging voluntary, private gifts, trusts, and bequests for the benefit of the University; and (2) responsibility for the governance of the Foundation, including the investment of gifts and endowments, resides in the Foundation's Board of Directors.

2. Foundation is Primary Donee. Absent unique circumstances, prospective donors shall be requested to make gifts directly to the Foundation rather than to the University.

B. Acceptance of Gifts.

1. Approval Required Before Acceptance of Certain Gifts. Before accepting contributions or grants for restricted or designated purposes that may require administration or direct expenditure by the University, the Foundation shall obtain the prior written approval of the University. Similarly, the Foundation shall also obtain the University's prior written approval of the acceptance of any gift or grant that would impose a binding financial or contractual obligation on the University. Prior to any approval by the University, the University shall obtain approval of the State Board where State Board policy requires such approval.

2. Acceptance of Gifts of Real Property. The Foundation shall conduct due diligence on all gifts of real property that it receives. All gifts of real property that are intended solely by the donor to be developed for the University's use or to otherwise house facilities of any kind for the University's use shall be approved by the State Board before such gifts are accepted by either the University or the Foundation. The University shall be responsible for obtaining this approval by the State Board. In cases where the real property is intended to be used by the University in connection with carrying out its proper functions, the real property may be conveyed directly to the University, in which case the University and not the Foundation shall be responsible for the due diligence obligations for such property.

3. Processing of Accepted Gifts. All gifts received by the University or the Foundation shall be delivered (if cash) or reported (if any other type of property) to the Foundation's designated Gift Administration Office (a unit of the University's Trust and Investment Office) in accordance with the Service Agreement.

C. Fund Transfers. The Foundation agrees to transfer funds, both current gifts and income from endowments, to the University on a regular basis as agreed to by the Parties. The Foundation's Treasurer or other individual to whom such authority has been delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors shall be responsible for transferring funds as authorized by the Foundation's Board of Directors. All transfers and expenditures noted in this Section must comply with Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and be consistent with the Foundation's sole mission to support the University.

1. Restricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may transfer restricted gifts to the University. Any such transferred restricted gifts will only be expended by the University pursuant to the terms of such restrictions. The Foundation shall inform the University officials into whose program or department restricted gifts are transferred of all restrictions on the use of such gifts and provide such officials with access to any relevant documentation concerning such restrictions. Such University officials shall account for such restricted gifts separate from other program and department funds in accordance with applicable University policies and shall notify the Foundation on a timely basis regarding the uses of such restricted gifts.

2. Unrestricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may utilize any unrestricted gifts it receives for any use consistent with the Foundation's purposes as generally summarized in Article I of this Operating Agreement. The Foundation may make unrestricted donations to the University. Such donated funds will be expended under the oversight of the University President in compliance with state law and University policies. If the Foundation elects to use unrestricted gifts to make grants to the University, such grants shall be made at such times and in such amounts as the Foundation's Board of Directors may determine in such Board's sole discretion.

D. Foundation Expenditures and Financial Transactions.

1. Signature Authority. The Foundation designates the Foundation Chairman and Treasurer as the individuals with signature authority for the Foundation in all financial transactions. The Foundation's Treasurer may also delegate signature authority on a temporary basis consistent with the Foundation's Bylaws to another Foundation employee, an employee loaned to the Foundation, or a Foundation Board member who is not a University employee. In no event may the person with Foundation signature authority for financial transactions be a University employee, unless such individual is an employee who is loaned to the Foundation.

2. Expenditures. All expenditures of the Foundation shall be (1) consistent with the purposes of the Foundation, and (2) not violate restrictions imposed by the donor or the Foundation as to the use or purpose of the specific funds.

E. University Report on Distributed Funds. On a regular basis, which shall not be less than annually, the University shall report to the Foundation on the use of restricted and unrestricted funds transferred to the University. This report shall specify the restrictions on any restricted funds and the uses of such funds.

F. Transfer of University Assets to the Foundation. No University funds, assets, or liabilities may be transferred directly or indirectly to the Foundation without the prior approval of the State Board except when:

1. A donor inadvertently directs a contribution to the University that is intended for the Foundation in which case such funds may be transferred to the Foundation so long as the documents associated with the gift indicate the Foundation was the intended recipient of the gift. In the absence of any such indication of donor intent, such gift shall be deposited in a University account and, except for transfers described in subsections 2 and 4 of this Section, State Board approval will be required prior to the University's transfer of such funds to the Foundation.

2. The University has gift funds that were originally transferred to the University from the Foundation and the University wishes to return a portion of those funds to the Foundation for reinvestment consistent with the original intent of the gift.

3. The University has raised scholarship funds through a University activity and the University wishes to deposit the funds with the Foundation for investment and distribution consistent with the scholarship purposes for which the funds were raised.

4. The University transfers to the Foundation any gift received by the University from a donor that meets the following criteria: (i) the gift is less than $10,000, and (ii) the gift will be invested by the Foundation for scholarship or other general University support purposes. This subsection, however, shall not apply to payments by the University to the Foundation for University obligations to the Foundation, operating expenses of the Foundation or other costs of the Foundation.

G. Separation of Funds. All Foundation assets (including bank and investment accounts) shall be held in separate accounts in the name of the Foundation using the Foundation's Federal Employer Identification Number. The financial records of the Foundation shall be kept using a separate chart of accounts and shall be kept in a secured database that is protected by separate password-only access. For convenience, however, some Foundation expenses may be paid through the University such as payroll and campus charges. These expenses will be paid through accounts clearly titled as belonging to the Foundation and shall be reimbursed by the Foundation on a regular basis.

H. Insurance. To the extent that the Foundation is not covered by the State of Idaho Retained Risk Program, the Foundation shall maintain insurance to cover the operations and activities of its directors, officers and employees. The Foundation shall also maintain general liability coverage.

I. Investment Policies. All funds held by the Foundation, except those intended for short term expenditures, shall be invested in accordance with the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act, Idaho Code Sections 33-5001 to 33-5010, and the Foundation's investment policy which is attached hereto as Exhibit "D"; provided, however, the Foundation shall not invest any funds in a manner that would violate the applicable terms of any restricted gifts. The Foundation shall provide to the University any updates to such investment policy which updates shall also be attached hereto as Exhibit "D".

J. Organization Structure of the Foundation. The organizational structure of the Foundation is set forth in the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation which are attached hereto as Exhibit "E" and the Foundation's By-Laws dated January 30, 2009, which are attached at Exhibit "F." The Foundation agrees to provide copies of such Articles and By-Laws as well as any subsequent amendments to such documents to the University. Any such amendments to the Articles and By-Laws shall be attached hereto as additions to Exhibit "E" and Exhibit "F", respectively.

K. Conflicts of Interest. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

ARTICLE V

FOUNDATION RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE UNIVERSITY

A. Access to Records. The University shall have reasonable access to the financial records of the Foundation upon permission granted by the Foundation from time to time, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. All access by the University of such records shall be made in accordance with applicable laws, Foundation policies, and guidelines. In addition, upon request of the Foundation, the University shall execute a proprietary and confidentiality agreement and instruct its agents and employees that all confidential information of the Foundation shall be protected from disclosure. Except as specifically authorized under this agreement or the applicable proprietary and confidentiality agreement between the University and the Foundation, the University's access shall not include donor specific data of the Foundation such that would provide individually identifiable information about donors or their donations made to the Foundation.

B. Records Management.

1. The University acknowledges that in most cases the University is the primary recipient and depository of confidential donor information. The Parties recognize, however, that the records of the Foundation relating to actual or potential donors contain confidential information. Such records shall be kept by the Foundation in such a manner as to protect donor confidentiality to the fullest extent allowed by law. Notwithstanding the access to records permitted above, access to such confidential information by the University shall be limited to the University's President and any designee of the University's President. The donor database and all other data, materials and information of the Foundation and the University pertaining to past, current or prospective donors, are proprietary to the Foundation and the University respectively and constitute confidential information and trade secrets. The Foundation and University shall take the steps necessary to monitor and control access to the donor database and to protect the security of computer servers and software relevant to the database, in each case to the extent that these systems are in their respective control.

2. The Foundation shall be responsible for maintaining all permanent records of the Foundation including but not limited to the Foundation's Articles, By-Laws and other governing documents, all necessary documents for compliance with IRS regulations, all gift instruments, and all other Foundation records as required by applicable laws.

3. The Foundation’s Board of Directors shall foster an atmosphere of openness in its operations, consistent with the prudent conduct of its business. The parties understand that the Foundation is not a public agency or a governing body as defined in the Idaho Code and the Idaho Open Meeting Law and Access to Public Records Statutes. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of the Foundation’s right to assert exemption from these statutes.

C. Name and Marks. Each Party hereby is granted a general, non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use the corporate name of the other, specifically: "The University of Idaho" and

"The University of Idaho Foundation" and "The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc." in all activities conducted in association with or for the benefit of the other. Use of the other Party's name must be in manner that clearly identifies the Parties as separate entities, and neither Party may use the other Party's name to imply approval or action of the other Party. Neither Party may delegate, assign, or sublicense the rights granted hereunder without express written consent from the other Party. This license does not extend to any identifying marks of either Party other than the specified corporate name. Use of other marks must receive prior written approval.

D. Identification of Source. The Foundation shall be clearly identified as the source of any correspondence, activities and advertisements emanating from the Foundation.

E. Establishing the Foundation's Annual Budget. The Foundation shall provide the University with the Foundation's proposed annual operating budget and capital expenditure plan (if any) prior to the date the Foundation's Board of Directors meeting at which the Foundation's Board of Directors will vote to accept such operating budget. Any of the University's funding requests to the Foundation shall be communicated in writing by the President of the University to the Foundation's Treasurer by April 1 of each year.

F. Attendance of the University's President at Foundation's Board of Director Meetings. The Foundation may invite the University's President to attend meetings of the Foundation's Board of Directors and may act in an advisory capacity in such meetings.

G. Supplemental Compensation of University Employees. No University employee shall receive direct payments, compensation, or other benefits from the Foundation, provided that the Foundation may pay for those benefits which are necessary for its normal course of operation, including, but not limited to, travel and continuing professional education. Any such payment must be paid by the Foundation to the University and the University shall then pay or reimburse the employee in accordance with the University's normal practice. No University employee shall receive any payments or other benefits directly from the Foundation.

ARTICLE VI

AUDITS AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

A. Fiscal Year. The Foundation and the University shall have the same fiscal year.

B. Annual Audit. The Foundation shall have an annual financial audit conducted in accordance with Government Accounting Standards Board or Financial Accounting Standards Board principles as appropriate. The audit shall be conducted by an independent certified public accountant who is not a director or officer of the Foundation. Such audit shall be conducted at the same or similar time as the University audit and shall be reported to the Foundation's Board of Directors. Such audit reports shall contain the Foundation's financial statements and the auditor's independent opinion regarding such financial statements. All such reports and any accompanying documentation shall protect donor privacy to the extent allowable by law.

C. Separate Audit Rights. The University agrees that the Foundation, at its own expense, may at any time during normal business hours conduct or request additional audits or reviews of the University's books and records pertinent to the expenditure of donated funds. The Foundation agrees that the University, at its own expense, may, at reasonable times, inspect and audit the Foundation's financial books and accounting records in accordance with Article V, A above.

D. Annual Reports to University President. Upon request, the Foundation shall provide a written report to the University President setting forth the following items:

1. the annual financial audit report;

2. an annual report of Foundation transfers made to the University, summarized by University department;

3. an annual report of unrestricted funds received by the Foundation;

4. an annual report of unrestricted funds available for use during the current fiscal year;

5. a list of all of the Foundation's officers, directors, and employees;

6. a list of University employees for whom the Foundation made payments to the University for approved purpose during the fiscal year, and the amount and nature of each payment;

7. a list of all state and federal contracts and grants managed by the Foundation;

8. an annual report of the Foundation's major activities;

9. an annual report of each real estate purchase or material capital lease, investment, or financing arrangement entered into during the preceding Foundation fiscal year for the benefit of the University; and

10. an annual report of any actual litigation involving the Foundation during its fiscal year, identification of legal counsel used by the Foundation for any purpose during such year, and identification of any potential or threatened litigation involving the Foundation limited to the extent necessary to protect attorney-client privilege and litigation strategy.

ARTICLE VII

CONFLICT OF INTEREST AND CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT

A. Conflicts of Interest Policy Statement. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

B. Dual Representation. Under no circumstances may a University employee represent both the University and the Foundation in any negotiation, sign for both Parties in transactions, or direct any other University employee under their immediate supervision to sign for the related Party in a transaction between the University and the Foundation. This shall not, however, prohibit University employees from drafting transactional documents that are subsequently provided to the Foundation for the Foundation's independent review, approval and use.

C. Contractual Obligation of University. The Foundation shall not enter into any contract that would impose a financial or contractual obligation on the University without first obtaining the prior written approval of the University. University approval of any such contract shall comply with policies of the State Board with respect to the State Board's approval of University contracts.

D. Acquisition or Development or Real Estate. The Foundation shall not acquire or develop real estate for the University's use or otherwise build facilities for the University's use unless the University first obtains the approval of the State Board. In the event of a proposed purchase of real estate for such purposes by the Foundation, the University shall notify the State Board, at the earliest possible date, of such proposed purchase for such purposes. Furthermore, any such proposed purchase of real estate for the University's use shall be a coordinated effort of the University and the Foundation. Any notification by the University to the State Board required pursuant to this Section may be made through the State Board's chief executive officer in executive session pursuant to Idaho Code Section 67-2345(1)(c).

ARTICLE VIII

GENERAL TERMS

A. Effective Date. This Agreement shall be effective on the date set forth above.

B. Right to Terminate. This Operating Agreement shall terminate upon the mutual written agreement of both Parties. In addition, either Party may, upon 90 days prior written notice to the other, terminate this Operating Agreement, and either Party may terminate this Operating Agreement in the event the other Party defaults in the performance of its obligations and fails to cure the default within 30 days after receiving written notice from the non-defaulting Party specifying the nature of the default. Should the University choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the Foundation that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the Foundation may require the University to pay, within 180 days of written notice, all debt incurred by the Foundation on the University's behalf including, but not limited to, lease payments, advanced funds, and funds borrowed for specific initiatives. Should the Foundation choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the University that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the University may require the Foundation to pay any debt it holds on behalf of the Foundation in like manner. The Parties agree that in the event this Operating Agreement shall terminate, they shall cooperate with one another in good faith to negotiate a new agreement within six (6) months. In the event negotiations fail, the Parties will initiate the Dispute Resolution mechanism described below (through reference to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board) to further attempt to negotiate a new agreement. Termination of this Operating Agreement shall not constitute or cause dissolution of the Foundation.

C. Dispute Resolution. The Parties agree that in the event of any dispute arising from this Operating Agreement, they shall first attempt to resolve the dispute by working together with the appropriate staff members of each of the Parties. If the staff cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the University's President. If the Foundation's Chairman and University's President cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board for resolution. If the dispute is not resolved by the aforementioned Parties, the University and the Foundation shall submit the dispute to mediation by an impartial third party or professional mediator mutually acceptable to the Parties. If and only if all the above mandatory steps are followed in sequence and the dispute remains unresolved, then, in such case, either Party shall have the right to initiate litigation arising from this Operating Agreement. In the event of litigation, the prevailing Party shall be entitled, in addition to any other rights and remedies it may have, to reimbursement for its expenses, including court costs, attorney fees, and other professional expenses.

D. Dissolution of Foundation. Upon dissolution of the Foundation, it shall transfer the balance of all property and assets of the Foundation in a manner consistent with its Articles of Incorporation, which state that in the event of dissolution of the Foundation, “no member, director, officer, or individual shall be entitled to or receive any distribution or division of its remaining assets, property or proceeds, and the balance of all property and assets of the [Foundation] from any source, after the payment of all debts and obligations of the [Foundation], shall be vested in the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho in trust for the use and benefit of the University. Any such assets not disposed of shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose.”

E. Board Approval of Operating Agreement. Prior to the Parties' execution of this Operating Agreement, an unexecuted copy of this Operating Agreement must be approved by the State Board. Furthermore, this Operating Agreement, including any subsequent modifications and restatements of this Operating Agreement, shall be submitted to the State Board for review and approval as required by the then applicable State Board policy (Section V.E.) and as ~~no less~~ ~~frequently than once every two (2) years or more frequently if otherwise~~ requested by the State Board.

F. Modification. Any modification to the Agreement or Exhibits hereto shall be in writing and signed by both Parties.

G. Providing Document to and Obtaining Approval from the University. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the University or whenever the University's approval of any action is required, such documents shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the University's President or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the University's President.

H. Providing Documents to and Obtaining Approval from the Foundation. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the Foundation or whenever the Foundation's approval of any action is required, such document shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the Foundation's Board of Directors or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors.

I. Notices. Any notices required under this agreement may be mailed or delivered as follows:

To the University:

President of the University of Idaho
University of Idaho
P.O. Box 443151
Administration Building Room 105
Moscow, Idaho 83844-3151

To the Foundation:

Executive Director
University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.
714 W. State Street, Suite 240
Boise, Idaho 83702

J. No Joint Venture. At all times and for all purposes of this Operating Agreement, the University and the Foundation shall act in an independent capacity and not as an agent or representative of the other Party.

K. Liability. The University and Foundation are independent entities and neither shall be liable for any of the other's contracts, torts, or other acts or omissions, or those of the other's trustees, directors, officers, members or employees.

L. Indemnification. The University and the Foundation each agree to indemnify, defend and hold the other Party, their officers, directors, agents and employees harmless from and against any and all losses, liabilities, and claims, including reasonable attorney's fees arising out of or resulting from the willful act, fault, omission, or negligence of the Party, its employees, contractors, or agents in performing its obligations under this Operating Agreement. This indemnification shall include, but not be limited to, any and all claims arising from an employee of one Party who is working for the benefit of the other Party. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed to extend to the University's liability beyond the limits of the Idaho Tort Claims Act, Idaho Code Sections 6-901 et seq.

M. Assignment. This Agreement is not assignable by either Party, in whole or in part.

N. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Idaho.

O. Articles, Sections, Subsections and Subparagraphs. This Agreement consists of text divided into Articles that are identified by roman numeral (for example Article I), Sections that are identified by an uppercase letter followed by a period (for example A.), subsections that are identified by a number followed by a period (for example 1.) and subparagraphs that are identified by a lower case letter followed by a period (for example a.). The organization is hierarchical meaning that a reference to a division of the document includes all of its subsections (for example a reference to a Section includes the Section and all of its subsections and subparagraphs).

P. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement is not affected thereby and that provision shall be enforced to the greatest extent permitted by law.

Q. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the Parties pertaining to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto. Specifically, this Agreement continues and replaces the Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009 by the Parties. Furthermore, this Agreement eliminates the First Addendum to Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009, by the Parties, inasmuch as the transition period described therein has passed and the actions described therein have taken place.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the University and the Foundation have executed this agreement on the above specified date.

FIRST ADDENDUM TO OPERATING AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AND
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

~~This First Addendum to Operating Agreement ("First Addendum) is entered into effective the ___ day of ____________ 2009 by and between the University of Idaho ("University") and the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. ("Foundation"). The University and the Foundation are sometimes collectively referred to herein separately as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties."~~

Formatted: Justified

~~By unanimous vote on August 19, 2009, the Idaho State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho ("State Board") approved the terms of an operating agreement between the University and the Foundation ("Operating Agreement") and the transition of operating functions from the University to the Foundation to be accomplished as expeditiously as is practical while maintaining the necessary operations of the Foundation and the University. The Parties, in conjunction with the execution of the Operating Agreement, and pursuant to the approval of the State Board now also enter into this First Addendum to address certain timing issues with respect to the transition of Foundation operating functions currently handled through the University's Trust and Investment Office in order to come into full compliance with the terms of the Operating Agreement.~~

Formatted: Justified

~~NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and undertakings herein, and to supplement the terms of the Operating Agreement, the University and the Foundation hereby agree as follows:~~

~~1. The Parties acknowledge the following terms of the Operating Agreement:~~

~~a. Article II Section A.3. Limited Authority of University Employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, no University employee other than an employee loaned to the Foundation shall be permitted to have responsibility or authority for Foundation policy making, financial oversight, spending authority, investment decisions, or the supervision of Foundation employees.~~

~~b. Article III Section D. Support Staff Services. The University shall provide administrative support in financial, accounting, investment and development services to the Foundation, as set forth in the Service Agreement attached hereto as Exhibit "C" ("Service Agreement"). Except as specifically provided otherwise herein, all University employees who provide support services to the Foundation shall remain University employees under the direction and control of the University, unless it is agreed that the direction and control of any such employee will be vested with the Foundation in a Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation will pay directly to the University the portion of the overhead costs associated with the services provided to the Foundation pursuant to the Service Agreement or as otherwise determined by the agreement of the Parties.~~

~~c. Article IV Section D.1. Signature Authority. The Foundation designates the Foundation Chairman and Treasurer as the individuals with signature authority for the Foundation in all financial transactions. The Foundation's Treasurer may also delegate signature authority on a temporary basis consistent with the Foundation's Bylaws to another Foundation employee, an employee loaned to the Foundation, or a Foundation Board member who is not a University employee. In no event may the person with Foundation signature authority for financial transactions be a University employee, unless such individual is an employee who is loaned to the Foundation.~~

~~2. The Parties acknowledge that currently various financial functions and transactions of the Foundation are performed by University employees through the University's Trust and Investment Office and that a transition will be necessary to come into full compliance with the Operating Agreement terms described in paragraph 1. above. This transition will include necessary revisions to the draft Service Agreement attached to the Operating Agreement as Exhibit C to more accurately describe the nature and extent of services to be provided the Foundation by the University, as well as the potential for additional loaned employee agreement[s].~~

~~3. The Parties agree to pursue this transition as expeditiously as is practical (with a target completion no later than close of the University's fiscal year, June 30, 2010) while maintaining the necessary operations of the Foundation and the University. In that regard, and during the transition period, University employees through the Trust and Investment Office will continue to support the operations of the Foundation as is necessary to ensure continued operations and neither Party will consider the other in default of the Operating Agreement by virtue of such support by the Trust and Investment Office. Upon completion of the transition, the Parties will execute an addendum to the Operating Agreement acknowledging the full effect of all aspects of the Operating Agreement.~~

~~IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the University and the Foundation have executed this First Addendum on the above specified date.~~

OPERATING AGREEMENT
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AND
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

This agreement ("Operating Agreement") is entered into effective the ___ day of ____________ 2016 by and between the University of Idaho ("University") and the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. ("Foundation"), as amended, it is a continuation and restatement of the Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009, which it fully replaces. The University and the Foundation are sometimes collectively referred to herein separately as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties."

WHEREAS, the Foundation is a nonprofit corporation incorporated on September 23, 1970, pursuant to the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act;

WHEREAS, the Foundation has been recognized as a tax-exempt entity under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;

WHEREAS, the Foundation's mission includes the management and distribution of private support to enhance the growth and development of the University;

WHEREAS, the Foundation and the University desire to set forth in writing various aspects of their relationship with respect to matters such as the solicitation, receipt, management, transfer and expenditure of funds;

WHEREAS, the Idaho State Board of Education and the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho (collectively the "State Board") have promulgated Policies and Procedures to be effective as of July of 2008 ("State Board's Policies and Procedures") which are attached hereto as Exhibit "A";

WHEREAS, Section V.E.2.c. of the State Board's Policies and Procedures requires the University to enter into a written operating agreement with the Foundation that sets forth their operating relationship; and

WHEREAS, the Foundation and the University intend for this agreement to be the written operating agreement required by Section V.E.2.c. of the State Board's Policies and Procedures.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and undertakings herein, the University and the Foundation hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

FOUNDATION'S PURPOSES

The Foundation is the primary affiliated foundation responsible for assisting the University in soliciting, managing and distributing private support for the University. Accordingly, to the extent consistent with the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, and the State Board's Policies and Procedures, the Foundation shall: (1) assist in the solicitation of, receive and accept gifts, devises, bequests and other direct or indirect contributions of money and other property made for the benefit of the University from the general public (including individuals, corporations, other entities and other sources); (2) manage and invest the money and property it receives for the benefit of the University; and (3) support and assist the University in fundraising and donor relations.

In carrying out its purposes the Foundation shall not engage in activities that conflict with (1) federal or state laws, rules and regulations (including, but not limited to all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and corresponding Federal Treasury Regulations); (2) applicable polices of the State Board; or (3) the role and mission of the University.

FOUNDATION'S ORGANIZATIONAL DOCUMENTS

The Foundation shall provide copies of its current Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws to the University. All amendments of such documents shall also be provided to the University. Furthermore, the Foundation shall, to the extent practicable, provide the University with an advance copy of any proposed amendments to the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws.

ARTICLE III

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES AND SERVICES

A. University Employees.

1. Liaison: The University's Vice President for University Advancement shall serve as the University's liaison to the Foundation (the "Liaison"). The duties and responsibilities of the Liaison are as follows:

a. The Liaison shall be responsible for communicating with the Foundation regarding the University’s fundraising efforts and for coordinating any administrative support provided by the University to the Foundation.

b. The Liaison or the Liaison's designee shall attend each meeting of the Foundation's Board of Directors and shall report on behalf of the University to the Foundation's Board of Directors regarding the University's fundraising efforts. The Liaison may also report other information to the Foundation's Board of Directors that is pertinent to the common goals of the University and the Foundation.

2. Executive Director: The Executive Director of the Foundation is an employee of the University who is loaned to the Foundation. All of the Executive Director's services shall be provided directly to the Foundation as follows:

a. The Executive Director shall be responsible for the supervision and control of the day-to-day operations of the Foundation. More specific duties of the Executive Director may be set forth in a written job description prepared by the Foundation and attached to the Loaned Employee Agreement described in subparagraph c below. The Executive Director shall be subject to the control and direction of the Foundation.

b. The Executive Director shall be an employee of the University and entitled to University benefits to the same extent and on the same terms as other full-time University employees of the same classification as the Executive Director. The Foundation shall reimburse the University for all costs incurred by the University in connection with the University's employment of the Executive Director including such expenses as salary, payroll taxes, and benefits.

c. The Foundation and the University shall enter into a written agreement, substantially in the form of Exhibit "B" hereto, establishing that the Executive Director is an employee of the University but subject to the direction and control of the Foundation (generally a "Loaned Employee Agreement"). The Loaned Employee Agreement shall also set forth the relative rights and responsibilities of the Foundation and the University with respect to the Executive Director.

d. In the event the Executive Director resigns, is terminated according to the terms of the Loaned Employee Agreement, or otherwise leaves the employ of the University, hiring of the subsequent Executive Director shall be done in accordance with Foundation procedures, University procedures (including University equal employment procedures), and applicable law (including laws applicable to the University). The Foundation shall have the ability to terminate the Loaned Employee Agreement upon notice to the University as further set forth in the Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation must provide the University with prior approval to hire any employee that the Foundation and University intend to be a loaned employee before the University employs such individual.

e. The University and the Foundation may elect to enter into additional agreements for the loaning of additional employees to the Foundation by the University pursuant to terms substantially similar to the Loaned Employee Agreement attached as Exhibit "B." The additional loaned employees shall report to either the Foundation Board or the Executive Director of the Foundation, in either case as determined by the Foundation Board and as specified in the additional loaned employee agreements. Such loaned employees shall have no function at the University other than to act in their capacity as employees loaned to the Foundation.

f. Termination of the Executive Director in accordance with the Loaned Employee Agreement shall constitute grounds for a termination proceeding by the University or for non-renewal of the Executive Director's contract with the University, if any.

3. Limited Authority of University Employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, no University employee other than an employee loaned to the Foundation shall be permitted to have responsibility or authority for Foundation policy making, financial oversight, spending authority, investment decisions, or the supervision of Foundation employees.

B. Support Staff Services. The University shall provide administrative support in financial, accounting, investment and development services to the Foundation, as set forth in the Service Agreement attached hereto as Exhibit "C" ("Service Agreement"). Except as specifically provided otherwise herein, all University employees who provide support services to the Foundation shall remain University employees under the direction and control of the University, unless it is agreed that the direction and control of any such employee will be vested with the Foundation in a Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation will pay directly to the University the portion of the overhead costs associated with the services provided to the Foundation pursuant to the Service Agreement or as otherwise determined by the agreement of the Parties.

C. University Facilities and Equipment. The University shall provide the use of the University's office space, equipment and associated services to the Foundation's employees upon the terms agreed to by the University and the Foundation. The terms of use (including amount of rent) of the University's office space, equipment and associated services shall be as set forth in the Service Agreement.

D. No Foundation Payments to University Employees. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the Foundation shall not make any payments directly to a University employee in connection with any resources or services provided to the Foundation pursuant to this Article.

ARTICLE IV

MANAGEMENT AND OPERATION OF FOUNDATION

A. Gift Solicitation.

1. Form of Solicitation. Any and all Foundation gift solicitations shall make clear to prospective donors that (1) the Foundation is a separate legal and tax entity organized for the purpose of encouraging voluntary, private gifts, trusts, and bequests for the benefit of the University; and (2) responsibility for the governance of the Foundation, including the investment of gifts and endowments, resides in the Foundation's Board of Directors.

2. Foundation is Primary Donee. Absent unique circumstances, prospective donors shall be requested to make gifts directly to the Foundation rather than to the University.

B. Acceptance of Gifts.

1. Approval Required Before Acceptance of Certain Gifts. Before accepting contributions or grants for restricted or designated purposes that may require administration or direct expenditure by the University, the Foundation shall obtain the prior written approval of the University. Similarly, the Foundation shall also obtain the University's prior written approval of the acceptance of any gift or grant that would impose a binding financial or contractual obligation on the University. Prior to any approval by the University, the University shall obtain approval of the State Board where State Board policy requires such approval.

2. Acceptance of Gifts of Real Property. The Foundation shall conduct due diligence on all gifts of real property that it receives. All gifts of real property that are intended solely by the donor to be developed for the University's use or to otherwise house facilities of any kind for the University's use shall be approved by the State Board before such gifts are accepted by either the University or the Foundation. The University shall be responsible for obtaining this approval by the State Board. In cases where the real property is intended to be used by the University in connection with carrying out its proper functions, the real property may be conveyed directly to the University, in which case the University and not the Foundation shall be responsible for the due diligence obligations for such property.

3. Processing of Accepted Gifts. All gifts received by the University or the Foundation shall be delivered (if cash) or reported (if any other type of property) to the Foundation's designated Gift Administration Office (a unit of the University's Trust and Investment Office) in accordance with the Service Agreement.

C. Fund Transfers. The Foundation agrees to transfer funds, both current gifts and income from endowments, to the University on a regular basis as agreed to by the Parties. The Foundation's Treasurer or other individual to whom such authority has been delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors shall be responsible for transferring funds as authorized by the Foundation's Board of Directors. All transfers and expenditures noted in this Section must comply with Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and be consistent with the Foundation's sole mission to support the University.

1. Restricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may transfer restricted gifts to the University. Any such transferred restricted gifts will only be expended by the University pursuant to the terms of such restrictions. The Foundation shall inform the University officials into whose program or department restricted gifts are transferred of all restrictions on the use of such gifts and provide such officials with access to any relevant documentation concerning such restrictions. Such University officials shall account for such restricted gifts separate from other program and department funds in accordance with applicable University policies and shall notify the Foundation on a timely basis regarding the uses of such restricted gifts.

2. Unrestricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may utilize any unrestricted gifts it receives for any use consistent with the Foundation's purposes as generally summarized in Article I of this Operating Agreement. The Foundation may make unrestricted donations to the University. Such donated funds will be expended under the oversight of the University President in compliance with state law and University policies. If the Foundation elects to use unrestricted gifts to make grants to the University, such grants shall be made at such times and in such amounts as the Foundation's Board of Directors may determine in such Board's sole discretion.

D. Foundation Expenditures and Financial Transactions.

1. Signature Authority. The Foundation designates the Foundation Chairman and Treasurer as the individuals with signature authority for the Foundation in all financial transactions. The Foundation's Treasurer may also delegate signature authority on a temporary basis consistent with the Foundation's Bylaws to another Foundation employee, an employee loaned to the Foundation, or a Foundation Board member who is not a University employee. In no event may the person with Foundation signature authority for financial transactions be a University employee, unless such individual is an employee who is loaned to the Foundation.

2. Expenditures. All expenditures of the Foundation shall be (1) consistent with the purposes of the Foundation, and (2) not violate restrictions imposed by the donor or the Foundation as to the use or purpose of the specific funds.

E. University Report on Distributed Funds. On a regular basis, which shall not be less than annually, the University shall report to the Foundation on the use of restricted and unrestricted funds transferred to the University. This report shall specify the restrictions on any restricted funds and the uses of such funds.

F. Transfer of University Assets to the Foundation. No University funds, assets, or liabilities may be transferred directly or indirectly to the Foundation without the prior approval of the State Board except when:

1. A donor inadvertently directs a contribution to the University that is intended for the Foundation in which case such funds may be transferred to the Foundation so long as the documents associated with the gift indicate the Foundation was the intended recipient of the gift. In the absence of any such indication of donor intent, such gift shall be deposited in a University account and, except for transfers described in subsections 2 and 4 of this Section, State Board approval will be required prior to the University's transfer of such funds to the Foundation.

2. The University has gift funds that were originally transferred to the University from the Foundation and the University wishes to return a portion of those funds to the Foundation for reinvestment consistent with the original intent of the gift.

3. The University has raised scholarship funds through a University activity and the University wishes to deposit the funds with the Foundation for investment and distribution consistent with the scholarship purposes for which the funds were raised.

4. The University transfers to the Foundation any gift received by the University from a donor that meets the following criteria: (i) the gift is less than $10,000, and (ii) the gift will be invested by the Foundation for scholarship or other general University support purposes. This subsection, however, shall not apply to payments by the University to the Foundation for University obligations to the Foundation, operating expenses of the Foundation or other costs of the Foundation.

G. Separation of Funds. All Foundation assets (including bank and investment accounts) shall be held in separate accounts in the name of the Foundation using the Foundation's Federal Employer Identification Number. The financial records of the Foundation shall be kept using a separate chart of accounts and shall be kept in a secured database that is protected by separate password-only access. For convenience, however, some Foundation expenses may be paid through the University such as payroll and campus charges. These expenses will be paid through accounts clearly titled as belonging to the Foundation and shall be reimbursed by the Foundation on a regular basis.

H. Insurance. To the extent that the Foundation is not covered by the State of Idaho Retained Risk Program, the Foundation shall maintain insurance to cover the operations and activities of its directors, officers and employees. The Foundation shall also maintain general liability coverage.

I. Investment Policies. All funds held by the Foundation, except those intended for short term expenditures, shall be invested in accordance with the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act, Idaho Code Sections 33-5001 to 33-5010, and the Foundation's investment policy which is attached hereto as Exhibit "D"; provided, however, the Foundation shall not invest any funds in a manner that would violate the applicable terms of any restricted gifts. The Foundation shall provide to the University any updates to such investment policy which updates shall also be attached hereto as Exhibit "D".

J. Organization Structure of the Foundation. The organizational structure of the Foundation is set forth in the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation which are attached hereto as Exhibit "E" and the Foundation's By-Laws dated January 30, 2009, which are attached at Exhibit "F." The Foundation agrees to provide copies of such Articles and By-Laws as well as any subsequent amendments to such documents to the University. Any such amendments to the Articles and By-Laws shall be attached hereto as additions to Exhibit "E" and Exhibit "F", respectively.

K. Conflicts of Interest. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

ARTICLE V

FOUNDATION RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE UNIVERSITY

A. Access to Records. The University shall have reasonable access to the financial records of the Foundation upon permission granted by the Foundation from time to time, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. All access by the University of such records shall be made in accordance with applicable laws, Foundation policies, and guidelines. In addition, upon request of the Foundation, the University shall execute a proprietary and confidentiality agreement and instruct its agents and employees that all confidential information of the Foundation shall be protected from disclosure. Except as specifically authorized under this agreement or the applicable proprietary and confidentiality agreement between the University and the Foundation, the University's access shall not include donor specific data of the Foundation such that would provide individually identifiable information about donors or their donations made to the Foundation.

B. Records Management.

1. The University acknowledges that in most cases the University is the primary recipient and depository of confidential donor information. The Parties recognize, however, that the records of the Foundation relating to actual or potential donors contain confidential information. Such records shall be kept by the Foundation in such a manner as to protect donor confidentiality to the fullest extent allowed by law. Notwithstanding the access to records permitted above, access to such confidential information by the University shall be limited to the University's President and any designee of the University's President. The donor database and all other data, materials and information of the Foundation and the University pertaining to past, current or prospective donors, are proprietary to the Foundation and the University respectively and constitute confidential information and trade secrets. The Foundation and University shall take the steps necessary to monitor and control access to the donor database and to protect the security of computer servers and software relevant to the database, in each case to the extent that these systems are in their respective control.

2. The Foundation shall be responsible for maintaining all permanent records of the Foundation including but not limited to the Foundation's Articles, By-Laws and other governing documents, all necessary documents for compliance with IRS regulations, all gift instruments, and all other Foundation records as required by applicable laws.

3. The Foundation’s Board of Directors shall foster an atmosphere of openness in its operations, consistent with the prudent conduct of its business. The parties understand that the Foundation is not a public agency or a governing body as defined in the Idaho Code and the Idaho Open Meeting Law and Access to Public Records Statutes. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of the Foundation’s right to assert exemption from these statutes.

C. Name and Marks. Each Party hereby is granted a general, non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use the corporate name of the other, specifically: "The University of Idaho" and

"The University of Idaho Foundation" and "The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc." in all activities conducted in association with or for the benefit of the other. Use of the other Party's name must be in manner that clearly identifies the Parties as separate entities, and neither Party may use the other Party's name to imply approval or action of the other Party. Neither Party may delegate, assign, or sublicense the rights granted hereunder without express written consent from the other Party. This license does not extend to any identifying marks of either Party other than the specified corporate name. Use of other marks must receive prior written approval.

D. Identification of Source. The Foundation shall be clearly identified as the source of any correspondence, activities and advertisements emanating from the Foundation.

E. Establishing the Foundation's Annual Budget. The Foundation shall provide the University with the Foundation's proposed annual operating budget and capital expenditure plan (if any) prior to the date the Foundation's Board of Directors meeting at which the Foundation's Board of Directors will vote to accept such operating budget. Any of the University's funding requests to the Foundation shall be communicated in writing by the President of the University to the Foundation's Treasurer by April 1 of each year.

F. Attendance of the University's President at Foundation's Board of Director Meetings. The Foundation may invite the University's President to attend meetings of the Foundation's Board of Directors and may act in an advisory capacity in such meetings.

G. Supplemental Compensation of University Employees. No University employee shall receive direct payments, compensation, or other benefits from the Foundation, provided that the Foundation may pay for those benefits which are necessary for its normal course of operation, including, but not limited to, travel and continuing professional education. Any such payment must be paid by the Foundation to the University and the University shall then pay or reimburse the employee in accordance with the University's normal practice. No University employee shall receive any payments or other benefits directly from the Foundation.

ARTICLE VI

AUDITS AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

A. Fiscal Year. The Foundation and the University shall have the same fiscal year.

B. Annual Audit. The Foundation shall have an annual financial audit conducted in accordance with Government Accounting Standards Board or Financial Accounting Standards Board principles as appropriate. The audit shall be conducted by an independent certified public accountant who is not a director or officer of the Foundation. Such audit shall be conducted at the same or similar time as the University audit and shall be reported to the Foundation's Board of Directors. Such audit reports shall contain the Foundation's financial statements and the auditor's independent opinion regarding such financial statements. All such reports and any accompanying documentation shall protect donor privacy to the extent allowable by law.

C. Separate Audit Rights. The University agrees that the Foundation, at its own expense, may at any time during normal business hours conduct or request additional audits or reviews of the University's books and records pertinent to the expenditure of donated funds. The Foundation agrees that the University, at its own expense, may, at reasonable times, inspect and audit the Foundation's financial books and accounting records in accordance with Article V, A above.

D. Annual Reports to University President. Upon request, the Foundation shall provide a written report to the University President setting forth the following items:

1. the annual financial audit report;

2. an annual report of Foundation transfers made to the University, summarized by University department;

3. an annual report of unrestricted funds received by the Foundation;

4. an annual report of unrestricted funds available for use during the current fiscal year;

5. a list of all of the Foundation's officers, directors, and employees;

6. a list of University employees for whom the Foundation made payments to the University for approved purpose during the fiscal year, and the amount and nature of each payment;

7. a list of all state and federal contracts and grants managed by the Foundation;

8. an annual report of the Foundation's major activities;

9. an annual report of each real estate purchase or material capital lease, investment, or financing arrangement entered into during the preceding Foundation fiscal year for the benefit of the University; and

10. an annual report of any actual litigation involving the Foundation during its fiscal year, identification of legal counsel used by the Foundation for any purpose during such year, and identification of any potential or threatened litigation involving the Foundation limited to the extent necessary to protect attorney-client privilege and litigation strategy.

ARTICLE VII

Conflict of Interest and Code of Ethics and Conduct

A. Conflicts of Interest Policy Statement. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

B. Dual Representation. Under no circumstances may a University employee represent both the University and the Foundation in any negotiation, sign for both Parties in transactions, or direct any other University employee under their immediate supervision to sign for the related Party in a transaction between the University and the Foundation. This shall not, however, prohibit University employees from drafting transactional documents that are subsequently provided to the Foundation for the Foundation's independent review, approval and use.

C. Contractual Obligation of University. The Foundation shall not enter into any contract that would impose a financial or contractual obligation on the University without first obtaining the prior written approval of the University. University approval of any such contract shall comply with policies of the State Board with respect to the State Board's approval of University contracts.

D. Acquisition or Development or Real Estate. The Foundation shall not acquire or develop real estate for the University’s use or otherwise build facilities for the University's use unless the University first obtains the approval of the State Board. In the event of a proposed purchase of real estate for such purposes by the Foundation, the University shall notify the State Board, at the earliest possible date, of such proposed purchase for such purposes. Furthermore, any such proposed purchase of real estate for the University's use shall be a coordinated effort of the University and the Foundation. Any notification by the University to the State Board required pursuant to this Section may be made through the State Board's chief executive officer in executive session pursuant to Idaho Code Section 67-2345(1)(c).

ARTICLE VIII

General Terms

A. Effective Date. This Agreement shall be effective on the date set forth above.

B. Right to Terminate. This Operating Agreement shall terminate upon the mutual written agreement of both Parties. In addition, either Party may, upon 90 days prior written notice to the other, terminate this Operating Agreement, and either Party may terminate this Operating Agreement in the event the other Party defaults in the performance of its obligations and fails to cure the default within 30 days after receiving written notice from the non-defaulting Party specifying the nature of the default. Should the University choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the Foundation that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the Foundation may require the University to pay, within 180 days of written notice, all debt incurred by the Foundation on the University's behalf including, but not limited to, lease payments, advanced funds, and funds borrowed for specific initiatives. Should the Foundation choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the University that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the University may require the Foundation to pay any debt it holds on behalf of the Foundation in like manner. The Parties agree that in the event this Operating Agreement shall terminate, they shall cooperate with one another in good faith to negotiate a new agreement within six (6) months. In the event negotiations fail, the Parties will initiate the Dispute Resolution mechanism described below (through reference to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board) to further attempt to negotiate a new agreement. Termination of this Operating Agreement shall not constitute or cause dissolution of the Foundation.

C. Dispute Resolution. The Parties agree that in the event of any dispute arising from this Operating Agreement, they shall first attempt to resolve the dispute by working together with the appropriate staff members of each of the Parties. If the staff cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the University's President. If the Foundation's Chairman and University's President cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board for resolution. If the dispute is not resolved by the aforementioned Parties, the University and the Foundation shall submit the dispute to mediation by an impartial third party or professional mediator mutually acceptable to the Parties. If and only if all the above mandatory steps are followed in sequence and the dispute remains unresolved, then, in such case, either Party shall have the right to initiate litigation arising from this Operating Agreement. In the event of litigation, the prevailing Party shall be entitled, in addition to any other rights and remedies it may have, to reimbursement for its expenses, including court costs, attorney fees, and other professional expenses.

D. Dissolution of Foundation. Upon dissolution of the Foundation, it shall transfer the balance of all property and assets of the Foundation in a manner consistent with its Articles of Incorporation, which state that in the event of dissolution of the Foundation, “no member, director, officer, or individual shall be entitled to or receive any distribution or division of its remaining assets, property or proceeds, and the balance of all property and assets of the [Foundation] from any source, after the payment of all debts and obligations of the [Foundation], shall be vested in the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho in trust for the use and benefit of the University. Any such assets not disposed of shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose.”

E. Board Approval of Operating Agreement. Prior to the Parties' execution of this Operating Agreement, an unexecuted copy of this Operating Agreement must be approved by the State Board. Furthermore, this Operating Agreement, including any subsequent modifications and restatements of this Operating Agreement, shall be submitted to the State Board for review and approval as required by the then applicable State Board policy (Section V.E.) and as requested by the State Board.

F. Modification. Any modification to the Agreement or Exhibits hereto shall be in writing and signed by both Parties.

G. Providing Document to and Obtaining Approval from the University. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the University or whenever the University's approval of any action is required, such documents shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the University's President or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the University's President.

H. Providing Documents to and Obtaining Approval from the Foundation. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the Foundation or whenever the Foundation's approval of any action is required, such document shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the Foundation's Board of Directors or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors.

I. Notices. Any notices required under this agreement may be mailed or delivered as follows:

To the University:

President of the University of Idaho
University of Idaho
P.O. Box 443151
Administration Building Room 105
Moscow, Idaho 83844-3151

To the Foundation:

Executive Director
University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.
714 W. State Street, Suite 240
Boise, Idaho 83702

J. No Joint Venture. At all times and for all purposes of this Operating Agreement, the University and the Foundation shall act in an independent capacity and not as an agent or representative of the other Party.

K. Liability. The University and Foundation are independent entities and neither shall be liable for any of the other's contracts, torts, or other acts or omissions, or those of the other's trustees, directors, officers, members or employees.

L. Indemnification. The University and the Foundation each agree to indemnify, defend and hold the other Party, their officers, directors, agents and employees harmless from and against any and all losses, liabilities, and claims, including reasonable attorney's fees arising out of or resulting from the willful act, fault, omission, or negligence of the Party, its employees, contractors, or agents in performing its obligations under this Operating Agreement. This indemnification shall include, but not be limited to, any and all claims arising from an employee of one Party who is working for the benefit of the other Party. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed to extend to the University's liability beyond the limits of the Idaho Tort Claims Act, Idaho Code Sections 6-901 et seq.

M. Assignment. This Agreement is not assignable by either Party, in whole or in part.

N. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Idaho.

O. Articles, Sections, Subsections and Subparagraphs. This Agreement consists of text divided into Articles that are identified by roman numeral (for example Article I), Sections that are identified by an uppercase letter followed by a period (for example A.), subsections that are identified by a number followed by a period (for example 1.) and subparagraphs that are identified by a lower case letter followed by a period (for example a.). The organization is hierarchical meaning that a reference to a division of the document includes all of its subsections (for example a reference to a Section includes the Section and all of its subsections and subparagraphs).

P. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement is not affected thereby and that provision shall be enforced to the greatest extent permitted by law.

Q. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the Parties pertaining to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto. Specifically, this Agreement continues and replaces the Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009 by the Parties. Furthermore, this Agreement eliminates the First Addendum to Operating Agreement entered into on August 31, 2009, by the Parties, inasmuch as the transition period described therein has passed and the actions described therein have taken place.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the University and the Foundation have executed this agreement on the above specified date.

SBOE Policy Section V.E Gifts and Affiliated Foundations

Idaho State Board of Education
GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
SECTION: V. FINANCIAL AFFAIRS
Subsection: E. Gifts and Affiliated Foundations October 2014

1. Purpose of the Policy

   a. The Board recognizes the importance of voluntary private support and encourages grants and contributions for the benefit of the institutions and agencies under its governance. Private support for public education is an accepted and firmly established practice throughout the United States. Tax-exempt foundations are one means of providing this valuable support to help the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance raise money through private contributions. Foundations are separate, legal entities, tax-exempt under Section 501(c) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, associated with the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance. Foundations are established for the purpose of raising, receiving, holding, and/or using funds from the private sector for charitable, scientific, cultural, educational, athletic, or related endeavors that support, enrich, and improve the institutions or agencies. The Board wishes to encourage a broad base of support from many sources, particularly increased levels of voluntary support. To achieve this goal, the Board will cooperate in every way possible with the work and mission of recognized affiliated foundations.

   b. The Board recognizes that foundations:

      i. Provide an opportunity for private individuals and organizations to contribute to the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance with the assurance that the benefits of their gifts supplement, not supplant, state appropriations to the institutions and agencies;

      ii. Provide assurance to donors that their contributions will be received, distributed, and utilized as requested for specified purposes, to the extent legally permissible, and that donor records will be kept confidential to the extent requested by the donor and as allowed by law;

      iii. Provide an instrument through which alumni and community leaders can help strengthen the institutions and agencies through participation in the solicitation, management, and distribution of private gifts; and

      iv. Aid and assist the Board in attaining its approved educational, research, public service, student loan and financial assistance, alumni relations, and financial development program objectives.

c. The Board, aware of the value of tax-exempt foundations to the well being of the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance, adopts this policy with the following objectives:

i. To preserve and encourage the operation of recognized foundations associated with the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance; and

ii. To ensure that the institutions and agencies under the Board's governance work with their respective affiliated foundations to make certain that business is conducted responsibly and according to applicable laws, rules, regulations, and policies, and that such foundations fulfill their obligations to contributors, to those who benefit from their programs, and to the general public.

2. Institutional Foundations

The foregoing provisions are designed to promote and strengthen the operations of foundations that have been, and may be, established for the benefit of the public colleges and universities in Idaho. The intent of this policy is to describe general principles that will govern institutional relationships with their affiliated foundations. It is intended that a more detailed and specific description of the particular relationship between an institution and its affiliated foundation will be developed and committed to a written operating agreement, which must be approved by the Board. For application of this policy to affiliated research foundations and technology transfer organizations, including the Idaho Research Foundation, see paragraph 6 below.

a. Board Recognition of Affiliated Foundations

. The Board may recognize an entity as an affiliated foundation if it meets and maintains the requirements of this policy. The chief executive officer of each institution must ensure that any affiliated foundation recognized by the Board ascribes to these policies. The Board acknowledges that it cannot and should not have direct control over affiliated foundations. These foundations must be governed separately to protect their private, independent status. However, because the Board is responsible for ensuring the integrity and reputation of the institutions and their campuses and programs, the Board must be assured that any affiliated foundation adheres to sound business practices and ethical standards appropriate to such organizations in order to assure the public that the foundation is conducting its mission with honesty and integrity.

b. General Provisions Applicable to all Affiliated Foundations recognized by the Board

i. All private support of an institution not provided directly to such institution shall be through a recognized affiliated foundation. While an institution may accept gifts made directly to the institution or directly to the Board, absent unique circumstances making a direct gift to the institution more appropriate, donors shall be requested to make gifts to affiliated foundations.

ii. Each affiliated foundation shall operate as an Idaho nonprofit corporation that is legally separate from the institution and is recognized as a 501(c)(3) public charity by the Internal Revenue Service. The management and control of a foundation shall rest with its governing board. All correspondence, solicitations, activities, and advertisements concerning a particular foundation shall be clearly discernible as from that foundation, and not the institution.

iii. The institutions and foundations are independent entities and neither will be liable for any of the other's contracts, torts, or other acts or omissions, or those of the other's trustees, directors, officers, members, or staff.

iv. It is the responsibility of the foundation to support the institution at all times in a cooperative, ethical, and collaborative manner; to engage in activities in support of the institution; and, where appropriate, to assist in securing resources, to administer assets and property in accordance with donor intent, and to manage its assets and resources.

v. Foundation funds shall be kept separate from institution funds. No institutional funds, assets, or liabilities may be transferred directly or indirectly to a foundation without the prior approval of the Board except as provided herein. Funds may be transferred from an institution to a foundation without prior Board approval when:

1) A donor inadvertently directs a contribution to an institution that is intended for the foundation. If an affiliated foundation is the intended recipient of funds made payable to the Board or to an institution, then such funds may be deposited with or transferred to the affiliated foundation, provided that accompanying documents demonstrate that the foundation is the intended recipient. Otherwise, the funds shall be deposited in an institutional account, and Board approval will be required prior to transfer to an affiliated foundation; or

2) The institution has gift funds that were transferred from and originated in an affiliated foundation, and the institution wishes to return a portion of funds to the foundation for reinvestment consistent with the original intent of the gift.

vi. Transactions between an institution and an affiliated foundation shall meet the normal tests for ordinary business transactions, including proper documentation and approvals. Special attention shall be given to avoiding direct or indirect conflicts of interest between the institution and the affiliated foundation and those with whom the foundation does business. Under no circumstances shall an institution employee represent both the institution and foundation in any negotiation, sign for both the institution and foundation in a particular transaction, or direct any other institution employee under their immediate supervision to sign for the related party in a transaction between the institution and the foundation.

vii. Prior to the start of each fiscal year, an affiliated foundation must provide the institution chief executive officer with the foundation's proposed annual budget, as approved by the foundation's governing board.

viii. Each foundation shall conduct its fiscal operations to conform to the institution's fiscal year. Each foundation shall prepare its annual financial statements in accordance with Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) or Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) principles, as appropriate.

ix. Institution chief executive officers shall be invited to attend all meetings of an affiliated foundation's governing board in an advisory role. On a case by case basis, other institution employees may also serve as advisors to an affiliated foundation's governing board, as described in the written foundation operating agreement approved by the Board.

x. The foundation, while protecting personal and private information related to private individuals, is encouraged, to the extent possible or reasonable, to be open to public inquiries related to revenue, expenditure policies, investment performance and/or other information that would normally be open in the conduct of institution affairs.

xi. A foundation's enabling documents (e.g., articles of incorporation and bylaws) and any amendments are to be provided to the institution. These documents must include a clause requiring that in the event of the dissolution of a foundation, its assets and records will be distributed to its affiliated institution, provided the affiliated institution is a qualified charitable organization under relevant state and federal income tax laws. To the extent practicable, the foundation shall provide the institution with an advance copy of any proposed amendments, additions, or deletions to its articles of incorporation or bylaws. The institution shall be responsible for providing all of the foregoing documents to the Board.

xii. Foundations may not engage in activities that conflict with federal or state laws, rules and regulations; the policies of the Board; or the role and mission of the institutions. Foundations shall comply with applicable Internal Revenue Code provisions and regulations and all other applicable policies and guidelines.

xiii. Fund-raising campaigns and solicitations of major gifts for the benefit of an institution by its affiliated foundation shall be developed cooperatively between the institution and its affiliated foundation. Before accepting contributions or grants for restricted or designated purposes that may require administration or direct expenditure by an institution, a foundation will obtain the prior approval of the institution chief executive officer or a designee.

xiv. Foundations shall obtain prior approval in writing from the institution chief executive officer or a designee if gifts, grants, or contracts include a financial or contractual obligation binding upon the institution.

xv. Foundations shall make clear to prospective donors that:

1) The foundation is a separate legal and tax entity organized for the purpose of encouraging voluntary, private gifts, trusts, and bequests for the benefit of the institution; and

2) Responsibility for the governance of the foundation, including investment of gifts and endowments, resides in the foundation's governing board.

xvi. Institutions shall ensure that foundation-controlled resources are not used to acquire or develop real estate or to build facilities for the institution's use without prior Board approval. The institution shall notify the Board, at the earliest possible date, of any proposed purchase of real estate for such purposes, and in such event should ensure that the foundation coordinates its efforts with those of the institution. Such notification to the Board may be through the institution's chief executive officer in executive session pursuant to Idaho Code 67-2345 (1) (c).

c. Foundation Operating Agreements

Each institution shall enter into a written operating agreement with each recognized foundation that is affiliated with the institution. Operating agreements must be signed by the chairman or president of the foundation's governing board, and by the institution chief executive officer. The operating agreement must be approved by the Board prior to execution and must be re-submitted to the Board every three (3) years, or as otherwise requested by the Board, for review and re-approval. Foundation operating agreements shall establish the operating relationship between the parties, and shall, at a minimum, address the following topics:

i. Institution Resources and Services.

1) Whether, and how, an institution intends to provide contract administrative and/or support staff services to an affiliated foundation. When it is determined that best practices call for an institution employee to serve in a capacity that serves both the institution and an affiliated foundation, then the operating agreement must clearly define the authority and responsibilities of this position within the foundation. Notwithstanding, no employee of an institution who functions in a key administrative or policy making capacity (including, but not limited to, any institution vice-president or equivalent position) shall be permitted to have responsibility or authority for foundation policy making, financial oversight, spending authority, investment decisions, or the supervision of foundation employees. The responsibility of this position within the foundation that is performed by an institution employee in a key administrative or policy making capacity shall be limited to the coordination of institution and affiliated foundation fundraising efforts, and the provision of administrative support to foundation fundraising activities.

2) Whether, and how, an institution intends to provide other resources and services to an affiliated foundation, which are permitted to include:

   a) Access to the institution's financial systems to receive, disburse, and account for funds held (with respect to transactions processed through the institution's financial system, the foundation shall comply with the institution's financial and administrative policies and procedures manuals);

   b) Accounting services, to include cash disbursements and receipts, accounts receivable and payable, bank reconciliation, reporting and analysis, auditing, payroll, and budgeting;

   c) Investment, management, insurance, benefits administration, and similar services; and

   d) Development services, encompassing research, information systems, donor records, communications, and special events.

3) Whether the foundation will be permitted to use any of the institution's facilities and/or equipment, and if so, the details of such arrangements.

4) Whether the institution intends to recover its costs incurred for personnel, use of facilities or equipment, or other services provided to the foundation. If so, then payments for such costs shall be made directly to the institution. No payments shall be made directly from a foundation to institution employees in connection with resources or services provided to a foundation pursuant to this policy.

ii. Management and Operation of Foundations.

1) Guidelines for receiving, depositing, disbursing and accounting for all funds, assets, or liabilities of a foundation, including any disbursements/transfers of funds to an institution from an affiliated foundation. Institution officials into whose department or program foundation funds are transferred shall be informed by the foundation of the restrictions, if any, on such funds and shall be responsible both to account for them in accordance with institution policies and procedures, and to notify the foundation on a timely basis regarding the use of such funds.

2) Procedures with respect to foundation expenditures and financial transactions, which must ensure that no person with signature authority shall be an institution employee in a key administrative or policy making capacity (including, but not limited to, an institution vice-president or equivalent position).

3) The liability insurance coverage the foundation will have in effect to cover its operations and the activities of its directors, officers, and employees.

4) Description of the investment policies to be utilized by the foundation, which shall be conducted in accordance with prudent, sound practice to ensure that gift assets are protected and enhanced, and that a reasonable return is achieved, with due regard for the fiduciary responsibilities of the foundation's governing board. Moreover, such investments must be consistent with the terms of the gift instrument.

5) Procedures that will be utilized to ensure that institution and foundation funds are kept separate.

6) Detailed description of the organization structure of the foundation, which addresses conflict of interest in management of funds and any foundation data.

iii. Foundation Relationships with the Institutions

1) The institution's ability to access foundation books and records.

2) The process by which the institution chief executive officer, or designee, shall interact with the foundation's board regarding the proposed annual operating budget and capital expenditure plan prior to approval by the foundation's governing board.

3) Whether, and how, supplemental compensation from the foundation may be made to institutional employees. Any such payments must have prior Board approval, and shall be paid by the foundations to the institutions, which in turn will make payments to the employee in accordance with normal practice. Employees shall not receive any payments or other benefits directly from the foundations.

iv. Audits and Reporting Requirements.

1) The procedure foundations will utilize for ensuring that regular audits are conducted and reported to the Board. Unless provided for otherwise in the written operating agreement, such audits must be conducted by an independent certified public accountant, who is not a director or officer of the foundation. The independent audit shall be a full scope audit, performed in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.

2) The procedure foundations will use for reporting to the institution chief executive officer the following items:

a) Regular financial audit report;

b) Annual report of transfers made to the institution, summarized by department;

c) Annual report of unrestricted funds received, and of unrestricted funds available for use in that fiscal year;

d) A list of foundation officers, directors, and employees;

e) A list of institution employees for whom the foundation made payments to the institution for supplemental compensation or any other approved purpose during the fiscal year, and the amount and nature of that payment;

f) A list of all state and federal contracts and grants managed by the foundation; and

g) An annual report of the foundation's major activities;

h)An annual report of each real estate purchase or material capital lease, investment, or financing arrangement entered into during the preceding foundation fiscal year for the benefit of the institution; and

i) An annual report of any actual litigation involving the foundation during its fiscal year, as well as legal counsel used by the foundation for any purpose during such year. This report should also discuss any potential or threatened litigation involving the foundation.

v. Conflict of Interest and Code of Ethics and Conduct.

A description of the foundation's conflict of interest policy approved by the foundation's governing board and applicable to all foundation directors, officers, and staff members, and which shall also include a code of ethics and conduct. Such policy must assure that transactions involving the foundation and the personal or business affairs of a trustee, director, officer, or staff member should be approved in advance by the foundation's governing board. In addition, such policy must provide that directors, officers, and staff members of a foundation disqualify themselves from making, participating, or influencing a decision in which they have or would have a financial interest. Finally, such policy must assure that no director, trustee, officer, or staff member of a foundation shall accept from any source any material gift or gratuity in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) that is offered, or reasonably appears to be offered, because of the position held with the foundation; nor should an offer of a prohibited gift or gratuity be extended by such an individual on a similar basis.

3. Foundations for Other Agencies

Other agencies under the Board's jurisdiction may establish foundations to accept gifts made for the benefit of the agencies' operating purposes. These agencies are subject to the same policies as the institutional foundations. However, agency foundations with annual revenues less than $100,000 are not required to obtain an independent audit. These agencies must instead submit an annual report to the Board of gifts received and the disposition of such gifts.

4. Idaho Educational Public Broadcasting System Foundations and Friends Groups

Foundations and Friends groups that exist for the benefit of the Idaho Educational Public Broadcasting System (IEPBS) are required by Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations to have specific spending authority designated by the Board. Audits of the IEPBS Foundation and Friends groups will be conducted by the State Legislative Auditor.

a. By action of the Board, the Idaho Educational Public Broadcasting System Foundation, Inc., has been designated to accept gifts made for the benefit of public television in the state of Idaho. The Foundation will conduct its activities in a manner consistent with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations and the FCC license held by the Board.

b. By action of the Board, the Friends of Channel 4, Inc., has been designated to accept gifts made for the Benefit of KAID TV, Channel 4. The Friends of Channel 4, Inc., will conduct its activities in a manner consistent with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations and the FCC license held by the Board.

c. By action of the Board, the Friends of Channel 10, Inc., has been designated to accept gifts made for the benefit of KISU TV, Channel 10. The Friends of Channel 10, Inc., will conduct its activities in a manner consistent with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations and the FCC license held by the Board.

d. By action of the Board, the Friends of KUID, Inc., has been designated to accept gifts made for the benefit of KUID TV, Channel 12. The Friends of Channel 12, Inc., will conduct its activities in a manner consistent with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) regulations and the FCC license held by the Board.

5. Acceptance of Direct Gifts

Notwithstanding the Board's desire to encourage the solicitation and acceptance of gifts through affiliated foundations, the Board may accept donations of gifts, legacies, and devises (hereinafter "gifts") of real and personal property on behalf of the state of Idaho that are made directly to the Board or to an institution or agency under its governance. Gifts worth more than $250,000 must be reported to and approved by the executive director of the Board before such gift may be expended or otherwise used by the institution or agency. Gifts worth more than $500,000 must be approved by the Board. The chief executive officer of any institution or agency is authorized to receive, on behalf of the Board, gifts that do not require prior approval by the executive director or the Board and that are of a routine nature. This provision does not apply to transfers of gifts to an institution or agency from an affiliated foundation (such transfers shall be in accordance with the written operating agreement between the institution or agency and an affiliated foundation, as described more fully herein).

6. Affiliated Research Foundations and Technology Transfer Organization for Institutions of Higher Education

The Board wishes to encourage research and technology transfer and the corresponding economic development potential for the state of Idaho. The Board acknowledges that independent, affiliated foundations operating to support an institution's research and technology transfer efforts can be useful tools to provide institutions with avenues for engagement with the private sector as well as with public and private entities interested in funding research, funding technology transfer and promoting spin-off enterprises arising from institutional intellectual property and technology. Such affiliated foundations should operate substantially within the framework for philanthropic affiliated foundations set out in paragraph 1 and 2 of this policy, with such variances as are reasonable based on the nature of the anticipated function of the specific foundation.

a. The public college and universities may affiliate with non-profit entities which generally meet the criteria set forth in paragraph 2.b. of this policy and which operate for the purpose of supporting the research and technology transfer efforts of one or more of the institutions.

b. Research and Technology Transfer Foundation Operating Agreements. The requirement of a foundation operating agreement under paragraph 2.c. of this policy shall also apply to foundations supporting research and technology transfer. Institutions proposing to affiliate with a particular foundation may propose reasonable variances from specific requirements under paragraph 2.c. based upon the anticipated function of the foundation, provided that any such variances are specifically identified by the institution in materials presented to the Board when requesting approval of the foundation.

FY 2016 Loaned Employee Agreement Template

AGREEMENT FOR LOANED EMPLOYEE
UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO/UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

THIS AGREEMENT is entered into by and between the UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, a public corporation, state educational institution, and a body politic and corporate organized and existing under the Constitution and laws of the state of Idaho ("University"), and THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC. a nonprofit corporation ("UIF") and is effective the xx day of June, 2015.

BACKGROUND

A. UIF has asked University to make certain staff members available to fulfill various staffing requirements for UIF's day-to-day operations.

B. University has agreed to loan its employee, Robert Weis ("Loaned Employee"), to UIF to act in the capacity of Executive Director, University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. for UIF pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

AGREEMENT

The parties agree as follows:

1. Relationship between Loaned Employee and University.

a. Status. At all times under this Agreement, Loaned Employee shall be an exempt, fiscal year employee of the University subject to all applicable policies and procedures of the Regents and the University. UIF shall have control over all aspects of Loaned Employee's day to day work, and Loaned Employee shall devote 100% of his or her working time to performing services for UIF. Only University may terminate the employment of Loaned Employee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, UIF may discipline the Loaned Employee for cause, which may include taking action up to and including termination of this Agreement, such discipline and determination of cause to be in accordance with UIF policies and procedures and applicable law. The parties acknowledge that University and Loaned Employee have agreed and acknowledged that Loaned Employee's contract with the University is contingent upon continuation of this Agreement and in the event this Agreement is terminated Loaned Employee's contract with the University will also terminate. Loaned Employee will be considered a loaned employee under the worker's compensation law of the state of Idaho.

b. Compensation. University shall pay Loaned Employee a fiscal year salary rate of $ 000 payable on the regular bi-weekly paydays of the University, and subject to adjustment in accordance with the University's regular policies and procedures. Loaned Employee will be entitled to University benefits to the same extent and on the same terms as other full-time University employees of her/his classification. UIF shall pay University for this cost as provided in Section 3 below.

c. Travel Expenses. University shall reimburse directly to Loaned Employee costs incurred for UIF travel that is approved in advance by the UIF or the University. UIF shall pay University for this cost as provided in Section 3 below.

d. No Prohibition on Leasing Employee to UIF. University represents and warrants to UIF that there is no agreement with Loaned Employee nor any University policy or procedure (including, without limitation, any agreement, policy, or rule of the Idaho State Board of Education, the Regents or the University) that prohibits the University from leasing Loaned Employee to UIF pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. University further represents and warrants that Loaned Employee is eligible for benefits as a full-time leased employee under the term of all applicable University benefit plans. University shall indemnify, defend, and hold UIF harmless from any breach of the foregoing representations.

2. Relationship between UIF and Loaned Employee.

a. Supervision. Loaned Employee will work full time under the supervision and direction of the UIF Board of Directors. Loaned Employee will report directly to UIF President or her/his designee, who shall determine her/his duties to perform work for UIF.

b. Performance Evaluations. UIF will evaluate the performance of Loaned Employee on an annual basis at a time consistent with the annual reviews of exempt employees at the University. UIF will provide University with a copy of any written documentation regarding the evaluation within fourteen (14) days after the evaluation is complete.

3. Relationship between UIF and University.

a. Lease of Loaned Employee. During the term of this Agreement, so long as Loaned Employee is employed by University, University shall make available to UIF the full time services of Loaned Employee, subject to University's continued employment of Loaned Employee. The furnishing of Loaned Employee shall not be considered a professional service of the University to UIF, nor shall University be considered a contractor of UIF.

b. University to Provide Salary and Benefits. As indicated above, University shall provide Loaned Employee with a fiscal year salary rate of $000 and other University benefits to the same extent and on the same terms as other full-time University employees of her/his classification. University shall be responsible for all facets of payroll and benefits administration with respect to Loaned Employee, including, without limitation, withholding and payment of payroll taxes, unemployment compensation, worker's compensation coverage, social security, and providing any fringe and welfare benefit programs for Loaned Employee. University shall indemnify, defend, and hold UIF harmless for the payment of all items set forth in this Section 3(b) and any claims or losses resulting from the administration of any employee benefits pursuant to any applicable law, including without limitation the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, and the Internal Revenue Code.

c. Reimbursement of Salary and Benefits by UIF. UIF will reimburse University for one hundred percent (100%) of the University's total cost of Loaned Employee's salary and benefits and any reimbursable costs such as travel expenses. Such costs will be billed annually and paid to the University in one annual installment. University shall maintain accurate books and account records reflecting the actual cost of all items of direct cost for which payment is sought under this Agreement. At all reasonable times, UIF shall have the right to inspect and copy said books and records, which the University agrees to retain for a minimum period of five (5) years following the termination of this Agreement.

d. Review of Loaned Employee's Status/Discipline/Termination for Cause. Loaned Employee shall at all times remain an employee of University. Accordingly, University shall have the power to evaluate, discipline, and terminate Loaned Employee in its discretion and in accordance with any of its policies, procedures, or agreements between University and Employee. As provided above, UIF will conduct an annual review of Loaned Employee. UIF will provide a copy of any documents related to its evaluation to the University no later than fourteen (14) days after the evaluation is completed. Based on its annual review of Loaned Employee's performance or any interim review or concerns regarding Loaned Employee's performance, UIF may discipline the Loaned Employee for cause, which may include taking action up to and including termination of this Agreement, such discipline and determination of cause to be in accordance with UIF policies and procedures and applicable law. If UIF makes such a determination, UIF shall provide notice to the University that it will no longer lease the services of Loaned Employee effective as of the date specified in the notice with a reasonable amount of detail as to the reason UIF is discontinuing the services of Loaned Employee.

e. Indemnification by UIF for Acts of Loaned Employee. University shall have no liability to UIF for loss or damage directly resulting from the fault, negligence, misconduct, or other acts of the Loaned Employee while Loaned Employee is performing activities on behalf of or at the direction of UIF. UIF therefore agrees to release, defend, indemnify and hold harmless the state of Idaho, University, its governing board, officers, employees, and agents, from and against any and all claims, demands, losses, damages, costs, expenses, and liabilities, for injuries (including death) to persons and for damages to property (including damage to property of UIF or others) arising out of or in connection with the activities of the Loaned Employee performed on behalf of or at the direction of UIF. Notwithstanding the foregoing, both parties may maintain any liability insurance coverage as it shall deem appropriate with respect to liabilities arising out of the acts or omissions of Loaned Employee.

f. Compliance With Employment Discrimination Laws.

1) UIF agrees to comply with all laws regarding employment discrimination, including, without limitation, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Idaho Human Rights Act with respect to Loaned Employee as if Loaned Employee were an employee of UIF. UIF shall notify University within five (5) days of any claim by Loaned Employee alleging a violation of any laws relating to employment discrimination. UIF shall indemnify, defend, and hold University harmless from any claims or losses resulting from UIF's failure to company with any applicable employment discrimination laws.

2) University agrees to comply with all laws regarding employment discrimination, including, without limitation, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Idaho Human Rights Act with respect to Loaned Employee. University shall notify UIF within five (5) days of any claim by Loaned Employee alleging a violation of any laws relating to employment discrimination. University shall indemnify, defend, and hold UIF harmless from any claims or losses resulting from University's failure to comply with any applicable employment discrimination laws.

4. General Terms

a. Term, Termination. The term that University shall lease Loaned Employee to UIF shall extend to June xx, 2016, which is the term of employment specified in Loaned Employee's contract as an exempt employee of the University, unless it is terminated earlier upon the occurrence of any of the following:

1) Notice to University Due to Loaned Employee Performance Problems. Pursuant to Section 3(d) above, UIF may discipline Loaned Employee by taking action up to and including termination of this Agreement for cause based on its annual review of Loaned Employee's performance or any interim review or concerns regarding Loaned Employee's performance. If UIF makes such a determination, UIF shall provide notice to the University that it will no longer lease the services of Loaned Employee effective as of the date specified in the notice with a reasonable amount of detail as to the reason UIF is discontinuing the services of Loaned Employee.

2) Termination in the Event of Default. Either party may terminate the lease of Loaned Employee by University to UIF upon the material default of the other's performance provided that the non-defaulting party first provides the other with at least ten (10) days' notice of the default and an opportunity to cure such default within the notice period.

3) Discontinued Employment of Loaned Employee by University. The lease of Loaned Employee to UIF shall automatically terminate if Loaned Employee is no longer an employee of University for any reason.

The parties may extend the term of this Agreement at any time upon mutual agreement for a new term that is equal to the term of the Loaned Employee's renewed contract with the University. The UIF is under no obligation to extend the term of this Agreement for a new term, however, (in order to be consistent with University polices which call for at least 60 days' notice if the University will not renew the Loaned Employee's employment agreement) in the event the UIF determines that it will not agree to an extension of the term of this Agreement the UIF will give University notice of its intention not to extend the term of this Agreement at least 60 days prior to the expiration of the term of this Agreement. Failure to give the notice required hereunder shall NOT effect a renewal of the term of this Agreement, rather it will only extend the term of this Agreement long enough for 60 days' notice to be given.

b. No Third Party Beneficiaries. The parties acknowledge that there are no intended third party beneficiaries of this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, this Agreement shall not be construed as a promise of continuing employment to Loaned Employee, who remains subject to all applicable Regents and University policies, including but not limited to policies regarding nonrenewal of fixed term appointments and termination or discipline.

c. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of the state of Idaho as an agreement to be performed within the state of Idaho. The venue for any legal action under this Agreement shall be in Latah County.

d. Notice. Any notice under this Agreement shall be in writing and be delivered in person or by public or private courier service (including U.S. Postal Service Express Mail) or certified mail with return receipt requested or by facsimile. All notices shall be addressed to the parties at the following addresses or at such other addresses as the parties may from time to time direct in writing:

Notice shall be deemed given on its date of mailing, faxing, or upon written acknowledgment of its receipt by personal delivery, whichever shall be earlier.

e. Waiver. Waiver by either party of any breach of any term, covenant or condition herein contained shall not be deemed to be a waiver of such term, covenant or condition, or any subsequent breach of the same or any other term, covenant or condition herein contained.

f. Attorney's Fees. In the event an action is brought to enforce any of the terms, covenants or conditions of this Agreement, or in the event this Agreement is placed with an attorney for collection or enforcement, the successful party to such an action or collection shall be entitled to recover from the losing party a reasonable attorney's fee, together with such other costs as may be authorized by law.

g. Assignment. Neither party shall assign this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other.

h. Amendments. This Agreement may not be modified or amended except by an agreement in writing signed by both of the parties.

i. Acknowledgment by Employee. This Agreement shall not be effective until it is executed by University and UIF and acknowledged by Loaned Employee pursuant to the signature blocks below.

Acknowledgment by Loaned Employee:

Loaned Employee, by his or her signature below, acknowledges the terms of this Agreement between University and UIF and agrees that he or she is an employee of the University that is loaned to UIF pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Loaned Employee further acknowledges that he or she is a 'loaned employee' pursuant to all state workman's compensation laws. Accordingly, Loaned Employee acknowledges and agrees that in the event of any work-related injury that is covered by workman's compensation insurance held for the benefit of Loaned Employee by University, Loaned Employee will be precluded from recovering damages from UIF for such injury in accordance with applicable state workman's compensation laws.

2011-0321 Signed Service Agreement

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO AND UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

SERVICE AGREEMENT

This Service Agreement ("Agreement") made this 21st day of March, 2011 between the University of Idaho ("University") and the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc., an Idaho nonprofit corporation ("Foundation").

RECITALS

A. The University and the Foundation are parties to that certain Operating Agreement dated August 31, 2009 (the "Operating Agreement.")

B. The Operating Agreement states that the University will provide certain services to the Foundation pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

AGREEMENT

In consideration of the mutual commitments contained herein, and for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

I. UNIVERSITY OBLIGATIONS TO PROVIDE SERVICES/FACILITIES TO FOUNDATION

A. Office Space and Furnishings. The University grants to the Foundation continued permission to use current office space located in Moscow, Idaho at Mary Forney Hall and in the Boise GAR building located at 714 W. State Street, Boise, Idaho, and the office furnishings, equipment, computers and telephone systems at such locations, as well as such additional space, furnishings and equipment as may be determined by the parties from time to time to be relevant and necessary to the business and purpose of the Foundation. The University agrees to provide utilities, custodial services, building and grounds maintenance and repairs, and property insurance on said office space in the same fashion as provided for similar University facilities and equipment.

B. Technology Support. The University will provide the Foundation with access to the Banner administrative computing system and other computer systems, and access to such University information as is relevant and necessary to the business and purpose of the Foundation. The University will provide the Foundation with technology support for the computing systems and the computers and other technology equipment provided the Foundation, all in the same fashion as provided for similar University operations.

C. Operational Services. The University will provide the Foundation with access to certain operational University services, including human resources, accounts payable, payroll, printing and design, campus mail, purchasing services, and related services as are relevant and necessary to the business and purpose of the Foundation, all in the same fashion as provided for similar University operations.

D. Constituent Records. On a regular basis, the University will transfer to the Foundation, or make available through the University electronic data systems, such data and constituent records, to include demographic and relationship data, as is necessary for the Foundation in carrying out its mission. The University shall retain for its own purposes data and records needed to fulfill its mission.

E. Access to Information. In connection with carrying out the University's obligations set forth above, the Foundation will provide the following information to University employees who are approved by the University President, a Vice President, or a Dean and have signed the Foundation's Confidentiality Policy attached as Exhibit A:

1. Access to and reports from the Foundation's donor records; and,

2. Financial information about the status of donor funds and fund raising projects.

F. Additional Staff Services. In addition to employees who are loaned to the Foundation by the University pursuant to the terms of any written loaned employee agreements, the University will provide staffing services as agreed to by the parties and requested by the Foundation.

The University and the Foundation acknowledge that they are in a transition period in implementing separate University and Foundation operations under the policies of the State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho. During the term of this Agreement, the Parties will continue to examine the efficacy of the operations under the structure set out in this Agreement and determine needed changes, including possible loaning of additional employees of the University to the Foundation to perform some or all of the service functions to be performed by University personnel hereunder. If any or all of these employees shall become loaned employees of the University to the Foundation, the Foundation shall reimburse the University pursuant to the terms of the applicable loaned employee agreement. The other employees shall at all times remain the employees of the University, and not the Foundation, and the University shall have the sole and exclusive control over the terms and status of their employment.

G. Accounting of Foundation Expenses. The University will maintain a set of accounts in its financial system to facilitate payroll, travel, purchasing card transactions, and internal campus charges for the Foundation to be fully reimbursed by the Foundation no less often than annually with only minimal balances at June 30 each year.

II. FOUNDATION OBLIGATIONS TO PROVIDE SERVICES/FACILITIES TO UNIVERSITY

A. The Foundation will provide asset management and investment services to the University to optimize resources available to the University from private gifts and endowments managed by the Foundation. The Foundation will be paid by a series of mechanisms which have been agreed upon by the University and the Foundation as outlined in the Gift Assessment and Fees Policy adopted by the Foundation on May 1, 2007.

B. The Foundation may provide to the University additional support for fundraising activities or other initiatives as requested by the University President.

III. PAYMENT BY FOUNDATION TO UNIVERSITY. In consideration of the services and facilities provided by the University to the Foundation pursuant to this Agreement, the Foundation shall pay the following:

A. Fiscal Year 2011: For the University's fiscal year 2011 the parties have negotiated an acceptable budget for office space and furnishings (I.A. above), technology support (I.B. above), operational services (I.C. above) and additional staff services (I.F. above) in the total amount of $289,494.

B. Fiscal Year 2012 and beyond: Prior to the end of fiscal year 2011, the parties will agree upon a budget for fiscal year 2012 for the items described in III. A. above, based on the operational results of fiscal year 2011 and the anticipated needs of the Foundation for fiscal year 2012. This budget will be reduced to writing and set out the amounts and timing for payment of the budgeted amounts by the Foundation to the University. This process will be repeated for each ensuing fiscal year during the term of this Agreement. In the event the parties are unable to agree upon a budget for any fiscal year, the budget will be resolved using the dispute resolution procedure under the Operating Agreement (Article VIII Section C. thereof).

C. Compensation for employees loaned to the Foundation: Shall be as set forth in the terms of any loaned employee agreement between the parties.

IV. RELATIONSHIP OF PARTIES/CONFIDENTIALITY

A. Separate Status. In making this Agreement, the parties acknowledge that they are separate and distinct operating entities. The University is a state university, governed by the Regents of the University of Idaho. The Foundation is a nonprofit corporation, governed by its Board of Directors, and recognized as a tax-exempt entity under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation's mission includes the management and distribution of private support to enhance the growth and development of the University. At all times and for all purposes of this Agreement, the University and the Foundation shall each act in an independent capacity and not as an agent or representative of the other.

B. Confidentiality. All obligations under this Agreement shall be carried out in accordance with the following: Pursuant to the terms of the Operating Agreement, the University hereby agrees to the terms of the Foundation's Confidentiality Policy and shall instruct its agents and employees that all confidential information of the Foundation shall be protected from disclosure. Except as specifically authorized under the Operating Agreement or the Confidentiality Policy, the University's access to any Foundation information shall not include any donor specific data of the Foundation such that would provide individually identifiable information about donors or their donations to the Foundation. The Foundation's donor database and all other data, materials and information of the Foundation and the University pertaining to past, current or prospective donors, are proprietary to the Foundation and the University respectively and constitute confidential information and trade secrets. The Foundation and University shall take the steps necessary to monitor and control access to the donor database and to protect the security of computer servers and software relevant to the database, in each case to the extent that these systems are in their respective control.

V. MISCELLANEOUS

A. Changes, additions, amendments, or modifications to this Agreement must be agreed to by both parties in writing prior to implementation.

B. The term of this Agreement shall begin on the date hereof and shall continue thereafter with the following exceptions:

1. In the event either party serves notice to the other in writing of its decision to terminate the provisions of this Service Agreement, this Agreement shall terminate no later than 90 (ninety) days from the date of notice.

2. In the event the Operating Agreement dated August 31, 2009, between the parties terminates, this Service Agreement will terminate on the same date.

C. Upon termination of the provisions of this Agreement, all rights and obligations hereunder shall forthwith terminate, except for rights and obligations accrued prior to termination in respect of payment for support.

D. In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Agreement and the Operating Agreement, the terms of the Operating Agreement shall be controlling, and the terms of this Agreement shall be interpreted to comply with the Operating Agreement.

E. Any disputes arising under this Agreement shall be resolved in accordance with Article VIII, Section C of the Operating Agreement.

F. The University and the Foundation each agree to indemnify, defend and hold the other party, their officers, directors, agents and employees harmless from and against any and all losses, liabilities, and claims, including reasonable attorney's fees arising out of or resulting from the willful act, fault, omission, or negligence of the party, its employees, contractors, or agents in performing its obligations under this Agreement. This indemnification shall include, but not be limited to, any and all claims arising from an employee of one party who is working for the benefit of the other party. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to extend to the University's liability beyond the limits of the Idaho Tort Claims Act, Idaho Code Sections 6-901 et seq.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused this Agreement to be executed by their duly authorized officers as of the date first above written.

Confidentiality Policy
April 30, 2010

The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc., an Idaho nonprofit corporation (the Foundation), owns certain confidential and proprietary information. This information includes, without limitation, the following:

1. Certain biographic and gift/pledge information concerning past, current, and prospective donors, alumni, and friends of the Foundation, including without limitation their identities, donor histories, personal or corporate financial information, salaries and other income, family information, asset holdings, and any other personal information;
2. Business plans, fund-raising plans, development plans;
3. Information concerning Foundation employees (including employees that are loaned from the University), such as work history, compensation, and personnel files;
4. Financial information concerning the Foundation's business, including cost information, pricing, profits, accounting information, investment returns; and
5. Formulas, patterns, compilations, programs, computer programs, devices, methods, techniques, or processes used by the Foundation.

These records are the proprietary and confidential information of the Foundation. They are also the "trade secrets" of the Foundation as defined by applicable trade secret laws. The information in these records has significant economic value to the Foundation and would have value to third parties if known to them. In addition, confidentiality is often a factor in a donor's decision to make a gift to the Foundation. These records may exist in either or both written or electronic form.

These records, which contain highly sensitive information, may be maintained from time to time on the University's alumni/donor database (BANNER) and accounting database (BANNER) or in other forms and locations owned or controlled by the Foundation.

Please note that because it is a private entity, the Foundation is not subject to state public records and public meetings laws which may apply to the University of Idaho.

The Foundation requires its employees, loaned employees, volunteers, and others accessing the Foundation's information to keep it confidential. As an authorized recipient of the Foundation's confidential information defined above, the Foundation requires your compliance with the Foundation's Policy on Confidentiality which is as follows:

1. You will keep the data confidential at all times, regardless of whether you are a current or former employee or other agent of the Foundation and/or the University.
2. You will use the data only for legitimate Foundation business for which you are explicitly authorized.
3. You will not exhibit or divulge the contents for any record (written or electronic) to any person except in the conduct of your work assignment.
4. You will not erase or modify a data record or data entry from any record, report or file except in the performance of your assigned duties.
5. You will report security and privacy violations.

6. You understand that BANNER's user ID's and associated passwords are highly confidential and are not to be shared, communicated, or made accessible to anyone.
7. Any requests by the media for donor information or any other information concerning the Foundation should be forwarded to the Foundation's Executive Director immediately upon receipt.
8. Sensitive information such as a donor's will, trust instrument, or financial information should not be copied or provided to University personnel unless authorized by the donor. To the extent possible, such information should be maintained as a single copy in the files at the Foundation Financial Office.
9. When assisting in the completion of a gift agreement to be signed by a donor, staff should be mindful of the sensitive nature of the information. Personnel should not provide tax, legal or accounting advice to donors.

By signing your name below, you acknowledge receipt of this policy and agree to comply with the terms for use outlined within.

Committee: Investment Committee

BACKGROUND:

On September 17, 1970, The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. (Foundation) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Idaho as a non-profit organization exempt from Federal tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation is governed by a Board of Directors. The Foundation's sole purpose is to support the University of Idaho (University) by the means at its disposal with an emphasis on soliciting financial support for the University and managing and investing the securities, monies and real and personal property it receives from such sources, and to expend its resources, beyond that required to cover the costs of its operation, to and for the benefit of the University.

The University is governed by the Regents of The University of Idaho (Regents) and is a constitutional corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the Constitution of the State of Idaho. The University is exempt from Federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as an educational organization.

The Consolidated Investment Trust (CIT) was established by the Regents in July 1959, when the assets of 25 individual endowments having a combined market value of $441,460 were pooled for investment purposes only and in return were issued unit participation shares in an investment account called the CIT. The purpose for creating the CIT was to provide a well-managed, diversified investment vehicle owned entirely by endowments.

Effective July 1, 1975, the Regents transferred the assets of the CIT to the Foundation. Upon accepting the CIT, the Foundation Board of Directors established an Investment Committee and charged it with the responsibility of monitoring and guiding the CIT's investment policy.

Article I. University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. Investment Policy

INTRODUCTION: The Foundation Investment Committee developed this policy through careful study and consideration of the returns and risks associated with alternative investment strategies in relation to the current and projected income needs of University and Foundation activities which are supported by the endowments. The policy provides a structure within which the funds may be managed to achieve the long term investment and financial objectives of all pooled endowment funds. The Foundation is committed to ensuring the assets of the pooled endowment funds are fully diversified and are managed efficiently and prudently by qualified investment personnel.

Because of the perpetual nature of endowments, decisions with regard to investment management and performance of all pooled endowment funds must focus on longer-term goals and objectives which safeguard the purchasing power of the endowment principal and provide a relatively predictable and growing stream of annual distributions which support the education, research, and service missions of the University.

OBJECTIVES: The specific objectives of all pooled endowment fund investments are to:

1. Provide a regular and reliable source of funding to meet the goals and objectives of the endowments which own pooled endowment fund unit participation shares,

2. target a longer-term asset allocation that should reasonably provide an expected total rate of return of five percent (5%) greater than the rate of inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), net of fees, with a targeted annualized standard deviation similar to a simple blend of 70% global stocks (MSCI All Country World Index, net)/30% Bonds (Barclays Aggregate) portfolio.

3. Maintain or increase the purchasing power of the corpus after withdrawals are taken, and

4. Keep in perspective the longer-term (ten years or longer) investment objectives when evaluating interim fluctuations. It is recognized that the 5.0% real return objective is challenging and may be difficult to attain in every ten-year period, but the Fund will seek to achieve the objective over a series of ten-year periods. It is also recognized that given the static nature of this objective, it is not directly related to market performance; this reinforces the view that success or failure in achieving this objective should be evaluated in the context of the prevailing market environment and over the long term.

SPENDING POLICY: An endowment spending policy determines how the endowment payout amount will be calculated, including how much of the total return will be distributed to support the purposes of the endowment and how much will be reinvested. It is the intent of the Investment Committee to achieve a balance between the endowment growth objectives and stability in distribution. The Investment Committee will review spending assumptions annually for the purpose of determining changes, if any, may consider past spending and asset allocation into its current spending decision. The current spending policy is attached hereto as Appendix A.

ASSET ALLOCATION POLICY: The Committee recognizes that the strategic allocation of Portfolio assets across broadly defined financial categories and subcategories with varying degrees of risk, return, and return correlation will be the most significant determinant of long-term investment returns and Portfolio asset value stability.

1. The Committee expects that actual returns and return volatility will vary from expectations and return objectives across shorter periods of time. The Investment Committee retains flexibility to make periodic changes to the asset allocation. At least annually the Investment Committee will review the target allocations and allowable ranges. The Investment Committee expects to make major changes only in the event of material changes to the CIT, to the assumptions underlying CIT spending policies, and/or to the capital markets and asset classes in which the Portfolio invests.

2. The asset allocation will start with four major categories: 1) Equity (including public equity and private investments), 2) Debt, 3) Alternatives (e.g., commodities or hedge funds) and 4) Cash. The expected role of equity and alternative investments will be to reflect the longer-term real growth of Portfolio assets, while the role of debt and cash investments will be to reduce volatility at the total portfolio level, and provide relatively stable or appreciating asset values to support near-term liquidity needs in the event of sudden or protracted declines in equity and alternative investments.

The longer-term strategic asset allocation guidelines will be determined by the Investment Committee including: 1) the selection of asset categories, i.e., domestic and international debt and equity, real estate, private equity, other alternative investments and cash and/or cash equivalents; and 2) the target allocation percentage of the total portfolio and an allowable range for each asset category. Once the asset allocation has been determined by the Investment Committee, the selection of individual investments within each class is the responsibility of the investment managers. The asset allocation will be reviewed at least annually by the Investment Committee and reported to the Foundation Board. The current asset allocation policy is attached hereto as Appendix B.

Article II. Investment Management

Foundation Board of Directors: With regard to investment policy, the board is responsible for establishing the duties of the Investment Committee and for approving investment policies based on recommendations by the Investment Committee.

Investment Committee: The Investment Committee is responsible for managing the investment process in a fiscally responsible and prudent manner while implementing strategies designed to achieve the investment objectives listed above. The Investment Committee shall establish strategies to implement the approved Investment Policy including selection of acceptable asset classes, definition of target allocations and allowable ranges in each asset class and by individual investment managers and investment performance expectations.

The Investment Committee is a standing committee of the Foundation. It generally meets three or four times a year with the staff from the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. Membership of the Investment Committee shall be structured to assure investment acumen, continuity and opportunities for service.

The Investment Committee shall consist of a minimum of seven voting members including the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Foundation. The Director of Finance of the Foundation, the Executive Director of the Foundation, and a University of Idaho College Dean shall be included as non-voting members. Additional committee members shall be appointed by the Foundation's Chairman and approved by the Foundation Board of Directors. The chairman of the committee shall be appointed by the Foundation's Chairman and approved by the Foundation Board of Directors.

The primary responsibility of the Investment Committee is to oversee and provide guidance for the investment of Foundation assets. Its major responsibilities are:

1. Recommending investment goals and objectives to the Board of Directors.
2. Establishing investment policy (asset allocation, spending policy, and level of risk).
3. Selecting and hiring investment managers and reviewing their performance.
4. Establishing performance measurement criteria for investment managers and the overall portfolio.
5. Terminating investment managers.
6. Selecting, hiring and terminating investment advisory consultants.

The Chair of the Investment Committee may periodically convene Subcommittee calls in advance of full Committee meetings to set agenda priorities and vet investment advisor recommendations before they are presented to the full Committee at regular meetings. Subcommittee meetings can also be called to review major market and portfolio changes between Committee meetings, as appropriate.

The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. office is responsible for the day-to-day stewardship of all funds and/or finances of the Foundation.

The Foundation has the responsibility to comply with: applicable state and federal laws and regulations; donor requirement; Regents' regulations and requirements; University of Idaho policies and procedures; generally accepted accounting and financial management principles; the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and the Foundation's by-laws.

Specifically with regard to the investment responsibilities, the Foundation's Director of Finance will oversee the administration and support of those functions essential to sound financial management of all Foundation funds, including pooled endowment funds, such as fiscal planning, budgeting, receipting and disbursing of funds, and investing/managing assets to include custodial and accounting functions. Further, the Investment Subcommittee delegates authority to the Director of Finance, without a Committee vote, for rebalancing transactions among existing CIT managers, as follows:

1. Should market movements cause any asset class to fall outside the allowable range listed in the Asset Allocation Policy (Appendix B) as of any quarter-end, the Director of Finance shall instruct the Foundation's Financial team to implement such rebalancing transactions among existing CIT managers to bring said asset class back into compliance with the allowable range within one month following quarter-end.

2. New contributions to the CIT should be applied to, and payments by the CIT withdrawn from, asset classes in such a way as to bring the CIT asset allocation closer to the policy targets set forth in Appendix B. Sourcing of cash for spending distributions may be effected by either foregoing the reinvestment of interest/dividends or by partial redemptions from funds.

3. No advance written notice to the Committee shall be required for the rebalancing transactions enumerated above, but the Foundation's Financial team shall report such rebalancing transactions to the Committee on at least a quarterly basis.

4. The Committee reserves the right to amend this protocol or rescind this authority delegated to the Director of Finance at any time for any reason.

The Foundation Board of Directors shall authorize specific individual(s) to endorse securities/stock or bond powers for sale, transfer, merger or other lawful purposes and to open or close brokerage accounts and accounts with commercial banks, as necessary to implement investment decisions and transact business in the name of and on behalf of the Foundation.

The Foundation's Financial team will, under the direction of the Investment Committee, provide and/or arrange for the following services: implementing manager transactions approved by the Investment Committee in an expeditious manner; conducting selection processes for investment management; review, assess, and present to the Investment Committee information about investment performance; analyze and present discussion agendas regarding modifications to the investment policy, especially the asset allocation policy and spending policy; negotiate the management fee structure; and provide desired accounting and reporting to the Investment Committee and Foundation Board of Directors.

Investment Managers: The pooled endowment funds will be managed by qualified investment management personnel/investment management organizations. The investment managers have discretion, within the guidelines set forth in this investment policy statement and any additional guidelines provided each manager, to manage the assets in each portfolio to best achieve the investment objectives established by the Investment Committee. The investment managers shall be responsible for implementing security selection and the timing of purchases and sales within the customized investment guidelines set forth in their Investment Management Agreement or Fund Documents.

Investment Managers – General Guidelines: These guidelines shall apply to all investments and investment managers, unless addressed otherwise by the Investment Committee in Investment Management Agreement (IMA) or Fund Documents.

1. All managers shall have discretion to invest in cash reserves; however, managers will be evaluated on total funds investment performance.

2. Mutual funds and other pooled asset portfolios are acceptable investment vehicles provided they conform to all other requirements and restrictions.

3. Public equity holdings shall be limited to readily marketable securities of corporations that are constituents of the MSCI All Country World Investable Market Index. Preferred and convertible preferred stocks may be held as allowed in the respective IMA or Fund prospectus. Publicly traded Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) shares may be held and are considered part of the allocation to stocks.

4. Equity and debt managers holding non-U.S. dollar denominated securities are permitted to employ currency hedging strategies.

5. Debt investments shall be marketable securities which may include, but not necessarily be limited to U.S. Treasury, federal agencies and U.S. Government guaranteed obligations, sovereign debt, and domestic and foreign corporate issues, mortgage pass-through and collateralized debt obligations (ABS). The average overall rating of the debt investments will be at least "Baa/BBB" as measured by a nationally recognized rating agency. In cases where the yield spread adequately compensates for additional risk, Baa or BBB and below and non-rated securities may be purchased. However, no more than 30% of the holdings shall be in securities whose credit rating is less than Baa- or BBB-.

6. Cash equivalent reserves shall consist of cash instruments having a quality rating by at least one rating agency of A-2, P-2 or higher, maturing in 360 days or less.

7. Financial options and futures, currency forwards and contracts and other derivative securities may be employed in defensive and hedge strategies undertaken to preserve principal.

8. Unless specifically authorized in the IMA or Fund documents an investment manager shall not use derivatives to increase portfolio risk above the level that could be achieved in the portfolio using only traditional investment securities. Moreover, an investment manager will not use derivatives to acquire exposure to changes in the value of assets or indexes that, by themselves, would not be purchased for the portfolio.

DIVERSIFICATION: Diversification across and between assets classes is the primary means the Investment Committee expects to create an investment portfolio that can withstand the expected capital market volatility. Consistent with the desire for reduced volatility, the diversification policy is based on the assumption that the volatility of the combined equity portfolios will be similar to that of the overall equity market. Debt portfolio durations may vary from the larger debt market as the Investment Committee makes the determination to increase or reduce the level of interest rate exposure. Consequently, the total portfolio will be constructed and maintained to provide prudent diversification with regard to the concentration of holding in individual issue, investment manager and asset class as outlined in the following guidelines.

1. Not more than 5% of the total equity portfolio valued at market may be invested in the common stock of any one corporation.

2. Debt securities of any one issuer shall not exceed 5% of the market value of the total bond portfolio at the time of the purchase (except U.S. Treasury or other federal agency issues).

3. With the exception of passively managed portfolios, not more than 20% of the total portfolio may be invested in any one investment fund or pool.

4. With the exception of passively managed portfolios, not more than 30% of the total portfolio may be invested with any one investment manager regardless of the number of funds with that manager.

Voting of Proxies: The Investment Managers shall vote shareholder proxy ballots.
Execution of Security Trades: The Investment Committee expects the purchase and sale of securities by investment managers to be made in a manner designed to receive the combination of best price and execution.

Article III. Monitoring and Evaluation:

Overall Portfolio: This will entail a review of the investment objectives. Investment performance will be reviewed annually to determine the continued feasibility of achieving the investment objectives and the appropriateness of the investment policy for achieving these objectives.

It is not expected that the investment policy will change frequently. In particular, short-term changes in the financial markets should not require any adjustment in the investment policy.

Managers: The Foundation’s Director of Finance will provide monthly investment activity reports to the Investment Committee, including a breakdown by each investment manager. The Investment Committee shall meet on a periodic basis with the Foundation’s investment advisory consultant (if applicable) and Foundation staff to review total assets and individual manager performance. Performance reviews will focus on:

1. Comparison of managers’ results to funds using similar policies (in terms of diversification, volatility, style, etc.).

2. Adherence to asset allocation and diversification policy guidelines.

3. Material changes in the manager organizations, such as investment philosophy, personnel changes, acquisitions or losses of major accounts, etc.

4. Evaluation of manager, asset class and portfolio performance on a three-, five- and ten-year investment horizon (along with monitoring of performance for quarterly and annual periods).

5. Evaluate performance relative to an appropriate performance benchmark that reflects the investment objective of each investment portfolio.

Performance Expectations: The most important performance expectation is the achievement of long-term investment results that are consistent with this Investment Policy Statement. The CIT will be compared to a blended benchmark that represents the target asset classes. The CIT is expected to meet or exceed the passive policy benchmark over a majority of rolling three, five and ten-year horizons. Implementation of the policy will be directed toward achieving this return and not toward maximizing return without considering the risk.

Article IV. ACCOUNTING AND REPORTING

In addition to retaining competent investment managers, essential elements of a successful portfolio include proper accounting, investment activity reporting, performance reporting and internal activity reporting.

Annual Audit:

1. The accounting records for the pooled endowment funds will be maintained in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and reporting standards, and will be audited annually by the same independent external auditors who audit the Foundation's financial statements.

2. The annual audited financial statements and auditor's letter to management will be presented at the Foundation's annual meeting.

3. The internal controls utilized by the Foundation will be adapted to meet the needs of all pooled endowment funds and will be routinely reviewed by external auditors for appropriateness.

Investment Pool:

1. Endowments which own pooled endowment fund unit participation shares will be separately accounted for -- each will have their own separate fund identification and subaccounts which detail uninvested cash, fund balance invested in a pooled endowment fund, and total fund balance.

2. Endowments which have cash available for investing in a pooled endowment fund will be allowed to purchase unit participation shares at their fair market value on the first day of each month.

3. The fair market value of a unit participation share will be determined as of the close of business on the last working day of each month. The share value will be determined by valuing the pooled endowment fund's portfolio at market and dividing that market value by the number of permanent unit participation shares outstanding.

4. The pooled endowment fund's annual spending distributions will be made based on the number of distribution unit participation shares owned by each endowment.

5. The Foundation's Director of Finance and Financial Staff will ensure idle cash is fully invested until needed for distributions at year end, and for transfer to a pooled endowment from individual endowments to purchase unit participation shares.

6. The Foundation will receive all broker/custodial confirmations for purchases and sales of securities and ensure that (1) purchases are paid in a timely manner, (2) sales proceeds are received and immediately deposited in a Foundation brokerage/custodial or bank account and invested, (3) the financial records properly reflect all purchases and sales, and (4) sales and purchase commissions are reasonable.

Investment Management:

1. The Foundation will monitor investment activity and determine whether or not current established portfolio investment parameters are being followed.

2. The Foundation will receive monthly broker/custodial statements and reconcile detail shown thereon to the financial and investment records.

3. The Foundation will record all interest and dividend payments and ensure they are (1) the proper amount, (2) properly recorded on the financial records.

4. The Foundation will maintain a detailed schedule of investments to ensure that all dividends and interest are, in fact, received when due, and that the exact location of all investments is known at all times.

5. The Foundation will ensure accurate and timely investment data is submitted to an independent funds evaluation firm so that firm can prepare investment performance reports.

6. The Foundation will ensure that accurate and timely Investment Activity Reports are prepared for use by Investment Managers, Investment Committee and others.

7. The Foundation will prepare accurate and timely monthly valuations of the pooled endowment fund portfolios and calculate the value of a unit participation share.

8. The Foundation will ensure that endowments which have cash available for the purchase of pooled endowment fund unit participation shares have that cash transferred to the appropriate pooled endowment fund in a timely manner, and that the investment manager is aware of the amount of new money available for investment.

9. The Foundation will approve all operating expenses associated with the operation of all pooled endowment funds and initiate action to ensure said expenses are paid in a timely manner and properly recorded on the financial records.

ARTICLE I

Name and Address

The name of this corporation is:

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

The registered agent, location, and post office address of the registered and principal office of the Corporation is:

Executive Director
University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.
1106 Blake Street
PO Box 443150
Moscow, Idaho 83844-3150

ARTICLE II

Not for Profit

The Corporation is a nonprofit corporation under the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act. The Corporation is not formed for pecuniary profit. No part of the income or assets of the Corporation shall inure to the benefit of or be distributable to its members, directors, officers, or other private persons, except to the extent permissible by law and except that the Corporation shall be authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation for services rendered and to make payments and distributions in furtherance of the purposes set forth in Article IV hereof.

ARTICLE III

Term

The term of the Corporation is perpetual.

ARTICLE IV

Purposes

The Corporation is organized, and shall be operated exclusively, for the following purposes: to exercise all of the rights and powers conferred by the laws of the state of Idaho upon nonprofit corporations, including without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to acquire by bequest, devise, gift, purchase, lease, charitable trusts, life estates, or any other method of transferring any property of any sort or nature, without limitation as to its amount or value, and to hold, invest, reinvest, manage, use, apply, employ, sell, expend, disburse, lease, mortgage, convey, option, donate, or otherwise dispose of such property and the income, principal, and proceeds of such property for the benefit of the University of Idaho. No substantial part of the activities of the Corporation shall be the carrying on of propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and the Corporation shall not participate in or intervene in (including the publishing or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office. Notwithstanding any other provision of these articles, the Corporation shall not carry on any other activities not permitted to be carried on (a) by a corporation exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, or corresponding provision of any future federal tax code (hereinafter "Internal Revenue Code"), or (b) by a corporation, contributions to which are deductible under Section 170(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

ARTICLE V

Trusts and Trust Funds

Notwithstanding the provisions of Article IV, any donor or testator may direct that his or her gift shall be held in such charitable trusts as may be specifically designated by said donor or testator and in such case his or her intentions shall be carried out by The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. (hereinafter "Foundation"). Donors or testators may give a principal sum to the Foundation for the benefit of said Foundation, and provide that the income thereof shall be payable to the donor during his or her life, or that it shall be paid to a beneficiary or beneficiaries named by him or by her for life, or for some other period of time, and that after the termination of the estate or estates so provided, the income or principal shall be disbursed as part of the unrestricted income or principal of said Foundation in accordance with Article IV or for such charitable purposes as the donor or testator may specify in accordance with this Article V.

If the members of the Foundation by the vote of ninety percent (90%) of the members shall at any time declare that the purposes of any gift made pursuant to this Article V have become (1) unnecessary, undesirable, impracticable, or impossible of fulfillment, or (2) if any beneficiary to which the income or principal of any gift shall be provided to be paid shall have become nonexistent or shall have ceased its activities, or (3) if for any other reasons the application or applications provided by the said donor or testator shall have become impossible, impracticable, unnecessary, or undesirable, the Foundation shall apply such gift to the purposes set forth in Article IV. The determination of the members that such purposes have become unnecessary, undesirable, impracticable, or impossible of fulfillment shall be binding and conclusive upon all persons.

The Foundation may accept appointments by any court of competent jurisdiction as trustee to hold any fund or funds under the terms of these articles.

ARTICLE VI

Commingling of Funds

In the absence of any provisions expressing the intention of the donor or testator to the contrary, the Foundation shall be authorized to mingle any property given to it under the terms hereof with other property given to it under the terms hereof without obligation to retain any gift as a separate fund, but any donor or testator may direct that his or her gift be held as a separate fund and may, if he or she so desires, designate such fund as a memorial fund in memory of a particular person or event, and in such case the said fund shall be maintained as a separate fund forming a part of the said Foundation, under such name, if any, as may be properly designated therefor. The Foundation shall in any event be authorized to hold as a separate fund any gift which, in the discretion of the Foundation shall require segregation in order to carry out any specific provision expressed by the donor or testator, or which shall require such segregation or any other reason deemed sufficient by the Foundation.

Subject to any written agreement with the donor or testator to the contrary, if any fund, the income of which is directed by the donor or testator to be paid to any donor or other beneficiary, is commingled, the Foundation shall make available to pay to such donor or other beneficiary as income on such fund the average rate of return on such commingled funds.

If, at any time after such mingling of funds shall have taken place, it should thereafter for any reason be deemed by the foundation as desirable or necessary to separate any fund or funds, each fund so separated shall be considered to be that proportion of the value at the date of separation of the principal or income of the combined funds as the value at the date of gift of such fund so separated shall bear to the total value of such combined funds at said last mentioned date plus any subsequent gifts valued as of the date thereof.

ARTICLE VII

Membership The membership of this Corporation shall consist of one or more classes of members as prescribed in the bylaws. The manner of acting and meeting procedures for the members shall be as prescribed by the bylaws of this Corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

Board of Directors

Management of the affairs of the Corporation shall be by the board of directors who may delegate to officers and to committees of their own number and such additional members from the general membership as the board may deem appropriate such of their powers as they see fit. Directors shall be selected by the members at the times stated in the bylaws, for such terms and in such manner as the bylaws prescribe.

ARTICLE IX

Officers

Officers shall consist of a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer. The president and vice presidents shall be selected from members of the board of directors but the secretary and treasurer need not be directors or members. Two (2) or more offices may be held by the same person except that the president may not be secretary or treasurer. Officers shall be selected by the board of directors at the times, for such terms and in such manner as the bylaws prescribe.

ARTICLE X

Dissolution

In the event of the dissolution of this Corporation, or in the event that it should cease to carry out its purposes, no member, director, officer, or individual shall be entitled to or receive any distribution or division of its remaining assets, property or proceeds, and the balance of all property and assets of the Corporation from any source, after the payment of all debts and obligations of the Corporation, shall be vested in the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho in trust for the use and benefit of the University.

Any such assets not so disposed of shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose.

ARTICLE XI

Tax Exemption

It is the intent of the incorporators that this organization shall be incorporated as a tax-exempt organization to which deductible gifts may be made pursuant to the terms of the Internal Revenue Code. To that end, this Corporation shall be subject to all the restrictions and requirements now or hereafter imposed by the United States Internal Revenue Code, any rules and regulations duly and properly promulgated in the application and interpretation of said Code with which compliance is required for qualification as a tax exempt organization. In particular, in any year in which this Corporation is a "private foundation," as that term is defined in the Internal Revenue Code, its income must be distributed at such time and in such manner as not to subject this Corporation to taxes under Section 4942, Internal Revenue Code, or in the regulations promulgated thereto, and the Corporation shall not engage in any act of self dealing as defined in Section 4941, Internal Revenue Code, or in the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and shall not retain any excess business holdings as defined in Section 4042(c), Internal Revenue Code, or under the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and shall not make any investments in such manner as to subject the Corporation to taxes under Second 4944, Internal Revenue Code, or in the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, and shall not make any taxable expenditures as defined in Section 4945(d), Internal Revenue Code, or in the regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

ARTICLE XII

Amendments

The articles of incorporation of this Corporation may be altered, amended, or newly adopted at any meeting of the members of the Corporation called for the purpose by majority of a quorum of the voting members present, in person or by proxy, provided that notice is sent to each member not less than ten (10) days prior to such meeting, and provided that a quorum is present. A majority of the voting members of the Corporation shall constitute a quorum for such purposes. Such notice shall state in a general way the nature of the proposed change.

ARTICLE XIII

Notice

Except as otherwise specified, whenever notice is required, it shall be in writing sent prepaid not less than three (3) days before the event if by electronic transmission and not less than six (6) days if by mail, addressed to the last known address. Notice may be waived either before or after a meeting.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc., an Idaho nonprofit corporation, and pursuant to the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act, the qualified voting members of the Corporation duly noticed, approved, and adopted the within and foregoing third revised and restated articles of incorporation and all of the amendments therein contained, at a duly constituted meeting held on October 17, 2003.

Executed in triplicate effective October 20, 2003.

UIF Bylaws

Policy: BYLAWS

Section: Executive

Number: 3

Resolution Recording Date: August 31, 2009, April 15, 2011, Second Amended and Restated, November 2, 2012, Third Amended and Restated

Committee: Executive

THIRD AMENDED AND RESTATED

BYLAWS
OF
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

The Third Amended and Restated Bylaws ("Bylaws") of the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. ("Foundation") are as follows:

1. OFFICES.

1.1 Principal Office. The principal office of the Foundation, shall be located at 714 W. State Street, Suite 240, Boise Idaho, 83702. The Foundation may have other offices as the Board may designate or as the business of the Foundation may require from time to time.

1.2 Registered Office. The registered office of the Foundation required by the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act, Chapter 3, Title 30, Idaho Code, to be maintained in the State of Idaho shall be located at 714 W. State Street, Suite 240, Boise Idaho, 83702, and may be changed from time to time by the Board.

2. BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

2.1 General Powers. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Foundation shall be managed under the direction of, the Board except as may be otherwise provided in the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act or the Articles of Incorporation ("Articles").

2.2 Standard of Care. A Director shall perform such Director's duties as a Director, including such Director's duties as a member of any committee of the Board upon which the Director may serve, in good faith, in a manner such Director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the Foundation, and with such care as an ordinarily prudent person would use in a similar position under similar circumstances. In performing a Director's duties, a Director shall be entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, in each case prepared or presented by:

(a) one or more officers or employees of the Foundation whom the Director reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;

(b) counsel, public accountants or other person as to matters that the Director reasonably believes to be within such person's professional or expert competence;

(c) a committee of the Board which committee the Director reasonably believes to merit confidence; or

(d) information received from employees of the University of Idaho;

but a Director shall not be considered to be acting in good faith if a Director has knowledge concerning the matter in question that would cause such reliance to be unwarranted. A person who performs such duties shall have no liability by reason of being or having been a Director.

2.3 Number and Election of Directors. The number of Directors serving on the Board shall consist of at least 15 and no more than 25 members in an exact number as determined from time to time by the Board. The existing Directors shall elect individuals to fill vacant positions on the Board on an annual basis, and the Board may also elect Directors or from time to time throughout the year.

2.4 Term of Directors. Each Director shall serve a term of 3 years and shall serve a maximum of 2 consecutive 3 year terms, except, if any Director is the incoming Chairman or Past-Chairman at the time that his or her second 3 year term expires, the Director's term shall automatically be extended for any period of time during which he or she serves as the Chairman and as the Past-Chairman, regardless of whether such term exceeds the 2 consecutive 3 year term limit.

2.5 Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring on the Board may be filled upon the recommendation of the Chairman and affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining Directors, even if the remaining Directors make up less than a quorum of the Directors. A Director elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected for the unexpired term of such Director's predecessor in office.

2.6 Removal of Directors. At a meeting of the Board called expressly for that purpose, any director may be removed with cause by a vote of a majority of the Directors then in office. Any Director may be removed at such a meeting without cause by a vote of two-thirds of the Directors then in office.

2.7 Committees of Directors.

2.7.1 Membership. The Board, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors, may designate and appoint one or more Director committees, each of which shall consist of two or more Directors. The Chairman shall recommend to the Board nominees for each committee. Individuals who are not Directors may also serve on such committees in an advisory capacity, but non-Director members of a committee shall not vote on matters before the committee. The Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the Foundation may, in their discretion, serve on each committee.

2.7.2 Authority. Director committees, to the extent provided in the resolution establishing the committee, shall exercise the authority of the Board in the management of the Foundation; provided, however, that no Director committee shall have the authority to (i) authorize distributions, (ii) approve dissolution, merger or the sale, pledge or transfer of all or substantially all of the Foundation's assets, (iii) elect, appoint or remove directors or fill vacancies on the Board or on any of its committees, or (iv) adopt, amend or repeal the Articles or these Bylaws.

2.7.3 Standing Director Committees. The Foundation shall have the following standing committees unless the Board determines that any such committee shall not exist for any period of time.

a. Executive Committee. The Executive Committee shall consist of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Past-Chairman, Treasurer, and Secretary. The Executive Director shall serve in an advisory capacity to the Executive Committee. Except as prohibited in Section 2.7.2 above, during the intervals between meetings of the Board, the Executive Committee shall possess and may exercise all powers of the Board in the management and direction of the affairs of the Foundation in such manner as it shall deem best for the interest of the Foundation in all cases in which specific direction shall not have been otherwise given by the Board. The Executive Committee shall also evaluate the performance of the Executive Director, and the Executive Director's responsibility to serve the Committee in an advisory capacity shall be relieved during such evaluation. All actions by the Executive Committee shall be reported to the Board at its next meeting succeeding such action.

b. Committee on Directors. In addition to other duties assigned by the Board, the Committee on Directors shall (i) screen, recruit, and recommend potential Board of Director members, taking into consideration the skills needed, ethnicity, gender, and geographical representation of various candidates, (ii) recommend to the Board a slate of officers for election, (iii) evaluate the performance of Directors and officers, both individually and collectively, as needed or upon request by the Board, and (iv) perform governance review of Foundation bylaws, policies and procedures annually, and (v) coordinate the orientation of new Board Members.

c. Operations and Finance Committee. In addition to other duties assigned by the Board, the Operations and Finance Committee shall develop the organization's finance and operational policy and advise the Board on (i) general fiscal policy, fiscal management and all operational matters including budgetary and financial issues, and (ii) the Foundation's staffing and salary structure.

d. Investment Committee. In addition to other duties assigned by the Board, the Investment Committee shall develop the investment policy and make recommendations regarding (i) how investments will be managed, (ii) asset allocations, (iii) direct investments, (iv) selection of investment managers, (v) recommend the annual spending payout and (vi) evaluate endowment fees on a regular basis. The Investment Committee will also review the Foundation's investment portfolio performance and provide periodic reports to the Board on investment operations and results.

e. Audit Committee. In addition to other duties assigned by the Board, the Audit Committee shall oversee the Foundation's audit process, which shall include (i) communication with the auditors and the Foundation's staff, (ii) review of the audit and management letter process, and (iii) recommending to the Board potential auditors.

f. Gift Acceptance Committee. In addition to other duties assigned to it by the Board, the Gift Acceptance Committee (GAC) shall develop the gift acceptance policies, guidelines and procedures regarding the terms of acceptance of trust gifts, charitable gift annuities, bargain sales, and gifts of assets which are not readily marketable to be presented to the Board for approval.

2.7.4 Tenure. Each member of a committee shall continue as such until the next annual meeting of the Board of the Foundation and until a successor is appointed unless (i) the committee is sooner terminated, (ii) such member is removed from the committee, or (iii) such member ceases to qualify as a member of the committee. The Board may, from time to time during the year, add additional committee members to any committee.

2.7.5 Committee Chairs. One member of each committee shall serve as the chair. Nominations for the chair of each committee shall be provided by the Chairman of the Board, and the full Board shall elect each committee chair.

2.7.6 Vacancies. Vacancies in the membership of any committee may be filled by appointments made by the Board upon the recommendation of the Chairman.

2.7.7 Resignation. Any committee member may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Board, the Chairman, or the Secretary of the Foundation. Unless otherwise specified in the notice of resignation, the resignation shall take effect upon receipt. Acceptance of the resignation shall not be necessary to make the resignation effective.

2.7.8 Removal. Any committee member may be removed by the Board with or without cause.

2.7.9 Quorum. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution of the Board designating a committee, a majority of the Director members of the committee shall constitute a quorum and the act of a majority of the Director members present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the committee.

2.8 Board Advisories. From time to time, the Board may designate individuals and/or committees to serve in an advisory capacity and to attend certain Board meetings. Such advisories are not members of the Board, but shall provide input to the Board on various matters as necessary.

2.9 Emeritus Directors. Any person who has previously served as the Chairman or President of the Foundation shall be designated as an Emeritus Director. In addition, the Board may designate any former Director who has exhibited exemplary service to the Foundation as an Emeritus Director. An Emeritus Director shall serve in an advisory capacity to the Board and shall be invited to attend certain Board meetings.

2.10 Executive Sessions of the Board. The Board may, from time to time, designate certain meetings or part of any meeting of the Board to be an executive session of the Board, in which case all members of the Foundation's management team, members of the University of Idaho's leadership team, and any other persons present at the Board meeting shall be excused from the meeting unless any of them shall be invited by the Chairman to remain.

2.11 Directors' and Committee Meetings.

2.11.1 Place for Meetings. Meetings of the Board, regular or special, or meetings of any committee designated thereby, may be held either within or without the State of Idaho. Unless otherwise specified in the notice for such meeting, all meetings shall be held at the principal office of the Foundation.

2.11.2 Frequency of Meetings. At least 1 regular meeting of the Board shall be held each fiscal year, along with the annual meeting. Special meetings may be called from time to time as needed.

2.11.3 Notice of Meeting. Regular or special meetings of the Board may be called by the Chairman or any Director. Regular or special meetings of any committee of the Board may be called by the Chairman, any Director, or the chair of any committee. Notice of any meeting shall be given by written, electronic, or verbal notice to all other Directors or committee members, as the case may be, at least 2 days before the meeting.

2.11.4 Participation in Meeting. Members of the Board or any committee may participate in a meeting of the Board or such committee by conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time. Participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at a meeting.

2.11.5 Presumption of Assent. A Director who is present at a Board meeting at which any action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action unless such Director's dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless such Director shall file such Director's written dissent to such action with the Secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by certified or registered mail to the Secretary of the Foundation within 3 days after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Director who voted in favor of such action.

2.11.6 Attendance Constitutes Waiver of Notice. The attendance at or participation of a Director or committee member in any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director or committee member attends or participates for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

2.12 Waiver of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given to any Director or committee member under the provisions of the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act, the Articles or these Bylaws, a waiver in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated in the notice shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. The notice or waiver for any meeting need not specify the business to be transacted at, or the purpose of the meeting.

2.13 Quorum and Voting Requirements. A majority of the number of existing Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at meetings of the Board. The act of the majority of the Directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board. A majority of the number of existing committee members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at a meeting of such committee. The act of the majority of the committee members present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the committee.

2.14 Action without a Meeting. Any action required by the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act to be taken at a Board meeting, or any action that may be taken at a meeting of the Directors or of a committee, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action taken, is signed by all of the Directors, or all of the members of the committee, as the case may be. Such consent shall have the same effect as a unanimous vote.

2.15 Compensation. No Director or committee member shall receive a salary or compensation for services in that capacity but may be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in the performance of such services. This provision shall not preclude any Director from serving the Foundation in any other capacity and receiving compensation for services rendered.

2.16 Director Conflicts of Interest. Any Director who has an interest in a contract or other transaction presented to the Board or a committee thereof for authorization, approval, or ratification shall make a prompt and full disclosure of their interest to the Board or committee prior to its acting on such contract or transaction. Such disclosure shall include any relevant and material facts known to such a person about the contract or transaction that might reasonably be construed to be adverse to the Foundation's interest. In addition, each Director shall comply with any conflict of interest policy that may be adopted by the Foundation from time to time.

2.17 Loans to Directors. The Foundation shall not lend money to or use its credit to assist its Directors or officers.

3. OFFICERS.

3.1 Number and Titles. The elected officers of the Foundation shall consist of a Chairman, Past-Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Secretary, and Treasurer, each of whom shall be elected by the Board. The Board shall also appoint and employ an Executive Director and any other employees or staff members that the Board deems to be necessary. The Board may also elect or appoint additional officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

3.2 Election and Term of Office. The officers of the Foundation shall be elected annually at the annual meeting of the Board. If the election of officers shall not be held at such meeting, such election shall be held as soon as practicable thereafter. Each officer shall hold office until the following annual meeting. An officer's term shall end prior to the annual meeting in the case of death or permanent disability, or until such officer shall resign or shall have been removed in the manner hereinafter provided.

3.3 Removal. Any officer or agent may be removed by the Board whenever in its judgment the best interests of the Foundation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create any contract or employment rights.

3.4 Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise, may be filled by the Board for the unexpired portion of the term.

3.5 Officer Duties.

3.5.1 Chairman. The Chairman shall be the chief volunteer officer of the Foundation and shall in general supervise and control all the business and affairs of the Foundation in accordance with the direction of the Board. He or she shall, when present, preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors. He or she may sign checks, contracts, deeds, mortgages, notes, or other financial instruments on behalf of the Foundation. He or she may delegate and assign authority to sign any financial instruments of the Foundation in accordance with the Foundation's Financial Policy. He or she will present a slate of Committee chairs and committee members annually to the Board for approval. He or she shall also perform all duties as may be prescribed from time-to-time by the Board.

3.5.2 Vice-Chairman. The Vice-Chairman shall, in the absence of the Chairman or in the event of his or her death, inability or refusal to act, perform the duties of the Chairman, and, when so acting, shall have all the powers and be subject to all the restrictions upon the Chairman.

3.5.3 Past-Chairman. The Past-Chairman shall advise the Chairman and Vice-Chairman concerning the prior business of the Foundation. The Past-Chairman shall also perform all duties as may be prescribed from time-to-time by the Board.

3.5.4 Secretary. The Secretary shall attend all meetings of the Board and shall keep, or cause to be kept, in a book or file provided for the purpose, a true and complete record of the proceedings of such meetings. He or she shall have power to authenticate records, have custody of the books (except books of account), records and corporate seal of the Foundation, and in general shall perform all duties pertaining to the office of Secretary and such other duties as these Bylaws or the Board may prescribe.

3.5.5 Treasurer. The Treasurer shall keep correct and complete records of account. He or she shall be responsible for all of the Foundation's funds and securities and other valuables. The Treasurer shall deposit all funds of the Foundation with such depositories as the Board shall designate. The Treasurer shall furnish the Board with financial statements whenever requested and at each annual meeting and at the end of the fiscal year. He or she may sign checks, contracts, deeds, mortgages, notes, or other financial instruments on behalf of the Foundation pursuant to authority given to him or her in accordance with the Foundation's Financial Policy. The Treasurer shall also perform all duties as may be prescribed from time-to-time by the Board. The Treasurer may delegate any of the responsibilities and authorities set forth in this section to an Assistant Treasurer.

3.5.6 Executive Director. The Executive Director shall be either an employee of the Foundation or a loaned employee from the University of Idaho. The Executive Director shall perform all duties that may be prescribed from time to time by the Board, and shall serve pursuant to the terms of a written employment agreement or loaned employee agreement approved by the Board. The Executive Director shall be authorized to sign written documents and financial instruments of the Foundation. The Executive Director also shall be authorized to sign any other documents necessary to accomplish the day-to-day business of the Foundation.

3.6 Salaries. The salaries of the officers, if any, shall be fixed from time to time by the Board and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such salary by reason of the fact that such officer is also a Director.

3.7 Employment of Staff. The Board shall have the authority to employ additional staff as the Foundation may reasonably require from time to time. The Board may also enter into loaned employee agreements with the University of Idaho from time to time.

3.8 Officer and Staff Conflict of Interest. Any officer or staff member who has an interest in a contract or other transaction presented to the Board or a committee thereof for authorization, approval, or ratification shall make a prompt and full disclosure of their interest to the Board or committee prior to its acting on such contract or transaction. Such disclosure shall include any relevant and material facts known to such person about the contract or transaction that might reasonably be construed to be adverse to the Foundation's interest.

4. MISCELLANEOUS.

4.1 Indemnification of Officers, Directors, Employees and Agents. The Foundation shall indemnify Directors, officers, employees and agents of the Foundation to the extent permitted by, and in accordance with, the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act. The Foundation shall purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a Director, officer, employee or agent of the Foundation, or is or was serving at the request of the Foundation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against such person and incurred by such person in any such capacity or arising out of such person's status as such, whether or not the Foundation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability. This insurance shall be reviewed and updated annually to renew at the beginning of each fiscal year.

4.2 Books and Records. At its registered office or principal place of business, the Foundation shall keep: (i) minutes of the proceedings of the Board; and (ii) a record of the names and addresses of all members of the Board. The Foundation shall also keep correct and complete books and records of accounts at its registered office, principal place of business, or at any other location designated by the Foundation. Any books, records and minutes may be in written form or in any other form capable of being converted into written form within a reasonable time.

4.3 Loans. No loans shall be contracted on behalf of the Foundation and no evidences of indebtedness shall be issued in its name unless authorized by a resolution of the Board. Such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

4.4 Contracts. The Board may authorize any officer or officers, agent or agents of the Foundation, in addition to the officers so authorized by these Bylaws, to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the Foundation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

4.5 Checks, Drafts, etc. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money, notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Foundation, shall be signed by such officer or officers, agent or agents of the Foundation as provided in these Bylaws or in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by the Board.

4.6 Deposits. All funds of the Foundation not otherwise expended or spent shall be deposited from time to time to the credit of the Foundation in such banks, trust companies or other depositories as the Board may select.

4.7 Gifts. The Board may accept on behalf of the Foundation any contribution, gift, bequest or devise for the general purposes or for any special purpose of the Foundation.

4.8 Annual Financial Statements. The officers of the Foundation shall cause a balance sheet as of the closing date of the last fiscal year, together with a statement of income and expenditures for the year ending on that date, to be prepared and presented to the Directors at each annual meeting of the Board.

4.9 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Foundation shall begin on the first day of July and end on the last day of June in each year.

4.10 Regulation of Internal Affairs. The internal affairs of the Foundation shall be regulated as set forth in these Bylaws to the extent that these Bylaws are lawful under the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act. With respect to any matter not covered in these Bylaws, the provisions of the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act shall be controlling so long as such provisions of the Idaho Nonprofit Corporation Act are not inconsistent with the lawful provisions of these Bylaws.

4.11 Amendments. These Bylaws may be altered, amended or repealed and new Bylaws may be adopted by the Board at any regular or special meeting.

4.12 Amendment and Restatement of Prior Bylaws. These Bylaws amend and restate all prior bylaws of the Foundation in their entirety.

University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.

The undersigned, being the Secretary and Chairman of the Foundation, do hereby certify that the foregoing Third Amended and Restated Bylaws were duly adopted as the official Bylaws of the Foundation by unanimous consent of the Directors of the Foundation on the 2nd day of November 2012.

Policy: OPERATING AGREEMENT

Number: 1

Recording Date: August 31, 2009

Committee: Executive

FOUNDATION'S PURPOSES

The Foundation is the primary affiliated foundation responsible for assisting the University in soliciting, managing and distributing private support for the University. Accordingly, to the extent consistent with the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, and the State Board's Policies and Procedures, the Foundation shall: (1) assist in the solicitation of, receive and accept gifts, devises, bequests and other direct or indirect contributions of money and other property made for the benefit of the University from the general public (including individuals, corporations, other entities and other sources); (2) manage and invest the money and property it receives for the benefit of the University; and (3) support and assist the University in fundraising and donor relations.

In carrying out its purposes the Foundation shall not engage in activities that conflict with (1) federal or state laws, rules and regulations (including, but not limited to all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and corresponding Federal Treasury Regulations); (2) applicable polices of the State Board; or (3) the role and mission of the University.

ARTICLE II

FOUNDATION'S ORGANIZATIONAL DOCUMENTS

The Foundation shall provide copies of its current Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws to the University. All amendments of such documents shall also be provided to the University. Furthermore, the Foundation shall, to the extent practicable, provide the University with an advance copy of any proposed amendments to the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws.

ARTICLE III

UNIVERSITY RESOURCES AND SERVICES

A. University Employees.

1. Liaison: The University's Vice President for University Advancement shall serve as the University's liaison to the Foundation (the "Liaison"). The duties and responsibilities of the Liaison are as follows:

a. The Liaison shall be responsible for communicating with the Foundation regarding the University's fundraising efforts and for coordinating any administrative support provided by the University to the Foundation.

b. The Liaison or the Liaison's designee shall attend each meeting of the Foundation's Board of Directors and shall report on behalf of the University to the Foundation's Board of Directors regarding the University's fundraising efforts. The Liaison may also report other information to the Foundation's Board of Directors that is pertinent to the common goals of the University and the Foundation.

2. Executive Director: The Executive Director of the Foundation is an employee of the University who is loaned to the Foundation. All of the Executive Director's services shall be provided directly to the Foundation as follows:

a. The Executive Director shall be responsible for the supervision and control of the day-to-day operations of the Foundation. More specific duties of the Executive Director may be set forth in a written job description prepared by the Foundation and attached to the Loaned Employee Agreement described in subparagraph c below. The Executive Director shall be subject to the control and direction of the Foundation.

b. The Executive Director shall be an employee of the University and entitled to University benefits to the same extent and on the same terms as other full-time University employees of the same classification as the Executive Director. The Foundation shall reimburse the University for all costs incurred by the University in connection with the University's employment of the Executive Director including such expenses as salary, payroll taxes, and benefits.

c. The Foundation and the University shall enter into a written agreement, substantially in the form of Exhibit "B" hereto, establishing that the Executive Director is an employee of the University but subject to the direction and control of the Foundation (generally a "Loaned Employee Agreement"). The Loaned Employee Agreement shall also set forth the relative rights and responsibilities of the Foundation and the University with respect to the Executive Director.

d. In the event the Executive Director resigns, is terminated according to the terms of the Loaned Employee Agreement, or otherwise leaves the employ of the University, hiring of the subsequent Executive Director shall be done in accordance with Foundation procedures, University procedures (including University equal employment procedures), and applicable law (including laws applicable to the University). The Foundation shall have the ability to terminate the Loaned Employee Agreement upon notice to the University as further set forth in the Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation must provide the University with prior approval to hire any employee that the Foundation and University intend to be a loaned employee before the University employs such individual.

e. The University and the Foundation may elect to enter into additional agreements for the loaning of additional employees to the Foundation by the University pursuant to terms substantially similar to the Loaned Employee Agreement attached as Exhibit "B." The additional loaned employees shall report to either the Foundation Board or the Executive Director of the Foundation, in either case as determined by the Foundation Board and as specified in the additional loaned employee agreements. Such loaned employees shall have no function at the University other than to act in their capacity as employees loaned to the Foundation.

f. Termination of the Executive Director in accordance with the Loaned Employee Agreement shall constitute grounds for a termination proceeding by the University or for non-renewal of the Executive Director's contract with the University, if any.

3. Limited Authority of University Employees. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, no University employee other than an employee loaned to the Foundation shall be permitted to have responsibility or authority for Foundation policy making, financial oversight, spending authority, investment decisions, or the supervision of Foundation employees.

B. Support Staff Services. The University shall provide administrative support in financial, accounting, investment and development services to the Foundation, as set forth in the Service Agreement attached hereto as Exhibit "C" ("Service Agreement"). Except as specifically provided otherwise herein, all University employees who provide support services to the Foundation shall remain University employees under the direction and control of the University, unless it is agreed that the direction and control of any such employee will be vested with the Foundation in a Loaned Employee Agreement. The Foundation will pay directly to the University the portion of the overhead costs associated with the services provided to the Foundation pursuant to the Service Agreement or as otherwise determined by the agreement of the Parties.

C. University Facilities and Equipment. The University shall provide the use of the University's office space, equipment and associated services to the Foundation's employees upon the terms agreed to by the University and the Foundation. The terms of use (including amount of rent) of the University's office space, equipment and associated services shall be as set forth in the Service Agreement.

D. No Foundation Payments to University Employees. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the Foundation shall not make any payments directly to a University employee in connection with any resources or services provided to the Foundation pursuant to this Article.

ARTICLE IV

MANAGEMENT AND OPERATION OF FOUNDATION

A. Gift Solicitation.

1. Form of Solicitation. Any and all Foundation gift solicitations shall make clear to prospective donors that (1) the Foundation is a separate legal and tax entity organized for the purpose of encouraging voluntary, private gifts, trusts, and bequests for the benefit of the University; and (2) responsibility for the governance of the Foundation, including the investment of gifts and endowments, resides in the Foundation's Board of Directors.

2. Foundation is Primary Donee. Absent unique circumstances, prospective donors shall be requested to make gifts directly to the Foundation rather than to the University.

B. Acceptance of Gifts.

1. Approval Required Before Acceptance of Certain Gifts. Before accepting contributions or grants for restricted or designated purposes that may require administration or direct expenditure by the University, the Foundation shall obtain the prior written approval of the University. Similarly, the Foundation shall also obtain the University's prior written approval of the acceptance of any gift or grant that would impose a binding financial or contractual obligation on the University. Prior to any approval by the University, the University shall obtain approval of the State Board where State Board policy requires such approval.

2. Acceptance of Gifts of Real Property. The Foundation shall conduct due diligence on all gifts of real property that it receives. All gifts of real property that are intended solely by the donor to be developed for the University's use or to otherwise house facilities of any kind for the University's use shall be approved by the State Board before such gifts are accepted by either the University or the Foundation. The University shall be responsible for obtaining this approval by the State Board. In cases where the real property is intended to be used by the University in connection with carrying out its proper functions, the real property may be conveyed directly to the University, in which case the University and not the Foundation shall be responsible for the due diligence obligations for such property.

3. Processing of Accepted Gifts. All gifts received by the University or the Foundation shall be delivered (if cash) or reported (if any other type of property) to the Foundation's designated Gift Administration Office (a unit of the University's Trust and Investment Office) in accordance with the Service Agreement.

C. Fund Transfers. The Foundation agrees to transfer funds, both current gifts and income from endowments, to the University on a regular basis as agreed to by the Parties. The Foundation's Treasurer or other individual to whom such authority has been delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors shall be responsible for transferring funds as authorized by the Foundation's Board of Directors. All transfers and expenditures noted in this Section must comply with Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and be consistent with the Foundation's sole mission to support the University.

1. Restricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may transfer restricted gifts to the University. Any such transferred restricted gifts will only be expended by the University pursuant to the terms of such restrictions. The Foundation shall inform the University officials into whose program or department restricted gifts are transferred of all restrictions on the use of such gifts and provide such officials with access to any relevant documentation concerning such restrictions. Such University officials shall account for such restricted gifts separate from other program and department funds in accordance with applicable University policies and shall notify the Foundation on a timely basis regarding the uses of such restricted gifts.

2. Unrestricted Gift Transfers. The Foundation may utilize any unrestricted gifts it receives for any use consistent with the Foundation's purposes as generally summarized in Article I of this Operating Agreement. The Foundation may make unrestricted donations to the University. Such donated funds will be expended under the oversight of the University President in compliance with state law and University policies. If the Foundation elects to use unrestricted gifts to make grants to the University, such grants shall be made at such times and in such amounts as the Foundation's Board of Directors may determine in such Board's sole discretion.

D. Foundation Expenditures and Financial Transactions.

1. Signature Authority. The Foundation designates the Foundation Chairman and Treasurer as the individuals with signature authority for the Foundation in all financial transactions. The Foundation's Treasurer may also delegate signature authority on a temporary basis consistent with the Foundation's Bylaws to another Foundation employee, an employee loaned to the Foundation, or a Foundation Board member who is not a University employee. In no event may the person with Foundation signature authority for financial transactions be a University employee, unless such individual is an employee who is loaned to the Foundation.

2. Expenditures. All expenditures of the Foundation shall be (1) consistent with the purposes of the Foundation, and (2) not violate restrictions imposed by the donor or the Foundation as to the use or purpose of the specific funds.

E. University Report on Distributed Funds. On a regular basis, which shall not be less than annually, the University shall report to the Foundation on the use of restricted and unrestricted funds transferred to the University. This report shall specify the restrictions on any restricted funds and the uses of such funds.

F. Transfer of University Assets to the Foundation. No University funds, assets, or liabilities may be transferred directly or indirectly to the Foundation without the prior approval of the State Board except when:

1. A donor inadvertently directs a contribution to the University that is intended for the Foundation in which case such funds may be transferred to the Foundation so long as the documents associated with the gift indicate the Foundation was the intended recipient of the gift. In the absence of any such indication of donor intent, such gift shall be deposited in a University account and, except for transfers described in subsections 2 and 4 of this Section, State Board approval will be required prior to the University's transfer of such funds to the Foundation.

2. The University has gift funds that were originally transferred to the University from the Foundation and the University wishes to return a portion of those funds to the Foundation for reinvestment consistent with the original intent of the gift.

3. The University has raised scholarship funds through a University activity and the University wishes to deposit the funds with the Foundation for investment and distribution consistent with the scholarship purposes for which the funds were raised.

4. The University transfers to the Foundation any gift received by the University from a donor that meets the following criteria: (i) the gift is less than $10,000, and (ii) the gift will be invested by the Foundation for scholarship or other general University support purposes. This subsection, however, shall not apply to payments by the University to the Foundation for University obligations to the Foundation, operating expenses of the Foundation or other costs of the Foundation.

G. Separation of Funds. All Foundation assets (including bank and investment accounts) shall be held in separate accounts in the name of the Foundation using the Foundation's Federal Employer Identification Number. The financial records of the Foundation shall be kept using a separate chart of accounts and shall be kept in a secured database that is protected by separate password-only access. For convenience, however, some Foundation expenses may be paid through the University such as payroll and campus charges. These expenses will be paid through accounts clearly titled as belonging to the Foundation and shall be reimbursed by the Foundation on a regular basis.

H. Insurance. To the extent that the Foundation is not covered by the State of Idaho Retained Risk Program, the Foundation shall maintain insurance to cover the operations and activities of its directors, officers and employees. The Foundation shall also maintain general liability coverage.

I. Investment Policies. All funds held by the Foundation, except those intended for short term expenditures, shall be invested in accordance with the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act, Idaho Code Sections 33-5001 to 33-5010, and the Foundation's investment policy which is attached hereto as Exhibit "D"; provided, however, the Foundation shall not invest any funds in a manner that would violate the applicable terms of any restricted gifts. The Foundation shall provide to the University any updates to such investment policy which updates shall also be attached hereto as Exhibit "D".

J. Organization Structure of the Foundation. The organizational structure of the Foundation is set forth in the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation which are attached hereto as Exhibit "E" and the Foundation's By-Laws dated January 30, 2009, which are attached at Exhibit "F." The Foundation agrees to provide copies of such Articles and By-Laws as well as any subsequent amendments to such documents to the University. Any such amendments to the Articles and By-Laws shall be attached hereto as additions to Exhibit "E" and Exhibit "F", respectively.

K. Conflicts of Interest. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

ARTICLE V

FOUNDATION RELATIONSHIPS WITH THE UNIVERSITY

A. Access to Records. The University shall have reasonable access to the financial records of the Foundation upon permission granted by the Foundation from time to time, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. All access by the University of such records shall be made in accordance with applicable laws, Foundation policies, and guidelines. In addition, upon request of the Foundation, the University shall execute a proprietary and confidentiality agreement and instruct its agents and employees that all confidential information of the Foundation shall be protected from disclosure. Except as specifically authorized under this agreement or the applicable proprietary and confidentiality agreement between the University and the Foundation, the University's access shall not include donor specific data of the Foundation such that would provide individually identifiable information about donors or their donations made to the Foundation.

B. Records Management.

1. The University acknowledges that in most cases the University is the primary recipient and depository of confidential donor information. The Parties recognize, however, that the records of the Foundation relating to actual or potential donors contain confidential information. Such records shall be kept by the Foundation in such a manner as to protect donor confidentiality to the fullest extent allowed by law. Notwithstanding the access to records permitted above, access to such confidential information by the University shall be limited to the University's President and any designee of the University's President. The donor database and all other data, materials and information of the Foundation and the University pertaining to past, current or prospective donors, are proprietary to the Foundation and the University respectively and constitute confidential information and trade secrets. The Foundation and University shall take the steps necessary to monitor and control access to the donor database and to protect the security of computer servers and software relevant to the database, in each case to the extent that these systems are in their respective control.

2. The Foundation shall be responsible for maintaining all permanent records of the Foundation including but not limited to the Foundation's Articles, By-Laws and other governing documents, all necessary documents for compliance with IRS regulations, all gift instruments, and all other Foundation records as required by applicable laws.

3. The Foundation's Board of Directors shall foster an atmosphere of openness in its operations, consistent with the prudent conduct of its business. The parties understand that the Foundation is not a public agency or a governing body as defined in the Idaho Code and the Idaho Open Meeting Law and Access to Public Records Statutes. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of the Foundation's right to assert exemption from these statutes.

C. Name and Marks. Each Party hereby is granted a general, non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use the corporate name of the other, specifically: "The University of Idaho" and "The University of Idaho Foundation" and "The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc." in all activities conducted in association with or for the benefit of the other. Use of the other Party's name must be in manner that clearly identifies the Parties as separate entities, and neither Party may use the other Party's name to imply approval or action of the other Party. Neither Party may delegate, assign, or sublicense the rights granted hereunder without express written consent from the other Party. This license does not extend to any identifying marks of either Party other than the specified corporate name. Use of other marks must receive prior written approval.

D. Identification of Source. The Foundation shall be clearly identified as the source of any correspondence, activities and advertisements emanating from the Foundation.

E. Establishing the Foundation's Annual Budget. The Foundation shall provide the University with the Foundation's proposed annual operating budget and capital expenditure plan (if any) prior to the date the Foundation's Board of Directors meeting at which the Foundation's Board of Directors will vote to accept such operating budget. Any of the University's funding requests to the Foundation shall be communicated in writing by the President of the University to the Foundation's Treasurer by April 1 of each year.

F. Attendance of the University's President at Foundation's Board of Director Meetings. The Foundation may invite the University's President to attend meetings of the Foundation's Board of Directors and may act in an advisory capacity in such meetings.

G. Supplemental Compensation of University Employees. No University employee shall receive direct payments, compensation, or other benefits from the Foundation, provided that the Foundation may pay for those benefits which are necessary for its normal course of operation, including, but not limited to, travel and continuing professional education. Any such payment must be paid by the Foundation to the University and the University shall then pay or reimburse the employee in accordance with the University's normal practice. No University employee shall receive any payments or other benefits directly from the Foundation.

ARTICLE VI

AUDITS AND REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

A. Fiscal Year. The Foundation and the University shall have the same fiscal year.

B. Annual Audit. The Foundation shall have an annual financial audit conducted in accordance with Government Accounting Standards Board or Financial Accounting Standards

Board principles as appropriate. The audit shall be conducted by an independent certified public accountant who is not a director or officer of the Foundation. Such audit shall be conducted at the same or similar time as the University audit and shall be reported to the Foundation's Board of Directors. Such audit reports shall contain the Foundation's financial statements and the auditor's independent opinion regarding such financial statements. All such reports and any accompanying documentation shall protect donor privacy to the extent allowable by law.

C. Separate Audit Rights. The University agrees that the Foundation, at its own expense, may at any time during normal business hours conduct or request additional audits or reviews of the University's books and records pertinent to the expenditure of donated funds. The Foundation agrees that the University, at its own expense, may, at reasonable times, inspect and audit the Foundation's financial books and accounting records in accordance with Article V, A above.

D. Annual Reports to University President. Upon request, the Foundation shall provide a written report to the University President setting forth the following items:

1. the annual financial audit report;

2. an annual report of Foundation transfers made to the University, summarized by University department;

3. an annual report of unrestricted funds received by the Foundation;

4. an annual report of unrestricted funds available for use during the current fiscal year;

5. a list of all of the Foundation's officers, directors, and employees;

6. a list of University employees for whom the Foundation made payments to the University for approved purpose during the fiscal year, and the amount and nature of each payment;

7. a list of all state and federal contracts and grants managed by the Foundation;

8. an annual report of the Foundation's major activities;

9. an annual report of each real estate purchase or material capital lease, investment, or financing arrangement entered into during the preceding Foundation fiscal year for the benefit of the University; and

10. an annual report of any actual litigation involving the Foundation during its fiscal year, identification of legal counsel used by the Foundation for any purpose during such year, and identification of any potential or threatened litigation involving the Foundation limited to the extent necessary to protect attorney-client privilege and litigation strategy.

ARTICLE VII

CONFLICT OF INTEREST AND CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT

A. Conflicts of Interest Policy Statement. The Foundation has adopted a written policy addressing the manner the Foundation will address conflict of interest situations. The Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy is attached hereto as Exhibit "G."

B. Dual Representation. Under no circumstances may a University employee represent both the University and the Foundation in any negotiation, sign for both Parties in transactions, or direct any other University employee under their immediate supervision to sign for the related Party in a transaction between the University and the Foundation. This shall not, however, prohibit University employees from drafting transactional documents that are subsequently provided to the Foundation for the Foundation's independent review, approval and use.

C. Contractual Obligation of University. The Foundation shall not enter into any contract that would impose a financial or contractual obligation on the University without first obtaining the prior written approval of the University. University approval of any such contract shall comply with policies of the State Board with respect to the State Board's approval of University contracts.

D. Acquisition or Development or Real Estate. The Foundation shall not acquire or develop real estate for the University's use or otherwise build facilities for the University's use unless the University first obtains the approval of the State Board. In the event of a proposed purchase of real estate for such purposes by the Foundation, the University shall notify the State Board, at the earliest possible date, of such proposed purchase for such purposes. Furthermore, any such proposed purchase of real estate for the University's use shall be a coordinated effort of the University and the Foundation. Any notification by the University to the State Board required pursuant to this Section may be made through the State Board's chief executive officer in executive session pursuant to Idaho Code Section 67-2345(1)(c).

ARTICLE VIII

GENERAL TERMS

A. Effective Date. This Agreement shall be effective on the date set forth above.

B. Right to Terminate. This Operating Agreement shall terminate upon the mutual written agreement of both Parties. In addition, either Party may, upon 90 days prior written notice to the other, terminate this Operating Agreement, and either Party may terminate this Operating Agreement in the event the other Party defaults in the performance of its obligations and fails to cure the default within 30 days after receiving written notice from the non-defaulting Party specifying the nature of the default. Should the University choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the Foundation that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the Foundation may require the University to pay, within 180 days of written notice, all debt incurred by the Foundation on the University's behalf including, but not limited to, lease payments, advanced funds, and funds borrowed for specific initiatives. Should the Foundation choose to terminate this Operating Agreement by providing 90 days written notice or in the event of a default by the University that is not cured within the time frame set forth above, the University may require the Foundation to pay any debt it holds on behalf of the Foundation in like manner. The Parties agree that in the event this Operating Agreement shall terminate, they shall cooperate with one another in good faith to negotiate a new agreement within six (6) months. In the event negotiations fail, the Parties will initiate the Dispute Resolution mechanism described below (through reference to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board) to further attempt to negotiate a new agreement. Termination of this Operating Agreement shall not constitute or cause dissolution of the Foundation.

C. Dispute Resolution. The Parties agree that in the event of any dispute arising from this Operating Agreement, they shall first attempt to resolve the dispute by working together with the appropriate staff members of each of the Parties. If the staff cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the University's President. If the Foundation's Chairman and University's President cannot resolve the dispute, then the dispute will be referred to the Foundation's Chairman and the State Board for resolution. If the dispute is not resolved by the aforementioned Parties, the University and the Foundation shall submit the dispute to mediation by an impartial third party or professional mediator mutually acceptable to the Parties. If and only if all the above mandatory steps are followed in sequence and the dispute remains unresolved, then, in such case, either Party shall have the right to initiate litigation arising from this Operating Agreement. In the event of litigation, the prevailing Party shall be entitled, in addition to any other rights and remedies it may have, to reimbursement for its expenses, including court costs, attorney fees, and other professional expenses.

D. Dissolution of Foundation. Upon dissolution of the Foundation, it shall transfer the balance of all property and assets of the Foundation in a manner consistent with its Articles of Incorporation, which state that in the event of dissolution of the Foundation, "no member, director, officer, or individual shall be entitled to or receive any distribution or division of its remaining assets, property or proceeds, and the balance of all property and assets of the [Foundation] from any source, after the payment of all debts and obligations of the [Foundation], shall be vested in the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho in trust for the use and benefit of the University. Any such assets not disposed of shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose."

E. Board Approval of Operating Agreement. Prior to the Parties' execution of this Operating Agreement, an unexecuted copy of this Operating Agreement must be approved by the State Board. Furthermore, this Operating Agreement, including any subsequent modifications and restatements of this Operating Agreement, shall be submitted to the State Board for review and approval no less frequently than once every two (2) years or more frequently if otherwise requested by the State Board.

F. Modification. Any modification to the Agreement or Exhibits hereto shall be in writing and signed by both Parties.

G. Providing Document to and Obtaining Approval from the University. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the University or whenever the University's approval of any action is required, such documents shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the University's President or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the University's President.

H. Providing Documents to and Obtaining Approval from the Foundation. Unless otherwise indicated herein, whenever documents are to be provided to the Foundation or whenever the Foundation's approval of any action is required, such document shall be provided to, or such approval shall be obtained from, the Foundation's Board of Directors or an individual to whom such authority has been properly delegated by the Foundation's Board of Directors.

I. Notices. Any notices required under this agreement may be mailed or delivered as follows:

To the University:

President of the University of Idaho
University of Idaho
P.O. Box 443151
Administration Building Room 105
Moscow, Idaho 83844-3151

To the Foundation:

Executive Director
University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.
714 W. State Street, Suite 240
Boise, Idaho 83702

J. No Joint Venture. At all times and for all purposes of this Operating Agreement, the University and the Foundation shall act in an independent capacity and not as an agent or representative of the other Party.

K. Liability. The University and Foundation are independent entities and neither shall be liable for any of the other's contracts, torts, or other acts or omissions, or those of the other's trustees, directors, officers, members or employees.

L. Indemnification. The University and the Foundation each agree to indemnify, defend and hold the other Party, their officers, directors, agents and employees harmless from and against any and all losses, liabilities, and claims, including reasonable attorney's fees arising out of or resulting from the willful act, fault, omission, or negligence of the Party, its employees, contractors, or agents in performing its obligations under this Operating Agreement. This indemnification shall include, but not be limited to, any and all claims arising from an employee of one Party who is working for the benefit of the other Party. Nothing in this Operating Agreement shall be construed to extend to the University's liability beyond the limits of the Idaho Tort Claims Act, Idaho Code Sections 6-901 et seq.

M. Assignment. This Agreement is not assignable by either Party, in whole or in part.

N. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Idaho.

O. Articles, Sections, Subsections and Subparagraphs. This Agreement consists of text divided into Articles that are identified by roman numeral (for example Article I), Sections that are identified by an uppercase letter followed by a period (for example A.), subsections that are identified by a number followed by a period (for example 1.) and subparagraphs that are identified by a lower case letter followed by a period (for example a.). The organization is hierarchical meaning that a reference to a division of the document includes all of its subsections (for example a reference to a Section includes the Section and all of its subsections and subparagraphs).

P. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement is not affected thereby and that provision shall be enforced to the greatest extent permitted by law.

Q. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement among the Parties pertaining to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the University and the Foundation have executed this agreement on the above specified date.

University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. Cash Management Investment Policy

Purpose
To establish a policy for the regular investment of monetary assets of the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. (Foundation). For this purpose monetary assets means cash and other liquid monetary assets not specifically held in other accounts by the Foundation.

Objective
To provide guidance for the investment of monetary assets of the Foundation to ensure they are invested in a high-quality portfolio of investments which (in order of priority):

- Provides for the safety and preservation of capital and is consistent with conservative investment principles.
- Meets the Foundation's liquidity needs.
- Provides competitive total return in relationship to these guidelines, market conditions, and tax status of the Foundation.

Scope
This policy does not apply to assets that are specifically invested by the Foundation with the oversight of the Investment Committee, such as assets held in the Consolidated Investment Trust (CIT) or assets held by Charitable Trusts and Gift Annuity Pools. This also does not apply to any special investments undertaken by the Board of Directors.

Policy Guidelines

1. Responsibility
    - The Finance Committee has responsibility to approve the Policy and any amendments to the Policy.
    - The Finance Committee will review at least quarterly the compliance and performance status of the portfolio.
    - The Finance Committee shall approve any modifications to authorized Investment Guidelines, which limits are initially establish in Table A

2. Investment Managers
    An external manager that meets the following criteria may be hired.

    - They must be a Registered Investment Advisor under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and provide a SEC proof of registration in a Form ADV Part 2 updated at least annually.
    - Maintain professional Errors & Omissions insurance covering any damages caused by an error, omission or negligent acts of the Manager, its agents, officers or employees, in an amount not less than $5 million.
    - Agree to abide by the terms of this Policy.

- Meet ongoing performance, operational, reporting, and value added services, reviewed on a quarterly basis.
- Provide detailed reporting within five business days following the Foundation month end. This reporting shall include, but is not limited to, the following:
  - A summary of the portfolio performance for the current period
  - A comparison of Manager total rate of return against the assigned benchmark.
  - Notification that the portfolio is in compliance with the Investment Policy and guideline.

3. Custody of Assets
Custody of the Foundation's investment assets (other than money market funds) will be maintained to the extent practicable by a single master custodian designated by the Foundation.

4. Review of Investment Management Policy
This Investment Management Policy will be reviewed and approved at least annually to ensure that it remains consistent with the overall investment objectives of the Foundation and current financial trends. The Policy may be reviewed and updated more frequently if conditions dictate.

INSERT TABLE

Ineligible Securities

The following list of security types are prohibited: non-agency mortgage-backed securities (non-agency MBS), Auction-Rate Securities (ARS), Structured Investment Vehicles (SIV), Asset-Backed Commercial Paper (ABCP), Extendible Notes, subordinated debt, futures, options, and other investments that utilize leverage, structured securities that are not explicitly listed as eligible in Table A, obligations with embedded options excepting those with a make-whole call provision. All other securities not explicitly listed in Table A.

WAL –Weighted Average Life

For purposes of determining the maturity date of agency MBS, ABS or other allowed securities with pre-payment characteristics, weighted-average life (WAL) will be used. WAL shall be determined using reasonable market standards and models.

Currency

Only assets denominated in U.S. dollars are permitted for the account. Non-U.S. dollar investment, even if considered hedged, are prohibited.

Liquidity

All holdings must have adequate liquidity to allow for prompt sale at minimum cost. Specific limits are listed in Table A.

Split-rated Securities

All securities shall be rated by two nationally recognized statistical rating organizations. In the case of a split rating, the lower rating shall be used for purposes of compliance with the Policy.

Issuer Concentration

Shall be determined using the ultimate parent company where reasonably reported by Bloomberg. If an issuer's ultimate parent company is not reported by Bloomberg or the reported parent is not the party ultimately responsible fore payment of interest and principal (asset-based collateral pools), that determination shall be made and agreed upon by the Manager and the Foundation.

Credit Downgrades

In the event a credit rating of a security in the portfolio is downgraded by a rating organization, the Manager shall notify the Foundation within 3 business days with a recommended course of action.

Violations

Any security or action that falls outside of the Policy shall be deemed a violation unless written authorization is given by the Foundation. Once the Manager becomes aware of a violation in the portfolio, the Manager shall notify the Foundation and provide a recommended course of action.

Exhibit G

UIF Conflicts of Interest Policy

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

ARTICLE I
Purpose

The purpose of this conflict of interest policy is to protect The University of Idaho Foundation, Inc.'s (the "Foundation") interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of a director, officer or employee of the Foundation or might result in a possible excess benefit transaction. This policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state and federal laws governing conflict of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations. Another purpose of this conflict of interest policy is to set forth a Code of Conduct and Ethics to guide the directors, principal officers and employees of the Foundation in the performance of their duties and the operation of the Foundation.

ARTICLE II
Definitions

1. Interested Person. Any director, principal officer, member of a committee with governing board delegated powers, or employee of the Foundation who has a direct or indirect financial interest, as defined below, is an interested person.

2. Financial Interest. A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business, investment, or family (including such person's spouse, ancestors, lineal descendants and spouses of lineal descendants):

a. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Foundation has a transaction or arrangement,

b. A compensation arrangement with the Foundation or with any entity or individual with which the Foundation has a transaction or arrangement, or

c. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Foundation is negotiating a transaction or arrangement.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration as well as material gifts or gratuities in excess of fifty dollars ($50).

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under Article III, Section 2, a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate governing board or committee decides that a conflict of interest exists.

ARTICLE III
Procedures

1. Duty to Disclose. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors and members of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

2. Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists. After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

3. Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest.

a. An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and the vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.

b. The chairperson of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.

c. After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the Foundation can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.

d. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Foundation's best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

4. Violations of the Conflict of Interest Policy.

a. If the governing board or committee has reasonable cause to believe a director, principal officer or employee has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall inform the director, principal officer or employee of the basis for such belief and afford such person an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.

b. If, after hearing such person's response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the director, principal officer or employee has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

ARTICLE IV
Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers shall contain:

a. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the governing board's or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.

b. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

ARTICLE V
Compensation

a. A voting member of the governing board who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Foundation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

b. A voting member of any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Foundation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

c. No voting member of the governing board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Foundation, either individually or collectively, is prohibited from providing information to any committee regarding compensation.

ARTICLE VI
Code of Ethics and Conduct

Each director, principal officer, member of a committee with governing board delegated powers and employee of the Foundation shall be provided with and abide by the Code of Ethics and Conduct attached hereto as Exhibit "A" (hereinafter referred to as the "Code").

ARTICLE VII
Annual Statements

Each director, principal officer, member of a committee with governing board delegated powers and employee shall sign a statement which affirms such person:

a. Has received a copy of the conflict of interest policy and the Code,

b. Has read and understands the conflict of interest policy and the Code,

c. Has agreed to comply with the conflict of interest policy and the Code, and

d. Understands the Foundation is charitable and in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

ARTICLE VIII
Periodic Reviews

To ensure the Foundation operates in a manner consistent with charitable purposes and does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its tax-exempt status, periodic reviews shall be conducted. The periodic reviews shall, at a minimum, include the following subjects:

a. Whether compensation arrangements and benefits are reasonable, based on competent survey information, and the result of arm's length bargaining.

b. Whether partnerships, joint ventures, and arrangements with management organizations conform to the Foundation's written policies, are properly recorded, reflect reasonable investment or payments for goods and services, further charitable purposes and do not result in inurement, impermissible private benefit or in an excess benefit transaction.

ARTICLE IX
Use of Outside Experts

When conducting the periodic reviews as provided for in Article VIII, the Foundation may, but need not, use outside advisors. If outside experts are used, their use shall not relieve the governing board of its responsibility for ensuring periodic reviews are conducted.

CERTIFICATE OF ADOPTION

The foregoing was duly adopted as the Conflict of Interest Policy of the Foundation by the Board of Directors effective as of the 25 day of January, 2008.

Secretary of the Board of Directors

EXHIBIT "A" TO CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

CODE OF CONDUCT AND ETHICS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO FOUNDATION, INC.

ARTICLE I
Purpose

This Code of Conduct and Ethics ("Code") is designed to guide the directors, principal officers and employees of the University of Idaho Foundation, Inc. ("Foundation") in the performance of their duties and the operation of the Foundation. The tax-exempt status of the Foundation includes an obligation to maintain the public trust. The Foundation takes this obligation very seriously. Accordingly, it is incumbent upon directors, principal officers, and employees of the Foundation to conduct the affairs of the Foundation with a commitment to the highest standards of integrity. This includes acting at all times in an honest and ethical manner, in compliance with all laws and regulations and avoiding actual, potential or apparent conflicts of interest.

ARTICLE II
General Rules

This Code is applicable, unless otherwise indicated, to the conduct of all directors, principal officers and employees of the Foundation ("Foundation Personnel"). All Foundation Personnel owe the Foundation a duty of loyalty, and a duty to the Foundation to avoid conflicts, whether real, potential or apparent, between the interests of the Foundation and their personal financial interests. All Foundation Personnel must remain conscious of the potential for such conflicts, and act with candor and care in such situations. The Foundation's activities must be conducted according to the highest standards of objectivity and integrity and exclusively in furtherance of the Foundation's charitable purposes.

1. Conflict of Interest. The Foundation has developed a Conflict of Interest Policy. The purpose of the Conflict of Interest Policy is to protect the Foundation's interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of a director, officer or employee of the Foundation or may result in providing any such person with an improper benefit. The Conflict of Interest Policy defines those situations or circumstances which could create a real or perceived conflict of interest. Further, the policy establishes a method for ensuring disclosure and accountability. Foundation Personnel shall comply with the Foundation's Conflict of Interest Policy.

2. Gifts and Gratuities. Foundation Personnel shall not accept from any source any material gift or gratuity (including but not limited to gifts, payments, commissions, entertainment, services, loans, or promises of future benefits) in excess of fifty dollars ($50) that is offered, or reasonably appears to be offered, because of such person's position held with the Foundation; nor shall an offer of a prohibited gift or gratuity be extended by Foundation Personnel on a similar basis.

3. Confidentiality. Foundation Personnel are expected to exercise the utmost discretion in regard to all matters of Foundation business. They may not communicate any information known to them by reason of their position that has not been made public, except as may be necessary in the course of their duties or by authorization of the Board of Directors of the Foundation. Nor shall Foundation Personnel at any time use such information to private advantage. These obligations do not cease upon separation from the Foundation.

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

SUBJECT

Multi-year contract with Gordon Presnell, Women's Head Basketball Coach

REFERENCE

February 2011	Board approved a two year employment agreement with Women's Head Basketball Coach Gordon Presnell
December 2014	Board approved a two-year and three-month employment agreement with Women's Head Basketball Coach Gordon Presnell

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section II.H.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Boise State University (BSU) is seeking a two-year and seven-month employment contract for the Head Women's Basketball Coach (Coach). In December 2014, the State Board of Education (Board) approved a two-year and three-month employment extension contract with Gordon Presnell as the Women's Head Basketball Coach. The contract included an automatic extension clause extending one year after each season the team reached eighteen (18) wins.

IMPACT

No state funds are used and these amounts are paid only from program revenue, media, donations and other non-appropriated funds. Terms are as follows:

Term:

Fixed term contract of two years and nine months, commencing on August 14, 2016 and terminating on March 31, 2019. The contract will be automatically extended by one additional year commencing on April 1 and concluding on March 31 for each season in which the team has at least 18 wins.

Base Compensation:

$220,000 per year with a one-time bonus payment of $3,875.

Pay for Performance – Academic:

Academic incentive pay may be earned if annual team APR ranks nationally within women's basketball above the 50th percentile as follows:

National Rank (percentile) within Sport:

50th - 59.9%	$5,000
60th - 69.9%	$7,500
70th - 79.9%	$10,000
80th % or above	$12,500

Pay for Performance – Athletic:

The greatest of the following:

11 conference wins	$2,000
12 conference wins	$3,000
13 conference wins	$4,000
14+ conference wins	$7,500
Conference Regular Season Champions	$12,500

The greater of the following two:

Conference Tournament Finalist	$3,000
Conference Tournament Champions	$12,500

NCAA Tournament Appearance	$5,000 per game
WNIT Appearance	$3,000 per game
18 Wins	$6,000

Maximum potential annual compensation (base salary and incentive payments) is $298,500. In addition, the Coach may operate summer camps at BSU pursuant to the proposed agreement.

Buy-Out Provision: If the Coach terminates the agreement for convenience, the following liquidated damages will be due: $40,000 for the first year, $20,000 for the second year, or $10,000 for the third year.

The base pay in the employment agreement reflects a 12.93% increase over the Coach's current base salary. The maximum proposed incentive pay for academic achievement is $12,500, which is equal to the incentive amount for winning the conference championship. The proposed employment agreement is in substantial conformance with the Board's model contract and is similar to the standard issued by BSU for other coaches.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Board Policy II.H. requires coach contracts with a term longer than three (3) years or with a total compensation amount of $200,000 or more be approved by the Board. The proposed employment agreement potential rolling duration exceeds three years and its total annual compensation amount exceeds $200,000 per year. The terms of the contract are aligned with Board policy and guidance and compare reasonably in terms of compensation level, bonus options, and liquidated damages provisions with those of Women's Basketball programs at similar institutions. Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the request by Boise State University to enter into a two-year, nine-month employment agreement with Gordon Presnell, Head Women's Basketball Coach, commencing on August 14, 2016 and terminating on March 31, 2019, at a base salary of $220,000 and supplemental compensation provisions, as submitted in Attachment 1.

EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

This Employment Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Boise State University (the "University") and Gordon H. Presnell ("Coach").

ARTICLE 1

1.1. Employment. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the University shall employ Coach as the head coach (the "Position") of its intercollegiate Women's Basketball team (the "Team"). Coach represents and warrants that Coach is fully qualified to serve, and is available for employment, in this capacity.

1.2. Reporting Relationship. Coach shall report and be responsible directly to the University's Director of Athletics (the "Director") or the Director's designee. Coach shall abide by the reasonable instructions of the Director or the Director's designee and shall confer with the Director or the Director's designee on all administrative and technical matters. Coach shall also be under the general supervision of the University's President (the "President").

1.3. Duties. Coach shall manage and supervise the Team and shall perform such other duties in the University's athletic program as the Director may assign and as may be described elsewhere in this Agreement. Coach shall, to the best of Coach's ability, and consistent with University policies and procedures, perform all duties and responsibilities customarily associated with the Position. The University shall have the right, at any time, to reassign Coach to duties at the University other than as head coach of the Team, provided that Coach's compensation and benefits shall not be affected by any such reassignment, except that the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation as provided in sections 3.2.1 through 3.2.7 shall cease.

2.1. Term. This Agreement is for a fixed-term appointment of two (2) years seven (7) months, commencing on August 14, 2016 and terminating without further notice to Coach on March 31, 2019 (the "Term") unless sooner terminated in accordance with other provisions of this Agreement.

2.2 Renewal. This Agreement is renewable solely upon an offer from the University and an acceptance by Coach, both of which must be in writing and signed by the parties. Any renewal is subject to the prior approval of University's Board of Trustees. This Agreement in no way grants to Coach a claim to tenure in employment, nor shall Coach's service pursuant to this Agreement count in any way toward tenure at the University.

2.3 Automatic Extensions. The term of this Agreement will automatically be extended by one (1) additional year commencing on April 1 and concluding on March 31 for each season in which the team has at least eighteen (18) wins. For the purpose of calculation of wins, such wins must occur during the regular season, the conference tournament, the Women's National Invitation Tournament ("WNIT"), or the National Collegiate Athletic Association ("NCAA") Tournament, to the exclusion of all other pre-season exhibition games or post-season tournaments.

ARTICLE 3

3.1 Regular Compensation.

3.1.1 In consideration of Coach's services and satisfactory performance of this Agreement, the University shall provide to Coach:

a) A salary of $220,000 per year, payable in biweekly installments in accordance with normal University procedures, and such salary increases as may be determined appropriate by the Director and President and approved by the University's Board of Trustees;

b) A one-time bonus payment of $3,875, which shall be paid after execution of this Agreement;

c) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits calculated on the "base salary" set forth in set forth in section 3.1.1(a) as the University provides generally to non-faculty exempt employees; and

d) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits as the University's Department of Athletics (the "Department") provides generally to its employees of a comparable level. Coach hereby agrees to abide by the terms and conditions, as now existing or hereafter amended, of such employee benefits.

3.2 Supplemental Compensation. Coach may earn supplemental compensation as follows:

3.2.1 Athletic Achievement

a) The greatest of the following:

11 conference wins	$2,000
12 conference wins	$3,000
13 conference wins	$4,000
14+ conference wins	$7,500
Conference Regular Season Champions	$12,500

b)	The greater of the following two:
	Conference Tournament Finalist	$3,000
	Conference Tournament Champions	$12,500
c)	NCAA Tournament Appearance	$5,000 per game
d)	WNIT Appearance	$3,000 per game
e)	18 Wins	$6,000

3.2.2 Academic Achievement

Academic Incentive Pay may be earned if annual team APR ranks nationally within women's basketball as follows:

National Rank Within Sport
975-980	=	$5,000
981-985	=	$7,500
986-990	=	$10,000
991 or above	=	$12,500

3.2.3 Conditions for payment of Academic and Athletic supplemental compensation:

a. If Coach qualifies for Athletic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.1, University will pay Coach on the first regular pay date in July, following the year in which such supplemental compensation is calculated but only if Coach is still employed by the University on that date. Ranking shall be determined based on NCAA National End of Season Ranking.

b. If Coach qualifies for Academic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.2, it will be paid as soon as reasonably practical following APR rating determination and verification by the NCAA, if Coach is still employed by the University on that date.

c. In order to receive any of the 3.2.1 supplemental compensation, the Team's retention rate must be at least 50% for the academic year in which the supplemental pay is earned. The retention rate will be calculated anew each year and will not be cumulative.

3.2.4 Each year Coach may be eligible to receive supplemental compensation based on the overall development of the intercollegiate women's basketball program; ticket sales; fundraising; outreach by Coach to various constituency groups, including University students, staff, faculty, alumni and boosters; and any other factors the President wishes to consider. The determination of whether Coach will receive such supplemental compensation and the timing of the payment(s) shall be at the sole discretion of the President in consultation with the Director and approved by the University's Board of Trustees.

). Agreements requiring the Coach to participate in Programs related to his duties as an employee of University are the property of the University. The University shall have the exclusive right to negotiate and contract with all producers of media productions and all parties desiring public appearances by the Coach. Coach agrees to cooperate with the University in order for the Programs to be successful and agrees to provide his services to and perform on the Programs and to cooperate in their production, broadcasting, and telecasting. It is understood that neither Coach nor any assistant coaches shall appear without the prior written approval of the Director on any competing radio or television program (including, but not limited to, a coach's show, call-in show, or interview show) or a regularly scheduled news segment, except that this prohibition shall not apply to routine news media interviews for which no compensation is received. Without the prior written approval of the Director, Coach shall not appear in any commercial endorsements, which are broadcast on radio or television that conflict with those broadcast on the University's designated media outlets.

3.2.6 Summer Camp Operated by the University. Coach agrees that the University has the exclusive right to operate youth basketball camps on its campus using University facilities. The University shall allow Coach the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation by assisting with the University's camps in Coach's capacity as a University employee. Coach hereby agrees to assist in the marketing, supervision, and general administration of the University's basketball camps. Coach also agrees that Coach will perform all obligations mutually agreed upon by the parties. In exchange for Coach's participation in the University's summer basketball camps, the University shall pay Coach a reasonable supplemental compensation during each year of his employment as head coach at the University. The summer youth camp must be operated by Coach in a manner that reflects positively on the University and the Department. The Coach complies with all NCAA, Conference, and University rules and regulations related, directly or indirectly, to the operation of summer youth camps. All revenues and expenses of the Camp shall be deposited with and paid by the University.

In the event of termination of this Agreement, suspension, or reassignment, University shall not be under any obligation to permit a summer youth camp to be held by the Coach after the effective date of such termination, suspension, or reassignment, and the University shall be released from all obligations relating thereto.

3.2.7 Coach agrees that the University has the exclusive right to select footwear, apparel and/or equipment for the use of its student-athletes and staff, including Coach, during official practices and games and during times when Coach or the Team is being filmed by motion picture or video camera or posing for photographs in their capacity as representatives of University. Coach recognizes that the University has the authority to enter into an agreement with a company to supply the University with athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment. Coach agrees that, upon the University's reasonable request, Coach will consult with appropriate parties concerning a product's design or performance, shall act as an instructor at a clinic sponsored in whole or in part by the University's designated company, or give a lecture at an event sponsored in whole or in part by said company, or make other educationally-related appearances as may be reasonably requested by the University. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, Coach shall retain the right to decline such appearances as Coach reasonably determines to conflict with or hinder his duties and obligations as head basketball coach. In order to avoid entering into an agreement with a competitor of the University's designated company, Coach shall submit all outside consulting agreements to the University for review and approval prior to execution. Coach shall also report such outside income to the University in accordance with NCAA rules. Coach further agrees that Coach will not endorse any athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment products and will not participate in any messages or promotional appearances which contain a comparative or qualitative description of athletic footwear, apparel, or equipment products.

3.2.8 Away Game Guarantee. In the event the University schedules an away contest with a non-conference opponent for which a game guarantee is paid to the University by the host institution, the payment shall be distributed as follows: any amount of the game guarantee, will be split between (a) the Department and (b) the Coach and assistant coaches at the recommendation of Coach, subject to the Director's final approval.

3.3 General Conditions of Compensation. All compensation provided by the University to Coach is subject to deductions and withholdings as required by law or the terms and conditions of any fringe benefit in which Coach participates. However, if any fringe benefit is based in whole or in part upon the compensation provided by the University to Coach, such fringe benefit shall be based only on the compensation provided pursuant to section 3.1.1, except to the extent required by the terms and conditions of a specific fringe benefit program.

ARTICLE 4

4.1. Coach's Specific Duties and Responsibilities. In consideration of the compensation specified in this Agreement, Coach, in addition to the obligations set forth elsewhere in this Agreement, shall:

4.1.1. Devote Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement;

4.1.2. Develop and implement programs and procedures with respect to the evaluation, recruitment, training, and coaching of Team members which enable them to compete successfully and reasonably protect their health, safety, and well-being;

4.1.3. Observe and uphold all academic standards, requirements, and policies of the University and encourage Team members to perform to their highest academic potential and to graduate in a timely manner; and

4.1.4. Know, recognize, and comply with all applicable laws and the policies, rules and regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the conference of which the University is a member (the "Conference"), and the NCAA; supervise and take appropriate steps to ensure that Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, and the members of the Team know, recognize, and comply with all such laws, policies, rules and regulations; and immediately report to the Director and to the University's Director of NCAA Compliance if Coach has reasonable cause to believe that any person or entity, including without limitation representatives of the University's athletic interests, has violated or is likely to violate any such laws, policies, rules or regulations. Coach shall cooperate fully with the University and Department at all times. The names or titles of employees whom Coach supervises will be provided periodically to Coach by the University. The applicable laws, policies, rules, and regulations include: (a) State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures and Rule Manual; (b) the University's Policy Manual; (c) the policies of the Department; (d) NCAA rules and regulations; and (e) the rules and regulations of the Conference.

4.2 Outside Activities. Coach shall not undertake any business, professional or personal activities, or pursuits that would prevent Coach from devoting Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement, that would otherwise detract from those duties in any manner, or that, in the opinion of the University, would reflect adversely upon the University or its athletic program. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Coach may, with the prior written approval of the Director, who may consult with the President, enter into separate arrangements for outside activities and endorsements which are consistent with Coach's obligations under this Agreement. Coach may not use the University's name, logos, or trademarks in connection with any such arrangements without the prior written approval of the Director and the President.

4.3 Outside Income. In accordance with NCAA rules, Coach shall obtain prior written approval from the President and Director for all athletically related income and benefits from sources outside the University and shall report the source and amount of all such income and benefits to the University's President whenever reasonably requested, but in no event less than annually before the close of business on June 30th of each year or the last regular University work day preceding June 30th. The report shall be in a format reasonably satisfactory to University. In no event shall Coach accept or receive directly or indirectly any monies, benefits, or gratuities whatsoever from any person, association, corporation, University booster club, University alumni association, University foundation, or other benefactor, if the acceptance or receipt of the monies, benefits, or gratuities would violate applicable law or the policies, rules, and regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA. Sources of such income shall include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) income from annuities; (b) sports camps, clinics, speaking engagements, consultations, directorships, or related activities; (c) housing benefits (including preferential housing arrangements); (d) country club membership(s); (e) complimentary tickets (i.e., tickets to a Stampede game); (f) television and radio programs; (g) endorsement or consultation contracts with athletic shoe, apparel, or equipment manufacturers.

4.4 Hiring Authority. Coach shall have the responsibility and the sole authority to recommend to the Director the hiring and termination of assistant coaches for the Team, but the decision to hire or terminate an assistant coach shall be made by the Director and shall, when necessary or appropriate, be subject to the approval of President and the University's Board of Trustees.

4.5 Scheduling. Coach shall consult with, and may make recommendations to, the Director or the Director's designee with respect to the scheduling of the Team's competitions, but the final decision shall be made by the Director or the Director's designee.

4.6 Other Coaching Opportunities. Coach shall not, under any circumstances, interview for, negotiate for, or accept employment as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team, requiring performance of duties prior to the expiration of this Agreement, without the prior approval of the Director. Such approval shall not unreasonably be withheld. Without first giving ten (10) days prior written notice to the Director, Coach shall not negotiate for or accept employment, under any circumstances, as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team requiring the performance of the duties set forth herein.

4.7 Specific Duties of Coach. The Coach is expected to devote full-time to coaching and recruitment involving the Team as the head coach. The Coach will attend all staff meetings, public relation functions, dinners, awards banquet and make appearances as directed by the Director unless excused by the Director. Such functions shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

a) The annual BAA barbecue
b) The weekly BAA function during the relevant season;
c) The annual BAA Endowment dinner;
d) The BSU Athletic Hall of Fame dinner;
e) The BAA Bronze Bronco Award banquet;
f) The BAA/Alumni Auction dinner;
g) All Department staff meetings called by the Director;
h) Athletic Department Graduation Reception;
i) Bronco Golf Series Tournaments.

ARTICLE 5

5.1 Termination of Coach for Cause. The University may, in its discretion, suspend Coach from some or all of Coach's duties, temporarily or permanently, and with or without pay; reassign Coach to other duties; or terminate this Agreement at any time for good or adequate cause, as those terms are defined in applicable rules, regulations, and policies.

5.1.1 In addition to the definitions contained in applicable rules regulations, and policies, University and Coach hereby specifically agree that the following shall constitute good or adequate cause for suspension, reassignment, or termination of this Agreement.

a) A deliberate or major violation of Coach's duties under this Agreement or the refusal or unwillingness of Coach to perform such duties in good faith and to the best of Coach's abilities;

b) The failure of Coach to remedy any violation of any of the terms of this Agreement within thirty (30) days after written notice from the University;

c) A deliberate or major violation by Coach of any applicable law or the rules, regulations, or policies, of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference or the NCAA, including, but not limited to, any such violation which may have occurred during the employment of Coach at another NCAA or National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics ("NAIA") member institution;

d) Ten (10) working days absence of Coach from duty without the University's consent;

e) Any conduct of Coach that constitutes moral turpitude or that would, in the University's judgment, reflect adversely on the University or its athletic programs;

f) The failure of Coach to represent the University and its athletic programs positively in public and private forums;

g) The failure of Coach to fully and promptly cooperate with the NCAA or the University in any investigation of possible violations of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA;

h) The failure of Coach to report a known violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team; or

i) A violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team if Coach knew or should have known by ordinary supervision of the violation and could have prevented it by such ordinary supervision.

5.1.2 Suspension, reassignment, or termination for good or adequate cause shall be effectuated by the University as follows: before the effective date of the suspension, reassignment, or termination, the Director or Director's designee shall provide Coach with notice, which notice shall be accomplished in the manner provided for in this Agreement and shall include the reason(s) for the contemplated action. Coach shall then have an opportunity to respond. After Coach responds or fails to respond, University shall notify Coach whether, and if so when, the action will be effective.

5.1.3 In the event of any termination for good or adequate cause, the University's obligation to provide compensation and benefits to Coach, whether direct, indirect, supplemental or collateral, shall cease as of the date of such termination, and the University shall not be liable for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or other benefits, perquisites, or income resulting from outside activities or from any other sources.

5.1.4 If found in violation of NCAA regulations, Coach shall, in addition to the provisions of Section 5.1, be subject to disciplinary or corrective action as set forth in the provisions of the NCAA enforcement procedures. This section applies to violations occurring at the University or at previous institutions at which the Coach was employed.

5.2 Termination of Coach for Convenience of University.

5.2.1 At any time after commencement of this Agreement, University, for its own convenience, may terminate this Agreement by giving ten (10) days prior written notice to Coach.

5.2.2 In the event that University terminates this Agreement for its own convenience, University shall be obligated to pay Coach, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, the "base salary amount set forth in section 3.1.1(a), excluding all deductions required by law, on the regular paydays of University until the Term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment, whichever occurs first, provided, however, in the event Coach obtains other employment after such termination, then the amount of compensation the University pays will be adjusted and reduced by the amount of compensation paid Coach as a result of such other employment, such adjusted compensation to be calculated for each University pay-period by reducing the gross salary set forth in section 3.1.1(a) (before deductions required by law) by the gross compensation paid to Coach under the other employment, then subtracting from this adjusted gross compensation deduction according to law. In addition, Coach will be entitled to continue his health insurance plan and group life insurance as if he remained a University employee until the term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment or any other employment providing Coach with a reasonably comparable health plan and group life insurance, whichever occurs first. Coach shall be entitled to no other compensation or fringe benefits, except as otherwise provided herein or required by law. Coach specifically agrees to inform University within ten business days of obtaining other employment, and to advise University of all relevant terms of such employment, including without limitation the nature and location of the employment, salary, other compensation, health insurance benefits, life insurance benefits, and other fringe benefits.

Failure to so inform and advise University shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement and University's obligation to pay compensation under this provision shall end. Coach agrees not to accept employment for compensation at less than the fair market value of Coach's services, as determined by all circumstances existing at the time of employment. Coach further agrees to repay to University all compensation paid to him by University after the date he obtains other employment, to which he is not entitled under this provision.

5.2.3 The parties have both been represented by, or had the opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the Coach may lose certain benefits, supplemental compensation, or outside compensation relating to his employment with University, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by University and the acceptance thereof by Coach shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to Coach for the damages and injury suffered by Coach because of such termination by University. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty.

5.2.4 In the event of non-renewal or termination of Coach's employment, Coach will use all accumulated annual leave prior to the end of the contract period.

5.3 Termination by Coach for Convenience.

5.3.1 The Coach recognizes that his promise to work for University for the entire term of this Agreement is of the essence of this Agreement. The Coach also recognizes that the University is making a highly valuable investment in his employment by entering into this Agreement and that its investment would be lost were he to resign or otherwise terminate his employment with the University before the end of the contract Term.

5.3.2 The Coach, for his own convenience, may terminate this Agreement during its term by giving prior written notice to the University. Termination shall be effective ten (10) days after notice is given to the University. Such termination must occur at a time outside the Team's season (including NCAA post-season competition) so as to minimize the impact on the program.

5.3.3 If the Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience at any time, all obligations of the University shall cease as of the effective date of the termination. If the Coach terminates this Agreement for his convenience he shall pay to the University, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, for the breach of this Agreement the following sum: (a) if the Agreement is terminated on or before March 31, 2017, the sum of $40,000; (b) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, 2017 and March 31, 2018 inclusive, the sum of $20,000; (c) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, 2018 and March 16, 2019 inclusive, the sum of $10,000. The liquidated damages shall be due and payable within twenty (20) days of the effective date of the termination, and any unpaid amount shall bear simple interest at a rate eight (8) percent per annum until paid.

5.3.4 The parties have both had opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the University will incur administrative and recruiting costs in obtaining a replacement for Coach, in addition to potentially increased compensation costs if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by Coach and the acceptance thereof by University shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to University for the damages and injury suffered by it because of such termination by Coach. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty. This section 5.3.4 shall not apply if Coach terminated this Agreement because of a material breach by the University.

5.3.5 Except as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, he shall forfeit to the extent permitted by law his right to receive all supplemental compensation and other payments and all accumulated leave.

5.4 Termination Due to Disability or Death of Coach.

5.4.1 Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, this Agreement shall terminate automatically if Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the University's disability insurance carrier, becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, or dies.

5.4.2 If this Agreement is terminated because of Coach's death, Coach's salary and all other benefits shall terminate as of the last day worked, except that the Coach's personal representative or other designated beneficiary shall be paid all compensation due or unpaid and death benefits, if any, as may be contained in any fringe benefit plan now in force or hereafter adopted by the University and due to the Coach's estate or beneficiaries thereunder.

5.4.3 If this Agreement is terminated because the Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the University's disability insurance carrier, or becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, all salary and other benefits shall terminate, except that the Coach shall be entitled to receive any compensation due or unpaid and any disability-related benefits to which he is entitled by virtue of employment with the University.

5.5 Interference by Coach. In the event of termination, suspension, or reassignment, Coach agrees that Coach will not interfere with the University's student-athletes or otherwise obstruct the University's ability to transact business or operate its intercollegiate athletics program.

5.6 No Liability. The University shall not be liable to Coach for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or any other benefits, perquisites or income from any sources that may ensue as a result of any termination of this Agreement by either party or due to death or disability or the suspension or reassignment of Coach, regardless of the circumstances.

5.7 Waiver of Rights. Because the Coach is receiving a multi-year contract and the opportunity to receive supplemental compensation and because such contracts and opportunities are not customarily afforded to University employees, if the University suspends or reassigns Coach, or terminates this Agreement for good or adequate cause or for convenience, Coach shall have all the rights provided for in this Agreement but hereby releases the University from compliance with the notice, appeal, and similar employment-related rights provided for in the State Board of Education and Board Rule Manual (ID ADMIN. CODE 08.01.01 et seq) and Governing Policies and Procedures Manual, and the University Policies.

6.1 Board Approval. This Agreement shall not be effective until and unless approved of the University's Board of Trustees and executed by both parties as set forth below. In addition, the payment of any compensation pursuant to this Agreement shall be subject to the approval of the University's Board of Trustees, the President, and the Director; the sufficiency of legislative appropriations; the receipt of sufficient funds in the account from which such compensation is paid; and the Board of Trustees and University's rules regarding financial exigency.

6.2 University Property. All personal property, material, and articles of information, including, without limitation, keys, credit cards, personnel records, recruiting records, team information, films, statistics or any other personal property, material, or data, furnished to Coach by the University or developed by Coach on behalf of the University or at the University's direction or for the University's use or otherwise in connection with Coach's employment hereunder are and shall remain the sole property of the University. Within twenty-four (24) hours of the expiration of the Term of this Agreement or its earlier termination as provided herein, Coach shall immediately cause any such personal property, materials, and articles of information in Coach's possession or control to be delivered to the Director.

6.3 Assignment. Neither party may assign its rights or delegate its obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party.

6.4 Waiver. No waiver of any default in the performance of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing and signed by the waiving party. The waiver of a particular breach in the performance of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach. The resort to a particular remedy upon a breach shall not constitute a waiver of any other available remedies.

6.5 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected and shall remain in effect.

6.6 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be subject to and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Idaho as an agreement to be performed in Idaho. Any action based in whole or in part on this Agreement shall be brought in the state district court in Ada County, Boise, Idaho.

6.7 Oral Promises. Oral promises of an increase in annual salary or of any supplemental or other compensation shall not be binding upon the University.

6.8 Force Majeure. Any prevention, delay or stoppage due to strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials or reasonable substitutes therefore, governmental restrictions, governmental regulations, governmental controls, enemy or hostile governmental action, civil commotion, fire or other casualty, and other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party obligated to perform (including financial inability), shall excuse the performance by such party for a period equal to any such prevention, delay or stoppage.

6.9 Non-Confidentiality. The Coach hereby consents and agrees that this document may be released and made available to the public after it is signed by the Coach. The Coach further agrees that all documents and reports he is required to produce under this Agreement may be released and made available to the public at the University's sole discretion.

6.10 Notices. Any notice under this Agreement shall be in writing and be delivered in person or by public or private courier service (including U.S. Postal Service Express Mail) or certified mail with return receipt requested or by facsimile. All notices shall be addressed to the parties at the following addresses or at such other addresses as the parties may from time to time direct in writing:

the University:	Director of Athletics Boise State University 1910 University Drive Boise, Idaho 83725-1020
with a copy to:	Office of the President Boise State University 1910 University Drive Boise, Idaho 83725-1000
the Coach:	Gordon H. Presnell Last known address on file with University's Human Resource Services

Any notice shall be deemed to have been given on the earlier of: (a) actual delivery or refusal to accept delivery, (b) the date of mailing by certified mail, or (c) the day facsimile delivery is verified. Actual notice, however and from whomever received, shall always be effective.

6.11 Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation hereof.

6.12 Binding Effect. This Agreement is for the benefit only of the parties hereto and shall inure to the benefit of and bind the parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

6.13 Non-Use of Names and Trademarks. The Coach shall not, without the University's prior written consent in each case, use any name, trade name, trademark, or other designation of the University (including contraction, abbreviation or simulation), except in the course and scope of his official University duties.

6.14 No Third Party Beneficiaries. There are no intended or unintended third party beneficiaries to this Agreement.

6.15 Entire Agreement; Amendments. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings with respect to the same subject matter. No amendment or modification of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing, signed by both parties, and approved by University's Board of Trustees.

6.16 Opportunity to Consult with Attorney. The Coach acknowledges that he has had the opportunity to consult and review this Agreement with an attorney. Accordingly, in all cases, the language of this Agreement shall be construed simply, according to its fair meaning, and not strictly for or against any party.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties agree to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the incorporated documents attached hereto and have executed this Agreement freely and agree to be bound hereby as of the Effective Date.

EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

This Employment Agreement (the "Agreement~~)~~") is entered into by and between ~~____________________ (~~Boise State University (~~College)),~~the "University") and ~~____________________ (~~Gordon H. Presnell ("Coach~~).~~").

1.1. Employment. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the University ~~(College)~~ shall employ Coach as the head coach (the "Position") of its intercollegiate ~~(Sport)~~ Women's Basketball team (the "Team~~) (or Director of Athletics).~~"). Coach ~~(Director)~~ represents and warrants that Coach is fully qualified to serve, and is available for employment, in this capacity.

1.2. Reporting Relationship. Coach shall report and be responsible directly to the ~~University (College)'s~~University's Director of Athletics (the "Director") or the Director's designee. Coach shall abide by the reasonable instructions of the Director or the ~~Director's~~Director's designee and shall confer with the Director or the Director's designee on all administrative and technical matters. Coach shall also be under the general supervision of the ~~University (College)'s Chief executive officer (Chief executive officer).~~University's President (the "President").

1.3. Duties. Coach shall manage and supervise the Team and shall perform such other duties in the ~~University (College)'s~~University's athletic program as the Director may assign and as may be described elsewhere in this Agreement. Coach shall, to the best of Coach's ability, and consistent with University policies and procedures, perform all duties and responsibilities customarily associated with the Position. The University ~~(College)~~ shall have the right, at any time, to reassign Coach to duties at the University ~~(College)~~ other than as head coach of the Team, provided that Coach's compensation and benefits shall not be affected by any such reassignment, except that the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation as provided in sections 3.2.1 through ~~(Depending on supplemental pay provisions used)~~ 3.2.7 shall cease.

2.1. Term. This Agreement is for a fixed-term appointment of ~~______ (___~~two (2) years seven (7) months, commencing on ~~__________~~August 14, 2016 and terminating~~,~~ without further notice to Coach~~,~~ on ~~__________~~March 31, 2019 (the "Term") unless sooner terminated in accordance with other provisions of this Agreement.

~~2.2.~~ ~~Extension or~~ 2.2 Renewal. This Agreement is renewable solely upon an offer from the University ~~(College)~~ and an acceptance by Coach, both of which must be in writing and signed by the parties. Any renewal is subject to the prior approval of ~~the~~University's Board of ~~Education~~Trustees. This Agreement in no way grants to Coach a claim to tenure in employment, nor shall Coach's service pursuant to this ~~agreement~~Agreement count in any way toward tenure at the University ~~(College)~~.

2.3 Automatic Extensions. The term of this Agreement will automatically be extended by one (1) additional year commencing on April 1 and concluding on March 31 for each season in which the team has at least eighteen (18) wins. For the purpose of calculation of wins, such wins must occur during the regular season, the conference tournament, the Women's National Invitation Tournament ("WNIT"), or the National Collegiate Athletic Association ("NCAA") Tournament, to the exclusion of all other pre-season exhibition games or post-season tournaments.

ARTICLE 3

3.1 Regular Compensation.

3.1.1 In consideration of Coach's services and satisfactory performance of this Agreement, the University ~~(College)~~ shall provide to Coach:

a) ~~a)~~ ~~An annual~~A salary of ~~$~~$220,000 per year, payable in biweekly installments in accordance with normal University ~~(College)~~ procedures, and such salary increases as may be determined appropriate by the Director and ~~Chief executive officer~~President and approved by the ~~University (College)'s~~University's Board of ~~(Regents or~~ Trustees~~)~~;

~~b) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits as the University (College) provides generally to non-faculty exempt employees; and~~

b) A one-time bonus payment of $3,875, which shall be paid after execution of this Agreement;

c) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits calculated on the "base salary" set forth in set forth in section 3.1.1(a) as the University ~~(College)'s~~provides generally to non-faculty exempt employees; and

d) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits as the University's Department of Athletics (the "Department~~)~~") provides generally to its employees of a comparable level. Coach hereby agrees to abide by the terms and conditions, as now existing or hereafter amended, of such employee benefits.

3.2 Supplemental Compensation. Coach may earn supplemental compensation as follows:

~~3.2.1. Each year the Team is the conference champion or co-champion and also becomes eligible for a (bowl game pursuant to NCAA Division I guidelines or post-season tournament or post-season playoffs) , and if Coach continues to be employed as University (College)'s head (Sport) coach as of the ensuing July 1st, the University (College) shall pay to Coach supplemental compensation in an amount equal to (amount or computation) of Coach's Annual Salary during the fiscal year in which the championship and (bowl or other post-season) eligibility are achieved. The University (College) shall determine the appropriate manner in which it shall pay Coach any such supplemental compensation.~~

~~3.2.2 Each year the Team is ranked in the top 25 in the (national rankings of sport's division) , and if Coach continues to be employed as University (College)'s head (Sport) coach as of the ensuing July 1st, the University (College) shall pay Coach supplemental compensation in an amount equal to (amount or computation) of Coach's Annual Salary in effect on the date of the final poll. The University (College) shall determine the appropriate manner in which it shall pay Coach any such supplemental compensation.~~

a) The greatest of the following:

11 conference wins	$2,000
12 conference wins	$3,000
13 conference wins	$4,000
14+ conference wins	$7,500
Conference Regular Season Champions	$12,500

b) The greater of the following two:

Conference Tournament Finalist	$3,000
Conference Tournament Champions	$12,500

c) NCAA Tournament Appearance $5,000 per game

d) WNIT Appearance $3,000 per game

e) 18 Wins $6,000

3.2.2 Academic Achievement

Academic Incentive Pay may be earned if annual team APR ranks nationally within women's basketball as follows:

National Rank Within Sport
975-980	=	$5,000
981-985	=	$7,500
986-990	=	$10,000
991 or above	=	$12,500

3.2.3 Conditions for payment of Academic and Athletic supplemental compensation:

a. If Coach qualifies for Athletic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.1, University will pay Coach on the first regular pay date in July, following the year in which such supplemental compensation is calculated but only if Coach is still employed by the University on that date. Ranking shall be determined based on NCAA National End of Season Ranking.

b. If Coach qualifies for Academic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.2, it will be paid as soon as reasonably practical following APR rating determination and verification by the NCAA, if Coach is still employed by the University on that date.

c. In order to receive any of the 3.2.1 supplemental compensation, the Team's retention rate must be at least 50% for the academic year in which the supplemental pay is earned. The retention rate will be calculated anew each year and will not be cumulative.

3.2.4 Each year Coach ~~shall~~may be eligible to receive supplemental compensation ~~in an amount up to (amount or computation) based on the academic achievement and behavior of Team members. The determination of whether Coach will receive such supplemental compensation and the timing of the payment(s) shall be at the discretion of the Chief executive officer in consultation with the Director. The determination shall be based on the following factors: the Academic Progress Rate set by the Board, grade point averages; difficulty of major course of study; honors such as scholarships, designation as Academic All-American, and conference academic recognition; progress toward graduation for all athletes, but particularly those who entered the University (College) as academically at-risk students; the conduct of Team members on the University (College) campus, at authorized University (College) activities, in the community, and elsewhere. Any such supplemental compensation paid~~

~~3.2.4 Each year Coach shall be eligible to receive supplemental compensation in an amount up to (amount or computation)~~ based on the overall development of the intercollegiate ~~(men's/women's) (Sport)~~ women's basketball program; ticket sales; fundraising; outreach by Coach to various constituency groups, including University ~~(College)~~ students, staff, faculty, alumni and boosters; and any other factors the ~~Chief executive officer~~President wishes to consider. The determination of whether Coach will receive such supplemental compensation and the timing of the payment(s) shall be at the sole discretion of the ~~Chief executive officer~~President in consultation with the Director and approved by the University's Board of Trustees.

3.2.5 The Coach ~~shall~~may receive ~~the sum of (amount or computation)~~ compensation hereunder from the ~~University (College) or the University (College)'s~~University's designated media outlet(s) or a combination thereof each year during the term of this Agreement in compensation for participation in media programs and public appearances (~~Programs). Coach's right to receive such a payment shall vest on the date of the Team's last regular season or post-season competition, whichever occurs later. This sum shall be paid (terms or conditions of payment) .~~collectively, "Programs"). Agreements requiring the Coach to participate in Programs related to his duties as an employee of University ~~(College)~~ are the property of the University ~~(College)~~. The University ~~(College)~~ shall have the exclusive right to negotiate and contract with all producers of media productions and all parties desiring public appearances by the Coach. Coach agrees to cooperate with the University ~~(College)~~ in order for the Programs to be successful and agrees to provide his services to and perform on the Programs and to cooperate in their production, broadcasting, and telecasting. It is understood that neither Coach nor any assistant coaches shall appear without the prior written approval of the Director on any competing radio or television program (including, but not limited to, a coach's show, call-in show, or interview show) or a regularly scheduled news segment, except that this prohibition shall not apply to routine news media interviews for which no compensation is received. Without the prior written approval of the Director, Coach shall not appear in any commercial endorsements, which are broadcast on radio or television that conflict with those broadcast on the ~~University (College)'s~~University's designated media outlets.

3.2.6 ~~(SUMMER CAMP—OPERATED BY UNIVERSITY (COLLEGE))~~Summer Camp Operated by the University. Coach agrees that the University ~~(College)~~ has the exclusive right to operate youth ~~(Sport)~~ basketball camps on its campus using University ~~(College)~~ facilities. The University ~~(College)~~ shall allow Coach the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation by assisting with the ~~University (College)'s~~University's camps in ~~Coach's~~Coach's capacity as a University ~~(College)~~ employee. Coach hereby agrees to assist in the marketing, supervision, and general administration of the ~~University (College)'s football~~University's basketball camps. Coach also agrees that Coach will perform all obligations mutually agreed upon by the parties. In exchange for Coach's participation in the ~~University (College)'s~~University's summer ~~football~~basketball camps, ~~–~~the University ~~(College)~~ shall pay Coach ~~_(amount)__ per year as~~a reasonable supplemental compensation during each year of his employment as head ~~(Sport)~~ coach at the University. The summer youth camp must be operated by Coach in a manner that reflects positively on the University ~~(College). This amount~~and the Department. The Coach complies with all NCAA, Conference, and University rules and regulations related, directly or indirectly, to the operation of summer youth camps. All revenues and expenses of the Camp shall be deposited with and paid ~~__(terms of payment)______~~by the University.

~~(SUMMER CAMP—OPERATED BY COACH) Coach may operate a summer youth _(Sport)__ camp at the University (College) under the following conditions:~~

~~a) The summer youth camp operation reflects positively on the University (College) and the Department;~~

~~b) The summer youth camp is operated by Coach directly or through a private enterprise owned and managed by Coach. The Coach shall not use University (College) personnel, equipment, or facilities without the prior written approval of the Director;~~

~~c) Assistant coaches at the University (College) are given priority when the Coach or the private enterprise selects coaches to participate;~~

~~d) The Coach complies with all NCAA (NAIA), Conference, and University (College) rules and regulations related, directly or indirectly, to the operation of summer youth camps;~~

~~e) The Coach or the private enterprise enters into a contract with University (College) and ____________ (campus concessionaire) for all campus goods and services required by the camp.~~

~~f) The Coach or private enterprise pays for use of University (College) facilities including the ____________.~~

~~g) Within thirty days of the last day of the summer youth camp(s), Coach shall submit to the Director a preliminary "Camp Summary Sheet" containing financial and other information related to the operation of the camp. Within ninety days of the last day of the summer youth camp(s),~~

~~Coach shall submit to Director a final accounting and "Camp Summary Sheet." A copy of the "Camp Summary Sheet" is attached to this Agreement as an exhibit.~~

~~h) The Coach or the private enterprise shall provide proof of liability insurance as follows: (1) liability coverage: spectator and staff--$1 million; (2) catastrophic coverage: camper and staff--$1 million maximum coverage with $100 deductible;~~

~~i) To the extent permitted by law, the Coach or the private enterprise shall defend and indemnify the University (College) against any claims, damages, or liabilities arising out of the operation of the summer youth camp(s)~~

~~j) All employees of the summer youth camp(s) shall be employees of the Coach or the private enterprise and not the University (College) while engaged in camp activities. The Coach and all other University (College) employees involved in the operation of the camp(s) shall be on annual leave status or leave without pay during the days the camp is in operation. The Coach or private enterprise shall provide workers' compensation insurance in accordance with Idaho law and comply in all respects with all federal and state wage and hour laws~~

In the event of termination of this Agreement, suspension, or reassignment, University ~~(College)~~ shall not be under any obligation to permit a summer youth camp to be held by the Coach after the effective date of such termination, suspension, or reassignment, and the University ~~(College)~~ shall be released from all obligations relating thereto.

3.2.7 Coach agrees that the University ~~(College)~~ has the exclusive right to select footwear, apparel and/or equipment for the use of its student-athletes and staff, including Coach, during official practices and games and during times when Coach or the Team is being filmed by motion picture or video camera or posing for photographs in their capacity as representatives of University ~~(College)~~. Coach recognizes that the University ~~(College) is negotiating or~~ has ~~entered~~the authority to enter into agreement with ~~(Company Name)~~ a company to supply the University ~~(College)~~ with athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment. Coach agrees that, upon the ~~University (College)'s~~University's reasonable request, Coach will consult with appropriate parties concerning ~~an (Company Name)~~ a product's design or performance, shall act as an instructor at a clinic sponsored in whole or in part by ~~(Company Name)~~ the University's designated company, or give a lecture at an event sponsored in whole or in part by ~~(Company Name)~~ said company, or make other educationally-related appearances as may be reasonably requested by the University ~~(College)~~. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, Coach shall retain the right to decline such appearances as Coach reasonably determines to conflict with or hinder his duties and obligations as head ~~(Sport)~~ basketball coach. In order to avoid entering into an agreement with a competitor of ~~(Company Name)~~ the University's designated company, Coach shall submit all outside consulting agreements to the University ~~(College)~~ for review and approval prior to execution. Coach shall also report such outside income to the University ~~(College)~~ in accordance with NCAA ~~(or NAIA)~~ rules. Coach further agrees that Coach will not endorse any athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment products~~, including (Company Name),~~ and will not participate in any messages or promotional appearances which contain a comparative or qualitative description of athletic footwear, apparel, or equipment products.

3.2.8 Away Game Guarantee. In the event the University schedules an away contest with a non-conference opponent for which a game guarantee is paid to the University by the host institution, the payment shall be distributed as follows: any amount of the game guarantee, will be split between (a) the Department and (b) the Coach and assistant coaches at the recommendation of Coach, subject to the Director's final approval.

3.3 General Conditions of Compensation. All compensation provided by the University ~~(College)~~ to Coach is subject to deductions and withholdings as required by law or the terms and conditions of any fringe benefit in which Coach participates. However, if any fringe benefit is based in whole or in part upon the compensation provided by the University ~~(College)~~ to Coach, such fringe benefit shall be based only on the compensation provided pursuant to section 3.1.1, except to the extent required by the terms and conditions of a specific fringe benefit program.

ARTICLE 4

4.1. Coach's Specific Duties and Responsibilities. In consideration of the compensation specified in this Agreement, Coach, in addition to the obligations set forth elsewhere in this Agreement, shall:

4.1.1. Devote Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement;

4.1.2. Develop and implement programs and procedures with respect to the evaluation, recruitment, training, and coaching of Team members which enable them to compete successfully and reasonably protect their health, safety, and well-being;

4.1.3. Observe and uphold all academic standards, requirements, and policies of the University ~~(College)~~ and encourage Team members to perform to their highest academic potential and to graduate in a timely manner; and

4.1.4. Know, recognize, and comply with all applicable laws and the policies, rules and regulations of the University ~~(College),~~, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's governing board, the conference~~,~~ of which the University is a member (the "Conference"), and the NCAA ~~(or NAIA);~~; supervise and take appropriate steps to ensure that Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, and the members of the Team know, recognize, and comply with all such laws, policies, rules and regulations; and immediately report to the Director and to the ~~Department's~~University's Director of NCAA Compliance if Coach has reasonable cause to believe that any person or entity, including without limitation representatives of the ~~University (College)'s~~University's athletic interests, has violated or is likely to violate any such laws, policies, rules or regulations. Coach shall cooperate fully with the University ~~(College)~~ and Department at all times. The names or titles of employees whom Coach supervises ~~are attached as Exhibit C.~~will be provided periodically to Coach by the University. The applicable laws, policies, rules, and regulations include: (a) State Board of Education ~~and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho~~ Governing Policies and Procedures and Rule Manual; (b) ~~University (College)'s Handbook; (c) University (College)'s Administrative Procedures~~the University's Policy Manual; (~~d~~c) the policies of the Department; (~~e~~d) NCAA ~~(or NAIA)~~ rules and regulations; and (~~f~~e) the rules and regulations of the ~~(Sport) conference of which the University (College) is a member~~Conference.

4.2 Outside Activities. Coach shall not undertake any business, professional or personal activities, or pursuits that would prevent Coach from devoting Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement, that would otherwise detract from those duties in any manner, or that, in the opinion of the University~~ (College),~~, would reflect adversely upon the University~~ (College)~~ or its athletic program. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Coach may, with the prior written approval of the Director, who may consult with the ~~Chief executive officer~~President, enter into separate arrangements for outside activities and endorsements which are consistent with ~~Coach's~~Coach's obligations under this Agreement. Coach may not use the ~~University (College)'s~~University's name, logos, or trademarks in connection with any such arrangements without the prior written approval of the Director and the ~~Chief executive officer~~President.

4.3 ~~NCAA (or NAIA) Rules.~~Outside Income. In accordance with NCAA ~~(or NAIA)~~ rules, Coach shall obtain prior written approval from the ~~University (College)'s Chief executive officer~~President and Director for all athletically related income and benefits from sources outside the University ~~(College)~~ and shall report the source and amount of all such income and benefits to the ~~University (College)'s Chief executive officer~~University's President whenever reasonably requested, but in no event less than annually before the close of business on June 30th of each year or the last regular University ~~(College)~~ work day preceding June 30th. The report shall be in a format reasonably satisfactory to University~~ (College).~~. In no event shall Coach accept or receive directly or indirectly any monies, benefits, or gratuities whatsoever from any person, association, corporation, University ~~(College)~~ booster club, University ~~(College)~~ alumni association, University~~ (College)~~ foundation, or other benefactor, if the acceptance or receipt of the monies, benefits, or gratuities would violate applicable law or the policies, rules, and regulations of the University~~ (College), the University (College)'s governing board, the conference, or the NCAA (or NAIA).~~, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA. Sources of such income shall include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) income from annuities; (b) sports camps, clinics, speaking engagements, consultations, directorships, or related activities; (c) housing benefits (including preferential housing arrangements); (d) country club membership(s); (e) complimentary tickets (i.e., tickets to a Stampede game); (f) television and radio programs; (g) endorsement or consultation contracts with athletic shoe, apparel, or equipment manufacturers.

4.4 Hiring Authority. Coach shall have the responsibility and the sole authority to recommend to the Director the hiring and termination of assistant coaches for the Team, but the decision to hire or terminate an assistant coach shall be made by the Director and shall, when necessary or appropriate, be subject to the approval of ~~Chief executive officer~~President and the ~~University (College)'s~~University's Board of ~~(~~Trustees ~~or Regents)~~.

4.5 Scheduling. Coach shall consult with, and may make recommendations to, the Director or the Director's designee with respect to the scheduling of ~~Team~~the Team's competitions, but the final decision shall be made by the Director or the Director's designee.

4.6 Other Coaching Opportunities. Coach shall not, under any circumstances, interview for, negotiate for, or accept employment as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team, requiring performance of duties prior to the expiration of this Agreement, without the prior approval of the Director. Such approval shall not unreasonably be withheld. Without first giving ten (10) days prior written notice to the Director, Coach shall not negotiate for or accept employment, under any circumstances, as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team requiring the performance of the duties set forth herein.

4.7 Specific Duties of Coach. The Coach is expected to devote full-time to coaching and recruitment involving the Team as the head coach. The Coach will attend all staff meetings, public relation functions, dinners, awards banquet and make appearances as directed by the Director unless excused by the Director. Such functions shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

a) The annual BAA barbecue
b) The weekly BAA function during the relevant season;

5.1 Termination of Coach for Cause. The University ~~(College)~~ may, in its discretion, suspend Coach from some or all of Coach's duties, temporarily or permanently, and with or without pay; reassign Coach to other duties; or terminate this Agreement at any time for good or adequate cause, as those terms are defined in applicable rules ~~and~~, regulations, and policies.

5.1.1 In addition to the definitions contained in applicable rules ~~and~~ regulations, and policies, University ~~(College)~~ and Coach hereby specifically agree that the following shall constitute good or adequate cause for suspension, reassignment, or termination of this Agreement~~:~~.

a) A deliberate or major violation of Coach's duties under this ~~agreement~~Agreement or the refusal or unwillingness of Coach to perform such duties in good faith and to the best of Coach's abilities;

b) The failure of Coach to remedy any violation of any of the terms of this ~~agreement~~Agreement within thirty (30) days after written notice from the University ~~(College);~~;

c) A deliberate or major violation by Coach of any applicable law or the ~~policies,~~ rules ~~or~~, regulations, or policies, of the University ~~(College),~~, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's governing board, the ~~conference~~Conference or the NCAA ~~(NAIA),~~, including, but not limited to, any such violation which may have occurred during the employment of Coach at another NCAA or ~~NAIA~~National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics ("NAIA") member institution;

d) Ten (10) working ~~days'~~days absence of Coach from duty without the ~~University (College)'s~~University's consent;

e) Any conduct of Coach that constitutes moral turpitude or that would, in the ~~University (College)'s~~University's judgment, reflect adversely on the University ~~(College)~~ or its athletic programs;

f) The failure of Coach to represent the University ~~(College)~~ and its athletic programs positively in public and private forums;

g) ~~g)~~ The failure of Coach to fully and promptly cooperate with the NCAA ~~(NAIA)~~ or the University ~~(College)~~ in any investigation of possible violations of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University ~~(College),~~, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's governing board, the ~~conference~~Conference, or the NCAA ~~(NAIA);~~;

h) ~~h)~~ The failure of Coach to report a known violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University ~~(College),~~, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's governing board, the ~~conference~~Conference, or the NCAA ~~(NAIA),~~, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team; or

i) ~~i)~~ A violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University~~ (College)~~, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's governing board, the ~~conference~~Conference, or the NCAA~~ (NAIA)~~, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team if Coach knew or should have known by ordinary supervision of the violation and could have prevented it by such ordinary supervision.

5.1.2 Suspension, reassignment, or termination for good or adequate cause shall be effectuated by the University ~~(College)~~ as follows: before the effective date of the suspension, reassignment, or termination, the Director or ~~his~~Director's designee shall provide Coach with notice, which notice shall be accomplished in the manner provided for in this Agreement and shall include the reason(s) for the contemplated action. Coach shall then have an opportunity to respond. After Coach responds or fails to respond, University ~~(College)~~ shall notify Coach whether, and if so when, the action will be effective.

5.1.3 In the event of any termination for good or adequate cause, the ~~University (College)'s~~University's obligation to provide compensation and benefits to Coach, whether direct, indirect, supplemental or collateral, shall cease as of the date of such termination, and the University ~~(College)~~ shall not be liable for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or other benefits, perquisites, or income resulting from outside activities or from any other sources.

5.1.4 If found in violation of NCAA ~~(NAIA)~~ regulations, Coach shall, in addition to the provisions of Section 5.1, be subject to disciplinary or corrective action as set forth in the provisions of the NCAA ~~(NAIA)~~ enforcement procedures. This section applies to violations occurring at the University~~ (College)~~ or at previous institutions at which the Coach was employed.

5.2 ~~5.2~~ Termination of Coach for Convenience of University~~ (College).~~ .

5.2.1 ~~5.2.1~~ At any time after commencement of this Agreement, University ~~(College)~~, for its own convenience, may terminate this Agreement by giving ten (10) days prior written notice to Coach.

5.2.2 ~~5.2.2~~ In the event that University ~~(College)~~ terminates this Agreement for its own convenience, University ~~(College)~~ shall be obligated to pay Coach, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, the "base salary amount set forth in section 3.1.1(a), excluding all deductions required by law, on the regular paydays of University ~~(College)~~ until the ~~term~~Term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment, whichever occurs first, provided, however, in the event Coach obtains other employment after such termination, then the amount of compensation the University pays will be adjusted and reduced by the amount of compensation paid Coach as a result of such other employment, such adjusted compensation to be calculated for each University pay-period by reducing the gross salary set forth in section 3.1.1(a) (before deductions required by law) by the gross compensation paid to Coach under the other employment, then subtracting from this adjusted gross compensation ~~deductions~~deduction according to law. In addition, Coach will be entitled to continue his health insurance plan and group life insurance as if he remained a University ~~(College)~~ employee until the term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment or any other employment providing Coach with a reasonably comparable health plan and group life insurance, whichever occurs first. Coach shall be entitled to no other compensation or fringe benefits, except as otherwise provided herein or required by law. Coach specifically agrees to inform University within ten business days of obtaining other employment, and to advise University of all relevant terms of such employment, including without limitation the nature and location of the employment, salary, other compensation, health insurance benefits, life insurance benefits, and other fringe benefits. Failure to so inform and advise University shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement and University's obligation to pay compensation under this provision shall end. Coach agrees not to accept employment for compensation at less than the fair market value of Coach's services, as determined by all circumstances existing at the time of employment. Coach further agrees to repay to University all compensation paid to him by University after the date he obtains other employment, to which he is not entitled under this provision.

5.2.3 ~~5.2.3~~ The parties have both been represented by, or had the opportunity to ~~consult with,~~be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the Coach may lose certain benefits, supplemental compensation, or outside compensation relating to his employment with University ~~(College),~~, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by University ~~(College)~~ and the acceptance thereof by Coach shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to Coach for the damages and injury suffered by Coach because of such termination by University ~~(College)~~. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty.

5.2.4 ~~5.3~~ In the event of non-renewal or termination of Coach's employment, Coach will use all accumulated annual leave prior to the end of the contract period.

5.3 Termination by Coach for Convenience.

5.3.1 ~~5.3.1~~ The Coach recognizes that his promise to work for University ~~(College)~~ for the entire term of this Agreement is of the essence of this Agreement. The Coach also recognizes that the University ~~(College)~~ is making a highly valuable investment in his employment by entering into this Agreement and that its investment would be lost were he to resign or otherwise terminate his employment with the University ~~(College)~~ before the end of the contract ~~term~~Term.

5.3.2 ~~5.3.2~~ The Coach, for his own convenience, may terminate this Agreement during its term by giving prior written notice to the University ~~(College)~~. Termination shall be effective ten (10) days after notice is given to the University ~~(College)~~.

Such termination must occur at a time outside the Team's season (including NCAA post-season competition) so as to minimize the impact on the program.

5.3.3 ~~5.3.3~~ If the Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience at any time, all obligations of the University ~~(College)~~ shall cease as of the effective date of the termination. If the Coach terminates this Agreement for his convenience he shall pay to the University ~~(College),~~, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, for the breach of this Agreement the following sum: ~~_____________________.~~ (a) if the Agreement is terminated on or before March 31, 2017, the sum of $40,000; (b) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, 2017 and March 31, 2018 inclusive, the sum of $20,000; (c) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, 2018 and March 16, 2019 inclusive, the sum of $10,000. The liquidated damages shall be due and payable within twenty (20) days of the effective date of the termination, and any unpaid amount shall bear simple interest at a rate eight (8) percent per annum until paid.

5.3.4 ~~5.3.4~~ The parties have both ~~been~~had opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the University ~~(College)~~ will incur administrative and recruiting costs in obtaining a replacement for Coach, in addition to potentially increased compensation costs if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by Coach and the acceptance thereof by University ~~(College)~~ shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to University ~~(College)~~ for the damages and injury suffered by it because of such termination by Coach. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty. This section 5.3.4 shall not apply if Coach ~~terminates~~terminated this Agreement because of a material breach by the University ~~(College)~~..

5.3.5 ~~5.3.5~~ Except as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, he shall forfeit to the extent permitted by law his right to receive all supplemental compensation and other payments and all accumulated leave.

5.4 ~~5.4~~ Termination ~~due~~Due to Disability or Death of Coach.

5.4.1 ~~5.4.1~~ Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, this Agreement shall terminate automatically if Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the ~~University (College)'s~~University's disability insurance carrier, becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, or dies.

5.4.2 ~~5.4.2~~ If this Agreement is terminated because of ~~Coach's~~Coach's death, ~~Coach's~~Coach's salary and all other benefits shall terminate as of the last day worked, except that the ~~Coach's~~Coach's personal representative or other designated beneficiary shall be paid all compensation due or unpaid and death benefits, if any, as may be contained in any fringe benefit plan now in force or hereafter adopted by the University ~~(College)~~ and due to the ~~Coach's~~Coach's estate or beneficiaries thereunder.

5.4.3 ~~5.4.3~~ If this Agreement is terminated because the Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the ~~University (College)'s~~University's disability insurance carrier, or becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, all salary and other benefits shall terminate, except that the Coach shall be entitled to receive any compensation due or unpaid and any disability-related benefits to which he is entitled by virtue of employment with the University~~ (College).~~.

5.5 Interference by Coach. In the event of termination, suspension, or reassignment, Coach agrees that Coach will not interfere with the ~~University (College)'s~~University's student-athletes or otherwise obstruct the ~~University (College)'s~~University's ability to transact business or operate its intercollegiate athletics program.

5.6 No Liability. The University~~ (College)~~ shall not be liable to Coach for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or any other benefits, perquisites or income from any sources that may ensue as a result of any termination of this Agreement by either party or due to death or disability or the suspension or reassignment of Coach, regardless of the circumstances.

5.7 Waiver of Rights. Because the Coach is receiving a multi-year contract and the opportunity to receive supplemental compensation and because such contracts and opportunities are not customarily afforded to University ~~(College)~~ employees, if the University~~ (College)~~ suspends or reassigns Coach, or terminates this Agreement for good or adequate cause or for convenience, Coach shall have all the rights provided for in this Agreement but hereby releases the University ~~(College)~~ from compliance with the notice, appeal, and similar employment-related rights ~~provide~~provided for in the State Board of Education and Board Rule Manual (ID ADMIN. CODE 08.01.01 et seq) and Governing Policies and Procedures~~, IDAPA 08.01.01 et seq.,~~ Manual, and the University ~~(College) Faculty-Staff Handbook~~Policies.

6.1 Board Approval. This Agreement shall not be effective until and unless approved of the ~~University (College)'s~~University's Board of ~~(Regents or~~ Trustees~~)~~ and executed by both parties as set forth below. In addition, the payment of any compensation pursuant to this ~~agreement~~Agreement shall be subject to the approval of the ~~University (College)'s~~University's Board of ~~(Regents or~~ Trustees~~)~~, the ~~Chief executive officer~~President, and the Director; the sufficiency of legislative appropriations; the receipt of sufficient funds in the account from which such compensation is paid; and the Board of ~~(Regents or~~ Trustees~~)~~ and ~~University (College)'s~~University's rules regarding financial exigency.

6.2 University ~~(College)~~ Property. All personal property~~ (excluding vehicle(s) provided through the ____________ program),~~, material, and articles of information, including, without limitation, keys, credit cards, personnel records, recruiting records, team information, films, statistics or any other personal property, material, or data, furnished to Coach by the University ~~(College)~~ or developed by Coach on behalf of the University ~~(College)~~ or at the ~~University (College)'s~~University's direction or for the ~~University (College)'s~~University's use or otherwise in connection with Coach's employment hereunder are and shall remain the sole property of the University~~ (College)~~. Within twenty-four (24) hours of the expiration of the ~~term~~Term of this ~~agreement~~Agreement or its earlier termination as provided herein, Coach shall immediately cause any such personal property, materials, and articles of information in Coach's possession or control to be delivered to the Director.

6.3 Assignment. Neither party may assign its rights or delegate its obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party.

6.4 Waiver. No waiver of any default in the performance of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing and signed by the waiving party. The waiver of a particular breach in the performance of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach. The resort to a particular remedy upon a breach shall not constitute a waiver of any other available remedies.

6.5 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected and shall remain in effect.

6.6 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be subject to and construed in accordance with the laws of the ~~state~~State of Idaho as an agreement to be performed in Idaho. Any action based in whole or in part on this Agreement shall be brought in the ~~courts of the~~ state ~~of~~district court in Ada County, Boise, Idaho.

6.7 Oral Promises. Oral promises of an increase in annual salary or of any supplemental or other compensation shall not be binding upon the University~~ (College)~~.

6.8 Force Majeure. Any prevention, delay or stoppage due to strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials or reasonable substitutes ~~therefor~~therefore, governmental restrictions, governmental regulations, governmental controls, enemy or hostile governmental action, civil commotion, fire or other casualty, and other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party obligated to perform (including financial inability), shall excuse the performance by such party for a period equal to any such prevention, delay or stoppage.

6.9 Non-Confidentiality. The Coach hereby consents and agrees that this document may be released and made available to the public after it is signed by the Coach. The Coach further agrees that all documents and reports he is required to produce under this Agreement may be released and made available to the public at the ~~University (College)'s~~University's sole discretion.

6.10 Notices. Any notice under this Agreement shall be in writing and be delivered in person or by public or private courier service (including U.S. Postal Service Express Mail) or certified mail with return receipt requested or by facsimile. EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENT

This Employment Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into by and between Boise State University (the "University") and Gordon H. Presnell ("Coach").

ARTICLE 1

1.1. Employment. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the University shall employ Coach as the head coach (the "Position") of its intercollegiate Women's Basketball team (the "Team"). Coach represents and warrants that Coach is fully qualified to serve, and is available for employment, in this capacity.

1.2. Reporting Relationship. Coach shall report and be responsible directly to the University's Director of Athletics (the "Director") or the Director's designee. Coach shall abide by the reasonable instructions of the Director or the Director's designee and shall confer with the Director or the Director's designee on all administrative and technical matters. Coach shall also be under the general supervision of the University's President (the "President").

1.3. Duties. Coach shall manage and supervise the Team and shall perform such other duties in the University's athletic program as the Director may assign and as may be described elsewhere in this Agreement. Coach shall, to the best of Coach's ability, and consistent with University policies and procedures, perform all duties and responsibilities customarily associated with the Position. The University shall have the right, at any time, to reassign Coach to duties at the University other than as head coach of the Team, provided that Coach's compensation and benefits shall not be affected by any such reassignment, except that the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation as provided in sections 3.2.1 through 3.2.7 shall cease.

2.1. Term. This Agreement is for a fixed-term appointment of two (2) years ~~three~~ seven (7) months, commencing on ~~December 19, 2014~~August 14, 2016 and terminating without further notice to Coach on March 31, ~~2017~~ 2019 (the "Term") unless sooner terminated in accordance with other provisions of this Agreement.

2.2 Renewal. This Agreement is renewable solely upon an offer from the University and an acceptance by Coach, both of which must be in writing and signed by the parties. Any renewal is subject to the prior approval of University's Board of Trustees. This Agreement in no way grants to Coach a claim to tenure in employment, nor shall Coach's service pursuant to this Agreement count in any way toward tenure at the University.

2.3 Automatic Extensions. The term of this Agreement will automatically be extended by one (1) additional year commencing on April 1 and concluding on March 31 for each season in which the team has at least eighteen (18) wins. For the purpose of calculation of wins, such wins must occur during the regular season, the conference tournament, the Women's National Invitation Tournament ("WNIT"), or the National Collegiate Athletic Association ("NCAA") Tournament, to the exclusion of all other pre-season exhibition games or post-season tournaments.

ARTICLE 3

3.1 Regular Compensation.

3.1.1 In consideration of Coach's services and satisfactory performance of this Agreement, the University shall provide to Coach:

a) ~~a)~~ A salary of ~~$189,132~~$220,000 per year, payable in biweekly installments in accordance with normal University procedures, and such salary increases as may be determined appropriate by the Director and President and approved by the University's Board of Trustees;

b) A one-time bonus payment of $3,875, which shall be paid after execution of this Agreement;

~~b~~c) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits calculated on the "base salary" set forth in set forth in section 3.1.1(a) as the University provides generally to non-faculty exempt employees; and ~~c~~d) The opportunity to receive such employee benefits as the University's Department of Athletics (the "Department") provides generally to its employees of a comparable level. Coach hereby agrees to abide by the terms and conditions, as now existing or hereafter amended, of such employee benefits.

3.2 Supplemental Compensation. Coach may earn supplemental compensation as follows:

3.2.1 Athletic Achievement

a) ~~a)~~ The greatest of the following:

11 conference wins	$2,000
12 conference wins	$3,000
13 conference wins	$4,000
14+ conference wins	$7,500
Conference Regular Season Champions	$12,500
~~Conference Regular Season Champions~~	~~$10,000~~

b) The greater of the following two:
Conference Tournament Finalist $3,000
Conference Tournament Champions $~~10,000~~12,500

c) NCAA Tournament Appearance $5,000 per game

d) WNIT Appearance $3,000 per game

e) ~~The greater of the following two:~~ ~~Winning Record (more wins than losses) $4,000~~
~~20~~18 Wins ~~$8,000~~$6,000

3.2.2 Academic Achievement

Academic Incentive Pay may be earned if annual team APR ranks nationally within women's basketball as follows:

National Rank Within Sport
975-980	=	$5,000
981-985	=	$7,500
986-990	=	$10,000
991 or above	=	$12,500

3.2.3 Conditions for payment of Academic and Athletic supplemental compensation:

a. If Coach qualifies for Athletic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.1, University will pay Coach on the first regular pay date in July, following the year in which such supplemental compensation is calculated but only if Coach is still employed by the University on that date. Ranking shall be determined based on NCAA National End of Season Ranking.

b. If Coach qualifies for Academic Achievement Supplemental Compensation pursuant to section 3.2.2, it will be paid as soon as reasonably practical following APR rating determination and verification by the NCAA, if Coach is still employed by the University on that date.

c. In order to receive any of the 3.2.1 supplemental compensation, the Team's retention rate must be at least 50% for the academic year in which the supplemental pay is earned. The retention rate will be calculated anew each year and will not be cumulative.

3.2.4 Each year Coach may be eligible to receive supplemental compensation based on the overall development of the intercollegiate women's basketball program; ticket sales; fundraising; outreach by Coach to various constituency groups, including University students, staff, faculty, alumni and boosters; and any other factors the President wishes to consider. The determination of whether Coach will receive such supplemental compensation and the timing of the payment(s) shall be at the sole discretion of the President in consultation with the Director and approved by the University's Board of Trustees.

). Agreements requiring the Coach to participate in Programs related to his duties as an employee of University are the property of the University. The University shall have the exclusive right to negotiate and contract with all producers of media productions and all parties desiring public appearances by the Coach. Coach agrees to cooperate with the University in order for the Programs to be successful and agrees to provide his services to and perform on the Programs and to cooperate in their production, broadcasting, and telecasting. It is understood that neither Coach nor any assistant coaches shall appear without the prior written approval of the Director on any competing radio or television program (including, but not limited to, a coach's show, call-in show, or interview show) or a regularly scheduled news segment, except that this prohibition shall not apply to routine news media interviews for which no compensation is received. Without the prior written approval of the Director, Coach shall not appear in any commercial endorsements, which are broadcast on radio or television that conflict with those broadcast on the University's designated media outlets.

3.2.6 Summer Camp Operated by the University. Coach agrees that the University has the exclusive right to operate youth basketball camps on its campus using University facilities. The University shall allow Coach the opportunity to earn supplemental compensation by assisting with the University's camps in Coach's capacity as a University employee. Coach hereby agrees to assist in the marketing, supervision, and general administration of the University's basketball camps. Coach also agrees that Coach will perform all obligations mutually agreed upon by the parties. In exchange for Coach's participation in the University's summer basketball camps, the University shall pay Coach a reasonable supplemental compensation during each year of his employment as head coach at the University. The summer youth camp must be operated by Coach in a manner that reflects positively on the University and the Department. The Coach complies with all NCAA, Conference, and University rules and regulations related, directly or indirectly, to the operation of summer youth camps. All revenues and expenses of the Camp shall be deposited with and paid by the University.

In the event of termination of this Agreement, suspension, or reassignment, University shall not be under any obligation to permit a summer youth camp to be held by the Coach after the effective date of such termination, suspension, or reassignment, and the University shall be released from all obligations relating thereto.

3.2.7 Coach agrees that the University has the exclusive right to select footwear, apparel and/or equipment for the use of its student-athletes and staff, including Coach, during official practices and games and during times when Coach or the Team is being filmed by motion picture or video camera or posing for photographs in their capacity as representatives of University. Coach recognizes that the University has the authority to enter into an agreement with a company to supply the University with athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment. Coach agrees that, upon the University's reasonable request, Coach will consult with appropriate parties concerning a product's design or performance, shall act as an instructor at a clinic sponsored in whole or in part by the University's designated company, or give a lecture at an event sponsored in whole or in part by said company, or make other educationally-related appearances as may be reasonably requested by the University. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, Coach shall retain the right to decline such appearances as Coach reasonably determines to conflict with or hinder his duties and obligations as head basketball coach. In order to avoid entering into an agreement with a competitor of the University's designated company, Coach shall submit all outside consulting agreements to the University for review and approval prior to execution. Coach shall also report such outside income to the University in accordance with NCAA rules. Coach further agrees that Coach will not endorse any athletic footwear, apparel and/or equipment products and will not participate in any messages or promotional appearances which contain a comparative or qualitative description of athletic footwear, apparel, or equipment products.

3.2.8 Away Game Guarantee. In the event the University schedules an away contest with a non-conference opponent for which a game guarantee is paid to the University by the host institution, the payment shall be distributed as follows: any amount of the game guarantee, will be split between (a) the Department and (b) the Coach and assistant coaches at the recommendation of Coach, subject to the Director's final approval.

3.3 General Conditions of Compensation. All compensation provided by the University to Coach is subject to deductions and withholdings as required by law or the terms and conditions of any fringe benefit in which Coach participates. However, if any fringe benefit is based in whole or in part upon the compensation provided by the University to Coach, such fringe benefit shall be based only on the compensation provided pursuant to section 3.1.1, except to the extent required by the terms and conditions of a specific fringe benefit program.

ARTICLE 4

4.1. Coach's Specific Duties and Responsibilities. In consideration of the compensation specified in this Agreement, Coach, in addition to the obligations set forth elsewhere in this Agreement, shall:

4.1.1. Devote Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement;

4.1.2. Develop and implement programs and procedures with respect to the evaluation, recruitment, training, and coaching of Team members which enable them to compete successfully and reasonably protect their health, safety, and well-being;

4.1.3. Observe and uphold all academic standards, requirements, and policies of the University and encourage Team members to perform to their highest academic potential and to graduate in a timely manner; and

4.1.4. Know, recognize, and comply with all applicable laws and the policies, rules and regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the conference of which the University is a member (the "Conference"), and the NCAA; supervise and take appropriate steps to ensure that Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, and the members of the Team know, recognize, and comply with all such laws, policies, rules and regulations; and immediately report to the Director and to the University's Director of NCAA Compliance if Coach has reasonable cause to believe that any person or entity, including without limitation representatives of the University's athletic interests, has violated or is likely to violate any such laws, policies, rules or regulations. Coach shall cooperate fully with the University and Department at all times. The names or titles of employees whom Coach supervises will be provided periodically to Coach by the University. The applicable laws, policies, rules, and regulations include: (a) State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures and Rule Manual; (b) the University's Policy Manual; (c) the policies of the Department; (d) NCAA rules and regulations; and (e) the rules and regulations of the Conference.

4.2 Outside Activities. Coach shall not undertake any business, professional or personal activities, or pursuits that would prevent Coach from devoting Coach's full time and best efforts to the performance of Coach's duties under this Agreement, that would otherwise detract from those duties in any manner, or that, in the opinion of the University, would reflect adversely upon the University or its athletic program. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Coach may, with the prior written approval of the Director, who may consult with the President, enter into separate arrangements for outside activities and endorsements which are consistent with Coach's obligations under this Agreement. Coach may not use the University's name, logos, or trademarks in connection with any such arrangements without the prior written approval of the Director and the President.

4.3 Outside Income. In accordance with NCAA rules, Coach shall obtain prior written approval from the President and Director for all athletically related income and benefits from sources outside the University and shall report the source and amount of all such income and benefits to the University's President whenever reasonably requested, but in no event less than annually before the close of business on June 30th of each year or the last regular University work day preceding June 30th. The report shall be in a format reasonably satisfactory to University. In no event shall Coach accept or receive directly or indirectly any monies, benefits, or gratuities whatsoever from any person, association, corporation, University booster club, University alumni association, University foundation, or other benefactor, if the acceptance or receipt of the monies, benefits, or gratuities would violate applicable law or the policies, rules, and regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA. Sources of such income shall include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) income from annuities; (b) sports camps, clinics, speaking engagements, consultations, directorships, or related activities; (c) housing benefits (including preferential housing arrangements); (d) country club membership(s); (e) complimentary tickets (i.e., tickets to a Stampede game); (f) television and radio programs; (g) endorsement or consultation contracts with athletic shoe, apparel, or equipment manufacturers.

4.4 Hiring Authority. Coach shall have the responsibility and the sole authority to recommend to the Director the hiring and termination of assistant coaches for the Team, but the decision to hire or terminate an assistant coach shall be made by the Director and shall, when necessary or appropriate, be subject to the approval of President and the University's Board of Trustees.

4.5 Scheduling. Coach shall consult with, and may make recommendations to, the Director or the Director's designee with respect to the scheduling of the Team's competitions, but the final decision shall be made by the Director or the Director's designee.

4.6 Other Coaching Opportunities. Coach shall not, under any circumstances, interview for, negotiate for, or accept employment as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team, requiring performance of duties prior to the expiration of this Agreement, without the prior approval of the Director. Such approval shall not unreasonably be withheld. Without first giving ten (10) days prior written notice to the Director, Coach shall not negotiate for or accept employment, under any circumstances, as a coach at any other institution of higher education or with any professional sports team requiring the performance of the duties set forth herein.

4.7 Specific Duties of Coach. The Coach is expected to devote full-time to coaching and recruitment involving the Team as the head coach. The Coach will attend all staff meetings, public relation functions, dinners, awards banquet and make appearances as directed by the Director unless excused by the Director. Such functions shall include, but are not limited to, the following:

a) The annual BAA barbecue
b) The weekly BAA function during the relevant season;
c) The annual BAA Endowment dinner;
d) The BSU Athletic Hall of Fame dinner;
e) The BAA Bronze Bronco Award banquet;
f) The BAA/Alumni Auction dinner;
g) All Department staff meetings called by the Director;
h) Athletic Department Graduation Reception;
i) Bronco Golf Series Tournaments.

ARTICLE 5

5.1 Termination of Coach for Cause. The University may, in its discretion, suspend Coach from some or all of Coach's duties, temporarily or permanently, and with or without pay; reassign Coach to other duties; or terminate this Agreement at any time for good or adequate cause, as those terms are defined in applicable rules, regulations, and policies.

5.1.1 In addition to the definitions contained in applicable rules regulations, and policies, University and Coach hereby specifically agree that the following shall constitute good or adequate cause for suspension, reassignment, or termination of this Agreement.

a) A deliberate or major violation of Coach's duties under this Agreement or the refusal or unwillingness of Coach to perform such duties in good faith and to the best of Coach's abilities;

b) The failure of Coach to remedy any violation of any of the terms of this Agreement within thirty (30) days after written notice from the University;

c) A deliberate or major violation by Coach of any applicable law or the rules, regulations, or policies, of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference or the NCAA, including, but not limited to, any such violation which may have occurred during the employment of Coach at another NCAA or National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics ("NAIA") member institution;

d) Ten (10) working days absence of Coach from duty without the University's consent;

e) Any conduct of Coach that constitutes moral turpitude or that would, in the University's judgment, reflect adversely on the University or its athletic programs;

f) The failure of Coach to represent the University and its athletic programs positively in public and private forums;

g) The failure of Coach to fully and promptly cooperate with the NCAA or the University in any investigation of possible violations of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA;

h) The failure of Coach to report a known violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team; or

i) A violation of any applicable law or the policies, rules or regulations of the University, the University's governing board, the Conference, or the NCAA, by one of Coach's assistant coaches, any other employees for whom Coach is administratively responsible, or a member of the Team if Coach knew or should have known by ordinary supervision of the violation and could have prevented it by such ordinary supervision.

5.1.2 Suspension, reassignment, or termination for good or adequate cause shall be effectuated by the University as follows: before the effective date of the suspension, reassignment, or termination, the Director or Director's designee shall provide Coach with notice, which notice shall be accomplished in the manner provided for in this Agreement and shall include the reason(s) for the contemplated action. Coach shall then have an opportunity to respond. After Coach responds or fails to respond, University shall notify Coach whether, and if so when, the action will be effective.

5.1.3 In the event of any termination for good or adequate cause, the University's obligation to provide compensation and benefits to Coach, whether direct, indirect, supplemental or collateral, shall cease as of the date of such termination, and the University shall not be liable for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or other benefits, perquisites, or income resulting from outside activities or from any other sources.

5.1.4 If found in violation of NCAA regulations, Coach shall, in addition to the provisions of Section 5.1, be subject to disciplinary or corrective action as set forth in the provisions of the NCAA enforcement procedures. This section applies to violations occurring at the University or at previous institutions at which the Coach was employed.

5.2 Termination of Coach for Convenience of University.

5.2.1 At any time after commencement of this Agreement, University, for its own convenience, may terminate this Agreement by giving ten (10) days prior written notice to Coach.

5.2.2 In the event that University terminates this Agreement for its own convenience, University shall be obligated to pay Coach, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, the "base salary amount set forth in section 3.1.1(a), excluding all deductions required by law, on the regular paydays of University until the Term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment, whichever occurs first, provided, however, in the event Coach obtains other employment after such termination, then the amount of compensation the University pays will be adjusted and reduced by the amount of compensation paid Coach as a result of such other employment, such adjusted compensation to be calculated for each University pay-period by reducing the gross salary set forth in section 3.1.1(a) (before deductions required by law) by the gross compensation paid to Coach under the other employment, then subtracting from this adjusted gross compensation deduction according to law. In addition, Coach will be entitled to continue his health insurance plan and group life insurance as if he remained a University employee until the term of this Agreement ends or until Coach obtains reasonably comparable employment or any other employment providing Coach with a reasonably comparable health plan and group life insurance, whichever occurs first. Coach shall be entitled to no other compensation or fringe benefits, except as otherwise provided herein or required by law. Coach specifically agrees to inform University within ten business days of obtaining other employment, and to advise University of all relevant terms of such employment, including without limitation the nature and location of the employment, salary, other compensation, health insurance benefits, life insurance benefits, and other fringe benefits.

Failure to so inform and advise University shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement and University's obligation to pay compensation under this provision shall end. Coach agrees not to accept employment for compensation at less than the fair market value of Coach's services, as determined by all circumstances existing at the time of employment. Coach further agrees to repay to University all compensation paid to him by University after the date he obtains other employment, to which he is not entitled under this provision.

5.2.3 The parties have both been represented by, or had the opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the Coach may lose certain benefits, supplemental compensation, or outside compensation relating to his employment with University, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by University and the acceptance thereof by Coach shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to Coach for the damages and injury suffered by Coach because of such termination by University. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty.

5.2.4 In the event of non-renewal or termination of Coach's employment, Coach will use all accumulated annual leave prior to the end of the contract period.

5.3 Termination by Coach for Convenience.

5.3.1 The Coach recognizes that his promise to work for University for the entire term of this Agreement is of the essence of this Agreement. The Coach also recognizes that the University is making a highly valuable investment in his employment by entering into this Agreement and that its investment would be lost were he to resign or otherwise terminate his employment with the University before the end of the contract Term.

5.3.2 The Coach, for his own convenience, may terminate this Agreement during its term by giving prior written notice to the University. Termination shall be effective ten (10) days after notice is given to the University. Such termination must occur at a time outside the Team's season (including NCAA post-season competition) so as to minimize the impact on the program.

5.3.3 If the Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience at any time, all obligations of the University shall cease as of the effective date of the termination. If the Coach terminates this Agreement for his convenience he shall pay to the University, as liquidated damages and not a penalty, for the breach of this Agreement the following sum: (a) if the Agreement is terminated on or before March 31, ~~2015~~2017, the sum of $40,000; (b) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, ~~2015~~ 2017 and March 31, ~~2016~~ 2018 inclusive, the sum of $20,000; (c) if the Agreement is terminated between April 1, ~~2016~~ 2018 and March 16, ~~2017~~ 2019 inclusive, the sum of $10,000. The liquidated damages shall be due and payable within twenty (20) days of the effective date of the termination, and any unpaid amount shall bear simple interest at a rate eight (8) percent per annum until paid.

5.3.4 The parties have both had opportunity to be represented by legal counsel in the contract negotiations and have bargained for and agreed to the foregoing liquidated damages provision, giving consideration to the fact that the University will incur administrative and recruiting costs in obtaining a replacement for Coach, in addition to potentially increased compensation costs if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, which damages are extremely difficult to determine with certainty. The parties further agree that the payment of such liquidated damages by Coach and the acceptance thereof by University shall constitute adequate and reasonable compensation to University for the damages and injury suffered by it because of such termination by Coach. The liquidated damages are not, and shall not be construed to be, a penalty. This section 5.3.4 shall not apply if Coach terminated this Agreement because of a material breach by the University.

5.3.5 Except as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, if Coach terminates this Agreement for convenience, he shall forfeit to the extent permitted by law his right to receive all supplemental compensation and other payments and all accumulated leave.

5.4 Termination Due to Disability or Death of Coach.

5.4.1 Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, this Agreement shall terminate automatically if Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the University's disability insurance carrier, becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, or dies.

5.4.2 If this Agreement is terminated because of Coach's death, Coach's salary and all other benefits shall terminate as of the last day worked, except that the Coach's personal representative or other designated beneficiary shall be paid all compensation due or unpaid and death benefits, if any, as may be contained in any fringe benefit plan now in force or hereafter adopted by the University and due to the Coach's estate or beneficiaries thereunder.

5.4.3 If this Agreement is terminated because the Coach becomes totally or permanently disabled as defined by the University's disability insurance carrier, or becomes unable to perform the essential functions of the position of head coach, all salary and other benefits shall terminate, except that the Coach shall be entitled to receive any compensation due or unpaid and any disability-related benefits to which he is entitled by virtue of employment with the University.

5.5 Interference by Coach. In the event of termination, suspension, or reassignment, Coach agrees that Coach will not interfere with the University's student-athletes or otherwise obstruct the University's ability to transact business or operate its intercollegiate athletics program.

5.6 No Liability. The University shall not be liable to Coach for the loss of any collateral business opportunities or any other benefits, perquisites or income from any sources that may ensue as a result of any termination of this Agreement by either party or due to death or disability or the suspension or reassignment of Coach, regardless of the circumstances.

5.7 Waiver of Rights. Because the Coach is receiving a multi-year contract and the opportunity to receive supplemental compensation and because such contracts and opportunities are not customarily afforded to University employees, if the University suspends or reassigns Coach, or terminates this Agreement for good or adequate cause or for convenience, Coach shall have all the rights provided for in this Agreement but hereby releases the University from compliance with the notice, appeal, and similar employment-related rights provided for in the State Board of Education and Board Rule Manual (ID ADMIN. CODE 08.01.01 et seq) and Governing Policies and Procedures Manual, and the University Policies.

6.1 Board Approval. This Agreement shall not be effective until and unless approved of the University's Board of Trustees and executed by both parties as set forth below. In addition, the payment of any compensation pursuant to this Agreement shall be subject to the approval of the University's Board of Trustees, the President, and the Director; the sufficiency of legislative appropriations; the receipt of sufficient funds in the account from which such compensation is paid; and the Board of Trustees and University's rules regarding financial exigency.

6.2 University Property. All personal property, material, and articles of information, including, without limitation, keys, credit cards, personnel records, recruiting records, team information, films, statistics or any other personal property, material, or data, furnished to Coach by the University or developed by Coach on behalf of the University or at the University's direction or for the University's use or otherwise in connection with Coach's employment hereunder are and shall remain the sole property of the University. Within twenty-four (24) hours of the expiration of the Term of this Agreement or its earlier termination as provided herein, Coach shall immediately cause any such personal property, materials, and articles of information in Coach's possession or control to be delivered to the Director.

6.3 Assignment. Neither party may assign its rights or delegate its obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party.

6.4 Waiver. No waiver of any default in the performance of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing and signed by the waiving party. The waiver of a particular breach in the performance of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach. The resort to a particular remedy upon a breach shall not constitute a waiver of any other available remedies.

6.5 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected and shall remain in effect.

6.6 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be subject to and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Idaho as an agreement to be performed in Idaho. Any action based in whole or in part on this Agreement shall be brought in the state district court in Ada County, Boise, Idaho.

6.7 Oral Promises. Oral promises of an increase in annual salary or of any supplemental or other compensation shall not be binding upon the University.

6.8 Force Majeure. Any prevention, delay or stoppage due to strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials or reasonable substitutes therefore, governmental restrictions, governmental regulations, governmental controls, enemy or hostile governmental action, civil commotion, fire or other casualty, and other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party obligated to perform (including financial inability), shall excuse the performance by such party for a period equal to any such prevention, delay or stoppage.

6.9 Non-Confidentiality. The Coach hereby consents and agrees that this document may be released and made available to the public after it is signed by the Coach. The Coach further agrees that all documents and reports he is required to produce under this Agreement may be released and made available to the public at the University's sole discretion.

6.10 Notices. Any notice under this Agreement shall be in writing and be delivered in person or by public or private courier service (including U.S. Postal Service Express Mail) or certified mail with return receipt requested or by facsimile. All notices shall be addressed to the parties at the following addresses or at such other addresses as the parties may from time to time direct in writing:

the University:	Director of Athletics Boise State University 1910 University Drive Boise, Idaho 83725-1020
with a copy to:	Office of the President Boise State University 1910 University Drive Boise, Idaho 83725-1000
the Coach:	Gordon H. Presnell Last known address on file with University's Human Resource Services

Any notice shall be deemed to have been given on the earlier of: (a) actual delivery or refusal to accept delivery, (b) the date of mailing by certified mail, or (c) the day facsimile delivery is verified. Actual notice, however and from whomever received, shall always be effective.

6.11 Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation hereof.

6.12 Binding Effect. This Agreement is for the benefit only of the parties hereto and shall inure to the benefit of and bind the parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

6.13 Non-Use of Names and Trademarks. The Coach shall not, without the University's prior written consent in each case, use any name, trade name, trademark, or other designation of the University (including contraction, abbreviation or simulation), except in the course and scope of his official University duties.

6.14 No Third Party Beneficiaries. There are no intended or unintended third party beneficiaries to this Agreement.

6.15 Entire Agreement; Amendments. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings with respect to the same subject matter. No amendment or modification of this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing, signed by both parties, and approved by University's Board of Trustees.

6.16 Opportunity to Consult with Attorney. The Coach acknowledges that he has had the opportunity to consult and review this Agreement with an attorney. Accordingly, in all cases, the language of this Agreement shall be construed simply, according to its fair meaning, and not strictly for or against any party.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties agree to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the incorporated documents attached hereto and have executed this Agreement freely and agree to be bound hereby as of the Effective Date.

Chief Executive Officers Contracts

REFERENCE

May 2016	Board conducted performance evaluations for the chief executive officers of Boise State University, Idaho State University, University of Idaho, Lewis-Clark State College, and Eastern Idaho Technical College.
June 2016	Board approved salaries for the chief executive officers of Boise State University, Idaho State University, University of Idaho, and Lewis-Clark State College.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Board approved salaries for the chief executive officers of Boise State University, Idaho State University, University of Idaho, and Lewis-Clark State College at the June 2016 Board meeting. The proposed contracts incorporate those salaries into the applicable chief executive officers employment agreements, moves existing language regarding tax liability that is currently contained in two sections into a single section, and eliminates the language regarding the use of institutional vehicles, while maintaining the current language and level for a vehicle allowance. The removal of the provision regarding the use of an institution vehicle bring the contract into alignment with the state prohibition against using state owned or controlled vehicles for personal use and is consistent with the proposed amendments to Board policy regarding courtesy vehicles that will be considered at the August 2016 Board meeting.

IMPACT

Approval of the contracts incorporate amendments consistent with recent Board action and proposed policy amendments.

SUBJECT

Request approval for pouring and vending rights contract

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section V.I.3.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Request for Proposals No. 16-39M was issued, with two vendors responding. Based on proposals received, Swire Coca Cola USA (SCCUSA) was deemed the successful vendor, pending Idaho State Board of Education (Board) approval.

IMPACT

The initial contract term is five years. SCCUSA's financial incentive is $177,000.00 per year for a combined five-year total of $885,000.00. Estimated vending commissions for the initial term is $65,500.00. Total value with estimated commission is $950,500.00.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Board Policy V.I.3. sets the dollar amount limits for contract approvals. Service contracts over $1,000,000 require Board approval. The potential total value of the contract over three possible five-year terms would exceed $1,000.000.00. Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the request by the University of Idaho to enter into a contract with Swire Coca Cola USA for pouring and vending rights in substantial conformance to the form presented to the Board in Attachment 1.

1.2 SEVERABILITY

The terms and conditions of this Agreement are declared severable if any term or condition of this Agreement or the application thereof to any person(s) or circumstance(s) is held invalid. Such invalidity shall not affect other terms, conditions, or applications which can be given effect without the invalid term, condition, or application.

1.3 RFP PRICE

The bid price shall include everything necessary for the prosecution and completion of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, furnishing all materials, equipment, management, superintendence, labor, and service, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement. Prices quoted on the Bid Form shall include all freight and/or delivery charges. In the event of a discrepancy between the unit price and the total price, the unit price will govern and the total price will be adjusted accordingly.

1.4 TERM OF AGREEMENT

The initial term of this agreement shall be five (5) years, commencing upon the date of execution by the University. The term of this agreement may, if mutually agreed, be extended by two (2), five-year increments, provided the Contractor receives written notice of each extension at least thirty (30) days prior to the expiration date of such term or extension. During extension periods, all terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain in effect.

1.5 CONTRACTOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Contractor agrees to submit a marketing and retail placement plan to the University of Idaho Office of Alumni Relations. Sales reporting will be submitted quarterly to the University of Idaho Office of Alumni Relations. Sales reporting should include bottles sold via retail outlets, Internet, and University of Idaho food and beverage provider. All costs associated with label creation are the responsibility of Contractor. Final label artwork, concept, and display to be approved by the University of Idaho Office of Alumni Relations. Specific wine type must be approved by University of Idaho Office of Alumni Relations prior to bottling.

1.6 CONTINUATION DURING DISPUTES

The Contractor agrees that, notwithstanding the existence of any dispute between the parties, insofar as possible under the terms of the Agreement to be entered into, each party will continue to perform the obligations required of it during the continuation of any such dispute, unless enjoined or prohibited by any court.

1.7 ENTIRE AGREEMENT

This Agreement constitutes the entire Agreement between the parties. No change thereto shall be valid unless communicated in writing in the stipulated manner and signed by the University and the Contractor.

The effective date of this contract is August 15, 2016

SECTION 1 - INSTRUCTIONS TO PROPOSERS

1-1 SCOPE OF WORK

The University of Idaho (herein referred to as the University) is soliciting proposals for pouring and vending services.

Founded in 1889, the University of Idaho is the state's flagship university. It is Idaho's only land-grant institution and its principal graduate education and research university, bringing insight and innovation to the state, the nation and the world. University researchers attract nearly $100 million in research grants and contracts each year.

The University of Idaho is classified by the prestigious Carnegie Foundation as high research activity. The student population of 12,000 includes first-generation college students and ethnically diverse scholars, who select from more than 130 degree options in the colleges of Agricultural and Life Sciences; Art and Architecture; Business and Economics; Education; Engineering; Law; Letters, Arts and Social Sciences; Natural Resources; and Science. The university also is charged with the statewide mission for medical education through the WWAMI program. The university combines the strength of a large university with the intimacy of small learning communities and focuses on helping students to succeed and become leaders. For more information, visit www.uidaho.edu.

1-2 PROPOSAL SUBMISSION

Proposal must be SEALED and CLEARLY IDENTIFIED with the Request for Proposals' number, due date and time, Proposer's name and address, and submitted no later than 5:00 p.m., on January 8, 2016.

Please note: FedEx Express delivery is highly recommended. Packages should be addressed and/or delivered to the following address:

University of Idaho – Contracts & Purchasing Service 1028 West Sixth Street Moscow, Idaho 83844

A facsimile response or an electronic response to this Request for Proposals does not meet the requirement of a sealed proposal and will not be accepted.

The proposal must be signed by such individual or individuals who have full authority from the Proposer to enter into a binding Agreement on behalf of the Proposer so that an Agreement may be established as a result of acceptance of the proposal submitted. By reference, the terms and conditions set forth in the Request for Proposals shall serve as the Agreement terms and conditions. In addition, the laws of the State of Idaho shall apply. No other terms and conditions will apply unless submitted as a part of the proposal response and accepted by the University.

Proposals received after the exact time specified for receipt will not be considered.

1-3 REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL SCHEDULE

11/30/15	Request for Proposals Issued
12/15/15	Inquiries Due
1/8/16	Proposals Due @ 5:00 p.m.

1-4 INQUIRIES

All inquiries concerning this request shall be submitted in writing and received by Contracts & Purchasing Services no later than 12/15/15, to:

Julia R. McIlroy, Director
E-mail: juliam@uidaho.edu

Proposers should consider Contracts & Purchasing Services as the first and prime point of contact on all matters related to the procedures associated with this RFP. If additional information is needed from any source, Contracts & Purchasing Services will work with the Proposer and with the various offices of the University to gather that information.

1-5 INTERPRETATION, CORRECTIONS, OR CHANGES IN RFP

Any interpretation, correction, or change in the RFP will be made by addendum by the University. Interpretations, corrections, or changes to the RFP made in any other manner will not be binding, and no Proposer may rely upon any such interpretation, correction, or change.

1-6 MODIFICATION OR WITHDRAWAL OF PROPOSALS

A Proposer may modify or withdraw a proposal at any time prior to the specified time and date set for the proposal closing. Such a request for modification or withdrawal must be in writing, and executed by a person with authority as set forth under paragraph 1-2 above, or by facsimile notice subsequently confirmed in writing.

1-7 ERASURES AND INTERLINEATIONS

Erasures, interlineations, or other changes in the proposal must be initialed by the person(s) signing the proposal.

1-8 ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF ADDENDUMS TO RFP

Receipt of an addendum to this RFP must be acknowledged by a Proposer on the Proposal Response Certification (Attachment A).

1-9 PROPOSAL COPIES

Seven (7) complete copies of the proposal shall be submitted to the University.

1-10 OFFER ACCEPTANCE PERIOD

A proposal shall constitute an offer to contract on the terms and conditions contained in this RFP and the proposal. Said proposal shall constitute an irrevocable offer for ninety (90) calendar days from the proposal opening date, even if the University makes one or more counter offers.

1-11 REJECTION OF PROPOSALS

The University in its sole discretion, expressly reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or portions thereof, to reissue a Request for Proposal, and to waive informalities, minor irregularities, discrepancies, and any other matter or shortcoming.

1-12 PROPOSAL PRICE

The prices submitted in the proposal shall include everything necessary for the prosecution and completion of the Agreement including, but not limited to, furnishing all materials and all management, supervision, labor and service, except as may be provided otherwise in the Agreement Documents. In the event of discrepancy between the unit prices and their extensions, the total price will be adjusted accordingly. In the event of discrepancy between the sum of the extended total prices, the Total Proposal Price will be adjusted accordingly. The proposal price shall not include any allowance for Idaho State sales/use tax.

The University will evaluate the total price for the basic requirements with any options(s) exercised at the time of award. Evaluation of options will not obligate the University to exercise the option(s).

The University may reject an offer if it is materially unbalanced as to process for the basic requirements and the option quantities. An offer is unbalanced when it is based on prices significantly less than cost for some work and prices that are significantly overstated for other work.

1-13 TERM OF AGREEMENT

The initial term of this agreement shall be five (5) years, commencing upon the date of execution by the university. The term of this agreement may, if mutually agreed upon in writing, be extended by two, five-year increments for a total of ten additional years, provided written notice of each extension is given to the bidder at least thirty (30) days prior to the expiration date of such term or extension. In the event funding approval is not obtained by the University, this Agreement shall become null and void effective the date of renewal. During extension periods, all terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain in effect.

1-14 AWARD OF AGREEMENT

The University shall make the award to the responsible Proposer whose proposal will be most advantageous to the University with respect to price, conformance to the specifications, quality, and other factors as evaluated by the University. The University is not required or constrained to award the Agreement to the Proposer proposing the lowest price.

The University may award an Agreement on the basis of initial offers received, without discussion; therefore, each initial offer should contain the offerer's best terms from a cost and technical standpoint.

1-15 PUBLIC AGENCY

The Contractor has agreed to extend contract usage to other public agencies, such as any city or political Subdivision of this state, including, but not limited to counties; school districts; highway districts; port authorities; instrumentalities of counties, cities or any political subdivision created under the laws of the State of Idaho; any agency of the state government; or any city or political subdivision of another state.

1-16 PROPOSAL CONFIDENTIALITY

Each Proposer agrees that the contents of each proposal submitted in response to this RFP is Confidential, proprietary, and constitutes trade secret information, as defined in Idaho Code 9-340D(1), as to all technical and financial data LABELED CONFIDENTIAL BY THE PROPOSER, and waives any right of access to such information, except as provided for by law. Except as determined by the University's Office of Purchasing Services, in its sole discretion, no information will be given regarding any proposals or evaluation progress until after an award is made, except as provided by law.

1-17 F.A.R. REQUIREMENT

All purchase orders and contracts issued by the University of Idaho are subject to F.A.R. 52.209-6. Supplier warrants that supplier or its principals are presently debarred, suspended or proposed for debarment by the Federal Government.

1-18 RECORD OF PURCHASES

Contractor will provide Purchasing Services a detailed usage report of items/services ordered, quantities, and pricing under this Agreement upon request.

1-19 APPEAL OF AWARD

A Proposer aggrieved by the award of an Agreement may file an appeal by writing to the University Controller within five (5) business day of award. Proposers are responsible for tracking of award announcement.

SECTION 2 - INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING PROPOSALS

2-1 GENERAL

To aid in the evaluation process, it is required that all responses comply with the items and sequence as presented in paragraph 2-2, RFP Response Outline. Paragraph 2-2 outlines the minimum requirements and packaging for the preparation and presentation of a response. Failure to comply may result in rejection of the response. The proposal should be specific and complete in every detail, prepared in a simple and straight-forward manner.

Proposers are expected to examine the entire Request for Proposals, including all specifications, standard provisions, and instructions. Failure to do so will be at the Proposer's risk. Each Proposer shall furnish the information required by the invitation. It is required that proposal entries be typewritten. Periods of time, stated in number of days, in this request or in the Proposer's response, shall be in calendar days. Propose your best price on each item.

2-2 RFP RESPONSE OUTLINE

A. Response Sheet: The proposal Response Certification shall be attached to the front of the proposal and shall contain the Proposer's certification of the submission. An official who has full authority to enter into an Agreement shall sign it.

B. Background and History: Describe the company, organization, officers or partners, number of employees, and operating policies that would affect this Agreement. State the number of years your organization has been continuously engaged in business.

C. References: The Proposer shall provide a minimum of three (3) references including names of persons who may be contacted, title of person, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail, where products or services similar in scope to the requirements of this RFP have been provided.

D. Experience and Support: Describe Proposer's experience in performing the requested services.

E. Technical Specifications & Pricing: Include itemized costs for all components and features to be delivered. Costs should be identified as one-time or continuing. Purchase prices, lease prices, installation charges, and maintenance charges must be identified. All equipment prices must be stated as FOB: Moscow, ID.

F. Warranties: Describe warranties provided by the Proposer. Include discussions of any additional support provided after the sale.

G. Proposer Exceptions: Describe any exceptions to the terms and conditions contained within this document.

SECTION 3 - TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

The RFP represents an opportunity for vendors to provide examples of its management, marketing and operational strategies, innovation and creativity, and understanding of the University of Idaho communities and objectives.

Proposals should define the market size and potential market capture, identify specific sales and revenue objectives of the University, and include assumptions, expectations and commitments required to obtain these financial and operational goals. Each proposal should also include management, service and reporting commitments, together with specific suggestions regarding communication, planning and performance review. The expectations, rights, and responsibilities of both the University and the supplier will be identified and reviewed at the outset of the contract.

Proposals should create a comprehensive, integrated beverage program that will increase customer satisfaction by providing quality products, easier access, state-of-the-art equipment with top selections, technology, and improved distribution and locations throughout the campus. It should target aggressive sales and profitability goals for achieving substantial growth in beverage sales campus-wide. As importantly, the University is interested in collaborative and innovative strategies and programs that support and advance its broad objectives. The University specifically solicits your creative ideas and recommendations.

Proposals should include vendor's best sustainability and environmental practices and procedures.

The University anticipates a contract that provides 90/10 rights for the selected beverage supplier to sell and promote the sale of beverages throughout the University, and food operations. Beverages may include, without limitation, carbonated and non-carbonated artificially flavored drinks, packaged waters, fruit and/or vegetable juices, fruit and/or juice containing drinks, tea products, and drink and beverage bases in the form of syrups, whether powders, crystals, concentrates or otherwise, from which such drinks and beverages can be prepared.

SECTION 4 - PROCUREMENT PROCESS

4-1 PROPOSER LIST AND QUALIFICATION EVALUATION

After the established date for receipt of proposals, a listing of Proposers submitting proposals will be prepared, and will be available for public inspection.

Qualifications and proposals submitted by interested Proposers will be reviewed and evaluated based on the evaluation factors set forth in the RFP.

4-2 PROPOSAL CLASSIFICATION

For the purpose of conducting discussions with individual offerers, if required, proposals will initially be classified as:

A. Potentially Acceptable
B. Unacceptable

Discussions may be conducted with any or all of the Proposers whose proposals are found acceptable or potentially acceptable. Offerers whose proposals are unacceptable will be notified promptly. The Manager of Purchasing will establish procedures and schedules for conducting oral and/or written discussions.

Proposers are advised that the University may award an Agreement on the basis of initial offers received, without discussions; therefore, each initial offer should contain the offerer's best terms from a cost and technical standpoint.

4-3 PROPOSER INVESTIGATION

The University will make such investigations as it considers necessary to obtain full information on the Proposers selected for discussions, and each Proposer shall cooperate fully in such investigations.

4-4 FINAL OFFERS AND AWARD OF AGREEMENT

Following any discussions with Proposers regarding their technical proposals, alternative approaches, or optional features, a number of the firms may be requested to submit best and final offers. The committee will rank the final Proposers for the project, giving due consideration to the established evaluation criteria. The committee will propose award to the proposal which is found to be most advantageous to the University, based on the factors set forth in the Request for Proposals.

SECTION 5 - EVALUATION PROCESS

The University reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, or portions thereof. The selection of a successful Proposer, if any, will be made based upon which proposal the University determines would best meet its requirements and needs.

5-1 EVALUATION CRITERIA

- Beverage Operations and Management Plan
Innovative and creative management, marketing and operational strategies and programs Sustainability practices and procedures

- Contract Administration, Communication and Reporting Process to assure continual, optimal performance
Accurate and user-friendly reporting tools and controls

Resources available to assure meeting an aggressive transition and implementation schedule

SECTION 6 - GENERAL CONTRACTUAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

6-1 AGREEMENT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The submission of a proposal herein constitutes the agreement of any Proposer that any Agreement to be drawn as the result of an award herein shall be prepared by the University and shall include at a minimum, all terms and conditions set forth in this RFP. The submission of a proposal shall further constitute the agreement of each Proposer that it will not insist on the use of standard contract agreements, documents, or forms, and that it waives any demand for the use of its standard agreements. The Agreement between the parties shall consistent of, in order of precedence: the agreement document signed by the Parties subsequent to submission of the proposal, and any attachments thereto and incorporations therein, the terms and conditions in the RFP, and the Proposer's response to the RFP.

6-2 ASSIGNMENT

No assignment of this Agreement or of any right accruing under this Agreement shall be made, in part or in whole, by Contractor without the written consent of the University. Notwithstanding any assignment, Contractor shall remain fully liable on this Agreement and shall not be released from performing any of the terms, covenants, and conditions of this Agreement.

6-3 TERMINATION FOR CONVENIENCE

The University may terminate this Agreement, in whole or in part, at any time by written notice to the Contractor. The Contractor shall be paid its reasonable costs, including reasonable close-out costs and a reasonable profit on work performed up to the time of termination. The Contractor shall promptly submit its termination claim for payment. If the Contractor has any property in its possession belonging to the University, the Contractor will account for the same and dispose of it in the manner the University directs.

6-4 TERMINATION FOR DEFAULT

If the Contractor does not deliver the materials in accordance with the Contract delivery schedule, or if the Contract is for services and the Contractor fails to perform in the manner called for in the Contract, or if the Contractor fails to comply with any other provisions of the Contract, the University may terminate this Contract for default. Termination shall be effected by serving on the Contractor a notice of termination setting forth the manner in which the Contractor is in default. The Contractor will be paid a reasonable price for materials delivered and accepted, or services performed in accordance with the manner of performance set forth in the Contract.

6-5 INDEMNIFICATION

Contractor shall indemnify, defend and hold the University and the State of Idaho harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, injuries, liabilities and all costs, including attorneys fees, court costs and expenses and liabilities incurred in or from any such claim, arising from any breach or default in the performance of any obligation on Contractor's part to be performed under the terms of this Agreement, or arising from any act, negligence or the failure to act of Contractor, or any of its agents, subcontractors, employees, invitees or guests. Contractor, upon notice from the University, shall defend the University at Contractor's expense by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the University. Contractor, as a material part of the consideration of the University, hereby waives all claims in respect thereof against the University.

Contractor shall: (a) notify the University in writing as soon as practicable after notice of an injury or a claim is received; (b) cooperate completely with the University and/or the University's insurers in the defense of such injury or claim; and (c) take no steps such as admission of liability which would prejudice the defense or otherwise prevent the University from protecting the University's interests.

6-6 APPLICABLE LAW AND FORUM

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with, and governed by the laws of the State of Idaho. Any legal proceeding related to this Agreement shall be instituted in the courts of the county of Latah, state of Idaho, and Contractor agrees to submit to the jurisdiction of such courts.

6-7 LAWS, REGULATIONS AND PERMITS

The Contractor shall give all notices required by law and comply with all applicable Federal, State, and local laws, ordinances, rules and regulations relating to the conduct of the work. The Contractor shall be liable for all violations of the law in connection with work furnished by the Contractor, including the Contractor's subcontractors.

6-8 GENERAL QUALITY

All of the Contractor's work shall be performed with the highest degree of skill and completed in accordance with the Agreement Documents.

6-9 PROOF OF COMPLIANCE WITH AGREEMENT

In order that the University may determine whether the Contractor has complied with the requirements of the Agreement Documents, the Contractor shall, at any time when requested, submit to the University properly authenticated documents or other satisfactory proofs as to compliance with such requirements.

6-10 PAYMENT AND ACCEPTANCE

Except as otherwise provided herein, payments shall be due and payable within (30) days after acceptance of such goods or services or after receipt of properly completed invoice, whichever is later. No advance payment shall be made for goods or services furnished pursuant to this Agreement.

6-11 CONTINUATION DURING DISPUTES

The Contractor agrees that notwithstanding the existence of any dispute between the parties, insofar as possible under the terms of the Agreement to be entered into, each party will continue to perform the obligations required of it during the continuation of any such dispute, unless enjoined or prohibited by any court.

6-12 SEVERABILITY

If any term or condition of this Agreement or the application thereof to any person(s) or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other terms, conditions or applications which can be given effect without the invalid term, condition or application; to this end the terms and conditions of this Agreement are declared severable.

6-13 INTEGRATION

This Agreement constitutes the entire Agreement between the parties. No change thereto shall be valid unless in writing communicated in the stipulated manner, and signed by the University and the Contractor.

6-14 BINDING EFFECT

This Agreement is for the benefit only of the parties hereto and shall inure to the benefit of and bind the parties hereto and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors, and assigns.

6-15 APPROPRIATIONS CLAUSE

If the term of this Agreement is longer than one year, the University's obligations and liabilities hereunder are subject to the appropriation of funds from the State of Idaho, which appropriation shall be in the State of Idaho's sole discretion, from revenues legally available to the University for the ensuing fiscal year for the purposes of this Agreement. If the State of Idaho does not appropriate the funds for the purpose of this Agreement, the Agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further obligations hereunder.

6-16 IRS SECTION 501(C)(3) AND SECTION 115 CONSIDERATIONS

If any provision of this Agreement may cause the University to lose its status as an Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) corporation, this Agreement shall be voidable. In the alternative, at the sole option of the University, the offending provision(s) shall be modifiable such that the provision(s) will no longer cause the University to lose its status as a 501(c)(3) corporation. The terms of the modification shall be subject to agreement in writing by all parties.

6-17 COMPLIANCE WITH GOVERNOR'S EXECUTIVE ORDER

In the event any provision of this Agreement shall cause the University to be in violation of any of the Governor of Idaho's Executive Orders, then this Agreement shall be voidable at the sole option of the University.

6-18 DEBARRED, SUSPENDED OR EXCLUDED

All purchase orders and contracts issued by the University of Idaho are subject to F.A.R. 52.209-6. Supplier warrants that neither supplier or its principals is presently debarred, suspended or proposed for debarment by the Federal Government.

6-19 NON-USE OF NAMES AND TRADEMARKS

Contractor shall not use the name, trade name, trademark, or other designation of the University, or any contraction, abbreviation, or simulation any of the foregoing, in any advertisement or for any commercial or promotional purpose (other than in performing under this Agreement) without the University's prior written consent in each case.

6-20 RISK OF LOSS

Until all improvements, equipment, or goods to be provided under this Agreement are installed on property owned or controlled by University and working properly, Contractor shall bear all risks of all loss or damage to the improvements, equipment, or goods, excluding loss or damage caused by acts, omissions, or negligence of the University. Once all improvements, equipment, or goods to be provided under this Agreement are installed on property owned or controlled by University and working properly, the risk of all loss or damage shall be borne by University, excluding loss or damage caused by acts, omissions, or negligence of the Contractor.

6-21 CONTRACTOR REPRESENTATIONS

Contractor represents and warrants the following: (a) that it is financially solvent, able to pay its debts as they mature, and possessed of sufficient working capital to provide the equipment and goods, complete the services, and perform its obligations required hereunder; (b) that it is able to furnish any of the plant, tools, materials, supplies, equipment, and labor required to complete the services required hereunder and perform all of its obligations hereunder and has sufficient experience and competence to do so; (c) that it is authorized to do business in Idaho, properly licensed by all necessary governmental and public and quasi-public authorities having jurisdiction over it and the services, equipment, and goods required hereunder, and has or will obtain all licenses and permits required by law; and (d) that it has visited the site of the project and familiarized itself with the local conditions under which this Agreement is to be performed.

6-22 REGENTS' APPROVAL

This Agreement may be subject to approval by the Regents of the University of Idaho, and if it is and if such approval is not granted this Agreement shall be void and neither party shall have any further obligations or liabilities hereunder.

6-23 SURVIVAL OF TERMS

The terms and provisions hereof, and all documents being executed hereunder, if any, including, without limitation, the representations and warranties, shall survive this Agreement and shall remain in full force and effect thereafter.

6-24 HEADINGS

The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation hereof.

6-25 ADDITIONAL ACTS

Except as otherwise provided herein, in addition to the acts and deeds recited herein and contemplated to be performed, executed and/or delivered by the parties, the parties hereby agree to perform, execute and/or deliver or cause to be performed, executed and/or delivered any and all such further acts, deeds and assurances as any party hereto may reasonably require to consummate the transaction contemplated hereunder.

6-26 TIME OF ESSENCE

All times provided for in this Agreement, or in any other document executed hereunder, for the performance of any act will be strictly construed, time being of the essence.

6-27 WAIVER

No covenant, term or condition or the breach thereof shall be deemed waived, except by written consent of the party against whom the waiver is claimed, and any waiver of the breach of any covenant, term or condition shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any other covenant, term or condition herein. Acceptance by a party of any performance by another party after the time the same shall have become due shall not constitute a waiver by the first party of the breach or default of any such covenant, term or condition unless otherwise expressly agreed to by the first party in writing.

6-28 FORCE MAJEURE

Any prevention, delay or stoppage due to strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials or reasonable substitutes therefore, governmental restrictions, governmental regulations, governmental controls, enemy or hostile governmental action, civil commotion, fire or other casualty, and other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party obligated to perform (except for financial ability), shall excuse the performance, except for the payment of money, by such party for a period equal to any such prevention, delay or stoppage.

6-29 NO JOINT VENTURE

Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed as creating a joint venture, partnership, or agency relationship between the parties.

6-30 INFORMATION TRUE AND CORRECT

All documents, agreements and other information provided to the University by Contractor or which Contractor has caused to be provided to the University are true and correct in all respects and do not omit to state any material fact or condition required to be stated, necessary to make the statement or information not misleading, and there are no other agreements or conditions with respect thereto.

6-31 EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

Contractor represents and agrees that it will not discriminate in the performance of this Agreement or in any matter directly or indirectly related to this Agreement on the basis of race, sex, color, religion, national origin, disability, ancestry, or status as a Vietnam veteran. This non-discrimination requirement includes, but is not limited to, any matter directly or indirectly related to employment. Breach of this covenant may be regarded as a material breach of Agreement.

6-32 PUBLIC RECORDS

The University is a public agency. All documents in its possession are public records. Proposals are public records and will be available for inspection and copying by any person upon completion of the RFP process. If any Proposer claims any material to be exempt from disclosure under the Idaho Public Records Law, the Proposer will expressly agree to defend, indemnify and hold harmless the University from any claim or suit arising from the University's refusal to disclose any such material. No such claim of exemption will be valid or effective without such express agreement. The University will take reasonable efforts to protect any information marked "confidential" by the Proposer, to the extent permitted by the Idaho Public Records Law. Confidential information must be submitted in a separate envelope, sealed and marked "Confidential Information" and will be returned to the Proposer upon request after the award of the contract. It is understood, however, that the University will have no liability for disclosure of such information. Any proprietary or otherwise sensitive information contained in or with any Proposal is subject to potential disclosure.

6-33 UNIVERSITY'S RULES, REGULATIONS, AND INSTRUCTIONS

Contractor will follow and comply with all rules and regulations of the University and the reasonable instructions of University personnel. The University reserves the right to require the removal of any worker it deems unsatisfactory for any reason.

SECTION 7 – INDEMNITY, RISKS OF LOSS, INSURANCE

7-1 RISK OF LOSS

Until all improvements, equipment, or goods to be provided under this Agreement are installed on property owned or controlled by University and working properly, Contractor and its subcontractors of any tier shall bear all risks of all loss or damage to the improvements, equipment, or goods, excluding loss or damage caused by acts, omissions, or negligence of the University. Once all improvements, equipment, or goods to be provided under this Agreement are installed on property owned or controlled by University and working properly, the risk of all loss or damage shall be borne by University, excluding loss or damage caused by acts, omissions, or negligence of the Contractor. Contractors shall require its subcontractors of any tier to bear the same risk of loss and .

Contractor shall indemnify, defend and hold the University and the State of Idaho harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, injuries, liabilities and all costs, including attorneys fees, court costs and expenses and liabilities incurred in or from any such claim, arising from any breach or default in the performance of any obligation on Contractor's part to be performed under the terms of this Agreement, or arising from any act, negligence or the failure to act of Contractor, or any of its agents, subcontractors, employees, invitees or guests. Contractor, upon notice from the University, shall defend the University at Contractor's expense by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the University. Contractor, as a material part of the consideration of the University, hereby waives all claims in respect thereof against the University.

Contractor shall: (a) notify the University in writing as soon as practicable after notice of an injury or a claim is received; (b) cooperate completely with the University and/or the University's insurers in the defense of such injury or claim; and (c) take no steps such as admission of liability which would prejudice the defense or otherwise prevent the University from protecting the University's interests.

7.3.1 General Requirements

7.3.1.1 Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier are required to carry the types and limits of insurance shown in this insurance clause, section 8.0, and to provide University with a Certificate of Insurance ("certificate"). All certificates shall be coordinated by the Contractor and provided to the University within seven (7) days of the signing of the contract by the Contractor. Certificates shall be executed by a duly authorized representative of each insurer, showing compliance with the insurance requirements set forth below. All certificates shall provide for thirty (30) days' written notice to University prior to cancellation, non-renewal, or other material change of any insurance referred to therein as evidenced by return receipt of United States certified mail. Said certificates shall evidence compliance with all provisions of this section 8.0. Exhibit A of this Agreement contains a Request for Certificate of Insurance which shall be given to the insurance broker or agent of the Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier, upon award of bid to Contractor.

7.3.1.2 Additionally and at its option, Institution may request certified copies of required policies and endorsements. Such copies shall be provided within (10) ten days of the Institution's request.

7.3.1.3 All insurance required hereunder shall be maintained in full force and effect with insurers with Best's rating of AV or better and be licensed and admitted in Idaho. All policies required shall be written as primary policies and not contributing to nor in excess of any coverage University may choose to maintain. Failure to maintain the required insurance may result in termination of this Agreement at University's option.

7.3.1.4 All policies except Workers Compensation and Professional Liability shall name University as Additional Insured. The Additional Insured shall be stated as: "State of Idaho and The Regents of the University of Idaho". Certificate Holder shall read: "University of Idaho." Certificates shall be mailed to: University of Idaho, Risk Management, P.O. Box 443162, Moscow, ID 83844-3162.

7.3.1.5 Failure of University to demand such certificate or other evidence of full compliance with these insurance requirements or failure of Institution to identify a deficiency from evidence that is provided shall not be construed as a waiver of the obligation of Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier to maintain such insurance.

7.3.1.6 No Representation of Coverage Adequacy. By requiring insurance herein, University does not represent that coverage and limits will necessarily be adequate to protect Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier, and such coverage and limits shall not be deemed as a limitation on the liability of the Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier under the indemnities granted to University in this Agreement.

8.1.7 Contractor is responsible for coordinating the reporting of claims and for the following: (a) notifying the Institution in writing as soon as practicable after notice of an injury or a claim is received; (b) cooperating completely with University in the defense of such injury or claim; and (c) taking no steps (such as admission of liability) which will prejudice the defense or otherwise prevent the University from protecting its interests.

7.3.2 Required Insurance Coverage.

Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall at its own expense obtain and maintain:

7.3.2.1 Commercial General and Umbrella / Excess Liability Insurance. Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall maintain Commercial General Liability ("CGL") written on an occurrence basis and with a limit of not less than $1,000,000 each occurrence and in the aggregate. If such CGL insurance contains a general aggregate limit, it shall apply separately by location and shall not be less than $1,000,000. CGL insurance shall be written on standard ISO occurrence form (or a substitute form providing equivalent coverage) and shall cover liability arising from premises, operations, independent contractors, products-completed operations, personal injury and advertising injury, and liability assumed under a contract including the tort liability of another assumed in a business contract. Waiver of subrogation language shall be included. If necessary to provide the required limits, the Commercial General Liability policy's limits may be layered with a Commercial Umbrella or Excess Liability policy.

7.3.2.2 Commercial Auto Insurance. Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall maintain a Commercial Auto policy with a Combined Single Limit of not less than $1,000,000; Underinsured and Uninsured Motorists limit of not less than $1,000,000; Comprehensive; Collision; and a Medical Payments limit of not less than $10,000. Coverage shall include Non-Owned and Hired Car coverage. Waiver of subrogation language shall be included.

7.3.2.3 Business Personal Property. Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall purchase insurance to cover Business Personal Property of Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier. In no event shall University be liable for any damage to or loss of personal property sustained by Contractor, even if such loss is caused by the negligence of Institution, its employees, officers or agents. Waiver of subrogation language shall be included.

7.3.2.4 Workers' Compensation. Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall maintain all coverage statutorily required of the Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier, and coverage shall be in accordance with the laws of Idaho. Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall maintain Employer's Liability with limits of not less than $100,000 / $500,000 / $100,000.

7.3.2.4 Professional Liability. If professional services are supplied to Institution, Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier, Contractor and its subcontractor(s) of any tier shall maintain Professional Liability (Errors & Omissions) insurance on a claims made basis, covering claims made during the policy period and reported within three years of the date of occurrence. Limits of liability shall be not less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO
GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. THIS ORDER EXPRESSLY LIMITS ACCEPTANCE TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS STATED HEREIN. ALL ADDITIONAL OR DIFFERENT TERMS PROPOSED BY CONTRACTOR ARE OBJECTED TO AND ARE HEREBY REJECTED, UNLESS OTHERWISE PROVIDED FOR IN WRITING BY THE PURCHASING MANAGER, UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO.

2. CHANGES: No alteration in any of the terms, conditions, delivery, price, quality, quantity or specifications of this order will be effective without the written consent of the University of Idaho Department of Purchasing Services.

3. PACKING: No charges will be allowed for special handling, packing, wrapping, bags, containers, etc., unless otherwise specified.

4. DELIVERY: For any exceptions to the delivery date as specified on the order, Contractor shall give prior notification and obtain approval thereto from the University of Idaho Department of Purchasing Services. With respect to delivery under this order, time is of the essence and order is subject to termination for failure to deliver within the timeframe specified in this order.

5. SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS: Unless otherwise instructed, all goods are to be shipped prepaid and allowed, FOB Destination.

6. ORDER NUMBERS: Agreement order numbers or purchase order numbers shall be clearly shown on all acknowledgments, shipping labels, packing slips, invoices, and on all correspondence.

7. REJECTION: All goods, materials, or services purchased herein are subject to approval by the University of Idaho. Any rejection of goods, materials, or services resulting from nonconformity to the terms, conditions or specifications of this order, whether the goods are held by the University of Idaho or returned, will be at Contractor's risk and expense.

8. QUALITY STANDARDS: Brand names, models, and specifications referenced in herein are meant to establish a minimum standard of quality, performance, or use required by the University. No substitutions will be permitted without written authorization of the University of Idaho Department of Purchasing Services.

9. WARRANTIES: Contractor warrants that all products delivered under this order shall be new, unless otherwise specified, free from defects in material and workmanship, and shall be fit for the intended purpose. All products found defective shall be replaced by the Contractor upon notification by the University of Idaho. All costs of replacement, including shipping charges, are to be borne by the Contractor.

10. PAYMENT, CASH DISCOUNT: Invoices will not be processed for payment nor will the period of computation for cash discount commence until receipt of a properly completed invoice or invoiced items are received and accepted, whichever is later. If an adjustment in payment is necessary due to damage or dispute, the cash discount period shall commence on the date final approval for payment is authorized. Payment shall not be considered late if a check or warrant is available or mailed within the time specified.

11. LIENS, CLAIMS AND ENCUMBRANCES: Contractor warrants and represents that all the goods and materials delivered herein are free and clear of all liens, claims or encumbrances of any kind.

12. TERMINATION: In the event of a breach by Contractor of any of the provisions of this Agreement, the University of Idaho reserves the right to cancel and terminate this Agreement forthwith upon giving written notice to the Contractor. Contractor shall be liable for damages suffered by the University of Idaho resulting from Contractor's breach of Agreement.

13. TRADEMARKS: Contractor shall not use the name, trade name, trademark, or any other designation of the University, or any contraction, abbreviation, adaptation, or simulation of any of the foregoing, in any advertisement or for any commercial or promotional purpose (other than in performing under this Agreement) without the University's prior written consent in each case.

14. OSHA REGULATIONS: Contractor guarantees all items, or services, meet or exceed those requirements and guidelines established by the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

15. TAXES: The University of Idaho is exempt from payment of Idaho State Sales and Use Tax. In addition, the University is generally exempt from payment of Federal Excise Tax under a permanent authority from the District Director of the Internal Revenue Service. Exemption certificates will be furnished as required upon written request by Contractor. If Contractor is required to pay any taxes incurred as a result of doing business with the University of Idaho, it shall be solely responsible for the payment of those taxes. If Contractor is performing public works construction, it shall be responsible for payment of all sales and use taxes.

16. BINDING EFFECT: This Agreement is for the benefit only of the parties hereto and shall inure to the benefit of and bind the parties and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

17. ASSIGNMENTS: No Agreement, order, or any interest therein shall be transferred by Contractor to any other party without the approval in writing of the Purchasing Manager, University of Idaho. Transfer of an Agreement without approval may cause the recission of the transferred Agreement at the option of the University of Idaho.

18. WAIVER: No covenant, term or condition, or the breach thereof, shall be deemed waived, except by written consent of the party against whom the waiver is claimed, and any waiver of the breach of any covenant, term, or condition herein. Acceptance by a party of any performance by another party after the time the same shall have become due shall not constitute a waiver by the first party of the breach or default unless otherwise expressly agreed to in writing.

19. FORCE MAJEURE: Any prevention, delay or stoppage due to strikes, lockouts, labor disputes, acts of God, inability to obtain labor or materials or reasonable substitutes thereof, governmental restrictions, governmental regulations, governmental controls, enemy or hostile governmental action, civil commotion, fire or other casualty, and other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party obligated to perform (except for financial ability), shall excuse the performance by such party for a period equal to any such prevention, delay or stoppage.

20. NO JOINT VENTURE: Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed as creating a joint venture, partnership, or employment or agency relationship between the parties.

21. PRICE WARRANTY FOR COMMERCIAL ITEMS: Contractor warrants that prices charged to the University of Idaho are based on Contractor's current catalog or market prices of commercial items sold in substantial quantities to the general public and prices charged do not exceed those charged by Contractor to other customers purchasing the same item in like or comparable quantities.

22. NONDISCRIMINATION: Contractor represents and agrees that it will not discriminate in the performance of this Agreement or in any matter directly or indirectly related to this Agreement on the basis of race, sex, color, religion, national origin, disability, ancestry, or status as a Vietnam veteran. This non-discrimination requirement includes, but is not limited to, any matter directly or indirectly related to employment. Breach of this covenant may be regarded as a material breach of Agreement.

23. UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS: Contractor shall follow and comply with all rules and regulations of the University and the reasonable instructions of University personnel.

24. GOVERNING LAW: This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with, and governed by the laws of the State of Idaho. Any legal proceeding related to this Agreement shall be instituted in the courts of the county of Latah, state of Idaho, and Contractor agrees to submit to the jurisdiction of such courts.

Agents/ Brokers: RETURN A COPY OF THESE INSTRUCTIONS WITH YOUR CERTIFICATE.

Certificates without a copy of these instructions will not be accepted.

Contractor and its subcontractors of any tier ("Insured") are required to carry the types and limits of insurance shown in this Request, and to provide University of Idaho ("Certificate Holder") with a Certificate of Insurance within seven (7) days of the signing of this Contract.

- Certificate Holder shall read:

  State of Idaho and the Regents of the University of Idaho
  Attn: Risk Management
  P.O. Box 443162
  Moscow, ID 83844-3162

- Description area of certificate shall read: Attn: Contract for Services

- All certificates shall provide for thirty (30) days' written notice to Certificate Holder prior to cancellation or material change of any insurance referred to in the certificate.

- All insurers shall have a Best's rating of AV or better and be licensed and admitted in Idaho.

- All policies required shall be written as primary policies and not contributing to nor in excess of any coverage Certificate Holder may choose to maintain.

- All policies (except Workers Compensation and Professional Liability) shall name the following as Additional Insured: The Regents of the University of Idaho, a public corporation, state educational institution, and a body politic and corporate organized and existing under the Constitution and laws of the state of Idaho.

- Failure of Certificate Holder to demand a certificate or other evidence of full compliance with these insurance requirements or failure of Certificate Holder to identify a deficiency from evidence that is provided shall not be construed as a waiver of Insured's obligation to maintain such insurance.

- Failure to maintain the required insurance may result in termination of this grant or contract at the Certificate Holder's option.

- By requiring this insurance, Certificate Holder does not represent that coverage and limits will necessarily be adequate to protect Insured, and such coverage and limits shall not be deemed as a limitation on Insured's liability under the terms of the grant or contract.

- A copy of this certificate request must be sent with the Certificate.

2-2 B. HISTORY AND BACKGROUND:

In 1816 John Swire & Sons began operations in Liverpool, England as a trading company. In 1866 the company initiated a trade with China and established its first Far East office in Shanghai. From this foothold in the orient, the family eventually established headquarters in Hong Kong, where our parent company Swire Pacific Ltd. has remained to this day.

Over the years Swire Pacific Ltd. has diversified its business holdings and continued to grow each industry sector at impressive rates. Swire is currently one of Hong Kong's leading publicly quoted companies with worldwide interests in aviation, property development, marine services, beverage production & distribution, engineering, cold storage, agriculture, and a variety of trading companies.

In 1965 Swire purchased the Coca-Cola bottling franchise in Hong Kong. It has since become the exclusive Coca-Cola bottler in Taiwan and in seven provinces in Mainland China.

In 1978, desiring to expand its soft drink business beyond Asia, Swire purchased the franchise rights for the Coca-Cola bottler in Salt Lake City, Utah. Over the ensuing years Swire continued to purchase other surrounding franchised bottlers and distributors. Today Swire's US-based bottler is named Swire Coca-Cola, USA and operates 2 production and thirty-five distribution centers in thirteen western states. The company employs over 1,800 people and is the third largest independent Coca-Cola bottler in the United States.

Together with all other Swire operating companies, Swire Coca-Cola, USA continues to hold fast to the traditions of integrity, commitment, hard work, and family unity that were first instilled by John Swire & Sons so many years ago. As a dedicated partner with the Coca-Cola Company, Swire Coca-Cola, USA will continue to achieve growth and success for years to come

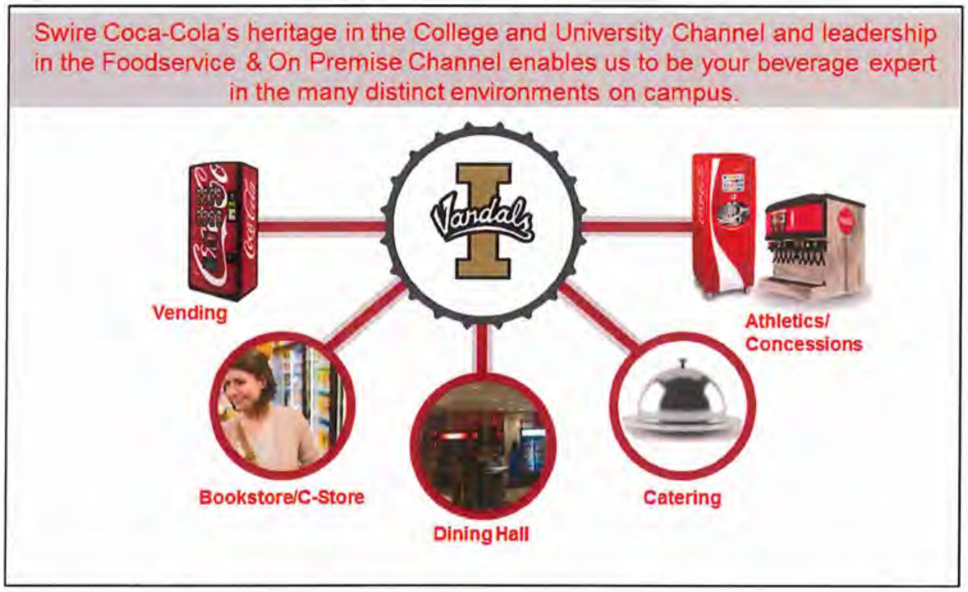
BEVERAGE PLAN: MARKETING/INNOVATION/VALUECREATION



Swire Coca-Cola, USA, working with the University of Idaho, will build a semi-annual Marketing and Merchandising Calendar with the goal of enhancing beverage volume, revenue and student life. Swire Coca-Cola, USA provides a fully staffed and talented marketing department to develop and implement localized marketing and merchandising programs at the University of Idaho. In addition to localized programs, The Coca-Cola Company national programs can and will be customized to support the initiatives of volume, profit and student life.

Customized programs are designed for on-campus activation as well a co-branding community program to expand the University of Idaho Vandal image and messaging through local businesses. The following are a few examples of local, national and co-branded programs:

Fall Football Activation and Fuel-up-for-Finals retail activation:

BEVERAGE PLAN: SUSTAINABILITY

As a responsible corporate citizen, we recognize that we have a duty to continually strive to lessen the impact our activities may have on the environment.

Measure and Manage

We are committed to being a good steward of the natural resources and biodiversity under our influence and to ensuring the potential adverse impacts of our operations on the environment are identified and appropriately managed. Now is the time we should be striving to make a difference; it is in our commercial and personal interests to do so. The environmental initiatives we are investing in today are designed to build core competencies that we anticipate will, in future, become core requirements from our customers, investors and other stake holders.

Water

Water resource management continues to be a focus of our bottling facilities as water is not only an essential ingredient in our products, but a medium for maintaining high product quality and hygiene.

Usage Reduction and Conservation

Water conservation measures which include reuse of water for non-sanitary purposes, associate awareness programs, and investing in new technology have helped us decrease our per-unit water usage by over 19 percent, saving 99 million gallons in the past 3 years.

Water Stewardship

Watershed analysis and risk assessment plans developed performed for our Fruitland, Idaho facility

Participation in community water restoration projects in the communities we operate.

Climate

It is a priority for Swire Coca-Cola to both measure our greenhouse gas emissions and work to reduce them.

Cold Drink Equipment

Energy management systems are being retrofitted on our vending machines which reduce energy usage by up to 35 percent.

Facilities and Bottling Plants

12 percent reduction in company energy usage during the past 3 years which has resulted in the elimination of 3,300 metric tons of greenhouse gas emissions annually. Upgrades to high efficiency lighting systems in our offices and warehouses have reduced our annual electrical usage by up to 35 percent

Transportation

- Our fleet consists of 83 Hybrid vehicles
- Utilization of natural gas powered trucks and forklifts
- Optimizing delivery routes to reduce our fleet CO_2 emissions
- Implementation of "no idle" policies
- Installation of governors to limit vehicle speeds, which has decreased annual CO_2 emissions by over 1,100 metric tons annually
- Carbon offset program for airline travel

Waste Management

At Swire we focus first on reducing the amount of waste we generate and then reusing or recycling that waste. When we do generate waste we follow stringent rules to assure it is disposed in the most environmentally friendly manner and in compliance with all regulatory requirements.

Reduce

Over the years, we have been reducing the unit weight of our packages while maintaining our product quality. Our beverage containers are 7-30 percent lighter than those used in 2004 and certain containers are now composed of 30 percent plant based material.

Reuse

We continually search for new and innovative ideas for reusing materials generated in our manufacturing and distribution process. One such initiative is the use of plastic reusable shells for delivery of many of our products. In addition, 55-gallon syrup barrels are utilized both for recycling bins and donated to the public.

Recycle

We have an internal focus on the total amount of waste generated as well as the amount of material we recycle. Our internal recycling rates are in excess of 89 percent.

Some of the materials we recycle

- Paper
- Cardboard
- Plastic
- Metals
- Electronic equipment

Coca-Cola / Keep America Beautiful Bin Grant Program

In 2015, the Coca-Cola/Keep America Beautiful Recycling Bin Grant program provided 3,662 recycling bins to colleges and universities across the country.

The program makes it easier for students to recycle by placing bins in college residence halls and other convenient locations. In addition to the bins, colleges and universities also receive recycling tips from Keep America Beautiful.

The bins are made possible through a grant from The Coca-Cola Foundation. Grant recipients are chosen based on potential to collect the most cans and bottles, recycling experience, need and other factors. To learn how to apply for a grant for your school or to be added to our notification list for future grants, go to bingrant.org.

Sustainable Agriculture

Our Approach

It is important for The Coca-Cola Company to address agricultural challenges and opportunities systemwide and across our entire value chain. Fifty percent of Coca-Cola system's procurement expenditures goes toward agricultural ingredients.

Our Progress

Coca-Cola is on track to achieve it's 2020 goal to sustainably source our key agricultural ingredients: cane and beet sugar, high fructose corn syrup, tea, coffee, palm oil, soy, oranges, lemons, grapes, apples, mangos, and pulp and paper fiber for packaging.

Highlights

Developed a new seven stage Supplier Engagement Program, which outlines various pathways to achieve compliance with our Sustainable Agriculture Guiding Principle.

Convened 14 workshops in eight regions around the world, with more than 35 of our bottling partners and 200 individuals taking part.

Engaged with more than 20 of our global and regional supplier leaders to drive implementation against 2020 sustainable-sourcing road map.

Protecting Community Land Rights

One issue that we are focusing on is the protection of community land rights. We have committed to zero tolerance for land grabbing and created a plan of action to support our position, which includes conducting third-party social, environmental and human rights assessments in seven critical sugar-sourcing regions and working actively with our suppliers to help prevent any land rights violations.

May 2012	Board appointed Dr. David Hill to the Higher Education Research Council as the INL representative
April 2013	Board appointed Bill Canon to the Higher Education Research Council for a three (3) year term.
August 2014	Board appointed Dr. Kelly Beierschmitt to the Higher Education Research Council as the INL representative, replacing Dr. Hill.
October 2014	Board appointed Dr. Robin Woods and re-appointed Dr. Haven Baker to the Higher Education Research Council for a three (3) year term.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures, Section III.W., Higher Education Research

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Higher Education Research Council (HERC) is responsible for implementing the Board's research policy (Board Policy III.W.) and provides guidance to Idaho's four-year public institutions for a statewide collaborative effort to accomplish goals and objectives set forth in Board policy. HERC also provides direction for and oversees the use of research funding provided by the Legislature to promote research activities that will have a beneficial effect on the quality of education and the economy of the State.

HERC consists of the Vice Presidents of Research from Boise State University, Idaho State University, and the University of Idaho and a representative of Lewis-Clark State College; a representative of the Idaho National Laboratory (INL); and three (3) non-institutional representatives, with consideration of geographic, private industry involvement and other representation characteristics.

There is currently one HERC member up for re-appointment. This member serves as one of the industry partner representatives.

Mr. Bill Canon is the Director of Strategic Business Development at Valmark Interface Solutions (VIS) out of Livermore, California; he resides in Meridian, Idaho. Mr. Canon has been a very active and valuable member during his time on HERC. This would be Mr. Canon's second term on the Council.

LEWIS-CLARK STATE COLLEGE

SUBJECT
Lewis-Clark State College's Faculty Constitution

REFERENCE
August 2014	The Board approved changes to the Faculty Constitution addressing committee structure changes.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY
Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section 1 Subsection S. Institutional Governance.
Lewis-Clark State College Policy 1.104 Constitution.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION
The Faculty of Lewis-Clark State College (LCSC) voted to remove from the Constitution, reference to specific committees, meeting schedules or Faculty Senate representation. The sections on General Provisions, Responsibilities of Faculty and Amendment of the Constitution are unchanged, and remain as last approved by the Board. References to committees, composition of the Senate and meeting schedules have been moved to a new LCSC Policy 1.104: Operational Guidelines for Faculty Governance, which by policy, does not require Board approval.

IMPACT
Removing such prescriptive and detailed information from the LCSC Faculty Constitution allows Faculty Senate flexibility in conducting its business, without the need to seek Board approval for minor changes.

Attachment 1 – Policy 1.104: Constitution Page 3

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
The proposed changes are compliant with Board policy. Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION
I move to approve the proposed changes to the Lewis-Clark State College Faculty Constitution as set forth in the materials submitted to the Board in Attachment 1.

Lewis-Clark State College | Policy # 1.104 | Page 1 of 14
Policy and Procedures Manual | Date: 8/1/79 | Rev: 7/2014

SECTION: I. GENERAL

SUBJECT: CONSTITUTION OF THE FACULTY OF LEWIS-CLARK STATE COLLEGE

Background: Used by faculty to discharge responsibility for internal government.

Point of Contact: The President, the Provost, and the Faculty Senate are responsible for monitoring this policy.

Other LCSC offices directly involved with implementation of this policy, or significantly affected by the policy: Faculty Association

Date of approval by LCSC authority: 7/2014

Date of State Board Approval: 8/2014

Date of Most Recent Review: 03/2016

Summary of Major Changes incorporated in this revision to the policy: ~~Committee structure, Faculty Senate Apportionment, and clarification of parliamentary procedures.~~ Sections of the constitution that are more appropriate as operational guidelines have been removed. Removed sections will be placed in a separate document (operational guidelines) that will require LCSC approval for future changes but not State Board Approval.

PREAMBLE

We, the Faculty of Lewis-Clark State College, in order to discharge our responsibilities for internal government entrusted to us by the Idaho State Board of Education (hereafter referred to as Idaho SBOE), do hereby adopt and declare this constitution to be the basic document under which we shall discharge those responsibilities, consonant with the established policies of the Idaho SBOE. Any provision of this constitution that falls below the minimum standards set by the Idaho SBOE policy is inapplicable.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Idaho State Board of Education. The Idaho SBOE is vested by Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Idaho with all powers necessary or convenient to govern the College in all its aspects. The Idaho SBOE is the final authority for actions of the Faculty. Policy actions taken by the Faculty are subject to the final approval of the Idaho SBOE.

Section 2. President of the College. The President shall be president of the Faculty, or of the several faculties, within her or his institution and the chief executive of the instructional force in all of the institution's departments or divisions. She or he shall have authority, subject to Idaho SBOE policies, to give general direction to the instruction, research, and services of the institution. She or he shall make all recommendations concerning employment of faculties and other personnel of the institution. She or he shall be responsible to the Idaho SBOE for the administration and enforcement of all rules and regulations of the institution promulgated within the policies adopted by the Idaho SBOE:

A. The President, with the advice of the Faculty, shall determine from time to time the internal and functional organization of the institution. She or he, or her or his designee, shall be an ex officio member of all committees, councils, and boards necessary to the operation of the institutional program and the immediate government of the institution.

B. The President, with the advice of the Faculty, shall have the right to veto any action, resolution, or recommendation of the Faculty, provided, however, that any issue so vetoed upon a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Faculty present and voting at a regular meeting of the Faculty Association must be referred to the Idaho SBOE for consideration.

C. The President shall have all the rights, prerogatives, and responsibilities, which normally accrue to the position. She or he shall be responsible to the Idaho SBOE.

D. The chief executive shall select her or his own staff, subject to the required approval of the Idaho SBOE for all appointments.

Section 3. The Faculty of the College. The Faculty of the College consists of full-time lecturers, instructors, assistant professors, associate professors, professors, exempt and instructional personnel teaching at least six (6) credits or twelve (12) contact hours per week for three (3) or more of the previous six (6) semesters, the President, Provost, Vice Presidents, Deans, instructional Division Heads, and Registrar.

Section 4. Associate Faculty Members. Faculty members with emeritus status, exempt instructional personnel teaching at least one (1) credit per year but not listed as Faculty in Section 3, and such other administrative officers as the President may designate in writing are Associate Faculty members.

Section 5. The Faculty Association. The Faculty Association of Lewis-Clark State College is hereby established as the body representing the electoral interest of the Faculty. The Faculty of the College are voting members of the Faculty Association; Associate Faculty members are members of the Faculty Association with voice, but without vote.

The Faculty Association, acting in partnership with the President, is responsible for establishing educational policies and participating in institutional government (as defined in Article III of this document). The Faculty Association communicates with the Idaho SBOE through the President, the Provost, and the Chair of the Faculty Association. The responsibilities of the Faculty Association are carried out through the various committees of the Faculty Association, the Faculty Senate, and the assembled Faculty Association.

Section 6. The Faculty Senate. The Faculty Senate is empowered to act for the Faculty in all matters pertaining to the immediate governance and improvement of the College. The Faculty Senate is responsible to and reports to the Faculty Association and through the President to the Idaho SBOE, per LCSC's organizational structure. It will establish and review policies pertaining to faculty such as those for promotion and merit, ~~as well as~~ sabbatical and professional leaves, ~~make~~ and curriculum decisions.~~,~~ ~~and~~ It will also serve to protect the well-being of the students.

~~1. Each Division of the college engaged in instruction shall elect two (2) Senators to the Senate excepting the Library that shall elect one (1). Each Senator for a Division shall be a regular member of the Faculty Association with his or her primary appointment in that Division.~~

~~Divisions are defined as the Library and those instructional units that are chaired by a Division Chair. Student Affairs shall have one (1) Senator.~~

~~2. Two (2) students are appointed by the President of the Associated Students of Lewis-Clark State College (ASLCSC). They will be ex-officio members with voice but without vote.~~

~~3. The President, or the President's designated representative, Registrar, the Chair of the Curriculum Committee, and Past Faculty Chair shall be ex-officio members with voice, but without vote in the Faculty Senate.~~

~~B. Officers. Each year by the end of spring semester, the Faculty Association shall elect a Chair and a Chair-Elect from the Faculty to take office the day following spring graduation. The Chair and the Chair-Elect are also Chair and Chair-Elect of the Faculty Senate. Also, each year a Secretary from the Faculty shall be appointed by the Chair, subject to confirmation by the Faculty Association.~~

~~1. Responsibilities of the Chair are to:~~

~~c. maintain records of and report on Faculty dues payments and expenditures made from those funds.~~

~~C. Term of Office.~~

~~1. Faculty Senators. Faculty Senators are encouraged to serve for three (3) years.~~

~~2. Faculty Chair. The Chair will serve one (1) year as the Chair, and one (1) year as the immediate Past Chair. In the event of a resignation by the Chair, the immediate Past Chair will assume the responsibilities of the Chair for the remainder of the term.~~

~~3. Chair Elect. The Chair-Elect will serve one (1) year as Chair-Elect and the following year will serve as the Chair. In the event of a resignation by the Chair-Elect, an Association meeting will be held within a month of the resignation for the purpose of electing a new Chair-Elect.~~

~~4. With mutual agreement between the Faculty Chair and the Chair-Elect, and upon election by the Faculty Association, the Faculty Chair and Chair-Elect may serve an additional one (1) year term.~~

~~5. Secretary/Treasurer. The Secretary/Treasurer will serve a term of one (1) year. This term may be repeated.~~

~~Section 7. Parliamentary Procedure. All official business conducted by the Faculty Association, the Faculty Senate, and all Standing Committees shall follow the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order.~~

~~ARTICLE II FACULTY ASSOCIATION MEETINGS~~

~~Section 1. Meetings. Meetings of the Faculty Association may be called with five (5) school days notice by the President or by the Chair of the Faculty Association, or in the absence of the Chair, by the Chair-Elect of the Faculty Association, or upon the written petition of ten (10) Faculty members. There will be at least four (4) meetings during the college year. The President and the Chair, respectively, are expected to call at least two (2) meetings each. The President, (or her or his designee), shall preside at all meetings of the Faculty Association which the President has called, and the Chair or Chair-Elect shall preside at all meetings they have called.~~

~~Section 2. Secretary-Treasurer. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Faculty Association shall be the Secretary-Treasurer of the Faculty Senate subject to confirmation by the Faculty Association.~~

~~Section 3. Quorum. A quorum shall consist of not less than one fifth (1/5) of the members of the Faculty Association (as defined in Article 1, Section 5.) Proxy votes must be presented in writing to the Secretary of the Faculty. Proxy votes will not count in the calculation of a quorum. By majority vote of the members present, a written poll of the Faculty of the College may replace a voice or written vote. The written poll must be issued within two (2) working days of the request and returned within seven (7) working days of the request.~~

SUBJECT: CONSTITUTION OF THE FACULTY OF LEWIS-CLARK STATE COLLEGE

~~Section 4. Agenda. An agenda listing all subjects to be voted on by the Faculty Association, other than routine matters, shall be issued to all members of the Faculty at least two (2) days in advance of each meeting of the Faculty Association, except as provided in clause E of this section.~~

~~A. Responsibility. The President shall be responsible for and shall issue the agenda when she or he has called the meeting. The Faculty Association Chair (or Chair-Elect in the absence of the Chair) shall be responsible for and issue the agenda when the Chair (or Chair-Elect) has called the meeting.~~

~~B. Agenda Items. Individual members of the College community who wish to suggest items for the agenda shall submit them to the President if the President has called the meeting, or to the Chair (or Chair-Elect) if the Chair (or Chair-Elect) has called the meeting. No items may be considered under this clause, unless presented within the proper time limit (see Article II, Section 4 for Agenda and Article II, Section 4, E. Agenda for Emergency Meetings), or unless the presiding officer considers the matter at hand "routine" business.~~

~~C. Resolutions Requiring Action. Ten (10) or more members of the College community desiring to submit a resolution which requires action at the next Faculty Association meeting shall submit the signed resolution to the President at least three (3) school days prior to the meeting. Such resolutions shall be published in full and included with the agenda.~~

~~D. Proposed Changes of Written Policies or Regulations. Any proposed change in written policy or regulation which requires action at the next Faculty Association meeting must be published in full with the agenda, or final action on the proposal must be delayed until the next Faculty Association meeting.~~

~~E. Agenda for Emergency Meetings. If circumstances require an emergency meeting of the total Faculty, the President or the Faculty Association Chair shall declare the emergency, and thus call the meeting. In such circumstances, the agenda may be limited to items approved by the President, if the President calls the meeting, or by the Chair if the Chair calls the meeting, and should be published not less than two (2) school days prior to the emergency meeting. Policy actions taken at emergency meetings require an approving vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the members of the total Faculty in attendance at the emergency meeting. A quorum, as indicated in Article II, Section 3, must be present to conduct any business. None of the rules stipulated in this clause may be suspended or altered.~~

ARTICLE II~~I~~—RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE FACULTY

Subject to the authority of the Idaho SBOE and in keeping with the role and mission of the College, the Faculty recognizes and accepts its responsibilities for the immediate governance of the College, including, but not restricted to:

Section 1. Standards for Admission. The Faculty, in concert with the Director of Admissions/Registrar, shall establish minimum standards for admission to the College and its various units.

Section 2. Academic Standards. The Faculty shall establish academic standards to be maintained by all students in the College and its various units.

Section 3. Courses, Curricula, Graduation Requirements, Degrees. The Faculty shall establish and approve courses of instruction, curricula, degrees offered, and graduation requirements.

Section 4. Scholarships, Honors, Awards, Financial Aid. The Faculty shall establish general principles in accordance with which privileges such as scholarships, honors, awards, and financial aid shall be accepted and allocated.

The Faculty may review the standards established for the allocation of such privileges.

Section 5. Conduct of Students. The Faculty is responsible for establishing rules and regulations governing the conduct of students on the campus and at authorized College activities. Rules and regulations established by the committees shall conform to established law and standards of due process, and shall be subject to review by the Faculty Senate and the President, as well as review and final approval by the Idaho SBOE. Students shall have the right of formal appeal from decisions of the College officials and bodies to the Hearing Board, the President, and the Idaho SBOE.

Section 6. Student Participation. The students shall be given representation on Faculty committees and in the Faculty Senate.

Section 7. Selection of Administrative Officers. The Faculty shall assist the Idaho SBOE in the selection of the President and shall assist the President in the selection of other administrative officers of the College.

Section 8. Governance of Divisions. The Faculty shall establish general standards to guarantee the rights of the Faculty to participate in the governance of their respective divisions and in the selection of their respective Division Chairs.

Section 9. Faculty Welfare. The Faculty, through the Faculty Senate and other standing Faculty committees, shall select a standing committee to establish criteria for salaries, working conditions, benefits, appointments, promotion, tenure, dismissal, academic freedom, leaves, and related matters, insofar as they are not in conflict with Idaho SBOE policy, and shall, in concert with the Provost, provide for a program of Faculty development.

Section 10. Budget. Members of the Faculty shall participate in budgetary matters at the Divisional and College level. It is expected that the President will seek advice and counsel from the Faculty on budgetary policies.

Section 11. Organization of the College. The Faculty shall advise and assist the President and the Idaho SBOE in establishing, reorganizing, or discontinuing administrative and academic units of the College.

Section 12. Committee Structure. The Faculty shall establish and maintain all college-wide standing and special committees, subcommittees, councils, and boards as specified in Article IV, and similar bodies necessary to the internal governance of the College, and provide for the appointment or election of members of such bodies. The section does not apply to ad hoc committees of a fact-finding nature to advise the President or to committees established by the President, or designee, for delegated administrative tasks.

~~ARTICLE IV – COMMITTEES~~

~~Section 1. General Provisions.~~

~~A. The word "committees" is a general term describing all committees, sub-committees, councils, boards, and similar bodies.~~

~~B. The Faculty Senate appoints all standing committees other than those reserved to the President or designee.~~

~~C. The President is responsible for appointing ad hoc committees of a fact-finding nature to advise her or him and to appoint committees made up solely of administrators; the President, or designee, may also appoint committees for delegation of administrative tasks.~~

~~D. The establishment, discontinuance, or restructuring of a standing committee requires a constitutional amendment, except for committees required by Idaho SBOE policy or eliminated by the Idaho SBOE.~~

~~E. Unless otherwise indicated, no standing committee will be chaired by the administrative officer who is substantially responsible for implementing the policies or recommendations of the committee.~~

~~F. The President of the College, or her or his designee, and the Chair of the Faculty, or her or his designee, are members ex-officio, with voice, but without vote on all committees.~~

~~G. Divisions for purposes of committee membership are defined as the Library and those instructional units that are chaired by a Division Chair.~~

~~H. The tenure of individual members on standing committees may not be terminated within her or his stated term of office except for cause and with the concurrence of the Faculty Senate.~~

~~I. Committees meet on the call of the Chair. Committees may be convened by one-half (1/2) of the members on the committee with one (1) day written notice to all other members. All committees will be convened by the last week of September. A quorum for committee meetings shall consist of 50% plus one (1) committee member.~~

~~J. Proxy votes are not permitted.~~

~~K. Unless otherwise provided, all committee assignments terminate on September 1 of the year of termination.~~

~~L. Standing committees shall keep minutes and shall distribute them to all members on the committee, the Chair of the Faculty, and to the Senate Webmaster. Minutes shall be posted electronically on the Faculty Senate website.~~

SECTION: I. GENERAL

SUBJECT: CONSTITUTION OF THE FACULTY OF LEWIS-CLARK STATE COLLEGE

~~M. All committees shall have the power to appoint subcommittees in addition to those spelled out in this constitution for a specific purpose within the realm of that standing committee's function.~~

~~Section 2. Standing Committees of the Faculty Senate – General Information.~~

~~A. Appointment. The Faculty Senate will appoint all Faculty members on campus-wide Committees. Administrative members will be appointed by the President of the College, or designee, and student members will be appointed by Student Body President, or designee.~~

~~B. Reporting.~~

~~1. Each committee will make progress reports to the Senate when such reports are requested by the Senate Chair. These may be written or oral reports, should identify time and place of committee meetings, and should describe current status as well as future goals of the committee.~~

~~2. Recommendations for Senate action should be printed and distributed to Senate members prior to the Senate meetings at which they will be presented.~~

~~C. Meetings. Meetings will be open to general faculty except when such open meetings would be an infringement of individual rights.~~

~~D. Terms of Office. A term consists of one (1) year.~~

~~Section 3. Standing Committees of the Faculty Senate.~~

~~A. Faculty Affairs Committee.~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities are to:~~

~~a. recommend and monitor policies regarding evaluation, promotion, tenure and merit of the Faculty;~~

~~b. conduct a continuing study of salaries, professional problems, welfare, retirement practices, and working conditions of members;~~

~~c. Coordinate and facilitate faculty development grants, sabbaticals, and offerings in concert with the Provost.~~

~~a. The Faculty Affairs Committee will consist of one (1) faculty member from each Division and one ex-officio (1) representative from Student Affairs with voice but without vote.~~

~~b. The Chair-Elect of the Faculty Senate is the chair of the Faculty Affairs Committee, per Article I.6.B.3.c., with voice but without vote. If the Chair-Elect is serving as the~~

~~Division's representative on the committee, the chair will provide the Division's vote. In no instance shall any Division have more than one vote on the committee.~~

~~B. Student Affairs Committee.~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities are to:~~

~~a. recommend college policy and monitor implementation thereof in areas related to student life and student affairs, including but not limited to: student financial aid, housing, student organizations, student health, student judicial affairs, student recreation, placement, campus union activities, counseling, and student development;~~

~~b. establish academic standards to be maintained by all students in the College and its various units.~~

~~a. one (1) faculty member from each Division, at least one (1) but no more than two (2) students, one (1) Student Affairs representative, and one (1) administration representative. The student, the Student Affairs representative, and the administration representative will be ex-officio members of the committee with voice but without vote.~~

~~b. The Past Chair of the Faculty Association is the chair of the Student Affairs Committee, per Article I.6.B.4.a., with voice but without vote. If the Past Chair is serving as the Division's representative on the committee, the Past Chair will provide the Division's vote. In no instance shall any Division have more than one vote on the committee.~~

~~C. Curriculum Committee.~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities are to:~~

~~a. generate or review all proposals pertaining to curriculum decisions, including instructional programs and courses;~~

~~b. recommend action on curriculum matters to the Faculty Senate.~~

~~a. The Curriculum Committee will consist of one (1) Faculty member from each division, the Registrar, a representative from the Registrar's office to serve in the capacity of secretary for the committee, the Provost or designee, and one (1) student. The Registrar, the representative from the Registrar's office, the Provost or designee and the student will be ex-officio members of the committee with voice but without vote.~~

~~b. The chair of the Curriculum Committee will be a faculty member elected by the Curriculum Committee each spring to serve for the following academic year. The Chair of the Curriculum Committee will be an ex officio member of the Faculty Senate. If a faculty member becomes chair of the Curriculum Committee and the Division appoints~~

~~an additional divisional representative, then the committee chair will have voice but no vote; in no instance shall any Division have more than one vote on the committee.~~

~~D. General Education Committee~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities of the General Education Committee are to:~~

~~a. review and recommend changes in General Education throughout the College and in the General Education Core Curriculum.~~

~~b. monitor the effectiveness of General Education throughout the College and the General Education Core Curriculum.~~

~~c. publicize, promote, and advocate for General Education among the students, faculty, and staff of the College.~~

~~d. maintain an ongoing study of general education philosophies and models nationwide; and~~

~~e. coordinate college-wide actions to maintain the relevance of General Education in a changing society.~~

~~2. Structure~~

~~The General Education Committee will consist of five (5) faculty elected by the Faculty Association. Each member will serve a three-year term. The members must be selected from five (5) different divisions. The chair of the committee will be elected annually by the committee from among the members of the committee.~~

~~E. Budget, Planning, and Assessment Committee.~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities are to:~~ ~~Serve as a communication link among the Faculty Senate, Divisions, and President regarding budget, planning, and assessment.~~

~~a. The Budget, Planning, and Assessment Committee will consist of one (1) Faculty member from each Division, the Past Chair, and the Chair-elect. If the Past Chair or the Chair-Elect is serving as a Division's representative on the committee, that individual will provide that Division's vote. In no instance shall any Division have more than one vote on the committee.~~

~~b, The Chair of the Faculty Association shall serve as Chair of the Budget, Planning, and Assessment Committee, per Article I.6.B.1.h, with voice but without vote. If the Chair is serving as the Division's representative on the committee, the Chair will provide the Division's vote. In no instance shall any Division have more than one vote on the committee.~~

~~F. Faculty Senate Cabinet.~~

~~1. Function. The responsibilities are to:~~

~~a. serve as a clearinghouse for issues to be assigned to committees;~~

~~b. assist the Faculty Chair in attending meetings, communicating with campus groups, and monitoring policy implementation;~~

~~c. provide an advisory function for the Faculty Chair on a weekly basis.~~

~~2. Structure.~~

~~The Faculty Chair Cabinet will consist of the following members: the Faculty Chair (also the Cabinet Chair), the Faculty Chair-Elect, the Secretary/Treasurer, the Senator Chairs of each standing committee, and the Past Faculty Chair.~~

~~Section 4. Hearing Board.~~

~~A. Function. In accordance with grievance procedures as stated in the Policy and Procedures Manual, the Hearing Board shall serve as the institutional board of appeals for Faculty and students. Upon request it shall review all policy changes, testing them for consistency with the constitution. The Board shall seek such information from students, Faculty, administration, and the Idaho SBOE, as it may deem necessary to accomplish its task. It shall also conduct a continuing review of the constitution committee structure and functions, communicating its findings to the Faculty Association annually.~~

~~B. Structure.~~

~~1. Membership. The Hearing Board shall be composed of seven (7) members (the majority of whom shall be tenured): three (3) members from the faculty elected by the Faculty Association; three (3) members from the Faculty appointed by the President; and one (1) Division Chair appointed by the Faculty Senate. Three (3) alternate members will be designated: one (1) appointed by the President and two (2) appointed by the Faculty Senate.~~

~~2. Chair. The Chair shall be elected each year from the members of the Hearing Board. A Hearing Chair shall be elected for each hearing from the members of the Hearing Board. The Hearing Chair shall not be the Division Chair member of the Hearing Board.~~

~~3. Students. In cases involving students, four (4) students shall be included, with voice and vote, in the hearing board membership. The students shall be appointed by the ASLCSC President.~~

~~C. Term of Service. Membership of the Hearing Board for the subsequent academic year shall be determined prior to the last day of the spring semester. Each member shall serve for two (2) college years.~~

President Approved Alcohol Permits Report

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures, I.J.2.b.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The chief executive officer of each institution may waive the prohibition against possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages only as permitted by, and in compliance with, Board policy. Immediately upon issuance of an Alcohol Beverage Permit, a complete copy of the application and the permit shall be delivered to the Office of the State Board of Education, and Board staff shall disclose the issuance of the permit to the Board no later than the next Board meeting.

The last update presented to the Board was at the June 2016 Board meeting. Since that meeting, Board staff has received seventeen (17) permits from Boise State University, three (3) permits from Idaho State University, and thirteen (13) permits from the University of Idaho.

Board staff has prepared a brief listing of the permits issued for use. The list is attached for the Board's review.

SUBJECT

Appointment to the Professional Standards Commission (PSC)

REFERENCE

August 2015	Board approved one appointment to the Professional Standards Commission.
April 2016	Board requested changes to the recommendation for appointments to the Professional Standards Commission to reflect a more diverse geographical representation of the state.
June 2016	Board approved six appointments and two re-appointments to the Professional Standards Commission and discussed changing practices and reaching out to broader communities when filling openings on the Commission in order to assure more equal representation and diversity of the members.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-1252, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Section 33-1252, Idaho Code sets forth criteria for membership of the Professional Standards Commission (PSC). The PSC consists of eighteen (18) members, one (1) from the State Department of Education (SDE) and one (1) from the Division of Career Technical Education (CTE). The remaining members shall be representative of the teaching profession of the state of Idaho, and not less than seven (7) members shall be certificated classroom teachers in the public school system and shall include at least one (1) teacher of exceptional children and at least one (1) teacher in pupil personnel services. The Idaho Association of School Superintendents, the Idaho Association of Secondary School Principals, the Idaho Association of Elementary School Principals, the Idaho School Boards Association, the Idaho Association of Special Education Administrators, the education departments of private colleges, and the colleges of letters and sciences of the institutions of higher education may submit nominees for one (1) position each. The community colleges and the education departments of the public institutions of higher education may submit nominees for two (2) positions.

Nominations were sought for the open position from the Idaho School Superintendents Association. Resumes for interested individuals listed below are included in the attachments.

School Superintendents:

- Trina Caudle, Coeur d'Alene School District
- Nicole MacTavish, Nampa School District
- Marjean McConnell, Bonneville Joint School District

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

At the June 2016 Board meeting it was determined that the Department would amend its practices when filling positions on the Professional Standards Commission. The new practice would be to reach out not only to the identified stakeholder groups, but to also reach out to other education community groups to allow individuals who are not connected to the standard communications the opportunity to apply or submit nominations for open positions. Specifically, it was discussed that there was a need for educators who work with our underserved populations to have the opportunity to serve on the community, including our American Indian educators. The Board's Indian Education Committee expressed an interested in nominating individual educators to the Commission if notified of openings.

BOARD ACTION

I move to appoint Marjean McConnell as a member of the Professional Standards Commission for the remainder of the three-year term which began July 1, 2014, and will end June 30, 2017, representing School Superintendents in Idaho.

RE: Professional Standards Commission Appointment

Dear Kristen,

I am writing this letter to express by great interest in serving on the Professional Standards Commission representing the Idaho Association of School Administrators. In public education teachers and certificated staff are our most valuable resource, impacting the lives and education of our students. Therefore, we must take great care in attracting high quality individuals, ensuring teachers are prepared for the classroom, ensuring principals are prepared to lead in a time of constant change, provide certificated staff in all areas multiple opportunities to learn and grow as a professional, hold staff to high standards of conduct, and value each person as a professional.

My personal, educational and professional experiences enable me to bring a variety of perspectives and expertise to the Professional Standards Commission. The Commission has an important role in making recommendations to the State Board of Education, providing leadership on professional standards and accountability, and ensuring Idaho has competent, qualified and ethical educators in the classroom while cultivating our greatest resource. As a member of the commission, my role would be to tap into those perspectives and expertise, and collaborate with other members to meet the mission and vision of the commission while always serving as an advocate for all students in Idaho.

It would truly be an honor to serve on the commission. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Trina C Caudle

Kristen Shreve
Director of Operations
Idaho Association of School Administrators
777 S. Latah Street
Boise, ID 83705

Dear Ms. Shreve:

I am writing to apply for the opening on the Professional Standards Commission. I am hoping that my diverse background, my education, and my experience might be the right fit for this opening. I have a strong passion for this work and know how important the work of the commission is in shaping the experiences our students have in Idaho's schools.

I have had the great opportunity to have many experiences in public education. At the classroom level, I've served as a high school counselor, a high school English teacher, and an Associated Student Body Advisor. I've also served in several leadership capacities at the building level: middle school assistant principal, high school assistant principal, middle school principal, and high school principal. In addition, I've had the opportunity to serve in several capacities at the district level as a Special Education Director, an Executive Director of Curriculum and Instruction, and now as Assistant Superintendent.

In these roles I've served schools districts as small as 1500 students to as large as 26,000 students; in districts so rural that getting teachers to professional development took a ferry ride and a 3 hour drive, to sprawling suburban 'bedroom' districts, to an urban school district serving families speaking over 140 different languages. I'm hopeful that my first line experiences with the greatly varying challenges in all these different contexts will be helpful to the work of the commission.

I've also had the opportunity to see how professional standards shape the non-profit world when I served as the Director of the University of Washington's Experimental College and as I ran a Boys and Girls' Club of America on an US Army base in Stuttgart, Germany.

Finally, after earning my Masters of Education and my Doctor of Education, I had the great opportunity to get deep into the weeds with professional standards when I was lucky enough to be selected to attend the Human Relations in in Educational Leadership (HELP) Certification offered in partnership between Willamette University the Confederation of Oregon School Administrators. This HR certification course vastly deepened my understanding of the importance of professional standards and the place standards commissions play in the ecosystem of public education.

As I led in both the public education sector and in the non-profit world, it became increasingly evident to me that the standards by which we define the professionals in our field matter. Even in an industry and in areas where we sometimes struggle to find qualified applicants, we have a responsibility to maintain strong professional standards to shape the work we do in service to kids and to families.

I would love the opportunity to join the commission and would jump at the chance if offered.

I very much appreciate your consideration of my application. I have attached my resume and would welcome any questions via phone or email.

Thank you!

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my interest in serving on the board of the Professional Standards Commission. I have 38 years of experience in education, which includes 17 years of classroom teaching and 21 years of administrative experience. I was the Director of Human Resources at Bonneville School District 93 from 2004 to 2011, so I am very aware of the roles and responsibilities of the Professional Standards Commission. I currently serve as the Deputy Superintendent.

My experience will be an asset to the Professional Standards Commission. I am a strong advocate for Idaho students, committed to providing the best education to all students. I believe it is crucial for Idaho schools to have competent and qualified teachers. I am excited to collaborate with others to work towards that common goal.

Attached is a copy of my resume. I received a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education from Boise State University, as well as a Master's Degree and Ed.S degree in Educational Administration from Idaho State University. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Marjean McConnell
Deputy Superintendent

SUBJECT

Adoption of Computer Applications curricular materials and related instructional materials as recommended by the Curricular Materials Selection Committee.

REFERENCE

August 2014	Board approved the Computer Applications Curricular Review.
August 2015	Board approved the Computer Applications Curricular Review.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-118, 33-118A, Idaho Code
IDAPA 08.02.03.128 – Rules Governing Thoroughness

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Administrative Rules of the State Board of Education, IDAPA 08.02.03.128, describes the adoption process for curricular materials as an adoption cycle of six (6) years. Curricular materials are defined as "textbook and instructional media including software, audio/visual media and internet resources" (Section 33-118A, Idaho Code). Idaho is a multiple adoption state which means Idaho recommends multiple titles from multiple publishers in a specific content area. The Curricular Materials Selection Committee (CMSC) is charged with the responsibility to screen, evaluate, and recommend curricular materials for adoption by the State Board of Education.

For 2016, the annual adoption clause allows for submissions in the subject area of K-12 Computer Applications. This year the curricular materials review was held on June 17, 2016. Ten (10) content area specialists assisted the six (6) selection committee members in the evaluation of the curricular materials.

IMPACT

The adoption process in Idaho provides for the continuous review and evaluation of new curricular materials. This process ensures that Idaho schools have quality products available to purchase at a guaranteed low price, and equal availability to all Idaho school districts. This process maintains local control in the choice of instructional materials by providing multiple lists of approved materials. The adoption process also provides, through a contract with each publisher, a contract price that is good for the length of the adoption cycle. This ensures quality for each school district and allows for the best materials at the lowest possible price for Idaho's schools.

Introduction

The State Curricular Materials Selection Committee is pleased to submit the following materials for your consideration for adoption in the state of Idaho. The 2016 Session called for reviewing curricular materials in the interim subject area of Computer Applications.

Several of these materials have accompanying electronic instructional media. Others are deliverable via CD-ROM or the Online on the Internet.

The Curricular Materials Selection Committee considers their work an important contribution to the educational process in Idaho. This Committee reflects the diversity of Idaho's population both geographically and philosophically. Occasionally the approval of a certain material is not a unanimous decision by the Committee.

This process maintains local control in the choice of instruction materials by providing multiple lists of approved materials. The adoption process also provides, through a contract with each publisher, a contract price that is good for the length of the adoption cycle. This ensures quality for each school district and allows for the best materials at the lowest possible price for Idaho's schools. It is recommended that districts choose materials from the list of vetted and approved materials. School districts are not required to choose materials from this list.

Idaho adopts materials in the areas of English Language Arts, Dictionary, Thesaurus, and Speech; Limited English Proficiency/English Language Development; Mathematics; Professional Technical Education: Agriculture and Natural Resources, Business and Marketing Education, Engineering and Technology, Family and Consumer Sciences, Health Professions, Individualized Occupational Training, and Skilled and Technical Sciences; Humanities: Interdisciplinary, World Languages, Art, Drama/Theatre, Dance, Music; Drivers Education; Healthy Life Styles: Health/Wellness, and Physical Education; Social Studies: History, Geography, and Government; Economics; Science; and Computer Applications (adopted annually).

Materials are adopted in Idaho on a six-year rotating schedule. Publishers have an additional one year following the main adoption year to submit new copyrights for a particular content area, allowing each of the content area submissions a total of two years. The intent of the adoption process is to generally approve all materials meeting the established criteria and to reject those items that are considered unsuitable for use in their designated subject area.

There are advantages to adopting curricular materials at the state level:

- Contract prices are adhered to for six years (five years for interim adopted materials), which saves money for the schools.
- Publishers are required to lower the price to Idaho if they lower it to any other state after the Idaho contract has been signed.

- Most textbook publishers maintain inventory at the state depository, Caxton Printers, Ltd. which reduces delivery time and shipping costs.
- Contracts help ensure adopted materials will be available for the life of the contract (6 years).
- Materials are screened for quality, organization, vocabulary and graphic presentation. Textbooks publishers must submit Manufacturing Standards and Specifications for Textbooks (MSST) standards compliance form for each title.
- Materials are screened for fair representation on such issues as environment and industry.
- Instructional materials are screened and thoroughly reviewed by subject area experts to ensure that essential elements are covered.
- Any materials reflecting adversely upon individuals or groups due to race, ethnicity, class, gender, or religion are not approved.
- Small school districts are guaranteed to get the same textbooks and complementary materials as larger school systems.

Curricular materials in Idaho are defined as textbooks and instructional media including software, audio/visual material and internet based instructional material (Idaho Code 33-118A). Idaho is a multiple adoption state and adopts a number of materials in a designated subject area from a variety of publishing companies. This is consistent with the belief that a variety of materials has value and usefulness to the schools.

The Curricular Materials Selection Committee, which is appointed by the State Board of Education (SBOE), has the responsibility of overseeing the adoption process for the state. The Executive Secretary of this Committee is an employee of the State Department of Education (SDE).

The membership on the Selection Committee is comprised of at least 10 members who may include:

- secondary administrator(s)
- elementary administrator(s)
- secondary teacher(s)
- elementary teacher(s)
- parent representative(s)
- district school board member(s)
- representative from private/parochial schools
- representative who is not a public school educator nor trustee
- representative(s) from the state's colleges of education
- representative from the Division of Professional-Technical Education
- content area coordinator(s) from the State Department of Education
- the Executive Secretary from the State Department of Education

All members are appointed by the SBOE for a five-year term with the exception of the SDE content coordinators and the representative from Professional-Technical Education who serve for one year. Current Committee members are listed in a separate document.

The Committee, assisted by specialists from throughout the state, meet for one week in June to review and correlate all materials to the Common Core State Standards and/or the Idaho Content Standards and specific course requirements. The Committee votes on the materials and those recommended are forwarded to the SBOE for official adoption for Idaho Schools. All meetings of the Committee are open to the public.

Following formal adoption, contracts are mailed to the publishing companies. After the return of signed contracts, the listing of newly adopted materials will be published in the State Department of Education website Adoption Guide found at: http://www.sde.idaho.gov/academic/curricular/materials.html.

A state curriculum library is maintained at Caxton as required by Idaho Code 118A. Adopted materials are housed in this library and available to the public. In addition, seven (7) Regional Centers maintain libraries of adopted materials that are available to the public as well as college students and local schools. The Regional Centers are located as follows:

N.L. Terteling Library College of Idaho
Caldwell, Idaho

Albertson Library
Boise State University
Boise, Idaho

David O. McKay Library
Brigham Young University-Idaho
Rexburg, Idaho

University of Idaho Library
University of Idaho
Moscow, Idaho

Instructional Materials Center
Idaho State University
Pocatello, Idaho

Curriculum Library

John Riley Library
Northwest Nazarene University
Nampa, Idaho

The citizens of Idaho may request that the Committee reconsider any material under adoption. The Textbook Adoption Process: Request for Reconsideration of Materials form can be found at Schools/Request for Reconsideration of Materials Form: http://www.sde.idaho.gov/academic/curricular/materials/files/adoption-process/Adoption-Process-Reconsideration-of-Materials-Form.pdf.

The Committee considers all requests and maintains the rights to either recommend continued adoption or remove any materials from the adopted list.

Curricular Materials Recommendations - Annual Adoption

It was moved by Darlene Dyer, seconded by Lisa Olsen, and carried that the curricular materials listed and marked as approved in the Subject Area Review Books for the Annual Adoption of Computer Applications materials and their accompanying ancillary materials, notes, and where indicated, instructional software, be recommended by the Idaho State Curricular Materials Selection Committee to the Idaho State Board of Education for adoption and use in the public schools of Idaho in accordance with the policies and regulations of the Idaho State Board of Education.

Adjournment

Motion for adjournment was made by Laree Jansen, seconded by a Unanimous Vote, and carried to adjourn the meeting on June 17, 2016.

Respectfully submitted,

Elizabeth Flasnick
Executive Secretary

	Notes: STRENGTHS: Hardback, large spiral bound construction, Color helps to separate book into program areas. Up to date operating system incorporated in book, step-by-step instruction supported. Incorporated application usage for portable devices, graphic images that support call outs, shows on screen images that support student progress. Large print able to be seen by those with possible visual limitations. End of chapter projects support skills learned in chapter, and creativity in students. WEAKNESSES: No evidence of interaction with peers, experts, or others employing the digital media or environment. It does state how the material can be utilized in support of groups. No group projects present. Could not find areas of group activities in book. OTHER: Suggestion to publisher, tabs at section ends would allow students quick access to subject areas. Publisher should allow free access to graphics that are utilized within the textbook.
	Key Features: • OFFERS UNIQUE EMPHASIS ON THE REASONING BEHIND EACH PROCESS. Students go well beyond simply following instructions to accomplish each task. They explore context for their complete projects as they learn the “why” behind each step in the process. • ROADMAPS FOR EACH MODULE DETAIL PROGRESS. Helpful Roadmaps within each module visually show students where they are in the process of completing the module project. • CONTENT EMPHASIZES CRITICAL THINKING SKILLS. Opportunities to refine critical thinking appear throughout the text within “Consider This” sections, thought-provoking questions, and problem-solving activities. Numerous end-of-module activities engage students in critical thinking and problem-solving skills as they learn to create their own solutions. • ENCOURAGES PERSONALIZATION. This edition asks students to incorporate personal detail in their solutions for every module project and assignment to ensure that each student’s solution will be unique. New Features for this edtion: • NEW WORD MODULE INTRODUCES THE LATEST STRENGTHS OF WORD 2016. This edition provides new hands-on module projects and effective introductions to the important features new to Word 2016, including Smart Lookup button and Insights task pane. • NEW POWERPOINT® MODULE HIGHLIGHTS THE MOST IMPORTANT FEATURES IN THE LATEST VERSION. Your students work with new projects and exercises that emphasize the topics that are most relevant in their lives. This edition expands explanation of usage of inserting and formatting shapes. • NEW EXCEL MODULE EMPHASIZES PRATICAL USES FOR NEW FEATURES. An updated project teaches students how to create a personal budget. It also addresses chart types and functions that are new to Excel 2016. • NEW PRODUCTIVITY APPS FOR WORK AND SCHOOL MODULE PROVIDE A VISUAL INTRODUCTION. These helpful, easy-to-use apps by author Corinne Hoisington visually guide students through using Microsoft® OneNote, Sway, Office Mix and Edge. Fun, hands-on activities ensure active learning. Companion Sways provide videos and step-by-step instructions to help students learn to master each app.

	Notes: STRENGTHS: There are great illustrations and formatting throughout the text. There is a lot of material put together in a very clear way. WEAKNESSES: There are 2 main points of weakness. The first is that there are no summative assessments and the second are the lack of the following standards: 1.1.3, 2.1.2, 3.1.1, 3.1.3, and 4.1.1. OTHER: Online resources are at the back of the book and hard to find.
	Key Features: • COMPREHENSIVE UPDATES REFLECT THE LATEST FEATURES AND ENHANCEMENTS THROUGHOUT MICROSOFT® OFFICE 2016. Key Features:

- PROVIDES COMPLETE INTRODUCTION TO TODAY'S SPECTRUM OF OPERATING SYSTEMS. This edition offers thorough coverage and examples of the latest MS Windows, Mac OS X, iOS, Android and Chrome OS throughout the book. Your students leave your course with a basic understanding of how to maximize the critical applications in today's leading operating systems.
- QUICKCHECK EXERCISES HELP STUDENTS GAUGE COMPREHENSION. Located in each section, these QuickCheck Exercises ensure your students fully understand the concepts they have just read before they progress further.
- END-OF-UNIT READINGS HIGHLIGHT SOCIAL AND ETHICAL ISSUES. These readings provide material for thought-provoking classroom discussions. Accompanying Try It! and What Do You Think? exercises encourage students to think critically about the topics.
- END-OF-UNIT ACTIVITIES REINFORCE CONCEPTS WITH MEANINGFUL PRACTICE. Interactive Summary Questions, Interactive Situation Questions, and Lab Projects enable students to practice the specific skills covered in each chapter with practical, hands-on applications.
- STUDENTS PRACTICE INFORMATION LITERACY SKILLS USING ONLINE TOOLS. A section in each unit guides students in refining their skills in searching, selecting, organizing, evaluating, and citing source material. When you add Search Expert to your course, you further help your students acquire skills and tools they can apply to research across any curriculum.

New features for this edition:

- TRY IT! PROGRAMMING WITH PYTHON™ OFFERS HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE TO USERS. This new unit provides a step-by-step, hands-on, introduction to programming. By following step-by-step instructions, student learn to program successfully and immediately-- even if they have no prior experience.
- UPDATED SCREENS THROUGHOUT REFLECT THE LATEST OPERATING SYSTEMS AND APPLICATIONS. New visuals incorporate the latest features of Microsoft® Windows 10 and Office 2016 to ensure that your students are prepared to work with the most current versions of these important tools.

Notes:
STRENGTHS:
Discovering Computers is a well laid out approach to fundamental computers. We especially liked the introduction chapters discussing basic computer information and evolution. We like the assessments in "Test the Student's Knowledge." Critical thinking is encouraged. We also like the collaboration options at the end of most modules.
WEAKNESSES:
We thought the design was good but could be made easier for the ESL student. There is an overwhelming amount of text on some pages. Although the graphics are relevant it does not show step by step with pictures that could help ESL students who struggle with reading English. The design is a little cluttered.
OTHER:
This textbook meets all standards and criteria for Idaho. We recommend it for district purchase.

Key Features:

- STEP-BY-STEP PRESENTATIONS AND CLEAR SCREEN IMAGES GUIDE STUDENTS. This book's proven step-by-step pedagogy and enhanced callouts within screenshots provide students with guidance each step of the way, helping them master even the most challenging Office 2016 skills. The book's unique project-based approach engages students in learning skills within a real-world context.
- COMBINES COMPLETE COMPUTER CONCEPTS WITH THE LATEST MICROSOFT ® OFFICE 2016 SKILLS. The authors skillfully integrate fully updated computer concepts content with the latest new Microsoft® Office 2016 skills in a single, convenient text. All of this timely information is reinforced with the proven Shelly Cashman hallmark pedagogy.
- EACH MODULE ADDRESSES PRATICAL SKILLS AND TIMELY SECURITY ISSUES RELATED TO CONTENT. As students progress through each module's topics, they examine the practical technology skills and relevant security issues pertinent to the featured subject matter.
- MEANINGFUL QUESTIONS AND ACTIVITIES STRENGTHEN CRITICAL THINKING SKILLS. Students have numerous opportunities throughout the text to refine their critical thinking abilities as they answer thought-provoking questions, complete problem-solving activities within the module, and review end of module activities and assignments.

New to this edition:

- COMPUTER CONCEPTS HIGHLIGHT THE MOST RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN COMPUTER TOOLS AND TECHNOLOGY. The latest computer concepts, drawn from the best-selling DISCOVERING COMPUTERS, emphasize actionable content, a proven learning structure, and variety of practice and opportunities to reinforce key skills.
- NEW WORD MODULE INTRODUCES THE LATEST STRENGTHS OF MICROSOFT® WORD 2016. This edition provides new hands-on module projects and effective introductions to the key features new to Word 2016, including Smart Lookup button and Insights task pane.
- NEW POWERPOINT® MODULE HIGHLIGHTS THE MOST IMPORTANT FEATURES IN THE LATEST VERSION. Your students work with new projects and exercises that emphasize the topics that are most relevant in their lives. This edition further explains how to best use new inserting and formatting shapes features.
- NEW EXCEL MODULE EMPHASIZES PRATICAL USES FOR NEW FEATURES. An updated, useful project teaches students how to create a personal budget. It also addresses chart types and functions that are new to Excel 2016.
- NEW ACCESS MODULE PROVIDES VALUABLE HANDS-ON PRACTICE. Students work with a new database project that models the real world of a human resources outsourcing company. Students learn to use new query, report and form examples from Access 2016.
- NEW PRODUCTIVITY APPS FOR WORK AND SCHOOL MODULE PROVIDES A VISUAL INTRODUCTION. These helpful, easy-to-use apps by well-known technology author Corinne Hoisington visually guide students through using Microsoft® OneNote, Sway, Office Mix and Edge, using fun, hands-on activities for active learning. <tr><td colspan="5">Notes:
STRENGTHS:
We like the design and organization of the book. It incorporates some very good assessment and critical thinking exercises. The spiral binding makes is convenient and easy to use. The graphics are good and the text not overwhelming. The organization is conducive to learning with ease and engagement.
WEAKNESSES:
Unfortunately, this book does not meet all the state standards required. This book needs to address collaboration and incorporate some etiquette with ethics and responsible use.
OTHER:
We like the book as far as it meets the standards, ease, design, and organization. However, we cannot recommend it as core/other because it falls short on standards necessary for Idaho. It would be a great component text. The publisher submitted this text for grades 9-12 but it would also be appropriate for grades 7-8.</td></tr>

SUBJECT

Appointments to the Bias and Sensitivity Committee

REFERENCE

November 2014	Board appointed thirty (30) committee members for terms of either two (2) years or four (4) years. A list of ninety (90) members was appointed to do a one-time review. A list of sixty-three (63) alternates was also approved to replace one of the original thirty (30), if needed.
February 2015	Board approved to eliminate an audio clip and a test question from the ISAT assessments upon the recommendation from the Bias and Sensitivity Committee.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-134, Idaho Code - Assessment Item Review Committee

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

In accordance with Section 33-134, Idaho Code, the State Department of Education recommended and the State Board of Education appointed a review committee to ensure that parents, teachers, administrators, and school board members in Idaho's public education system have the opportunity to review the types and kinds of questions used on state assessments. The law requires a committee of thirty (30) individuals in each of the six (6) educational regions in the state. Each region is represented by two (2) parents, one (1) teacher, one (1) school board member, and one (1) public or charter school administrator. Committee members shall serve a term of four (4) years.

This committee is to review all summative computer adaptive test questions for bias and sensitivity. The committee is authorized to make recommendations to revise or eliminate computer adaptive test questions from the Idaho Standards Assessment Test in English Language Arts/Literacy and Mathematics.

In November 2015, the Department held a two-day meeting with the Bias and Sensitivity Committee to review 360 English language arts and mathematics items, of which several were recommended to be removed. Some individuals were asked to serve in place of Board-approved members unable to attend at the last moment. Because these individuals were not appointed by the Board as required, the committee's recommendations could not be forwarded to the Board for consideration.

The Department is recommending the approval of new members for the open positions on the committee. These individuals are listed in Attachment 2.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Pursuant to Section 33-134, Idaho Code, the Bias and Sensitivity Committee is charged with reviewing any new test items that have been added to any summative computer adaptive test, this includes the Idaho Standards Achievement Test for English Language Usage and Mathematics. Following the review process the committee may make recommendations to the Board for removal of any test questions that the committee determines may be bias or unfair to any group of test takes, regardless of differences in characteristics, including, but not limited to disability status, ethnic group, gender, regional background, native language or socioeconomic status.

While the initial appointments to the committee were for either a two or four year term, with ongoing appointments of four year terms, the Department found that many of the original committee members were either not available or not interested in participating in an additional round of assessment question reviews. In addition to new appointments for expired term or individuals who no longer wish to serve, the Department is requesting the Board appoint a list of alternate committee members that could be drawn from if the sitting committee member is unavailable for the review process in a given year, and still wants to serve on the committee. Seats for members that no longer wish to serve and resign from the committee during their term would still need to come to the Board for consideration of new appointments.

BOARD ACTION

I move to appoint the new members to the Bias and Sensitivity Committee as presented in Attachment 2.

SUBJECT

Idaho State University (ISU) Annual Progress Report

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section I.M.3.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

This agenda item fulfills the Board's requirement for ISU to provide a progress report on the institution's strategic plan, details of implementation, status of goals and objectives and information on other points of interest in accordance with a schedule and format established by the Board's Executive Director.

ISU will provide a tour for Board members as follows:

10:00 a.m. - Pick up at Student Union

10:20 a.m. - Walking tour of Gale Life Sciences Complex

11:20 a.m. - Walking tour of Museum of Natural History

12:00 p.m. - Return to Student Union for lunch

IMPACT

ISU utilizes an Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment Council framework to support mission fulfillment. Use of ISU's strategic plan drives the University's integrated planning, programming, budgeting, and assessment cycle and is the basis for the institution's annual budget requests and performance measure reports to the State Board of Education, the Division of Financial Management, and the Legislative Services Office.

ISU's Planning and Implementation Process
Creating a New Plan

Idaho State University (ISU) began its process of creating a new strategic plan in the fall of 2015 and it will conclude in June 2017. The deliberate nature of the development of the plan was a result of the leadership's desire to significantly shift ISU's executive decision-making processes. ISU's leadership recognized the need to transition their decision-making process from an operationally focused lens to one that was strategic. The development of that framework coincided with the beginning of the strategic planning process. ISU also recognized the need to align the University's strategic, academic, enrollment and budget plans. Finally, institutional leadership wanted to create an atmosphere that fosters internal and external relationships by incorporating processes that encourage inclusion and transparency. The oversight of the strategic planning process, its implementation, and the evaluation is now the responsibility of the Institutional Effectiveness & Assessment Council (IEAC), which is made up of the Steering Committee and six subcommittees.

The first phase of the revision of strategic plan began after the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) recommended as part of ISU's Year Seven accreditation report in 2014 that it revise its mission and core themes to more closely align with one another. To comply with the NWCCU recommendation, the IEAC utilized the four Core Theme Subcommittees who drafted a revised, proposed mission statement and four core themes. To foster the IEAC's objective of increasing inclusion and transparency in university planning, the Associate Vice President of Institutional Effectiveness facilitated university open-forum meetings and conducted an email campaign to collect feedback. In March, after the State Board of Education's (SBOE) approval, ISU submitted the new mission statement and four core themes to the NWCCU. The administration expects the NWCCU to provide feedback on the changes before the beginning of the fall semester.

The second phase of ISU's strategic planning process began in May when the IEAC approved the creation of the Strategic Planning Working Group. The working group, composed of faculty, staff, students and additional stakeholders, is responsible for creating the remainder of the new plan and evaluating its implementation and execution. The working group will receive training in August then begin creating a new vision statement, the strategic objectives, and the new measures for the objectives. The IEAC Subcommittees will then create the supporting action plans and establish their associated measures.

To continue the efforts of increasing transparency and inclusion, the IEAC has incorporated into the planning process multiple opportunities for customers and stakeholders to provide feedback. After the working group incorporates the feedback, ISU will submit a draft of the 2018-2022 Strategic Plan to the SBOE in April 2017. The final approval of the new plan will occur in June and ISU will implement it in July.

ISU's Current 2017-2021 Strategic Plan

Idaho State University's 2017 Strategic Plan supports the transition between the old and the new plans. Redesigned, it incorporates a new measuring system that focuses on ISU demonstration of mission fulfillment by utilizing the core themes as overarching strategic goals. Each of the four core themes has multiple indicators and benchmarks established by the IEAC Core Theme Subcommittees; the subcommittees also included the indicators directed by SBOE.

The process to determine if ISU is achieving mission fulfillment is: first add together the indicators' scores within each of the core themes then average that sum. This score represents the core theme's fulfillment. The next step is to add together the four core theme scores then average that sum. This score equates to mission fulfillment. The University's leadership determined that a successful core theme and mission fulfillment ranges between 80-100 percent. As ISU achieves success in accomplishing its core themes, its mission fulfillment score increases proportionally.

Mission Fulfillment Score

Current Mission Fulfillment Score	Core Theme	Core Theme Score
86%	Core Theme 1: Learning and Discovery	88%
	Core Theme 2: Access and Opportunity	88%
	Core Theme 3: Leadership in Health Sciences	90%
	Core Theme 4: Community Engagement and Impact	81%

Research and Economic Development

Intellectual Property Foundation (IPF) Budget and Operations: The FY 2017 budget has been prepared, and provisions in the budget provide for the procurement of commercialization revenues to allow the IPF will become self-sustainable. In this regard, the IPF received its first royalty disbursement from one of its private company partners, in the amount of $100,000.

IPF Technology Summit and Entrepreneurship Conference: Bi-weekly meetings are currently being held with planning committees in preparation for a two-day technology summit and entrepreneurship conference at ISU Pocatello in February of 2017.

IPF/Center for Entrepreneurship and Economic Development (CEED) Collaboration: Joint coordination and collaboration efforts continue between the IPF and CEED to facilitate progress of ISU technologies toward market entry while also providing support for CEED activities.

Private Sector Collaboration and Growth in Idaho: Talks to develop partnerships with new private-sector entities, including talks to relocate companies to Idaho from other locations in the United States, Japan, and Australia are ongoing on progressing.

Technology Evaluation Process: Analysis and evaluation of potential for technologies developed at ISU continues, both in collaboration with external research partners and the Bengal Solutions teams at ISU.

Increasing ISU Presence: The Director of Technology Commercialization is continuing to increase the public awareness of technology commercialization at ISU through contributions to publications and presentations to local and national groups and professional organizations.

Increased Revenue Generation: Developmental collaborations with startups and established companies continue to grow, and reports from initial licensees of ISU-owned intellectual property indicate that early-stage market entry and profitable return is expected soon, as scale-up of production for those technologies developed together with ISU researchers is achieved.

Entrepreneurial Efforts Increase: Multiple startup company projects are in development from both student groups and faculty researchers, with at least two new companies expected to be founded within the next 6 months.

Research and Sponsored Projects Update (Internal)

Awarded over $98,000 in internal Seed Grants: These Seed Grants support junior faculty starting their research or senior faculty changing the direction of their research.

Awarded over $169,000 in internal Developing Collaborations Grants: The Developing Collaborative Partnerships internal grant program supports the development of large-scale interdisciplinary/collaborative research projects.

Awarded $35,000 in internal Faculty Travel Grants: These funds serve to develop faculty research, scholarly, and/or creative activities.

Total internal grants awarded = $302,768 across five different colleges.

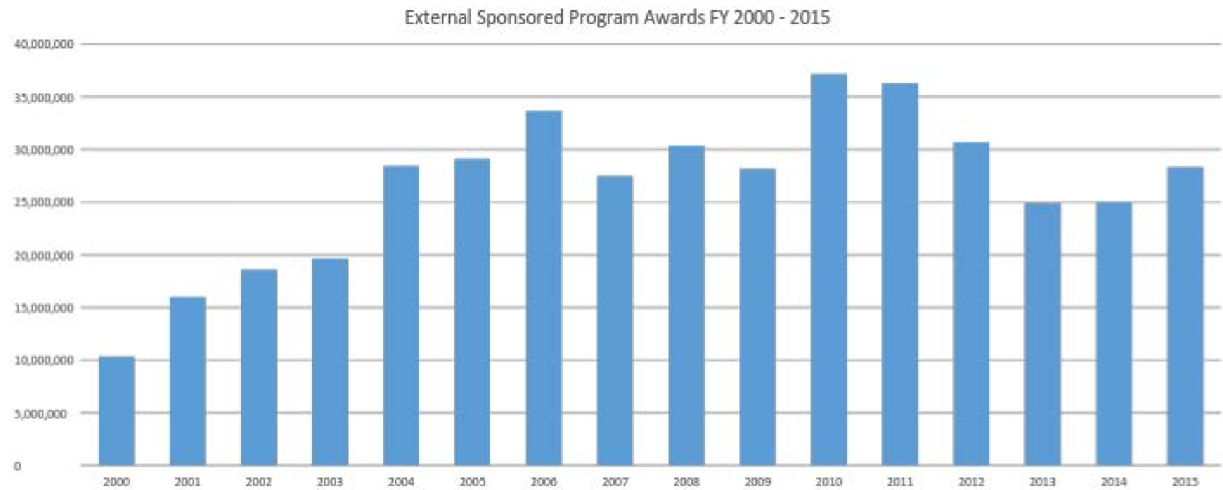
Supported over 60 faculty in attending Grant Writers Seminars & Workshops: Further, of these 60+ faculty members, 6 were selected to engage with GWSW consultants to develop actual proposals for submission to various funding agencies such as NSF and NIH.

Continued transition to paperless environment: Further implementation of electronic routing and approvals of Cayuse and data management systems.

Implemented an electronic poster and presentation process: Academic departments and campus groups can utilize (free of charge) up to 60 large panel electronic displays to more accurately display their research and scholarly activities at campus functions.

Research and Sponsored Projects Update (External)

ISU Extramural Research Portfolio: The growth target of 3% for increase in extramural funding from FY15 to FY16 has been far exceeded. Final numbers are not yet in, but extramural funding for research through grants and contracts will show a growth of at least 10%. This will continue and reinforce the recent two-year positive growth profile and competitive sustainability for ISU as depicted in the following graph:



HERC Infrastructure Funds: The HERC infrastructure funds of $250,000 for FY16 are currently being deployed to create a new and extremely powerful Research Data Center (RDC) on the Pocatello campus. It is expected that the entire ISU community will benefit from the computing power made available by the significant infrastructure upgrade.

Research CAES Associate Director: Richard Jacobsen was appointed ISU Associate Director of CAES October 28, 2015, to replace Jason Harris who left for a position at Purdue.

CAES/INL/ISU Joint Appointments: ISU hired two new employees on joint-appointments with INL in Idaho Falls, Drs. Leslie Kerby and Haiming Wen. Both began in January, 2016, and are enjoying success in their research work with INL.

CAES proposal to DOE-NE for ISU participation in a Nuclear Energy Strategic Analysis Center: April 13. Proposal is still under consideration.

Launch of the Bioskills Learning Center in Meridian: Pilot event for local health care providers held in June, 2016.

DOE NEUP (Nuclear Energy University Programs) Awards: Announced in mid-June 2016, ISU won awards that included $80,805 for Reactor Upgrades in the Infrastructure category, and $500,000 (for year 1 out of a $3M total award over 3 years) to Dr. Haiming Wen for Enhancing Irradiation Tolerance of Steels via Nanostructuring by Innovative Manufacturing Technologies in the Nuclear Energy Enhancing Technology Awards category.

Cyber security initiative at CAES: Cybersecurity for the Nuclear Industry - Meeting scheduled July 22, 2016.

Industry Funding and Relationships Update:

C*urrently active/funded projects*

YTD for FY16: ISU received the following funding from business & industry partners including Google at $581,000, NuMat at $220,000, ScanTech Identification Beam Systems, LLC at $2,3000,000 and a second commitment of ScanTech Services, LLC, of $86,000.

Projects in negotiation

Medical Isotopes

An Australian company will be partnering with the IAC to develop combination pharmaceuticals for cancer treatment together with ISU's Cu-67 project. The company is a co-sponsor with significant financial involvement in an IGEM proposal currently under review.

Air Filter Technology

Idaho Commerce and ISU’s Technology Commercialization Office are working with an ISU PI in seeking an industry partner for new air filter technology: a Pocatello-based portable solar power company with close ties to Venture Capital in Utah and California is currently the primary lead.

Power Industry Effluent

ISU’s Technology Commercialization Office is working with an ISU PI in partnership with the Intermountain Power Services Corporation related to a technology for recovering rare earth elements from coal ash and other power industry effluent.

STTR Proposal in Preparation

ISU is partnering with NuMat Inc. in the submission of a multiyear Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) grant proposal.

Office for Research: Compliance Improvements Update

Export control: Development of export control processes at ISU, RISE Technology Control Plan, processes set up for review of international travel, purchasing, shipping internationally Animal Research: AAALAC full accreditation reinstated, developed occupational health review program for animal research.

Biosafety: External review of biosafety process, continued development of the biosafety process at ISU Diversity and Outreach: Increased URM student participation in ISU MURI (NSF EPSCoR), URM attendance at Robotics camp. Women of Color student group developed. Increased community outreach for STEM at ISU. Increased connections with URM community in the area.

Conflict of Interest Policy: Continued refinement of required COI verification on sponsored projects

Highlight Any College Standouts

College of Arts & Letters
• Creation of Liberal Arts High to Connect ISU Faculty and Regional High School Teachers
• Opening of Integrated Research Center to Facilitate Interdisciplinary Collaborations Across Campus
• Interdisciplinary Collaborative Narrative Book Contract and Publication in the Journal for Teaching and Learning with Technology
• Enhanced Graduate Enrollment by 6.8%
• Successful Launch of the Teaching of English Composition Book Award
• Hired new Jazz Studies Faculty Member to extend Musical interests and expertise
• First Irish FTLA Student and Fulbright Award for Dr. Alan Johnson • Established 9 new named Endowed Scholarships

College of Business
• Successfully recruited three additional Ph.D.s in Accounting to join the faculty in the fall of 2016
• Hired new Chair of the Department of Accounting
• Put forth a proposal for a Master of Science in Health Informatics (MSHI)
• Put forth a proposal to the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee for a Bachelor of Business Administration in Economics
• The College of Business presented proposals to Graduate Council for both a Master of Science in Data Analytics and, in cooperation with the Division of Health Sciences, a Master of Healthcare Administration
• New Technology Teaching and Learning Center, featuring a drop in laptop-based teaching lab and a multi-purpose classroom capable of supporting Collaborate, Skype, Google Hangouts, lecture capture, and distance learning to two remote sites simultaneously
• The College of Business is aggressively launching in Twin Falls. There are currently in excess of 350 students in CSI's academic two-year program in business. Seek to satisfy this market with high quality bachelor degrees offered on the CSI campus

College of Education

- Successful Initial accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE) New Master of Science in Athletic Training Program -March 2015
- Successful National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) visit and all standards met in the Teacher Preparation Program -September 2015
- CPI Tutoring Program-60 tutors, 4,800 hours, 20 area schools
- The Albion Center for Education Innovation has begun a multi-year comprehensive school support project with the American United School in Kuwait centered on improving teaching and learning in multiple content areas and school leadership
- The first annual KidU Summer Camp six-week program provides educational and recreational experiences for 1^{st}-6^{th} grade students
- Partnered with nine Southeast Idaho High Schools in establishing Future Educator Association Clubs
- The Center for Sports Concussion-provides educational outreach in Eastern Idaho on sports-related concussions in the adolescent athlete
- The opening of the ATLAS Center to centralize Advising, Teaching, Learning, and Student Services

College of Science & Engineering

- Significant Enrollment Growth: CoSE student majors up by 10%, 225 students over previous academic year
- In FY15 CoSE faculty secured $6.1 million in research funding
- Student pass rates in nine introductory Math, Science and Engineering courses increased by 5-20% due to a new Proactive Advising Initiative

College of Technology

- COT is starting five new programs as a result of industry demands
    - 3 of the 5 are in line the University's health mission
    - will directly assist veterans in achieving nursing degrees
    - OTA will be the only program of its kind in the state
- UAS-an emerging field with high visibility and demand
- Cyber-Physical Security is in direct alignment with what the Department of Homeland Security and the Idaho National Lab are touting as one of the most needed and important fields for the future

Division of Health Sciences

- Construction of the L.S. and Aline W. Skaggs Treasure Valley Anatomy and Physiology Laboratories (TVAPL) completed at ISU-Meridian with Grand Opening-Fall 2015
- Bengal Lab organized to begin January 2016

- Bengal Pharmacy opened tele-pharmacy in Challis, ID
- Billing & Practice Management System in Clinics implemented
- Increased Collaboration with Gritman Medical Center
- Created and Restructured Community & Public Health Department:
  - Health Education
  - Master of Public Health
- Created Emergency Services Department:
  - Emergency Medical Services
  - Fire Services Administration
  - Paramedic Science
- Established "Health Bengal" Initiative
- Expanded MLS to Idaho Falls Location
- Joint Pharmacy Programs w/University of Alaska Anchorage
- Doubling of PAS space in Meridian completed to accommodate Caldwell student cohort
- SPA Program renovated space for additional research labs
- Additional Program Accreditations in HCA, MPH and RS
- Moving forward with an accredited institution for Interprofessional Continuing Education
- The Residencies-- the Dental Residency and Family Medicine were both re-accredited in Fall 2015
- Nursing graduated its first Ph.D.
- Dental Hygiene opened a clinic in Idaho Falls on the EITEC campus

Collaborations with Other Institutions or Industry

Collaborations in Graduate Education and Related: BYU-Idaho, South Dakota University, and the INL (Working on partnering with them to promote internships).

Partnership between the INL and ISU, current state:
In FY2015, the INL hired total of 32 graduates from Idaho State University, the largest number by far of any Idaho university.

In FY2015, the INL employed 32 Interns and 1 postdoc from ISU. The number of ISU interns is the largest of all Idaho universities with the exception of BYU-I.

Strategically, ISU is partnering with the INL on workforce development into needed disciplines by creating more joint appointments in areas of need. In this regard, ISU faculty and administrators are engaging several Directorates in the INL (including N&HS, NS&T and EES&T) with a view to optimize joint and reverse joint appointments, sharing of graduate students and projects by giving access to graduate students at ISU, to joint faculty appointments at rank, to appropriate qualified INL staff. This will particularly focus on areas of INL current and future needs. Currently, three new joint appointments are in the process of being negotiated and the hiring process will start soon.

Further, ISU is setting up to approach the INL to plan for increases in intern and postdoc opportunities and also considering partnering with joint faculty to obtain input in curriculum design and delivery. The following areas are of particular interest to both the INL and ISU: energy and environment, chemistry and chemical engineering, radiation and rechnical safety, nuclear science, technology and nuclear engineering, and cyber- and computer security training and research (including national and homeland security).

Capital Campaign

- Academic Enhancements
- Scholarship Endowment

Idaho State University does not currently have a capital campaign.

Community Partnerships

Idaho State University Bengal Pharmacy operates in Pocatello, Arco, Challis, and has received approval from the Foundation Board to open a location in Council in Fall 2016. In addition, there is a request pending to partner with Kendrick.

New Buildings

While Idaho State University has made a number of enhancements and improvements to buildings, there are no new buildings.

Northwest Regional Advisory Committee Update

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Comprehensive Centers (Centers) program is authorized by Title II of the Educational Technical Assistance Act of 2002 (ETAA) and the Education Sciences Reform Act (ESRA) of 2002. The U.S. Department of Education (Department) funds these Centers to provide technical assistance to State Education Agencies (SEAs) that builds SEA capacity to: support local educational agencies (LEAs or districts) and schools, especially low-performing districts and schools; improve educational outcomes for all students; close achievement gaps; and improve the quality of instruction.

Before a competition for the Centers program is held, the ETAA requires the establishment of ten (10) Regional Advisory Committees (RACs) (not to exceed 25 members). The purpose of these committees is to collect information on the educational needs of each of the ten (10) regions served by the Regional Educational Laboratories as part of the Centers program. To the extent the Secretary deems appropriate, the Department will use the information submitted by the RACs, along with other relevant regional surveys of needs, to establish priorities for the next cohort of Centers.

The US Department of Education changed the process for obtaining recommendations from consensus to seeking the technical advice of each individual RAC member. Not later than six months after each RAC is convened, they will submit a report based on this needs assessment to the Education Secretary. The report will contain an analysis of the educational needs of their region and each individual's technical advice to the Secretary regarding how those needs might be most effectively addressed. The Secretary shall establish priorities for the next cohort of comprehensive centers, taking into account these regional needs identified by individual RAC members and other relevant regional surveys of educational needs, to the extent the Secretary deems appropriate.

Dr. Linda Clark was nominated and chosen by the U.S. Department of Education to serve as a member of the RAC to provide technical advice. Dr. Clark will update the Board on the RAC's work completed thus far and the survey used to collect feedback.

IMPACT

The feedback obtained from the online survey, located at the following link: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PML2GPN, will provide guidance to address educational issues of our region and how the U.S. Department of Education's Comprehensive Centers can provide assistance to address these same issues.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Sections I.E. Executive Officers.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

State Board of Education Policy, Section I.E., grants each institutional president the use of an institution automobile, maintained by the institution, or a vehicle allowance, at their discretion. When using an institution owned vehicle it is customary for the institution to assign the vehicle to the institution president for their sole use.

Currently state owned or controlled vehicles (with few exceptions for law enforcement) are required to be conspicuously marked as state vehicles (Idaho Code §49-2426) and are only allowed to be used for official business. This is not consistent with the current practice when a president has used an institution vehicle rather than receiving the vehicle allowance. The proposed changes to Board Policy I.E. Executive Officers would elimination the option for the chief executive officer to use an institution vehicle, and would set out provisions for reimbursement and insurance requirements when a personal vehicle is used for business purposes.

The proposed amendments bring the policy into alignment with state requirements, including Risk Management.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed amendments would bring the policy into alignment with state law and risk management insurance requirements.

Attachment 1 – First Reading I.E. Executive Officers Page 3

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The proposed amendments were developed in conjunction with proposed amendment to Board Policy II.F. and the use of "courtesy cars." While neither policy amendment is dependent on the other, they are in alignment. Proposed amendment to Board Policy II.F. will be considered by the Board under a separate agenda item at the August Board meeting.

Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the first reading of proposed amendments to Board Policy section I.E. Executive Officers, as submitted in Attachment 1.

Idaho State Board of Education
GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
SECTION: I. GENERAL GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
SUBSECTION: E. Executive Officers ~~February~~ October 2016

1. Executive Director

   The Executive Director is appointed by and serves in this position at the pleasure of the Board. The Executive Director serves as the chief executive officer of the State Board of Education. Pursuant to Idaho Code 33-102A the Executive Director shall be under the direction of the Board and shall have such duties and powers as are prescribed by the Board. The Executive Director is charged with ensuring the effective articulation and coordination of institution, and agency concerns and is advisor to the Board and the Presidents/Agency Heads on all appropriate matters.

2. Presidents/Agency Heads

   a. Responsibilities

      The President/Agency Head is the chief program and administrative officer of the institution or agency. The President/Agency Head has full power and responsibility within the framework of the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures for the organization, management, direction, and supervision of the institution or agency and is held accountable by the Board for the successful functioning of the institution or agency in all of its units, divisions, and services.

      For the higher education institutions, the Board expects the Presidents to obtain the necessary input from the faculty, classified and exempt employees, and students, but it holds the Presidents ultimately responsible for the well-being of the institutions, and final decisions at the institutional level rest with the Presidents. The Presidents shall keep the Board apprised, within 24 hours, through the Executive Director, of all developments concerning the institution, its employees, and its students, which are likely to be of interest to the public.

   b. The Chief Executive Officer is held accountable to the Board for performing the following duties within his or her designated areas of responsibility:

      i. Relations with the Board

         1) Conduct of the institution or agency in accordance with the Governing Policies and Procedures of the Board and applicable state and federal laws.

         2) Effective communication among the Board, the Board office, and the institution or agency.

         3) Preparation of such budgets as may be necessary for proper reporting and planning.

4) Transmittal to the Board of recommendations initiated within the institution or agency.

5) Participation and cooperation with the office of the Board in the development, coordination, and implementation of policies, programs, and all other matters of statewide concern.

6) Notification to Board President or Executive Director of any out-of-state absence exceeding one week.

ii. Leadership of the Institution or Agency

1) Recruitment and retention of employees

2) Development of programs, in accordance with an evolving plan for the institution or agency.

3) In cooperation with appropriate parties, the promotion of the effective and efficient functioning of the institution or agency.

4) Development of methods that will encourage responsible and effective contributions by various parties associated with the institution or agency in the achievement of the goals of the institution or agency.

iii. Relations with the Public

1) Development of rapport between the institution or agency and the public that each serves.

2) Official representation of the institution or agency and its Board-approved role and mission to the public.

c. Appointment Terms and Conditions

Each chief executive officer is employed and serves at the pleasure of the Board as an at-will employee. Appointments to the position of President of the higher education institutions and Executive Director of the Board are made by the Board. The Executive Director shall have authority to identify candidates and make recommendations for the appointment of Agency Heads, which must be approved and appointed by the Board. The Board and each chief executive officer may enter into an employment agreement for a term not to exceed five (5) years that documents the period of appointment, compensation, and any additional terms. The Board's Policies regarding Non-classified Employees, Section II, Subsection F, do not apply to the Board's chief executive officers.

d. Evaluations

The Agency Heads are evaluated by the Executive Director annually, who makes recommendations to the Board with respect to compensation and employment actions. The Presidents and Executive Director are evaluated by the Board annually. The performance evaluation is based upon the terms of any employment agreement, the duties outlined in the policy and mutually agreed upon goals. Final decisions with respect to compensation and employment actions with regard to chief executive officers are made by the Board.

e. Compensation and Benefits

i. Each chief executive officer's annual compensation shall be set and approved by the Board. A chief executive officer shall not receive supplemental salary compensation related to his or her service as chief executive officer from an affiliated institutional foundation, or from any other source except that institutional Presidents may receive perquisites or benefits as permitted by topic 3, subtopic d, below. A chief executive officer must disclose to the Board, through its Executive Director or in executive session as appropriate (with updates as necessary), any activities and financial interests, including compensation from an outside source unrelated to his or her service as chief executive officer, that affects or could potentially affect the chief executive officer's judgment or commitment to the Board or the institution.

ii. In addition to the compensation referred to above, each chief executive officer shall receive the usual and ordinary medical, retirement, leave, educational, and other benefits available to all institutional, and agency employees.

iii. Each chief executive officer shall receive reasonable and adequate liability insurance coverage under the state's risk management program.

iv. Relocation and moving expenses incurred by each chief executive officer will be paid in accordance with the policies and rates established by the State Board of Examiners.

v. Each chief executive officer earns annual leave at a rate of two (2) days per month or major fraction thereof of credited state service.

f. Termination
In the event a chief executive officer's appointment is terminated by Board action (for or without cause), than such individual shall only be entitled to continued compensation or benefits, if any, for which he or she may be eligible under the terms of his or her employment agreement.

3. Institutional Presidents: Housing, Automobile, and Expense Reimbursement

a. The institutional Presidents are responsible for hosting official functions to promote their respective institutions. At institutions with official residences, the Presidents of such institutions are required to live in the official residences provided.

To preserve the image of the institutions and to provide adequate maintenance of state-owned property, the institutions shall provide support services for these residences. This support shall include maintenance and repairs, utilities, and grounds keeping.

In the event that the institution does not own an official residence, a housing allowance will be provided that is similar in value to living in an official residence. In addition, this allowance shall cover reasonable maintenance and repair expenses related to the use of this home as the President's official residence.

b. Each institutional President shall be provided an automobile allowance. ~~Maintenance, repairs, gas for business use, and insurance shall be provided for this vehicle.~~

~~If an institutional President does not elect to use a vehicle provided by the institution, the institution will provide the President a vehicle allowance in lieu of the cost of leasing, automobile maintenance, and insurance. Documented business travel will be reimbursed to compensate for gasoline costs.~~
The institution shall pay for maintenance, repair, fuel, and insurance costs attributable to business use of the automobile. If the President intends to use the automobile for business and personal use, the President shall obtain insurance for the automobile which meets with the requirements of Idaho's Risk Management Program, including applicable coverages and amounts.

c. The institutional Presidents shall receive reimbursement for official entertainment expenses. Public relations and other out-of-pocket expenses may be reimbursed if they are directly related to the function of the institution as determined by the President. (See fiscal policy for entertainment and related expenses.)

d. Foundation Provided Funds for Compensation, Perquisites or Benefits

Perquisites or benefits for the institutional Presidents, may be provided by the institution's affiliated foundation meeting all requirements of Section V, Subsection E of the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures if approved by the Board on a case-by-case basis.

4. Institutional Presidents: Official Duties Related Spousal Expenses

The Board acknowledges that the spouse of an institutional president provides valuable service activities on behalf of the institution, the Board, and to the Idaho higher education system. The Board further recognizes that the spouse may be expected to attend certain functions related to the ongoing mission and purposes of the institution. Accordingly, a spouse shall be eligible for reimbursement of authorized official travel and business related expenses, in accordance with the State of Idaho's travel and expense policies, as long as such expenses have a bona fide business purpose. To be a bona fide business purpose the presence and activities of the spouse at the function must be significant and essential (not just beneficial) to the institution. A president's spouse attending official functions as part of protocol or tradition and where the spouse makes an important contribution to the function can be considered serving a business purpose. For example, ceremonial functions, fundraising events, alumni gatherings, community, and recruiting events are examples of activities at which the presence of a spouse may contribute to the mission of the University. If a spouse has no significant role, or performs only incidental duties of a purely social or clerical nature, then such does not constitute a bona fide business purpose. Spousal expenses may not be charged to state funds; various non-state funds controlled by the institution may be used to fund spousal expenses.

5. President Emeritus/Emerita Designation

   The Board may choose to grant President Emeritus/Emerita status to a retiring President. President Emeritus/Emerita status should be reserved to honor, in retirement, a president who has made distinguished professional contributions to the institution and who has also served a significant portion of his/her career at the institution. The intent of conferring President Emeritus/Emerita status is to bestow an honorary title in recognition of successful tenure in the Presidential role.

   a. Appointment Procedure

      An institution may forward a recommendation to the Board that this honorary title be conferred upon a President that is retiring or has retired from the institution. Each institution shall provide for input into the recommendation from the campus community.

   b. Rights, Privileges and Responsibilities

      Rights and privileges of such a distinction shall be, insofar as resources will allow, similar to those of active institutional staff, including such privileges as:

      i. staff privileges for activities, events and campus facilities;

      ii. receipt of institutional newspaper and other major institutional publications and receipt of employee/spouse fee privilege (see Section V. R.).

Board Policy I.J. Use of Institutional Facilities – First Reading

REFERENCE

February 2011	Board approved first reading of amendments to Board policy I.J. specific to the alcohol possession and consumption section in relation to NCAA events.
April 2011	Board approved second reading of amendments to Board policy I.J. specific to the alcohol possession and consumption section in relation to NCAA events.
December 2013	Board approved first reading of amendments to Board policy I.J. specific to the use of institutions facilities in competition with the private sector.
February 2014	Board approved second reading of amendments to Board Policy regarding the use of facilities in competition with the private sector.
June 2016	Board denied the requests from Boise State University and University of Idaho to expand alcohol service in conjunction with NCAA Football games beyond what is currently allowed in Board Policy I.J.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section I.J – Use of Institutional Facilities and Services With Regard to the Private Sector
Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.01.08 – 100., Possession, Consumption, and Sale of Alcoholic Beverages at Public Higher Education Institutions.
Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 38.04.07 – 305, Food and Beverage

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.01.08.100 prohibits the sale, possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in college or university owned, leased, or operated facilities and on campus grounds, except as provided in the State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures. Board Policy Section I.J. sets the provision by which alcohol may legally be sold or consumed in institution facilities.

Board Policy Section I.J. allows for the chief executive office to approve limit permits under specific conditions, including the requirement that the events be ticketed or by invitation only, food be provided at the event, the event cannot in conjunction with any student athletic event and "…the chief executive officer must ensure that the decisions to allow possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages are consistent with the proper image and the mission of the institution." Alcoholic beverages may also be allowed in conjunction with NCAA pregame football activities with prior Board approval under very specific conditions, including, but not limited to, there is limited access to the area through controlled access points, attendance is limited to those with a written invitation, and food must be available at the event.

The University of Idaho has brought forward a request to amend Board Policy I.J. to allow for the possession and consumption of alcohol in designated parting lots or limited areas on university grounds during home football games with prior Board approval. These designated "tailgating areas" would have limited access through controlled entry points and only game patrons and their guests "authorized" by the institution would be allowed to park and tailgate in these areas. Location, times and dates would be submitted to the Board for approval and would be limited between 10:00 am and 10:00 pm on the day of the game.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed amendments would allow for the possession and consumption of alcohol during NCAA football games hosted by the institutions in select parking lots or other areas on campus designated as "tailgating areas."

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The proposed amendments expanding public areas where alcohol is allowed to include designated tailgating areas is outside of the institutions' mission for learning and public service. The draft language of the amendments proposed by the University of Idaho were provided to each of the institution's legal counsel for review. No comments from the other institutions were received at the time of agenda production.

In addition to the amendments proposed by the University of Idaho the attached draft includes an increase in the per instance liability limits from $500,000 to $1,000,000. This amendment would bring the policy in compliance with the minimum liability required by Risk Management for permitted events.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the first reading of proposed amendments to Board Policy Section I.J. as submitted in attachment 1.

Idaho State Board of Education
GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
SECTION: I. GENERAL GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
SUBSECTION: J. Use of Institutional Facilities and Services with Regard to the Private Sector February 2014

1. Use of Institutional Facilities and Services

   a. Consistent with education's primary responsibilities of teaching, research, and public service, the institutions, under the governance of the State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho (Board), have and will continue to provide facilities and services for educational purposes. Such services and facilities, when provided, shall be related to the mission of the institution and not directly competitive with services and facilities reasonably available from the private sector, unless said use is for the benefit of a specific educational program of the institution and the institution has received prior Board approval. In addition, the Board recognizes that the institutions have a role in assisting community and economic development in a manner that supports the activities of the private sector. To this end, cooperation with local, state, and federal agencies is encouraged. A short term rental or lease of facilities for private use is not prohibited.

   b. Priority and guidelines for use of institutional services and facilities is as follows:

      i. Institutionally sponsored programs and projects.

      ii. Community programs or projects of an educational nature where the services or facilities provided by the institutions are directly related to the teaching, research, or service mission of the institution.

      iii. Local, state, or federally sponsored programs and projects.

      iv. The institutions will maintain a list of special events, services and facilities provided in those special events, the sponsor's name, the date of the use, and the approximate number of persons attending. This list will be available for public inspection. Individual institutional policies should be adopted in accordance with this general philosophy and policy statement of the Board. To this end, a coordinated effort between the public and private sector is encouraged.

2. Possession, Consumption, and Sale of Alcohol Beverages at Institutional Facilities

   a. Board Administrative Rules IDAPA 08.01.08 provides requirements relative to alcoholic beverages on campus grounds. Said rules generally prohibit the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in areas open to and most commonly used by the general public on campus grounds. The rules authorize the Board to waive the prohibition pursuant to Board policies and procedures. The chief executive officer of each institution may waive the prohibition against possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages only as permitted by and in compliance with this policy. The grant of any such waiver shall be determined by the chief executive officer ("CEO") only in compliance with this Policy and in accordance with the provisions set forth herein, and not as a matter of right to any other person or party, in doing so, the chief executive officer must ensure that the decisions to allow possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages are consistent with the proper image and the mission of the institution.

b. Each institution shall maintain a policy providing for an institutional Alcohol Beverage Permit process. For purposes of this policy, the term "alcoholic beverage" shall include any beverage containing alcoholic liquor as defined in Idaho Code Section 23-105. Waiver of the prohibition against possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages shall be evidenced by issuance of a written Alcohol Beverage Permit issued by the CEO of the institution which may be issued only in response to a completed written application therefore. Staff of the State Board of Education shall prepare and make available to the institutions the form for an Alcohol Beverage Permit and the form for an Application for Alcohol Beverage Permit which is consistent with this Policy. Immediately upon issuance of an Alcohol Beverage Permit, a complete copy of the application and the permit shall be delivered to the Office of the State Board of Education, and Board staff shall disclose the issuance of the permit to the Board no later than the next Board meeting. An Alcohol Beverage Permit may only be issued to allow the sale or consumption of alcoholic beverages on public use areas of the campus grounds provided that all of the following minimum conditions shall be met. An institution may develop and apply additional, more restrictive, requirements for the issuance of an Alcohol Beverage Permit.

i. An Alcohol Beverage Permit may be granted only for a specifically designated event (hereinafter "Permitted Event"). Each Permitted Event shall be defined by the activity planned, the area or location in which the activity will take place and the period of time during which the activity will take place. The activity planned for the Permitted Event must be consistent with the proper image and mission of the institution. The area or location in which the activity will take place must be defined with particularity, and must encompass a restricted space or area suitable for properly controlling the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages. The time period for the activity must be a single contiguous time period for a separate defined occurrence (such as a dinner, a conference, a reception, a concert, a sporting competition and the like). An extended series of events or a continuous activity with no pre-determined conclusion shall not be a Permitted Event. The area or location of the Permitted Event, the restricted space or area therein for possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages and the applicable time periods for the Permitted Event must each be set forth in the Alcohol Beverage Permit and in the application therefore.

ii. The serving of alcoholic beverages must be part of a planned food and beverage program for the Permitted Event, rather than a program serving alcoholic beverages only. Food must be available at the Permitted Event. Consumption of alcoholic beverages and food cannot be the sole purpose of a Permitted Event.

iii. Non-alcoholic beverages must be as readily available as alcoholic beverages at the Permitted Event.

iv. A Permitted Event must be one requiring paid admission through purchase of a ticket or through payment of a registration fee, or one where admission is by written, personal invitation. Events generally open to participation by the public without admission charges or without written personal invitation shall not be eligible for an alcoholic beverage permit. Only persons who have purchased a ticket or paid a registration fee for attendance at a Permitted Event, or who have received a written invitation to a Permitted Event, and who are of lawful age to consume alcoholic beverages, will be authorized to possess and consume alcoholic beverages at the Permitted Event.

v. Permitted Events which are generally open to the public through purchase of a ticket (such as sporting events, concerts or other entertainment events) must set out a confined and defined area where alcoholic beverages may be possessed and consumed. For such events, the defined area where alcoholic beverages may be possessed and consumed shall be clearly marked as such, and shall be separated in a fashion that entry into the area and exit from the area can be controlled to ensure that only those authorized to enter the area do so and that no alcoholic beverages leave the area. Only those individuals lawfully attending the Permitted Event who are of lawful age to consume alcoholic beverages may be allowed into the defined area, provided that such individuals may be accompanied by youth for whom they are responsible, but only if such youth are, at all times, under the supervision and control of such individuals. For such events there shall be sufficient space outside of the area where alcoholic beverages may be possessed and consumed to accommodate the participating public who do not wish to be present where alcoholic beverages are being consumed.

vi. No student athletic events, (including without limitation NCAA, NIT, NAIA and intramural student athletic events) occurring in college or university owned, leased or operated facilities, or anywhere on campus grounds, shall be Permitted Events, nor shall a Permitted Event be allowed in conjunction with any such student athletic event.

vii. An Alcohol Beverage Permit for a Permitted Event to which attendance is limited to individuals who have received a personal written invitation, or to those who have registered to participate in a particular conference (for example, a reception, a dinner, an exclusive conference) may allow alcoholic beverages to be possessed and consumed throughout the area of the event, provided that the area of the event is fully enclosed, and provided further that the area of the event must be such that entry into the area and exit from the area can be controlled to ensure that only those authorized to enter the area do so and that no alcoholic beverages leave the area. Additionally, the area of the Permitted Event must not be open to access by the general public, or to access by persons other than those properly participating in the Permitted Event.

viii. Application for an Alcohol Beverage Permit must be made by the organizers of the event. Such organizers must comply with all applicable laws of the State of Idaho and the local jurisdiction with respect to all aspects of the event, including the possession sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

ix. The Alcohol Beverage Permit, any required local catering permit, and applicable state or local alcoholic beverages permits shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the defined area where alcoholic beverages are authorized to be possessed and consumed.

x. The sale, service and consumption of alcoholic beverages at a Permitted Event shall be confined to the specific event, area or activity identified on the Beverage Permit application. Any alcoholic beverages allowed at a Permitted Event shall be supplied through authorized contractors of the organizers (such as caterers hired by the organizers). In no event shall the institution supply or sell alcoholic beverages directly. In no event shall the general public or any participants in a Permitted Event be allowed to bring alcoholic beverages into a Permitted Event, or leave the defined area where possession and consumption is allowed while in possession of an alcoholic beverage.

xi. The person/group issued the Beverage Permit and the contractors supplying the alcoholic beverages shall assume full responsibility to ensure that no one under the legal drinking age is supplied with any alcoholic beverage or allowed to consume any alcoholic beverage at the Permitted Event. Further, the person/group must provide proof of insurance coverage, including host liquor liability and liquor legal liability, in amounts and coverage limits sufficient to meet the needs of the institution, but in no case less than $1,~~5~~000,000 minimum coverage per occurrence. Such insurance must list the permitted person/group, the contractor, the institution, the State Board of Education and the State of Idaho as additional insured's, and the proof of insurance must be in the form a formal endorsement to the policy evidencing the coverage and the required additional insured's.

xii. The Alcohol Beverage Permit shall set forth the time at which sale, service, possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages will be permitted, which times shall be strictly enforced. Service and sale of alcoholic beverages shall stop at a time in advance of the time of closure of the event sufficient to allow an orderly and temperate consumption of the balance of the alcoholic beverages then in possession of the participants of the event prior to closure of the event.

xiii. These guidelines shall apply to both institutional and non-institutional groups using institutional facilities.

c. The sale or consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus grounds in conjunction with NCAA football games may be permitted with prior Board approval. Each year an institution that wishes to seek Board approval must present a written proposal to the Board, at the Board's regularly scheduled June Board meeting, for the ensuing football season. The proposal must include detailed descriptions and drawings of the areas where events which will include alcohol service will occur. The Board will review the proposal under the following criteria and, upon such review, may also apply further criteria and restrictions in its discretion. An institution's proposal shall be subject to the following minimum conditions:

i. The area must be for sponsors to entertain clients/guests for home football games. Attendance is limited to adult patrons and guests who have received a personal written invitation and must not be open to access by the general public.

For pre-game events held in institution stadium suite areas, only patrons who hold tickets to seats in the area shall be allowed into the area during games.

ii. The event must be conducted during pre-game only, no more than three-hours in duration, ending at kick-off.

For events held in institution stadium suite areas, the sale of alcohol must begin no sooner than three hours prior to kick off and must end at the start of the 4th quarter to allow for an orderly and temperate consumption of the balance of the alcoholic beverages then in possession of the participants of the game prior to the end of the game.

iii. The event must be conducted in a secured area surrounded by a fence or other methods to control access to and from the area. There must be no more than two entry points manned by security personnel where ID's are checked and special colored wrist bands issued. A color-coded wrist band system must identify attendees and invited guests, as well as those of drinking age. Unless otherwise specifically approved annually by the Board, under such additional terms and conditions as it sees fit, no one under the legal drinking age shall be admitted into the alcohol service and consumption area of an event. The area shall be clearly marked and shall be separated in a fashion that entry into the area and exit from the area can be controlled to ensure that only those authorized to enter the area do so and that no alcoholic beverages leave the area.

For events held in institution stadium suite areas adult patrons may be accompanied by youth for whom they are responsible, but only if such youth are, at all times, under the supervision and control of such adult patrons.

iv. Companies involved in the event must be sent a letter outlining the location and Board alcohol policy. The letter must state the minimum drinking age in Idaho is 21 and that at no time should such companies allow any underage drinking and/or serving of alcohol to visibly intoxicated persons.

v. Alcohol-making or -distributing companies are not allowed to sponsor the event. In no event shall the institution supply or sell alcoholic beverages directly. In no event shall invitees or participants in such event be allowed to bring alcoholic beverages into the area, or leave the defined area where possession and consumption is allowed while in possession of an alcoholic beverage.

vi. The food provider must provide TIPS trained personnel who monitor the sale and consumption of all alcoholic beverages to those of drinking age. Any required local catering permit, and applicable state or local alcoholic beverage permits, shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the defined area where alcoholic beverages are authorized to be possessed and consumed.

vii. Food must be available at the event. Non-alcoholic beverages must be as readily available as alcoholic beverages.

viii. Security personnel located throughout the area must monitor all alcohol wristband policies and patron behavior.

ix. Event sponsors/food providers must be required to insure and indemnify the State of Idaho, the State Board of Education and the institution for a minimum of $2,000,000, and must obtain all proper permits and licenses as required by local and state ordinances. All applicable laws of the State of Idaho and the local jurisdiction with respect to all aspects of the event, including the possession, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, must be complied with. Event sponsors/food providers supplying the alcoholic beverages shall assume full responsibility to ensure that no one under the legal drinking age is supplied with any alcoholic beverage or allowed to consume any alcoholic beverage at the event. Further, event sponsors/food providers must provide proof of insurance coverage, including host liquor liability and liquor legal liability, in amounts and coverage and coverage limits sufficient to meet the needs of the institution, but in no case less than $1,~~5~~000,000 minimum coverage per occurrence. Such insurance must list the event sponsor/food provider, the institution, the State Board of Education and the State of Idaho as additional insureds, and the proof of insurance must be in the form of a formal endorsement to the policy evidencing the coverage and the required additional insureds.

x. A report must be submitted to the Board annually after the conclusion of the football season before consideration is given to the approval of any future requests for similar events on home football game days.

d. In addition to the Institution sponsored game-day events described in c. above, the CEO of each institution may designate (subject to annual board approval) specific parking lots or limited areas of university grounds with controlled access as tailgate areas for home NCAA football games or NCAA bowl games hosted by the institution. Only game patrons authorized by the institution will be allowed to park and tailgate in the designated tailgate areas with their private guests. Locations, times and dates will be submitted to the Board for approval.

Within tailgate areas, authorized game patrons and their private guests may consume alcohol as long as they abide by all local and state regulations governing alcohol usage including, but not limited to, minor in possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages and public intoxication. Alcohol consumption in tailgating areas shall be limited to the times approved by the Board and at no time shall extend beyond 10:00am through 10:00pm of the day of each NCAA football game hosted by the institution. Alcohol beverages must be held in an opaque container that is not labeled or branded by an alcohol manufacturer or distributor. Alcohol may not be taken from the designated tailgate area into any other area.

The institutions shall not sell alcohol or serve alcohol in the tailgate area nor license or allow any vendor to sell or dispense alcohol in the tailgate area. Only private individuals authorized to be in the tailgate area may bring alcohol into the tailgate area for personal use by themselves and by their private tailgate guests. Each institution may place additional restrictions on activities in the tailgate area as seen fit to maintain order in the area.

Institution sponsored private game-day events at which alcohol may be served by the institution remain subject to the requirements set forth in c. above. Institutions will report to the Board regarding the tailgate area at the same time as they report to the Board regarding the private game-day events under Board Policy.

~~d~~e. The sale or consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus grounds in conjunction with NCAA football bowl games shall be permitted only with Board approval under the same conditions i. through x, as described in subsection c. above, except that the minimum amount of insurance/indemnification shall be $5,000,000.

~~e~~f. Within residential facilities owned, leased or operated by an institution, the CEO may allow the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons of legal drinking age within the living quarters of persons of legal drinking age. Consumption of alcohol shall not be permitted in the general use areas of any such residence facility. Possession of alcohol within the general use areas of a residential facility may only be done in a facility where consumption has been authorized by the CEO, and such possession shall be only as is incidental to, and reasonably necessary for, transporting the alcohol by the person of legal drinking age to living quarters where consumption is allowed. The term "living quarters" as used herein shall mean, and be limited to, the specific room or rooms of a residential facility which are assigned to students of the institution (either individually or in conjunction with another room mate or roommates) as their individual living space.

3. Alcohol-making or -distributing companies shall not be allowed to advertise goods or services on campus grounds or in any institutional facilities.

Board Policy - Bylaws – Second Reading

REFERENCE

February 2014	The Board considered, but did not approve amendments to the Board Bylaws.
June 2014	Board approved the first reading of amendments to Board Policy – Bylaws.
October 2014	Board approved a first reading of the Board Bylaws, incorporating language outlining the purpose of the Athletic Committee.
February 2015,	Board approved the second reading of proposed changes to the Board Bylaws, incorporating the Athletic Committee.
June 2016,	Board approved the first reading of the Board Bylaws, amending the program approval sunset clause.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures - Bylaws

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

At the June 2016 Board meeting staff presented proposed amendments to the Board's Bylaws that would set a time limit of one year on Board approvals that were not acted on. Items that were not acted on within that period of time would need to be brought back to the Board for reconsideration. This process will allow for the Board to consider the action under current circumstances, rather than action being taken based on past circumstances that may no longer be relevant.

IMPACT

The proposed amendments would clarify the time period for which Board approval on a given item is relevant for and when items needed to be brought back to the Board for reconsideration.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Board policy Section III.G. Program Approval and Discontinuance contains a program approval sunset clause. Any program approved by the Board or the Executive Director must be implemented within five years or be brought back to the Board or Executive Director, as applicable, for re-approval before it can be implemented.

There were no changes between first and second reading, staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the second reading of Board policy - Bylaws as submitted in Attachment 1.

Idaho State Board of Education

GOVERNING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

SECTION: I. BYLAWS (Operational Procedures) ~~February 2015~~August 2016

A. Office of the State Board of Education

The Board maintains an Office of the State Board for the purpose of carrying out the administrative, financial, and coordinating functions required for the effective operation of the institutions and agencies under the governance of the Board. The staff of the Office of the State Board is under the direction of an executive director responsible directly to the Board.

B. Meetings

1. The Board will maintain a 12-month rolling meeting schedule. To accomplish this, the Board will, at each of its regularly scheduled meetings, update its 12-month rolling schedule of Board meetings, provided, however, that the Board by majority vote, or the Board president after consultation with Board members, may reschedule or cancel any meeting.

2. The Board may hold special meetings by vote of a majority of the Board taken during any regular meeting or by call of the Board president.

3. All meetings of the Board are held at such place or places as may be determined by the Board.

4. Actions that impact ongoing future behavior of agencies and institutions shall be incorporated into Board policy. Actions limited to a specific request from an institution or agency, if not acted on within one year of approval, must be brought back to the Board for reconsideration prior to action by the institution or agency. This requirement does not apply to program approval time limits.

C. Rules of Order

1. Meetings of the Board are conducted in accordance with controlling statutes and applicable bylaws, regulations, procedures, or policies. In the absence of such statutes, bylaws, regulations, procedures, or policies, meetings are conducted in accordance with the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised.

2. A quorum of the Board consists of five (5) Board members.

3. With the exception of procedural motions, all motions, resolutions, or other propositions requiring Board action will, whenever practicable, be reduced to writing before submission to a vote.

4. A roll-call vote of the Board is taken on all propositions involving any matters of bonded indebtedness; convening an executive session of the Board; or on any other action at the request of any Board member or upon the advice of legal counsel. The first voter is rotated on each subsequent roll-call vote.

D. Officers and Representatives

1. The officers of the Board include:
   a. A president, a vice president, and a secretary, who are members of the Board.
   b. An executive secretary, who is the state superintendent of public instruction.

2. The president, vice president, and secretary are elected at the organizational meeting for one (1) year terms and hold office until their successors are elected. Vacancies in these offices are filled by election for the remainder of the unexpired term.

3. Board representatives to serve on other boards, commissions, committees, and similar bodies are appointed by the Board president.

4. The executive director is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the Board unless the contract of employment specifies otherwise. The executive director serves as the chief executive officer of the Office of the State Board of Education.

E. Duties of Board Officers

1. Board President
   a. Presides at all Board meetings, with full power to discuss and vote on all matters before the Board.
   b. Submits such information and recommendations considered proper concerning the business and interests of the Board.
   c. Signs, in accordance with applicable statutes and Board action, all contracts, minutes, agreements, and other documents approved by the Board, except in those instances wherein the Board, by its procedures, has authorized the Board president to designate or has otherwise designated persons to sign in the name of or on behalf of the Board.
   d. Gives prior approval for any official out-of-state travel of seven (7) days or more by Board members, institution heads, and the executive director.
   e. Subject to action of the Board, gives notice and establishes the dates and locations of all regular Board meetings.
   f. Calls special Board meetings at any time and place designated in such call in accordance with the Open Meeting Law.
   g. Establishes screening and selection committees for all appointments of agency and institutional heads.
   h. Appoints Board members to all standing and interim committees of the Board.
   i. Establishes the Board agenda in consultation with the executive director.
   j. Serves as chief spokesperson for the Board and, with the executive director, carries out its policies between meetings.

2. Vice President
   a. Presides at meetings in the event of absence of the Board president.
   b. Performs the Board president's duties in the event of the Board president's inability to do so.
   c. Becomes the acting Board president in the event of the resignation or permanent inability of the Board president until such time as a new president is elected.

3. Secretary
   a. Presides at meetings in the event of absence of the Board president and vice president.
   b. Signs, in accordance with applicable statutes and Board action, all minutes, contracts, agreements, and other documents approved by the Board except in those instances wherein the Board, by its procedures, has authorized or has otherwise designated persons to sign in the name of or on behalf of the Board secretary.

4. Executive Secretary
   The state superintendent of public instruction, when acting as the executive secretary, is responsible for:

   a. Carrying out policies, procedures, and duties prescribed by the Constitution of the State of Idaho and the Idaho Code or established by the Board for all elementary and secondary school matters.
   b. Presenting to the Board recommendations concerning elementary and secondary school matters and the matters of the State Department of Education.

5. Executive Director

   The executive director serves as the chief executive officer of the Board, as chief administrative officer of Office of the State Board of Education, and as chief executive officer of such federal or state programs as are directly vested in the State Board of Education. The position description for the executive director, as approved by the Board, defines the scope of duties for which the executive director is responsible and is accountable to the Board.

F. Committees of the Board

The Board may organize itself into standing and other committees as necessary. Committee members are appointed by the Board president after informal consultation with other Board members. Any such standing or other committee may make recommendations to the Board, but may not take any action, except when authority to act has been delegated by the Board. The Board president may serve as an ex-officio member of any standing or other committee. The procedural guidelines for Board committees appear in the Board Governing Policies and Procedures.

For purposes of the bylaws, the University of Idaho, Boise State University, Idaho State University, Lewis-Clark State College, Eastern Idaho Technical College, the College of Southern Idaho the College of Western Idaho, and North Idaho College are included in references to the "institutions;" and Idaho Educational Public Broadcasting System, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the Division of Professional-Technical Education, and the State Department of Education, are included in references to the "agencies."∗ An institution or agency may, at its option and with concurrence of the Board president, comment on any committee report or recommendation.

1. Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee

   a. Purpose

      The Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee is a standing advisory committee of the Board. It is responsible for developing and presenting recommendations to the Board on matters of policy, planning, and governmental affairs. The committee, in conjunction with the chief executive officers and chief administrators of the Board governed agencies and institutions, will develop and recommend to the Board future planning initiatives and goals. This committee shall also advise the Board on collaborative and cooperative measures for all education entities and branches of state government necessary to provide for the general supervision, governance and control of the state educational institutions, agencies and public schools, with the goal of producing a seamless educational system.

   b. Composition

      The Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee is composed of two (2) or more members of the Board, appointed by the president of the Board, who designates one (1) member to serve as the chairperson and spokesperson of the committee, and is staffed by the Board's Chief Planning and Policy Officer. The Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee may form a working unit or units, as necessary, to advise the committee. The chairperson presents all committee and working unit recommendations to the Board.

   c. Responsibilities and Procedures

∗ Definition provided for purposes of the Bylaws only. Recognizing the Board governance relationship varies with each of these entities, the intent in including representatives of each of the agencies and institutions as much as possible in the committee structure is to ensure proper and adequate representation, but is not intended to obligate or interfere with any other local boards or governing entities.

The Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee is responsible for making recommendations to the Board in the following general areas:

i. Long range planning and coordination;
ii. Initial discussions and direction on strategic policy initiatives and goals;
iii. Legislative proposals and administrative rules for Board agencies and institutions;
iv. Coordination and communication with the Governor, the Legislature, and all other governmental entities with regard to items of legislation, Board policy and planning initiatives;
v. Review and revision of Board policies, administrative rules and education-related statutes for consistency and compatibility with the Board's strategic direction;
vi. Reports and recommendations from the Presidents' Council and the Agency Heads' Council;
vii. Other matters as assigned by the Board.

At the direction of the Board President, any matter before the Board may be removed to the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee for initial action or consideration.

The Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee may establish necessary procedures to carry out its responsibilities. Such procedures must be consistent with the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures. The Board's Chief Policy and Government Affairs Officer, under the direction of the chairperson, prepares the agenda for the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee work that is under consideration at each meeting of the Board.

2. Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee

a. Purpose

The Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee is a standing advisory committee of the Board. It is responsible for developing and presenting recommendations to the Board on matters of policy and procedure concerning instruction, research and student affairs.

b. Composition

The Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee is composed of two (2) or more members of the Board, appointed by the president of the Board, who designates one (1) member to serve as chairperson and spokesperson of the committee, and is staffed by the Board's Chief Academic Officer. The Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee may appoint a working unit or units, as necessary, to advise the committee. One such working unit shall be the Council on Academic Affairs and Programs (CAAP), which shall be composed of the Board's Chief Academic Officer and the chief academic officers of the institutions and agencies. The chairperson presents all committee and working group recommendations to the Board.

c. Responsibilities and Procedures

The Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee is responsible for making recommendations to the Board in the following general areas:

i. Agency and institutional instruction, research and student affairs agenda items;
ii. Instruction, academic or professional-technical program approval;
iii. Instruction, academic or professional-technical program review, consolidation, modification, and discontinuance, and course offerings;
iv. Outreach, technology and distant learning impacting programs and their delivery;
v. Long-range instruction, academic and professional-technical planning;
vi. Registration of out-of-state institutions offering programs or courses in Idaho;
vii. Continuing education, professional development, workforce training, programs for at-risk populations, career guidance; viii. Student organizations' activities and issues; and
ix. Other matters as assigned by the Board.

The Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee may establish necessary procedures to carry out its responsibilities. Such procedures must be consistent with the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures. The Board's chief academic officer, under the direction of the chairperson, prepares the agenda for the Instruction, Research and Student Affairs Committee work that is under consideration at each meeting of the Board.

3. Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee

a. Purpose

The Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee is a standing advisory committee of the Board. It is responsible for developing and presenting recommendations to the Board on matters of policy and procedures concerning business affairs and human resources affairs.

b. Composition

The Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee is composed of two (2) or more members of the Board appointed by the president of the Board, who designates one (1) member to serve as chairperson and spokesperson of the committee, and is staffed by the Board's Chief Fiscal Officer. The Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee may appoint a working unit or units, as necessary, to advise the committee. One such working unit shall be the Financial Vice Presidents council, which shall be composed of the Board's Chief Fiscal Officer and the chief financial officers of the institutions and agencies. The chairperson presents all committee recommendations to the Board.

c. Responsibilities and Procedures

The Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee is responsible, through its various working unit or units, for making recommendations to the Board in the following general areas:

i. Agency and institutional financial agenda items;
ii. Coordination and development of guidelines and information for agency and institutional budget requests and operating budgets;
iii. Long-range fiscal planning;
iv. Fiscal analysis of the following:

    1) New and expanded financial programs;
    2) Establishment, discontinuance or change in designation of administrative units;
    3) Consolidation, relocation, or discontinuance of programs;
    4) New facilities and any major modifications to facilities which would result in changes in programs or program capacity;
    5) Student fees and tuition; and
    6) Other matters as assigned by the Board.

The Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee may establish necessary procedures to carry out its responsibilities. Such procedures must be consistent with the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures. The Board's chief fiscal officer, under the direction of the chairperson, prepares the agenda for the Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee work that is under consideration at each meeting of the Board.

4. Audit Committee

   a. Purpose

      The Audit Committee is a standing committee of the Board. The Audit Committee provides oversight to the organizations under its governance (defined in Idaho State Board of Education, Policies and Procedures, Section I. A.1.) for: financial statement integrity, financial practices, internal control systems, financial management, and standards of conduct.

   b. Composition

      The Audit Committee members shall be appointed by the Board and shall consist of five or more members. Three members of the Committee shall be current Board members and at least two members shall be independent non-Board members who are familiar with the audit process and permanent residents of the state of Idaho. No employee of an institution or agency under the governance of the Board shall serve on the Audit Committee. Each Audit Committee member shall be independent, free from any relationship that would interfere with the exercise of her or his independent judgment. Audit Committee members shall not be compensated for their service on the committee, and shall not have a financial interest in, or any other conflict of interest with, any entity doing business with the Board, or any institution or agency under the governance of the Board. However, Audit Committee members who are Board members may be compensated for Board service. The Audit Committee may appoint a working unit or units, which could include the chief financial officers of the institutions and financial officers of the Board office.

      All members shall have an understanding of the Committee and financial affairs and the ability to exercise independent judgment, and at least one member of the Committee shall have current accounting or related financial management expertise in the following areas:

      i. An understanding of generally accepted accounting principles, experience in preparing, auditing, analyzing, or evaluating complex financial statements, and;
      ii. The ability to assess the general application of such principles in the accounting for estimates, accruals, and reserves, and;
      iii. Experience in preparing or auditing financial statements and;
      iv. An understanding of internal controls.

      Members may be reappointed. The Audit Committee chair shall be appointed by the Board President and shall be a Board member.

   c. Responsibilities and Procedures

It is not the Committee's duty to plan or conduct audits or to determine that the institution's financial statements are complete, accurate and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Management of the applicable institutions and agencies shall be responsible for the preparation, presentation, and integrity of the financial statements and for the appropriateness of the accounting principles and reporting policies used. The following shall be the principle duties and responsibilities of the Committee:

i. Recommend the appointment and compensation to the Board of the independent auditors for Board action. Evaluate and oversee the work of the independent auditors. The Committee must approve any services prior to being provided by the independent auditor. The independent auditing firm shall report directly to the Committee as well as the Board and the auditor's "engagement letter" shall be addressed to the Committee and the President of each institution. The Committee shall have the authority to engage the Board's legal counsel and other consultants necessary to carry out its duties.
ii. Discuss with the independent auditors the audit scope, focusing on areas of concern or interest;
iii. Review the financial statements, adequacy of internal controls and findings with the independent auditor. The independent auditor's "management letter" shall include management responses and be addressed to the Audit Committee and President of the institution.
iv. Ensure the independent auditor presents the financial statements to the Board and provides detail and summary reports as appropriate.
v. Oversee standards of conduct (ethical behavior) and conflict of interest policies of the Board and the institutions and agencies under its governance including establishment of confidential complaint mechanisms.
vi. Monitor the integrity of each organization's financial accounting process and systems of internal controls regarding finance, accounting and stewardship of assets;
vii. Monitor the independence and performance of each organization's independent auditors and internal auditing departments;
viii. Provide general guidance for developing risk assessment models for all institutions.
ix. Provide an avenue of communication among the independent auditors, management, the internal audit staff and the Board.
x. Maintain audit review responsibilities of institutional affiliates to include but not limited to foundations and booster organizations.

The Audit Committee will meet as needed. The Committee may establish necessary procedures to carry out its responsibilities. Such procedures must be consistent with the Board's Governing Policies and Procedures. The Board's Chief Fiscal Officer, under the direction of the chair, prepares the agenda for work that is under consideration at each meeting of the Board.

5. Athletics Committee

   a. Purpose

   The Athletics Committee is a standing advisory committee of the Board that reports through the Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee. It is responsible for developing and presenting recommendations to the Board on matters of policy and procedures concerning intercollegiate athletics.

   b. Composition

   The Athletics Committee is composed of two (2) or more members of the Board appointed by the president of the Board, who designates one (1) member to serve as chairperson and spokesperson of the committee, and is staffed by the Board's Chief Fiscal Officer. The Athletics Committee may appoint a working unit or units, as necessary, to advise the committee. One such working unit shall be composed of the institutions' Athletics Directors.

   c. Responsibilities and Procedures

   The Athletics Committee is responsible for making recommendations to the Board in areas including but not limited to:

   i. athletics director and coach contracts;

The Board's chief fiscal officer, under the direction of the chairperson, prepares the Athletics Committee work for the Business Affairs and Human Resources Committee agenda that is under consideration at each meeting of the Board.

G. Committee Presentations

1. The agenda for each regular meeting of the Board shall be organized using the areas of responsibility provided for in regard to each permanent standing committee of the Board, as described in Subsection H above, with the exception of the Audit and Athletic Committee.

2. The Board member who is the chair of the permanent standing advisory committee and spokesperson shall present the agenda items in the area of the committee's responsibility. This presentation may include calling on institutional/agency representatives and/or other individuals. In the event of an absence or conflict with respect to the committee chairperson, the Board President may designate a substitute Board member or Board officer to present the agenda items.

H. Presidents' Council

1. Purpose

   The Presidents' Council convenes prior to each Board meeting to discuss and make recommendations, as necessary, on Board agenda items scheduled for Board consideration. The Presidents' Council may also choose or be directed by the Board to meet with the Agency Heads' Council for exchanges of information or to discuss projects of benefit to the entire system. The Presidents' Council reports to the Board through the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee of the Board.

2. Composition

   The Presidents' Council is composed of the presidents of the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, Boise State University, Lewis-Clark State College, Eastern Idaho Technical College; and the presidents of North Idaho College, the College of Western Idaho and the College of Southern Idaho, each of whom has one (1) vote. One (1) of the voting members shall serve as chair of the Council, with a new chair selected each academic year such that the chair will rotate among the respective members, such that no two community college presidents' will hold a term in consecutive years. The administrator of the Division of Professional-Technical Education and the Board's Executive Director shall be ex-officio members of the Council.

3. Duties of the Chair

   The Chair:

   a. Presides at all Presidents' Council meetings with full power to discuss and vote on all matters before the Council;
   b. Establishes the Presidents' Council agenda in consultation with the Executive Director; and
   c. Maintains open communications with the Board on agenda matters through the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee.

4. The Executive Director will communicate openly and in a timely manner with the Presidents' Council.

I. Agency Heads' Council

1. Purpose

   The Agency Heads' Council convenes as necessary to discuss and make recommendations on agenda items scheduled for Board consideration as well as other issues pertinent to the agencies. The Agency Heads' Council may also choose or be directed by the Board to meet with the Presidents' Council for exchanges of information or to discuss projects of benefit to the entire system. The Agency Heads' Council reports to the Board through the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee of the Board.

2. Composition

   The Agency Heads' Council is composed of the chief administrators of Idaho Educational Public Broadcasting System, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, and the Division of Professional-Technical Education; and representatives from the State Department of Education. The Board's Executive Director shall serve as chair of the Council.

3. Duties of the Chair

   a. Presides at all Agency Heads' Council meetings;
   b. Establishes the Council's agenda in consultation with the Council's members; and
   c. Maintains open communications with the Board on agenda matters through the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section I.P. Idaho Indian Education Committee

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Idaho Indian Education Committee serves as an advisory committee to the State Board of Education (Board) and the State Department of Education (Department) on educational issues and how they impact opportunity, success, and access for Idaho's American Indian student population. The committee also serves as a vital communication connection for Idaho's American Indian tribes, the Board, and the Department.

Board Policy I.P outlines the role and purpose of the committee, committee structure, and terms of membership. The original Board policy contain some provisions that would normally be contained in a groups by laws. At the June 2016 Board meeting the Board approved removing these provisions from the policy and placing them in committee bylaws. The proposed bylaws incorporate these provisions as well as additional provisions to provide further guidance on operating procedures of the committee and responsibilities of staff support from both the Office of the State Board of Education and the Department.

IMPACT

Approval of the bylaws will provide the needed guidance to the Committee for its structure and operation of committee meetings.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

At the March 4, 2016 Indian Education Committee meeting, the committee reviewed the bylaws and recommended approval with a few minor edits. The proposed bylaws are in compliance with Board policy I.P.

Board staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the Indian Education Committee bylaws as submitted in attachment 1.

Moved by __________ Seconded by __________ Carried Yes _____ No _____

A. Meetings

1. The Committee holds at least four (4) regular meetings annually. A quorum of the Committee consists of eight (8) voting members with the option to poll absent members to reach 8 for a response within three (3) days. A quorum shall be present to conduct any official business.

2. Meeting locations shall be determined by the Committee.

B. Membership

Committee members must uphold the goals and objectives of the Committee and give adequate time and energy to the duties of membership. Decision making is a collective action and all members have a joint responsibility for decisions and actions.

C. Nominating Process

A letter of recommendation for representation of the appropriate entity shall be submitted to the Board of Education (Board) office and receive Board approval before an appointee may act in an official capacity of the Committee.

D. Voting privileges

A Committee member unable to attend a meeting either in person or by telephone conference may send a proxy in his or her place. The proxy will have full voting privileges upon receipt from the absent member of a written statement or a tribal resolution to the chair and staff. Notification must include name and position of proxy and a statement authorizing the proxy to act in the official capacity, including full voting rights, for the determined time period of the meeting, and the proxy has support for voting on behalf of the committee member. The proxy may not vote without this notification.

E. Duties of the Officers

1. The Chair

   a. Presides at Committee meetings, with full power to discuss and vote on all matters before the Committee.
   b. Submits such information and recommendations considered proper concerning the business and interests of the Committee.
   c. Subject to action of the Committee, gives notice and establishes the dates and locations of all regular Committee meetings.
   d. Calls special meetings of the Committee.

e. Appoints Committee members to all standing and interim working groups of the Committee.
f. Establishes the agenda in consultation with the staff support.
g. Provides communication to the public as chief spokesperson for the Committee in coordination with the Board and State Department of Education (Department) Communications officers.

2. The Vice Chair

a. Presides at meetings in the event of absence of the Council chair.
b. Performs the Council chair's duties in the event of the Council chair's inability to do so.
c. Becomes the acting Council chair in the event of the resignation or permanent inability of the Council chair until such time as a new chair is elected.

F. Duties of Staff Support

The staff will work to maintain effective communication among the Committee members, Department, Board office, Board, and key stakeholders. Staff will uphold appropriate organizational structure to carry out the work of the Committee. Staff will provide structure for the meetings, review the progress of the Committee's work, and identify areas of strengths and weaknesses.

1. Board Staff
Provide support to the Chair to carry out the purpose of the Committee. Report on relevant activities of the Board office and the Board. Provide the Board office and the Board of an overview of the Committee's work. Collaborate with the Department staff on communication, meeting details, and other items as necessary to the purpose and duties of the Committee.

2. Department Staff
Provide support to the Chair to carry out the purpose of the Committee. Report on relevant activities of the Department and appropriate key stakeholders. Provide the Superintendent of Public Instruction an overview of the Committee's work. Collaborate with the Program Manager on communication, meeting details, and other items as necessary to the purpose and duties of the Committee.

G. Administration of Committee Work

1. Special Committee assignments shall be designated at the discretion of the Board.

2. Coordination and collaboration of policies and procedures are conducted to maintain the integrity of the Board and the Department.

3. Dissemination of official committee information will go through the Board office and Department.

H. Adoption, Amendment, and Repeal of Bylaws

1. Bylaws and amendments must be approved by the Board before they are officially instituted by the Committee.

2. Recommendations for amendments or repeals of bylaws may be approved at any regular or special meeting of the Committee by a majority vote of the Committee, provided notice has been presented at the preceding meeting of the Committee.

Idaho Educator Pipeline Report

REFERENCE

August 2015	The Board approved a proposed rule reorganizing IDAPA 08.02.02 and discussed the miss-alignment of current certification practices with Idaho Administrative Code.
December 2015	The Board reviewed an initial Teacher Pipeline Report and requested additional data.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Sections 33-1201 -1207, Idaho Code
Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.02.02, Rules Governing Uniformity

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

In late 2014, as part of the of the Career Ladder subcommittee work on tiered certification, it was discovered that there were a number of current practices regarding teacher certification that were not in alignment with Idaho statute or Idaho Administrative Code. Idaho Code authorizes the State Board of Education (Board) to set the requirements for teacher certification, within specified minimum requirements. The more specific requirements are set by the Board are outlined in Administrative Code. In 2015 Board staff, working with State Department of Education staff, started looking at the practices that had developed over time and the current certification requirements to identify which areas of the administrative rules should be changed and which practices needed to be changed to be compliant with Administrative Code. At the same time Board staff started working on a comprehensive report that would help to quantify the teacher shortage in Idaho and identify areas of weakness within Idaho's teacher preparation pipeline.

The Board was presented with a first look at the data during the December 2015 Board meeting and at that time indicated additional data they would like to see in the final report. The attached report provides updated information for all previous data points and includes additional details regarding administrators, career technical teachers, and teacher candidate demographics.

IMPACT

The attached report will help to inform the Board of the health of Idaho's educator pipeline and start the discussion regarding next steps to address these issues.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Teacher Pipeline Report provides available data on Idaho's educator pipeline. Staff recommends the Board use the information included in the report to inform decisions regarding making changes to sections of Administrative Code related to certification (provided as a separate agenda item) and for long-term discussions about policies intended to prevent and address shortages in rural areas and specific content areas. It is clear from the data provided and working with various stakeholder groups that that there is no simple answer to addressing the availability of highly effective teachers across the state. It is clear from all stakeholder groups that there is a desire to maintain a high standard for our professional educators and that changes to the current educator certification requirements will not address the issues faced within Idaho or across the nation.

BOARD ACTION

This item is for informational purposes only. Any action will be at the Board's discretion.

Idaho Educator Pipeline Report (Revised July 2016)

Introduction

In December 2015, the Idaho State Board of Education was provided an initial Teacher Pipeline Report. Based on questions raised by members of the State Board of Education and research conducted by staff, this report is presented as a follow-up and expansion of that initial report. This report provides updated information for all previous data points and includes additional details regarding administrators, career technical teachers and administrators, and teacher candidate demographics.

Idaho Preparation Program Enrollment

On an annual basis, Idaho's approved educator preparation programs report their enrollment data to the state and federal government as part of Idaho's Title II report. Tables 1 and 2 outline the number of students enrolled in Idaho's educator preparation programs from 2008 to 2015. The data in Table 2 indicates the levels of enrollment at Idaho's public, private, and alternate programs. Tables 3, 4, and 5 provide demographic data (gender and ethnicity) of students enrolled in Idaho's educator preparation programs. The data provided is the most currently available data. The data used in Table 7 was last reported for the 2013-2014 school year.

2008-09	2009-10	2010-11	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14	2014-15*

Private	3569	3938	4030	4352	3782	3408	1692
Alternate	594	330	326	154	284	373	489

Enrollment by program type (public, private, alternate) only includes programs that have data for all available years and is not intended to be summed up across programs. The statewide totals for all programs in a given year is represented in Table 1: Total Enrollment

* Effective with the 2014-2015 report, staff at the Office of the State Board of Education worked with the institutions to agree on a clear and common definition for "enrolled" for Title II reporting. From 2014-2015 on, a student will be considered enrolled if he/she has completed a program admissions process with the institution OR if he/she has completed at least 60 credits and has declared education as a major. Because institutions were previously defining "enrolled" in various ways, the adjusted definition has resulted in reduced, but more accurate, program enrollment numbers.

 Prior to 2014-2015, the research/data management staff at one institution internally defined "enrolled" as any student who had declared education as a major, regardless of whether the student enrolled in any education coursework. The institution provided more accurate data for 2014-2015 and will work with the Office of the State Board of Education to correct previous years' data. As a result there is a large discrepancy in the prior year's data.

Notes for Tables 3, 4, and 5:

- Percentages represent the proportion of students who reported that gender or race/ethnicity out of the total students who reported any gender or race/ethnicity. The denominator does not include enrolled students who did not report.
- Alternate programs are not required to report this information for Title II Reporting. Table 4 and 5 includes Teach for America-Idaho data (reflecting 14 enrolled candidates) for the 2014-2015 academic year in the All Programs totals, but do not include ABCTE data, as ABCTE did not report this data.
- N/A = Not applicable; this institution did not have an active educator preparation program in that year

Reasons for Enrollment Decreases

Staff of the Office of the State Board of Education requested feedback from the Idaho Association of Colleges of Teacher Education (IACTE), whose members include the Deans and Chairs of Idaho's Colleges and Departments of Education, regarding the reasons they believe enrollment in their programs is currently decreasing. IACTE members listed the following reasons, this information in anecdotal:

- Lack of financial return on investment and clear upward career and salary pathways within teaching
  - Students often have to take out student loans in order to complete their degrees, but educator salaries are inadequate
  - Competing service sector programs that have higher salaries (examples: nursing, social work, etc.)
- Due to the current teaching environment, teachers speak negatively about the profession and even discourage students from pursuing teaching
  - Media (nationally and locally) language towards teachers is perceived as negative and patronizing
  - School climate – teachers feel like they are constantly dealing with the impact of frequent policy changes and they do not express job satisfaction
  - Teacher preparation program requirements and length of time to finish
    - Desire for shorter pathways (such as alternate routes)

Candidate Quality

Given the preponderance of research demonstrating the impact that effective teachers have on their students, when considering the educator pipeline, it is important to consider not only whether we are attracting an adequate number of teachers, but whether we are attracting quality candidates into the profession. One of the challenges in attempting to answer this question is the difficulty in identifying and measuring the characteristics that increase an individual's likelihood of being an effective teacher. While Idaho has limited data to address this question, the following indicators may be a valuable beginning point for this discussion.

Table 6 (below) outlines the GPA required for admissions into Idaho's undergraduate educator preparation programs (as applicable), the median GPA of those accepted into programs, and the median GPA of those who complete the programs.

Table 6: Preparation Program GPA Requirements and Median GPAs[1]

Private and alternate programs are not requested but not required to provide admissions and GPA data for Title II reporting. The alternate programs are not included in Table 6 because neither ABCTE nor TFA-Idaho has reported the data at this time.

- NR = Not reported
- N/A = Not applicable; this institution did not have an active educator preparation program in that year

Preparation Program Completers

Through Title II reporting, educator preparation programs provide data regarding the number of students who complete their programs. Table 7 outlines the number of program completers at Idaho's public, private, and alternate programs from 2008 to 2015. Table 8 demonstrates the certificates that completers have been prepared for, while Table 9 clarifies the number of teachers prepared to teach by subject area.

Certificated Educators

This section provides information regarding the numbers of educators issued certificates in Idaho. Table 10 outlines the numbers of individual teachers who received their initial Idaho certificate from 2009 to 2016 and indicates whether they were prepared through an in-state or out-of-state program. Table 11 provides data regarding the numbers of individuals issued new certificates in a given year, by certificate type. Table 12 indicates the number of Career Technical Education (CTE) certificates issued by CTE program area. Table 13 outlines new administrator certificates, while Table 14 clarifies all CTE Administrator certificates (new and renewal) issued in recent years.

Alternate and Provisional Authorizations

Idaho Administrative Code outlines several alternative routes to certification in addition to the approved non-traditional routes to certification (ABCTE and TFA). Alternate routes to certification are available through all approved programs, traditional and non-traditional, and are most commonly used by individuals who have worked in a field other than teaching and with to become a teacher. All educators pursuing these routes are issued Interim certificates. Tables 15, 16, and 17 provide details about the alternate authorizations issued by the Department of Education.

The Idaho Professional Standards Commission Annual Reports indicate that there were 154 Provisional Authorizations with a total of 163 endorsements/assignments issued during the 2013-2014 school year and a 149 Provisional Authorizations with 159 endorsements/assignments issued during the 2014-2015 school year. Table 15 provides details about the provisional authorizations issued to teachers and administrators.

In 2015, staff of the Office of the State Board of Education and the State Department of Education clarified that only the State Board of Education could issue provisional certificates. As a result, effective 2015-2016, the State Department of Education is not issuing provisional certificates. Thus, we anticipate that the number of provisional certificates issued will substantially decrease while Content Specialist Interim Certificates are likely to increase. The State Board of Education is authorized, in emergency situations, to grant a one year provisional certificate to an individual who does not meet any to the statutory or administrative code requirements.

Teacher Certificates and Assignments

To better understand the landscape of Idaho's educator workforce, we examined the assignments (or roles) of those who hold active certificates in Idaho. Table 18 provides an overview of the number of individuals holding active and inactive certificates. Tables 19 through 22 provide details about individuals teaching outside of their certificated grade band or in an assignment without the appropriate endorsement. Tables 23 and 24 provide information about individuals holding 6/9 endorsements. No 6/9 endorsements currently exist in administrative code. Finally, Table 25 clarifies the assignments of individuals holding Exceptional Child (Special Education) certificates.

Teacher Certificates and Endorsements

Idaho Administrative Code outlines specific educator certificates and endorsements. While the certificates and endorsements outlined in Administrative Code have changed over time, data presented in the April 2016 Pipeline Report clearly revealed that active certificate holders have been issued (and likely renewed) certificates and endorsements that are outdated or non-existent. The State Department of Education will need to have an ongoing process of ensuring that certificates and endorsements are aligned to current rule when issued (first time or renewal) and to make adjustments, as needed, when certificates are renewed. In cases where the State Department of Education either issued an outdated certificate or endorsement or incorrectly entered the certificate/endorsement into their database, corrections will be made to the data.

Teacher Departures

To understand Idaho's teacher pipeline, it is critical to gather and analyze data regarding situations that create vacancies. Tables 27 and 28 summarize data provided by school districts to the Department of Education regarding teacher retirements and other reasons for departure.

District Feedback on Hard to Fill Positions

In October 2014, the Idaho Association of School Administrators (IASA) partnered with Dr. Patti Mortensen, Assistant Professor of School Psychology and Educational Leadership at Idaho State University, to send out electronic surveys to superintendents of 115 Idaho school districts regarding hiring and hard-to-fill positions. Superintendents from 68 school districts from all six regions responded to the survey, representing 59% of Idaho school districts.

In fall 2015, Dr. Mortensen conducted an additional round of surveys, again partnering with IASA to distribute them electronically to 115 Idaho school districts. 72 districts responded to the second survey, representing all regions of the state and 62% of all Idaho districts. Tables 29 and 30 (below) provide a summary of the results from Dr. Mortensen's 2014 and 2015 surveys.

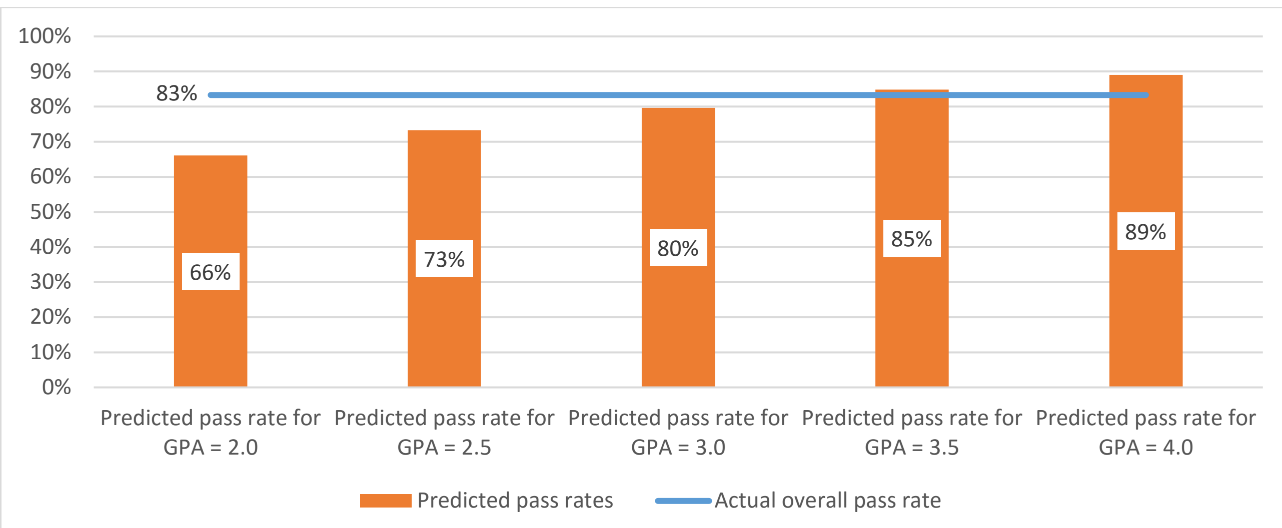
The following chart demonstrates the correlation between a teacher candidate's GPA and the likelihood that he/she will pass the applicable Praxis test on the first try. The dataset includes candidates who were enrolled in an educator preparation program at one of Idaho's public institutions. The GPA data is the GPA of record (in the state longitudinal data system) as close to 60 accumulated credits as possible, in order to indicate the GPA of students at the time closest to their enrollment in the educator preparation program.

Due to the expansive amount of data included in the analysis, the correlation is statistically significant at a p value of 0.000. Thus even a slight difference in the likelihood of passing the Praxis on the first try would be considered statistically significant.



Conclusions

The process of gathering and analyzing the data for this report has clarified the limitations with the data that Idaho currently has available. While our capacity has improved with the state longitudinal data system, Idaho would benefit from identifying specific measures that we believe provide an accurate picture of the educator pipeline and establishing a strategy to effectively track them long-term. State Board of Education Staff will continue to work with the approved teacher preparation programs and the State Department of Education to assure that the data that is reported is consistently and accurately reported across the system. This will be particularly important in with data regarding individuals who hold certificates and the areas they are working in if we are going to be able to better identify the specific areas, both geographically as well as by subject, that are of the highest need and develop strategies for addressing these shortages. In addition to changes in data collection, additional surveys should be conducted in order to fully understand not only why individuals are choosing not to enter the teaching profession but to also develop strategies for increasing recruitment at the district level. The Office of Performance Evaluations conducted a study title “Workforce Issues Affecting Public School Teachers,” this report provides some additional insights on the difficulties school districts have in filling positions, this report is attached as Appendix A.

Based on the available statewide data, it appears that Idaho does not currently have a statewide shortage in all teaching grades and subjects. Rather, shortage issues are present in certain geographic and subject areas. Educator preparation program completion data and certification data indicates that the following subject areas have ongoing shortages: special education, math, secondary science (particularly chemistry and physics), bilingual and English Language Learner support, foreign languages, and some career technical education areas. Additionally, while regional data is not easily available, qualitative information from districts, educator preparation programs, and state staff indicates that shortages are common in rural areas beyond high need subject areas. Unfortunately, research on national and regional shortages reveals that the shortages identified in Idaho are the most common nationally. The higher pay scales commonly offered by districts in other states (particularly those in the Northwest and Mountain West region) further exacerbate the problem, as Idaho may lose teachers to other states. Additionally, some states are now offering incentives to attract educators to subjects and areas where shortages exist.

We continue to hear that teacher salaries are one of the areas that impacts an individual’s interest in entering the teaching field as well as in the retention of teachers. State funding for teacher salaries in Idaho is based on an apportionment model. Through the continued implementation of the career ladder Idaho will have significantly increased the funding going to school districts for teacher salaries by 2020. Due to the apportionment model, teacher salaries are set at the local district level, additional analysis will need to be done to show how the increase in salary based apportionment impacts the increase in salaries at the local level.

Idaho’s teacher shortage is not unique to Idaho. To address Idaho’s teacher shortage areas, staff recommends that the State Board of Education consider a multi-pronged approach. Through the implementation of the career ladder and the availability of funds for high need areas or teachers who take on leadership roles within their school districts, Idaho has taken a first step in addressing teacher salaries. Additional strategies will need to be developed to recruit and retain teachers in high need areas including our rural school districts, however, if the larger issue of why individuals are not entering the teaching profession is not addressed Idaho will continue to have a dwindling pool of individuals to choose from.

To improve recruitment and retention of teachers, it is important that Idaho build an environment and narrative statewide that clearly values teachers, their professionalism and expertise, and their voice. Additionally, efforts to ensure that educators receive strong mentoring and support during their careers, particularly in the early years of teaching will need to be strengthened. To fully address all of the areas that impact Idaho’s teacher pipeline a workgroup should be formed to look at various initiatives to address each area of the pipeline, from preparation to retirement and bring back recommendations, including implementation timelines, for consideration by the State Board of Education. Due to the widespread impact of a national teacher shortage many states have developed initiatives to try and address these shortages, these range from developing stronger partnerships between school districts and teacher preparation programs, the development of “grow your own” programs/partnerships, programs designed specifically for teachers for rural areas, to financial incentives. This group would look at the success of these programs in other states and the potential for success or adaptation in Idaho.

Report 13-01

Created in 1994, the legislative Office of Performance Evaluations operates under the authority of Idaho Code §§ 67-457 through 67-464. Its mission is to promote confidence and accountability in state government through professional and independent assessment of state agencies and activities, consistent with legislative intent.

The eight-member, bipartisan Joint Legislative Oversight Committee approves evaluation topics and receives completed reports. Evaluations are conducted by Office of Performance Evaluations staff. The findings, conclusions, and recommendations in the reports do not necessarily reflect the views of the committee or its individual members.

This report offers an independent, nonpartisan analysis of workforce issues that affect Idaho's public school teachers. Policymakers and education stakeholders can use the report as a starting point to inform their renewed efforts to reform public education in Idaho.

Recognizing that teachers, principals, and superintendents have firsthand knowledge and experience about their profession, we reached out to all of them for their perspectives. Our analysis of survey responses from 2,486 teachers, 256 principals, and 84 superintendents coupled with our analysis of the available data from the Department of Education form the basis for this report's findings and conclusions. At the end of each chapter in our report, we offer considerations for policymakers that we believe would benefit the current education reform debate.

We thank Idaho's teachers, principals, and superintendents for their participation in our survey. Without their cooperation and valuable input, this report would not have been possible. Formal responses from the Governor, the State Board of Education, and the State Superintendent for Public Instruction are included at the end of this report.

Sincerely,

Rakesh Mohan

Executive Summary

Workforce Issues Affecting Public School Teachers

Our study of public school teachers answers a series of questions from legislators about teacher preparation, recruitment, retention, and other matters affecting the teacher workforce. The report includes (1) statistics from our analysis of data provided by the Department of Education, (2) results from our detailed surveys of superintendents, principals, and teachers, and (3) information drawn from our interviews with school district administrators, college of education officials, and state staff from various agencies.

Considerations for Policymakers

Legislators requested this study during the 2012 legislative session at a time when policymakers and the state's Superintendent of Public Instruction were in the midst of implementing a comprehensive education reform package. Since then, three referendums repealed the reform package and, as a result, policymakers and other education stakeholders have voiced their intentions to proceed with a more inclusive, more collaborative approach to implementing changes to the state's public school system.

Because the state is ready to move forward with a revised approach to K–12 education reform, our report is timely. Each chapter in the report closes with a brief discussion of the chapter's relevance to issues that policymakers are currently facing as they work with education stakeholders to improve Idaho's K–12 public schools.

Chapter 1: Teacher Profile and Class Size

We caution policymakers against relying on state-level summary statistics to understand class size. Instead, we suggest that policymakers would be better served by (1) studying class size at the district or school level, and then (2) examining other descriptive statistics in addition to an average, such as the range of class sizes and the factors that affect that range.

Chapter 2: Teacher Preparation

Even though superintendent and principal respondents to our survey generally felt that new teachers are prepared to teach, they identified the following three areas they would like to see improved in new teacher hires: (1) multiple certifications or endorsements to broaden what a new teacher is qualified to teach, (2) better classroom management skills, and (3) an increased ability to integrate technology into classrooms.

Chapters 3–5: Recruitment, Retention, Turnover, and Future Workforce Needs

An important theme throughout chapters 3–5 is the recruitment and retention challenges that districts and schools face and how those challenges may affect the quality and size of the teacher workforce. Chapters 3 and 4 detail K–12 public schools' struggles to recruit and retain qualified teachers, and chapter 5 discusses future workforce needs.

In our survey, superintendent and principal respondents across the state largely attributed their recruitment and retention struggles to teacher compensation packages. Additionally, results from our survey of teachers revealed a strong undercurrent of despair among teachers who seem to perceive a climate that disparages their efforts and belittles their contributions. The vast majority of comments from superintendents, principals, and teachers express concern or dissatisfaction with specific aspects of their work or, more broadly, with conditions surrounding the public education environment in Idaho.

These expressed concerns justifiably raise questions about the long-term availability of dedicated, quality teachers to serve the state's public school system. The general tone of dissatisfaction and sense of being underappreciated may present challenges to policymakers and directly affect the state's ability to ensure a steady supply of dedicated, highly effective teachers in all of Idaho's public schools.

Acknowledgements

We appreciate the cooperation and assistance we received from the following education stakeholders across the state: the State Board of Education, the Department of Education, local districts and their schools, the teacher education programs at Idaho's colleges and universities, Public Employee Retirement System of Idaho (PERSI), and the Department of Labor.

Maureen Brewer and Lance McCleve of the Office of Performance Evaluations conducted this study. Margaret Campbell copy edited and desktop published the report.

Dr. Kathleen Sullivan, visiting professor and former director of the Center for Educational Research and Evaluation at the University of Mississippi, conducted the quality control review.

Introduction

Legislative Interest

In March 2012 the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee approved a request from the Senate Education Committee to study a variety of issues affecting teachers employed in Idaho's K–12 public schools. The study request covered a range of topics from teacher recruitment and retention to new teacher preparation and class size.

The study scope in appendix A lists ten specific areas that legislators had questions about. The importance of studying each of the ten areas has been heightened because of factors such as the recent economic recession and current efforts to reform K–12 education.

Current Education Policy Environment

Three referendums, representing work completed during the 2011 and 2012 legislative sessions to reform public education, were placed on the November 2012 voting ballot. On November 6, voters rejected all three referendums.

After Idahoans voted down the package of laws known as Students Come First, education reform in the state has found itself at a new crossroads. Several state leaders and education stakeholders, including the governor and the president of the Idaho Education Association, have made comments about how they would like to see the state proceed. These comments offer examples of the agreement among various stakeholder groups that reform is necessary and desirable:

> "The people have spoken, so I'm not discouraged. That's how our system works. But it's important to remember that the public conversation that began almost two years ago isn't over—it's only begun. Our workforce, our communities and most of all our students still deserve better, and our resources are still limited. We offered these reforms not because we sought change for change's sake, but because change is needed to afford our young people the opportunities they deserve now and for decades to come. That's as true today as it was yesterday, so our work for a brighter and better future continues."—Governor Butch Otter[1]

> "This debate has been about what's best for the students, educators and Idaho's public schools… Now that the voters have spoken, it's up to us, the adults, to model…for our students how grownups with diverse views can come together and put their differences aside and go forward… I urge lawmakers and other elected leaders and policymakers to meet us at the table, to begin the conversation about what is best for Idaho's students and Idaho's schools. We believe that together we can be a model of reform for the nation."—Penni Cyr, President, Idaho Education Association[2]

Our study on K–12 education acknowledges the state's unique position of navigating a productive way forward after the failure of the referendums and offers policymakers nonpartisan insight into the perspectives of stakeholders—perspectives which have not previously been gathered. These perspectives, coupled with our data analysis, can help policymakers take advantage of the renewed opportunity to move in a direction that addresses stakeholders' concerns. Specifically, the report

This report provides policymakers nonpartisan information on issues relevant to the current K–12 policy environment.

- helps to inform the policy conversations that education stakeholders are seeking to have with decision makers, and
- outlines stakeholder perspectives on teacher preparation, recruitment, retention, turnover, and other issues.

Study Approach

Our study was not designed to be an evaluation of the set of laws represented on the ballot as Propositions 1, 2, and 3 or the efforts for or against the reform package. Neither the study request nor the study scope mentions K–12 education reform.

We designed the study to respond to questions posed by policymakers using available data. The Department of Education gathers and stores detailed district–, teacher–, and student-level data in its longitudinal data system. We set out to learn what that data says and what it can tell policymakers. Further, district and school personnel have expertise on, insight into, and opinions about their profession and the various issues in which policymakers are interested. We wanted to know what district and school personnel had to say and what they felt was important to communicate to policymakers.

Methodology

To meet our study objectives and thoroughly answer each of the questions posed by legislators, we completed the following tasks:

- Interviewed staff at the Department of Education.
- Analyzed data from the Department of Education's longitudinal data system. Our data analysis included a review of demographic statistics of the state's districts, schools, and teachers; an examination of teacher exit reasons (turnover); and an assessment of available data on class size.
- Interviewed the executive director of the Public Employee Retirement System of Idaho (PERSI).
- Analyzed teacher retirement data provided by PERSI.
- Interviewed staff from the Department of Labor.
- Reviewed workforce data provided by the Department of Labor.
- Interviewed officials from the colleges of education about their teacher education programs: Boise State University, Brigham Young University-Idaho, the College of Idaho, Idaho State University, Lewis-Clark State College, Northwest Nazarene University, the University of Idaho, and the University of Phoenix.[3]
- Interviewed a sample of school district administrators from ten districts across the state. We randomly sampled the districts after accounting for district size and geographic location.
- Before the November 6 vote on the referendums, we surveyed superintendents, principals, and teachers statewide about teacher recruitment, retention, turnover, preparation, and class size. Our survey methods are discussed in appendix B.

[3] We did not interview George Fox University because, at the time of our interviews, the institution was phasing out its teacher education programs in Idaho. However, the university recently notified the Department of Education that they plan to have an active cohort beginning in fall 2014.

Report Organization

We have organized the report into five chapters and two appendices.

The report highlights the perspectives of stakeholders that we gathered through interviews and surveys.

- Chapter 1 has a brief profile of teachers and includes our review of K–12 class sizes. This review discusses the limitations inherent in ascertaining reliable figures for the average number of students per class.
- Chapter 2 provides an overview of the state's teacher education programs and the standards those programs must meet. The chapter also discusses district and school administrators' perceptions of the preparation levels of new teachers.
- Chapter 3 discusses teacher recruitment by outlining which teaching positions are the hardest to fill and describing the recruitment challenges that districts and schools face in trying to fill open teaching positions.
- Chapter 4 is a discussion of teacher retention and turnover and includes a description of teacher retirement benefits and trends.
- Chapter 5 offers policymakers context for and insight into the future needs of the K–12 teacher workforce.
- Appendix A is our study scope.
- Appendix B outlines our survey methods, limitations, and results.

Each chapter concludes with considerations for policymakers.

Unlike most studies our office publishes, the nature of this study did not lend itself to a set of recommendations. Rather, the report serves to help policymakers better understand the set of K–12 issues outlined in our study scope and, in doing so, outlines areas for policymakers' consideration at the end of each chapter.

Chapter 1
Teacher Profile and Class Size

This chapter introduces K–12 teachers in Idaho by describing the average teacher in terms of experience, education, and salary. The chapter then moves to a discussion of the distribution of teachers and students throughout the state in terms of class size.

Who Teaches in Idaho?

In academic year 2011–2012 the state employed approximately 16,500 instructional staff to educate more than 280,000 K–12 students in 115 districts and 43 charter schools. Approximately 7,000 instructional staff teach at the elementary level versus 8,500 at the secondary level.[1] Regardless of which type of school they teach in, teachers in Idaho average 13 years of total teaching experience, hold a bachelor's degree, and make approximately $43,000 per year.

Instructional Staff Years of Experience

Years of Experience	Percentage of Instructional Staff
0–2	14.2
3–5	13.8
6–10	18.3
11–20	29.8
21–30	17.7
More than 30	6.2

[1] The remaining 1,000 or so teachers teach in mixed-level schools.

Degrees Held by Instructional Staff

Type of Degree	Percentage of Instructional Staff
Associate’s	0.1
Bachelor’s	73.2
Master’s	24.9
PhD or EdD	1.0

Average Teacher Salaries

The Legislature applies a formula called salary-based apportionment to calculate the amount of funds the state will provide districts to pay instructional staff salaries. Within the rules that define salary-based apportionment, the state has set a minimum salary that districts must pay a full-time instructional staff member. Currently, the minimum salary is $30,500 annually. We found that approximately 11 percent of full-time teachers are paid a salary near the state’s minimum.[2]

Although Idaho has set a minimum salary for full-time instructional staff, about 19 percent of Idaho’s teachers are not full time. Because part-time teachers generally receive a salary that is below the full-time minimum, we excluded them from our average salary calculations. For full-time teachers, the average salary is approximately $43,000. Exhibit 1.1 shows the distribution of teacher salaries by district size and level of experience.

In our review of full-time teacher salaries, we found that the average salary for teachers with less than five years of experience is about the same for all district sizes. However, the average salary for teachers with more than five years of experience is higher in medium, large, and very large districts than in small and very small districts.[3] The average teacher salary is a reflection of not only the average experience and education of full-time teachers statewide, but also at least two other variables:[4]

2 We defined full-time salaries near the state minimum as salaries ranging from $30,000 to $31,000.

3 For the purposes of this report, very large districts have a student enrollment greater than 15,000 (3 districts), large districts have an enrollment greater than 5,000 (9 districts), medium districts have an enrollment greater than 1,500 (23 districts), small districts have an enrollment greater than 500 (42 districts), and very small districts have an enrollment of 500 or less (81 districts). These figures include the state’s charter schools.

4 We did not control for factors such as the cost of living among districts in our analysis of teachers’ salaries. Therefore, our analysis should be interpreted as descriptive of differences in full-time teachers’ salaries with no judgment on the appropriateness of those differences.

[a] Very large districts have a student enrollment greater than 15,000, large districts have an enrollment greater than 5,000, medium districts have an enrollment greater than 1,500, small districts have an enrollment greater than 500, and very small districts have an enrollment of 500 or less.

1. On average, teachers in larger districts are paid more than teachers in smaller districts.
2. The total number of teachers working in larger districts exceeds the total number of teachers working in smaller districts.

In our statewide survey of superintendents, principals, and teachers, we asked respondents to offer additional comments as they relate to teacher retention, recruitment, and turnover. Across respondent types, comments that related to low pay were made the most often—mentioned by nearly one-third of the 1,527 respondents who offered additional comments. An example follows:

> The average full-time teacher in Idaho makes approximately $43,000 per year.

> "Several of my coworkers have left because they can't afford to teach anymore. They have to get higher paying jobs. They were good teachers. It's very sad."

Chapters 3 and 4 discuss the recruitment, retention, and turnover issues related to salaries in further detail. In those chapters, superintendents, principals, and teachers offer their opinions on how salaries affect keeping highly qualified teachers in Idaho classrooms.

What Is the State's Average Class Size?

Legislators expressed interest in learning more about the distribution of students and teachers across the state, particularly as that distribution translates to class size. They articulated specific interest in knowing, on average, how many students are in a classroom at any one time and whether class size is markedly different among district sizes.

Class size, defined for the purposes of this report as the number of students in a classroom, can sometimes be confused with ratios that compare the total number of students in the state (280,000) to the total number of instructional staff (16,500). In Idaho, the statewide student-teacher ratio is approximately 17 to 1.

The average class size in the state is not the same as the state's student-teacher ratio.

The statewide student-teacher ratio does not necessarily reflect actual class sizes throughout the state, nor does it reflect an average statewide class size. In reality, factors other than the total number of students and the total number of teachers affect the differences in class size among districts and schools. The following list highlights a few examples of factors that affect the size of classes across the state:

- Most of the state funds received by districts are based on their average daily attendance. Average daily attendance drives the number of classrooms (support units) and the number of teachers per classroom (staff allowance).
- Districts and schools use their share of available funds (both state and local) in a way that results in wide variations in class size given the different levels and types of classes within districts and schools.
- Not every teacher teaches a class every period of the day. Teachers have planning periods and some teachers work only part time.
- Some classes have more than one teacher assigned to them.
- Some subjects traditionally have far fewer (or far more) students than other subjects.

The data currently available at the Department of Education does not easily lend itself to a reliable calculation of a statewide average class size or average class size by district size. To derive either of these types of average class size, we would have to analyze the daily schedule of approximately 16,500 teachers and 280,000 students using data that was not designed for this type of analysis. In the absence of suitable data, we surveyed principals and teachers across the state and asked respondents to write in their average class size (number of students per classroom teacher).

Our analysis of the survey results showed an average class size of 23.3 reported by teachers and an average class size of 25.4 reported by principals—for an overall average class size of approximately 24 students per classroom teacher. Overall, principals and teachers in larger districts reported a higher number of students per class than those in smaller districts.

Average Reported Class Size by District Size

District Size	Teacher Response of Class Size	Principal Response of Class Size
Very large	25	28
Large	24	26
Medium	23	26
Small	22	23
Very small	17	20

Concerns About Class Size

In open-ended comments at the end of our survey of teachers, 102 respondents expressed their concerns about increasing class sizes. An example of those responses is captured here:

> "My biggest concern is the larger class sizes. I can't be there for all my students and meet all their needs when I have so many. Please help us get the classroom sizes back down to 20–24 students."

Likewise, administrators in six of the ten districts we interviewed conveyed that class size is increasing, class size is a concern, or class size is a primary focus. To better inform the results of our interviews with district administrators, we asked respondents to our survey of superintendents and principals to offer their opinions about the degree to which class size is a concern for them in their role as administrators. Superintendent and principal respondents differed somewhat in their opinions, with more principals than superintendents stating that class size is a major concern.

Degree to Which Class Size Is a Concern

	Major Concern (%)	Somewhat of a Concern (%)	Not a Concern (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	23.8	40.5	35.7
Principals (N = 254)	41.7	38.2	20.1
Average class size reported by principals[5]	28.2	25.2	19.6

[5] We did not ask superintendents to write in the average class size in their district.

Because we asked principals about the degree to which class size is a concern in their schools, we were able to compare the principals' level of concern about class size to the principals' reported average class size. For principals who said that class size is a major concern, the average reported class size is approximately 28 students. For principals who said that class size is not a concern, the average reported class size is approximately 20 students.

Principals who said that class size is somewhat of a concern reported an average class size of approximately 25—a number that is, on average, one student per class more than the statewide average reported in our survey.[6] If we extend the relationship between average class size and level of concern about class size to a statewide level, the statewide average class size of 24 students could be considered somewhat of a concern.

In our interviews, several district administrators discussed the use of one technique in particular as part of their efforts to keep class sizes at acceptable levels. That technique is to absorb positions at certain grade levels and shift them to other levels to meet class size goals. Generally, this technique sacrifices high school positions to either improve or maintain class sizes at the elementary level.

Class size is a concern for many district and school administrators.

At least two district administrators mentioned a specific commitment to keeping class sizes at lower grade levels from getting too big. However, when we broke down our teacher survey results by grade level, we found very little difference in class size. Respondents who teach elementary classes reported average class sizes that are about equal to those reported by respondents who teach high school classes.

Average Class Size by School Type

	Average Class Size	Number of Respondents
High School	23	677
Middle/junior high	25	415
Elementary	23	1,008

A district administrator pointed out to us that concerns about class size run on both sides of the spectrum—the ability not only to keep core and remediation classes at acceptable levels but also to maintain programs that generally have much smaller class sizes, such as advanced placement courses. In our interviews, one administrator mentioned having to cut some advanced learning opportunities at the secondary level. Another administrator discussed the difficulty of trying to keep electives which have low enrollment.

6 The statewide average class size of 24 refers to the average class size reported by teachers and principals who responded to our survey. For the range of class sizes reported, see appendix B, pages 60 and 63.

Considerations for Policymakers

We advise against relying on state-level summary statistics to draw conclusions about class size. Data such as the state's student-teacher ratio or average class size may be an appropriate place to begin learning about or understanding the distribution of teachers and students; however, policymakers and stakeholders should recognize the limitations of such summary-level data. Because class size is sensitive to factors that can significantly vary among districts, we conclude that considering class size in terms of a statewide ratio, average, or average by district size is of little practical value.

For example, statewide ratios and averages do not capture the range of class sizes throughout school buildings. Two respondents to our principal survey describe the range of class sizes seen at their schools:

> "We have lost 8 teaching positions in four years; we do not have enough classes to offer. We have class sizes in the teens and others in the 40's…"

> "…With budget cuts some teachers' class sizes are large and others are quite small, depending on our staffing for subject areas."

As shown by the principals quoted here, class size can vary dramatically from class to class within the same school. For class size statistics to be useful to policymakers, those statistics should be considered in light of individual district (or even school) circumstances. If the state tracked average class size at such a level, policymakers would be able to compare year-to-year class size variations and better position themselves to determine causes and solutions for undesirable trends in class size.

Within the context of district– and school-level class size data, identifying differences resulting from factors such as available resources, grade level, and subject matter will help develop a more accurate and useful picture of class size variations. Policymakers will then be in a position to ascertain the degree to which those variations may warrant concern.

Chapter 2
Teacher Preparation

Teachers have a central role in the success of the state's education system; this chapter explains what steps are taken to review and approve programs that train teachers and explains what standards those programs are required to meet. The chapter also provides information about the level of preparedness of teachers who are new to the profession.

How Are Teacher Education Programs Reviewed and Approved?

Teacher education programs, also called teacher preparation or teacher training programs, prepare students to become certified teachers. In Idaho graduates of approved programs are eligible for a standard teaching certificate from the state.

Idaho Code grants the State Board of Education the authority to approve teacher education programs and directs the Professional Standards Commission (PSC), housed within the Department of Education, to conduct program reviews.[1] As part of the state's partnership with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), the PSC conducts a full review of teacher education programs concurrently with NCATE every seven years.[2]

1 The PSC consists of 18 members that serve three-year terms: a staff member from the Department of Education; a staff member of the Division of Professional-Technical Education; no less than seven certificated classroom teachers (including at least one teacher of exceptional children and at least one teacher in pupil personnel services); one representative from each of the following associations: the Idaho Association of School Superintendents, the Idaho Association of Secondary School Principals, the Idaho Association of Elementary School Principals, the Idaho School Boards Association, and the Idaho Association of Special Education Administrators; one representative from the education department of one of the private colleges; one representative from one of the community colleges; one representative from the education department of one of the public institutions of higher education; and one representative from the college of letters and sciences of one of the institutions of higher education.

2 The US Department of Education recognizes NCATE as an official accrediting body for teacher preparation institutions. NCATE and the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) are in the process of merging to form the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP).

A national team from NCATE and a state team from the PSC conduct reviews by using national standards and the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. During the review, the teacher education programs must demonstrate the methods used to assess whether candidates for teacher certification have the appropriate knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions to be successful teachers.[3]

Each teacher education program in the state is required to meet state standards and pass on-site reviews.

In between national reviews, a state team conducts an interim review (not to exceed every third year) of state-specific core teaching requirements.[4] All teacher education programs are scheduled to have a state review by the 2014–2015 academic year in the following four areas of focus:

- Clinical Practice and Summative Performance Assessment: Teacher education programs should observe and evaluate preservice teachers using the Danielson Framework, adopted by the State Board of Education in 2010.

- Mathematics Common Core Instructional Shifts and Mathematical Thinking for Instruction (MTI): Teacher education programs should train preservice teachers on teaching methods in the Common Core Standards for Mathematics.

- English Language Arts (ELA) Common Core Instructional Shifts and Idaho Comprehensive Literacy Requirements: Teacher education programs should train preservice teachers on teaching methods in the Common Core Standards for English Language Arts. Preservice teachers in teacher education programs should also be offered courses that align with the Idaho Comprehensive Literacy Plan.

- Instructional Technology and Data Literacy: Teacher education programs should train preservice teachers on the technology competencies approved by the PSC and the State Board of Education in 2010.[5]

3 NCATE expects teacher education programs to minimally assess two professional dispositions: fairness and the belief that all students can learn.

4 Before any on-site program review, the institution must develop and submit to the Department of Education a report that thoroughly explains how the program evaluates candidates' knowledge and performance of the national standards and state-specific requirements for certification.

5 A supplemental set of standards by the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) outlines best practices for the use of instructional technology. Also, more than one of the NCATE standards refer to the incorporation and inclusion of technology to foster student learning.

Teacher education programs must demonstrate whether candidates for certification meet or exceed standards. The state review determines whether the candidate assessment methods of the teacher education program demonstrate unacceptable, acceptable, or target performance for each standard.[6]

After a review of an institution's programs, the national team and the state team each develop a report. The state team's report (complete with recommendations) is submitted to the Standards Subcommittee of the PSC. The subcommittee reviews the report and makes recommendations about each program to the full PSC. The full PSC then considers the team's report and the subcommittee's recommendations and makes a recommendation to the State Board of Education to approve, conditionally approve, or deny the program. Final unit accreditation rests with NCATE once the board grants program approval.

Teacher Standards

As part of our effort to understand how teacher education programs prepare candidates for certification, we interviewed representatives of eight colleges of education about their programs.[7] During our interviews, many of the colleges explicitly stated that national standards and state requirements drive their programs' design and curriculum. Because the state regulates teacher education programs, the colleges must meet those standards and requirements.

> The state has the authority to ensure that teacher education programs prepare teachers in such a way that aligns with state goals.

NCATE Standards

NCATE organizes its standards for the accreditation of teacher education programs into six categories. The standards focus on how the institution prepares candidates for teacher certification:

1. Candidate knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions: Assessments indicate that candidates meet standards.

[6] Criteria for the three determinations: (1) an unacceptable performance means evidence is not sufficiently comprehensive to demonstrate that candidates meet the standard, (2) an acceptable performance means evidence is sufficient to distinguish candidates who meet or exceed the standard from those candidates who do not, and (3) a target performance means that evidence shows that the program has a mature system of assessing candidates' knowledge and performance in a credible manner.

[7] We interviewed the four-year public institutions: Boise State University, Idaho State University, Lewis-Clark State College, and the University of Idaho. We also interviewed the four-year private and for-profit institutions: Brigham Young University-Idaho, the College of Idaho, Northwest Nazarene University, and the University of Phoenix.

2. Assessment system and unit evaluation: Programs have an assessment system that collects and analyzes data to evaluate and improve performance.

3. Field experience and clinical practice: Programs design, implement, and evaluate field experiences so that candidates can develop and demonstrate their knowledge, skills, and professional dispositions.

4. Diversity: Assessments indicate that candidates can demonstrate and apply proficiencies related to diversity.

5. Faculty qualifications, performance, and development: Program faculty are qualified and model best practices in scholarship, service, and teaching.

6. Unit governance and resources: Programs have the leadership, authority, budget, personnel, facilities, and resources to prepare candidates.

NCATE provides an explanation of each standard along with a rubric that describes criteria for meeting the performance requirements.

Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel

The state's standards, called the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel, apply to all teacher certification areas. Every candidate for certification must demonstrate knowledge and performance of ten core standards regardless of the candidate's specific content area:

1. Knowledge of subject matter
2. Knowledge of human development and learning
3. Adapting instruction for individual needs
4. Multiple instructional strategies
5. Classroom motivation and management skills
6. Communication skills
7. Instructional planning skills
8. Assessment of student learning
9. Professional commitment and responsibility
10. Partnerships

Knowledge and performance statements accompany each standard. These statements serve as indicators to help determine whether a candidate has met the standards. Further, to become certified in a specific content area, a candidate must also meet any additional enhancement standards for that area. The enhancement standards detail further knowledge and performance criteria that describe what a candidate must know and be able to do. Evidence provided by each program that proves candidates are competent in each of these standards results in state approval of the teacher education program.

Department officials told us that in the past, Idaho's standards for initial teacher certification were primarily based on the number of credit hours and the content of courses completed. Over the past five years, Idaho has moved to standards that require an institution to recommend a candidate for certification based on what the candidate knows and is able to do—a combination of knowledge and performance.[8]

How Prepared Are New Teachers?

To understand district and school administrators' perceptions of new teachers' (0–2 years of experience) preparation to teach, we distributed a survey to all superintendents and principals in the state and asked them to share their opinions of new teachers. When asked whether new teachers are prepared to teach, the superintendent and principal respondents had similar answers. More than half of the respondents felt that most new teachers are prepared, and very few of the respondents felt that most new teachers are unprepared.

Degree to Which New Teachers Are Prepared to Teach

	Most Are Prepared (%)	Some Are Prepared, Others Are Not (%)	Most Are Unprepared (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	57.1	41.7	1.2
Principals (N = 253)	56.5	39.9	3.6

Likewise, when asked about their level of satisfaction with new teachers, the answers provided by the superintendent and principal respondents aligned. Most of the superintendent and principal respondents indicated their overall satisfaction with new teachers. Very few of the superintendent and principal respondents expressed overall dissatisfaction.

Superintendents' and Principals' Overall Level of Satisfaction with New Teachers

	Satisfied (%)	Neither Satisfied nor Unsatisfied (%)	Unsatisfied (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	70.2	25.0	4.8
Principals (N = 254)	70.1	26.8	3.1

8 The standards align with the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) model developed by a subcommittee of the Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO).

Skills and Credentials of New Teachers

Superintendents and principals want new teachers to have multiple certifications or endorsements, better classroom management, and an increased ability to integrate technology.

Although in a different order, the superintendent and principal respondents to our survey indicated the same top three skills or credentials they would like to see increased in new teacher hires. Each group of respondents selected multiple certifications or endorsements, classroom management, and an ability to integrate technology most often. Superintendents would most like to see an increase in the number of new teacher hires with multiple certifications or endorsements, and principals would most like to see better classroom management.

Skills or Credentials of New Teachers That Superintendents and Principals Would Most Like to See Increased[9]

	Multiple Certifications or Endorsements (%)	Classroom Management (%)	Ability to Integrate Technology in the Classroom (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	76.2	59.5	53.6
Principals (N = 255)	35.7	67.5	45.1

Multiple Certifications or Endorsements

More than 75 percent of the superintendent respondents to our survey indicated a need or preference for new teacher hires to have multiple certifications or endorsements. District administrators across the state reiterated this sentiment in our interviews with them. Administrators in three small districts emphasized the need for teachers with more than one endorsement to help fill either multiple part-time positions or hard-to-fill, full-time positions. Two administrators explain:

> "In small schools, the hard part is finding a teacher with more than one endorsement. A major in history and a minor in social studies doesn't open any doors. Quit sending us students with an earth science endorsement; they can only teach one class. I need teachers who can teach chemistry, physical science, and math."

> "Teachers with more than one endorsement are what we're really looking for. We need them to teach one subject for a couple hours a day. I tell kids to get double certified. You can't walk out with just science or just English."

9 Percentages do not sum to 100 because respondents could select more than one response.

In our interviews with the colleges of education, some mentioned the challenges inherent in students receiving multiple certifications or endorsements. For example, the state now requires students in elementary education programs to receive two endorsements.[10] To accommodate the new requirement while still ensuring students can graduate in four years, at least one college told us it has decreased the length of its elementary student teaching experience from a full year to one semester. The importance of field experiences like student teaching, especially as those experiences relate to better classroom management, are discussed later in this chapter.

Classroom Management

About 68 percent of the principal respondents and nearly 60 percent of the superintendent respondents said they would like to see better classroom management from new teacher hires. Learning effective classroom management skills takes place in the classroom, interacting with students. Administrators in four of the ten districts we interviewed mentioned the need for better classroom management but also acknowledged that getting in a classroom is the best way to gain classroom management skills—skills that either cannot be or are not learned in a university setting.

In our interviews with the colleges of education, every college spoke to the importance of field experience for preservice teachers. However, two colleges articulated challenges inherent in gaining those field experiences by specifically mentioning problems they face in placing student teachers. These two colleges expressed some concern about the effect of initiatives like pay for performance on placements for student teachers. They said that districts and schools are hesitating to take on student teachers and will have less incentive to do so because of the fear that student achievement will suffer with a student teacher in charge of classroom instruction rather than the veteran teacher.

Integrating Technology

About half of the superintendent and principal respondents said they would like to see an increased ability of new teacher hires to integrate technology into the classroom. In our interviews with district administrators, several of them mentioned new teachers' familiarity with technology and their willingness to use it but questioned whether the new hires were adequately trained to do so.
The colleges of education expressed a number of opinions about the use of technology and teaching in our interviews:

- Six colleges said they have specific coursework that focuses on the use of technology.

[10] The administrative rule was approved in April 2011. The colleges of education do not have to fully comply with the rule until fall 2013.

- Four colleges mentioned the challenges they face in offering an online teaching endorsement—primarily a lack of resources to establish the program or, even if the program was in place, trouble filling the seats available.

- Four colleges questioned whether the technology they train preservice teachers to use is even available in districts where students teach or start their careers.

- Three colleges said they understand the focus on technology, but challenges remain about how to train teachers on the use of technology and how to pay for the technology and necessary training.

- Two colleges mentioned the importance of not only showing preservice and inservice teachers how to use a technological device but also instructing teachers how to integrate that device into the classroom in such a way that improves student outcomes.

- At least two colleges require their preservice teachers to design electronic portfolios.

- One college suggested that learning how to integrate technology should be part of a teacher's professional development plan if an evaluation indicates the teacher needs to improve that skill.

No college we spoke with dismissed technology's increasing role in education. Rather, their comments to us offer policymakers insight into what factors may necessitate some consideration when deliberating policies involving technology's role in the classroom.

Considerations for Policymakers

One of the questions outlined in our study scope (located in appendix A) asks whether candidates for teacher certification are graduating from teacher education programs with the necessary skills. Given the information provided throughout this chapter, the answer is yes, in general terms, superintendents and principals feel new teachers are prepared. In addition, the state has the authority to adjust standards for teacher education programs to meet policymakers' goals.

Reviews conducted to assess whether and how well teacher education programs meet standards set by the state provide Idaho the opportunity to communicate anticipated changes with the colleges of education and adjust standards to meet evolving needs. We learned in our interviews that the deans of the colleges of education meet monthly. The uniqueness and importance of these meetings were mentioned in many of our interviews plus in conversations with Department of Education staff. Everyone said that collaboration among the deans is very high. Although not hosted by the state, department staff attend the meetings to facilitate communication between the state and the teacher education programs.

Officials from one college of education told us that they did not know how to anticipate and prepare for a reform package they did not hear about until the 2011 legislative session when the state superintendent rolled out his plan. Changes to teacher education programs necessitate time and resources to implement. For this reason, the State Board of Education does not require the teacher education programs to meet new standards until two years after their initial approval.

Chapter 3
Recruitment

This chapter details issues of teacher recruitment. Positions that districts find hard to fill are discussed first. This discussion is followed by a description of the number of teachers who do not have a regular certification from the state but still fill a teaching position in one of the state's K–12 schools. The chapter then outlines challenges that superintendents and principals across the state face in trying to recruit teachers to their district or school.

What Are Districts' Hard-to-Fill Positions?

In our survey of superintendents and principals, we asked respondents to name their three hardest-to-fill positions. For both superintendent and principal respondents, the three positions most commonly identified as hard to fill were special education, math, and science. Likewise, in our interviews of district administrators, we found they most often named these same three positions.

Most Commonly Identified Hard-to-Fill Positions[1]

	Special Education	Math	Science
Superintendents (N = 80)	40	50	41
Principals (N = 250)	118	82	62

Some district administrators we spoke with stressed that they are experiencing trouble filling positions in areas different from the three most often mentioned in our survey and interviews. For example, superintendent and principal respondents to our survey also identified other positions as hard to fill such as music, speech language pathology, and district or school psychologists.

Hard-to-fill positions vary greatly among districts; the most commonly identified hard-to-fill positions are special education, math, and science.

[1] Reported as number of survey responses.

Provisional Authorizations and Alternative Certificates

One way to measure or define positions that districts and schools find hard to fill is to analyze the number of teachers with provisional authorizations to teach and the number of teachers holding alternative certificates. A provisional authorization is not a teaching certificate, but rather a nonrenewable, one-year emergency authorization.[2] Conversely, alternative routes to certification provide individuals the opportunity to become certified teachers without following a traditional teacher education program.

According to State Board of Education rule, alternative routes to certification aim to certify two types of individuals: (1) certified teachers who need an emergency endorsement and (2) individuals with strong content area backgrounds but limited teaching experience. Different alternative routes to become a certified teacher are available to school districts and individual applicants:

- Teacher to new: The teacher-to-new certificate is a nonrenewable, alternative authorization valid for up to three years.[3] It allows a district to fill a position with an individual who is certified to teach but does not have the correct endorsement for the needed content area. Individuals granted this type of alternative authorization have several options available to them to become fully endorsed in the content area.

- Content specialist: A content specialist is a nonrenewable, alternative authorization valid for up to three years. It allows a district with an identified need for teachers in a certain content area to hire an individual with a strong background in the needed area. The individual must hold a bachelor's degree, demonstrate content area expertise, and complete an 8–16 week study in education methods.[4]

- ABCTE: The American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence (ABCTE) is a computer-based alternative route to become a teacher or add endorsements. Individuals must hold a bachelor's degree to begin the ABCTE process. Candidates must pass educational methods and content exams before receiving a three-year interim teaching certificate. While holding the interim certificate, candidates must complete a two-year teacher-mentoring program to qualify for a standard teaching certificate.

2 IDAHO CODE § 33-1203 outlines accredited teacher training requirements and prevents the State Board of Education from issuing standard teaching certificates to teachers who have completed less than four years of accredited college training. However, this section of code allows for the issuance of provisional certificates in emergency cases.

3 The Authorizations Committee of the Professional Standards Commission must approve the teacher-to-new certificate. Once approved, candidates must annually submit an application that outlines their progress to the Authorizations Committee to remain on this route.

4 The Department of Education, in conjunction with an approved Idaho university, develops and approves a plan to meet the requirements of the content specialist authorization.

During the 2011–2012 academic year, 2.4 percent of certified instructional staff (392 teachers) filled positions using a provisional authorization or alternative certificate.[5] Exhibit 3.1 shows how many teachers across the state have held provisional authorizations or alternative certificates the past four academic years.

The exhibit shows that teacher-to-new certificates were the most common type of alternative certificate in academic years 2009–2010 through 2011–2012. Department officials told us that this type of alternative certificate is the least concerning because certified teachers often use this route to add endorsements in high-need areas or areas of interest. Further, teacher-to-new certificates offer districts flexibility to make the right hire because districts not only consider applicants who hold the right endorsements but also consider other qualities such as whether those applicants have the necessary professional dispositions.

Department officials told us that the number of provisional authorizations and alternative certificates granted under the content specialist or the ABCTE are the primary reflectors of high-need positions. The provisional authorization is the least desirable followed by the content specialist and the ABCTE. The provisional authorization is the least desirable because it is a temporary, emergency authorization that cannot lead to certification and does not meet federal requirements for highly qualified teachers.[6] During the 2011–2012 academic year, 222 positions were filled by teachers using a provisional authorization, content specialist, or ABCTE.

[5] During the 2010–2011 academic year, 2.4 percent of certified staff (415 teachers) had an alternative authorization. In 2009–2010 academic year, 2.7 percent of certified staff (479 teachers) had an alternative authorization, down from 3.7 percent of certified staff (659 teachers) in 2008–2009.
[6] School districts can only hire an individual using a provisional authorization if the district has proved that all attempts to hire a certified individual have failed.

What Types of Recruitment Challenges Do Districts Face?

In our survey of superintendents and principals, most respondents indicated that either their applicant pool was too small for most open teaching positions or that the size of the pool significantly varies depending on the type of position. More superintendents than principals indicated that the applicant pool was too small.

Degree to Which Districts and Schools Have a Sufficiently Sized Applicant Pool for Open Teaching Positions

	Applicant Pool Is Too Small (%)	Desirable Number of Applicants (%)	Excessive Number of Applicants (%)	Size of the Applicant Pool Varies by Type of Position (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	44.1	16.7	1.2	38.1
Principals (N = 255)	28.6	26.7	7.5	37.3

In addition to asking about the size of the applicant pool, we asked superintendents and principals to weigh in on the quality of the pool. Of particular interest is that less than 5 percent of superintendent respondents felt their district has a high quality applicant pool for open teaching positions.

Degree to Which Districts and Schools Have a Quality Pool of Applicants for Open Teaching Positions

	High Quality Pool (%)	Quality of Pool Generally Meets Expectations (%)	Low Quality Pool (%)	Quality of the Pool Varies Significantly by Type of Position (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	4.8	32.1	14.3	48.8
Principals (N = 255)	18.4	33.3	16.5	31.8

In general, superintendent and principal respondents agreed on the degree to which they have trouble finding qualified applicants for open teaching positions in a few subject areas or specialties. As the following table shows, 75 percent of superintendent respondents indicated they experience some trouble finding qualified applicants for a few subject areas or specialties as did 65 percent of principal respondents.

Degree to Which Districts and Schools Have Trouble Finding Qualified Applications for Open Teaching Positions

	A Lot of Trouble (%)	Some Trouble in a Few Subject Areas or Specialties (%)	No Trouble (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	17.9	75.0	7.1
Principals (N = 254)	13.4	65.0	21.7

Most Significant Recruitment Challenges

Besides the size and quality of the applicant pool, we asked superintendents and principals to tell us the most significant challenges they face in recruiting teachers. Both superintendent and principal respondents to our survey indicated the same top five challenges: salary, location of district or school near more competitive states, location of district or school near more competitive districts, remote or rural location, and the benefits package. Four of the five challenges directly relate to teacher compensation packages. A couple of teachers elaborate:

> "…I struggle to support my family on [the] wages of a teacher. Higher paying jobs with less stress outside of teaching look more attractive..."
>
> "I work in one of the best school districts. I am thankful for the strong relationship between administration and teachers. I am seeking employment in Oregon or Wyoming primarily due to low/frozen wages and my inability to support my family…"

Most Significant Teacher Recruitment Challenges[7]

	Remote or Rural Location (%)	Salary (%)	Benefits Package (%)	Located Near More Competitive Districts (%)	Located Near More Competitive States (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	50.0	76.2	23.8	34.5	40.5
Principals (N = 255)	29.4	66.7	21.2	29.8	34.5

In Idaho, 42 districts border another state and many more are located close to another state's borders. When asked in our survey about the degree to which teacher compensation packages are competitive with neighboring districts, including districts in other states, only 25 percent of superintendent and principal respondents thought Idaho's compensation packages are competitive.

---

7 Percentages do not sum to 100 because respondents could select up to three reasons.

Degree to Which Teacher Compensation Packages Are Competitive

	Competitive (%)	Somewhat Competitive (%)	Not Competitive (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	25.0	33.3	41.7
Principals (N = 254)	24.4	42.1	33.5

Districts' and schools' most significant recruitment challenges relate to teacher compensation packages.

According to data from the National Education Association and the National Center for Education Statistics for the 2010–2011 academic year, among Idaho and its neighboring states, the average teacher salary in Idaho ranks fifth out of seven. The Bureau of Labor Statistics' data from May 2011 echoes this statistic. The bureau reported that the average salaries for Idaho's elementary and middle school teachers ranked fifth out of seven and sixth out of seven for secondary school teachers among Idaho and its neighboring states.

In our district interviews, administrators discussed their challenges to recruit based on teacher salaries in Idaho. These administrators described situations in which an interview is requested or a job offer is extended to an out-of-state candidate, but the candidate turns down the interview request or rejects the job offer because of a salary and benefits package that the candidate perceives as poor. Additionally, three administrators questioned whether Idaho's starting teacher salary provides a livable wage. They mentioned that, between paying student loan debt and household bills, teachers are looking elsewhere—whether that is a second job, a position in another state or another district, or a different profession entirely. One teacher describes this situation:

> "When I graduated four years ago, I did not have a true picture of what teaching would be. I am paid below the poverty level, work a second job, spend 60+ hours a week working on school related things, and am not appreciated for what I do."

Three district administrators also explained the challenges inherent in working for a remote or rural district or school. Two of those administrators specifically described the unique situation of new teachers that are unmarried, explaining that these teachers do not stay.

Respondents to our teacher survey also offered their opinions on the challenges faced by remote or rural districts:

> "We are a rural district with the majority of the teachers commuting approximately 60 miles per day. The district had to make salary cuts to meet its budget. It is hard to entice teachers to commute when teachers can make the same amount at a closer district."

> "Rural school districts do not have the capability to raise bonds for lost state funds. This makes it hard to stay in Idaho for significantly less wages when other states offer…funds at much higher levels."

> "…It is hard to get good, qualified teachers to apply to our rural school with the low support and low pay offered in our state…"

Considerations for Policymakers

The overall statewide percentage of teaching positions currently filled by provisional authorizations or alternative certificates (approximately 2.4 percent) may or may not be acceptable to policymakers. Regardless, more important than focusing on the total number of staff filling certified positions using a provisional authorization or alternative certificate are the local challenges faced by districts.

As described in this chapter, although district and school personnel identified some positions as harder to fill than others, our outreach to these personnel points to local factors that determine which positions are hardest to fill. Hard-to-fill positions not only vary significantly among districts, but can also vary significantly from year to year. Additionally, our survey and interview results revealed that compensation packages and the geographic location of districts often increase the level of difficulty to fill open teaching positions with teachers who possess the desired qualifications, regardless of whether the position is classified as hard to fill.

Chapter 4
Retention and Turnover

This chapter discusses input we received from superintendents, principals, and teachers across the state about the degree to which teacher retention and turnover are issues of concern in districts and schools. The chapter then goes into detail about retirement.

How Much of a Concern Is Teacher Retention?

Our survey asked superintendents and principals to comment on teacher retention issues. Superintendent and principal respondents differed in their opinions about the degree to which teacher retention is a concern. The most common response of both superintendents and principals was that teacher retention is somewhat concerning. In our analysis of the additional comments provided by superintendent, principal, and teacher respondents, problems with teacher retention emerged as the second most common theme identified by all respondents.[1]

Degree to Which Teacher Retention Is a Concern

	Not a Concern (%)	Somewhat of a Concern (%)	Major Concern (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	19.0	51.2	29.8
Principals (N = 254)	40.2	44.9	15.0

When asked about which level of experienced teacher is the most difficult to retain, 34.5 percent of superintendents and 30.4 percent of principals said that new teachers (0–2 years of experience) are the most difficult to retain. Another 32.1 percent of superintendent respondents and 40.7 percent of principal respondents said that they perceive no difference in the retention of teachers with different levels of experience.

[1] Low pay was the most common theme.

Most Difficult Teachers to Retain in Terms of Level of Experience[2]

	New Teachers (%)	Teachers Frozen on Salary Schedule (%)	Midcareer Teachers (%)	Highly Experienced Teachers (%)	No Difference in Experience Levels (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	34.5	32.1	21.4	16.7	32.1
Principals (N = 253)	30.4	25.3	13.4	13.0	40.7

Officials from the Department of Education and the State Board of Education communicated to us that they firmly believe the number one key to teacher retention is formal mentoring and induction programs—programs that can help transition teachers from a teacher education program into a teaching position where they will stay. The colleges of education reiterated this point in our interviews with them and said that although mentoring is needed to get teachers to stay, a gap exists between what teacher education programs provide and what the districts provide. One college indicated a need for collaboration between the teacher education programs and the districts, and another college mentioned the lack of funding to make a mentoring program a priority.

A few district administrators also spoke to the mentoring issue in our interviews with them. One superintendent said that his district specially hired a retired principal who supports new teachers in a mentoring program. Another superintendent told us that his district provides a small stipend for mentor teachers, at least in part because the superintendent feels that many new teachers burnout in the first two years and that those new teachers need mentoring. He stressed that good principals and mentors are key to teacher retention.

In our teacher survey, 81 percent of respondents said they are participating or have participated in a peer mentoring program as either the mentor or the mentee. Of those in a mentoring program, 59.7 percent said the experience is or was important to their professional development and another 32.3 percent said it is or was somewhat important.[3]

How Many Teachers Are Leaving?

The current policy environment for K–12 education in Idaho has created a heightened interest in teacher turnover—specifically how many teachers are

2 Percentages do not sum to 100 because respondents could select more than one response.
3 Only 8 percent said that their peer mentoring experience is or was unimportant to their professional development.

leaving the state's public schools and why. To explore recent trends in teacher turnover and clarify them for policymakers and stakeholders, we analyzed data from the Department of Education and asked about turnover on our survey of superintendents, principals, and teachers.

District-Reported Turnover Data

The Department of Education tracks factors affecting turnover by asking districts to collect exit reasons from staff who are leaving their current positions. The districts then report these reasons to the department.

Recently, various news outlets have published data provided by the Department of Education on teacher turnover. The reports have stated that the number of teachers leaving the profession has increased, rising each year from the 2009–2010 academic year to the 2011–2012 academic year. However, these figures only count those exit reasons that appear to indicate an intention to leave the profession, which is a major caveat.[4]

Aside from this caveat, after dissecting the raw data used to compile these figures, we identified an important issue: for the 2010–2011 and the 2011–2012 academic years, the reported figures include not just teachers, but other types of certified and noncertified staff.

Policymakers should interpret published turnover data with caution.

Because the caveat and issue we identified with the recently reported figures make them likely to be misinterpreted, we conducted our own, updated analysis of the department's turnover data using only certified staff. Our analysis calculated the total number of certified staff who left their current position for each of the exit reasons reported to the department.[5]

Total Number of Certified Staff Who Have Left Their Current Position for Any Reason[6]

Academic Year	Number of Certified Staff	Percentage of Certified Staff
2009–2010	937	5.4
2011–2012	1,112	6.0

[4] The reported figures excluded turnover due to retirement, the transfer of a spouse, those leaving to teach in another education institution, and leave of absence.

[5] For our turnover analysis, we defined certified staff as (1) any staff who hold a valid certificate, and (2) any staff (whether certified or not) who are filling a certified position.

[6] We excluded turnover data for the 2010–2011 academic year because of a data reporting error. This error is described in footnote 7.

As opposed to the dramatic increases shown in the recently published turnover figures, our analysis of the department's data shows only a moderate increase in the number of certified staff who left their current position between the 2009–2010 and the 2011–2012 (937 staff to 1,112 staff) academic years.

Exhibit 4.1 shows the percentage of certified staff who have left their current position over the past three academic years. Our analysis of the Department of Education's data shows that the top three exit reasons were retirement, personal reasons, and to work for another education institution inside Idaho, with one exception in the 2010–2011 academic year. We believe this one exception is likely because of a reporting error.[7] As a result, we conclude that future corrections to the turnover data will likely dramatically decrease the turnover percentage currently attributed to leave of absence, making the top three exit reasons for all three academic years the same.[8]

As the data currently stands, approximately 80 percent of all certified staff who left their position in the 2009–2010 academic year left because of retirement, personal reasons, and work at another education institution inside Idaho. In the 2011–2012 academic year, these three reasons account for about 61 percent of the certified staff that left their current position.

District Outreach: Interview and Survey Results

Although the turnover data available from the Department of Education can help paint a picture of statewide turnover, it does not provide much insight into the effect of turnover. To better gauge how teacher turnover is likely to affect districts, we asked superintendents, principals, and teachers several questions on our survey about the number of teachers who have left or may have plans to leave. Of the 2,487 teachers who responded to our survey, 85.5 percent plan to continue teaching in Idaho and 14.5 percent do not.

- We asked two questions of the 14.5 percent who do not plan to continue teaching in Idaho: 53.0 percent say they are likely to leave their current position to teach in another state, and 43.6 percent said they are likely to leave teaching for a new occupation.

7 In the 2010–2011 academic year, the most cited exit reason was a leave of absence, which alone accounted for about 52 percent of all certified staff leaving their current position. However, of the certified staff that reported leave of absence as their exit reason, 92 percent were from a single district, indicating a likely error in the data reported. We excluded the turnover rate for the 2010–2011 academic year because the apparent error is so large that it could result in a major misrepresentation of the turnover rate for the entire state.

8 Any data less than three years old is susceptible to change. According to Department of Education officials, districts are allowed up to three years to correct data they submit to the department. Department officials told us that data corrections are common.

[a] Of the certified staff that reported leave of absence as their exit reason, 92 percent were from a single district, indicating a likely error in the data reported.
[b] Includes regular retirements and participants in the Early Retirement Incentive Program.

- We also asked two questions of the 85.5 percent who plan to continue teaching in Idaho: 74.4 percent say they are unlikely to leave their current position to teach in another school within the same district, and 73.1 percent say they are unlikely to leave their current position to teach in another district.

> Most teachers plan to continue teaching in Idaho.

The survey responses of superintendents and principals showed differing opinions on the degree to which teacher turnover is a concern for their district or school. In general, principals felt turnover was less of a concern than superintendents did.[9] In our survey of teachers, 167 respondents commented that they or other teachers they work with are considering leaving. For example, one teacher articulated his or her perception of why teachers may leave:[10]

> "I can understand why no teacher would want to teach here or stay because every year for the past five years we have taken a pay cut, had more responsibilities, and been given less support and appreciation."

Degree to Which Teacher Turnover Is a Concern

	Not a Concern (%)	Somewhat of a Concern (%)	Major Concern (%)
Superintendent (N = 84)	19.0	48.8	32.1
Principals (N = 255)	40.4	42.0	17.6

We followed up our question about the degree to which teacher turnover is a concern with a question for superintendents and principals about the most common teacher exit reasons in their district or school. The top three reasons for turnover according to the superintendent respondents matched the top three reasons for turnover identified by the principal respondents. Retirement was the most common reason selected, followed by out-of-state transfers and transfers to another district within Idaho.

Most Common Teacher Exit Reasons[11]

	Retirement (%)	Transfer Out of State (%)	Transfer to Another District (%)
Superintendents (N = 68)	60.3	57.4	51.5
Principals (N = 152)	54.0	44.7	38.8

The survey results mirror what we learned in our ten district interviews. In these interviews, two district administrators mentioned retirement as the reason for the majority of turnover. Six administrators discussed the challenges inherent in trying to keep teachers from leaving for other states (particularly Wyoming where salaries are higher). Another five administrators described the competition for staff among districts. One respondent to our teacher survey explains:

10 This comment did not necessarily specify whether the respondent meant he or she was considering leaving his or her current position or the profession altogether.
11 Percentages do not sum to 100 because respondents could select up to three reasons.

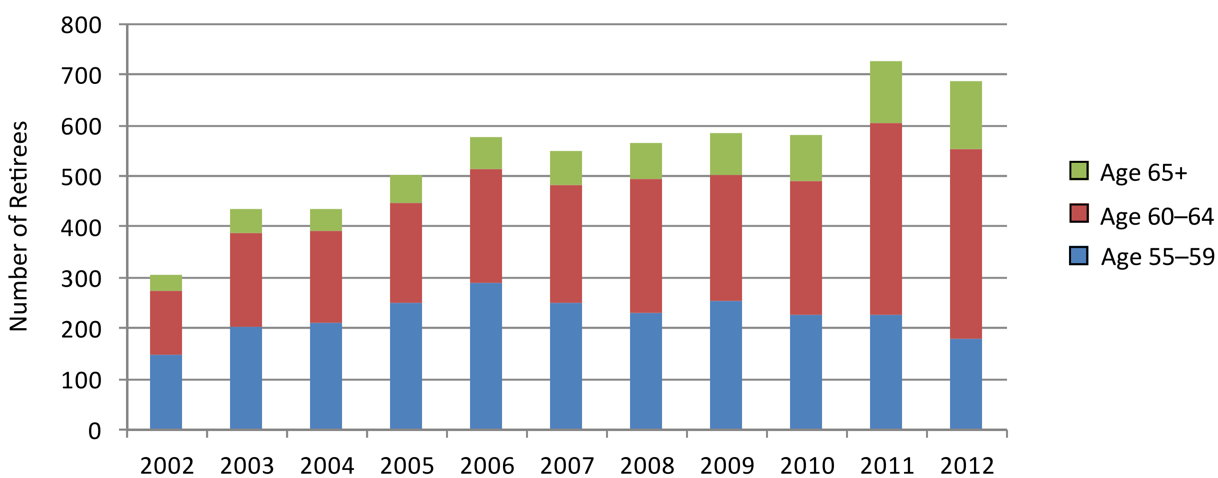
> "We are losing many of our best teachers because they are overworked and underpaid so they take opportunities elsewhere."

What Benefits Does PERSI Offer Teachers?

K–12 teachers in Idaho are general members of the Public Employee Retirement System of Idaho (PERSI).[12] PERSI applies the same rules to teachers that it applies to any other general member.[13] The rules outline eligibility requirements and a formula that calculates retirement benefits. The date a member becomes eligible to retire depends on the member's age and years of service.[14] The benefit available at retirement is calculated by a formula that takes into account salary, years of service, and a benefit multiplier.[15]

An average of approximately 3 percent of teachers have retired each year from fiscal year 2002 to 2012—a total of approximately 6,000 teachers. Exhibit 4.2 shows the total number of teachers that have retired each year since fiscal year 2002.

EXHIBIT 4.2 NUMBER OF TEACHER RETIREES, FISCAL YEARS 2002–2012



Source: Data from PERSI.

[12] PERSI is a defined benefit plan into which both employees and employers pay contributions.
[13] General members of PERSI have different rules than members who qualify as public safety officers.
[14] Members accrue one month of service for each calendar month worked as an active member. Active members are those who work 15 or more days within one calendar month and, if you are a teacher, work half time or more. A member's retirement benefit is based on 42 consecutive months during which a member earns his or her highest average salary.
[15] The benefit multiplier for general members is 2 percent.

Idaho Code § 59-1342 defines the service retirement age as 65 for general members, including teachers. General members who retire at the age of 65 will receive their full retirement benefit. For a reduced retirement benefit, general members can retire at the minimum age of 55. Exhibit 4.2 depicts how many teachers retired at the service age versus how many retired before the age of 65.

Early Retirement

The average retirement age for teachers in Idaho is 61, an average that falls between the service retirement age and the minimum retirement age. PERSI allows teachers and other general members to retire early and still receive their full retirement benefit if they have met their rule of 90.

Rule of 90: Member age plus years of service equals 90.

If general members retire before 65 or before reaching their rule of 90, their retirement benefit is reduced. Exhibit 4.3 depicts how many teachers had reached their rule of 90 when they retired. It shows that many teachers over the past decade had not yet reached their rule of 90 before retiring. The early retirement incentive made available to certified district staff (excluding administrators) may, at least in part, explain this trend.[16]

Source: Data from PERSI.

[16] Certified staff can take the one-time incentive (based on a percentage of the employee's salary and his or her age) if they meet certain criteria. Two of the criteria state that the employee (1) must not have met the rule of 90, and (2) must have been between the ages of 55 and 62.

Retirement and the Recession

Over the past decade, teacher retirement trends look about the same with no significant deviations from the norm. PERSI does not have any data to support the premise that teachers who are eligible for retirement are continuing to work because of the effect of the salary cuts on their PERSI base plan benefit or the effect of the recession on their elective 401K benefit.

According to PERSI's executive director, the effect of salary cuts on a teacher's base plan benefit depends heavily on when the cut took place and how much was cut. A teacher continuing to work may actually have very little effect on their base plan benefit because PERSI uses the highest average salary in a consecutive 42-month period.

The executive director also said, however, that the teachers PERSI tends to hear from are those who do not see the value in continuing to work. For example, a common scenario that PERSI officials have recently seen is a teacher who has experienced a salary cut and does not expect his or her salary to return to its highest point for another couple of years at best. In this case, the teacher often decides to retire.

A majority of the respondents (88.5 percent) to our teacher survey said they are not eligible to retire, but 9.2 percent indicated that they are.[17] When those 9.2 percent were asked why they have not yet retired, they most often cited two reasons; 52.8 percent of them said they enjoy teaching and are not ready to retire, and another 54.8 percent said they cannot afford to retire.[18] The next most common reason respondents mentioned for why they had not retired was that they intend to retire by the end of the current academic year (3.8 percent).

Leaving PERSI

Teachers can transfer within the state from one school to another or from one district to another without the transfer affecting their status in the retirement system. However, if a teacher transfers out of state, two things happen: (1) PERSI's retirement benefit would not transfer, making the teacher an inactive member, and (2) the teacher would presumably enter a different retirement system in his or her new state.

According to PERSI's executive director, the benefits that a teacher would be eligible for by accumulating years of service in two or more systems do not [17] About 2 percent of respondents were not sure if they are eligible to retire.

[18] The 54.8 percent of respondents who said they cannot afford to retire is the combined response of 52.8 percent of respondents who indicated that they cannot afford to retire and 2.1 percent of respondents who selected the category "other" and specified that they cannot afford insurance.

equate to the benefits that the same teacher would be eligible for had the teacher accumulated all of his or her years of service in one system.

For example, if a teacher taught in an Idaho school district for 15 years and then transferred out of state where he or she taught for another 15 years, the teacher would have accumulated 30 years of service. Upon retirement, the teacher would draw benefits from two state retirement systems unless he or she claimed a separation benefit when leaving PERSI-covered employment.[19] Whether the teacher is "penalized" for the transfer (i.e., not accumulating all 30 years of service in Idaho) would depend on his or her individual set of circumstances. The net effect (positive or negative) of any transfer in and out of different retirement systems would have to be determined on a case-by-case basis. Hence, any transfer among retirement systems would most certainly result in either a benefit increase or decrease because every retirement system has its own set of rules and offers different benefits.[20]

The effect of out-of-state transfers on teacher retirement benefits can only be quantified case by case.

Considerations for Policymakers

Notably, the data currently available on teacher turnover does not support assertions that turnover has experienced a marked increase or change over the past three years. Therefore, we conclude that a mass teacher exodus has not occurred but that fears about such an exodus occurring in the future may not be totally unfounded. In light of our discussion in two areas: (1) the recruitment and retention challenges detailed in this chapter and the previous one, and (2) the widespread tone of dissatisfaction expressed in our survey results, we suggest that policymakers consider turnover data as one more source of information available to identify and track recruitment, retention, and job satisfaction issues faced by districts and schools.

By understanding what is and is not included in turnover numbers (for example, only teachers versus certified staff versus all staff), policymakers can use the data provided in this chapter as a baseline to monitor trends going forward, especially as conversations begin anew about the direction and pace of education reform in Idaho. Keeping a watchful eye on teacher turnover trends will only serve to better inform policy decisions and improve policymakers' ability to ascertain future teacher workforce needs—needs described in chapter 5.

[19] A separation benefit is a withdrawal of the contributions made to your base plan account.
[20] The average monthly benefit collected by PERSI retirees are the eleventh lowest in the nation. Conceivably, a teacher could move to 39 other states and receive a benefit enhancement. Among neighboring states, only retirees in Wyoming and Montana have a lower average monthly benefit than retirees in Idaho.

Chapter 5

Future Teacher Workforce Needs

The discussions in chapters 3 and 4 on recruitment, retention, and turnover lend to a discussion of what the future supply and demand for teachers will be. This chapter highlights one other important factor affecting future teacher workforce needs: changing teacher duties. After discussing superintendent, principal, and teacher opinions about changes in teacher duties, this chapter concludes with an explanation of what resources are available to understand teacher supply and demand.

How Are Teacher Duties Changing?

By discussing factors that affect recruitment, retention, and turnover chapters 3 and 4 both outline concepts that will likely affect Idaho's future need for teachers. One other important area that we identified as having the potential to affect the supply and demand of teachers is the changing nature of teacher duties. Policymakers expressed specific interest in understanding whether teacher duties may have changed due to a loss of support staff.

Our survey asked superintendents and principals to indicate the degree to which teachers in their district or school have experienced a change in duties due to a loss of support staff. We also asked teachers for their opinions on how much their duties have changed. Superintendent, principal, and teacher respondents had nearly identical responses, with approximately 47–48 percent of each set of respondents indicating the loss of support has caused a significant change in teacher duties.

Degree to Which Teachers Have Experienced a Change in Duties Due to a Loss of Support Staff

	Significant Change (%)	Some Change (%)	No Change (%)
Superintendents (N = 84)	47.6	40.5	11.9
Principals (N = 255)	47.8	43.9	8.2
Teachers (N = 2,467)	47.1	38.6	14.4

Likewise, in our district interviews, several administrators mentioned that the loss of paraprofessionals and other instructional or duty aides has had a burdensome effect on teachers' time and attention. For example, a few administrators explained that instead of teachers spending time preparing for class, developing curriculum, or mentoring a student one-on-one, they are performing lunch, recess, or bus duty.

Teachers, as well as district and school administrators, commented on the daily demands of teachers that extend beyond instructional duties.

District administrators we interviewed said that the reduced numbers of support staff coupled with increased demands are causing a shift in the nature of teacher duties. For instance, district administrators mentioned new initiatives, such as the Common Core or Students Come First, as examples of increased demands on teachers, as well as the concept of meeting the diverse needs of all students—to include not only academic needs but also social, emotional, and health needs. A few respondents to our teacher survey expanded on the expectation to do more with fewer resources:

> "The continual pressure on public school teachers to do more and more with less and less is grinding me to dust. It's not one big thing, it's all the small-to-medium things, for the past three years, that is causing me to reconsider my career as a teacher.
> "I have taught for 28 years. The last few years have been the most difficult of my career. I truly believe in accountability, but realistic accountability. We are expected to do more and more with less and less and no support. I will leave teaching soon."

According to administrators we interviewed, teacher workload is increasing as teachers are asked to do more, change more, and change faster. One administrator explains the potential effect:

> "Teaching is to some degree like an actor's performance. What I mean is that it's a craft. Teachers have to present information in a way that engages their students and it takes a high amount of energy to do that. There's a need for them to have breaks and regroup… What is happening is that teachers are having to do more of the duties (recess, lunch, detention, etc.) and that limits their ability to get ready for their lessons…
> …It affects the education of kids. If people really followed a master teacher for a good while of time, they would see the energy level required day in, day out to be present. I can read lines as an actor, but can I perform? That's true with teaching; there's a science and an art. You need to provide certain supports for the art."

Because of the potential for teacher duties to change for any number of reasons, we also asked teacher respondents to our survey to identify up to three other factors that may have caused a change in their duties besides a loss of support staff. Interestingly, given the opportunity to list other factors, respondents reiterated a loss of staff as the most common factor affecting a change in duties followed by budgetary or funding factors and larger class sizes.

Teachers most commonly identified a loss of support staff as causing a change in their duties.

What Are Idaho's Future Needs?

Legislators expressed interest in developing a deeper understanding of Idaho's anticipated needs—an important matter in light of the perceptions of superintendents, principals, and teachers on a variety of K–12 issues outlined not only in this chapter, but also throughout the report. We learned that to make future need projections, we would have to rely substantially on assumptions and caveats to separate any long-term changes in teacher recruitment and retention patterns from the effects of recent economic conditions and the current K–12 policy environment. Furthermore, projections for the future statewide supply and demand for teachers in Idaho can be complex because the balance of supply and demand for teachers varies dramatically by district. Each district has its own challenges for recruiting and retaining teachers and should be examined individually.

As part of our effort to respond to legislators' questions and quantify Idaho's future need for teachers, we asked superintendent and principal respondents to our survey about their expectations for the number of open teaching positions. Specifically, we asked respondents to project whether open positions will be above, below, or about average over the next two years. Nearly half of both superintendent and principal respondents indicated they thought the number of open teaching positions would be average. The remaining respondents felt that the number of open teaching positions would be either below or above average. These respondents also provided a rationale:

Data currently available on teacher supply and demand does not lend itself to a straightforward conclusion that is applicable to the entire state.

- Approximately 15 percent of superintendent respondents said that they expected the number of open teaching positions will be lower than average over the next two years versus 25 percent of principal respondents. Superintendents cited three reasons in approximately equal proportions: decreased student enrollment, reduced workforce, and anticipated low turnover. On the other hand, most principals indicated that they expected fewer open positions because they anticipated low turnover rates.

- About one-third of superintendent respondents and one-fourth of principal respondents said that they expect the number of open teaching positions will be higher than average over the next two years. When asked to offer their opinion on why they thought there would be more open teaching positions than usual, both superintendent and principal respondents indicated they expected increased teacher retirement and voluntary turnover, including teachers leaving for other states, teachers leaving because they are dissatisfied or feel underappreciated, and teachers leaving because of low salaries.

Only about half of teacher respondents feel that their job is secure.

When we asked teacher respondents to comment on their level of job security, nearly half (48.9 percent) indicated they feel their job is secure. However, 22.8 percent said they did not feel their job was secure, and another 28.4 percent were unsure.

Current Efforts to Quantify Needed Positions

The Department of Labor calculates employment projections for a wide range of occupations, including teachers. Exhibit 5.1 displays the Department of Labor's employment projections for elementary, middle, and secondary school teachers through 2020. The estimates project an annualized growth of 1.3 percent each year.

The Department of Education compiled a detailed supply and demand report in the past but has significantly scaled back that report because it was, according to department officials, neither accurate nor useful. In order to complete the report, the department had to rely on district personnel to do cumbersome guesswork. Now the report only reflects districts' hard-to-fill positions—information that the department provides annually to the federal government.

Despite the lack of a robust teacher supply and demand report, the State Board of Education, in conjunction with the Department of Education and the Department of Labor, is taking several steps toward reaching a better understanding of teacher supply and demand issues—primarily by linking education data with workforce data. To help make this link, the State Board of Education secured federal grant money. Under the grant, the board is working with the Department of Education and the Department of Labor to meet three primary objectives:

1. The State Board of Education is working with the Department of Labor to develop the workforce database (maintained by the Department of Labor). The funds for this part of the project total $2.5 million.

2. The Department of Education is responsible for enhancing the education unique ID system (EDUID) to enable the system to link students to the workforce database. The funds for this part of the project total $250,000.

3. The State Board of Education will create a research request portal with funds totaling $259,000.

Additionally, the Department of Labor received a Workforce Data Quality Initiative grant for $1 million that will be used to determine the effectiveness of workforce development programs. The ultimate goal is for the state to have a robust longitudinal data system that links P–20 education data to workforce data.[1]

Considerations for Policymakers

> Future teacher workforce needs are inconsistent among districts.

Teacher workforce needs can be difficult to predict, especially given the undetermined effect of recent economic conditions and the current K–12 policy environment. Although this chapter identifies some statewide themes that affect future need, not all districts or even schools within the same district face similar workforce needs. Our survey results show that future need is not consistent statewide. Some districts and schools expect significant numbers of open teaching positions; others expect relatively few open teaching positions.

[1] P–20 refers to a system that integrates data from preschool through higher education.

When looking to ensure an adequate supply of high quality teachers in Idaho, policymakers should consider who is being priced into or out of the teaching workforce. Our study leads to a pointed question—to whom are policymakers appealing to enter the teaching profession?

If the state places enough demands on teachers' time and attention and if teachers perceive that they are given little credit for the work they do, then the state may experience negative effects. Examples of such negative effects could include erosion of the size and quality of the teacher workforce wherein teachers or potential teachers begin to favor professions that pay better, are more positively viewed, or both. Under these conditions, the state would run the risk of declines not only in the number of people who are willing to enter or remain in the profession, but also in the quality of the pool of prospective candidates.

Appendix A Project Scope
June 2012

The Senate Education Committee has expressed interest in learning more about Idaho's public school teachers—a population of more than 15,000 who educate K–12 students in 115 districts and 43 charter schools across the state. The committee is particularly interested in studying what factors come together to bring quality teachers into classrooms and what factors keep them there.

During the 2012 session, on behalf of the Senate Education Committee, Chairman Goedde requested a study of teacher recruitment, retention, and attrition and a few other issues of interest to committee members. Senator Hammond then added a question about class size to the committee's request. On March 12, 2012, the Joint Legislative Oversight Committee approved the request, inclusive of Senator Hammond's addition.

Our evaluation will address each question and topic area presented in the request:

1. Educator recruitment – How do teachers find their way into this profession and why?

2. Teacher attrition – Why do teachers leave the profession, where do they go, and in what numbers?

3. Teacher retention – What keeps Idaho teachers in the classroom?

4. In the face of an aging teaching workforce and a growing population, what are Idaho's anticipated needs for future educators?

5. Are teachers graduating with the skills to be successful in today's classrooms and, if not, what are those deficiencies?

6. National statistics may support the theory that educators moving from one state to another lose about half their pension potential over their work careers. How does PERSI, Idaho's retirement system, treat educators moving from one pension system to another?

7. Identify the challenges and opportunities to attract new teachers and to retain current staff.

8. Provide a decade of historical data on the supply of educators versus job openings.
9. Because the ratio of students to certified staff does not necessarily reflect the number of students in a classroom, segregate certified teachers associated with a classroom and examine class size variations in Idaho.
10. Examine changes in duties of teachers and whether there are new burdens on time and attention created by a loss of community resource workers, counselors, and other support staff.

Appendix B

Survey of K–12 Public School Personnel

Purpose and Methods

In September 2012 we surveyed district and school personnel (specifically superintendents, principals, and teachers) to gather their perspectives on concerns that are of interest to policymakers (see study scope in appendix A).

We conducted ten interviews with district administrators across the state that helped inform the development of our survey. We pilot tested the superintendent and principal survey with a group of five superintendents, and we pilot tested the teacher survey with two current teachers, one former teacher, and a school counselor.

We e-mailed the survey to all superintendents and principals using a contact list provided by the Department of Education. Our e-mail asked principals to share the survey with their teachers. As a result, we received 2,826 survey responses: 84 superintendents, 256 principals, and 2,486 teachers. The survey results indicate that respondents are a diverse representation of a majority (about 72 percent) of Idaho districts and charters.

We automatically disqualified any district or school personnel who did not identify themselves as a superintendent, principal, or teacher from taking the survey. We purposely limited potential survey respondents to superintendents, principals, and teachers for two reasons:

1. These positions (and their basic descriptions and functions) are universal across districts. Other types of district administrators and certified school staff are inconsistent across districts and schools.

2. We did not have a complete contact list for any personnel except for superintendents and principals. No complete contact list for teachers exists. The Idaho Education Association maintains a list of their members' e-mail addresses, but this list does not include the addresses of teachers who are not members. However, because legislators expressed specific interest in learning more about teachers in the classroom, we decided to survey them by asking principals to forward the survey link to their teachers.

Limitations

We had some limitations to our survey:

- We chose to limit the final open-ended question to 50 words because the number of potential respondents to our survey was greater than 17,000 and office resources were not available to analyze lengthy responses for that large of a number.

- Given the varied nature of spam filters in districts and schools, we assume that some number of superintendents and principals did not receive our e-mail and link to the survey. We cannot quantify that number.

- Because a statewide list of teacher e-mails does not exist, we had to rely on principals to forward the survey link to their teaching staff.

- Our survey design criteria, particularly the criterion that outlined who was qualified to take the survey, could be classified as limited by those who expressed interest in taking the survey but did not qualify to do so.

SUBJECT

Accountability Oversight Committee Statewide Accountability System Recommendations

REFERENCE

October 2015	Accountability Oversight Committee presented recommendations to the Board regarding changes to be made to the state's accountability system, in preparation for submission of a new ESEA waiver
February 2016	Board received an update on the timeline for the Accountability Oversight Committee to bring recommendations forward
April 2016	Accountability Oversight Committee presented recommendations to the Board regarding removal of the ISAT proficiency and college entrance exam graduation requirements. The Board adopted the recommendation that the ISAT proficiency graduation requirement be removed and rejected the recommendation that the college entrance exam graduation requirement be removed.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section III.AA. Accountability Oversight Committee

Section 33-110, Idaho Code – Agency to Negotiate, and Accept, Federal Assistance

Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.02.02 – Section 111, Assessment in the Public Schools; IDAPA 08.02.02 – Section 112, Accountability; IDAPA 08.02.02 – Section 113, Rewards; and IDAPA 08.02.02 – Section 114, Failure to Meet Adequate yearly Progress (AYP); IDAPA 08.02.03 – Section 105.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Accountability Oversight Committee (committee) was established in April 2010 as an ad-hoc committee of the Idaho State Board of Education to make recommendations to the Board on improvements to the statewide student achievement system and to report annually to the Board ono the effectiveness of the system. On December 10, 2015, President Obama signed the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) reauthorizing the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. Pursuant to ESSA, states must implement new accountability systems aligned to the law by the 2017-2018 school year.

In January 2016, the Policy, Planning and Governmental Affairs Committee charged the Accountability Oversight Committee with bringing forward recommendations to the Board that were in alignment with the Task Force recommendations for a new state accountability system (Recommendation 5 – 2013) and would meet the federal accountability requirements. This charge included gathering input from all education stakeholders with the goal of having a recommendation ready in time for the Board to consider the recommendation and test those parts of the recommendation that are during the 2016-2017 school year prior to holding districts accountable to them in the 2017-2018 year, as required by ESSA.

The committee sought out expert guidance and stakeholder feedback throughout the process of developing their recommendations. The committee's report is provided as Attachment 1; a summary of recommendations by topic follows:

Performance Measures
- An accountability system that includes indicators which meet the requirements for federal accountability and additional state indicators to be provided on a data dashboard that present a well-rounded picture of school performance
- Separate indicators for three (3) types of schools: Elementary and Middle Schools, High Schools, and Alternative High Schools (please see the full report for the committee's recommendations of indicators appropriate for each school category)

High School Assessment and Graduation Rate Calculations
- Transition the accountability assessment (ISAT by Smarter Balanced) for high school to 11th grade administration
- Adjust the graduation rate calculation by extending the period for students to complete graduation requirements through the summer

Student Growth Calculations
- The State Department of Education should work closely with members of the Idaho Assessment Technical Advisory Committee to identify and recommend a new model for calculating student growth

Scoring and Reporting
- Data regarding schools' performance on all accountability indicators should be presented publically on an interactive online data dashboard; however, the dashboard should not include a summative score or performance rating

The draft accountability system recommended by the committee, particularly the indicators designated for use for federal accountability, is compliant with ESSA requirements. However, the committee's recommendation to not publically post a summative rating or score for all schools conflicts with the proposed regulations released in May by the U.S. Department of Education. The committee would like to provide feedback regarding the regulations, as the committee members feel that the proposed data dashboard is in compliance with the ESSA and its intent and hopes that the U.S. Department of Education will adjust the regulations before they are finalized.

IMPACT

Adoption of the recommendations will provide Board staff with the details needed to finalize administrative rules regarding the state's comprehensive assessment system and accountability requirements.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

At the April 2016 regular Board meeting the Board was asked to consider the removal of the Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) proficiency and college entrance exam (ACT or SAT) graduation requirements. These recommendations were brought forward in advance of the accountability system recommendations so that any action taken by the Board could be implemented through the administrative rule promulgation process this year, as the requirements are contained in Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.02.03.105. At that time the Board adopted the recommendation to remove the ISAT proficiency graduation requirement and rejected the recommendation to remove the requirement that a student take a college entrance exam, returning the recommendation to Accountability Oversight Committee.

The current state graduation requirements require, in addition to a minimum number of credits in specific content areas, that each student show proficiency through achievement of a "proficient" or "advanced" score on the grade 10 Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) in math, reading and language usage (or an alternate route established by the school district), and that all students take a college entrance exam in grade 11. Additional provisions exist for students who miss the state administration of the college entrance exam in grade 11. The Board will be considering an amendment to IDAPA 08.02.03.106.06, Proficiency, removing the proficiency requirement as a separate agenda item during the August 2016 Board meeting.

The state Comprehensive Assessment System and state accountability requirements are contained in IDAPA 08.02.03.111-113. Amendments to these sections in alignment with the proposed Committee recommendations will be presented to the Board as a separate agenda item. Based on Board consideration of the Committee's recommendations, changes may need to be made to the proposed rule prior to Board consideration at the August Board meeting. The state rulemaking timelines require that Notices of Intent be published prior to the development of any new or proposed rules in a timely manner that allows for public input prior to the Board considering any proposed amendments or new administrative rules. For proposed rules to make it through the rulemaking process in a given year the Board must take action on the proposed changes at the August Board meeting. The Board cannot take action on something that has not been properly noticed (unless it meets one of the limited exemptions for notice of intent).

The existing assessment program requires the ISAT be administered to students in grades 9 and 10, and as applicable to students in grade 11. The Committee recommendations would move the required administration of the ISAT to grade 11. This would result in the required participation rate being calculated from those students in grade 11 taking the ISAT.

The current college entrance exam requirement was added as part of the High School Redesign Initiative of the Board in 2003. This initiative increased the rigor of the state's high school graduation requirements by increasing the number of credits required in math and science, requiring senior projects be completed, requiring that math be taken during the senior year, and requiring that students take a college entrance exam to graduate. While not fully realized, the initiative also contemplated moving toward a standards-based approach rather than the prior seat time credit requirement. This included using end of course assessments and standards-based portfolios and examinations for determining proficiency in the standards to graduate and expanding the ISAT science assessment to every grade level. The current college entrance exam requirement allows students to choose between the ACT or SAT. Based on the state procurement and bidding processes, the state was able to procure favorable terms for the statewide administration of the SAT. This allows the state to pay for all students to take the SAT on the statewide "test day" at no cost to the student. Students may choose to take the assessment at that time at no cost to them or they may take it on a different day, or they may choose to take the ACT at their own expense. The ACT and the SAT provide fee waivers to certain eligible students and some school districts pay the cost of the student to take the ACT if they choose. The current graduation requirement allows the student to choose which assessment they take.

The requirement to take a college entrance exam was based in part on research from other states that showed just taking the exam had helped to increase the number of students going on to postsecondary education. Additional data showed that college entrance exams were a barrier to students going on to college when the students came from homes where they were the first individual in the family to go on to a postsecondary education or came from families that did not value postsecondary education. These students often did not have the support or the information needed to understand the importance of taking a college entrance exam and were less likely to voluntarily take the exam. Requiring all students take a college entrance exam reached this group of students as well as students that chose not to take the exam because they did not think they would be successful.

By requiring the exam be taken in grade 11, students who initially did not do well on the exam could use the exam to identify areas that needed improvement and then retake the exam during their senior year. Those students that did well on the exam in grade 11 were able to use the exam in completing initial college entrance and scholarship applications. The High School Redesign Initiative was adopted by the Board in 2004. Following additional public and legislative input, initiative components were refined with final Administrative Code amendments adopted by the Board in 2005 and approved by the Legislature in 2006. This initiative was also accompanied by significant budget requests starting in FY 2007. Due to the college entrance exam being a graduation requirement, the Board and the State Department of Education were successful in winning legislative support for state funding to cover the cost for all students to take the college entrance exam (based on a statewide contract). The first graduating class subject to the college entrance exam requirement was the class of 2012. The impact of this requirement on Idaho's Go On rate is unknown due to the limited number of student cohorts that have graduated since the requirement went into effect. Additional benefits that were not contemplated as part of the original initiative have been the ability to use the college entrance exam to identify students for the Direct Admissions initiative and the recommendation from the Governor's Taskforce subcommittee on Accountability and Autonomy that the college entrance exam being used as one of the standard performance measure used by all school districts (as applicable) in their continuous improvement plans. If students were not required to take a college entrance exam, one of the two (2) prongs currently used for admissions under the Board's Direct Admission program would be lost, and fewer students might see postsecondary education as a viable option.

The framework provided as Appendix B to the Accountability Oversight Committee's Recommendations was developed by Idaho higher education faculty, high school counselors, school administrators and State Department of Education staff in the spring and summer of 2014 and is an example of how the ISAT could be used for identifying remediation needs and placement at the postsecondary level. The framework has not been adopted by the Board and based on changes to available assessments, and the discontinuance of the Compass by ACT, would need to updated prior to consideration of it use. At this time it should only be used as an example of what could be done in this area.

BOARD ACTION

I move to adopt the Accountability Oversight Committee's recommendations regarding the statewide accountability framework model as presented in Attachment 1.

Subcommittee Charge:

To provide recommendations regarding the re-development of the statewide K-12 school accountability system.

Guiding Principles:

We support an accountability system that:

1. Includes multiple measures which provide meaningful, trustworthy data and aid schools in building a culture of student achievement and school improvement.
2. Reports results responsibly to accurately depict student achievement.
3. Is flexible in its application to school design and considers schools' unique situations.

Recommendations

The Accountability Oversight Committee has undergone a substantial process to develop its recommendations. Over the course of eleven (11) meetings, from January to June 2016, the group met for over 48 hours.

The committee sought stakeholder feedback and guidance from experts throughout the process of developing the accountability framework. In February, the Accountability Oversight Committee participated in a video conference with an expert from the Education Commission of the States (ECS) regarding national trends in accountability. On March 7th, the following stakeholder groups provided in-person feedback to the committee: Idaho Association of School Administrators, Idaho School Boards Association, Virtual School Leaders, Public Charter School Commission, State Department of Education, and Senate Education Committee Chair, Dean Mortimer. The Idaho Education Association and Northwest Professional Educators were also invited to participate; both chose to send their feedback in writing due to time constraints. The Accountability Oversight Committee invited staff from the State Department of Education and the Division of Professional-Technical Education to provide information and expertise related to accountability for specialized schools and subgroup populations. The committee also facilitated a phone call with members of Idaho's Technical Advisory Committee to gather their feedback on the indicators under consideration.

In May, the Accountability Oversight Committee released the Draft Accountability Framework and an accompanying online survey to gather public feedback. The Office of the State Board of Education issued a press release about the survey and worked with stakeholder groups to encourage participation of educators (K-12 and higher education), parents, legislators, and community members. A total of 776 Idahoans responded to the survey. Analysis of the survey results was extensive and detailed, and was used by the committee as a source of information when the committee was making final decisions regarding which indicators to recommend for inclusion in the accountability framework. The majority of the recommendations are in alignment with the feedback received. The analysis report can be made available at the Board's request.

Utilizing the information and knowledge gained through this process, the Accountability Oversight Committee makes the following recommendations:

1. We recommend the state use the Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) by Smarter Balanced for statewide accountability for administrations in grades 3-8 and 11.

   a. We recommend shifting the administration of the high school accountability assessment (ISAT by Smarter Balanced) from 10th to 11th grade.

      - The Smarter Balanced assessment was designed for high school administration in 11th grade. Shifting Idaho's administration to 11th grade will put us in alignment with the recommendations of the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium, will ensure appropriate use of the assessment, and will ensure the most valid results possible. Additionally, it will allow comparability between Idaho's high school assessment results and those of other states administering the Smarter Balanced Assessment.

- Since it is closer to the end of a student's high school career, 11th grade is a more appropriate year for accountability than 10th grade.
- Shifting the ISAT by Smarter Balanced to the 11th grade will allow the Office of the State Board of Education to re-engage in work previously done with the state's higher education institutions to establish a framework that will allow use of ISAT by Smarter Balanced scores for course placement. The draft framework is provided as Appendix B. Establishing use of ISAT by Smarter Balanced scores for college placement will increase the value of the assessment for students.

b. We recommend that the ISAT by Smarter Balanced be administered statewide in high school only for the required accountability year (11^{th} grade) and that additional required administrations be removed from Administrative Code.

- We recommend that appropriate ongoing monitoring and interventions for students who do not demonstrate proficiency in 8th grade be determined and implemented at the local level.
- We recommend that the state consider including an 8th to 11th grade ISAT growth calculation on high school data dashboards in the future. To determine whether this calculation is appropriate and valid, data modeling using ISAT by Smarter Balanced data should first be completed.

2. We recommend the state adopt an accountability model that includes separate indicators for Elementary and Middle Schools (K-8), High Schools, and Alternative High Schools, as outlined in Appendix A.

a. The Elementary and Middle Schools (K-8) category will include all schools who do not have a 12^{th} grade.

b. The High Schools category will include all non-alternative schools who have a 12^{th} grade.

c. The Alternative High Schools category will include all schools who have a 12^{th} grade and have been designated as an alternative school by the Idaho State Department of Education.

3. We recommend the state adopt an accountability framework that includes indicators to be used for federal accountability and additional state measures to be included on schools' data dashboards, as detailed in Appendix A.

4. We recommend the state adopt a new model for calculating student growth.

a. The Student Growth Percentile model used in the state's Star Rating system was complex, making it difficult to effectively explain to families and stakeholders.

b. We recommend the State Department of Education work closely with members of Idaho's Technical Advisory Committee to identify a model that balances validity of results with ease of understanding by educators, parents, and the public.

5. We recommend that the graduation rate calculation be adjusted by extending the period for students to complete graduation requirements through the summer.

   a. This would ensure that students who complete graduation requirements during the summer after their senior year and, therefore, graduate in that year are included as a completer in the school's graduation rate.

   b. This is a logical change, as it will result in the period for the current cohort ending when the new cohort begins.

6. We recommend that school performance data for all accountability indicators be provided to the public on a data dashboard, but that the dashboard not include a single, summative score or performance rating.

   a. The committee recognizes the following issues with publically assigning summative performance scores (such as 1 to 5 Stars) to schools:

      - School design and demographics have an impact on how likely a given school's students are to perform well in proficiency or growth categories (for instance, schools with many high performers typically see less growth in a given year than those with more struggling students). As a result, it is impossible to establish one process for weighting proficiency and growth measures that is appropriate for all schools. This increases the likelihood that schools will be misidentified. Furthermore, by weighting categories at the state level for the purposes of giving schools a summative score, schools will be inclined to focus on the areas that are emphasized by the state, rather than identifying the areas of focus that best fit their schools' needs and design.

      - Summative performance scores are broad categories, which results in a watering down of the actual results. For instance a 2 Star school might be at the bottom of that category one year and at the top of the category the next year. The tendency of the public is to see the school as a 2 Star school and to not recognize the improvement made.

   b. The committee recognizes that the indicators used for federal accountability will need to be combined in some manner in order to identify schools for comprehensive support and improvement and targeted support and improvement. However, the committee does not recommend that schools' score or rating be included on the data dashboard or school report card, or otherwise publically reported.

7. We recommend that school report card data be presented online in a manner that is clear, user-friendly, and interactive.

   a. We recommend that an interactive dashboard be used in order to allow stakeholders to easily view summary data while also being able to dig deeper into the data in order to more fully understand schools' performance. For instance, the summarized proficiency data for all students would be presented on the dashboard, but the user could click on the summary image and be guided to other data that could be viewed, such as the proficiency by grade or subgroup, or comparisons to district or statewide averages.

   b. We recommend that the school report card include a hyperlink to schools' local report cards and/or performance measures.

APPENDIX A

Definitions and Additional Information

Term	Current or Proposed Definition	Additional Information
AP	Advanced Placement
Chronic Absenteeism	Students with less than 90% attendance
CTE Eligibility for TCC	Career Technical Education students eligible for Technical Competency Credit	Students will be recognized for being eligible for Technical Competency Credit even if they choose not to have it transcripted.
English Learner Test	The WIDA / ACCESS test that is given to students who are learning English	AOC recommends using the same growth model for this indicator as the growth model used for ISAT growth for K-8.
Extended Year Graduation Rate	A calculation that uses the 4 year cohort but allows one additional year for students to graduate
IB	International Baccalaureate
IRI	Idaho Reading Indicator	AOC recommends waiting to include this indicator until a new assessment is in place.
ISAT	Idaho Standards Achievement Test
ISAT Proficiency	Students who have scored proficient or higher on the ISAT, demonstrating appropriate grade-level knowledge	AOC recommends using an index that gives the school partial weight to students who score basic (i.e. 0.5 for each student), full credit for students who score proficient (i.e. 1.0 for each student) and above full credit for students who score advanced (i.e. 1.25), as this encourages schools to support students in continuing to move forward.
ISAT Gap Close (non-proficient)	A measure that examines whether students who are not proficient on the ISAT (as a group) are making appropriate progress to close their achievement gap within an established period of time
ISAT Growth	A measure that considers how much knowledge students have gained, as demonstrated by their score on the ISAT
Technology Index	An index that would measure the availability and use of technology in schools	Specific measures to include in this index have not yet been determined; the committee recommends including it, but leaves determination of exact measures to the SDE / other work groups. The AOC recognizes that this indicator may need to be added at a later date (after the 2017-2018 school year).
Workplace Readiness Assessment	An assessment currently used in the state's career-technical programs that measures whether a student is well-prepared to be successful in the workforce	The assessment is not currently used at Alternative High Schools. Based on stakeholder feedback and the committee's review, the AOC recommends the state pay for this assessment to be administered to all alternative high school students and included it in the accountability system as a state measure.

Spring 2014 Recommendations from Idaho Higher Education Faculty and Staff, High School Counselors, School Administrators and Department of Education Staff for using the ISAT by Smarter Balanced 11th Grade Assessment, SAT, ACT, and Compass for Initial Course Placement Decisions by Idaho Institutions of Higher Education[1]

Introduction and Background

Idaho is a member of the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium (SBAC). SBAC assessments in Idaho will be administered in grades 3-8 and once in high school. It is important to note that the transition frameworks proposed below assume high school students take the assessment in 11th grade. Students in the testing grades will be given summative assessments each spring in English Language Arts (ELA) and mathematics. The final summative SBAC assessment in the spring of 11th grade is considered a measure of college and career readiness. Because of this, SBAC developed a four-tiered framework articulating the degree to which a student is considered college ready at the time of 11th grade testing. Following is a description of the four tiers taken from the SBAC College Content-Readiness Policy. Please note that remedial course work in this context means noncredit-bearing college course work in ELA or mathematics taken prior to enrolling in an entry-level college credit-bearing course:

- Level 4 Exempt—upon entry into college student is exempt from remedial course work. K-12 and higher education officials may jointly set Grade 12 requirements to maintain the exemption.
- Level 3 Conditionally Exempt—student is conditionally exempt from remedial course work, contingent on evidence of sufficient continued learning in Grade 12.
- Level 2 Partial Understanding—student needs support to meet college content-readiness standard.
- Level 1 Minimal Understanding— student needs substantial support to meet college content-readiness standard.

It is important to note that SBAC leaves it up to individual member states to decide what Grade 12 requirements there will be, if any, to maintain Exempt status. SBAC also leaves it up to individual member states to decide what evidence will be required of students during Grade 12 to move from Conditionally Exempt to Exempt status by the end of Grade 12. And finally, individual member states also decide what supports to provide those students at Levels 1 and 2.

In order to begin discussions around these important decisions, a work group led by Idaho's delegation to the SBAC – K-12 Lead, Higher Ed Lead, and Higher Ed Delegate – and consisting of representatives from public higher education institutions, high schools, the Office of the State Board of Education and the State Department of Education convened to draft recommendations regarding the use of the Smarter Balanced 11th grade assessment, the SAT, the ACT, and the Compass in the postsecondary initial course placement process. SAT, ACT, and Compass assessments were included in the discussions because Idaho requires a college entrance examination be taken prior to graduation from high school.

Timetable/Feedback Process

The work group held near-weekly meetings throughout summer 2014. This document represents the consensus of the group and is thus being submitted to the Chief Academic Officer of the Idaho State Board of Education so that the comment, revision, and approval process can commence. The work group wants to underscore several important points that need to be taken into consideration as the framework is vetted by a diverse group of stakeholders:

- The SBAC levels are best guesses at this point. The SBAC is a new assessment and has not had predictive validity studies conducted on it at this time. Thus, Idaho needs to undertake such studies to verify that the levels are valid indicators of how ready students are for college;

- The SAT, ACT, and Compass* scores found in the framework are an amalgam of cut scores taken from all eight higher education institutions in Idaho. Currently, the cut scores are under review by the State Board of Education. Once the State Board of Education arrives at new cut score criteria, then those will replace what is currently found in the frameworks. The predictive validity studies mentioned above should also include SAT, ACT, and Compass scores so that Idaho has empirical evidence underpinning the important decisions made based on these scores;

- The GPA's found in the frameworks are based on existing research and the professional opinions of work group members. Predictive validity studies are needed for these cut scores also;

- The committee recommends that the frameworks be approved for a three year trial period during which the above mentioned predictive validity research will be conducted along with the collection of valid and reliable stakeholder feedback about the frameworks and their operationalization. At the conclusion of the three year period, the frameworks should be revisited and revised based on the empirical evidence that has been collected;

- The committee recommends that a work group be immediately formed to develop a framework for how college readiness transition courses will be incorporated into Idaho high school curricula. The committee suggests that a two tiered framework be developed. One tier would reflect what should be done within the existing resources currently found in Idaho high schools. The other tier would reflect what should be done if additional resources are made available. This is an important point because many Idaho high schools will find it difficult to incorporate new courses into their high school schedules without additional resources because of staffing constraints, scheduling constraints, etc.

- The committee recommends that a work group be immediately formed to develop a framework for how students scoring below Level 3 who are not yet prepared for the above mentioned transition courses will be served so that they achieve at least Level 3 upon high school graduation. A two-tiered framework similar to that mentioned immediately above is recommended. One tier reflecting what should be done now within current resources and another articulating what should be done if additional resources become available. But the committee warns against developing a remedial course structure at the high school level that mirrors what has been developed over the past decades at the collegiate level. Such a structure fails to address the systemic problem of under-preparation of students which usually starts much earlier than high school. A more productive approach would be a long term solution that improves the entire prek-12 pipeline that includes earlier identification and intervention instead of waiting until high school to try to bring students to criterion. Such a responsive and robust prek-12 system is what the Complete College Idaho Plan calls for, and such a system will be essential for Idaho to achieve its 60% goal by 2020. It is likely, however, that developing, implementing, tuning, and sustaining this system will require additional resources in both the short and long term.

Following are two tables containing the four-tiered frameworks. One table illustrates the mathematics framework and the other illustrates the ELA framework.

Proposed Mathematics Framework

11th Grade Mathematics Performance
Performance Level*	Student Status and Conditions	Additional Comments
Level 4: Exempt SBAC: Level 4; or SAT Math: 521-610; or ACT Math: >23; or Compass*: ≥ 61 Algebra or 45-48 College Algebra; or Transcript: Completion of AP math course with 3 or better score on test Note: SAT, ACT and Compass cut scores are currently under review by the SBOE (See Note 1)	Exempt from courses with a noncollege level prerequisite (Note: Math 108 is not considered college level.). Maintaining Level 4 Exempt: Complete post-Algebra II or post-Integrated Math 3 course in senior year with a minimum grade of B.	➢ These criteria basically define a student ready for Math 123, Math 130, Math 143, Math 147, or an entry level statistics course. ➢ Students are expected and should be advised to take dual credit general education math courses and other opportunities for earning college credit during 12th grade.
Level 3: Conditionally Exempt SBAC: Level 3; or SAT Math: 471-520; or ACT Math: 19-23; or Compass: 41-60 Algebra or 0-44 College Algebra	Exempt from remediation for placement into Math 123: Liberal Arts Math (Note: Other local exceptions might apply.). Achieving Level 4 Exempt: Complete post-Algebra II including post-Integrated Math 3 course in senior year with a minimum grade of B or retest at Level 4 or successfully complete an Idaho-approved math college readiness transition course or successfully complete a dual credit general education math course. (See Notes 2 & 3) Maintaining Level 3 Conditionally Exempt: Complete post-Algebra II or post-Integrated Math 3 course in senior year with a passing grade.	➢ These criteria basically define a student ready for Math 123 or other similar courses unique to individual campuses.
Level 2: Needs Support SBAC: Level 2; or	Not exempt from remediation. Achieving Level 3 Conditionally Exempt: Complete math course in	➢ These criteria basically define a student ready for Math 025.

 The Compass was discontinued in 2015 by ACT and is no longer available.

SAT Math: 390-470; or ACT Math: 16-18; or Compass: 26-40 Algebra or 53-99 Pre-Algebra	senior year (Algebra II or higher or equivalent math pathway) with a minimum grade of B or retest at Level 3.
Level 1: Needs Substantial Support SBAC: Level 1 or SAT Math: <390; or ACT Math: <16; or Compass: <53 Pre-Algebra (See Note 4)	Not exempt from remediation. Additional placement information determined by local post-secondary institutional processes needed for all entry-level courses. If student retests and earns a higher score then he/she follows that level of rubric.	➢ These criteria basically define a student positioned below Math 025. ➢ Post-high school students should consider enrolling in an adult basic education program for support and guidance.
Placement options apply to students who…	Go directly into higher education after high school, i.e., the fall term of the academic year following their high school cohort graduation.

* No matter the student's performance level, he or she is expected to take an appropriate math course during the 12th grade.

Notes to Mathematics Table:

1. The SAT, ACT, and Compass criteria are taken from Idaho public higher education institutions. Currently cut scores for these assessments vary by institution. Thus, the scores listed here are an amalgam of these institutions' current cut scores for entry into various levels of mathematics. Importantly, the cut scores are currently under review by the Idaho State Board of Education. Once the revised scores are available, they will replace those in the current framework.

2. The 11th-12th Grade College Readiness Framework Committee recommends that a work group be formed to explore college readiness transition courses with the goal of articulating in greater detail how these should be operationalized in Idaho.

3. State Board Policy 3Y underscores the importance of high school advisors being actively involved as students select dual credit courses. It also states that parents need to be informed about dual credit courses and the benefits and potential pitfalls from their son or daughter enrolling in such courses. For students scoring at Level 3, general education dual credit courses may present formidable academic challenges. Thus, advisors should help students carefully select such courses while keeping parents and caregivers apprised of the selections being made and the underlying rationale for them.

* No matter the student's performance level, he or she is expected to take an appropriate ELA course during the 12th grade.

Notes to ELA Table:

1. AP English Language and Composition is specified instead of AP English Literature and Composition because of the need for high school level courses focused on the elements of writing instead of courses focused on analysis and interpretation of literature. It is usually the case that high school senior English courses do not incorporate as intense a focus on writing as that found in entry level credit bearing English courses in college, causing many students to enter college not having had experience in writing intensive courses. This misalignment between high schools and colleges is a significant problem. Thus the committee recommends that AP English Language and Composition be designated because of its greater emphasis on the elements of writing. The committee also recommends that efforts be immediately initiated to align curricula and instruction between high schools and colleges so that consistent expectations around writing are communicated to students beginning as early as possible in the secondary grades. This will require high school curricula include more writing intensive courses. We make this recommendation with full understanding that building such courses into secondary schools will come with significant costs, but we believe these costs must be born since not doing so will only perpetuate the misalignment. We also recommend that Idaho higher education faculty who have direct responsibility for first year writing courses, both their administration and teaching, be key partners with their secondary English education counterparts in alignment efforts. The higher education faculty look forward to conversations and sustained professional development with their secondary education colleagues.

2. The SAT, ACT, and Compass criteria are taken from Idaho public higher education institutions. Currently cut scores for these assessments vary by institution. Thus, the scores listed here are an amalgam of these institutions' current cut scores for entry into various levels of English. Importantly, the cut scores are currently under review by the Idaho State Board of Education (SBOE). Once the revised scores are available, they will replace those in the current framework. Additionally, Idaho higher education institutions along with the SBOE are transitioning into employing initial course placement frameworks that emphasize multiple measures. College Readiness Framework Committee members thus wish to emphasize that institutions are rapidly moving away from relying on single assessment scores for initial course placement and wish to underscore the importance of multiple measures in first year writing course placement decisions.

3. The 11^{th}-12^{th} Grade College Readiness Framework Committee recommends that a work group be formed to explore in greater detail college readiness transition courses with the goal of articulating in greater detail how these should be operationalized in Idaho.

4. State Board Policy 3Y underscores the importance of high school advisors being actively involved as students select dual credit courses. It also states that parents need to be informed about dual credit courses and the benefits and potential pitfalls from their son or daughter enrolling in such courses. For students scoring at Level 3, general education dual credit courses may present formidable academic challenges. Thus, advisors should help students carefully select such courses while keeping parents and caregivers apprised of the selections being made and the underlying rationale for them.

[1]Some language in this document is taken from the State of Washington's document entitled "Introduction to the Draft Recommendations for the Use of the Smarter Balanced 11^{th} Grade Assessment by Washington Institutions of Higher Education." The document was circulated to all Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium Higher Education Leads during winter, 2014. We wish to thank Washington for allowing us to draw from their work.

Chairperson Comments

Planning Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee Chairman's comments about the recommendation to remove/alter the existing college placement exam.

In making this recommendation, the intent of the committee was to add a high level of flexibility for high school juniors to:

1) Differentiate based on students for post high school plans
2) Minimize the pressure of the 11th grade accountability year (the current recommendation moves the ISAT to the 11th grade)

The committee was mostly concerned that the statewide SAT day was not a one size fits all. The group recognizes and endorses the need to remove financial barriers for all students and the positive effects of having students take entrance exams that encourage them to go on. There has been some discussion by the Accountability Oversight Committee since the Board sent the recommendation in April back to the committee. I will propose the following with the motive of keeping the integrity of the majority of the committee and balancing the need to encourage the State Board goals, maintain legislative support and stay in line with the Governor's overall education goals.

Proposal:
Maintain the current college entrance exam requirement and alter the administration of it.
1) The current rule requires that all students take a college entrance exam. The state pays for the SAT although the ACT fulfills that requirement. Not all school districts use the SAT. Some pay for the ACT (Sugar-Salem) or use another measure (alternative schools - Compass). Outside of the SAT, those tests are on the dime of the district or the student even though they fulfill the graduation requirement.
2) The alteration would come by allowing other college entrance exams to be paid for by the state adding increased flexibility for students. The committee had also expressed the need to find a work readiness test that could fulfill the requirement. The Division of Career Technical Education has approved technical skills assessments that may be able to serve this need, however, additional work will need to be done in this area prior to identifying meaningful work readiness tests.
3) The rule (IDAPA 08.02.03.105.03) states that if juniors miss the state paid day, they can take an exam prior to the end of their 12th grade year. The timeline for SAT and ACT are generally outside of the window of the ISAT and could therefore be scheduled to suit the student.

There will be a healthy discussion of the recommendations. But, Linda and I believe maintaining the rule with a change in the state administration of the college entrance exam(s) will satisfy several needs. Again, we can discuss the implications of all the recommendations and proposals at the meeting.

Education Opportunity Resource Committee Appointment

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-5603, Idaho Code – Education Opportunity Resource Committee

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During the 2016 Legislature SB 1334 (2016) created a new chapter of Idaho Code, title the Education Opportunity Resource Act. The purpose of this act is to establish a resource for Idaho's education library system in providing broadband and related services to students, and to support Idaho's E-rate eligible entities with technical, contracting and procurement guidance. To this end the Education Opportunity Resource Committee was established. The members of the committee are to include:

- The State Superintendent (or designee),
- One (1) member appointed by the State Board of Education,
- Three (3) member appointed by the Idaho association of school administrators (based on school district student enrollment),
- The State Librarian (or designee), and
- Two (2) school technology personnel appointed by the Idaho Education Technology Association.

Pursuant to Section 33-5604, Idaho Code, the Committee is charged with focusing on the broadband and related service needs of all E-rate eligible entities, and at a minimum:

(1) Make budget and policy recommendations to the state department of education regarding:
  (a) Broadband parameters;
  (b) Incentives for E-rate eligible entities to obtain the most appropriate service that best fits such entities' broadband needs and that is fiscally responsible; and
  (c) The minimum and maximum service levels, the quality of services and the minimum per student or person internet level that contracts must adhere to for E-rate eligible entities to be eligible for state reimbursement;
(2) Establish reimbursement methodology that includes, but is not necessarily limited to, the following components:
  (a) Distribution of appropriated moneys to E-rate eligible entities that have received E-rate funding. Distribution of such moneys must be in an amount equal to the non-E-rate reimbursed cost of internet services; and
  (b) If E-rate funding is not available to an E-rate eligible entity, reimburse the entity for its internet service costs;
(3) Compile and analyze broadband utilization statistics from E-rate eligible entities to determine the levels of internet services necessary for such entities and report the statistics to the state department of education, and E-rate eligible entities shall cooperate with the committee in carrying out its duty to compile and analyze such information;

(4) Advise and recommend resources to assist the state department of education in carrying out its responsibility to provide E-rate application assistance and support to E-rate eligible entities;
(5) Not provide legal advice;
(6) Collaborate with other relevant governmental and nongovernmental entities to ensure best practices in broadband are used and to recommend the terms of contracts for broadband and related services; and
(7) Ensure compliance with appropriate purchasing laws.

At this time Andy Mehl is being nominated for consideration as the Board of Education appointed member of the committee.

Andy Mehl has been managing the Postsecondary Statewide Longitudinal Data System (SLDS) for the Office of the State Board of Education since August 2010. In that capacity he has built the system from scratch and also applied for and received a federal SLDS grant for which he serves as Program Director. Additionally, Mr. Mehl chairs the architecture group for the Western Interstate Council on Higher Education (WICHE) multistate data exchange pilot project (phase 2). Prior to joining the Office of the State Board of Education, Mr. Mehl was most recently an IT Director at URS and managed the Project Management Office (PMO) responsible for IT projects serving over 10,000 users worldwide. He has previously served several other roles in IT including many years as an application developer, analyst, and IT Department Manager at Motivepower. He also spent several years implementing process improvement for Motivepower which drives his desire to streamline processes and eliminate wasted time, effort, and money.

IMPACT

This appointment will fill the Board appointed seat on the committee.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to appoint Andy Mehl to the Idaho Education Opportunity Resource Committee for a four (4) year term effective immediately and expiring on June 30, 2020.

SUBJECT

Temporary/Proposed Rule, IDAPA 08.01.02 – Rules Governing Postsecondary Credit Scholarship Program

APPLICABLE STATUTES, RULE OR POLICY

Section 33-4605, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

HB 477a (2016) created a new section of code, Section 33-4605, Idaho Code, which created a new state administered scholarship titled the Postsecondary Credit Scholarship. The new program provides a scholarship to all students who have earned ten (10) or more postsecondary credits at the time of high school graduation. Students who earn ten (10) or more credits, but less than twenty (20) credits will be eligible for up to a two thousand dollars ($2,000) spread over two (2) years. Students who earn twenty (20) or more credits but do not earn an associate degree at the time of high school graduation are eligible for up to a four thousand dollars ($4,000) scholarship spread over two (2) years. Students who earn an associate degree at the time of high school graduation are eligible for up to an eight thousand dollars ($8,000) scholarship spread over two (2) years. The final amount of the scholarship is subject the student having obtained a matching business or industry merit based scholarship.

The proposed rule would create a new section of administrative code similar to the Opportunity Scholarship section that would set out the administrative procedures for applying for the scholarship and provide clarification around the required business or industry matching scholarship.

IMPACT

The approval of this proposed rule will set out the administrative procedures and clarify requirements for the new Postsecondary Credit Scholarship.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Temporary rules go into effect at the time of Board approval unless an alternative effective date is specified by Board action. To qualify as a temporary rule, the rule must meet one of three criteria: provides protection of public health, safety, or welfare; or is to come into compliance with deadlines in amendments to governing law or federal programs; or is conferring a benefit. This rule qualifies as temporary rules as it brings the state in compliance with HB 477a (2016) and Section 33-4602, Idaho code.

Staff recommends approval.

010. DEFINITIONS.
For the purposes of this section the following definitions shall apply:

01. Board. Means the Idaho State Board of Education.
02. Business Scholarship. Means a competitive scholarship awarded from a business entity registered with the Idaho Secretary of State or other state or federal entity that registers businesses and whose purpose is not postsecondary education nor is the entity affiliated with a postsecondary education institution; or an association representing businesses as described herein.
03. Executive Director. Means the Executive Director for the Idaho State Board of Education.
04. Grade Point Average (GPA). Means the average grade earned by a student, figured by dividing the grade points earned by the number of credits attempted. ( )
05. Industry Scholarship. Means a competitive scholarship in which the recipient must enter into a program of study for a specific occupational area.
06. Merit Based Scholarship. Means a merit based scholarship is one in which a minimum academic standard must be met to be eligible for the scholarship.

011. -- 100. (RESERVED)

101. APPLICATION PROCESS.

01. Initial Applications. An eligible student must complete and submit the scholarship program application to the Board electronically on or before the date specified in the application, but not later than March 1 for consideration of an award during proceeding fall academic term. An applicant without electronic capabilities may submit an application on the form established by the Executive Director through the United States Postal Service, which must be postmarked not later than March 1. Applications received after March 1 of each year must be received at least 60 days prior to the start of the term for which the applicant has enrolled after the fall term. ( )
02. Communication with State Officials. Failure to respond within the time period specified will result in cancellation of the application or forfeiture of the scholarship unless extenuating circumstances are involved and approved by the Executive Director or designee. ( )

102. -- 299. (RESERVED)

300. SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS.

01. Selection Process. Scholarship awards will be based on the availability of scholarship program funds. In the event more eligible applications are received than funds are available, those applications received by March 1 of each year will be awarded based on their GPA ranking. Applications received after March 1 of each year will only be considered after all initial applications have been processed and awardees have accepted or rejected their awards.

02. Monetary Value of the Opportunity Scholarship. The monetary value of the award will be based on the maximum amount the applicant is eligible to receive based on the number of postsecondary credits accepted by the institution they attend and the amount of the matching scholarship for each year they are eligible. The award amount shall not be more than the matching merit based business or industry scholarship received by the applicant within the limits of the maximum eligible amount. ( )

03. Payment. Payment of scholarship award will be made in the name of the recipient and will be sent to the designated official at the eligible Idaho postsecondary educational institution in which the recipient is enrolled. The official must transmit the payment to the recipient student's account within a reasonable time following receipt of the payment. ( )

04. Duration. Scholarships will be awarded on an annual basis and payments will correspond to academic terms, semesters, or equivalent units. In no instance will the entire amount of a scholarship be paid in advance to, or on behalf of, a scholarship recipient. The scholarship is valid for up to four (4) educational years from the date the recipient graduated from high school. Awards are contingent on annual appropriations by the legislature and continued eligibility of the student. ( )

05. Eligibility. If a student receives a scholarship payment and it is later determined that the student did not meet all of the scholarship program eligibility requirements, then the student is considered in overpayment status, and the remaining program funds must be returned to the Office of the State Board of Education. ( )

302. CONTINUING ELIGIBILITY.

To remain eligible for the scholarship, the recipient must comply with all of the provisions of the scholarship program and these rules, in addition to the following requirements: ( )

01. Interruption of Continuous Enrollment. A student may request an interruption of continuous enrollment for eligible students due to military service in the United States armed forces, medical circumstances, or extenuating circumstances approved by the Executive Director. A scholarship recipient whose continuous enrollment is interrupted for more than four (4) months but less than two (2) years for any reason but who intends to re-enroll in an eligible Idaho postsecondary educational institution must file a letter of intent to withdraw no later than sixty (60) days prior to the first day of the academic term of the discontinued attendance to the Office of the State Board of Education. Failure to do so may result in forfeiture of the scholarship. In addition, the individual must file a statement with the Board declaring his intent to re-enroll as a full-time student in an academic or career-technical program in an eligible Idaho postsecondary educational institution for the succeeding academic year no later than thirty (30) days prior to the first day of the academic term in which the individual intends to re-enroll within two (2) years of the approval of the request to withdraw. Failure to do so will result in forfeiture of the scholarship unless an extension has been granted. All requests for extension must be made sixty (60) days prior to the start of the succeeding academic year.

Temporary/Proposed Rule, IDAPA 08.01.04 – Rules Governing Residency Classification

REFERENCE

June 2011	Board approved proposed rule changes to IDAPA 08.01.04 updating residency requirements for special graduate or professional programs.
November 2011	Board approved pending rule changes to IDAPA 08.01.04., updating residency requirements.

APPLICABLE STATUTES, RULE OR POLICY

Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During the 2016 legislative session the Board proposed amendments to Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, Residency Requirements. The proposed amendments simplified the requirements for determining residency for students attending a public institution under the direct governance of the State Board of Education. The statutory amendments grant residency status for students who graduated from and Idaho high school or attended and Idaho elementary and/or secondary school for six (6) or more years, in addition to existing requirements for students who are dependents of residents or students who serve in our armed forces. Students who meet the graduation or attendance requirement are now granted residency, for tuition purposes, without having to prove domicile for the previous twelve (12) months IDAPA 08.01.04., provides clarification of the residency requirements pursuant to Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code. Amendments are being proposed to IDAPA 08.01.04 to bring it into compliance with the provisions of Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code.

The proposed rule includes the following amendments:

- Deletes unnecessary definitions for terms that are either no longer used or are defined with the statute itself
- Adds a definition of accredited secondary school and armed forces. These terms were previously undefined.
- Sets out timelines for submitting requests for reclassification of residency determinations.
- Simplifies the factors for determining domicile and specifies which items can be used as factor and which items must be used in conjunction with other factors.
- Simplifies the appeals procedure
- Deletes section that are no longer applicable and makes additional technical changes.

IMPACT

The approval of this proposed rule will bring the rule in compliance with Section 33-3717B and allow for it to move forward for public comment.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All Pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Temporary rules go into effect at the time of Board approval unless an alternative effective date is specified by Board action. To qualify as a temporary rule, the rule must meet one of three criteria: provides protection of public health, safety, or welfare; or is to come into compliance with deadlines in amendments to governing law or federal programs; or is conferring a benefit. This rule qualifies as temporary rules as it brings the state in compliance with HB 477a (2016) and Section 33-4602, Idaho code.

Board staff worked with the legal counsel and Registrars at each of the institutions in developing the proposed rule. Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve changes to temporary and proposed rule IDAPA 08.01.04, as submitted in Attachment 1.

0~~05~~10. DEFINITIONS.

01. ~~Resident Student. For any public institution of higher education in Idaho, resident student is defined in Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, and specifically includes: (3-29-10)~~

~~a. Any student who has one (1) or more parent or parents or court appointed guardians who are domiciled in the state of Idaho for at least twelve (12) months prior to the opening day of the term for which the student matriculates, and the parent or parents or guardians provide at least fifty percent (50%) of the student's support. (5-8-9)~~

~~b. Any student who receives less than fifty percent (50%) of his support from a parent, parents, or legal~~

~~guardians and who has continuously resided and maintained a bona fide domicile in the state for twelve (12) months immediately preceding the opening day of the term during which the student proposes to attend primarily for purposes other than educational. (5-8-09)~~

~~c. Unless disqualified as a nonresident student as defined in Subsection 005.02, any student who is a graduate of an accredited secondary school in the state of Idaho and who matriculates during the term immediately following such graduation. (1-1-94)~~

~~d. The spouse of a person who is classified or is eligible for classification as a resident of the state for purposes of attending a college or university, provided that the institution shall require the filing of proof of marriage by the applicant. (1-1-94)~~

~~e. A member of the armed forces of the United States stationed in the state on military orders. (1-1-94)~~

~~f. An officer or an enlisted member of the Idaho national guard. (5-8-09)~~

~~g. A student whose parent or guardian is a member of the armed forces and stationed in the state on military orders and who receives fifty percent (50%) or more of his support from a parent or guardian, provided that the student, while in continuous attendance, shall not lose residency status when the student's parent or guardian is transferred on military orders. (1-1-94)~~

~~h. A person separated, under honorable conditions, from the United States armed forces after at least two (2) years of service, who at the time of separation designates the state of Idaho as his intended domicile or who has Idaho as the home of record in service and enters a college or university in the state within one (1) year of the date of separation. (1-1-94)~~

~~i. Any person who has been domiciled in the state, has qualified and would otherwise be qualified under Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, and who is away from the state for a period of less than thirty (30) months and has not established legal residence elsewhere, provided a twelve-month (12) period of continuous residence has been established immediately prior to departure. However, time spent away from the state while enrolled in a postsecondary education program shall not be included in the thirty (30) months. Such time spent away from the state while enrolled shall include normal academic year breaks, such as summer breaks or breaks between semesters or quarters, that occur prior to the receipt of the postsecondary degree. (3-29-10)~~

~~j. A student who is a member of any of the following Idaho Native American Indian tribes, regardless of current domicile, shall be considered an Idaho state resident for purposes of fees or tuition at institutions of higher education: members of the following Idaho Native American Indian tribes, whose traditional and customary tribal boundaries included portions of the state of Idaho, or whose Indian tribe was granted reserved lands within the state of Idaho: (5-8-09)~~

~~i. Coeur d'Alene tribe; (5-8-09)~~

~~ii. Shoshone-Paiute tribes; (5-8-09)~~

~~iii. Nez Perce tribe; (5-8-09)~~

~~iv. Shoshone-Bannock tribes; (5-8-09)~~

~~v. Kootenai tribe. (5-8-09)~~

~~02. Nonresident Student. Nonresident student is defined in Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, and includes: (5-8-09)~~

~~a. A student who does not qualify as a resident student as defined in Subsection 005.01. (1-1-94)~~

~~b. A student attending an institution in this state with financial assistance provided by another state or governmental entity thereof, such nonresidency continuing for one (1) year after the completion of the semester for which such assistance is last provided. (1-1-94)~~

~~c. A person who is not a citizen of the United States of America, who does not have permanent or temporary resident status or who does not hold "refugee-parolee" or "conditional entrant" status with the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, or is not otherwise permanently residing in the United States under color of law, and who does not also comply with and meet all applicable sections of Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, and this chapter.~~ Accredited Secondary School. "Accredited secondary school" means an Idaho secondary school accredited by a body recognized by the State Board of Education. ( )

02. Armed forces. "Armed forces" means the United States Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and their reserve forces. It does not include the National Guard or any other reserve force. ~~(5-8-09)~~( )

03. Continuously Resided. ~~The term~~ "~~c~~Continuously resided" ~~as used in this chapter~~ means physical presence in the state for twelve (12) consecutive months. Absence from the state for normal vacations, family travel, work assignments, short-term military training, and similar occasions ~~totaling not more than thirty (30) days~~ during the twelve (12) month qualifying period, in and of itself, will not be regarded as negating the continuous residence - of the individual. ~~(1-1-94)~~

~~04. Continuous Attendance. For purposes of Subsection 005.01.g., "continuous attendance" means attendance at a college or university for continuing and succeeding semesters or terms excluding summer semesters or terms. (5-8-09)~~

~~05. Accredited Secondary School. "Accredited secondary school" means an Idaho secondary school accredited by the State Board of Education. (1-1-94)~~

~~06. Term Immediately Following Graduation. For purposes of Subsection 005.01.c., "the term immediately following graduation" does not include the summer semester or term of a college or university. (1-1-94)~~

~~07. Armed Forces. "Armed forces" means the United States Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and United States Coast Guard. It does not include the National Guard or other reserve force. (3-30-01)~~

~~08. Domicile. "Domicile" means an individual's true, fixed, and permanent home and place of habitation; the place where the individual intends to remain and to which the individual expects to return when he leaves without intending to establish a new domicile elsewhere. The establishment of domicile in Idaho occurs when a person is physically present in Idaho primarily for purposes other than educational and can show satisfactory proof that such person is without a present intention to return to another state or acquire a domicile at some other place outside the state and the person has met any other applicable requirements of this chapter. (1-1-94)~~

04. Full-time Employment. "Full-time employment" means employment consisting on average of at least 30 hours of service per week, or 120 hours of service per month.

05. Full-time Student. "Full-time student" means a student taking the number of credits set by the State Board of Education to constitute a full course load.

0~~9~~6. Support. "Support" means financial support given to the student during the twelve (12) months preceding the opening date of the term for which resident status is requested, but shall not include educational scholarships or grants provided to the student to attend a postsecondary educational institution. Any student who receives less than fifty percent (50%) support may demonstrate this by showing that he is not claimed as a dependent by a parent or guardian for income tax purposes or that a parent or guardian provides less than fifty percent (50%) of the cost of attending an institution according to the financial aid office of that institution or that other similar evidence exists of parental support such as dental bills, medical bills, etc. (5-8-09)

00~~6~~7. -- 099. (RESERVED)

100. RESIDENT CLASSIFICATION BY ALL INSTITUTIONS.

Any student classified as a resident student for purposes of tuition ~~higher education~~ by one ~~institution~~ of the institutions or Eastern Idaho Technical College ~~must~~ shall be considered a resident by all other institutions. ~~"Institutions" means the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, Boise State University, Lewis-Clark State College, and Eastern Idaho Technical College.~~ ~~(5-8-09)~~

101. RESIDENCY CLASSIFICATION PROCESS.

All requests for residency reclassification must be submitted by the student to the institution by the 10th day of the term in which reclassification is sought. Each institution shall~~is to~~ develop its own procedures to determine the residency status of applicants, disseminate information about the classification process, and determine the documentation required of each applicant to the institution. The institution may require whatever records, documents, or affidavits it deems necessary to classify each applicant correctly. It is the responsibility of the institution to notify the student in a timely manner of the documentation required for the classification process, and it is the responsibility of the student to provide the documentation by the deadline established by the institution. Each student ~~must~~ shall be notified in writing of the residency classification decision ~~made by the institutional personnel responsible for determining residency status~~ within fifteen (15) days of such determination being made. ~~(7-1-93)~~

102. FACTORS FOR DETERMINING DOMICILE.

~~Pursuant to Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, the overriding factor for determining whether a student is a "resident student" is domicile. For these purposes, the establishment of~~ The following, if supported by documentation, support a claim of domicile in Idaho. ~~occurs when a person is physically present in Idaho primarily for purposes other than educational and can show satisfactory proof that such person is without a present intention to return to another state or acquire a domicile at some other place outside the state and the person has met any other applicable requirements of this chapter. In determining whether a student is domiciled in Idaho primarily for purposes other than educational, the institutions shall consider the following:~~ ~~(5-8-09)~~

~~01. Domicile Established. Any of the following, if done for at least twelve (12) months before the term in which the student proposes to enroll as a resident student, proves the establishment and maintenance of domicile in Idaho for purposes other than educational:~~ ~~(5-8-09)~~

01. ~~Single~~ Tax Returns and Employment~~Factors~~. Both of the following, if done for at least twelve (12) months before the term in which the student proposes to enroll ~~as a resident student~~, proves the establishment and maintenance of domicile in Idaho for purposes other than educational:

a. Filing of Idaho state income tax returns covering a period of at least twelve (12) months before the term in which the student proposes to enroll as a resident student, and~~.~~ (5-8-09)

~~b~~b. ~~Permanent f~~Full-time employment or the hourly equivalent ~~thereof~~ in ~~the state of~~ Idaho. (5-8-09)

~~c. Ownership by the student of the students living quarters.~~ ~~(5-8-09)~~

~~02. Rebuttable Presumption. A student who is enrolled for more than eight (8) hours in any semester or quarter during a twelve (12) month period shall be presumed to be in Idaho for primarily educational purposes. Such period of enrollment shall not be counted toward the establishment of a bona fide domicile in the state unless the student proves, in fact, establishment of a bona fide domicile in the state primarily for purposes other than educational. A student who establishes at least five (5) of the seven (7) factors listed in Subsection 102.03 of these rules, if done for a least twelve (12) months before the term in which the student proposes to enroll as a resident student, proves the establishment and maintenance of domicile in Idaho for purposes other than educational. (5-8-09)~~

~~03~~02. ~~Additional Factors to Determine Domiciliary Intent~~Multiple Factors. ~~A student who establishes at least f~~Five (5) of the ~~seven (7)~~ following factors, if done for at least twelve (12) months before the term in which the student proposes to enroll ~~as a resident student~~, proves the establishment and maintenance of domicile in Idaho for purposes other than educational: ~~(5-8-09)~~

a. Ownership or leasing of a residence in Idaho.

b. Registration and payment of Idaho taxes or fees, other than sales or income tax, ~~.~~ ~~Registration~~including registration and payment of Idaho taxes or fees on a motor vehicle, mobile home, travel trailer, or other item of personal property for which state registration and the payment of state tax or fee is required. ~~(5-8-09)~~

c~~b~~. Registration to vote for state elected officials in Idaho at a general election. (1-1-94)

d~~c~~. Holding of an Idaho driver's license~~. An Idaho~~ or state-issued ~~ID~~ identification card ~~may be used in lieu of an Idaho driver's license~~. ~~(5-8-09)~~

e~~d~~. Evidence of the abandonment of a previous domicile. (1-1-94)

~~e. The presence of household goods in Idaho. (1-1-94)~~

f. The establishment of accounts with ~~Idaho~~ financial institutions in Idaho. ~~(5-8-09)~~

g. ~~And~~ Other ~~S~~similar ~~F~~factors ~~I~~indicating ~~I~~intent to ~~B~~be ~~D~~domiciled in Idaho and the ~~M~~maintenance of ~~S~~such ~~D~~domicile. Factors may include, but are not limited to, enrollment of dependent children in Idaho ~~primary~~ elementary or secondary schools, establishment of acceptance of an offer of permanent employment for self in Idaho, ~~or~~ documented need to care for a relative in Idaho, utility statements, or employment documentation.

04. Idaho Elementary and Secondary Students. If a student meets the requirements set forth under Idaho Code, Section 33-3717B(1)(c), that student shall not be required to meet the twelve (12) month requirement for establishing domicile. ~~(5-8-09)~~

103. APPEALS PROCEDURE.

Any student who contests the residency classification decision made ~~pursuant to IDAPA 08.01.04.101~~ by the institution may appeal the decision. The student ~~must~~ shall be informed of his right to appeal by the institution at the time the student is notified of the residency classification decision.~~,~~ The student must request the appeal in writing and agree to the release of information provided to determine residency to the review body, and ~~must~~ comply with deadlines established by the institution for requesting such appeal. ~~(1-1-94)~~

01. ~~Internal~~ Institution Appeal. The chief executive officer of each institution or his designee ~~must~~ shall appoint or cause to be appointed a committee of no less than three (3) ~~to~~ nor more than five (5) members who represent faculty and administration and who will constitute a residency review committee. ~~The individual responsible for the initial determination of residency of any student is ineligible for membership on the review committee. The committee will elect a chairman, secretary, or other position as may be deemed necessary to carry out the work of the committee.~~ Within thirty (30) days following receipt of the student's written request to appeal the residency classification decision ~~made pursuant to IDAPA 08.01.04.101~~, the committee must meet and review the ruling. The student appealing is responsible for presenting such evidence as the committee may request and such other evidence as the student may deem pertinent to his residency status. The individual ~~who made~~responsible for the initial residency classification decision ~~pursuant to IDAPA 08.01.04.101~~ may be present, if requested by the committee, ~~to submit such information as he may desire for each case being appealed~~to answer questions from the committee. The student must be notified in writing of the ~~review~~ committee's decision. The decision of the committee is final unless the student elects to appeal ~~further~~the decision to the State Board of Education. ~~(7-1-93)~~

02. Board Appeal. Any student who contests the decision of the residency review committee may appeal to the State Board of Education. In such case, the student must advise the chief executive officer of the institution, in writing, of his request to submit an appeal. The chief executive officer ~~must arrange for a~~ will submit the request to the Office of the State Board of Education for review by the Board or the Board's designated representatives. The decision of the State Board of Education ~~is~~ is the final determination and is binding on all parties concerned, subject to the student's statutory right to appeal the final determination to district court. ~~(7-1-93)~~

~~104. INTERPRETATIONS RELATING TO RESIDENCY CLASSIFICATION.~~

~~01. Common Law Marriage. Any student who wants to establish residency on the basis of a common law marriage must complete an Affidavit of Common Law Marriage as approved by the Board. (7-1-93)~~

~~02. Nonresident Aliens -- Marital Privilege. Nonresident aliens who marry Idaho residents become~~

~~eligible for residency classification for purposes of higher education, as provided in Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, upon filing proof of marriage in the admissions office. However, the institutions remain responsible for complying with requirements set forth in regulations of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service relating to non-immigrant alien students until such time as the alien is granted lawful resident alien status by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. (5-8-09)~~

~~105. RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS FOR SPECIAL GRADUATE OR PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS.~~

~~01. Residency Requirement. As provided in Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, a residency requirement of at least one (1) calendar year is in effect for certain special graduate and professional programs. (3-29-12)~~

~~a. Those programs include, but are not limited to, the WAMI Regional Medical Program, the WICHE Professional Student Exchange Program, the Idaho Dental Education Program, the Creighton Dental Education Program, the WOI Regional Veterinary Program, and the University of Utah Medical Program. (3-29-12)~~

~~b. For purposes of this section, the requirement of "at least one (1) calendar year" means a period of twelve (12) consecutive months of continuous residency consistent with the requirements of Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code, immediately prior to the date of application. (3-29-12)~~

~~02. Appeal to the State Board of Education. Applicants for the special graduate and professional programs, upon institutional denial of residency status, may petition the Board for a hearing on the denial. The decision to grant such a hearing is discretionary with the Board and will be granted for errors in determination of residency pursuant to Section 33-3717B, Idaho Code. (5-8-09)~~

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.01.09

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The GEAR UP Idaho Scholarship is the scholarship component of the Federal GEAR UP grant. The purpose of the GEAR UP program is to provide targeted early intervention services to students in areas where inadequate academic and financial preparation can make going on to postsecondary education seem unattainable. One component of this program is the scholarship. The original scholarship is available to students who had attended a school participating in the GEAR UP Idaho program and who had participated in the programs early intervention component in grades seven (7) through ten (10). To be eligible for participation in the GEAR UP 1 scholarship, the student must have graduated in 2012, 2013, or 2014. Idaho received a second GEAR UP grant, referred to as GEAR UP 2. The scholarship component of GEAR UP 2 is available to students who will graduate from high school in 2017 and 2018. The student eligibility requirements for the GEAR UP 2 program are slightly different than those of GEAR UP 1.

Due to the changes in federal requirements for this program it will no longer be necessary to have administrative rules governing the scholarship program. Participation and award amounts will be based on the federal program requirements. Based on these requirements, the award amounts for students that graduate in 2017 or 2018 will be the total amount of available funds divided by the total number of eligible applicants.

IMPACT

The proposed changes will bring the rule regarding the student eligibility in alignment with the federal program requirements.

~~701. ADMINISTRATION.~~
~~The administrator is responsible for: (3-20-14)~~

~~01. Information. Releasing any public information regarding the GEAR UP Idaho Scholarship Program; (3-29-12)~~

~~02. Recipient Determination. Determination of scholarship recipients; (3-29-12)~~

~~03. Payment Procedures. Determination of procedures for payment of scholarships to recipients; (3-29-12)~~

~~04. Accounting. Maintaining fiscal controls and accounting procedures;(3-29-12)~~

~~05. Program Management. Authorizing release of all forms, affidavits, and certification necessary for the operation of the program. (3-29-12)~~

~~703. -- 799. (RESERVED)~~

~~800. APPEALS.~~

~~Any scholarship applicant or recipient adversely affected by a decision made under provisions of these rules may appeal such adverse decision as follows. The scholarship applicant or recipient must appeal in writing no later than thirty (30) days following notice of the decision, and the written statement must include a statement of the reason the scholarship applicant or recipient believes the decision should be changed. The appeal must be submitted to the administrator, who must acknowledge receipt of the appeal within seven (7) days. The administrator shall forward the appeal to the President of the Board. The Board may or may not agree to review the action, or may appoint a subcommittee of three (3) persons, including at least one (1) financial aid administrator at an eligible postsecondary educational institution in Idaho. (3-20-14)~~

~~01. Transmittal to Subcommittee. If the appeal is transmitted to the subcommittee, the subcommittee will review the appeal and submit a written recommendation to the President of the Board within fifteen (15) days from the time the subcommittee receives the appeal document. The scholarship applicant or recipient initiating the appeal will be notified by the chairperson of the subcommittee of the time and place when the subcommittee will consider the appeal and will be allowed to appear before the subcommittee to discuss the appeal. (3-20-14)~~

~~02. Subcommittee Recommendations. Following the subcommittee's decision, the President of the Board will present the subcommittee's recommendation to the full Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board. The scholarship applicant or recipient initiating the appeal may, at the discretion of the President of the Board, be permitted to make a presentation to the Board. (3-20-14)~~

~~03. Board Decision. The decision of the Board is final, binding, and ends all administrative remedies, unless otherwise specifically provided by the Board. The Board will inform the scholarship applicant or recipient in writing of the decision of the Board. (3-20-14)~~

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Sections 33-320, 33-1212A, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Pursuant to Section 33-320, Idaho Code, as amended (HB 560, 2016), the State Board of Education (Board) is required to establish “statewide student readiness and improvement metrics” in three (3) grade bands (elementary, middle, and secondary grades) as well as in reading readiness in grade 1 through 4. School district are then required to report these metrics in their annual Continuous Improvement Plans. Pursuant to Section 33-1212A, Idaho Code, as amended (SB 1290, 2016) requires the Board to specify minimum student outcomes for school districts to use when reporting on the effectiveness of their college and career advising and mentoring programs and requires school districts to report these outcomes as part of their Continuous Improvement Plans.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.01.801 will set out these metrics and outcomes, as well as administrative reporting requirements. To properly determine progress in any of these areas requires the use of multiple measures. The proposed metrics will provide for a statewide minimum that is used consistently around the state allow school districts to select any additional measures they wish to use to inform them of their students readiness levels at the given grade bands.

Board staff discussed with stakeholder groups options on measures that are currently used statewide and would not require the creation of a new measure that may not be able to be tracked in all districts. Based on these discussions the following minimum metrics are being proposed:

- Career and college readiness metric: college entrance exam
- High school readiness metric: proficiency on the 8th grade Idaho Standards Achievement Test
- Grade 7 readiness metric: proficiency on the 6th grade Idaho Standards Achievement Test
- Grade 4 reading readiness metric: proficiency at the 3rd grade level on the statewide reading assessment
- Grade 3 reading readiness metric: proficiency at the spring 2nd grade level on the statewide reading assessment
- Grade 2 reading readiness metric: proficiency at the spring 1st grade level on the statewide reading assessment
- Grade 1 reading readiness metric: proficiency at the spring kindergarten grade level on the statewide reading assessment

Improvement metrics would show the percent of year over year growth at each level.

The addition of the statewide student readiness and improvement metrics at the three grade levels is the implementation of one of the Accountability and Autonomy Task Force subcommittee recommendations in 2014. The addition of the reading readiness metrics was a result of legislative action regarding the reading literacy initiative.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule will bring the rule in compliance with section 33-320 and 1212A, Idaho Code and provide the school districts guidance on the new reporting requirements.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Temporary rules go into effect at the time of Board approval unless an alternative effective date is specified by Board action. To qualify as a temporary rule, the rule must meet one of three criteria: provides protection of public health, safety, or welfare; or is to come into compliance with deadlines in amendments to governing law or federal programs; or is conferring a benefit. This rule qualifies as temporary rules as it brings the state in compliance with HB 560 (2016) and Section 33-320, Idaho code and SB 1290 (2016) and Section 33-1212A.

Staff recommends approval.

CHAPTER 01

08.02.01 - Rules Governing Administration

801. CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT PLANNING AND TRAINING.
In accordance with Section 33-320, Idaho Code, every local education agency (LEA) shall develop and maintain a strategic plan that includes a continuous improvement process focused on improving student performance of the LEA. (3-25-16)

01. Definitions. (4-11-15)

a. Administrator. As used in this section administrator means the superintendent of the school district or administrator of a charter school. (4-11-15)

b. Board. Board means the Idaho State Board of Education. (4-11-15)

c. Executive Director. Executive Director means the Executive Director of the Idaho State Board of Education. (4-11-15)

d. Local Education Agency Board. As used in this section local education agency or LEA Board means the board of trustees of a school district or board of directors of a charter school. (4-11-15)

e. Local Education Agency. As used in this section local education agency (LEA) means public school district or charter school. (4-11-15)

f. Continuous Improvement Plan. As used in this section, a continuous improvement plan focuses on annual measurable outcomes and the analysis of data to assess and prioritize needs and measure outcomes. (3-25-16)

02. Reimbursement Eligibility. LEA's may request reimbursement for training conducted pursuant to Section 33-320, Idaho Code. To be eligible for reimbursement the training and trainer must meet the following criteria: (4-11-15)

a. Training. The training must cover one (1) or more the follow subjects: (4-11-15)

i. Continuous improvement planning training. Continuous improvement planning training must include, but is not limited to, training on continuous process improvement, use and analysis of data, and methods for setting measurable targets based on student outcomes; (3-25-16)

ii. School finance; (4-11-15)

iii. Administrator evaluations, including, but not limited to, specifics on the Idaho state evaluation requirements and framework; (4-11-15)

iv. Ethics; or (4-11-15)

v. Governance. (4-11-15)

b. Documentation of Training. Training records shall be kept by the LEA showing: (4-11-15)

i. The length of the training in hours; (4-11-15)

ii. The subject(s) covered by the training; (4-11-15)

iii. The participants included in the training or validation of attendance of specific participants as applicable; and (4-11-15)

iv. The curriculum, agenda, or other documentation detailing the content of the training. (4-11-15)

c. Training Format. A majority of the LEA board and the administrator must collaborate on the continuous improvement plan and engage students, parents, educators and the community, as applicable to the training subject and format. The training facilitator must be physically present or have the ability to interact directly with all training participants. Sufficient time must be provided during the sessions to give the participants an opportunity to discuss issues specific to the LEA. (3-25-16)

d. Trainer Qualifications. The trainer must meet the following qualifications: (4-11-15)

i. May not be a current employee of the LEA; (4-11-15)

ii. Must have two (2) years of documented training experience in the area of training being provided for the LEA; and (4-11-15)

iii. Must provide at least three (3) recommendations from individuals who participated in past training sessions conducted by the trainer. These recommendations must be included with the application to determine the trainer's qualifications. (4-11-15)

e. Qualified Trainers. Trainer qualifications will be determined by the Office of the State Board of Education. The State Board of Education will maintain a list of qualified trainers and the subject areas in which they are qualified. (4-11-15)

i. An individual or company may submit an application for consideration to be placed on the list of qualified trainers or the LEA may submit the application on behalf of the individual or company. (4-11-15)

ii. Applications must be submitted to the Executive Director in a format established by the Executive Director. (4-11-15) iii.

Trainer qualifications must be determined prior to the LEA's request for reimbursement of training costs. (4-11-15)

~~03. Reimbursement. Up to two thousand dollars ($2,000) per state fiscal year will be reimbursed to the LEA for training costs. Reimbursement will be based on actual expenditures related to the training delivered.~~
~~(4-11-15)~~

~~04~~03. Audit. If requested, LEA's must provide training documentation or other information to verify eligibility prior to reimbursement. (4-11-15)

04. Statewide Continuous Improvement Measures. Multiple measures must be used to fully determine student readiness and improvement. At a minimum each continuous improvement plan shall include the statewide student readiness and improvement metrics. The benchmark for each metric shall be set by the LEA.

a. The career and college readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students meeting the college ready benchmark in mathematics and English Language Arts on a state recognized college entrance exam. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students meeting the college readiness benchmark.

b. The high school readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students meeting proficient or advanced on the grade 9 Idaho standards achievement test in mathematics and English language usage. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring proficient or advanced.

c. The grade 7 readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students meeting proficient or advanced on the grade 6 Idaho standards achievement test in mathematics and English language usage. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring proficient or advanced.

d. The grade 4 reading readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students reading at grade level on the spring grade 3 statewide reading assessment. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring at grade level.

e. The grade 3 reading readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students reading at grade level on the spring grade 2 statewide reading assessment. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring at grade level.

f. The grade 2 reading readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students reading at grade level on the spring grade 1 statewide reading assessment. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring at grade level.

g. The grade 1 reading readiness metric shall be the number and percentage of students reading at grade level on the spring kindergarten statewide reading assessment. Improvement shall be measured by year over year growth in the percentage of students scoring at grade level.

05. Annual Literacy Intervention Plan. Annually each LEA will report on the effectiveness of the LEA's literacy intervention plan. Reports shall include at a minimum:

a. Summary of literacy interventions used at each grade level.
b. Previous year literacy intervention expenditures.
c. Projected literacy plan budget for current school year.
d. Metrics chosen by the LEA to determine effectiveness of the literacy plan.
e. Performance on effectiveness metrics.

06. College and Career Advising and Mentoring Plans. Annually each LEA will report on the effectiveness of the LEA's college and career or mentoring plan. Reports shall include:

a. Description of college and career advising model used by the LEA.
b. Summary of advising and or mentoring used at each grade level, grade 7 through 12, as applicable to the grade ranges enrolled with the LEA.
c. Previous year college and career advising and mentoring expenditures. Temporary/Proposed Rule, IDAPA 08.02.01 – Rules Governing Administration – Literacy Growth Targets

APPLICABLE STATUTES, RULE OR POLICY

Section 33-1616, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

HB 526 (2016) amended Section 33-1616, Idaho Code requiring the Board set student trajectory growth to proficiency benchmarks and timelines for Kindergarten through grade 3. The proposed amendments add a new section to IDAPA 08.02.01 setting trajectory growth targets at the statewide level. Board staff in conjunction with feedback from the Idaho School Boards Association and the Idaho Association of School Administrators representatives and historical statewide performance levels on the statewide reading assessment are proposing the following growth targets by grade level.

Year 1 and 2:

Grade	KG	1	2	3
% Growth	1.0%	1.0%	1.0%	1.0%

Years 3 through 6:

Grade	KG	1	2	3
% Growth	1.8%	2.0%	1.6%	1.2%

The proposed growth targets, if met, would result in the following percent of students being at grade level in reading literacy by 2022 as follows:

Grade	KG	1	2	3
Percentage	88.4%	79.9%	76.7%	80.4%

The proposed rule would base these proficiency targets on the spring administration of the statewide reading assessment. The proposed targets would need to be re-evaluated each year and readjusted based on changes to the statewide reading assessment. Additionally, the rule would need to be adjusted for out years as we moved through the timeline.

It is also important to the note that these numbers are statewide growth targets and should not be applied to a single school or school district. Each school district will set their own benchmark or targets through their Continuous Improvement Plans. These targets will be based on their specific student populations and school district resources.

IMPACT

The approval of this proposed rule will bring the Board into compliance with new provisions contained in Section 33-1616, Idaho Code, and set statewide growth trajectory targets.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Temporary rules go into effect at the time of Board approval unless an alternative effective date is specified by Board action. To qualify as a temporary rule, the rule must meet one of three criteria: provides protection of public health, safety, or welfare; or is to come into compliance with deadlines in amendments to governing law or federal programs; or is conferring a benefit. This rule qualifies as temporary rules as it brings the state in compliance with HB 526 (2016) and Section 33-1616, Idaho Code.

Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the temporary and proposed rule IDAPA 08.02.01.802 Rules Governing Administration, Literacy Growth Targets as submitted in Attachment 1.

802. LITERACY GROWTH TARGETS.

01. Statewide Trajectory Growth Targets. Statewide trajectory annual growth targets are based on aggregated student performance on the spring administration of the statewide reading assessments. Local growth targets are set by the LEA based on the LEA's available resources and student demographics. Statewide trajectory growth targets indicated the statewide goal for year over year increases in the percentage of students reading at grade level.

a. Year 1 and 2:
i. Kindergarten: one percent (1%).
ii. Grade one: one percent (1%).
iii. Grade two: one percent (1%).
iv. Grade three: one percent (1%).
b. Year 3, 4, 5 and 6:
i. Kindergarten: one point eight percent (1.8%).
ii. Grade one: two percent (2%).
iii. Grade two: one point six percent (1.6%).
iv. Grade three: one point two percent (1.2%).

02. Annual Review. The State Board of Education will review the statewide student proficiency levels and the statewide trajectory growth targets annually and adjust as appropriate based on statewide progress.

Temporary/Proposed Rule, IDAPA 08.02.01 – Rules Governing Administration – Statewide Average Class Size

APPLICABLE STATUTES, RULE OR POLICY

Section 33-1616, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

HB 476 (2016) amended Section 33-1004, Idaho Code setting additional provisions for determining the statewide average class size that is used in calculations related to school district staff allowances. Prior to Fiscal Year 2016 (FY 2016), school districts were allowed to employ 9.5% fewer positions than what was funded based on their instruction and pupil service staff allowances. Beginning in FY 2016, this percentage is reduced by 1% for each year the school districts average class size was at least one (1) student greater than the statewide average class size.

Pursuant to Section 33-1004, Idaho Code the determination of this factor must be based on "multiple figures determined through analysis of like and similarly situated districts and use of the divisor breakdown established in Section 33-1002, Idaho Code." The divisor breakdown in Section 33-1002, Idaho Code establishes divisors for school districts based on grade levels and average daily attendance calculations, as well as divisors for alternative schools. The Board and Department of Education staff analyzed the groupings of school districts based on the various divisors applied to a single school district.

The proposed rule amendments would add a new section to IDAPA 08.02.01, Rules Governing Administration setting out the provisions for determining the statewide average class size based on the divisors specified in Section 33-1002, Idaho Code. The proposed breakdown would be as follows:

Group 1. Group 1 shall consist of school districts with an elementary divisor, pursuant to Section 33-1004, Idaho Code, of twenty (20) for grades 1 through 3 and twenty-three (23) for grades 4 through 6, and a secondary divisor of eighteen point five (18.5).

Group 2. Group 2 will consist of school districts with an elementary divisor, pursuant to Section 33-1004, Idaho Code, of twenty (20) for grades 1 through 3 and twenty-three (23) for grades 4 through 6, and a secondary divisor less than 18.5.

Group 3. Group 3 will consist of school districts with elementary divisors, pursuant to Section 33-1004, Idaho Code, of nineteen (19) or twenty (20) for grades 1 through 6, and a secondary divisor of less than eighteen point five (18.5).

Group 4. Group 4 will consist on school districts with elementary divisors, pursuant to Section 33-1004, Idaho Code, of less than nineteen (19) for grades 1 through 6, and a secondary divisor of less than eighteen point five (18.5).

The proposed groupings were shared with the Idaho School Boards Association and Idaho Association of School Administrators representatives and they were comfortable with the analysis and subsequent groupings.

IMPACT

Approval of the temporary and proposed rule would set out the method by which the statewide average class size for the use in support unit calculations is determined.

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.02 – Rules Governing Uniformity – Teacher Certification Requirements

REFERENCE

August 2014	Board approved proposed rules incorporating a tiered certification structure into administrative rule as well as reorganization of the section and cleanup of out of date language.
November 2014	Board approved the pending rule incorporating the proposed changes. (The 2015 Legislature rejected the proposed rule)
May 2015	Board approved a temporary rule broadening the language regarding the alternate route to certification – content specialist.
August 2015	Board approved proposed rule amendments reorganizing the teacher certification section and adding language necessary due to the adoption of the career ladder.
November 2015	Board approved pending rule amendments reorganizing the teacher certification requirement (IDAPA 08.02.02)

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 08.02.02
Section 33-1201, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

In late 2014, as part of the of the Career Ladder subcommittee work on tiered certification, it was discovered that there were a number of current practices regarding teacher certification that were not in alignment with Idaho statute or Idaho Administrative Code. Those practices that were not in alignment with Idaho statute were immediately corrected. In 2015 Board staff, working with the State Department of Education staff and additional education stakeholders, discussed those practices that had developed over time and the current certification requirements to identify which areas of the administrative rules should be changed and which practices needed to be changed to be compliant with Administrative Code. At the same time this group discussed issues around the state and national teacher shortage and ways that the certification requirements could be amended to maintain a high standards of professionalism while still providing flexibility to the school district. There was consensus from the group that there was not a desire to lower the minimum standards for certification and that there was a potential to do long term harm to the profession and students alike.

The group specifically discussed alternate and non-traditional routes that individuals could use to enter the teaching profession and the classroom. With the exception of small technical changes, it was felt that current requirements provide opportunities for individuals to enter the profession without following the traditional teacher preparation program route as well as pathways for individuals to add additional content area endorsements to their certificates. There was concern that in some areas our teacher mentoring programs were weak or under-resourced and it was felt that these programs were critical for assuring inexperienced teachers had the proper support in place to help them become effective teachers.

The majority of the proposed changes to IDAPA 08.02.02 address the issue of teachers assigned to classrooms outside of the grade ranges they are eligible to teach through their endorsements. Overall the group felt this change could result in increasing the pool of teachers that were available by removing the barrier of having to earn an additional certificate when in reality they were qualified to teach the subject areas and grade ranges if they met the endorsement requirements. This model would include the creation of additional grade ranges on some endorsements which would allow teachers to earn endorsements in those grade ranges they felt comfortable teaching in. At the same time, mechanisms would remain in place for teachers to earn additional endorsement for their certificates similar to the process for earning additional certificates.

The combination of the current standard elementary and secondary certificates address the issue of a teacher teaching outside of the grade range of their certificates without creating a disruption to individuals who currently hold certificates; this will ultimately result in the overall simplification of Idaho’s standard instructional certificates.

Additional amendments to IDAPA 08.02.02 include; amendments to the administrator evaluation submittal timeline to bring them in alignment with legislative changes made during the 2016 Legislature; amendments to the certificated staff evaluations regarding student achievement to bring them into alignment with the student achievement requirements that are part of the career ladder; the creation of middle school/grades endorsement grade ranges; and updates to the occupational specialist certificates. The middle school/grades endorsements address the issue of individuals who have already obtained endorsements for grades 6 through 9 that did not previously exist and is in alignment with the single instructional certificate model.

IMPACT

The proposed amendments would result in simplifying Idaho’s instructional certificates and resolve the issue of individuals teaching outside of their eligible grade ranges.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The proposed changes to the standard certificates will result in a need for additional review of some of the endorsements to assure full alignment. It is recommended that this work be conducted by the Professional Standards Commission for consideration by the Board in 2017. Those endorsements that were identified as needing immediate edits to work with the new certification model are being brought forward at this time.

Amendments to IDAPA 08.02.02 that have been proposed by the Professional Standards Commission that are impacted by these changes have been incorporated into the proposed rule amendments being considered.

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Staff recommends approval.

d. If the new fingerprint card and rejected fingerprint card are returned after the twenty (20) calendar day time period a forty dollar ($40) fee is required to be paid. (4-9-09)

04. Secured CHC Website. The SDE will maintain a CHC website listing the CHC results. The LEA, private or parochial school, contractor or postsecondary program may view the results or status of an applicant, employee or candidate. (4-9-09)

a. Upon a signed agreement the SDE will issue a password to access the CHC website. (4-9-09)

b. Each LEA, private or parochial school, contractor and postsecondary program will have access to the CHC secure site listing their employees, statewide substitute teacher list, newly certified list and student teacher list. (4-9-09)

05. Fingerprinting & Criminal History Checks. (4-9-09)

a. The SDE will maintain a list of newly certificated educators. Educators stay on this list for one (1) year from their individual open date. Educators on this list may be employed by a LEA without a new CHC. (4-9-09)

b. The SDE will make the final determination if an applicant is eligible for Idaho certification.

(4-9-09)

c. If the SDE makes a determination that the applicant is not eligible for Idaho certification, the SDE may deny the applicant Idaho certification. Upon receiving the written denial the applicant may request a hearing pursuant to Section 33-1209, Idaho Code. (4-9-09)

06. Non-Certificated Employees. Non-certificated employees are required to complete a CHC pursuant to Section 33-130, Idaho Code. The CHC results will be posted on the CHC website for their employer to review. (4-9-09)

07. Substitute Teachers. Substitute teachers as defined in Section 33-512(15), Idaho Code, must undergo a criminal history check. The SDE shall maintain a statewide substitute teacher list. To remain on the list on the list a substitute teacher shall undergo a criminal history check every five (5) years in accordance with Section 33-512, Idaho Code. Substitute teachers on the list do not need to complete a multiple assignment form nor are subject to break in service provisions. (4-9-09)

08. Break In Service. (4-9-09)

a. When an employee returns to any LEA after a break in service a new criminal history check must be completed. (4-9-09)

b. When an employee changes employment between LEAs a new CHC must be completed regardless of the most recent CHC. (4-9-09)

09. Postsecondary. (4-9-09)

a. The postsecondary program will submit a completed fingerprint card or scan for all candidates who are applying for student teaching, internships or practicum. (4-9-09)

b. The SDE will make a preliminary determination based on the CHC result if the candidate is eligible for certification in Idaho. This decision will be forwarded to the postsecondary program concerning the eligibility of their candidate. (4-9-09)

c. The SDE will move a candidate from the student teacher list to the newly certified list when an application for certification is approved. (4-9-09)

076. CODE OF ETHICS FOR IDAHO PROFESSIONAL EDUCATORS (SECTIONS 33-1208 AND 33-1209, IDAHO CODE).

Believing in the worth and dignity of each human being, the professional educator recognizes the supreme importance of pursuing truth, striving toward excellence, nurturing democratic citizenship and safeguarding the freedom to learn and to teach while guaranteeing equal educational opportunity for all. The professional educator accepts the responsibility to practice the profession according to the highest ethical principles. The Code of Ethics for Idaho Professional Educators symbolizes the commitment of all Idaho educators and provides principles by which to judge conduct. (3-20-04)

01. Aspirations and Commitments. (3-20-04)

a. The professional educator aspires to stimulate the spirit of inquiry in students and to provide opportunities in the school setting that will help them acquire viable knowledge, skills, and understanding that will meet their needs now and in the future. (3-20-04)

b. The professional educator provides an environment that is safe to the cognitive, physical and psychological well-being of students and provides opportunities for each student to move toward the realization of his goals and potential as an effective citizen. (3-20-14)

c. The professional educator, recognizing that students need role models, will act, speak and teach in such a manner as to exemplify nondiscriminatory behavior and encourage respect for other cultures and beliefs. (3-20-14)

d. The professional educator is committed to the public good and will help preserve and promote the principles of democracy. He will provide input to the local school board to assist in the board's mission of developing and implementing sound educational policy, while promoting a climate in which the exercise of professional judgment is encouraged. (4-11-06)

e. The professional educator believes the quality of services rendered by the education profession directly influences the nation and its citizens. He strives, therefore, to establish and maintain the highest set of professional principles of behavior, to improve educational practice, and to achieve conditions that attract highly qualified persons to the profession. (4-11-06)

f. The professional educator regards the employment agreement as a pledge to be executed in a manner consistent with the highest ideals of professional service. He believes that sound professional personal relationships with colleagues, governing boards, and community members are built upon integrity, dignity, and mutual respect. The professional educator encourages the practice of the profession only by qualified persons. (4-11-06)

02. Principle I - Professional Conduct. A professional educator abides by all federal, state, and local education laws and statutes. Unethical conduct shall include the conviction of any felony or misdemeanor offense set forth in Section 33-1208, Idaho Code. (3-20-14)

03. Principle II - Educator/Student Relationship. A professional educator maintains a professional relationship with all students, both inside and outside the physical and virtual classroom. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Committing any act of child abuse, including physical or emotional abuse; (3-20-04)

b. Committing any act of cruelty to children or any act of child endangerment; (3-20-04)

c. Committing or soliciting any sexual act from any minor or any student regardless of age; (3-20-04)

d. Committing any act of harassment as defined by district policy; (4-11-06)

e. Soliciting, encouraging, or consummating a romantic or inappropriate relationship (whether written, verbal, virtual, or physical) with a student, regardless of age; (3-20-14)

f. Using inappropriate language including, but not limited to, swearing and improper sexual comments (e.g., sexual innuendoes or sexual idiomatic phrases); (3-20-04)

g. Taking or possessing images (digital, photographic, or video) of students of a harassing, confidential, or sexual nature; (4-11-15)

h. Inappropriate contact with any minor or any student regardless of age using electronic media; (4-11-06)

i. Furnishing alcohol or illegal or unauthorized drugs to any student or allowing or encouraging a student to consume alcohol or unauthorized drugs except in a medical emergency; (3-20-14)

j. Conduct that is detrimental to the health or welfare of students; and (3-20-14)

k. Deliberately falsifying information presented to students. (3-20-14)

04. Principle III - Alcohol and Drugs Use or Possession. A professional educator refrains from the abuse of alcohol or drugs during the course of professional practice. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Being on school premises or at any school-sponsored activity, home or away, involving students while possessing, using, or consuming illegal or unauthorized drugs; (3-20-04)

b. Being on school premises or at any school-sponsored activity, home or away, involving students while possessing, using, or consuming alcohol; (3-20-04)

c. Inappropriate or illegal use of prescription medications on school premises or at any school-sponsored events, home or away; (4-11-06)

d. Inappropriate or illegal use of drugs or alcohol that impairs the individual's ability to function; and (4-11-06)

e. Possession of an illegal drug as defined in Chapter 27, Idaho Code, Uniform Controlled Substances. (3-20-04)

05. Principle IV - Professional Integrity. A professional educator exemplifies honesty and integrity in the course of professional practice. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Fraudulently altering or preparing materials for licensure or employment; (3-20-04)

b. Falsifying or deliberately misrepresenting professional qualifications, degrees, academic awards, and related employment history when applying for employment or licensure; (3-20-04)

c. Failure to notify the state at the time of application for licensure of past revocations or suspensions of a certificate or license from another state; (3-20-04)

d. Failure to notify the state at the time of application for licensure of past criminal convictions of any crime violating the statutes or rules governing teacher certification; (3-20-14)

e. Falsifying, deliberately misrepresenting, or deliberately omitting information regarding the evaluation of students or personnel, including improper administration of any standardized tests (changing test answers; copying or teaching identified test items; unauthorized reading of the test to students, etc.); (4-11-06)

f. Falsifying, deliberately misrepresenting, or deliberately omitting reasons for absences or leaves; (3-20-04)

g. Falsifying, deliberately misrepresenting, or deliberately omitting information submitted in the course of an official inquiry or investigation; (3-20-14)

h. Falsifying, deliberately misrepresenting, or deliberately omitting material information on an official evaluation of colleagues; and (3-20-14)

i. Failure to notify the state of any criminal conviction of a crime violating the statutes and/or rules governing teacher certification. (3-20-14)

06. Principle V - Funds and Property. A professional educator entrusted with public funds and property honors that trust with a high level of honesty, accuracy, and responsibility. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Misuse, or unauthorized use, of public or school-related funds or property; (3-20-04)

b. Failure to account for school funds collected from students, parents, or patrons; (3-20-14)

c. Submission of fraudulent requests for reimbursement of expenses or for pay; (3-20-04)

d. Co-mingling of public or school-related funds in personal bank account(s); (3-20-04)

e. Use of school property for private financial gain; (3-20-14)

f. Use of school computers to deliberately view or print pornography; and, (3-20-04)

g. Deliberate use of poor budgeting or accounting practices. (3-20-04)

07. Principle VI - Compensation. A professional educator maintains integrity with students, colleagues, parents, patrons, or business personnel when accepting gifts, gratuities, favors, and additional compensation. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Unauthorized solicitation of students or parents of students to purchase equipment, supplies, or services from the educator who will directly benefit; (3-20-14)

b. Acceptance of gifts from vendors or potential vendors for personal use or gain where there may be the appearance of a conflict of interest; (3-20-04)

c. Tutoring students assigned to the educator for remuneration unless approved by the local board of education; and, (3-20-04)

d. Soliciting, accepting, or receiving a financial benefit greater than fifty dollars ($50) as defined in Section 18-1359(b), Idaho Code. (3-20-14)

08. Principle VII - Confidentiality. A professional educator complies with state and federal laws and local school board policies relating to the confidentiality of student and employee records, unless disclosure is required or permitted by law. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Sharing of confidential information concerning student academic and disciplinary records, personal confidences, health and medical information, family status or income, and assessment or testing results with inappropriate individuals or entities; and (3-20-04)

b. Sharing of confidential information about colleagues obtained through employment practices with inappropriate individuals or entities. (3-20-04)

09. Principle VIII - Breach of Contract or Abandonment of Employment. A professional educator fulfills all terms and obligations detailed in the contract with the local board of education or education agency for the duration of the contract. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Abandoning any contract for professional services without the prior written release from the contract by the employing school district or agency; (3-20-04)

b. Willfully refusing to perform the services required by a contract; and, (3-20-04)

c. Abandonment of classroom or failure to provide appropriate supervision of students at school or school-sponsored activities to ensure the safety and well-being of students. (3-20-04)

10. Principle IX - Duty to Report. A professional educator reports breaches of the Code of Ethics for Idaho Professional Educators and submits reports as required by Idaho Code. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Failure to comply with Section 33-1208A, Idaho Code, (reporting requirements and immunity); (3-20-04)

b. Failure to comply with Section 16-1605, Idaho Code, (reporting of child abuse, abandonment or neglect); (4-11-06)

c. Failure to comply with Section 33-512B, Idaho Code, (suicidal tendencies and duty to warn); and (4-11-06)

d. Having knowledge of a violation of the Code of Ethics for Idaho Professional Educators and failing to report the violation to an appropriate education official. (3-20-04)

11. Principle X - Professionalism. A professional educator ensures just and equitable treatment for all members of the profession in the exercise of academic freedom, professional rights and responsibilities while following generally recognized professional principles. Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to: (3-20-14)

a. Any conduct that seriously impairs the Certificate holder's ability to teach or perform his professional duties; (3-20-04)

b. Committing any act of harassment toward a colleague; (4-11-06)

c. Failure to cooperate with the Professional Standards Commission in inquiries, investigations, or hearings; (3-20-04)

d. Using institutional privileges for the promotion of political candidates or for political activities, except for local, state or national education association elections; (4-11-06)

e. Willfully interfering with the free participation of colleagues in professional associations; and (4-11-06)

f. Taking or possessing images (digital, photographic or video) of colleagues of a harassing, confidential, or sexual nature. (4-11-15)

19. Reprimand. A written letter admonishing the Certificate holder for his conduct. The reprimand cautions that further unethical conduct may lead to consideration of a more severe action against the holder's Certificate. (3-20-04)

20. Respondent. The legal term for the professional educator who is under investigation for a purported violation of the Code of Ethics for Idaho Professional Educators. (3-20-04)

21. Revocation. The invalidation of any Certificate held by the educator. (3-20-04)

22. Stipulated Agreement. A written agreement between the respondent and the Professional Standards Commission to resolve matters arising from an allegation of unethical conduct following a complaint or an investigation. The stipulated agreement is binding to both parties and is enforceable under its own terms, or by subsequent action by the Professional Standards Commission. (3-20-04)

23. Student. Any individual enrolled in any Idaho public or private school from preschool through grade 12. (3-20-04)

24. Sufficient Grounds. A determination by the Executive Committee that sufficient evidence exists to issue an Administrative Complaint. (3-20-04)

078. -- 099. (RESERVED)

100. OFFICIAL VEHICLE FOR APPROVING TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS.
(Section 33-114, Idaho Code) (4-1-97)

01. The Official Vehicle for the Approval of Teacher Education Programs. The official vehicle for the approval of teacher education programs is the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) and the approved Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. The Idaho Standards are based upon the accepted national standards for educator preparation and include state-specific, core teaching requirements. The State Department of Education will transmit to the head of each Idaho college or department of education a copy of all revisions to the Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. Such revisions will take effect and must be implemented within a period not to exceed two (2) years after notification of such revision. (3-25-16)

02. Non-Traditional Teacher Preparation Program. The State Board of Education must approve all non-traditional route to teacher certification programs. The programs must include, at a minimum, the following components: (3-25-16)

a. Pre-assessment of teaching and content knowledge; (3-25-16)

b. An academic advisor with knowledge of the prescribed instruction area; (3-25-16)

c. Exams of pedagogy and content knowledge; and (3-25-16)

d. Be aligned to the Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. (3-25-16)

03. Reference Availability. The Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel, incorporated by reference in Subsection 004.01, are available for inspection on the Office of the State Board of Education's website at www.boardofed.idaho.gov. (3-29-12)

04. Continuing Approval. (3-29-12)

a. The state of Idaho will follow the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) model by which institutions shall pursue continuing approval through a full program review every seven (7) years. The full program review shall be based upon the Idaho Standards for Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel. (3-25-16)

b. The state of Idaho will additionally conduct focused reviews of state-specific, core teaching requirements in the interim, not to exceed every third year following the full program review. (3-29-12)

c. All approved non-traditional teacher preparation programs will be reviewed for continued approval on the same schedule as traditional teacher preparation programs. Reviews will include determination of continued alignment with the approved Idaho Standards for the Initial Certification of Professional School Personnel and effectiveness of program completers. (3-25-16)

05. Payment Responsibilities for Teacher Preparation Program Reviews. The Professional Standards Commission is responsible for Idaho teacher preparation program reviews, including assigning responsibility for paying for program reviews. To implement the reviews, it is necessary that: (4-6-05)

a. The Professional Standards Commission pay for all state review team expenses for on-site teacher preparation reviews from its budget. (3-25-16)

b. Requesting institutions pay for all other expenses related to on-site teacher preparation program reviews, including the standards review. (3-25-16)

110. PERSONNEL STANDARDS.

The State Board of Education supports the efforts made by the Idaho Legislature to lower class size. Significant progress has been made in grades one through three (1-3). The State Board of Education believes that class sizes in grades four through six (4-6) are too high. Districts are encouraged to lower all class sizes as funds become available. Each district will develop personnel policies and procedures to implement the educational program of the district. The policies and procedures will address representation in each of the following personnel areas, as appropriate to student enrollment and the needs of each attendance area. Districts should strive to achieve ratios consistent with state class size ratio goals.

TEACHERS	STATE GOALS
Kindergarten	20
Grades 1, 2, 3	20
Grades 4, 5, 6	26
Middle School/Jr. High	160 teacher load
High School	160 teacher load
Alternative School (7-12)	18 average daily class load

INSTRUCTIONAL PERSONNEL

Schools are encouraged to explore technological options that provide for credible alternative delivery systems. Present and emerging information transmission technology may provide for greater teacher/pupil class size ratios.

PUPIL PERSONNEL
(Certificated School Counselors, Social Workers, Psychologists)	400:1 * student/district average

Secondary Media Generalist and Assistants	500:1 * student/district average
Elementary Media Generalist or Assistants	500:1 * student/district average
Building Administrative Personnel	Not to exceed 500:1 * district average

* The stated pupil to personnel ratio is the goal; each school district will assign personnel as appropriate to student enrollment and the needs of each attendance area.

Classroom Assistants - State Goal: will be provided where the student/teacher ratio is deemed excessive by the district or where other student special needs exist (e.g., limited English proficiency or special education).

Classified Personnel - State Goal: will be employed in each building to support the needs of the staff, students, and community. (4-1-97)

111. BULLYING, HARASSMENT AND INTIMIDATION PREVENTION AND RESPONSE.

01. Dissemination of Information. School districts and charter schools shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that information on harassment, intimidation and bullying of students is disseminated annually to all school personnel, parents and students. (2-18-16)T

02. Professional Development. The content of ongoing professional development for school staff related to bullying, harassment and intimidation shall include: (2-18-16)T

a. School philosophy regarding school climate and student behavior expectations; (2-18-16)T

b. Definitions of bullying, harassment, and intimidation; (2-18-16)T

c. School prevention strategies or programs including the identification of materials to be distributed annually to students and parents; (2-18-16)T

d. Expectations of staff intervention for bullying, harassment, and intimidation; (2-18-16)T

e. School process for responding to bullying, harassment, and intimidation including the reporting process for students and staff, investigation protocol, the involvement of law enforcement, related student support services and parental involvement; and (2-18-16)T

f. Other topics as determined appropriate by the school district or charter school. (2-18-16)T

03. Graduated Consequences. Graduated consequences for a student who commits acts of bullying, harassment, and intimidation shall include a series of measures proportional to the act(s) committed and appropriate to the severity of the violation as determined by the school board of trustees, school administrators, or designated personnel depending upon the level of discipline. Graduated consequences should be in accordance with the nature of the behavior, the developmental age of the student, and the student’s history of problem behaviors and performance. (2-18-16)T

a. Graduated consequences may include, but are not limited to: (2-18-16)T

i. Meeting with the school counselor; (2-18-16)T

ii. Meeting with the school principal and student's parents or guardian; (2-18-16)T

iii. Detention, suspension or special programs; and (2-18-16)T

iv. Expulsion. (2-18-16)T

b. The graduated consequences are not intended to prevent or prohibit the referral of a student who commits acts of harassment, intimidation or bullying to available outside counseling services, and/or to law enforcement pursuant to Section 18-917A, Idaho Code. (2-18-16)T

c. Students with disabilities may be afforded additional protections under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act; school districts and charter schools shall comply with applicable state and federal law when disciplining students with individualized education programs (IEPs) or 504 plans for committing acts of bullying, harassment, and intimidation. (2-18-16)T

04. Intervention. School district and charter school employees are authorized and expected to intervene or facilitate intervention on behalf of students facing harassment, intimidation, and bullying. Intervention shall be reasonably calculated to: (2-18-16)T

a. Correct the problem behavior; (2-18-16)T

b. Prevent another occurrence of the problem; (2-18-16)T

c. Protect and provide support for the victim of the act; and (2-18-16)T

d. Take corrective action for documented systemic problems related to harassment, intimidation, or bullying. (2-18-16)T

05. Reporting. Annual reporting will occur at the end of the school year through an aggregate report identifying the total number of bullying incidents by school districts and charter schools, grade level, gender, and repeat offenders. The State Department of Education shall provide school districts and charter schools with the guidelines and forms for reporting. (2-18-16)T

120. LOCAL DISTRICT EVALUATION POLICY -- TEACHER AND PUPIL PERSONNEL CERTIFICATE HOLDERS.

Each school district board of trustees will develop and adopt policies for teacher performance evaluation using multiple measures in which criteria and procedures for the evaluation of certificated personnel are research based and aligned to Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition domains and components of instruction. The process of developing criteria and procedures for certificated personnel evaluation will allow opportunities for input from those affected by the evaluation; i.e., trustees, administrators, teachers, and parents. The evaluation policy will be a matter of public record and communicated to the certificated personnel for whom it is written. (3-20-14)

01. Standards. Each district evaluation model shall be aligned to state minimum standards that are based on Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching Second Edition domains and components of instruction. Those domains and components include: (3-29-10)

a. Domain 1 - Planning and Preparation: (3-29-10)

i. Demonstrating Knowledge of Content and Pedagogy; (3-29-10)

ii. Demonstrating Knowledge of Students; (3-29-10)

iii. Setting Instructional Outcomes; (3-20-14)

iv. Demonstrating Knowledge of Resources; (3-29-10)

v. Designing Coherent Instruction; and (3-29-10)

vi. Designing Student Assessments. (3-29-12)

b. Domain 2 - The Classroom Environment: (3-29-12)

i. Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport; (3-29-10)

ii. Establishing a Culture for Learning; (3-29-10)

iii. Managing Classroom Procedures; (3-29-10)

iv. Managing Student Behavior; and (3-29-10)

v. Organizing Physical Space. (3-29-10)

c. Domain 3 - Instruction and Use of Assessment: (3-29-10)

i. Communicating with Students; (3-29-12)

ii. Using Questioning and Discussion Techniques; (3-29-10)

iii. Engaging Students in Learning; (3-29-10)

iv. Using Assessment in Instruction; and (3-29-12)

v. Demonstrating Flexibility and Responsiveness. (3-29-12)

d. Domain 4 - Professional Responsibilities: (3-29-10)

i. Reflecting on Teaching; (3-29-10)

ii. Maintaining Accurate Records; (3-29-10)

iii. Communicating with Families; (3-29-10)

iv. Participating in a Professional Community; (3-29-12)

v. Growing and Developing Professionally; and (3-29-10)

vi. Showing Professionalism. (3-29-10)

02. Professional Practice. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2013, all certificated instructional employees must receive an evaluation in which at least sixty-seven percent (67%) of the evaluation results are based on Professional Practice. All measures included within the Professional Practice portion of the evaluation must be aligned to the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition. The measures included within the Professional Practice portion of the evaluation shall include a minimum of two (2) documented observations annually, with at least one (1) observation being completed by January 1 of each year. In situations where certificated personnel are unavailable for two (2) documented classroom observations, due to situations such as long-term illness, late year hire, etc., one (1) documented classroom observation is acceptable. District evaluation models shall also include at least one (1) of the following as a measure to inform the Professional Practice portion of all certificated instructional employee evaluations: (4-11-15

a. Parent/guardian input; (3-20-14)

b. Student input; and/or (3-20-14)

c. Portfolios. (3-20-14)

03. Student Achievement. ~~For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2013, all certificated instructional employees, principals and superintendents must receive an evaluation in which at least thirty-three percent (33%) of the evaluation results are based on multiple objective measures of growth in student achievement as determined by the board of trustees and based upon research. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2014,~~ Instructional staff evaluation results must include ~~growth in~~measurable student achievement, as defined in Section 33-1001, Idaho Code, ~~as measured by Idaho's statewide assessment for Federal accountability purposes must be included~~as applicable to the subjects and grade ranges taught by the instructional staff. All other certificated staff evaluations must include measurable student achievement or student success indicators, as defined in Section 33-1001, Idaho Code, as applicable to the position. This portion of the evaluation may be calculated using current and/or past year's data and may use one (1) or multiple years of data. Growth in student achievement may be considered as an optional measure for all other school based and district based staff, as determined by the local board of trustees. (3-20-14)

04. Participants. Each district evaluation policy will include provisions for evaluating all certificated employees identified in Section 33-1001, Idaho Code, Subsection 16. Evaluations shall be differentiated for certificated non-instructional employees and pupil personnel certificate holders in a way that aligns with the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition to the extent possible. Policies for evaluating certificated employees should identify the differences, if any, in the conduct of evaluations for nonrenewable contract personnel and renewable contract personnel. (3-20-14)

05. Evaluation Policy - Content. Local school district policies will include, at a minimum, the following information: (4-1-97)

a. Purpose -- statements that identify the purpose or purposes for which the evaluation is being conducted; e.g., individual instructional improvement, personnel decisions. (4-1-97)

b. Evaluation criteria -- statements of the general criteria upon which certificated personnel will be evaluated. (4-1-97)

c. Evaluator -- identification of the individuals responsible for appraising or evaluating certificated instructional staff and pupil personnel performance. The individuals assigned this responsibility shall have received training in evaluation and prior to September 1, 2018, shall demonstrate proof of proficiency in conducting observations and evaluating effective teacher performance by passing a proficiency assessment approved by the State Department of Education as a onetime recertification requirement. (3-20-14)

d. Sources of data -- description of the sources of data used in conducting certificated personnel evaluations. For certificated instructional staff, a minimum of two (2) documented classroom observations shall be included as one (1) source of data. At least one (1) of those observations must be completed prior to January 1 of each year. In situations where certificated personnel are unavailable for two (2) documented classroom observations, due to situations such as long-term illness, late year hire, etc., one (1) documented classroom observation is acceptable. Parent/guardian input, student input and/or portfolios shall be considered as sources of data to support professional practice. (4-11-15)

e. Procedure -- description of the procedure used in the conduct of certificated personnel evaluations. (4-1-97)

f. Communication of results -- the method by which certificated personnel are informed of the results of evaluation. (4-1-97)

g. Personnel actions -- the action available to the school district as a result of the evaluation and the procedures for implementing these actions; e.g., job status change. Note: in the event the action taken as a result of evaluation is to not renew an individual's contract or to renew an individual's contract at a reduced rate, school districts should take proper steps to follow the procedures outlined in Sections 33-513 through 33-515, Idaho Code in order to assure the due process rights of all personnel. (3-20-14)

h. Appeal -- the procedure available to the individual for appeal or rebuttal when disagreement exists regarding the results of certificated personnel evaluations. (4-1-97)

i. Remediation -- the procedure available to provide remediation in those instances where remediation is determined to be an appropriate course of action. (4-1-97)

j. Monitoring and evaluation. -- A description of the method used to monitor and evaluate the district's personnel evaluation system. (4-1-97)

k. Professional development and training -- a plan for ongoing training for evaluators/administrators and teachers on the districts evaluation standards, tool and process. (3-29-10)

l. Funding -- a plan for funding ongoing training and professional development for administrators in evaluation. (3-29-10)

m. Collecting and using data -- a plan for collecting and using data gathered from the evaluation tool that will be used to inform professional development. Aggregate data shall be considered as part of the district and individual schools Needs Assessment in determining professional development offerings. (3-20-14)

n. Individualizing teacher evaluation rating system -- a plan for how evaluations will be used to identify proficiency and record growth over time. No later than July 1, 2013, districts shall have established an individualized teacher evaluation rating system with a minimum of three (3) rankings used to differentiate performance of teachers and pupil personnel certificate holders including: (3-20-14)

i. Unsatisfactory being equal to "1"; (3-20-14)

ii. Basic being equal to "2"; and (3-20-14)

iii. Proficient being equal to "3". (3-20-14)

o. A plan for including all stakeholders including, but not limited to, teachers, board members, administrators, and parents in the development and ongoing review of their teacher evaluation plan. (3-20-14)

06. Evaluation Policy - Frequency of Evaluation. The evaluation policy shall include a provision for evaluating all certificated personnel on a fair and consistent basis. (3-20-14)

07. Evaluation Policy - Personnel Records. Permanent records of each certificated personnel evaluation will be maintained in the employee's personnel file. All evaluation records will be kept confidential within the parameters identified in federal and state regulations regarding the right to privacy (Section 33-518, Idaho Code). Local school districts shall report the rankings of individual certificated personnel evaluations to the State Department of Education annually for State and Federal reporting purposes. The State Department of Education shall ensure that the privacy of all certificated personnel is protected by not releasing statistical data of evaluation rankings in local school districts with fewer than five (5) teachers and by only reporting that information in the aggregate by local school district. (3-20-14)

08. Evaluation System Approval. Each school district board of trustees will develop and adopt policies for teacher and pupil personnel certificated performance evaluation in which criteria and procedures for the evaluation are research based and aligned with the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition. By July 1, 2014, an evaluation plan which incorporates all of the above elements shall be submitted to the State Department of Education for approval. Once approved, subsequent changes made in the evaluation system shall be resubmitted for approval. (3-20-14)

121. LOCAL DISTRICT EVALUATION POLICY - SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

For principal evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2014, each school district board of trustees will develop and adopt policies for principal performance evaluation using multiple measures in which criteria and procedures for the evaluation of administratively certificated personnel serving as school principal are research based and aligned to the standards and requirements outlined in Subsections 121.01 through 121.07 of this rule. Districts must, at a minimum, pilot such an evaluation during the 2013-2014 school year and report the results of that pilot to the State Department of Education no later than July 1, 2014, in a format determined by the Department. The process of developing criteria and procedures for principal evaluation will allow opportunities for input from those affected by the evaluation; i.e., trustees, administrators, teachers and parents. The evaluation policy will be a matter of public record and communicated to the principal for whom it is written. (3-20-14)

01. Standards. Each district principal evaluation model shall be aligned to state minimum standards based on the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) standards and include proof of proficiency in conducting teacher evaluations using the state's adopted model, the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition. Proof of proficiency in evaluating teacher performance shall be required of all individuals assigned the responsibility for appraising, observing, or evaluating certificated personnel performance. Those responsible for measuring teacher performance are district leadership such as principals, assistant principals, special education directors, and superintendents. Proof of proficiency in evaluating performance shall be demonstrated by passing a proficiency assessment approved by the State Department of Education as a onetime recertification requirement prior to September 1, 2018. Principal evaluation standards shall additionally address the following domains and components: (4-11-15)

a. Domain 1: School Climate - An educational leader promotes the success of all students by advocating, nurturing and sustaining a school culture and instructional program conducive to student learning and staff professional development. An educational leader articulates and promotes high expectations for teaching and learning while responding to diverse community interest and needs. (3-20-14)

ii. Communication - Principal is proactive in communicating the vision and goals of the school or district, the plans for the future, and the successes and challenges to all stakeholders. (3-20-14)

iii. Advocacy - Principal advocates for education, the district and school, teachers, parents, and students that engenders school support and involvement. (3-20-14)

b. Domain 2: Collaborative Leadership - An educational leader promotes the success of all students by ensuring management of the organization, operations and resources for a safe, efficient and effective learning environment. In collaboration with others, uses appropriate data to establish rigorous, concrete goals in the context of student achievement and instructional programs. The educational leader uses research and/or best practices in improving the education program. (3-20-14)

i. Shared Leadership - Principal fosters shared leadership that takes advantage of individual expertise, strengths, and talents, and cultivates professional growth. (3-20-14)

ii. Priority Management - Principal organizes time and delegates responsibilities to balance administrative/managerial, educational, and community leadership priorities. (3-20-14)

iii. Transparency - Principal seeks input from stakeholders and takes all perspectives into consideration when making decisions. (3-20-14)

iv. Leadership Renewal - Principal strives to continuously improve leadership skills through, professional development, self-reflection, and utilization of input from others. (3-20-14)

v. Accountability - Principal establishes high standards for professional, legal, ethical, and fiscal accountability for self and others. (3-20-14)

c. Domain 3: Instructional Leadership - An educational leader promotes the success of all students by facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a vision of learning that is shared and supported by the school community. The educational leader provides leadership for major initiatives and change efforts and uses research and/or best practices in improving the education program. (3-20-14)

i. Innovation - Principal seeks and implements innovative and effective solutions that comply with general and special education law. (3-20-14)

ii. Instructional Vision - Principal insures that instruction is guided by a shared, research-based instructional vision that articulates what students do to effectively learn. (3-20-14)

iii. High Expectations - Principal sets high expectation for all students academically, behaviorally, and in all aspects of student well-being. (3-20-14)

iv. Continuous Improvement of Instruction - Principal has proof of proficiency in assessing teacher performance based upon the Charlotte Danielson Framework for Teaching Second Edition. Aligns resources, policies, and procedures toward continuous improvement of instructional practice guided by the instructional vision. (3-20-14)

v. Evaluation - Principal uses teacher/principal evaluation and other formative feedback mechanisms to continuously improve teacher/principal effectiveness. (3-20-14)

vi. Recruitment and Retention -Principal recruits and maintains a high quality staff. (3-20-14)

02. Professional Practice. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2014, all principals must receive an evaluation in which sixty-seven percent (67%) of the evaluation results are based on Professional Practice. All measures included within the Professional Practice portion of the evaluation must be aligned to the Domains and Components listed in Subsection 121.01.a. through 121.01.c. of this rule. As a measure to inform the Professional Practice portion of all principal evaluations, district evaluation models shall also include at least one (1) of the following: (3-20-14)

a. Parent/guardian input; (3-20-14)

b. Teacher input; (3-20-14)

c. Student input; and/or (3-20-14)

d. Portfolios. (3-20-14)

03. Student Achievement. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2013, all certificated instructional employees, principals and superintendents must receive an evaluation in which at least thirty-three percent (33%) of the evaluation results are based on multiple objective measures of growth in student achievement as determined by the board of trustees and based upon research. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2014, growth in student achievement as measured by Idaho's statewide assessment for Federal accountability purposes must be included. This portion of the evaluation may be calculated using current and/or past year's data and may use one (1) or multiple years of data. Growth in student achievement may be considered as an optional measure for all other school based and district based staff, as determined by the local board of trustees. (3-20-14)

04. Evaluation Policy - Content. For evaluations conducted on or after July 1, 2014, local school district policies will include, at a minimum, the following information: (3-20-14)

a. Purpose -- statements that identify the purpose or purposes for which the evaluation is being conducted; e.g., individual instructional leadership, personnel decisions. (3-20-14)

b. Evaluation criteria -- statements of the general criteria upon which principals be evaluated. (3-20-14)

c. Evaluator -- identification of the individuals responsible for appraising or evaluating principal performance. The individuals assigned this responsibility shall have received training in evaluation. (3-20-14)

d. Sources of data -- description of the sources of data used in conducting principal evaluations. Proficiency in conducting observations and evaluating effective teacher performance shall be included as one (1) source of data. (3-20-14)

e. Procedure -- description of the procedure used in the conduct of principal evaluations. (3-20-14)

f. Communication of results -- the method by which principals are informed of the results of evaluation. (3-20-14)

g. Personnel actions -- the action, available to the school district as a result of the evaluation, and the procedures for implementing these actions; e.g., job status change. (3-20-14)

h. Appeal -- the procedure available to the individual for appeal or rebuttal when disagreement exists regarding the results of an evaluations. (3-20-14)

i. Remediation -- the procedure available to provide remediation in those instances where remediation is determined to be an appropriate course of action. (3-20-14)

j. Monitoring and evaluation. -- A description of the method used to monitor and evaluate the district's principal evaluation system. (3-20-14)

k. Professional development and training -- a plan for ongoing training and professional learning based upon the district's evaluation standards and process. (3-20-14)

l. Funding -- a plan for funding ongoing training and professional development for evaluators of principals. (3-20-14)

m. Collecting and using data -- a plan for collecting and using data gathered from the evaluation tool that will be used to inform professional development for principals. (3-20-14)

n. Individualizing principal evaluation rating system -- a plan for how evaluations will be used to identify proficiency and record growth over time. No later than July 1, 2014, districts shall have established an individualized principal evaluation rating system with a minimum of three rankings used to differentiate performance of principals including: (3-20-14)

i. Unsatisfactory being equal to "1"; (3-20-14)

ii. Basic being equal to "2"; and (3-20-14)

iii. Proficient being equal to "3". (3-20-14)

o. A plan for including stakeholders including, but not limited to, teachers, board members, administrators, and parents in the development and ongoing review of their principal evaluation plan. (3-20-14)

05. Evaluation Policy - Frequency of Evaluation. The evaluation policy should include a provision for evaluating all principals on a fair and consistent basis. All principals shall be evaluated at least once annually no later than ~~May~~June 1 of each year. (3-20-14)

06. Evaluation Policy - Personnel Records. Permanent records of each principal evaluation will be maintained in the employee's personnel file. All evaluation records will be kept confidential within the parameters identified in federal and state regulations regarding the right to privacy (Section 33-518, Idaho Code). Local school districts shall report the rankings of individual certificated personnel evaluations to the State Department of Education annually for State and Federal reporting purposes. The State Department of Education shall ensure that the privacy of all certificated personnel is protected by not releasing statistical data of evaluation rankings in local school districts ~~with fewer than five (5) teachers and by only reporting that information in the aggregate by local school district.~~in accordance with the approved policies of the Idaho State Board of Education Data Management Council. (3-20-14)

07. Evaluation System Approval. Each school district board of trustees will develop and adopt policies for principal performance evaluation in which criteria and procedures for the evaluation are research based and aligned with state standards. By July 1, 2014, an evaluation plan which incorporates all of the above elements shall be submitted to the State Department of Education for approval. Once approved, subsequent changes made in the evaluation system shall be resubmitted for approval. (3-20-14)

122. -- 129. (RESERVED)

130. SCHOOL FACILITIES.
Each school facility consists of the site, buildings, equipment, services, and is a critical factor in carrying out educational programs. The focus of concern in each school facility is the provision of a variety of instructional activities and programs, with the health and safety of all persons essential. (4-1-97)

01. Buildings. All school buildings, including portable or temporary buildings, will be designed and built in conformance with the current edition of the codes specified in the Idaho Building Code Act, Section 39-4109, Idaho Code, including, the National Electrical Code, Uniform Plumbing Code, and Idaho General Safety and Health Standards. All school buildings, including portable or temporary buildings, will meet other more stringent requirements established in applicable local building codes. (3-16-04)

02. Inspection of Buildings. All school buildings, including portable or temporary buildings, will be inspected as provided in Section 39-4130, Idaho Code, for compliance with applicable codes. Following this inspection, the school district will, within twenty (20) days, (1) correct any deficiencies specified in the inspection report or (2), if the corrective action involves structural modification, file a written plan with the inspecting agency for correction by the beginning of the following school year. (4-1-97)

131. -- 139. (RESERVED)

140. ACCREDITATION.
All public secondary schools, serving any grade(s) 9-12, will be accredited. Accreditation is voluntary for elementary schools, grades K-8, private and parochial schools, and alternative schools not identified in Subsection 140.01.a. through 140.01.e. of this rule. (Section 33- 119, Idaho Code) (3-20-14)

01. Alternative Schools. Beginning with the 2014-15 school year, an alternative school serving any grade(s) 9-12 that meets any three (3) of the criteria in Subsections 140.01.a. through 140.01.e. of this rule, shall be required to be accredited. An alternative school that does not meet three (3) of the following criteria in Subsections 140.01.a. through 140.01.e. shall be considered as an alternative program by the district board of trustees and shall be included in the accreditation process and reporting of another secondary school within the district for the purposes of meeting the intent of this rule. (3-20-14)

a. School has an Average Daily Attendance greater than or equal to 36 students based on previous years enrollment; (3-20-14)

b. School enrolls any students full-time for the school year once eligibility determination is made as opposed to schools that enroll students for "make-up" or short periods of time; (3-20-14)

c. School offers an instructional model that is different than that provided by the traditional high school within the district for a majority of the coursework, including but not limited to online/virtual curriculum; (3-20-14)

d. School administers diplomas that come from that alternative school as opposed to students receiving a diploma from the traditional high school within the school district; or (3-20-14)

e. School receives its own accountability rating for federal reporting purposes. (3-20-14)

02. Continuous School Improvement Plan. Schools will develop continuous school improvement plans focused on the improvement of student performance. (4-2-08)

03. Standards. Schools will meet the accreditation standards of the Northwest Accreditation Commission. (3-29-12)

04. Reporting. An annual accreditation report will be submitted to the State Board of Education. (4-2-08)

141. -- 149. (RESERVED)

150. TRANSPORTATION.
Minimum School Bus Construction Standards. All new school bus chassis and bodies must meet or exceed Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations as incorporated in Section 004 of these rules and as authorized in Section 33-1511, Idaho Code. (5-8-09)

151. -- 159. (RESERVED)

160. MAINTENANCE STANDARDS AND INSPECTIONS.

01. Safety. School buses will be maintained in a safe operating condition at all times. Certain equipment or parts of a school bus that are critical to its safe operation must be maintained at prescribed standards. When routine maintenance checks reveal any unsafe condition identified in the Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations as incorporated in Section 004 of these rules the school district will eliminate the deficiency before returning the vehicle to service. (5-8-09)

02. Annual Inspection. After completion of the annual school bus inspection, and if the school bus is approved for operation, an annual inspection sticker, indicating the year and month of inspection, will be placed in the lower, right-hand corner of the right side front windshield. The date indicated on the inspection sticker shall correlate to State Department of Education's annual school bus inspection certification report signed by pupil transportation maintenance personnel and countersigned by the district superintendent. (Section 33-1506, Idaho Code) (7-1-02)

03. Sixty-Day Inspections. At intervals of not more than sixty (60) calendar days, excluding documented out-of-use periods in excess of thirty (30) days, the board of trustees shall cause inspection to be made of each school bus operating under the authority of the board. Except that, no bus with a documented out-of-use period in excess of sixty (60) days shall be returned to service without first completing a documented sixty (60) day inspection. Annual inspections are considered dual purpose and also meet the sixty (60) day inspection requirement. (Section 33-1506, Idaho Code) (7-1-04)

04. Documentation of Inspection. All inspections will be documented in writing. Annual inspections must be documented in writing on the form provided by the State Department of Education. (4-1-97)

05. Unsafe Vehicle. When a bus has been removed from service during a State Department of Education inspection due to an unsafe condition, the district will notify the State Department of Education on the appropriate form before the bus can be returned to service. When a bus has been found to have deficiencies that are not life-threatening, it will be repaired within thirty (30) days and the State Department of Education notified on the appropriate form. If the deficiencies cannot be repaired within thirty (30) days, the bus must be removed from service until the deficiencies have been corrected or an extension granted. (7-1-02)

06. Withdraw from Service Authority. Subsequent to any federal, national, or state advisory with good cause given therefor, the district shall, under the direction of the State Department of Education, withdraw from service any bus determined to be deficient in any prescribed school bus construction standard intended to safeguard life or minimize injury. No bus withdrawn from service under the provisions of this section shall be returned to service or used to transport students unless the district submits to the State Department of Education a certification of compliance specific to the school bus construction standard in question. (Section 33-1506, Idaho Code) (7-1-04)

161. -- 169. (RESERVED)

170. SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS AND VEHICLE OPERATION.
All school districts and school bus drivers must meet or exceed the training, performance and operation requirements delineated in the Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations as incorporated in Section 004 of these rules. (Section 33-1508; 33-1509, Idaho Code) (5-8-09)

171. -- 179. (RESERVED)

180. WRITTEN POLICY.
The board of trustees will establish and adopt a set of written policies governing the pupil transportation system. Each school district that provides activity bus transportation for pupils shall have comprehensive policies and guidelines regarding activity transportation. (7-1-02)

181. -- 189. (RESERVED)

190. PROGRAM OPERATIONS.
School district fiscal reporting requirements as well as reimbursable and non-reimbursable costs within the Pupil Transportation Support Program, including but not limited to administration, field and activity trips, safety busing, contracting for transportation services, leasing of district-owned buses, insurance, ineligible and non-public school students, ineligible vehicles, capital investments including the purchasing of school buses and equipment, program support and district waiver procedures shall be delineated in Standards for Idaho School Buses and Operations incorporated in Section 004 of these rules. (Section 33-1006, Idaho Code) (5-8-09)

191. -- 219. (RESERVED)

220. RELEASE TIME PROGRAM FOR ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS.
In the view of the State Board of Education, public elementary and secondary school programs that permit the practice of releasing students from school for the purpose of attending classes in religious education or for other purposes should observe certain practices that are in keeping with the present state of the law. These practices are designed to ensure that the public school operation is not adversely affected and that public funds and property are not used for sectarian religious instruction in a way which violates the United States Constitution, the Idaho State Constitution, or state law. These practices should include the following: (Section 33-519, Idaho Code) (4-1-97)

01. Scheduling. The local school board will have reasonable discretion over the scheduling and timing of the release program. Release time programs may not interfere with the scheduling of classes, activities and programs of the public schools. (4-1-97)

02. Voluntary Decision. The decision of a school district to permit release time programs for kindergarten through grade eight (K-8), as well as the decision of individual students to participate, must be purely voluntary. (4-1-97)

03. Time Limit. Release time will be scheduled upon the application of a parent or guardian of a student in grades nine through twelve (9-12), not to exceed five (5) periods per week or one hundred sixty-five (165) hours during any one (1) academic school year. (4-1-97)

04. Location. Release time programs will be conducted away from public school buildings and public school property. (4-1-97)

05. Request by Parent. No student will be permitted to leave the school grounds during the school day to attend release time programs except upon written request from a parent or guardian filed with the school principal. Such written request by the parent will become a part of the student's permanent record. (4-1-97)

06. Record Maintenance. The public school will not be responsible for maintaining attendance records for a student who, upon written request of a parent or guardian, is given permission to leave the school grounds to attend a release time program. The school district will maintain a record of each student's daily schedule that indicates when a student is released for classes in religious education or for other purposes. (4-1-97)

07. Liability. The school district is responsible for ensuring that no public school property, public funds or other public resources are used in any way to operate these programs. The school district is not liable for any injury, act or event occurring while the student participates in such programs. (4-1-97)

08. Course Credit. No credit will be awarded by the school or district for satisfactory completion by a student of a course or courses in release time for religious instruction. Credit may be granted for other purposes, at the discretion of the local school board. (4-1-97)

09. Separation From Public Schools. Public schools will not include schedules of classes for release time programs in school catalogs, registration forms or any other regularly printed public school material. Registration for release time programs must occur off school premises, and must be done on forms and supplies furnished by the group or institution offering the program. Teachers of release time programs are not to be considered members of any public school faculty and should not be asked to participate as faculty members in any school functions or to assume responsibilities for operation of any part of the public school program. (4-1-97)

10. Transportation Liability. Public schools and school districts will not be liable or responsible for the health, safety and welfare of students while they are being transported to and from or participating in release time programs. (4-1-97)

221. -- 229. (RESERVED)

230. DRIVER EDUCATION.
Public Schools. Pursuant to Section 004 of these rules, all public driver education courses offered in Idaho public schools must be conducted in compliance with all the requirements in the Operating Procedures for Idaho Public Driver Education Programs, as incorporated. (4-7-11)

231. -- 239. (RESERVED)

240. JUVENILE DETENTION CENTERS.

01. Definition of Terms. (4-1-97)

a. Juvenile Detention Centers: Facilities that provide for the temporary care of children, as defined in the Juvenile Justice Reform Corrections Act, who require secure custody, for their own or the community's protection, in physically restricting facilities pending court disposition or subsequent to court disposition. (Section 33-2009, Idaho Code) (4-1-97)

b. Juvenile Offender: A person, as defined in the Juvenile Justice Reform Act, who has been petitioned or adjudicated for a delinquent act that would constitute a felony or misdemeanor if committed by an adult. (4-1-97)

02. Instructional Program. Every public school district in the state within which is located a public or private detention facility housing juvenile offenders pursuant to court order will provide an instructional program. The instructional program will: (4-1-97)

a. Provide course work that meets the minimum requirements of Idaho State Board of Education Rules. (4-1-97)

b. Provide instruction in the core of instruction. (4-1-97)

c. Include the following components, where appropriate: self-concept improvement, social adjustment, physical fitness/personal health, vocational/occupational, adult living skills, and counseling. (4-1-97)

d. Provide instruction and guidance that may lead to a high school diploma. School districts will accept such instruction for purposes of issuing credit when the detention center certifies to the school that the appropriate work is completed. (4-1-97)

e. Be directed by an instructor who holds an appropriate, valid certificate. (4-1-97)

f. Be provided to each student not later than two (2) school days after admission and continue until the student is released from the detention center. (4-1-97)

g. Be provided to students who have attained "school age" as defined in Idaho Code 33-201. (4-1-97)

h. Be provided for a minimum of four (4) hours during each school day. (4-1-97)

i. Be based on the needs and abilities of each student. The resident school district will provide pertinent status information as requested by the Juvenile Detention Center. (4-1-97)

j. Be coordinated with the instructional program at the school the student attends, where appropriate. (4-1-97)

k. Be provided in a facility that is adequate for instruction and study. (4-1-97)

03. State Funding of Instructional Programs at Juvenile Detention Centers. (4-1-97)

a. Every student housed in a juvenile detention center pursuant to court order and participating in an instructional program provided by a public school district will be counted as an exceptional child by the district for purposes of state reimbursement. (4-1-97)

b. Public school districts that educate pupils placed by Idaho court order in juvenile detention centers will be eligible for an allowance equivalent to the previous year's certified local annual tuition rate per pupil. The district allowance will be in addition to support unit funding and included in the district apportionment payment. (4-1-97)

c. To qualify for state funding of instructional programs at Juvenile Detention Centers, school districts must apply for such funding on forms provided by the State Department of Education. Applications are subject to the review and approval of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. School districts will submit attendance and enrollment reports as required by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Juvenile Detention Centers will submit reports to the local school district as required. (4-1-97)

CAREER TECHNICAL EDUCATION

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03., Career Technical Education Secondary Programs – Content Standards

REFERENCE

June 2016	Board approved the career technical secondary program standards.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-118, Idaho Code
Section 33-1612, Idaho Code
Section 33-2211, Idaho Code
Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 08.02.03, Rules Governing Thoroughness

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Similar to academic programs, content standards exist for our career technical programs. These content standards are developed with secondary and postsecondary instructors and industry representatives. In the past, interested stakeholders were pulled together to determine the existing program content standards. This work set the basis for the technical program at the secondary level and prepares the foundation for secondary program testing. Postsecondary instructors provided guidance into the postsecondary program, and industry representatives validated the outcomes with current needs of the particular industry occupations supported by the program.

Once the technical standards and student learning outcomes were developed and vetted through the initial development team, the learning outcomes were shared with a larger group of industry representatives. The Division of Career Technical Education (Division) asked industry representatives to rank each learning outcome as to their importance in the workplace. Each learning outcome was then scored and reflected in the program Technical Skills Assessment based on the level of criticality established by the representative community.

Each secondary career-technical program is evaluated regularly by the Division and held to these standards. Currently these standards are standalone documents updated and maintained by the Division. Board approval and subsequent incorporation of these standards into administrative code will elevate the importance of these standards to the same level as academic content standards, provide continuity between those career technical content areas that are taught by academic instructors and career technical instructors, and provide for more transparency in the standards setting process when future updates are made.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule changes will add the Career Technical Education (CTE) content standards, approved by the Board at the June 2016 Board meeting, into administrative rule in a similar fashion as the existing academic content standards. The standards being incorporated are the existing CTE content standards that are currently being used by our secondary CTE programs.

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.105, Rules Governing Thoroughness – Graduation Requirement - Proficiency

REFERENCE

August 2015	Board approved Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.105, which addressed several outstanding issues with the language that were caused in part by the partial rejection of the pending rule approved by the Board in 2014.
November 2015	Board approved pending rule changes to IDAPA 08.02.03.105
April 2016	Board adopted recommendations from the Accountability Oversight Committee to remove the graduation ISAT proficiency requirement.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

IDAPA 08.02.03. Rules Governing Thoroughness, subsection 105.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

As part of the transition to the Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) developed by Smarter Balanced and currently administered by AIR, the Board had approved changes to the graduation proficiency requirement in 2014. These changes in part moved the proficiency grade level requirement from grade ten (10) to grade eleven (11), exempting those students graduating in 2016 and 2017 from having to show proficiency on the assessment to graduate and allowed those students who showed proficiency in grade nine (9) to bank their scores. The exemption for those students graduating in 2016 had been in place since 2014. During the 2015 legislative session, the pending rule exempting students graduating in 2017, as well as moving the assessment to grade eleven (11), was rejected. The Board promulgated rules in 2015 to provide for an exemption of the proficiency requirement for students who took the assessment in 2015 (during the baseline year) and made technical corrections that were made necessary due to the partial rejection by the legislature during the previous year. The proficiency requirement for graduation purposes was first established by the Board in 2003, and was added to Administrative Code effective 2004, and became effective for students starting on January 1, 2006.

Since those initial discussions in 2015, the Board's Accountability Oversight Committee has forwarded a recommendation to the Board asking the Board remove the graduation proficiency requirement in its entirety. The Board adopted that recommendation at the April 2016 Board meeting and directed staff to bring back a proposed rule to implement the recommendation.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.02.105.06 eliminate the proficiency in its entirety, elimination of the proficiency requirement includes the elimination of the alternate routes to proficiency as well. If accepted by the legislature high school students will no longer need to show proficiency on the ISAT to graduate and school districts will no longer need to submit alternate plans for graduation to the Board office.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule will eliminate the ISAT proficiency graduation requirement in its entirety.

105. HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS.
A student must meet all of the requirements identified in this section before the student will be eligible to graduate from an Idaho high school. The local school district or LEA may establish graduation requirements beyond the state minimum. (5-8-09)

01. Credit Requirements. The State minimum graduation requirement for all Idaho public high schools is forty-six (46) credits and must include twenty-nine (29) credits in core subjects as identified in Paragraphs 105.01.c. through 105.01.i. (3-12-14)

a. Credits. (Effective for all students who enter the ninth grade in the fall of 2010 or later.) One (1) credit shall equal sixty (60) hours of total instruction. School districts or LEA's may request a waiver from this provision by submitting a letter to the State Department of Education for approval, signed by the superintendent and chair of the board of trustees of the district or LEA. The waiver request shall provide information and documentation that substantiates the school district or LEA's reason for not requiring sixty (60) hours of total instruction per credit. (3-29-10)

b. Mastery. Notwithstanding the credit definition of subsection 01.a. ~~A~~a student may also achieve credits by demonstrating mastery of a subject's content standards as defined and approved by the local school district or LEA. (3-29-10)

c. Secondary Language Arts and Communication. Nine (9) credits are required. Eight (8) credits of instruction in Language Arts. Each year of Language Arts shall consist of language study, composition, and literature and be aligned to the Idaho Content Standards for the appropriate grade level. One (1) credit of instruction in communications consisting of oral communication and technological applications that includes a course in speech, a course in debate, or a sequence of instructional activities that meet the Idaho Speech Content Standards requirements. (3-29-10)

d. Mathematics. Six (6) credits are required. Secondary mathematics includes Applied Mathematics, Business Mathematics, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Fundamentals of Calculus, Probability and Statistics, Discrete Mathematics, and courses in mathematical problem solving and reasoning. AP Computer Science, Dual Credit Computer Science, and Dual Credit Engineering courses may also be counted as a mathematics credit if the student has completed Algebra II standards. Students who choose to take AP Computer Science, Dual Credit Computer Science, and Dual Credit Engineering may not concurrently count such courses as both a math and science credit. (3-12-14)

i. Students must complete secondary mathematics in the following areas: (3-12-14)

(1) Two (2) credits of Algebra I or courses that meet the Idaho Algebra I Content Standards as approved by the State Department of Education; (3-29-10)

(2) Two (2) credits of Geometry or courses that meet the Idaho Geometry Content Standards as approved by the State Department of Education; and (3-29-10)

(3) Two (2) credits of mathematics of the student's choice. (3-29-10)

ii. Two (2) credits of the required six (6) credits of mathematics must be taken in the last year of high school in which the student intends to graduate. For the purposes of this subsection, the last year of high school shall include the summer preceding the fall start of classes. Students who return to school during the summer or the following fall of the next year for less than a full schedule of courses due to failing to pass a course other than math are not required to retake a math course as long as they have earned six (6) credits of high school level mathematics. (3-12-14)

iii. Students who have completed six (6) credits of math prior to the fall of their last year of high school, including at least two (2) semesters of an Advanced Placement or dual credit calculus or higher level course, are exempt from taking math during their last year of high school. High School math credits completed in middle school shall count for the purposes of this section. (3-12-14)

e. Science. Six (6) credits are required, four (4) of which will be laboratory based. Secondary sciences include instruction in applied sciences, earth and space sciences, physical sciences, and life sciences. Up to two (2) credits in AP Computer Science, Dual Credit Computer Science, and Dual Credit Engineering may be used as science credits. Students who choose to take AP Computer Science, Dual Credit Computer Science, and Dual Credit Engineering may not concurrently count such courses as both a math and science credit. (3-12-14)

i. Secondary sciences include instruction in the following areas: biology, physical science or chemistry, and earth, space, environment, or approved applied science. Four (4) credits of these courses must be laboratory based. (3-29-10)

f. Social Studies. Five (5) credits are required, including government (two (2) credits), United States history (two (2) credits), and economics (one (1) credit). Courses such as geography, sociology, psychology, and world history may be offered as electives, but are not to be counted as a social studies requirement. (3-29-10)

g. Humanities. Two (2) credits are required. Humanities courses include instruction in visual arts, music, theatre, dance, or world language aligned to the Idaho content standards for those subjects. Other courses such as literature, history, philosophy, architecture, or comparative world religions may satisfy the humanities standards if the course is aligned to the Idaho Interdisciplinary Humanities Content Standards. (3-29-10)

h. Health/Wellness. One (1) credit is required. Course must be aligned to the Idaho Health Content Standards. Effective for all public school students who enter grade nine (9) in Fall 2015 or later, each student shall receive a minimum of one (1) class period on psychomotor cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training as outlined in the American Heart Association (AHA) Guidelines for CPR to include the proper utilization of an automatic external defibrillator (AED) as part of the Health/Wellness course. (3-12-14)

i. Students participating in one (1) season in any sport recognized by the Idaho High School Activities Association or club sport recognized by the local school district, or eighteen (18) weeks of a sport recognized by the local school district may choose to substitute participation up to one (1) credit of physical education. Students must show mastery of the content standards for Physical Education in a format provided by the school district. (4-1-15)

02. Content Standards. Each student shall meet locally established subject area standards (using state content standards as minimum requirements) demonstrated through various measures of accountability including examinations or other measures. (3-29-10)

03. College Entrance Examination. (Effective for all public school students who enter grade nine (9) in Fall 2012 or later.) (3-12-14)

a. A student must take one (1) of the following college entrance examinations before the end of the student's eleventh grade year: SAT or ACT. Students graduating prior to 2017 may also use the Compass to meet this requirement. A student who misses the statewide administration of the college exam during the student's grade eleven (11) for one (1) of the following reasons, may take the examination during their grade twelve (12) to meet this requirement: (3-25-16)

i. Transferred to an Idaho school district during grade eleven (11); (3-12-14)

ii. Was homeschooled during grade eleven (11); or (3-12-14)

iii. Missed the spring statewide administration of the college entrance exam dates for documented medical reasons. (3-12-14)

b. A student may elect an exemption in grade eleven (11) from the college entrance exam requirement if the student is: (3-12-14)

i. Enrolled in a special education program and has an Individual Education Plan (IEP) that specifies accommodations not allowed for a reportable score on the approved tests; (3-12-14)

ii. Enrolled in a Limited English Proficient (LEP) program for three (3) academic years or less; or (3-12-14)

iii. Enrolled for the first time in grade twelve (12) at an Idaho high school after the fall statewide administration of the college entrance exam. (4-1-15)

04. Senior Project. A student must complete a senior project by the end of grade twelve (12). The project must include a written report and an oral presentation. Additional requirements for a senior project are at the discretion of the local school district or LEA. (3-12-14)

05. Middle School. A student will have met the high school content and credit area requirement for any high school course if the requirements outlined in Subsections 105.05.a. through 105.05.c. of this rule are met. (3-25-16)

a. The student completes such course with a grade of C or higher before entering grade nine (9); (3-12-14)

b. The course meets the same content standards that are required in high school for the same course; and (3-25-16)

c. The course is taught by a teacher properly certified to teach high school content and who meets the federal definition of highly qualified for the course being taught. (3-25-16)

d. The student shall be given a grade for the successful completion of that course and such grade and the number of credit hours assigned to the course shall be transferred to the student's high school transcript. Notwithstanding this requirement, the student's parent or guardian shall be notified in advance when credits are going to be transcribed and may elect to not have the credits and grade transferred to the student's high school transcript. Courses taken in middle school appearing in the student's high school transcript, pursuant to this subsection, shall count for the purpose of high school graduation. However, the student must complete the required number of credits in all high school core subjects as identified in Subsections 105.01.c. through 105.01.h. except as provided in 105.01.d.iii. The transcribing high school is required to verify the course meets the requirements specified in Subsections 105.05.a. through 105.05.b. of this rule. (3-25-16)

~~06. Proficiency. Each student must achieve a proficient or advanced score on the grade ten (10) Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) in math, reading and language usage in order to graduate unless specifically exempted from doing so as contained herein. Students who will graduate in 2016 and who received a proficient or advanced score on the grade ten (10) ISAT while in grade nine (9) may bank the score for purposes of meeting this graduation requirement. A student who does not attain at least a proficient score prior to graduation will be given an opportunity to demonstrate proficiency of the content standards through a locally established plan. School districts or LEAs shall adopt an alternate plan and provide notice of that plan to all students who have not achieved a proficient or advanced score on the grade ten (10) Idaho Standards Achievement Test prior to the fall semester of the student's junior year. All locally established alternate plans used to demonstrate proficiency shall be forwarded to the State Board of Education for review. Alternate plans that are not in conformance with the requirements of Subsection 105.06.b shall be returned to the LEA and must be resubmitted in conformance with the requirements contained herein prior to students attempting the alternate plan. Alternate plans must be promptly re-submitted to the Board whenever changes are made in such plans. The LEA must provide a descriptive summary of how each measure is aligned to the grade ten (10), or higher, state content standards and shows students proficiency. The Board may request plans to be submitted in a common format or request additional information as necessary to determine plans are in conformance with these rules. (3-25-16)~~

~~a. Before entering an alternate plan, the student must be: (3-25-16)~~

~~i. Enrolled in a special education program and have an Individual Education Plan (IEP); or (3-20-04)~~

~~ii. Enrolled in an Limited English Proficient (LEP) program for three (3) academic years or less; or (3-20-04)~~

~~iii. Enrolled in the fall semester of the senior year. (3-20-04)~~

~~b. The alternate plan must: (4-7-11)~~

~~i. Contain multiple measures of student achievement, if alternate paths are available to the student within the LEA's alternate plan, each path must contain multiple measures; (3-25-16)~~

~~ii. Be aligned at a minimum to tenth grade state content standards; (4-7-11)~~

~~iii. Be aligned to the state content standards for the subject matter in question; (4-7-11)~~

~~iv. Be valid and reliable; (3-25-16)~~

~~v. Ninety percent (90%) of the alternate plan criteria must be based on academic proficiency and performance; (3-25-16)~~

~~vi. At least one (1) measure must utilize an externally reviewed, validated assessment as the evaluation tool; and(3-25-16)~~

~~vii. Measures may not be duplicative of the State graduation requirements. (3-25-16)~~

~~c. A student is not required to achieve a proficient or advanced score on the ISAT if: (5-8-09)~~

~~i. The student received a proficient or advanced score on an exit exam from another state that requires a standards-based exam for graduation. The state's exit exam must approved by the State Board of Education and must measure skills at the tenth grade level and be in comparable subject areas to the ISAT; (5-8-09)~~

~~ii. The student completes another measure established by a school district or LEA and received by the Board as outlined in Subsection 105.06; or (3-29-10)~~

~~iii. The student has an IEP that outlines alternate requirements for graduation or adaptations are recommended on the test; (5-8-09)~~

~~iv. The student is considered an LEP student through a score determined on a language proficiency test and has been in an LEP program for three (3) academic years or less; (5-8-09)~~

~~v. The student will graduate in 2017 and completed the grade ten (10) ISAT in math, reading and language usage in 2015. (3-25-16)~~

~~d. Those students who will graduate in 2016 and have not received a proficient or advanced score on the ISAT in grade nine (9), will be required to complete an alternative plan for graduation, as designed by the district, including the elements prescribed in Subsection 105.06.b. and may enter the alternate path prior to the fall of their senior year. (3-12-14)~~

07. Special Education Students. A student who is eligible for special education services under the Individuals With Disabilities Education Improvement Act must, with the assistance of the student's Individualized Education Program (IEP) team, refer to the current Idaho Special Education Manual for guidance in addressing graduation requirements. (4-11-06)

08. Foreign Exchange Students. A foreign exchange student may be eligible for graduation by completing a comparable program as approved by the school district or LEA. (4-11-06)

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.105, Rules Governing Thoroughness – Graduation Requirement – Civics Proficiency

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-1602, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During the 2015 legislative session, changes were made to Section 33-1602, Idaho Code requiring students to show they could meet the Idaho civics and government content standards either through the "civics test" or an alternate measure determined by the school district. During the 2016 legislative session it was discovered that districts did not understand what was allowed under an alternate measure. During the 2016 legislative session additional amendments were made to Section 33-1602, Idaho Code specifying that the applicability of this subsection to a pupil who receives special education services is governed by the pupil's individualized education plan (IEP). While this language provided some additional clarification showing that the "alternate path determined by the school district" were different than provisions applied to student on an IEP, Board staff were asked to still provide additional clarification through administrative rule.

The proposed rule amendments would add a new section to IDAPA 08.02.03.105 clearly stating that in addition to the "civics test" defined in Section 33-1602, a school district may choose an alternate path through single or multiple measures for a student to show they have met the state civics and government content standards.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule would provide clarification on the alternate path a school district may use for measuring student civics proficiency.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the Pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Temporary rules go into effect at the time of Board approval unless an alternative effective date is specified by Board action. To qualify as a temporary rule, the rule must meet one of three criteria: provides protection of public health, safety, or welfare; or is to come into compliance with deadlines in amendments to governing law or federal programs; or is conferring a benefit. This rule qualifies as temporary rules as it brings the state in compliance with Section 33-1602, Idaho Code. The requirement will be applied for the first time to students graduating in the 2016-2017 school year.

Staff recommends approval.

105. HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS.
A student must meet all of the requirements identified in this section before the student will be eligible to graduate from an Idaho high school. The local school district or LEA may establish graduation requirements beyond the state minimum. (5-8-09)

(Break in Continuity of Sections)

05. Civics and Government Proficiency. Pursuant to Section 33-1602, Idaho Code each LEA may establish an alternate path for determining if a student has met the state civics and government content standards. Alternate paths are open to all students in grades 7 through 12. Any student who has been determined proficient in the state civics and government content standards either through the completion of the civics test or an alternate path shall have it noted on the student's high school transcript.

~~05~~06. Middle School. A student will have met the high school content and credit area requirement for any high school course if the requirements outlined in Subsections 105.05.a. through 105.05.c. of this rule are met. (3-25-16)

a. The student completes such course with a grade of C or higher before entering grade nine (9); (3-12-14)

b. The course meets the same content standards that are required in high school for the same course; and (3-25-16)

c. The course is taught by a teacher properly certified to teach high school content and who meets the federal definition of highly qualified for the course being taught. (3-25-16)

d. The student shall be given a grade for the successful completion of that course and such grade and the number of credit hours assigned to the course shall be transferred to the student's high school transcript. Notwithstanding this requirement, the student's parent or guardian shall be notified in advance when credits are going to be transcribed and may elect to not have the credits and grade transferred to the student's high school transcript. Courses taken in middle school appearing in the student's high school transcript, pursuant to this subsection, shall count for the purpose of high school graduation. However, the student must complete the required number of credits in all high school core subjects as identified in Subsections 105.01.c. through 105.01.h. except as provided in 105.01.d.iii. The transcribing high school is required to verify the course meets the requirements specified in Subsections 105.05.a. through 105.05.b. of this rule. (3-25-16)

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.03.111 through .114, Rules Governing Thoroughness – Comprehensive Assessment Program and Accountability Requirements

REFERENCE

August 2003	Board approved changes to Proposed Rule 08.02.03.112
June 2010	Board approved a one year waiver of IDAPA 08.02.03.111.07.b requiring the Department administer the Direct Math and Direct Writing Assessment
August 2010	Board approved temporary and propsed rule changes to IDAPA 08.02.03.111 requiring districts send out all assessment results within three weeks of receipt from the state
October 2011	Board approved pending rule changes to IDAPA 08.02.03.111
August 2011	Board approved a proposed rule amendment removing the reference to the Direct Math and Direct Writing Assessment from IDAPA 08.02.03.111, subsection 03, 06, and 07
October 2011	Board approved pending rule changes to IDAPA 08.02.03.111
August 2014	Board approved a one year waiver of 08.02.03.113. Reward Schools
January 2014	Board approved a one year waiver of 08.02.03.111.06 subsections j and k for one year
October 2015	Accountability Oversight Committee presented recommendations to the Board regarding changes to be made to the state's accountability system, in preparation for submission of a new ESEA waiver
February 2016	Board received an update on the timeline for the Accountability Oversight Committee to bring recommendations forward
April 2016	Accountability Oversight Committee presented recommendations to the Board regarding removal of the ISAT proficiency and college entrance exam graduation requirements. The Board adopted the recommendation that the ISAT proficiency graduation requirement be removed and rejected the recommendation that the college entrance exam graduation requirement be removed.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

IDAPA 08.02.03., Rules Governing Thoroughness, subsection 111 through 114

Elementary and Secondary Education Act as reauthorized by the Every Student Succeds Act.

BACKGROUND / DISCUSSION

The Board originally embarked on the creation of provisions assessment and accountability in 1997. Since that time there have been many changes at the state and federal level regarding assessments and accountability. In January 2016, the Planning, Policy and Governmental Affairs Committee charged the Accountability Oversight Committee (AOC) with bringing forward recommendations to the Board that were in alignment with the Task Force recommendations for a new state accountability system (Recommendation 5 – 2013) and would meet the federal accountability requirements (the Board will be considering those recommendations under a different agenda item). Once adopted, those recommendations need to be incorporated into changes to Administrative Code, specifically, IDAPA 08.02.03.111 through .113. The original timeline for these recommendations was scheduled for the June 2016 Board meeting, however, the committee felt it needed to have additional time to conduct a survey to gather broader public input. Due to the rulemaking deadlines this means that the propsoed amendments to administrative rule will have to be considered by the Board at the same meeting the Board is considering the recommendations themselves. The proposed rule approved by the Board will go through the standard rulemaking process. This includes a 21 day public comment period, potential changes to the rule based on those comments, final consideration by the Board in November 2016 of a pending rule and then consideration by the Legislature in 2017. Once accepted by the Legislature the rule would go into effect in the spring of 2017. The proposed amendments are based on the AOC recommendations. There will be an opportunity at the Board meeting to amend the proposed rule based on the provisions adopted by the Board at the August 2016 Board meeting.

The current timeline for implementing the Every Student Succeds Act (ESSA) requires states have accountability and assessment provisions in place for the 2017-2018 school year. The Board discussed at the February 2016 Board meeting the desire to have provisions in place for one year prior to the first year required under ESSA, this would allow the state to assure the data was being collected consistently and accurately as well as look at the data to make sure it was actually measuring the right things prior to a school being held accountable to these measures for federal accountability purposes.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.03.111 would make technical corrections that have been identified during the last year to the language around the requirements for the end of course science assessments and move the required administration of the Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) at the high school level to the 11th grade.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.03.112 would remove outdated terms like "Adequate Yearly Progress" while at the same time referencing state level progress will be set by the State Board of Education. Existing language regarding the participation rate and definitions of schools and subgroups would remain the same. Finally, the measures that make up the framework will be incorporated into the rule at the category level, definitions and format of data collected will be approved by the Board based on the Data Management Council recommendations and the specific details around the recommended growth model will be approved by the Board at a later date.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.03.113 would repeal the section in it's entirety. The current Distinguished School requirements were based on the Five Star system and are not applicable at this time. The Distinguished School awards were valued by the schools when granted and it is recommended that a new system be developed for recognizing and awarding high achieving schools by the Board, however, until that system is developed it is recommended that this section be repealed.

The proposed amendments to IDAPA 08.02.03.114 would make technical corrections, updating languge to current references, however, it would not be substantially changed at this time.

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule is the first step in implementing a new accountability for the State of Idaho.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rule prior to entering the pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted if they are not rejected by the Legislature.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve changes to proposed rule IDAPA 08.02.03.111, 112, 113, and 114, as submitted in Attachment 1.

(BREAK IN CONTINUITY OF SECTIONS)

007. DEFINITIONS A - G.

01. Achievement Standards. Define "below basic," "basic," "proficient," and "advanced" achievement levels on the Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (ISAT) and ~~"beginning," "advanced beginning," "intermediate," "early fluent" and "fluent"~~level 1 through level 6 on ~~the~~ Idaho's English ~~L~~language ~~A~~assessment ~~(IELA)~~ by setting scale score cut points. These cut scores are paired with descriptions of how well students are mastering the material in the content standards. These descriptions are called performance level descriptors or PLDs, and are provided by performance level, by content area, and by grade. (4-2-08)

02. Advanced Opportunities. Are defined as Advanced Placement courses, Dual Credit courses, Technical Competency Credit, or International Baccalaureate programs. (3-25-16)

03. Advanced Placement® (AP) - College Board. The Advanced Placement Program is administered by the College Board at http://www.collegeboard.com. AP students may take one (1) or more college level courses in a variety of subjects. AP courses are not tied to a specific college curriculum, but rather follow national College Board curricula. While taking the AP exam is optional, students can earn college credit by scoring well on the national exams. It is up to the discretion of the receiving college to accept the scores from the AP exams to award college credit or advanced standing. (4-11-06)

04. All Students. All students means all public school students, grades K-12. (4-11-06)

05. Alternative Assessment (Other Ways of Testing). Any type of assessment in which students create a response to a question rather than choose a response from a given list, as with multiple-choice or true/false. Alternative assessments can include short-answer questions, essays, oral presentations, exhibitions, and portfolios.

(4-5-00)

06. Assessment. The process of quantifying, describing, or gathering information about skills, knowledge or performance. (4-5-00)

07. Assessment Standards. Statements setting forth guidelines for evaluating student work, as in the "Standards for the Assessment of Reading and Writing." (4-5-00)

08. Asynchronous Course. An online course in which an online platform is used to deliver all curricula. The majority of communication exchanges occur in elapsed time and allow students and teachers to participate according to their schedule. Asynchronous courses do not prohibit the use of a paraprofessional, certificated staff or other staff member being present at the physical location during instructional periods where instruction takes place, such as a school computer lab. (4-4-13)

09. Authentic. Something that is meaningful because it reflects or engages the real world. An "authentic task" asks students to do something they might really have to do in the course of their lives, or to apply certain knowledge or skills to situations they might really encounter. (4-5-00)

10. Basic Educational Skills Training. Instruction in basic skills toward the completion/attainment of a certificate of mastery, high school diploma, or GED. (4-5-00)

11. Classic Texts. Literary or other works (e.g., films, speeches) that have been canonized, either continuously or intermittently, over a period of time beyond that of their initial publication and reception. (4-5-00)

12. Content Standards. Describe the knowledge, concepts, and skills that students are expected to acquire at each grade level in each content area. (4-2-08)

13. Context (of a Performance Assessment). The surrounding circumstances within which the performance is embedded. For example, problem solving can be assessed in the context of a specific subject (such as mathematics) or in the context of a real-life laboratory problem requiring the use of mathematics, scientific, and communication skills. (4-5-00)

14. Cooperative Work Experience. Classroom learning is integrated with a productive, structured work experience directly related to the goals and objectives of the educational program. Schools and participating businesses cooperatively develop training and evaluation plans to guide and measure the progress of the student. School credit is earned for successful completion, and the work may be paid or unpaid. Cooperative work experiences are also known as co-operative education or co-op. (4-5-00)

15. Criteria. Guidelines, rules or principles by which student responses, products, or performances, are judged. What is valued and expected in the student performance, when written down and used in assessment, become rubrics or scoring guides. (4-5-00)

16. Cues. Various sources of information used by readers to construct meaning. The language cueing systems include the graphophonic (also referred to as graphophonemic) system, which is the relationship between oral and written language (phonics); the syntactic system, which is the relationship among linguistic units such as prefixes, suffixes, words, phrases, and clauses (grammar); and semantic system, which is the study of meaning in language. Reading strategies and language cueing systems are also influenced by pragmatics-the knowledge readers have about the ways in which language is understood by others in their culture. (4-5-00)

17. "C" Average. A combined average of courses taken on a four (4) point scale with "C" equal to two (2) points. (4-11-06)

18. Decode. (4-5-00)

a. To analyze spoken or graphic symbols of a familiar language to ascertain their intended meaning. (4-5-00)

b. To change communication signals into messages, as to decode body language. (4-5-00)

19. Dual Credit. Dual credit allows high school students to simultaneously earn credit toward a high school diploma and a postsecondary degree or certificate. Postsecondary institutions work closely with high schools to deliver college courses that are identical to those offered on the college campus. Credits earned in a dual credit class become part of the student's permanent college record. Students may enroll in dual credit programs taught at the high school or on the college campus. (4-11-06)

20. Emergent Literacy. Development of the association of print with meaning that begins early in a child's life and continues until the child reaches the stage of conventional reading and writing. (4-5-00)

21. Employability Skills. Work habits and social skills desirable to employers, such as responsibility, communication, cooperation, timeliness, organization, and flexibility. (4-5-00)

22. Entry-Level Skills. The minimum education and skill qualifications necessary for obtaining and keeping a specific job; the starting point in a particular occupation or with a certain employer. (4-5-00)

23. Evaluation (Student). Judgment regarding the quality, value, or worth of a response, product, or performance based on established criteria, derived from multiple sources of information. Student evaluation and student assessment are often used interchangeably. (4-5-00)

24. Experiential Education (Application). Experiential education is a process through which a learner constructs knowledge, skill, and value from direct experiences. (4-5-00)

25. Exploratory Experience (Similar to a Job Shadow). An opportunity for a student to observe and participate in a variety of worksite activities to assist in defining career goals. An in-school exploratory experience is a school-based activity that simulates the workplace. (4-5-00)

26. Fluency. The clear, rapid, and easy expression of ideas in writing or speaking; movements that flow smoothly, easily, and readily. (4-5-00)

27. Genre (Types of Literature). A category used to classify literary and other works, usually by form, technique, or content. Categories of fiction such as mystery, science fiction, romance, or adventure are considered genres. (4-5-00)

28. Graphophonic/Graphophonemic. One (1) of three (3) cueing systems readers use to construct texts; the relationships between oral and written language (phonics). (4-5-00)

(BREAK IN CONTINUITY OF SECTIONS)

111. ASSESSMENT IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

01. Philosophy. Acquiring the basic skills is essential to realization of full educational, vocational and personal/social development. Since Idaho schools are responsible for instruction in the basic scholastic skills, the State Board of Education has a vested interest in regularly surveying student skill acquisition as an index of the effectiveness of the educational program. This information can best be secured through objective assessment of student growth. The State Board of Education will provide oversight for all components of the comprehensive assessment program. (4-2-08)

02. Purposes. The purpose of assessment in the public schools is to: (3-15-02)

a. Measure and improve student achievement; (3-15-02)

b. Assist classroom teachers in designing lessons; (3-15-02)

c. Identify areas needing intervention and remediation, and acceleration; (3-15-02)

d. Assist school districts in evaluating local curriculum and instructional practices in order to make needed curriculum adjustments; (3-15-02)

e. Inform parents and guardians of their child's progress; (3-15-02)

f. Provide comparative local, state and national data regarding the achievement of students in essential skill areas; (3-15-02)

g. Identify performance trends in student achievement across grade levels tested and student growth over time; and (3-15-02)

h. Help determine technical assistance/consultation priorities for the State Department of Education. (3-15-02)

03. Content. The comprehensive assessment program will consist of multiple assessments, including, the Idaho Reading Indicator (IRI), the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP), the Idaho English Language Assessment, the Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (ISAT), the Idaho Alternate Assessment, and a college entrance exam. (3-29-12)

04. Testing Population. All students in Idaho public schools, grades kindergarten through twelve (K-12), are required to participate in the comprehensive assessment program approved by the State Board of Education and funded. (4-2-08)

a. All students who are eligible for special education shall participate in the statewide assessment program. (4-6-05)

b. Each student's individualized education program team shall determine whether the student shall participate in the regular assessment without accommodations, the regular assessment with accommodations or adaptations, or whether the student qualifies for and shall participate in the alternate assessment. (4-6-05)

c. Limited English Proficient (LEP) students, as defined in Subsection 112.04.d.iv., may receive designated supports or accommodations, or both, for the ISAT assessment if need has been indicated by the LEP student's Educational Learning Plan (ELP) team. The team shall outline the designated supports or accommodations, or both, in an ELP prior to the assessment administration. Designated supports or accommodations, or both, shall be familiar to the student during previous instruction and for other assessments. LEP students who are enrolled in their first year of school in the United States may take ~~the IELA~~ Idaho's English language assessment in lieu of the English language ISAT, but will still be required to take the ISAT (Mathematics and Science). Such LEP students will be counted as participants for the ninety-five percent (95%) participation target, as described in Subsection 112.04. However, such LEP students are not required to be counted for accountability purposes as described in Subsection 112.03. (4-11-15)

05. Scoring and Report Formats. Scores will be provided for each subject area assessed and reported in standard scores, benchmark scores, or holistic scores. Test results will be presented in a class list report of student scores, building/district summaries, content area criterion reports by skill, disaggregated group reports, and pressure sensitive labels as appropriate. Information about the number of students who are eligible for special education who participate in regular and alternate assessments, and their performance results, shall be included in reports to the public if it is statistically sound to do so and would not disclose performance results identifiable to individual students. (4-7-11)

a. Effective April 1, 2009, all students taking the Idaho Standards Achievement Test (ISAT) must have a unique student identifier. (4-7-11)

b. Districts must send all assessment results and related communication to parents within three (3) weeks of receipt from the state. (4-7-11)

06. Comprehensive Assessment Program. The State approved comprehensive assessment program is outlined in Subsections 111.06.a. through 111.06.l. Each assessment will be comprehensive of and aligned to the Idaho State Content Standards it is intended to assess. In addition, districts are responsible for writing and implementing assessments in those standards not assessed by the state assessment program. (4-2-08)

a. Kindergarten - Idaho Reading Indicator, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-2-08)

b. Grade 1 - Idaho Reading Indicator, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-2-08)

c. Grade 2 - Idaho Reading Indicator, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-11-15)

d. Grade 3 - Idaho Reading Indicator, Grade 3 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests in English language usage and mathematics, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-2-08)

e. Grade 4 - National Assessment of Educational Progress, Grade 4 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests in English language usage and mathematics,, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

f. Grade 5 - Grade 5 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests, Idaho Alternate Assessment in English language usage and mathematics,, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

g. Grade 6 - Grade 6 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests, Idaho Alternate Assessment in English language usage and mathematics,, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

h. Grade 7 - Grade 7 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests in English language usage and mathematics,, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

i. Grade 8 - National Assessment of Educational Progress, Grade 8 Idaho Standards Achievement Tests in English language usage and mathematics,, Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

j. Grade 9 - ~~Grade 9~~High School Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (optional at the discretion of the school district or charter school), Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (3-29-12)

k. Grade 10 - High School Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (optional at the discretion of the school district or charter school), Idaho Alternate Assessment, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-2-08)

l. Grade 11 - High School Idaho Standards Achievement Tests~~ (as applicable)~~, Idaho English Language Assessment, college entrance exam. (4-11-15)

m. Grade 12 - National Assessment of Educational Progress, Idaho English Language Assessment. (4-2-08)

n. Students are required to take an End of Course Assessment in science provided by the state and administered by the district as applicable to the course completed by the students. (4-11-15)

~~o. Students who achieve a proficient or advanced score on a portion or portions of the ISAT, or the Idaho Alternate Assessment, offered in their tenth grade year or later are not required to continue taking that portion or portions. (5-8-09)~~

07. Comprehensive Assessment Program Schedule. (5-3-03)

a. The Idaho Reading Indicator will be administered in accordance with Section ~~33-1614~~33-1615, Idaho Code. (3-15-02)

b. The National Assessment of Educational Progress will be administered in timeframe specified by the U.S. Department of Education. (3-15-02)

c. The Idaho Standards Achievement Tests will be administered in the Spring in a time period specified by the State Board of Education. (4-11-15)

d. The Idaho Alternate Assessment will be administered in a time period specified by the State Board of Education. (4-2-08)

e. ~~The~~ Idaho's English Language Assessment will be administered in a time period specified by the State Board of Education. (4-2-08)

08. Costs Paid by the State. Costs for the following testing activities will be paid by the state: (4-1-97)

a. All consumable and non-consumable materials needed to conduct the prescribed statewide comprehensive assessment program; (3-15-02)

b. Statewide distribution of all assessment materials; and (3-29-12)

c. Processing and scoring student response forms, distribution of prescribed reports for the statewide comprehensive assessment program. (3-29-12)

09. Costs of Additional Services. Costs for any additional administrations or scoring services not included in the prescribed statewide comprehensive assessment program will be paid by the participating school districts. (3-15-02)

10. Services. The comprehensive assessment program should be scheduled so that a minimum of instructional time is invested. Student time spent in testing will not be charged against attendance requirements. (3-15-02)

11. Test Security, Validity and Reliability. Test security is of the utmost importance. To ensure integrity of secure test items and protect validity and reliability of test outcomes, test security must be maintained. School districts will employ security measures in protecting statewide assessment materials from compromise. Each individual who has any opportunity to see test items must sign a state-provided confidentiality agreement, which the district must keep on file in the district for at least two (2) years. Documentation of security safeguards must be available for review by authorized state and federal personnel. (4-2-08)

~~a. All ISAT paper and pencil test booklets will be boxed and shipped to the test vendor to be counted no later than two (2) weeks after the end of the testing window, as applicable. (4-11-15)~~

~~b~~a. Any assessment used for federal reporting shall be independently reviewed for reliability, validity, and alignment with the Idaho Content Standards. (4-2-08)

12. Demographic Information. Accurate demographic information must be submitted as required for each test to assist in interpreting test results. It may include but is not limited to race, sex, ethnicity, and special programs, (Title I, English proficiency, migrant status, special education status, gifted and talented status, and socio-economic status). (4-2-08)

13. Dual Enrollment. For the purpose of non-public school student participation in non-academic public school activities as outlined in Section 33-203, Idaho Code, the Idaho State Board of Education recognizes the following: (3-15-02)

a. The Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (grades 3-~~9~~8 and High School). (3-29-12)

b. A portfolio demonstrating grade level proficiency in at least five (5) of the subject areas listed in Subsections 111.13.b.i. through 111.13.b.vi. Portfolios are to be judged and confirmed by a committee comprised of at least one (1) teacher from each subject area presented in the portfolio and the building principal at the school where dual enrollment is desired. (4-6-05)

i. Language Arts/Communications. (3-15-02)

ii. Math. (3-15-02)

iii. Science. (3-15-02)

iv. Social Studies. (3-15-02)

v. Health. (3-15-02)

vi. Humanities. (3-15-02)

112. ACCOUNTABILITY

~~The provisions in this section apply for the purposes of meeting the "No Child Left Behind" Act and the state of Idaho accountability requirements. (3-20-04)~~

School district, charter school district and public charter school accountability will be based on multiple measures aimed at providing meaningful data showing progress toward interim and long-term goals set by the State Board of Education for student achievement and school improvement. The state accountability framework will be used to meet both state and federal school accountability requirements and will be broken up by school category and include measures of student academic achievement and school quality as determined by the State Board of Education.

01. School Category.

a. Kindergarten through grade 8 (K-8), Schools in this category include elementary and middle schools as defined in section 05.f.

b. High Schools, not designated as alternative high schools, as defined in section 05.f

c. Alternative high schools.

02. Academic measures by school category

a. K-8

i. Idaho Standards Achievement Tests (ISAT) Proficiency

ii. ISAT growth

iii. ISAT proficiency gap

iv. Idaho statewide reading assessment

v. English Learners achieving English language proficiency

b. High school

i. ISAT proficiency

ii. English Learners achieving English language proficiency

iii. Four (4) year cohort graduation rate

c. Alternative high school

i. ISAT proficiency

ii. English Learners achieving English language proficiency

iii. Four (4) year cohort graduation rate

iv. Five (5) year cohort graduation rate

03. School quality measures by school category

a. K-8

i. Next grade level readiness index

ii. Chronic Absenteeism

ii. Chronic absenteeism
iii. Teacher quality and engagement index
iv. Student engagement index

04. Reporting. Methodologies for reporting measures and determining indexes will be set by the State Board of Education.

05. Annual Measurable Progress Definitions. For purposes of calculating and reporting progress, the following definitions shall be applied.

~~01~~a. ISAT Student Achievement Levels. There are four (4) levels of student achievement for the ISAT: Below Basic, Basic, Proficient, and Advanced. Definitions for these levels of student achievement are adopted by reference in Subsection 004.05. (4-2-08)

~~02~~b. ~~IELA~~ Idaho's English Language Assessment Proficiency Levels. There are ~~five~~ six (~~5~~6) levels of language proficiency for students testing on the Idaho English Language Assessment: ~~beginning," advanced beginning, intermediate, early fluent, and fluent~~Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, Level 4, Level 5 and Level 6. Definitions for these levels of language proficiency are adopted by reference in Subsections 004.02 and 004.04. (4-2-08)

~~03~~c. ~~Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP).~~Annual Measurable Progress (3-20-04)

~~a~~i. ISAT Proficiency is defined as the number of students scoring proficient or advanced on the spring on-grade level ISAT. (3-20-04)

~~b~~ii. The State Department of Education will make ~~AYP~~ determinations for schools and districts each year. Results will be given to the districts at least one (1) month prior to the first day of school. (4-7-11)

~~c~~iii. The State Board of Education will set long-term goals and measurements of interim progress targets toward those goals. The baseline for ~~AYP~~ determining measurable student progress will be set by the State Board of Education and shall identify the amount of growth (percentage of students reaching proficiency) required for each intermediate period. (3-20-04)

~~04. Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) Definitions. For purposes of calculating and reporting adequate yearly progress, the following definitions shall be applied. (3-20-04)~~

d~~a~~. Full Academic Year (continuous enrollment). (3-20-04)

i. A student who is enrolled continuously in the same public school from the end of the first eight (8) weeks or fifty-six (56) calendar days of the school year through the state approved spring testing administration period, not including the make-up portion of the test window, will be included in the calculation to determine if the school achieved ~~AYP in~~progress in any statewide assessment used for determining proficiency. A student is continuously enrolled if he/she has not transferred or dropped-out of the public school. Students who are serving suspensions are still considered to be enrolled students. (4-7-11)

ii. A student who is enrolled continuously in the school district from the first eight (8) weeks or fifty-six (56) calendar days of the school year through the state approved spring testing administration period, not including the make-up portion of the test window, will be included when determining if the school district has achieved AYP. (4-2-08)

iii. A student who is enrolled continuously in a public school within Idaho from the end of the first eight (8) weeks or fifty-six (56) calendar days of the school year through the state approved spring testing administration period, not including the make-up portion of the test window, will be included when determining if the state has achieved ~~AYP~~ progress in any statewide assessment used for determining. (4-2-08)

~~b~~e. Participation Rate. (3-20-04)

i. Failure to include ninety-five percent (95%) of all students and ninety-five percent (95%) of students in designated subgroups automatically identifies the school as not having achieved ~~AYP~~measurable progress in ISAT proficiency. The ninety-five percent (95%) determination is made by dividing the number of students assessed on the Spring ISAT by the number of students reported on the class roster file for the Spring ISAT. (3-20-04)

(1) If a school district does not meet the ninety-five percent (95%) participation target for the current year, the participation rate can be calculated by the most current three (3) year average of participation. (4-6-05)

(2) Students who are absent for the entire state-approved testing window because of medical reasons or are homebound are exempt from taking the ISAT if such circumstances prohibit them from participating. Students who drop out, withdraw, or are expelled prior to the beginning of the final makeup portion of the test window are considered exited from the school. (4-7-11)

ii. For groups of ten (10) or more students, absences for the state assessment may not exceed five percent (5%) of the current enrollment or two (2) students, whichever is greater. Groups of less than ten (10) students will not have a participation determination. (3-20-04)

~~c~~f. Schools. As used in this section schools refers to any school within a school district or charter school district and public charter schools. (3-20-04)

i. An elementary school includes a grade configuration of grades Kindergarten (K) through six (6) inclusive, or any combination thereof. (3-20-04)

ii. A middle school is a school that does not meet the definition of an elementary school and contains grade eight (8) but does not contain grade twelve (12). (4-6-05)

iii. A high school is any school that contains grade twelve (12). (3-20-04)

iv. An alternative high school is any school that contains grade twelve and meets the requirements of section 110 of these rules.

iv. The accountability of public schools without grades assessed by this system (i.e., K-2 schools) will be based on the third grade test scores of the students who previously attended that feeder school. (3-20-04)

v. A “new school” for purposes of accountability is a wholly new entity receiving ~~AYP~~ annual measurable progress determinations for the first time, or a school with a significant student population change as a result of schools being combined or geographic boundaries changing, or a result of successful school restructuring sanctioned by the Office of the State Board of Education. (4-7-11)

~~d~~g. Subgroups. Scores on the ISAT must be disaggregated and reported by the following subgroups: (3-20-04)

i. Race/Ethnicity - Black/African American, Asian, Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander, White, Hispanic/Latino Ethnicity, American Indian/Alaska Native. (3-20-04)

ii. Economically disadvantaged - identified through the free and reduced lunch program. (3-20-04)

iii. Students with disabilities - individuals who are eligible to receive special education services through the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). (3-20-04)

iv. Limited English Proficient - individuals who do not score proficient on the state-approved language proficiency test and meet one (1) of the following criteria: (4-11-15)

(1) Individuals whose native language is a language other than English; or (4-6-05)

(2) Individuals who come from environments where a language other than English is dominant; or (4-6-05)

(3) Individuals who are American Indian and Alaskan natives and who come from environments where a language other than English has had a significant impact on their level of English language proficiency, and who, by reason thereof, have sufficient difficulty speaking, reading, writing, or understanding the English language to deny such individuals the opportunity to learn successfully in classrooms, where the language of instruction is English. (4-6-05)

~~e~~h. Graduation Rate. The graduation rate will be based on the rate of the cohort of students entering grade 9 during the same academic year and attending or exiting the school with a four (4) year or five year period (5) as applicable to the measure being determined. In determining the graduation cohort the school year shall include the summer term immediately following the fall and spring term. School districts may only report students as having graduated if the student has met, at a minimum, the state graduation requirements and will not be returning to the school in following years to complete academic course work. The State Board of Education will establish a target for graduation. All high schools must meet the target or make sufficient progress toward the target each year, as determined by the State Board of Education. The graduation rate will be disaggregated by the ~~subpopulations~~ subgroups listed in Subsection 112.04.d. ~~in the event the "safe harbor" is invoked by the school/district~~. (4-7-11)

~~f~~i. Additional Academic Indicator. The State Board of Education will establish a target for ~~an~~all additional academic and school quality measures~~indicator~~. All ~~elementary and middle~~ schools must maintain or make progress toward the additional academic and school quality ~~indicator~~measure target each year. The additional academic and school quality ~~indicator~~ measure targets will be disaggregated by the subpopulations listed in Subsection 112.04.d. ~~in the event the "safe harbor" is invoked by the school/district. By 2014, the schools/districts must meet the target.~~ (3-20-04)

~~05~~06. Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives (AMAOs). Local school districts are responsible for ensuring district progress of Limited English Proficient (LEP) students in their acquisition of English. Progress and proficiency are measured by ~~the IELA~~ Idaho's English language assessment and determined based on three (3) AMAOs: (4-2-08)

a. Annual increases in the percent or number of LEP students making progress in acquiring English language proficiency; (4-2-08)

b. Annual increases in the percent or number of LEP students attaining English language proficiency by the end of the school year; and (4-2-08)

c. Each school district must make Adequate Yearly Progress for LEP students on the spring ISAT. (4-2-08)

~~113. REWARDS.~~

~~01. Distinguished Schools. Distinguished School Awards are designed to recognize the highest performing schools. A school shall be recognized as a "Distinguished School" based on the following criteria: (3-20-14)~~

~~a. Achieved a Five-Star Rating for at least two (2) out of the last three (3) years; (3-20-14)~~

~~b. Received no less than a Four-Star Rating in the last three years; (3-20-14)~~

~~c. Meet the Annual Measurable Objectives (AMOs) in all subjects for overall students and all~~

~~subgroups as outlined in Subsection 112.04.d. (3-20-14)~~

~~d. Be among the top five percent (5%) of schools in all students proficiency; and (3-20-14)~~

~~e. Be among the top ten percent (10%) of schools in the proficiency gaps between the highest and lowest achieving subgroups and between the at-risk and not at-risk subgroups. (3-20-14)~~

~~02. Determination by State Department of Education. The State Board of Education will determine the schools eligible for the Distinguished School award each year based upon the criteria outlined in Subsection 113.01. The State Department of Education will provide the list of schools meeting the specified criteria to the State Board of Education no later than August 30th of each year. The State Board of Education will recognize the schools no later than the annual October Board Meeting. (3-20-14)~~

114. FAILURE TO MEET ~~ADEQUATE YEARLY PROGRESS (AYP).~~ANNUAL MEASURABLE PROGRESS

01. Compliance with Federal Law. All schools and local educational agencies in this state shall comply with applicable federal laws governing specific federal grants. (4-6-05)

a. With respect to schools and local educational agencies in this state that receive federal grants under title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended by the ~~No Child Left Behind Act of 2001~~Every Child Succeeds Act of 2015 (Title I schools), the State Department of Education shall develop procedures for approval by the State Board of Education, consistent with federal law, that describe actions to be taken by local educational agencies and schools in this state in regard to schools that fail to meet ~~AYP~~interim and long-term progress goals. (4-6-05)

b. With respect to schools and local educational agencies in this state that do not receive federal grants under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended by the ~~No Child Left Behind Act of 2001~~Every Child Succeeds Act of 2015, such non-Title I schools and local educational agencies shall be required to comply with federal law and state requirements with the procedures relating to failure to meet ~~AYP~~ interim and long-term progress goals as provided in Subsection 114.01.a. of this rule, as if they were Title I schools, except that any provisions relating to the use of federal grants to pay for such expenses shall not be applicable to such non-Title I schools and local educational agencies. In such event, non-title I schools shall be required to fund such compliance costs from general operating funds. (4-6-05)

02. State Department of Education. With respect to the implementation of duties responsibilities described under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended by the ~~No Child Left Behind Act of 2001~~Every Student Succeeds Act of 2010, that are applicable to a state educational agency, the State Department of Education shall perform such duties and responsibilities, including, but not limited to, making technical assistance available to local educational agencies that fail to meet ~~AYP as required under federal law~~interim and long-term goals, and for providing technical assistance, developing improvement plans, and providing for mandatory corrective actions to local educational agencies as required under federal law and state law. (4-6-05)

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 08.02.05, Rules Governing Pay for Success Contracting

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-125B, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Section 33-125B, Idaho Code was enacted by HB 170 (2015), the purpose of the legislation was to provide for an alternative means of fostering innovation in Idaho's schools, and to allow for a method by which the state could enter into an agreement with a private entity; whereby the entity bears the sole burden of financing the cost of a program up front and the state pays based on outcomes that are negotiated prior to entering into the contract. Section 33-125B, Idaho Code, additionally, establishes an oversight committee to review the proposal and indicate whether or not the Department of Education should commence negotiations. The oversight committee is made up of:

- The Chief Financial Officer for the Department of Education,
- The subject matter expert at the Department of Education,
- A representative from the State Controller's Office,
- The House of Representatives Education Committee Chairman, and
- The Senate Education Committee Chairman.

During the first year the program was available, one vendor submitted a proposal to the Department of Education based on feedback from this process it was determined that at a minimum submittal processes and timelines should be established in administrative rule.

The proposed rule would create an entirely new section of rule pertaining to Pay for Success Contracting. The rule will include information on where to submit the requests, and timelines for review of the request by the oversight committee

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed rule will set out the application process for vendors wishing to participate in the Pay for Success Contracting with the state.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Title 22 Chapter 15, specifically Sections 22-1504 and 22-1505, Idaho Code.
Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 08.05.01, Rules Governing Seed and Plant Certification.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

During the 2014 calendar year, the University of Idaho and the Board took action to address compliance within statutory requirements related to certification of seeds, tubers, plants and plant parts in the state of Idaho as contained in the Seed and Plant Certification Act of 1959 (Idaho Code Title 22 Chapter 15). The Board's action entailed incorporating into Board rules, by reference, the existing published Standards for Certification of the Idaho Crop Improvement Association, Inc. (ICIA). These existing published standards were created through a long established process involving the ICIA Board working in conjunction with committees for the various seed crops, composed of individuals representing the seed growers and processors, to create and then continuously update the standards. Standards, and any revisions to existing standards, are then presented to the Foundation Seed Stock Committee within the Agriculture Experiment Station at the University of Idaho for approval and then presented for approval by the University's Director of the Agriculture Experiment Station.

Through the ICIA's annual review process, the ICIA identified an amendment to the Rapeseed/Canola/ Mustard Certification Standards that would help to make these seeds produced in Idaho be more competitive. The proposed amendment would add to this specific standard the need to test these seeds for Sclerotinia bodies.

IMPACT

Approval of the amendment as a proposed rule will allow the rule to move forward through the rulemaking process, making the changes permanent.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Fees paid to the Idaho Crop Improvement Association, Inc. cover the cost of testing, the ICIA has determined that the additional test can be covered under the current fee structure.

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the pending stage. If approved, pending rules will be submitted to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin and are then forwarded to the legislature for consideration. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted if they are not rejected by the Legislature.

Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve changes to proposed rule IDAPA 08.05.01, as presented in Attachment 1.

12. APPLICABILITY.
These rules shall apply to all seeds, tubers, plants, or plant parts located in, imported into, or exported from the state of Idaho that have an application for certification properly filed with a seed certification agency. (4-6-15)

13. OFFICIAL IN CHARGE OF CERTIFIED SEED.
The Idaho Legislature, at its 35th Session, enacted Senate Bill No. 107, the "Seed and Plant Certification Act of 1959". This Act designated the Regents of the University of Idaho, through the Agricultural Experiment Station of the College of Agriculture, as the seed certifying agency for the State. This Act further gives the Regents of the University of Idaho the authority to designate an agent to administer and conduct the certification program. The Regents of the University of Idaho on April 27, 1959, appointed the Idaho Crop Improvement Association, Inc., as its duly authorized agent to administer and conduct seed certification in Idaho as provided by the Seed and Plant Certification Act of 1959. (4-6-15)

14. SEED CERTIFICATION FEE AND APPLICATION SCHEDULE.
The Idaho Crop Improvement Association may assess a fee to defray the costs of seed testing and administration of the seed certification program. Fees are established through the Idaho Crop Improvement Association, Inc. (4-6-15)

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 47.01.01 – Division of Vocational Rehabilitation

REFERENCE

June 2015	Board approved pending rule to clarify language regarding the Divisions of Vocation Rehabilitation customer appeal and mediation process as well as technical changes. Board approved the Division of Vocational Rehabilitations Field Service Manual.
August 2015	Board approved pending rule change to IDAPA 47.01.01

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 47.01.01

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) Field Service Manual contains internal processes to IDVR as well as eligibility and program requirements for the people and agencies IDVR serves. Currently this manual is incorporated by reference into Idaho Administrative Code, IDAPA 47.01.01. When a document is incorporated by reference into administrative rule it has the force and effect of law and can only be changed through Board approval and the rulemaking process. In 2015, IDVR has identified a number of processes in the Field Service Manual that belong more appropriately in a policies and procedures manual of the agency. Starting in 2015 IDVR began the process of identifying areas that belong in the manual versus those areas that more appropriately belong in administrative rule with the end goal of removing the Field Service Manual from Administrative Code altogether. The proposed amendments to the Field Service Manual and administrative rule, IDAPA 47.01.01 provided for consideration this year are phase 2 of a multi-year process.

Additional amendments are being made to update references to the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act and update the Order of Selection procedures with federal guidelines and best practices.

IMPACT

The proposed changes incorporate the updated Field Service Manual into rule and bring the rule compliant with federal order of selection guidelines.

ATTACHMENTS

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Proposed rules have a 21 day comment period prior to becoming pending rules. Based on received comments and Board direction, changes may be made to proposed rules prior to entering the pending stage. All pending rules will be brought back to the board for approval prior to submittal to the Department of Administration for publication in the Idaho Administrative Rules Bulletin as a pending rule. Pending rules become effective at the end of the legislative session in which they are submitted.

Staff recommends approval.

011. -- 099. (RESERVED)

100. CUSTOMER APPEALS.
In accordance with 34 CFR Part 361.57, the customer appeals process is governed by Section 100 through 103 of these rules and is outlined in the Division's ~~agency~~ Field Services Policy Manual on the website at http://www.vr.idaho.gov/ that is incorporated by reference into these rules in Subsection 004.02.b. (7-1-13)

(Break in Continuity of Sections)

102. MEDIATION.
Mediation is an alternate dispute resolution method available to applicants and eligible customers who have initiated the formal appeals process. (7-1-13)

01. Time ~~L~~line. A customer must request mediation within twenty (20) calendar days of the original decision or ten (10) calendar days following the written proposal from the informal review. Mediation is available to a customer when and informal review has not resolved the dispute to the satisfaction of the customer. (7-1-13)

02. Written Request. Requests for mediation must be made in writing to the chief of field services and must clearly state the reason for dissatisfaction with the decision or results of the informal review. The chief of field services will represent IDVR or assign a member of the administrative or supervisory staff who has not participated in the agency action that created the customer's dissatisfaction. (7-1-13)

03. Participation. Participation in the mediation process is voluntary on the part of the customer and on the part of IDVR. Either party may reject mediation as an alternate dispute resolution method. Once mediation has been accepted as an alternate dispute resolution method, either party may terminate the mediation process. (7-1-13)

04. Fair Hearing. Mediation may not be used to deny or delay the customer's right to pursue a fair hearing. Should the customer and/or designated representative select mediation in lieu of a fair hearing the option for a fair hearing will be extended to allow the results of the mediation to be established. Once the final results of the mediation are determined, the customer retains the right to request a fair hearing. (7-1-13)

05. Mediator. All mediation is conducted by a qualified and impartial mediator who is selected randomly from a list of mediators maintained by IDVR. (7-1-13)

06. Confidentiality. Mediation discussions are confidential and may not be used as evidence in a fair hearing. A confidentiality agreement will be signed by both parties at the beginning of the mediation process. (7-1-13)

07. Mediation Agreement. The mediator will develop a written mediation agreement if an agreement between the parties is reached. The agreement must be signed by the customer, the mediator, and the IDVR designated representative. (7-1-13)

08. Cost. Cost of mediation is paid by IDVR. IDVR is not required to pay for any cost related to the representation of a customer. (7-1-13)

103. FAIR HEARING PROCESS.
The fair hearing process is an option available to any customer who is dissatisfied with any determination made by personnel of IDVR that affects the provisions of vocational rehabilitation services. A customer may request a fair hearing immediately without having to go through any other appeal steps. A customer may request, or if appropriate may request through the customer's representative, a timely review of the determination. Such request must be made within sixty (60) days of the IDVR decision resulting in the initial disagreement or within ten (10) calendar days of the conclusion of the informal review or mediation process, whichever is later. The fair hearing process shall include a fair hearing conducted by a fair hearing officer (FHO). (7-1-13)

01. Procedure. A fair hearing is a procedure whereby a customer who is dissatisfied with any determination concerning the provision or denial of IDVR services or the findings of the informal review or mediation may seek a determination of agency action before a fair hearing officer. (7-1-13)

02. Written Request. ~~A r~~Requests for a fair hearing must be sent in writing to the chief of field services and clearly state the customer's dissatisfaction with the agency's decision. (7-1-13)

03. Timeline. The hearing shall be conducted within sixty (60) calendar days of receipt of the individual's request for review, unless informal resolution is achieved prior to the 60th day, or the parties agree to a specific extension of time. (3-29-10)

04. Fair Hearing Officers. A list of fair hearing officers shall be identified jointly by the Administrator of IDVR and the State Rehabilitation Council. The fair hearing officer shall be selected from the list by the administrator of IDVR and the customer. (7-1-13)

05. Written Report. The fair hearing officer shall issue a written report of the findings and decision of the hearing within thirty (30) calendar days of the completion of the hearing. (7-1-13)

06. Decision. The decision of the fair hearing officer shall be considered final by the agency. (7-1-13)

07. Dispute. Any party who disagrees with the findings and decisions of a fair hearing officer shall have the right to bring a civil action with respect to the matter in dispute. The action may be brought in any state court of competent jurisdiction or in a district court of the United States of competent jurisdiction without regard to the amount in controversy. (7-1-13)

104. -- 199. (RESERVED)

200. ORDER OF SELECTION.

In the event that the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation lacks the personnel and/or financial resources to provide the full range of vocational rehabilitation services to all eligible individuals, the following Order of Selection (OOS) will be used to prioritize service provision. Students with disabilities (as defined by 34 CFR 361.5 (c) (51)) who received pre-employment transition services prior to eligibility determination and assignment to a priority category shall continue to receive such services. All customers who have an Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) will continue to be served.

Priority will be given to eligible individuals with the most significant disabilities, followed by those eligible individuals with significant disabilities, and finally those eligible individuals with disabilities. All eligible customers will be assigned to one of the following priority categories:
~~The following order of selection will be used if the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation finds that it cannot serve all eligible customers due to a lack of either personnel and/or financial resources. The priority listings progress downward with priority one (Priority Number 1) being the most restrictive and priority four (Priority Number 4) being the least restrictive. (7-1-13)~~

01. Priority ~~Number~~ 1. Eligible individuals with the Most Significant Disabilities (MSD).
~~At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those consumers who already have an existing individualized plan for employment (IPE) will continue to be served. (5-3-03)~~

02. Priority ~~Number~~ 2. Eligible individuals with Significant Disabilities (SD)~~At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those customers in Priority Number 1 above and current and future, otherwise eligible, customers rated to this or a more restrictive priority can be served. Customers meeting this priority rating are those customers with most significant disabilities. (7-1-13)~~

03. Priority ~~Number~~ 3. All other eligible individuals with Disabilities (D). ~~At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those customers in Priorities Numbers 1 and 2 above and current and future, otherwise eligible, customers rated to this or a more restrictive priority can be served. Customers meeting this priority rating are those customers with significant disabilities. (7-1-13)~~

~~04. Priority Number 4. All eligible customers for Vocational Rehabilitation services (no order of selection in place). (7-1-13)~~
If the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation cannot serve all eligible individuals within a given priority category, individuals will be released from the statewide waitlist based on priority category and date of application.

201. -- 299. (RESERVED)

300. CUSTOMER SERVICES.

01. Provision of Purchased Services Contingent Upon Financial Need of the Customer. The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will apply a financial needs assessment. Financial need will not be a consideration in the determination of eligibility for Vocational Rehabilitation, but will be a consideration in allocating the cost of VR services, with some exceptions. (7-1-13)

02. Authorization for~~to~~ Purchase. The Division requires that when purchasing services from a vendor, an authorization must be issued prior to, or on, the beginning date of service. If services are provided without a

Division approved authorization for~~to~~ purchase, the Division reserves the right to not honor the vendor's invoice. (5-3-03)

03. General Provisions. Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will only pay for services that contribute to the determination of eligibility or to achieve an employment outcome. (3-20-04)

04. Residency Requirement. There is no duration of residency requirement. The customer must be living in the state of Idaho and legally be able to work within the United States (i.e., non U.S. citizens must show they are legally able to work within the United States). (7-1-13)

05. Provision of ~~CRP (~~Community Rehabilitation Program~~)~~(CRP) Services. ~~IDVR~~ Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will purchase vocational services from CRPs that are accredited by either Commission Accreditation Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF), the Rehabilitation Accreditation Commission, or Rehabilitation Services Accreditation System (RSAS). In conjunction with the customer, the qualified professional Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor, will determine which CRP Services, if any, are required for the customer to achieve an employment outcome. FIELD SERVICES POLICY MANUAL

SECTION 1.0 – PURPOSE AND GENERAL REQUIREMENTS OF THE IDAHO VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION PARTICIPANT SERVICES PROGRAM

The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) program assists eligible persons with disabilities to prepare for and achieve an employment outcome. "Employment outcome" means entering or retaining full-time, or if appropriate, part-time competitive employment in the integrated labor market to the greatest extent possible. It also means supported employment; or other types of employment, including self-employment, consistent with self-sustaining activity for wages or compensation consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interest, and informed choice.

Competitive employment is work performed in the integrated labor market in which the customer is compensated at or above minimum wage, but not less than the customary wage and benefits paid for the same or similar work performed by customers who do not have a disability.

The IDVR is a statewide program that develops and utilizes partnerships for effective service delivery. Partnerships vary, but include those programs authorized under the Rehabilitation Act, as amended, such as Independent Living Centers and Tribal Vocational Rehabilitation Programs. Programs authorized under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) are utilized to the maximum extent possible as allowed in Section 188 of the Act. It is understood that each program is unique and offers unique cultural and professional expertise. Cooperative Agreements with respective programs are encouraged and should be referred to for local understanding. Staff is encouraged to understand these agreements and provide information, referral and services as appropriate to the needs of the customers they serve. Consult with the RM for access to pertinent cooperative agreements.

Vocational Rehabilitation is based upon an Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) that is oriented to the achievement of an employment outcome. Services provided to persons with disabilities must be documented as necessary to overcome related barriers to employment and must be provided as cost effectively as possible.

The Division strives to maintain a highly accountable program to all customers.

IDVR provides, as appropriate to the vocational rehabilitation needs of each eligible customer, goods or services necessary to enable the customer to achieve an employment outcome.

EXCEPTION TO POLICY
VRCs are delegated substantial decision and purchasing authority based upon the maximum agency contributions ~~caps~~ outlined in the Payment Policy. Exceptions to policy require the approval of a RM and the notification and consultation of the Chief of Field Services. Documentation of the RM's approval must be noted in the case file.

Purchases in excess of delegated authority are reviewed by the RM and approved by the Chief of Field Services or designee. Documentation of the approval of purchases in excess must be noted in case file.

The IDVR program is operated in compliance with the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended by the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) enacted on July 22, 2014. The legal authorities for the policies contained in the Vocational Rehabilitation Services Policy Manual are: Proposed Rules to Title 34 CFR Parts 361, 363, and 397 issued April 16, 2015 in the Federal Register implementing the Rehabilitation Act Amendments; and Title 67, Chapter 53 of the Idaho code related to provisional appointments in state government for those with severe disabilities.

1.2 Program Requirements

Eligibility is determined without regard to sex, race, creed, age, color, national origin or type of disability.

There is no duration of residency requirement. The customer must be living in the State of Idaho and legally able to work in the United States.

IDVR will establish and maintain a record of services for each customer for, and recipient of, vocational rehabilitation services, which includes data necessary to comply with IDVR agency and Federal Rehabilitation Service Administration (RSA) requirements.

In the purchase of goods or services for persons with disabilities, IDVR complies with its procurement policy, Purchase of Services and Supplies for customer use in the Vocational Rehabilitation Program.

Goods and services will be provided subject to the guidelines of Order of Selection (Section 14.0).

When appropriate, counselors shall refer customers with disabilities to receive services from other agencies and organizations.

Each applicant or eligible customer being provided vocational rehabilitation services shall be informed of the procedure for requesting a review and a determination of agency action concerning the furnishing or denial of services, including the names and addresses of individuals with whom appeals may be filed and the availability of the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

1.3 Provider Standards

IDVR requires service providers:

To be licensed by the Division of Occupational Licensing, the U.S. Department of Education Office of Post-Secondary Education, or a professional certifying body.

OR

IDVR requires service providers that offer vocational rehabilitation services to apply to be an approved service provider with the Division. CRPs must be accredited based on IDAPA rules.

OR

VRCs may occasionally approve the purchase of services from non-license providers such as, educational tutoring, foreign language interpreters, or other services to support the rehabilitation needs of a customer.

1.4 Selection of Service Providers

Providers are selected by a combination of the customer's informed choice and State procurement rules. VRCs will assist the customer in acquiring information necessary to make an informed choice regarding the selection of service provider.

The decision making process takes into account the customer's values, lifestyle, and characteristics, the availability of resources and alternatives, and general economic conditions. Informed choice is a collaborative process involving the customer and IDVR staff in coordination with other resources as necessary.

Informed Choice Guidelines:
Informed choice does not mean unlimited choice. A customer's choices are limited by several factors.

- The choice must relate to and be necessary to achieving an employment outcome
- The choice must be consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, abilities, capabilities, needs and interests.
- The choice must be made pursuant to all Federal, State, and IDVR rules related to purchasing and providing services.
- When deciding what goods and services will be provided, the following will be part of the informed choice decision:
    - Cost, accessibility, and duration of potential services;
    - Customer satisfaction with those services to the extent that information relating to customer satisfaction is available;
    - Qualifications of potential service providers;
    - Types of services offered by the potential providers;
    - Degree to which services are provided in integrated settings; and

- Outcomes achieved by individuals working with service providers, to the extent that such information is available.

~~r.~~s. Integrated setting, (i) With respect to the provision of services, ~~means~~ a setting typically found in the community in which applicants or eligible customers interact with non-disabled individuals~~customers~~ other than non-disabled individuals~~customers~~ who are providing services to those applicants or eligible customers; (ii) With respect to an employment outcome, means a setting typically found in the community where the employee with a disability~~in which applicants or eligible customers~~ interacts, for the purpose of performing the duties of the position, ~~-~~with other employees within the particular work unit and the entire work site, and, as appropriate to the work performed, other persons who are not individuals with disabilities (not including supervisory personnel or individuals who are providing services to such employee) to the same extent that employees who are not individuals with disabilities and who are in comparable position interact with these customers. ~~non-disabled customers, other than non-disabled customers who are providing services to those applicants or eligible customers, to the same extent that non-disabled customers in comparable positions interact with other persons.~~ (Authority: Sections 12 (c) of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 709 (c))

y. Post-employment services means one or more of the services identified in Section 361.48 that are provided subsequent to the achievement of an employment outcome and that are necessary for a customer to maintain, regain, or advance in employment, consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice. (Authority: Sections 12 (c) and 103 (a)(18) of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 709 (c) and 723 (a)(18)) Note to paragraph (b) (42): Post-employment services are intended to ensure that the employment outcome remains consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice. These services are available to meet rehabilitation needs that do not require a complex and comprehensive provision of services and, thus, should be limited in scope and duration. If more comprehensive services are required, then a new rehabilitation effort should be considered. Post-employment services are to be provided under an amended individualized plan for employment; thus, a re-determination of eligibility is not required. The provision of post-employment services is subject to the same requirements in this part as the provision of any other vocational rehabilitation service. Post-employment services are available to assist a customer to maintain employment, e.g., the customer's employment is jeopardized because of conflicts with supervisors or co-workers, and the customer needs mental health services and counseling to maintain the employment; to regain employment, e.g., the customer's job is eliminated through re-organization and new placement services are needed; and to advance in employment, e.g., the employment is no longer consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice.

The customer is informed through appropriate modes of communication of the availability of post-employment services.

z. Pre-employment transition services are those services/activities for students with disabilities (see page 10 for definition of student with disability). Required activities include job exploration counseling; work-based learning experiences, which may include in-school or after school opportunities, or experience outside the traditional school setting (including internships), that is provided in an integrated environment in the community to the maximum extent possible; counseling on opportunities for enrollment in comprehensive transition or postsecondary educational programs at institutions of higher education; workplace readiness training to develop social skills and independent living; and instruction in self-advocacy. Authorized activities may also be provided. (Authority: Section 7(30), and 113 of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 7(30) and 733)

~~z.~~aa. Rehabilitation engineering means the systematic application of engineering sciences to design, develop, adapt, test, evaluate, apply, and distribute technological solutions to problems confronted by customers with disabilities in functional areas, such as mobility, communications, hearing, vision, and cognition, and in activities associated with employment, independent living, education, and integration into the community. (Authority: Sections 7(38~~5~~)(B) and 12 (c) of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 705(38~~5~~)(B) and 709 (c))

~~hh.~~ii. Transportation means travel and related expenses that are necessary to enable an applicant or eligible customer to participate in a vocational rehabilitation service, including expenses for training in the use of public transportation vehicles and systems. (Authority: Section 12 (c) and 103 (a)(8) of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 709 (c) and 723 (a)(8))~~(i)~~

~~ii.~~jj. Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor (VRC) is the designated employee position in charge of managing the customer's case. For the purposes of this manual a Vocational Rehabilitation Specialist is considered a VRC.

ii. Youth with a disability is an individual with a disability who is under the age of 25. (Authority: Section 7(42) of the Act; 29 U.S.C. 705(42~~3~~))

1.6 Use of Audio and Video Recordings. IDVR reserves the right to prohibit customer use of video and audio recording without prior approval by the Chief of Field Services.

SECTION 2.0 – ETHICS

A. All IDVR employees must adhere to the Idaho Ethics in Government Manual: http://www.ag.idaho.gov/publications/manuals.html
B. IDVR ascribes to, and requires all Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors (VRCs) and field services staff to follow the Code of Professional Ethics for Rehabilitation Counselors accepted by the Commission of Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC).

http://www.crccertification.com

C. Provision of Services to Potential and Current IDVR Employees/Interns/Volunteers

- If an IDVR employee becomes a customer, their VR case will be served by a region other than where they work.

- If an IDVR customer accepts employment with IDVR their case will be served by a region different than where they accepted employment.

D. Internships, participants in training programs, or trial work experiences of customers served by IDVR will not be served from a counselor in the same office where the trial work, internship, or participation in training programs is located.

E. If a family member of an employee or a family member of anyone who resides in the employee's residence applies for services they will be served by a counselor from a different region from the employee.

F. An employee shall not financially benefit from decisions made under the authority of IDVR.

G. An employee will not make IDVR purchases (case services or other purchases) from a family member or a family member of anyone who resides in the employee's residence, or from a business owned or controlled by such an individual. This includes customer reimbursements.

SECTION 3.0 PROTECTION, USE, AND RELEASE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

3.1 Confidentiality

All information acquired by IDVR must be used only for purposes directly connected with the administration of the vocational rehabilitation program. As a general rule, information containing personal information may not be shared with advisory or other bodies that do not have official responsibility for administration of the program, except as provided in this policy. Use, release, and obtaining of personal information by IDVR shall conform to applicable State law and rules, and applicable Federal law and regulations.

Requests for information under the Idaho public records laws should be referred to the deputy attorney general assigned to the Agency.

For purposes of this policy, informed written consent shall:

A. Be explained in language that the customer or their representative understands;

B. Be dated, and specify the length of effect;

C. Be specific in designating IDVR as the agency authorized to use, disclose or receive information;

D. Be specifically designated to the parties to whom the information may be released;

E. Specifically designate the parties whom the information may be released; and

F. Be specific as to the purpose(s) for which the information may be used.

3.2 Release of Personal Information to Customers with Disabilities, their Representative or Attorney

If requested in writing by a customer of IDVR, and upon informed written consent by the customer and/or his or her representative, all information in such customer's case record that pertains to such customer shall be made available in a timely manner to that customer, except:

3.2.1 Medical, psychological or other information that IDVR believes may be harmful to the customer. This information may not be released directly to the customer but may be provided to the customer through a third party chosen by the customer, which may include, among others, an advocate, a family member, or a qualified medical or mental health professional, unless a representative has been appointed by a court to represent the customer, in which case the information must be released to the court appointed representative.

3.2.2 Information obtained from outside IDVR may be released only under the conditions established by the outside agency, organization or provider or mandated for them by Federal or State law.

3.2.3 An applicant or eligible customer who believes that information in the customer's record of services is inaccurate or misleading may request that IDVR amend the information. If the information is not amended, the request for an amendment must be documented in the record of service.

3.2.4 IDVR will respond to a case records request made under this section within ten (10) working days after receipt of a written request. One current copy of the case record will be made for the customer at no charge. Additional copies will be provided at the flat fee of $25 each.

3.3 Release to Other Agencies or Organizations

If information requested has been obtained from another agency, organization or professional, it will be released only under conditions established by that agency, organization or professional.

- IDVR may release personal information without informed written consent of the customer in order to protect the customer or others when the customer poses a threat to his/her safety or the safety of others.

3.4 Release in Response to Investigations in Connection with Law Enforcement

IDVR shall release personal information in response to investigations in connections with law enforcement, fraud, or abuse, unless expressly prohibited by Federal or State laws or regulations, and in response to a court order.

3.5 Release for Audit, Evaluation or Research

At the discretion of the Administrator, personal information may be released to an organization, agency, or customer engaged in audit, evaluation or research only for purposes directly connected with the administration of the vocational rehabilitation program, or for purposes which would significantly improve the quality of life for customers with disabilities, and only if the organization, agency or customer assures that:

A. The information will be used only for the purposes for which it is being provided;

B. The information will be released only to customers officially connected with the audit, evaluation or research;

C. The information will not be released to the involved customer;

D. The information will be managed in a manner to safeguard confidentiality and,

E. The final product will not reveal any personal identifying information without the informed written consent of the involved customer, and/or his/her representative.

3.6 Subpoena for Release of Information to the Courts, Other Judicial Bodies, Worker's Compensation and Law Enforcement Agencies

A subpoena issued to IDVR for information relating to a customer of IDVR must immediately be referred to the Chief of Field Services who will subsequently refer the document to the Deputy Attorney General assigned to the Agency to determine how the agency will respond to the subpoena.

3.7 Social Security Information

Confidentiality of SSA information is covered under Section 11.06 of the Social Security Act and may be disclosed only as prescribed by regulations. The Act permits disclosure of all information about a claimant to State VR agencies. State VR agencies routinely obtain information, including entitlement and medical information, from SSA records. Medical information may be obtained without the claimant's consent; however, State VR agencies may not permit access to such information, release it further (this includes other state agencies), or testify concerning it for any other purpose than the rehabilitation of the Social Security Disability beneficiary claimant. To obtain information from Disability Determination Services, a release form must be used.

SECTION 4.0 APPEALS PROCESS

The VRC shall notify and provide written information to all applicants and eligible customers regarding:

A. Their right to appeal determinations made by IDVR personnel, which affect the provision of rehabilitation services;

B. Their right to request mediation;

C. The names and addresses IDVR personnel to whom requests for mediation or appeals may be filed;

D. The manner in which a mediator or hearing officer may be selected;

E. Availability of assistance from the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

F. If the Agency is following an Order of Selection, it shall inform all eligible customers of the priority they are in.

Timing of such notification shall be provided by the VRC:

A. At the time a customer applies for rehabilitation services;

B. At the time of the Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) is developed;

C. At the time the customer is assigned to a category in the State's Order of Selection, if applicable; and

D. Upon reduction, suspension, or cessation of approved rehabilitation services for the customer.

Whenever possible, IDVR will attempt to resolve conflicts informally or through the Dispute Resolution process. IDVR will not pay for a customer's legal services.

IDVR shall make disability related accommodations to assist customers in the conduct of the appeals process.

4.1 Continuation of Services Pending Completion of the Appeal Process

Pending a final determination of an Informal Review or Fair Hearing or participation in Mediation, IDVR may not suspend, reduce, or terminate approved services being provided under an IPE, unless the services were obtained through misrepresentation, fraud or collusion or the customer or authorized representative, requests suspension, reduction, or termination of services.

4.2 Client Assistance Program (CAP) and Supervisory Review

The CAP and supervisory review are encouraged as a means to resolve dissatisfaction. These options are in keeping with the IDVR policy to resolve a customer's dissatisfaction at the earliest possible time.

4.3 Dispute Resolution Process

4.3.1 The Informal Review process is an option available to the customer as a proven means likely to result in a timely resolution of disagreements. A customer must request an Informal Review within twenty-one (21) calendar days of the agency notice regarding IDVR' s decision to provide or deny services that are in question. The request must be in writing to the RM. The request must describe the complaint.

In holding an Informal Review, the RM will function as the Review Officer. At the customer's request another RM may be substituted. The reviewer will be responsible for:

A. Advising the customer of his/her right to have a representative present and encouraging the customer to use the services of CAP.

B. Conducting the review within fifteen (15) calendar days following written receipt of a request for such a hearing. Unless an extension is agreed to by both parties.

C. When the customer makes a documented effort to utilize CAP or another selected advocate to resolve his/her dissatisfaction, the time allowed for conducting an Informal Review will be extended accordingly.

D. Holding the review at a time and place convenient to the customer, generally at the local IDVR branch office.

E. Providing communication methods for those customers who have a sensory impairment. An interpreter will be provided for those customers who cannot communicate in English.

F. If needed, assure that the customer is provided transportation to and from the review site.

G. The Informal Review Officer (RM) will attempt to resolve the matter to the satisfaction of the customer, developing a written proposal with the customer at the conclusion of the appeal process. The results are binding for the agency unless the proposal is not permitted by law. The customer may reject the proposal and request a Fair-Hearing within ten (10) calendar days of the Informal Review proposal or sixty (60) calendar days of the original IDVR decision, which ever one comes later.

4.4 Mediation

4.4.1 Mediation is an alternate dispute resolution method available to applicants and eligible customers who have initiated the Formal Appeals Process.

A. A customer must request Mediation within twenty (20) calendar days of the original decision or ten (10) calendar days following the written proposal from the Informal Review. Mediation is available to a customer when an Informal Review has not resolved the dispute to the satisfaction of the customer.

B. Requests for mediation must be made in writing to the Chief of Field Services and clearly state the reason for dissatisfaction with the decision or results of the Informal Review. The Chief of Field Services will represent IDVR or assign a member of the administrative or supervisory staff who has not participated in the Agency action that created the customer's dissatisfaction.

C. Participation in the mediation process is voluntary on the part of the customer and on the part of IDVR. Either party may reject mediation as an alternate dispute resolution method. Either party, once accepting mediation as an alternate dispute resolution method, may terminate the mediation process.

D. Mediation is not used to deny or delay the customer's right to pursue a Fair Hearing. Should the customer and/or designated representatives select mediation in lieu of a Fair Hearing the option for the Fair Hearing will be extended to allow the results of the mediation to be established. After the final results of the mediation are determined, the customer retains the right to request a Fair Hearing.

E. Mediation is conducted by qualified and impartial mediators, who are selected randomly from a list of mediators maintained by the IDVR.

F. Mediation discussions are confidential and may not be used as evidence in a subsequent Fair Hearing. A confidentiality agreement will be signed by both parties at the beginning of the mediation process.

G. The mediator will develop a written Mediation Agreement, if an agreement between the parties is reached, it must be signed by the customer, the mediator, and IDVR.

H. Cost of mediation is paid by IDVR. IDVR is not required to pay for any cost related to the representation of a customer.

4.5 Fair Hearing Process

The Fair Hearing Process is an option available to any customer who is dissatisfied with any determination made by personnel of IDVR that affects the provisions of vocational rehabilitation services. A customer may request a Fair Hearing immediately without having to go through the other appeal steps.

A customer may request, or if appropriate, may request through the customer's representative, a timely review of the determination. Such a request must be made within sixty (60) days of the IDVR decision resulting in the initial disagreement or within ten (10) calendar days of the conclusion of the Informal Review or ten (10) calendar days of the conclusion of the Mediation Process whichever is later. The Fair Hearing Process shall include a Fair Hearing by a Fair Hearing Officer (FHO).

4.5.1 A Formal Hearing is a procedure whereby a customer who is dissatisfied with any determination concerning the provision or denial of IDVR services or the findings of the Informal Review or Mediation may seek a determination of the agency action before a Fair Hearing Officer.

4.5.2 A request for a Fair Hearing must be sent in writing to the Chief of Field Services and clearly state the customer's dissatisfaction with the Agency's decision.

4.5.3 The hearing shall be conducted within sixty (60) calendar days of receipt of the customer's request for review, unless informal resolution is achieved prior to the 60th day, or both parties agree to a specific extension of time.

4.5.4 A list of Fair Hearing Officers shall be identified jointly by the Administrator of IDVR and the State Rehabilitation Council.

4.5.5 The Fair Hearing Officer will be selected from the list by the Administrator of IDVR and the customer.

4.5.6 The Fair Hearing Officer shall issue a written report of the findings and decision of the hearing within thirty (30) calendar days of the completion of the hearing.

4.5.7 The decision of the Fair Hearing Officer shall be considered final by the agency.

4.5.8 Any party who disagrees with the findings and decisions of a Fair Hearing Officer shall have the right to bring a civil action with respect to the matter in dispute. The action may be brought in any State court of competent jurisdiction or in a district court of the United States of competent jurisdiction without regard to the amount in controversy.

SECTION 5.0 APPLICATION AND ELIGIBILITY DETERMINATION

A. People with disabilities can achieve competitive, high quality employment in an integrated setting and can live full productive lives.

B. People with disabilities often experience major barriers related to the low expectations of and misunderstandings toward, people with disabilities that exists within society, within the persons with disabilities themselves, and sometimes, within our own rehabilitation system.

C. People with disabilities should have responsibility and accountability to make their own choices about their lives; the kind of employment they want to pursue, who they want to provide services for them, as well as the kind of services they need.

D. The primary purpose and role of the public vocational rehabilitation system is to empower individuals with disabilities by providing them with information, education, training, and confidence, in order for them to~~that they will~~ make effective employment choices when appropriately informed. It is also the purpose of the public vocational rehabilitation system to support those choices when they are based upon reasonable and verifiable premises.

E. The most effective rehabilitation occurs when there are true partnerships between the customer, Federal and State programs~~partners~~, ~~State agency providers,~~ community providers and employers, the disability community, all other partners.~~, and the consumer.~~

The ~~ultimate~~ goal is to provide eligible customers with the skills, tools and information to aid in their vocational discovery process and to initiate informed choices when creating their Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) with the VRC.

5.1 Inquiry

IDVR will respond to all general inquiries for VR services received via telephone, mail or electronic format within seven (7) business days.

5.2 Referral

A completed referral form for VR services from customers available to participate in services that are made via mail or electronic format will be entered into the case management system as an open referral within three (3) business days. IDVR staff will make a minimum of three (3) attempts to contact the customer before the referral is closed. The first attempt will include a phone call or e-mail. If unable to make contact, a letter will be sent to confirm IDVR has received the inquiry and will include the IDVR office phone number. If the customer does not respond to the first letter, a second letter will be sent stating that IDVR has been unable to contact the customer and that the referral for services will be closed. Attempts to reach the customer ~~and those results~~ will be documented in the case management system.

5.3 Application for Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) Services

An application process is complete when the following three criteria are met:

1. IDVR receives a signed and dated A~~a~~pplication S~~s~~ignature S~~s~~heet from a customer or his/her representative, or an alternate request for application is made to an IDVR office;

AND

2. The customer provides the information needed to begin an assessment of eligibility. Information gathered in the intake interview meets this criterion;

AND

3. The customer is available and free of restrictions to complete the assessment process for determining eligibility for VR services.

There is no duration of residency requirement. The customer must be living in the State of Idaho and legally able to work in the United States.

Applicants must be available and participate in the eligibility determination process.

IDVR must, as part of the application process, inform applicants that the goal of VR services is to assist eligible customers to obtain or maintain employment and that services provided are toward this goal. Customers must also be informed of their rights and responsibilities.

The 60-day eligibility determination period begins when the application process is complete.

5.3.1 Orientation to Vocational Rehabilitation
IDVR is obligated to provide all customers with information regarding~~about~~ the following:

1. The Client Assistance Program (CAP);
2. Confidentiality;
3. VR services;
4. Informed choice;
5. The rehabilitation process;
6. C~~That c~~ustomers who receive VR services must intend to achieve an employment outcome;
7. The rights and responsibilities of the customer; and
8. The VR appeals process.

This information may be conveyed to customers through group orientations, in a one-on-one interview setting or over the telephone by IDVR staff.

5.3.2 Intake Interview
The intake interview is part of the application process and is the beginning of the assessment process to determine eligibility and potential services to be included on the Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE). Medical, psychological, social, vocational, educational, cultural and economic information is gathered to determine the unique strengths, abilities, and interests of the customer.

Prior to the end of the intake interview, the IDVR staff member should identify the actions needed by both IDVR and the customer. This may~~could~~ include:

1. Appointment(s) scheduled
2. Releases of Information obtained
3. Authorizations to be issued
4. Referral letters
5. Next scheduled meeting
6. Existing information the customer agrees to provide IDVR staff

5.4 Assessment for Determining Eligibility

Any customer who applies for services shall undergo an assessment to~~for~~ determine~~ing~~ eligibility and the priority for services, the results of which shall be shared with the customer.

The assessment will be conducted in the most integrated setting possible and consistent with the needs and informed choice of the customer.

Eligibility for IDVR services shall be determined within a reasonable period of time, not to exceed sixty (60) days after the application for services (a~~A~~ll three components of the~~an~~ application process must be complete~~received)~~) unless the following occurs:

A. The customer is notified that exceptional and unforeseen circumstances beyond the control of IDVR preclude the counselor from completing the determination within the prescribed time frame and the customer agrees that an extension of time is warranted;

OR

B. A T~~t~~rial W~~w~~ork E~~e~~xperience including an exploration of the customer's abilities, capabilities, and capacity to perform in realistic work situations is carried out.~~;~~

~~OR~~

~~C. An extended evaluation is necessary.~~

5.5 Eligibility Criteria

A customer is eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation if the following criteria are met:

A. A determination by qualified personnel that the customer has a physical or mental impairment;

B. A determination by a qualified VRC that the customer's physical or mental impairment constitutes or results in a substantial impediment to employment ~~for the applicant~~;

C. A determination by a qualified VRC employed by IDVR that the customer requires vocational rehabilitation services to prepare for, secure, retain, advance in, ~~-~~or regain employment consistent with the applicant's unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interest, and informed choice. ~~;~~

IDVR presumes that ~~A presumption by a qualified VRC that the~~ an applicant who meets the eligibility requirements above can benefit in terms of an employment outcome from the provision of vocational rehabilitation services.

NOTE: ~~The customer can benefit in terms of an employment outcome from vocational rehabilitation services unless the counselor demonstrates on the basis of clear and convinc~~Prior to any determination that an applicant is unable to benefit from vocational rehabilitation services due to the severity of their disability, IDVR must assess the individual's abilities, capabilities and capacity to perform in competitive integrated employment settings to the maximum extent possible, consistent with the informed choice and rehabilitation needs of the customer, through Trial Work Experiences.
~~ing evidence, and only after an exploration of the customer's abilities, capabilities, and capacity to perform in work situations or an extended evaluation is carried out, that such customer is incapable of benefiting from vocational rehabilitation services in terms of an employment outcome.~~

5.5.1 Qualified Personnel
IDVR has established a policy for "qualified personnel" for the purpose of disability determination. Under the Rehabilitation Act, the assessment for determining eligibility must be made by "qualified personnel" including, if appropriate, personnel skilled in rehabilitation technology ~~(Section 103 (a)(1) of the Act)~~. In addition, diagnosis and treatment for mental and emotional disorders must be provided by "qualified personnel who meet State licensure laws" ~~(Section 103 (a)(6)(F) of the Act)~~.

Qualified personnel are those who meet existing licensure, certification, or registration requirements applicable to the profession, this includes VRCs who meet IDVR's Comprehensive System of Personnel Development (CSPD) policy.

The determination of the existence of impairment should be supported by medical and/or psychological documentation. Medical/psychological disabilities shall be diagnosed by qualified personnel who meet~~demonstrate the possession of requisite~~ State licensure, certification, or registration ~~of~~ requirements applicable to the practice of their profession within the state of Idaho.

The following occupations have been licensed in Idaho to provide general medical diagnoses. The VRC can utilize general medical diagnoses established by these medical professionals:

- Medical Physician or Doctor of Osteopathy
- Nurse Practitioner (works under own licensure)
- Physician's Assistant (works under a "Delegation of Services Agreement" with a physician providing oversight)

The following occupations have been licensed in Idaho to provide specific medical diagnoses within the specialized areas of competency for which the specific licensure has been determined. It is critical that the VRC take special precaution to ensure that when utilizing medical diagnoses from one of the medical professions listed below that only those areas of expertise for which the particular professional has been credentialed are documented within the eligibility determination module.

- Licensed Psychologist
- Chiropractor
- Naturopath
- Podiatrist
- Optometrist
- Physical Therapist
- Dentist/Orthodontist
- Advanced Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor (ACADC) / Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor (CADC) (restricted to identifying alcohol and drug impairment related to specific testing outcome)
- School Psychologist (limited to diagnosing eligibility for school related special education~~needs~~ services)
- Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW)
- Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor (LCPC)
- Licensed Audiologist (restricted to diagnosing hearing impairments specifically related to audiological testing results when medical conditions have been ruled out)

For further clarification, you may access www.ibol.idaho.gov and connect to "The Individual Board Pages" to determine the full extent of the professional latitude allocated to the medical occupations that are licensed to provide specialized services within narrowly defined parameters of competency. The State Board of Medicine maintains jurisdiction over the authority and conduct of medical doctors.

Private licensing/certifying boards outside the federal/state purview cannot be used~~tilized as a~~ for ~~basis for~~ VR diagnostic purposes.

5.5.2 Social Security Presumption
Any applicant, who has been determined eligible for Social Security benefits under Title II or Title XVI of the Social Security Act, based upon their disability, is presumed to meet the eligibility requirements for vocational rehabilitation services and is considered a customer with a significant disability.

Following an application and initial interview where a customer reports receiving SSI or SSDI, the counselor will obtain verification of receipt of SSI/SSDI, such as an award letter, a copy of the customer's check, or a verification document through the Social Security Entry and Verification System (SVES). Upon verification, the customer is made eligible for vocational rehabilitation with a Presumption of Eligibility statement in the record of services.

NOTE: If the applicant presents sufficient medical documentation to determine eligibility at the first meeting, verification will still be procured but eligibility can be determined immediately without designating presumptive status.

The assessment for determining rehabilitation services~~needs~~ will continue, as needed, to obtain information necessary to determine the Individualized Plan for Employment. This assessment will include: gathering existing records to determine the customer's impairment, impediment and nature and scope of ~~the~~ VR services necessary to obtain an employment outcome consistent with the customer's unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice.

When the assessment adequately documents the impairment(s), employment impediment(s) and required service(s) needed, the qualified VRC completes an Eligibility Determination in the Agency's computerized data system.

If a customer receives disability benefits under Title II or Title XVI of the Social Security Act and intends to work, IDVR presumes eligibility for services, unless, because of the significance of the customer's disability, a VRC cannot presume that VR services will enable the customer to work (must be demonstrated based on clear and convincing evidence, see Section 5.6.1 for explanation of clear and convincing evidence).

Should the significance of the disability prevent a VRC from presuming that VR services will enable the customer to work, the customer will be asked to complete a T~~t~~rial W~~w~~ork E~~e~~xperience in order for the counselor to ~~make an~~ determine eligibility.~~ determination.~~

~~If the customer cannot take advantage of a trial work experience, an extended evaluation must be conducted in order to make the decision of eligibility.~~

5.6 Review and A~~a~~ssessment of D~~d~~ata for E~~e~~ligibility D~~d~~etermination

The eligibility determination must be based on the basic eligibility requirements and shall also ~~be based~~ include a~~on the~~ review and assessment of existing data, including: counselor observations, education records, and information provided by the customer or family, particularly information used by education officials and determinations made by officials or other agencies. Current medical records will be utilized to determine the nature and extent of the disability as well as for justification for the procurement of additional medical data when required to identify/verify alleged medical restrictions.

To the extent that existing data does not describe the current functioning of the customer, IDVR will conduct an assessment of additional data resulting from the provision of VR services including: trial work experiences, assistive technology devices and services, personal assistance services, and any other support services that are necessary to determine whether a customer is eligible.

5.6.1 Eligibility/Ineligibility: For each customer determined eligible or ineligible for vocational rehabilitation services, the record of services must include a dated Eligibility Determination completed by a qualified VRC. Written notification of an ineligibility determination will be provided to the customer.

An ineligibility notification must include the reason for the determination, rights and responsibilities, Client Assistance Program (CAP) information and information and referral to other appropriate agencies, which may include referral to the other W~~w~~orkforce Development System partners. A customer should be referred to the Extended Employment Services Program for work services if the ineligibility reason is "Disability t~~T~~oo Significant to Benefit from VR Services~~everely Disabled~~."

Ineligibility decisions based upon the severity of disability must outline clear and convincing evidence and require a period of T~~t~~rial W~~w~~ork E~~e~~xperiences~~ or extended evaluation~~ prior to closure. (See Closure, Section 13)

NOTE: Clear and convincing evidence is a high degree of certainty a VR counselor has before concluding that an individual cannot benefit from VR services in terms of an employment outcome. The clear and convincing standard constitutes the highest standard used in the civil system of law. The standard is to be applied on a case-by-case basis.

The term clear means unequivocal. For example, the use of an intelligence test result alone would not constitute clear and convincing evidence. However, clear and convincing evidence might include a description of assessments, including situational assessments and supported employment assessments, from service providers who have concluded that they would be unable to meet the individual's needs due to the severity of the individual's disability. The demonstration of "clear and convincing evidence" must include, if appropriate, a functional assessment of skill development activities, with any necessary supports (including assistive technology), in real life settings.

It is a federal~~ly~~ requirement ~~mandated~~ that IDVR review the closure outcomes for those who are ~~of~~ "Disability t~~t~~oo Significant~~severely~~ to Benefit from VR Services ~~disabled~~" within 12 months of closure and annually thereafter, if requested. (See Section 13)

5.6.2 Trial Work Experiences (TWE) for C~~c~~ustomers with S~~s~~ignificant D~~d~~isabilities: Prior to any determination that an applicant ~~customer~~ with a disability is unable~~incapable~~ to benefit ~~of benefiting~~ from VR services in terms of an employment outcome because of the severity of ~~that customer's~~ disability, IDVR must assess the~~an exploration of that~~ customer's abilities, capabilities, and the capacity to perform in competitive integrated ~~realistic wo~~work situations, to the maximum extent possible, consistent with informed choice and rehabilitation needs of the individual.~~must be conducted to determine whether or not there is clear and convincing evidence to support such a determination.~~

In such cases a written Trial Work Experience (TWE) plan must be developed to assess and determine the above. ~~The assessment must be provided in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with the informed choice and rehabilitation needs of the customer.~~ Trial Work Experiences~~WE i~~ includes~~:~~ supported employment, on-the-job training, Community Based Work Evaluation (CBWE), and other experiences using realistic ~~situational assessment, and other experiences using realistic~~ work settings and must be of~~a~~ sufficient variety and over a sufficient period of time to ~~make such~~ determine~~ation~~ that there is sufficient evidence to conclude that the individual cannot benefit from Vocational Rehabilitation services in terms of a competitive integrated employment outcome. Appropriate supports, including assistive technology devices and services and personal assistance services to accommodate the rehabilitation needs of the customer must be provided, if needed.

Trial Work Experience is used to demonstrate whether the customer is capable of benefiting from VR services. Trial Work Experience will be conducted before Presumptive Eligibility is completed if there is a question regarding the customer's ability~~capacity~~ to benefit from services.

~~TWEs may include: Community Based Work Evaluation (CBWE), job coaching, on-the-job training, supported employment or other experiences using realistic work settings, as well as assistive technology and other needed services.~~

Review the TWE Plan at least every 90 days to determine if there is sufficient evidence to conclude that the customer can benefit from VR s~~S~~ervices in terms of an employment outcome or there is clear and convincing evidence that the customer is incapable of benefiting from VR s~~S~~ervices in terms of an employment outcome due to the severity of the disability.

Make the determination for eligibility or case closure within the 18-month time frame.

~~5.6.3 Extended Evaluation: Under limited circumstances if a customer cannot take advantage of trial work experiences or if options for trial work experiences have been exhausted, an Extended Evaluation (EE) must be conducted to make these determinations.~~

~~In all cases where the counselor determines that an extended evaluation is required, the case record must include a Determination of Extended Evaluation completed by a qualified VRC, which documents:~~

~~A. That the customer has a physical or mental impairment which constitutes or results in a substantial impediment to employment and requires VR services, and~~

~~B. That it is questionable if the customer is capable of benefiting from VR services in terms of an employment outcome because of the severity of the disability.~~

~~During the extended evaluation period, VR services must be provided in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with the informed choice and rehabilitation needs of the customer. There must be a written Extended Evaluation Plan for providing services necessary to make an eligibility or ineligibility determination. Only those services that are necessary to make the above determinations are to be provided and extended evaluation services are terminated when the qualified VRC is able to make the determinations.~~

~~A customer will remain in extended evaluations only for the period of time required to determine if the customer can benefit from VR services in terms of an employment outcome but not to exceed eighteen (18) months. A review of the case shall be conducted as often as necessary but at least every ninety (90) days. Written documentation will be provided of determination.~~

SECTION 6.0 THE DETERMINATION OF SIGNIFICANCE OF DISABILITY

6.1 Policy

At the time a customer is determined eligible for VR services, a VRC will determine the significance of the disability and, based upon the determination, will assign the customer to a priority category. If the A~~a~~gency is not under an Order of Selection, the prioritization will be used (1) for planning purposes to ascertain services that can continue to be provided to all who are eligible and (2) to provide a structure for an easy transition to an Order of Selection, when ~~if~~ required. If the Agency is under an Order of Selection (see Field Services Policy Manual S~~s~~ection 14.0), the priority categories are used to determine the order in which customers receive services.

6.2 Definitions

Priority Categories:

Priority 1 – Eligible individuals with the Most Significant Disabilities (MSD)

Priority 2 – Eligible individuals with Significant Disabilities (SD)

Priority 3 – All other eligible individuals with Disabilities (D)

Most Significant Disability (MSD)

a. Meets the criteria established for a customer with a significant disability;

b. Experiences a severe physical and/or mental impairment that seriously limits three or more functional categories (such as mobility, work skills, self-care, interpersonal skills, communication, self-direction or work tolerance) in terms of an employment outcome; and

c. Requires multiple primary Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) services over an extended period of time (at least 6 months).

Significant Disability (SD)

a. Meets the criteria for a customer with no significant disability;

b. Experiences a severe physical and/or mental impairment that seriously limits two or more functional categories (such as mobility, work skills, self-care, interpersonal skills, communication, self-direction or work tolerance) in terms of an employment outcome; and

c. Requires multiple primary Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) services over an extended period of time (at least 6 months).

~~A. No Significant Disability (NSD)~~

~~B. Significant Disability (SD)~~

~~C. Most Significant Disability (MSD)~~

~~No Significant~~ Disability (~~NS~~D)

a. Who has a physical or mental impairment;

b. Whose impairment constitutes or results in a substantial impediment to employment; and

c. Who can benefit in terms of an employment outcome from the provision of vocational rehabilitation services.

~~Significant Disability (SD)~~

~~a. Meets the criteria for a customer with no significant disability;~~

~~b. Experiences a severe physical and/or mental impairment that seriously limits two or more functional categories (such as mobility, work skills, self-care, interpersonal skills, communication, self-direction or work tolerance) in terms of an employment outcome; and~~

~~c. Requires multiple primary Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) services over an extended period of time (at least 6 months).~~

~~Most Significant Disability (MSD)~~

~~a. Meets the criteria established for a customer with a significant disability;~~

~~b. Experiences a severe physical and/or mental impairment that seriously limits three or more functional categories (such as mobility, work skills, self-care, interpersonal skills, communication, self-direction or work tolerance) in terms of an employment outcome; and~~

~~c. Requires multiple primary Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) services over an extended period of time (at least 6 months).~~

NOTE~~ote~~: Customers who are beneficiaries of Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) or recipients of Supplemental Security Income (SSI) for disability reasons are categorized as ~~automatically classified as either~~ SD or MSD, depending upon the extent of their functional capacity~~loss category~~ limitations.

Order of Selection (OOS): When VR services cannot be provided to all eligible customers because of fiscal~~nancial~~ or personnel ~~service~~ capacity constraints, the Agency will enter an Order of Selection process that will ensure~~assure~~ that first priority is given to customers with the M~~m~~ost S~~s~~ignificant D~~d~~isabilities. Please review Section 14.0 for details regarding Order of Selection.

6.3 Procedures

Determination of Severity~~ignificance~~ of Disability

A VRC determines and ~~adequately~~ documents the level of severity of a customer's disability based on a review of the information gathered for~~to~~ eligibility determination~~e eligibility~~. If additional information is necessary to make the determination, a VRC may obtain the information from the customer, customer's family, an outside professional, and/or another public agency.

If adequate information is not available to describe or document current functioning, a VRC may purchase diagnostics from a qualified service provider.

A VRC reviews the data to determine:

A. The number of functional capacity categories in terms of an employment outcome that are seriously impacted as a result of a disability;

AND

B. Whether a customer is likely to need multiple primary IPE services to prepare for, obtain, or retain~~or maintain~~ a job;

AND

C. The anticipated duration of IPE services are needed for an extended period of time (at least 6 months).

Identifying a Serious Loss of Functional Capacity

Functional capacity categories include: mobility, work tolerance, communication, self-care, interpersonal skills, self-direction, and work skills. To identify a loss of functional capacity, a VRC reviews and assesses data provided by the customer or customer's family, observed by the VRC, or reported by another qualified professional to determine whether:

A. A loss of functional capacity resulting from a disability is present;

AND

B. The loss of functional capacity represents an impediment to employment;

AND

C. The loss of functional capacity meets the definition of "serious loss of functional capacity."

   A serious loss of functional capacity means a reduction in capacity of the customer to the degree that the person requires services or accommodations not typically provided to other individuals~~customers~~ in order to prepare for, secure, or retain~~maintain~~ a job.

   A specific disability diagnosis does not automatically infer a serious loss of functional capacity. Although certain functional losses are commonly associated with specific disability diagnoses, the presence and seriousness of the loss is unique for each person. Therefore, a VRC must complete a thorough evaluation of loss of functional capacity for each customer.

Non-disability factors such as age, sex, race, cultural, geographic location, poor public transportation, legal history, or lack of training should not be considered when determining loss of functional capacity. It is within the VRC's judgment to determine whether limitations are disability related or not.

Self-Reported or Observed Loss of Functional Capacity

A review and assessment of existing data, including counselor observations, ~~A VRC may identify a loss of functional capacity based on a~~ information provided by the customer or the customer's family, particularly information used by education officials or ~~customer's self-report, reports from the family,~~ school representatives or others may be used to identify loss of functional capacity.~~, or based on counselor observations.~~

Counselor observations alone are not adequate to support the determination of a serious functional loss, but should be used in conjunction with supporting medical information provided by a qualified professional. If an individual reports a functional loss that is not consistent with or not supported by disability related documentation, the VRC and the individual need to discuss and reach an agreement as to how to obtain the information necessary to verify the functional loss.

For example, while interviewing an applicant who is hard of hearing, a VRC observes that the applicant is not able to effectively communicate verbally. Medical records clearly establish a hearing impairment, but do not address verbal limitations. Because a loss of functional capacity in verbal communication is consistent with and commonly associated with hearing loss, the VRC may determine, based on his or her observations, that a serious loss of functional capacity is present. To ensure the case service record explains and supports the determination, the VRC enters case narrative explaining that a loss in the area of communication was observed, a summary of the observations, and how the loss of functional capacity affects the customer.

SD/MSD Checklist

Once the VRC determines a disability-related loss of functional capacity, the VRC considers whether the loss of functional capacity meets the definition of a "serious loss of functional capacity" contained in the SD/MSD Checklist loss of functional capacity definitions. If the loss of functional capacity meets the definitions of a "serious loss of functional capacity" the VRC checks the appropriate indicator on the Checklist.

The VRC completes the SD/MSD Checklist for each customer as soon as sufficient information is available, but no later than sixty (60) days from the date of application (unless an extension has been agreed upon).
The same information gathered during the assessment process for eligibility may be used in the significance of disability determination.

An individual is classified in the highest priority category he/she meets. The determination may be re-evaluated at any time during the VR process if either the individual or the VRC believes there is a significant change in the individual's disabling condition which could result in a change of priority categories. Under an Order of Selection, a re-evaluation would never result in an individual being moved from an open service category to a closed service category.

SECTION 7.0 ASSESSMENT OF VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION NEEDS

7.1 Primary Source of Information

To the extent possible, the vocational goal, intermediate objectives, and the nature and scope of services to be included in the Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) must be determined based on the data used for the assessment of eligibility and priority for services.

The Comprehensive Assessment to be completed prior to the development of the IPE will use, as a primary source of information, to the maximum extent possible, the following:

A. Existing information

B. Information provided by the customer and, where appropriate, by the family of the customer.

C. The Assessment may also include new information acquired by IDVR including an in-house vocational evaluation; Community Based Work Evaluation (CBWE), aptitude tests, interest tests, job shadowing or any pertinent assessment required to identify the objectives, nature and scope of VR services that the customer may need in order to substantiate the choice of employment outcome.

7.2 Comprehensive Assessment of Rehabilitation Needs

A comprehensive assessment of rehabilitation needs is a process utilized to identify the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice as it relates to any potential vocational goal. The assessment shall be conducted in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with the informed choice of the customer.

7.2.1 Assessment of the Customer's Current Realities

The VRC and customer will evaluate the following relevant factors.

Work History:

The VRC is required to obtain a thorough work history of the customer at the time of the intake interview. The gathering of this information requires the identification of job titles, job duties/responsibilities, and length of time in each position, hiring/educational requirements, and the reasons for leaving. Some attempt should be made to assess the customer's satisfaction with the job, the employer, and co-workers.

Functional Limitations:

Functional limitations need to be clearly outlined before the customer begins the development of a vocational goal. The establishment of an appropriate vocational goal requires that both the VRC and customer are aware of and address the true barriers to employment including the customer's perception of their limitations. This involves addressing the following areas:

A. Physical limitations (lifting, walking, carrying, driving, stooping, reaching, handling, and bending)

B. Mental limitations (coping with stress, working with other people, working alone)

C. Current work tolerance

D. Acceptance of disability

E. Cognitive functioning

Personal Social & Economic Factors:

It is important for the VRC and customer to gather, document, and understand personal social and economic considerations. These considerations include:

A. Values (personal and work)

B. Family

C. Service or support agencies

D. Legal

E. Financial (current realities and future expectations)

F. Substance Use

G. Non-financial resources / supports available

It is critical to understand the personal, social and economic factors as it relates to the development of the employment goal and the IPE.

Aptitudes/Transferable Skills:

To determine an appropriate employment goal the VRC and customer must identify the aptitudes, skills, and ability that the customer possesses. The following skill areas are to be addressed:

A. Personal

- Self-management
- Self-care
- Personality characteristics

B. Functional skills – A person's level of skill working with data, people, and things.

C. Specific work skills – competencies in specific work task areas.

Many tools exist to assist the customer and the VRC to identify aptitudes and transferable skills.

7.2.2 Identification of potential employment goal, rehabilitation needs, and IPE services
The VRC and customer will evaluate a potential employment goal and identify rehabilitation needs and services required to achieve that employment goal.

Vocational Assessment:

Vocational assessment is a comprehensive process involving the VRC and the customer that focuses on functional abilities and will incorporate medical, psychological, social, vocational, educational, cultural, economic data, and real or simulated work. This is done to identify the employment goal, its overall feasibility, and the VR services that are needed to achieve that goal. Examples of vocational assessment include:

A. Formal Vocational Evaluation
B. Community Based Assessment
C. Guidance & Counseling – Facilitated Self-Discovery
D. Labor Market Research
E. Assistive Technology Review

7.3 IPE Development:

Through the comprehensive assessment the customer has made an informed choice of his/her vocational goal. For the vocational goal to be implemented, the VRC must concur that the vocational goal is feasible. The VRC will then assist in identifying the IPE services needed to remove barriers to employment. The VRC is required to address all previously identified disability related barriers to employment. These services include but are not limited to:

A. Counseling and Guidance
B. Training
C. Medical and mental restoration
D. Disability adjustment training

E. Information and referral services
F. Interpreter services
G. Job placement assistance
H. Job readiness training
I. Job search assistance
J. Maintenance
K. On-the-job supports
L. On-the-job training
M. Other services
N. Personal attendant services
O. Reader services
P. Rehabilitation technology
Q. Technical assistance services
R. Transportation services

Vocational rehabilitation services are any services described in an IPE necessary to assist a customer with a disability in preparing for, securing, retaining, or regaining an employment outcome that is consistent with the strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice of the customer.

The following are essential components that need to be addressed and documented as part of the comprehensive assessment:

- Compatibility of Disability with Employment
- Skills, Interests, Aptitudes, and Abilities
- Market Analysis
- Economic Expectations and Potential for Career Growth
- Vocational Strengths and Capacities
- Customer Financial Issues
- Informed Customer Choice
- Social Support
- Training and Academic Test Results
- Rehabilitation Technology needs
- Legal barriers and industry specific requirement (criminal issues, drug and alcohol screenings, tobacco use, etc.)

7.4 Medical Consultation Policy

Medical consultants are retained by IDVR. Medical consultants can be used to review a customer's diagnostic information to determine; 1) if it is complete or if updated and/or additional medical reports are necessary; 2) to train the counselor about medical conditions; and 3) to assist in case management direction.

Examples of times to use a medical consultant are:

A. Eligibility determination
B. Plan development

C. Prior to medical restoration services
D. Whenever a VR staff member has a question about a customer's treatment, medications, or condition including such issues as the natural course of the disease or treatment options.

When presenting a case file to the medical consultant, be prepared to:

1. Present specific questions to the medical consultant; and
2. Speak knowledgeably about the customer.

Some examples of things a VR staff member may consider prior to medical consultation:

A. File medical information in chronological order with most recent on top
B. Highlight or tab important information
C. Eliminate duplicate data
D. List questions for the medical consultant

SECTION 8.0 PARTICIPATION OF CUSTOMERS IN COST OF SERVICES BASED ON FINANCIAL NEED

In order to further IDVR's mission to help customers move towards independence and self-sufficiency, IDVR encourages customers to be personally invested in and contribute financially towards the cost of their VR plan, when possible. The extent of the customer's participation in the cost of Vocational Rehabilitation services is based on their income and other factors. The Financial Participation Assessment is an effective tool for identifying customer resources as they relate to VR planning and implementation, regardless of the amount contributed by the customer.

Reminder: Financial need and/or participation status are not factors in the eligibility determination.

Financial Participation is assessed using IDVR's Financial Participation Assessment (FPA) Form.

1. After eligibility, during plan development, while exploring comparable benefits, AND

2. Every twelve (12) months or if financial circumstances change significantly, whichever occurs sooner.

Services Exempt from Financial Participation:
A Financial Participation Assessment will be applied as a condition for providing vocational rehabilitation services, EXCEPT for the following: (34 CFR 361.54(b) (3))

1. Assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs. NOTE~~ote~~: Assessment services for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, which are not diagnostic in nature and are provided in the trial work period (i.e., transportation), are subject to financial participation.

2. Vocational rehabilitation counseling and guidance and referral services;

3. Any auxiliary aid or services (e.g., interpreter services or reader services) that an individual with a disability requires in order for the individual to participate in the vocational rehabilitation program. Auxiliary aids and services do not include personally prescribed devices such as eye glasses, hearing aids, or wheelchairs;

4. Personal assistance services;

5. Job related services, including job search and placement assistance, job retention services, follow-up services, and follow-along services, i.e., Community Based Work Adjustment, Job Site Development (CBWAJSD), Community Based Work Adjustment (CBWA), Placement and Follow Along Job Site Development (P&FJSD), and Placement and Follow Along (P&F).

Upon completion of the FPA and the determination of services to be included on the IPE the counselor and customer will identify the specific IPE services that will be paid for by each party.

It should be emphasized to the customer and vendor that IDVR will not be responsible for the customer's debts, under any circumstances. If the customer's debts to a vendor inhibit the provision of services necessary to achieve the employment goal, IDVR will work with the customer to explore options for the continuation of services.

Exemption from Required Participation

Customers who receive SSI and/or SSDI are exempt from financial contribution. However, to ensure a customer qualifies for this exemption, written proof of SSI or SSDI qualification must be received. It should be noted that customers who receive Social Security benefits from retirement, spouse of retired worker, child of a retired worker, child of deceased worker, widow, parent of deceased worker, spouse of disabled worker, or child of a disabled worker would not be eligible for this exemption.

Factors for Determining Customer Financial Participation

Several factors are considered to determine a customer's level of financial participation, including the customer's and/or spouse's income, estimated annual plan costs, exclusions such as impairment related work expenses, and available financial resources which exceed the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Federal Poverty Guidelines.

The following steps are taken to identify the level of participation:

The applicable income is subject to two calculations. The first calculation will determine the required participation by comparing income category and expected plan costs.

The second calculation identifies an annual maximum percentage of the applicable income that the customer will be required to contribute toward their plan costs and will not exceed 25% of the applicable income.

The lower amount of the two calculations above will determine the customer's expected annual contribution. All service costs anticipated or purchased during the twelve (12) month period covered by the FPA are to be considered in aggregate rather than individually calculated.

In exceptional cases, circumstances may occur where rigid adherence to the Financial Participation Policy could seriously jeopardize the customer's opportunity to achieve rehabilitation objectives and an employment outcome. In such cases, exceptions to the policy may be considered by the RM and Chief of Field Services.

The customer, parents or legal guardian completing the Financial Participation Assessment Form will be required to provide financial documentation for verification. If the customer has a financial participation requirement, it will be applied to purchases prior to assessing any maximum agency contributions~~caps~~ from the Agency Payment Policy (Section 12.2).

SECTION 9.0 PURCHASE OF SERVICES AND SUPPLIES FOR PARTICIPANT USE IN THE VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION PROGRAM

All purchases must follow federal, state, and IDVR purchasing guidelines.

Purchases require written authorization (Authorization for Purchase (AFP)), prior to initiation of the service or the purchase of any equipment.

The responsibility for authorizing services and approving payment of those services must be assigned to separate employees.

Purchases will be made consistent with the prevention of discrimination due to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability.

The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and it's implementing regulations mandate procedures in the provision of services and methods of procurement. Customers with a disability served through the vocational rehabilitation program must be actively involved in choosing the vocational rehabilitation services they receive and the entities providing those services.

Consistent with procurement guidelines, a VRC cannot obligate IDVR to services that exceed his/her procurement authority. An Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) that will include a service generating an AFP over $5,000 will require the RM's written approval of the IPE prior to the plan being approved. The VRC will inform the customer that the plan is pending approval during this process. An AFP cannot be fragmented into multiple AFP's as a way to circumvent this approval.

All purchases in excess of $5,000 shall be reviewed and recommended by the RM.

NOTE: Case service expenditures require written authorization prior to the initiation of the service or the purchase of any equipment. Verbal authorizations are permitted in emergency situations by the RM or designee, but must be confirmed promptly in writing and forwarded to the provider. These authorizations are to be issued within three (3) business days of the beginning of the service.

The following principles shall guide customer purchases:

A. The IPE is the primary document that determines the scope, duration and provider of services. The customer with a disability must agree to the terms and conditions of the IPE prior to services being provided.

B. VRCs are required to determine the rehabilitation needs of the customer first, and then determine the provider and the procurement method. Costs, availability, success, experience providing the service~~,~~ and customer research are characteristics that guide the choice of the provider.

C. The method of procurement is also determined in partnership with the customer. The Agency prefers that a state AFP be provided to the selected vendor, with an invoice from the vendor documenting the service provision. Other methods are available, given the informed choice of the customer, including reimbursement.

D. The provision of services must be consistent with the unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, and informed choice of the customer.

E. All purchased services that are evaluative and restorative shall be authorized prior to the provision of services. The Agency will pay providers of medical services (both medical and psychological) based upon usual and customary fees for their area of specialization or based upon maximum agency contributions ~~payment caps~~ that have been imposed for specific services (r~~R~~eview the Payment Policy – Section 12.2 for more guidance). Customers are responsible for the cost of no-show or missed appointments. Regional Managers may approve exceptions on a case-by-case basis. Documentation of the exception is required in the case record. ~~Providers will be paid at this rate independent of the customer attending the scheduled appointment.~~

F. Staff will ensure fair and equitable treatment of all persons doing business with the Division.

G. Purchases will be made consistent with the elimination and prevention of discrimination due to race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, and disability.

H. The responsibility for authorizing services and approving payment of these services must be assigned to separate employees.

I. The customer's record of service shall contain necessary evidence and documentation of adherence to these principles.

J. RMs are the Division's field service procurement liaisons and are responsible to ensure that staff have necessary training.

SECTION 10.0 INDIVIDUALIZED PLAN FOR EMPLOYMENT (IPE)

10.1 Options for Developing the IPE

The eligible customer or, as appropriate, the customer's representative may develop all or part of the IPE:

A. Without the assistance from IDVR or any other entity

OR

B. With assistance from:
   a. A qualified VRC employed by IDVR.
   b. A qualified VRC who is not employed by IDVR.
   c. Other resources.

IDVR will not pay for IPE development services from other providers. IPE development must be completed on IDVR forms.

The IPE must be agreed to and signed by the customer or, as appropriate, the customer's representative, the VRC, and when required, the RM or designee. An IPE is considered approved and services initiated only after all required signatures have been obtained.

A comprehensive assessment must be competed in developing the IPE as described in section 7.2.

Customers must receive the supports that will assist them in making informed choices.

Customers shall promptly receive a copy of their initial IPE and any subsequent IPEs. Copies shall be provided in the native language of the customer or through appropriate modes of communication if appropriate.

The record of services must support the selection of the specific employment outcome, the objectives of the IPE and the selection of providers of services. All goods and services, except assessment services, may only be provided in accordance with IPE.

An IPE can support one of the five following employment outcomes:

1. Competitive employment in the integrated labor market.
2. Self-employment
3. Integrated employment with supports

IDVR must:

1. Reinforce the ultimate purpose of the IPE: To assist the customer to prepare for, secure, retain, or regain employment.

2. Insure that the customer fully understands that she/he must participate as an active and cooperative partner in the identification and selection, through informed choice, of a vocational goal, having a reasonable expectation for marketable success.

3. Insure that the customer fully commits to participate in the implementation and completion of the IPE.

10.2 Developing the Vocational Goal:

In selecting a vocational goal, it is important that the customer is actively involved in all phases of this development. Much research has been done to substantiate that the successful outcome of vocational rehabilitation increases when the customer is involved in every phase of the vocational planning. Vocational planning is built around vocational exploration, understanding the customer's medical and work history, his/her perception of disability, social habits, functional limitations, inherent aptitudes and transferable skills, vocational exploration through vocational evaluation, training options, and labor market research. The customer will explore the relationship of vocational objectives around his or her personal capabilities, interest, and situations and then attempt to understand the way these different factors impact and influence vocational potential. This information then helps the customer to develop the steps to a solid rehabilitation plan and provides tools for the customer to assess his/her current state of mind and to encourage positive self-initiated resolutions.

10.3 Ticket to Work

When a customer has a Ticket to Work through SSA and an approved VR IPE, their ticket is automatically assigned to IDVR, unless the ticket is already assigned to another employment network (EN). If the customer has a ticket assigned to another EN prior to IDVR involvement, the customer will be requested to reassign the ticket to IDVR. If the customer does not reassign their ticket, IDVR will need a copy of the work plan from the EN that the ticket was assigned to, to ensure that no service overlap occurs. It is the customer's responsibility to provide the ticket work plan.

An Agency verification program has been implemented that informs Maximus of all SSA recipients who have been placed into an initial IPE. If a recipient has been assigned a ticket by SSA, Maximus will designate the ticket as "in usage" at the time of notification by the Agency.

The VRC should always inform the SSA recipient that the choice to participate in an active IPE program will restrict any option to assign the ticket to other employment networks (ENs) while participating in the VR program.

At closure, the VRC is not required to contact Maximus. An Agency verification program has been designed to inform Maximus of case closure. This notification will re-activate the ticket for further engagement if desired by the customer.

At successful closure, it is highly recommended that a VRC provide a list of ENs who is capable of initiating follow-along services such as “Phase 2” and or “Monthly Outcome Payment” services. By referring the customer who is earning at Substantial Gainful Activity (SGA) level at closure to an EN, the probability of agency reimbursement at the completion of nine months of employment will be increased significantly.

10.4 The IPE must include the following:

A. Using the information from the Comprehensive Assessment (Section 7.2) the VRC and customer must determine a specific employment outcome consistent with the customer’s unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, career interests, and informed choice. In concert with the customer, the VRC must conduct a thorough market analysis to include job outlook and the customer’s economic expectations and needs. Planned services on the IPE should only entail those required to achieve the vocational goal.

B. The specific rehabilitation services needed to achieve the employment outcome, along with the projected dates for initiation and anticipated duration of each service, including:

   a. As appropriate, assistive technology devices, assistive technology services and personal assistance services including training in the management of those services;

   b. As provided in the most integrated setting that is appropriate for the services and is consistent with the informed choice of the eligible customer;

   c. Timelines for the achievement of the employment outcome and for the initiation of services;

   d. A description of the entity or entities chosen by the eligible customer or, as appropriate, the customer’s representative that will provide the vocational rehabilitation services and the methods to procure those services;

   e. A description of the criteria (“Plan Documentation”) that will be used to evaluate progress toward achievement of the employment outcome;

   f. The terms and conditions of the IPE, will include information describing the responsibilities of IDVR and the customer to achieve the employment outcome;

   g. The extent of the customer’s participation in paying for the costs of services;

   h. The customer is required to apply for and secure comparable services and benefits when available. The responsibilities of other comparable service and benefit entities will be listed on the IPE;

   i. As necessary, the expected need for post-employment services prior to the point of successful closure (Review Post-Employment – Section 12.14).

j. A description of the terms, conditions, and duration of the provision of post-employment services;

k. If appropriate, a statement of how post-employment services will be provided or arranged through other entities as the result of arrangements made pursuant to comparable services or benefits;

l. Supported Employment – for customers with the most severe disabilities for whom a vocational objective of supported employment has been determined appropriate, the following must be addressed:

- A description of time-limited services to be provided by IDVR not to exceed eighteen (18) months in duration, unless under special circumstances, the eligible customer and the VRC jointly agree to extend the time to achieve the employment outcome;

- A description of an identified source of funding for the extended services needed (long-term support). If it is not possible to identify the source of such funding, a statement that there is a reasonable expectation that extended services will be available. Extended services are provided by a State agency, a private non-profit organization, employer, or other appropriate resource, from funds other than IDVR.

m. In developing an IPE for a transition student with a disability, the IPE shall be prepared in coordination with the appropriate educational agency and will consider the student's Individualized Education Program~~Plan~~ (IEP) if one exists;

n. Completion of the IPE for all School-Work transition customers, before they exit the school system.

NOTE: Because of the capability of the Case Management tool, with the ability to clone plans, write new plans, edit features and delete completed services, there will be only one active plan, which is the current plan with all current services reflected on it. When the current plan is signed and approved by the customer and approving authority (counselor or supervisor) all previous plans will become void.

10.4.1 Implementation of the IPE

The VRC should ensure that the IPE is developed and implemented in a timely manner, within 90 days of the eligibility decision. An exception may be made and must be documented on or before the plan due date if this timeframe will be exceeded due to the needs of the customer. Documentation should include customer readiness to implement the IPE (i.e. legal, family, medical, transportation, and housing issues) and the anticipated time frame for resolution of factors delaying IPE implementation.

10.5 Annual Review

The IPE must be reviewed annually by a qualified VRC and the customer to assess the eligible customer's progress in achieving the identified employment outcome. An approved plan amendment would replace an annual review.

10.6 IPE Electronic Case Management Functions

New Plan: The "New Plan" option is utilized when completing an initial plan or when the overall nature of the IPE is changed. This would occur when a new vocational goal is chosen and there are major changes in the planned services. Any time a new vocational goal is chosen, a new comprehensive assessment case note must be completed that supports the new vocational goal. Remember: with the development of a new plan, the VRC and customer will need to include all needed services and complete the pertinent comparable benefit documentation outlined in Section 11.0.

Clone: The clone feature is to be used when the basic nature of the plan is going to remain the same. This feature brings forward a full copy of the previous IPE and allows the VRC and customer to add new services. New services will be given new service numbers when they are added to the clone. It is important to add new services before deleting previous services from the plan that have been completed or expired. This keeps service number 1-2-3… in numerical order and allows for subsequent services to be numbered appropriately. Justification for the new services must be documented in the comments section of the Plan sub-page. If the goal is changed without the need to modify services, the IPE can be cloned. Change the goal and update the comprehensive assessment in a case note to justify vocational change. When adding new or expanded services to a clone, always update the justification in the "documentation" box. It is not necessary to clone the plan each time the price of a service outlined on a plan increases. This can be accommodated through the authorization showing the increased costs.

Edit: There are limited circumstances when editing an IPE is allowed. When editing an IPE, a VRC, who meets CSPD standards, must document in a case note the customer's agreement with the edit of the IPE. The only two situations where an IPE can be edited are:

1. Changing the provider of a service

   Generic services can be edited on an IPE, with customer agreement, without a customer's signature, prior to the initiation to that service. Non-generic services cannot be edited. No service may be added to the IPE through the edit process.

   a. Generic services – Tutoring, computer equipment / software, auto repairs, books, transportation, community rehabilitation services, child care, clothing, academic testing, dental work, dialysis, driver's training, eye glasses, functional capacity evaluation, GED, hearing aids, information referral services, insurance, kidney related services, lab work, licensure, maintenance, medication, vocational adjustment, tools and equipment, supplies, and x-rays.

   b. Non-generic services – Medical examination, diagnostic examinations, case management, post-secondary education, medical records, counseling and guidance, treatment, evaluation, hospitalization, interpreter services, education and evaluation, therapy, OJT, other services, personal assistant services, psychological consultation, prosthetics / orthotics, rehabilitation technology, rehab engineering, self-employment technical assistance, surgery, transition planning, and vocational evaluation.

2. Changing the cost of a service

   The cost of services on the IPE can be edited if the cost increase is 10% or less for that particular service.

Plan Approval Authority:
VRCs who do not meet CSPD will continue to require RM approval for all plans. RMs may, at their discretion, delegate this function to an Assistant Regional Manager (ARM) or other senior counselors at a level 2 or 3.

Annual Review: Upon completion of annual review with customer, the VRC must complete annual review function in Case Management System.

SECTION 11.0 COMPARABLE SERVICES AND BENEFITS

11.1 Comparable Services and Benefits

Each eligible customer will be required to identify, with the VRC, all potential comparable benefits that may be available during the development of the Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE). If comparable benefits are available for VR services, including accommodations, personally prescribed devices (hearing aids, eyeglasses, or wheelchairs) and auxiliary aids and services (interpreter and reader services), they are required to be utilized, to meet, in whole or in part, the cost of vocational rehabilitation services. Comparable benefits and services should be utilized before IDVR agency funds are expended.

Provision of Services:

1. If comparable services or benefits exist under any other program and are available to the customer at the time needed to ensure the progress of the customer toward achieving the employment outcome in the customer's IPE, the designated State unit must use those comparable services or benefits to meet, in whole or part, the costs of the vocational rehabilitation services.

2. If comparable services or benefits exist under any other program, but are not available to the customer at the time needed to ensure the progress of the customer toward achieving the employment outcome in the customer's IPE, the designated State unit must provide vocational rehabilitation services until those comparable services and benefits become available.

The utilization of comparable services and benefits does not apply in the following situations:

A. If the determination of the availability would delay the provision of vocational rehabilitation to any customer who is at extreme medical risk. A determination of extreme medical risk shall be based upon medical documentation provided by an appropriate licensed medical professional and means a risk of substantially increasing functional impairment or risk of death if medical services are not provided expeditiously. It is strongly recommended that such cases receive medical consultation review whenever possible.

B. If an immediate job placement would be lost due to a delay in the provision of comparable benefits.

11.2 Exempt Services

The following categories of service are exempt to the requirement that comparable services and benefits be utilized:

A. Medical, psychological or other examination to determine eligibility.

B. IDVR counseling, guidance, information and referral, and IDVR job related services including: job search and placement assistance, job retention services, follow-up services, and follow along services.

C. Evaluation of vocational rehabilitation potential.

D. Rehabilitation technology, including telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices. Exemption of rehabilitation technology services does not extend to auxiliary aids or services or personally prescribed devices, such as eye glasses, hearing aids, or wheelchairs.

E. Post-employment services that are outlined through A-D.

11.3 Timeliness of Comparable Benefits

If a comparable benefit exists, but is not available to the customer at the time needed to satisfy the rehabilitation objectives on the IPE due to no delay on the part of the eligible participant in seeking such benefits, IDVR may provide services until the comparable benefits become available.

SECTION 12.0 VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION SERVICES

12.1 Timeliness

The VRC and customer require adequate time to accomplish all steps in the VR process to reach a determination and approval of an agreed upon feasible vocational~~employment~~ goal. VR services, other than assessment services, are initiated when the steps to this process have been completed and a plan is in place. Sufficient time must be allowed for the completion of a comprehensive assessment prior to implementation of IPE services.

Post-Secondary Training (PST) and other IPE services are VR services that are provided when it is required for a VR customer to become a competitive applicant for an approved IPE goal. If an applicant for VR services expresses an interest in a vocational goal that requires Post-Secondary Training and the VR applicant is either already enrolled in or desires to start a PST program within six (6) months of application, IDVR reserves the right to assert that six (6) months or less may not be adequate to complete the process described above.

12.2 Agency Payment Policy

~~NOTE:~~ Many of the services listed below include maximum agency contributions. This section outlines in detail the payment policy of IDVR in regard to specific services. It is the policy of IDVR to pay usual, customary, and reasonable charges for services provided to its customers by providers, except for the ~~following~~ list provided in this section. An exception to the payment policy is included at the end of this section, explaining that the maximum agency contributions~~payment caps~~ established may, on occasion be exceeded. It is important to emphasize that IDVR is not obligated to pay the total cost of services required to ensure that a customer achieves an employment outcome. When available~~appropriate~~, customers are required to utilize Comparable Services and Benefits ~~and Services~~ (Section 11.0). Personal financial participation in the payment of some portion of the costs of a vocational plan may be required based upon the particular service selected as well as the identification of personal resources that could be applied toward the cost of the targeted service.

Social Security Beneficiaries (SSI or SSDI)~~:~~
Social Security disability benefits recipients are not required to participate financially towards any costs.

Applying the Financial Participation Assessment Information to Making Purchases~~:~~
If the customer has a financial participation requirement (Section 8.0), it will be applied to purchases prior to assessing any ~~cap~~maximum agency contributions from the purchasing section.

Purchasing Requirements to Procure Goods and Services~~Rates of Payment:~~

The State of Idaho purchasing statues require State agencies to purchase goods and services off of the statewide contract. This allows agencies to purchase items off of contracts at pre-negotiated prices. Therefore, before ordering goods or services for customers, staff must verify that those items are or are not on the statewide contract list. Goods and services purchased using the statewide contracts do not require three bids from vendors. If goods or services cannot be purchased through one of the statewide contracts, other vendors may be used in the competitive bid process. For those goods and services which are $500 or more, staff will need to obtain three bids. Idaho is a low bid State; therefore, the lowest bid, meeting specifications, will be the maximum amount IDVR will contribute to the purchase of goods or services.

The following items are exempt from the Department of Purchasing's requirement to use the statewide contract if the items are under $50,000, however purchasing rules still apply with regard to acquiring three bids, when available and practical.

1. Prosthetics or personally prescribed devices.
2. Tuition or training fees for individualized job-related training.
3. Vehicle modifications to meet individual mobility needs.

Rates of Payment

Fees are established in accordance with federal guidelines that permit an agency to establish maximum agency contribution ~~fee limits~~ for services designed to ensure a reasonable cost to the program for each service. ~~Whenever appropriate, a competitive process will be used to achieve a reasonable price. Idaho is a low bid State; therefore, the lowest bid, meeting specifications, will be the maximum amount IDVR will contribute to the purchase of goods or services.~~ The Payment Policy will determine the maximum that IDVR will contribute to the purchase. For items not included in the payment policy, the usual, customary and reasonable rate will be used for the service, not to exceed the rate charged other public agencies. The services that will meet the customer's need, at the least cost to IDVR, shall be the service purchased. All decisions on cases, including fee for services, are determined on an individual case basis. The customer may choose his or her preferred vendor, however if the cost of the services exceeds the maximum agency contribution~~payment rate~~ established by the Payment Policy, the customer will be responsible for the excess amount.

IDVR Payment Rates:

1. Post-Secondary Training: IDVR provides financial assistance for Post-Secondary Training. Listed below are maximum assistance allowances to apply toward all training and educational programs including college, university, vocational-technical, truck driving, cosmetology, business school, computer training, commercial pilot training, etc.

   The established percentage support applies to ALL tuition and fees including any associated health insurance fees.

   a. Pell Grant/Financial Aid: Any customer planning on attending an institution that is eligible for Pell Grant funding must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FASFA) application and receive an award or denial letter prior to any IDVR financial participation. All PELL grant proceeds must be applied first toward tuition and book expenses before IDVR assistance is provided.

      Any non-merit grants or scholarships must also be applied to tuition, fees and books before IDVR assistance is applied.

      A merit scholarship, based on academic standing or achievement, can be utilized at the student's discretion.

      Student loans, including Federal student loans, can be utilized at the student's discretion.

In situations where a comparable and accessible Pell Grant and non-Pell Grant supported programs co-exist, IDVR requires utilization of the Pell Grant supported program.

An exception for IDVR financial support to a non-Pell Grant supported program (when a comparable Pell Grant supported program exists) can be granted after review and approval by the RM if the student can show extenuating circumstances and/or other very strong rationale for attending the non-Pell Grant supported program.

b. Tuition: IDVR will pay up to 90% of the total tuition and fees of any Idaho Public Post-Secondary Institution.

For customers choosing out of the state or private institutions IDVR will pay up to 90% of the tuition and fees ~~up to 90%~~ of the highest Idaho Public Post-Secondary Institution offering the same program.

c. Non-Idaho Public Education and Training Institutions: Public or private post-secondary institutions including colleges, universities, vocational technical schools, and other educational and training institutions (see 12.5).

Normally, IDVR financial participation will be limited to equivalent rates established for in state education and training with the following exceptions;

i. If a customer's vocational goal requires an educational degree that is not available at a State of Idaho public institution, IDVR will pay a maximum of 1.5 times the rate of a single semester's tuition of the University of Idaho.

ii. If the course of study is offered in-state, because of the additional costs caused by accommodations for disability, it would be more cost effective for the Agency to support the attendance of the customer at an out-of-state educational institution; VR may pay the training rates established for out-of-state programs.

d. Summer Sessions: Summer sessions are generally considered optional for academic programs. Therefore additional funding is typically not allotted for summer sessions.

Payment for a summer session will be considered with approval from the RM. Maximum assistance rates will be established according to the length of the term, i.e. semester, trimester, quarter. Approval or denial for summer school assistance will be considered if it meets any of the following conditions;

i. IDVR may pay for summer session if it is a required part of a program.

ii. IDVR may pay for summer session in exceptional cases where a disability-related reasonable accommodation is verified.

iii. IDVR may pay for an additional summer session if by attending the session the customer will be able to complete the college or university degree program by the end of that session.

iv. IDVR may pay for a summer session if by attending the session the customer will be able to complete the college or university degree program within the timelines identified on the IPE.

2. Books:
Where available and feasible, customers are required to use rental text books or e-books. Customers are required to adhere to the rental agreement.~~All rented books need to be returned – customer will be billed when books are not returned.~~

If unavailable for rent or e-book format, some text books may need to be purchased. The expectation is that used books will be purchased when available. ~~All books purchased by IDVR must be returned to IDVR unless negotiated previously with VRC (where the book may be used for additional classes, reference, or for disability reasons).~~

IDVR will pay up to actual cost of~~a maximum of 90% of t~~ the text books. If non-merit grant funds are remaining after paying tuition and fees they must be applied to books.

3. Medical Insurance for students in post-secondary education: IDVR may pay for medical insurance for students while attending an institution that requires medical insurance. If the student has medical insurance or can obtain medical insurance that meets the institutions requirement, IDVR will not pay for medical insurance.

Note to staff: this must be issued as a separate authorization and classified as insurance.

4. Medical exams with written report:

a. General Physical exam - $~~65~~ 90 maximum
b. Specialist exam by M.D. - $350 maximum, plus actual cost of related procedures (e.g. x-rays).

5. Psychiatric Evaluations: $250 maximum for the evaluation plus one medication monitoring sessions that is considered a diagnostic.

6. Psychological Exam by Licensed Psychologist: $~~2~~300 maximum plus actual cost of psychometric tests.

7. Ophthalmologist: The specialist fee ($350) for an ophthalmologist will be authorized when diseases of the eye are present and cannot be dealt with by an Optometrist.

8. Optometrist: Maximum fees are established for general visual exam, accompanying test, frames and glasses. Tinted glasses require a prescription for IDVR payment.

Procedure Fees:
Visual Exam $~~85~~90
Frames w/ Single Vision Lenses (per pair) $180~~65~~
Frames w/ Bifocal Lenses (per pair) $200~~185~~
Frames w/ Trifocal Lenses (per pair) $23~~1~~0
Contact Lenses – Contact lenses cannot be purchased for clients unless there is documentation by an Ophthalmologist or Optometrist that there is a medical or visual need. Maximum assistance - $125

9. Psychotherapy / Counseling Sessions: IDVR recognizes the benefits of additional training, education, and credentialing and has established the following payment policy for customer psychotherapy and counseling.

   a. Doctorate level licensed psychologist up to $100.00 per session.

   b. Masters level clinician (to include LPC, LCPC, MSW, LCSW, and ACADC) up to $80.00 per session.

   c. Bachelor's level counselor (CADC) up to $6~~4~~0.00 per session.

   d. Group Counseling – IDVR also recognizes the importance of group counseling as a part of mental health restoration and as a supplement to customer counseling. The following payment policy has been established for group counseling (not to include family counseling). Group counseling up to $4~~25~~0.00 per session.

   The maximum that can be spent on any psychotherapy or counseling services is $1,000.00 for the life of the case.

10. Medication and Medication Monitoring:

    Maximum: 3 months of medication identified on an IPE with one additional month if needed for diagnostic purposes, for a total of 4 months, while customer applies for reduced cost or free medication programs provided by drug companies or other sources of comparable benefits.

    Maximum: 5 sessions of medication monitoring identified on an IPE. This does not include the one follow-up that is part of the evaluation.

11. Dental Work: including but not limited to, fillings, extractions, crowns, and dentures. Dental Work would need to create an impediment to employment and must be appropriate to the identified employment goal.

    Maximum: $500 per case

12. Hearing Aids:

Maximum: $1,000 per hearing aid. ~~Cost must include insurance for free replacements for one year.~~

Audiologist exam: $85.00 maximum

13. Transportation:

a. Public conveyance (bus, van) – Actual cost of service
b. Private vehicle not to exceed $60 maximum per month within a 20 mile radius or up to a maximum of $200 per month outside the 20 mile radius.
c. Taxi Services – In areas without public conveyance, IDVR will not exceed $60 maximum per month.

14. Car Repairs: Maximum: $300 per case (except for cost of reasonable accommodation for disability). IDVR will not pay for customary general car maintenance (i.e. oil changes, tire rotations, etc.).

15. Auto Insurance: Maximum six (6) months of auto insurance. VR will only pay necessary auto insurance required to cover the VR customer as a vehicle operator.

16. Vehicle Purchase:

Maximum: $5,000

- IDVR does not purchase new vehicles (12.9).

17. Maintenance: Maintenance means monetary support provided to a customer for expenses, such as food, shelter, and clothing, that are in excess of the normal expenses of the customer and that are necessitated by the customer's participation in an assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs or the customer's receipt of vocational rehabilitation services under an Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE). (Ref 34 CFR Part 361.5 (35)).

NOTE: Counselors cannot pay maintenance for those existing living costs that a customer would normally incur regardless of the customer's participation in a plan of vocational rehabilitation services.

Maximum: $2,000 total per Federal fiscal year.

18. Copy Fees:

Maximum: $25 for a copy of records or reports.

19. Community Rehabilitation Programs (CRPs):

a. Maximum hourly rate for community based services - $47.80/hour.

Services purchased from CRPs are not subject to the allowable maximum for training and educational expenses.

RMs can approve exceptions to the following limits:

- All types of Job Site Development - maximum 40 hours per strategy.
- Community Based Work Evaluation (CBWE) – maximum 40 hours.
- Community Based Work Adjustment (CBWA) – maximum 40 hours.
- Placement & Follow Along (P&F) – maximum 15 hours.
- Community Supported Employment (CSE) Job Coaching – maximum 40 hours.

b. Maximum daily rate for in-house work evaluation, work adjustment - $69.55/day.

20. Tools & Equipment:

Maximum: $1,500 per case. The A~~A~~gency's existing inventory of tools and equipment will count towards the $1,500 maximum. The VRC must always negotiate in the best interest of the agency on cost services and must use the statewide contract or obtain~~get~~ three bids, if vendors are available, on all durable equipment (reusable) valued at $500 or more.

Tools will need to be required for training or employment and must be verified by the school or employer.

Exception: If there is a change in employment outcome, the customer must return the original tools to VR. After the tools have been returned, ~~then~~ VR may then purchase new tools up to the $1,500 maximum for the new vocational goal.~~employment outcome.~~

NOTE: A Property Agreement must be secured on all durable equipment or reusable supplies that is ~~exceed~~ $500 or more in value.

21. On-the-Job Training (OJT) Fees:
(See section 12.5 On-The-Job Training)

Maximum: $3,000 for a salary of $9.00 per hour and under; ~~-~~$5,000 for a salary between $9.01 - $15.00 per hour; $7,500 for a salary of $15.01 or more. There is a 20 hour a week minimum.

a. The VRC must negotiate OJT fees based on:
   - Employer's cost to train the individual above the normal level of training
   - Level of technical skills required for job

- Number of hours worked

b. The Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) and OJT Agreement must include:
   - Cost of training
   - Length of time (# of months)

VRCs are strongly encouraged to negotiate a decreasing payment schedule with the employer.

22. Computers including hardware and software:

Maximum: $500 per case, except for disability related assistive technology. Standard use computers are required to use the statewide contract.

23. Self-Employment Plans – (see Section 12.10)

24. Child Care:

Maximum: Up to $300 per month per case.

25. Reimbursements for Fines:

IDVR will not pay for costs associated or incurred due to illegal behavior (fines, restitution, and reinstatements due to legal related suspensions).

26. Advanced Degree:

IDVR may assist with an advanced degree based upon the rehabilitation needs of the customer. (See section 12.5)

27. Typical exclusions from VR financial participation:

a. Securing a private pilot's license

b. Organ transplantation

c. Surgery; Surgery may be provided if it is not the sole vocational rehabilitation service needed for the customer to return to work or to achieve an employment outcome.

IDVR will only cover the cost of surgery if it will substantially reduce functional limitations. It is highly practical and appropriate for the VRC to explore alternative employment opportunities with the customers that may negate the need for the corrective surgery. Such an alternative should accommodate the customer's functional restrictions and provide a level of income that would be comparable with potential earnings following a surgery.

NOTE: When physical restoration services for customers who have a temporary disability, which will be eliminated by surgical care in an acute general hospital, is the only vocational rehabilitation service to be provided, and the condition is likely to be remedied by relatively routine medical intervention with no significant lasting effects, the RSA position is that such cases should be referred to other agencies. Such services should not be paid for under vocational rehabilitation auspices. – (RSA Position Paper, 3/28/80, Robert R. Humphreys, commissioner of RSA)

28. No-~~-~~Show or Missed Appointments:

If a customer does not attend an appointment and does not cancel or reschedule the appointment (within the parameters of the provider)~~,~~ the customer will be responsible for payment of any charges~~-~~ – not VR. Regional Managers may approve exceptions on a case-by-case basis. Documentation of the exception is required in the case record.

If VR authorizes for an interpreter to be present and the customer does not attend, VR will cover cost of the interpreter through administrative authorization.

Exception to Maximum Agency Contribution~~Rate of Pay~~ Policy:
The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, requires that IDVR have a policy that allows for exceptions to the Payment Policy, unless the exception would violate State or Federal laws. All exceptions will be reviewed on an individual case basis.

Exception to Maximum Agency Contribution ~~Rate of Pay~~ Process:
To be considered for an exception, the customer and VRC should first seek approval from the RM. RMs have the authority to approve an~~the~~ exception as long the exception is not more than 50% of the maximum agency contribution~~service cap~~. Greater than 50% of the maximum agency contribution ~~service cap~~ will require the approval of the Chief of Field Services. The RM shall submit the request for the exception in writing to the Chief of Field Services.

The request must include:

1. A description of the requested exception.

Detailed reasons why the customer, VRC and manager (when appropriate) believe the exception is warranted. The Chief of Field Services (or RM when appropriate) will have ten (10) days from the date of receipt of the request to make a decision. If the request is approved, written notification will be sent to the RM (when appropriate) and this will be placed in the case file.

The Chief of Field Services reserves the right to deny any request.

If a request for exception is denied, the customer must be informed of the reason why and of his/her right to appeal the decision within ten (10) days of notification of the denial.

Reasons for Exception:
The items listed below are not all inclusive, but do contain the major reasons that will be considered in determining if an exception to policy will be granted. Financial need alone is not always sufficient justification~~grounds~~ for requesting an exception. While a customer may present one or more of these reasons for an exception, VRCs should use discretion in requesting an exception. It is sometimes the nature and scope of the reason and not the number of reasons that may justify the exception.

1. The need is disability related.

2. The customer has used all sources available; including his/her own financial contribution, as well as all available Federal Financial Aid for~~in~~ post-secondary training~~ situation~~, insurance, Medicaid, Medicare, and other resources typically used by persons without disabilities.

3. Changes in circumstances resulting in loss of income or support making previously available resources unavailable.

4. Service is not available, in certain geographical locations of the state, within the maximum agency contributions ~~Payment p~~Policy~~ maximums~~.

12.3 Counseling and Guidance

IDVR recognizes that vocational counseling and guidance is the key element in the rehabilitation process in that it is the method for involving the customer and significant others in that process. It begins when the customer contacts the agency and does not end until closure as successfully rehabilitated or through the completion of the post-employment period.

Vocational counseling and guidance, including referral and placement, are essential VR services provided by the VRC throughout the rehabilitation process. This is the primary service in the VR plan.

Counseling, guidance and placement should be an integral part of every IPE regardless of other services because it is the best method of coordinating services and maintaining a good working relationship with the customer. This is also the method used by the counselor to facilitate customer input. The VRC gathers the necessary information for providing vocational counseling and guidance services from a wide variety of sources, including, but not limited to:

A. Medical and psychological information.

B. Vocational evaluation information including labor market information, job analysis, aptitude and interest information, situational assessments and trail work experiences.

C. Analysis of transferable skills.

D. Rehabilitation technology, including rehabilitation engineering.

Counseling will address vocational and personal adjustment issues that are creating barriers to the customer obtaining and maintaining employment.

Counseling will be provided in a respectful manner encompassing the core conditions of helping. These will include unconditional positive regard, genuineness and congruence. Counselors will always maintain a professional demeanor and not allow counseling issues to become personal. Counselors are to follow the canons of ethical behavior and practice outlined by the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) Code of Ethics.

Counseling services must be provided in every case but will vary depending on the needs and complexities of each individual customer. Frequency of guidance and counseling contacts is determined at plan development and included on the IPE. Case notes will reflect contact and content of meetings. A monthly summary of guidance and counseling activities is the agency "best practice" norm for recording progress.

12.4 Physical and Mental Restoration Services

These are services necessary to correct or to substantially modify a physical or mental condition that is stable or slowly progressive. Before medical restoration is provided, there must be documentation that the clinical status of the customer is stable or slowly progressive and the service is a requirement for the customer's successful employment. The medical consultant shall review the record to insure the adequacy of medical information, advice on the service requirement, educate the counselor on the procedure and required follow-up, and provide any necessary liaison with medical community.

Current maximum financial contributions by IDVR for specified services can be found in the "Payment Policy" section 12.2 of the manual (See also section 12.2 "Typical Exclusions" and section "Comparable Benefits"). For all other services listed below, IDVR will pay the prevailing "Usual and Customary" charges after a comprehensive assessment of potential or available comparable benefits and resources has been conducted.

12.4.1 Concurrent Acute or Chronic Conditions Arising from Physical or Mental Restoration: Services necessary to assist with acute treatment or care for a condition associated with or arising from physical and mental restoration services that are on the IPE. Comparable benefits will always be explored prior to authorization of this service. The medical consultant should be utilized to determine the medical rationale for such services whenever possible.

These services should be provided in the least intensive medical environment appropriate.

In the case of a chronic condition which does not appear to be resolving in a reasonable amount of time, consultation with the medical consultant should be used to determine whether a case should be closed.

12.5 Training Services

12.5.1 Disability Related Training Services

Disability related services include, but are not limited to: orientation and mobility, rehabilitation technology, speech reading, sign language, and cognitive training/retraining.

12.5.2 Post-Secondary Training

Post-Secondary training is provided when necessary to become a competitive applicant for an agreed upon IPE goal that reflects the customer's interests and informed choice to the extent that those factors are consistent with a customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, capabilities and abilities. IDVR may support graduate study when the customer's employment objective is otherwise unachievable.

Prior to providing post-secondary training, comparable benefits shall be determined. The customer is required to complete and submit for processing the Free Application for Federal Student Assistance (FAFSA). The resulting Student Aid Report (SAR) and Financial Aid Award Letter will determine the Federal grant awards available that are to be applied to tuition, books and fees. Proof of financial award status is required to be placed into the record of services for all customers sponsored in post-secondary education by IDVR for training and degrees that are eligible for grants. Examples of proof include; the SAR, Financial Aid Award Letter or Post-Secondary Institution Student Budget, Compromise and Release documents from Worker's Compensation.

All non-merit scholarships and grants to be applied to tuition, books and fees as a first dollar source, prior to the consideration of expenditures of IDVR funds. Merit based funding may be applied to any legitimate college costs as determined by the customer, with no comparable benefit test required.

When IDVR has a joint case with another VR agency (Veterans Administration, Tribal Vocational Rehabilitation, Idaho Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired, or another state VR agency) the sharing of case cost shall be done in a way that multiple agencies are not paying for the same service.

The FAFSA Expected Family Contribution, Student Contribution, Work Study and other grants must be considered in meeting the financial needs of the customer's post-secondary education to the maximum extent possible.

Customers are required to submit an application for FAFSA whether or not they believe they are eligible for funding. This process should occur along with the verification of determination of eligibility/ineligibility for financial aid prior to IDVR developing an Individualized Plan of Employment (IPE) and participating in financial assistance for a post-secondary education.

12.5.2.1 Out of State Training
Out-of-State Post-Secondary Education

a. If the VR customer must attend an out-of-state institution because the course of study is not offered within the state of Idaho, please see section 12.2.

b. If the course of study is offered in-state, but because of the additional costs caused by the accommodation for disability, it would be more cost effective for the agency to have the customer attend the out-of-state educational institute, see section 12.2.

c. If the customer chooses to attend an out-of-state institution when comparable training is clearly available in the state, see section 12.2.

12.5.2.2 Progress Measures
Customers must maintain a term and cumulative grade point average that meets the school's academic requirements, program entry requirements, or a minimum of 2.0 GPA whichever is higher and must demonstrate timely progress towards meeting the goal of the IPE. ~~The~~ VR financial participation for education/training~~towards schooling~~ may be paused if academic progress is such that the customer will not qualify for entry into the program stated on their IPE.

If the customer is placed on academic probation, or does not meet the standards stated above, s/he has one grade~~ing~~ period in which to attain good standing. IDVR financial participation will terminate after that grade~~ing~~ period until the customer achieves good standing.

If a customer does not pass a course(s) or withdraws following the designated drop period for the post-secondary institution, she/he is responsible to cover costs to repeat the course(s). This understanding should be documented on the IPE that supports the training services.

If a customer receives~~take~~ an incomplete, she/he is responsible to complete the course(s) as designated by the institution and may be responsible to pay for the repeat of the course(s) based upon whether or not active participation in the original coursework was demonstrated as agreed upon in the IPE. Disability-related interruptions will serve as justification for an incomplete, but should be carefully assessed to determine the feasibility of extending a particular program. If a customer is unable to complete a course(s) due to a disability related issue, IDVR may assist in coordinating with the institution to resolve the matter (examples: finances, withdrawals, incompletes, etc.).

IDVR post-secondary educational support will cease if the customer has an expulsion for academic dishonesty.

12.5.2.3 Loan Default
VR funds may not be utilized to pay for post-secondary education if a customer has defaulted on a State or Federal student loan. If a good faith effort is being made to come out of default status, VR funding may be available. The university or college financial aid office may be able to assist in unusual circumstances. Additional information can be obtained at the U.S. Department of Education website http://studentaid.ed.gov, section "Repay Your Loans."

12.5.2.4 Loan Deferment
Consumers may be eligible for temporary suspension of loan payments during specific conditions such as, returning to school, unemployment, disability, or military service. Additional information may be sought through the Financial Aid Office at the school the student plans to attend.

12.5.2.5 On-the-Job-Training (OJT)
An OJT is for a customer who~~that~~ is hired by an employer who~~that~~ needs specific training to achieve the employer's expectations. On-the-job training requires the completion and signing of the IDVR OJT Agreement between the customer, counselor, and employer, which states the hourly wage, the specific training needs, responsibility for Workers' Compensation coverage and any other conditions of employment. IDVR pays a training fee for OJT, not reimbursement or wages.

12.6 Benefits Counseling

Benefits counseling includes an informed discussion of the customer's benefits, employment status, consideration of work incentives, and the impact on existing or potential benefits a change in employment may create. All social security recipients should receive benefits counseling services.

12.7 On-the-Job-Supports

On-the-job-support services are provided to a customer who has been placed in employment in order to stabilize the placement and enhance job retention. Such services include; job coaching, follow-up and follow-along, and job retention services.

12.8 Job Placement of Customers

All customers have the obligation to be involved in their own job search activities to the fullest extent possible. The customer and the VRC will work together to identify the supports necessary for job search and placement. Some of the job search activities could include:

- Communication and presentation skills.
- Gaining access to and using information.
- Introducing customers to specific programs such as job centers.
- Gaining networking skills.
- Use of online job search and applications.
- Community Rehabilitation Provider (CRP) services.

- Providing information around Federal and State employment opportunities.

IDVR does not pay fees to private staffing/employment agencies.

12.8.1 Community Rehabilitation Providers (CRPs)
Community Rehabilitation Providers may be used to assist a customer as they prepare to obtain or maintain employment. CRP services may only be provided if they are agreed to by customer, VRC, and CRP. The CRP services should be consistent with the customer's unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and be the informed choice of the customer. Potential employers contacted by the CRP should be informed of the CRPs contractual relationship with IDVR. If workplace accommodation or assistive technology needs are identified for a customer, IDVR staff will be involved in addressing the accommodation needs with the employer (this is not referring to job coaching accommodations).

If services are contracted out to a CRP:

1. The customer and VRC will review the available list of CRP vendors and the services offered by each and will make a selection. This process should be noted as "customer choice" when documenting the choice of the CRP vendor and services to be provided. The customer will sign an information release form authorizing communication between the selected vendor and IDVR.

2. The customer and VRC will contact the CRP to discuss required services, negotiate and agree upon time frames and costs.

3. The VRC will submit referral information necessary for the CRP to provide the agreed upon services.

4. The customer, VRC, and CRP will have a staffing prior to initiating services (this staffing can be by phone or in person).

5. The VRC and customer will develop and agree to regularly scheduled contacts while receiving CRP services (minimum once a month).

6. The customer, VRC, and CRP will mutually agree upon frequency of contacts to monitor progress, quality, and duration of services provided.

Employers should be educated with regard to the fact that a person eligible for vocational rehabilitation services under ID. Title 33, Chapter 23, Idaho Code and the Administrative Rules of IDVR, who is placed with an employer through the authorized services of a CRP for community-based evaluation, community-based work adjustment or community supported employment (CSE) training is covered for liability purposes through the Worker's Compensation Insurance carried by the CRP unless an actual customer has actually been hired by a targeted employer prior to the provision of authorized services.

12.8.2 Schedule A Appointing Authority in the Federal Government
5 CFR 213.3102 (t) (cognitive impairment), (u) (severe physical disabilities), and (gg) (psychiatric disabilities) are combined into one streamlined authority, 5 CFR 213.3102 (u). This authority is used to appoint persons who are certified that they are at a severe disadvantage in obtaining employment because of disrupted employment due to hospitalization or outpatient treatment for the severe disabilities listed above.

Appointment and Certification Process

IDVR can assist customers with disabilities (whether IDVR customers or not) in completing the Schedule A process. Information on how to assist customers with disabilities with the Schedule A process can be found at: www.eeoc.gov/eeoc/initiatives/lead/upload/abc_applicants_with_disabilities.cfm or http://www.opm.gov/disability/appointment_disabilities.asp

12.8.3 Alternative Hire Process for Employment with State Government Within the IDAPA rules (15.04.01) of the Division of Human Resources and Idaho Personnel Commission exists the provisions and protocol entitled: 097 "Alternative Examination Process for Persons with Disabilities," under this rule:

1. The VRC determines the need for the Alternative Hire process by documenting that the customer cannot competitively compete for the job due to a disability(ies).

2. The VRC determines that the customer meets the criteria for the alternative hire program.

    - Disability limits one or more functional areas.
    - The customer meets the qualifications of the class.
    - The customer lacks competitiveness in the normal hiring process due to disability.

3. The VRC will complete the Application for the Alternative Hire Program Form. Include a letter to Idaho Division of Human Resources (DHR) explaining why the customer cannot compete through the normal examination process due to his/her disability. The examination process includes application, testing, and interviewing.

4. The VRC will staff the case with the RM for approval. The RM will subsequently forward the application to the VR Administrator for final approval.

5. IDVR Administrator approves/disapproves. If approved, the application will be forwarded to the Administrator of the Division of Human Resources for final review.

6. Upon approval from DHR, the VRC proceeds with the Alternative Hiring Process to the hiring authority.

NOTE~~ote~~: This process requires the use of the "Alternative Hire Application."

12.9 Vehicle Purchase

Vehicle purchase may be provided if it is not the sole vocational rehabilitation service needed for the customer to return to work or to achieve an employment outcome. The vehicle purchased will be only at a level to meet the vocational rehabilitation need of the customer. If the customer desires a vehicle above and beyond the level of vehicle needed to meet the vocational rehabilitation need they will be required to pay the cost difference between the two. This amount would not count towards the customer's financial participation requirements and IDVR will not be party to associated financial obligations.

Purchase of vehicles for a customer is allowable only when the occupation of the customer will require a vehicle as occupational equipment. The agency may not purchase a vehicle for a routine need for transportation to and from a place of employment.

The vehicle will be purchased after all other aspects of the IPE necessary to achieve the employment goal have been completed.

Vehicle purchases require approval from the RM and Chief of Field Services prior to agreeing to the purchase for the customer. The VRC will be required to document responses to the following:

- How the purchase is essential to the achievement of a successful employment outcome.
- Whether the vehicle is required as a condition for employment or why it is needed to achieve an employment outcome.
- An explanation of the transportation alternatives explored and the reason(s) these options will not meet the customer's needs.
- A summary of other resources explored, such as insurance, a PASS Plan for customer receiving SSI/SSDI, or other sources, and how these resources will be utilized.
- The customer's disability is stable or slowly progressive and is not likely to impair his or her ability to drive in the foreseeable future.
- If the customer has a known pattern of alcohol or drug abuse within the past 5 years, whether in remission or not, a complete and current drug/alcohol evaluation included.
- An abstract of the driver's complete driving record obtained from the Department of Motor Vehicles. Citations other than parking tickets and minor traffic offenses may impact approval.
- Current Idaho driver's license of the person who will be driving the vehicle.
- Verification of customer's driving capacity as demonstrated through modified driving assessment or significant demonstrated safe driving history under current functional capacities.
- Verification of the customer's financial ability to pay for the fuel, license and registration, insurance, and vehicle maintenance. This will require an insurance quote appropriately reflecting vehicle usage. Additionally, the customer will have to develop a plan for how they will replace the vehicle in the future as part of the feasibility review. If the customer does not have a method to replace and/or repair the vehicle if an accident occurs, the customer will show the ability to provide comprehensive insurance.

- The type of vehicle being considered (estimated price range and any special considerations). IDVR does not purchase new vehicles or vehicles that require above an Idaho Class D operator's license.

NOTE~~ote~~: IDVR does not purchase vehicles to address geographical or other barriers that are not disability related.

Following the decision to purchase the vehicle:

- Must follow all state and IDVR purchasing guidelines.
- IDVR will only authorize purchase vehicles from licensed dealerships.
- An inspection of the vehicle prior to purchase from a qualified mechanic is required. Also, obtaining a Car Fax is required.
- The vehicle title will be granted to the customer upon proof of insurance and all appropriate licensing (a tool agreement is not required).
- Every six (6) months the customer must show proof of insurance and maintenance until case closure.

IDVR has no further obligation to purchase any future vehicles due to customer negligence.

12.10 Self-Employment Policy

Introduction

The primary goal of the IDVR is to assist the customer in attaining a suitable competitive employment outcome that results in financial self-sufficiency. Self-Employment is one option that may be considered to assist the customer in selecting a vocational goal.

The impediment created by the customer's disability must be addressed in the overall comprehensive assessment leading up to Individualized Plan of Employment (IPE).

The successful self-employment enterprise is operated by a participant who can demonstrate an array of skills and abilities, including; organization, business and financial management, marketing and other talents, as well as, knowledge and expertise in the goods or services being produced. These may be accomplished through natural supports or other resources and would need to be included in the self-employment plan. It is essential that the participant is well informed of potential risks and that efforts are made to minimize those risks.

A vocational evaluation/career exploration may be used as a method of assisting the customer and VRC in deciding if self-employment is a possible viable option. Vocational evaluators have a variety of instruments, work samples, inventories and other strategies to use in providing feedback and information related to self-employment.

There may be a need for VR services prior to a commitment from IDVR on a self-employment plan. It could be appropriate for IDVR to assist a customer in services, such as training needed for certain skills or business knowledge before the decision is made by the customer and VRC to pursue the development of a business plan.

IDVR values self-employment as a viable vocational outcome. Self-employment is presented by the VRC within the repertoire of vocational options and may be considered by customers and VRCs as they work toward the development of an appropriate vocational goal.

IDVR supports active, not passive or speculative, self-employment goals.

General Self-Employment Process and Flow Chart

The following steps will be required for all self-employment. The nature and extent of activities within each step will vary by the type and complexity of the self-employment business goal.

1. Assessment of Customer's Appropriateness for Self-Employment
2. Writing an IPE – Developing a Business Plan
3. Amending IPE - Implementing the Business Plan
4. Closure of Self-Employment Case

Definitions

a. Business Plan – A detailed outline of the business description, objectives, organization, product or service description, summary of Customer qualifications, analysis of the potential business environment and market, management and organizational structure, and financial plan.

   The level of detail required for the various components of the business plan will vary depending upon the type of self-employment being pursued.

b. Contracting and Sub-Contracting – When the VR customer works with a company under a limited or contract basis for either short or long term employment, but is not a company employee. There are some types of employment goals that could be sub-contractors or a standalone business. Examples of likely contracting and sub-contractors opportunities include but are not limited to:
   - Realtor
   - Construction trades
   - Cosmetology, nail tech, and hair stylist
   - Paper delivery
   - Tattoo artist

   This is a type of start-up self-employment that will often be processed as a low cost, low risk, low complexity self-employment plan.

c. Continued Self-Employment – Employment where the VR customer is presently or recently (within the last year) engaged in a successful self-employed business as identified by the customer and feasibility of the business is recognized by IDVR. In this scenario, the IPE services will address disability related barriers to employment. IPE will be written as maintaining employment.

Any capitalization of the business will require the use of low cost/low risk/low complexity, complex, or supported self-employment strategy.

d. Feasibility Analysis – Provides an in-depth analysis of the business concept, the market, the financial investment and income potential. In addition, the feasibility analysis considers:

- Financial resources, skills and history of the customer as it relates to successfully operating a small business
- The need for customer training
- The availability of strong support network for long-term business success
- The need for a comprehensive business plan
- The likelihood of sustainability in a reasonable amount of time (what is a reasonable amount of time will likely vary by the type of self-employment)

The feasibility analysis offers the VRC and customer a comprehensive, objective evaluation of the strength of the proposed self-employment venture.

e. Forms of Organization - refers to the way the individual legally organizes the business

i. Sole Proprietorship - one person who owns the business alone, but may have employees. She/he will have unlimited liability for all debts of the business, and the income or loss from the business will be reported on his or her personal income tax return along with all other income and expense she/he normally reports (although it will be on a separate schedule).

ii. Corporation – requires a legal filing with the Internal Revenue Service for corporate status. Corporate organization provides limited liability for the investors. Shareholders in a corporation are obligated for the debts of the corporation; creditors can look only to the corporation's assets for payment. The corporation files its own tax return and pays taxes on its income.

- VR customers who legally organize their businesses as a corporation, and are employed by their corporation may be eligible while in the startup phase of operations.

iii. General and Limited Partnerships – two or more individuals, one of which is a customer of IDVR with the controlling share (see Eligibility Requirements for Self Employment).

iv. Limited Liability Company - limited liability for all of its members (business partners), with the IDVR customer as the controlling member.

f. Hobby - customers identifying business-related goals that indicate a business activity that is:

- Operated for recreation and/or pleasure.
- Not projected to be profitable.
- Not seeking profitability.

- Neither operating nor carrying on activity in a business-like manner.
- Not depending on activity for livelihood.

g. Low Cost / Low Risk / Low Complexity Self-Employment – A comprehensive business plan is not required if a feasibility analysis report indicates the business concepts represents a (1) low cost (under $5,000) total cost of anticipated self-employment start-up, (2) low risk (strong likelihood of success) and (3) low complexity (few and clearly identifiable barriers to self-employment). Examples of self-employment ventures that may not require a comprehensive business plan include:

  - A VR customer is already self-employed and has demonstrated skills and abilities to successfully manage the business, and VR services are needed to retain employment due to a disability-related condition.

  - The VR customer has previous experience being self-employed in the same or similar field and start-up needs are minimal.

  - The VR customer has skills and experience in a trade and needs minimal training and services for startup, such as, lawn care, pressure washing, window washing, and bookkeeping.

  - A VR customer has experience or training in a trade and will lease space or sub-contract with an existing business and pay their own taxes, i.e., massage therapist, manicurist, cosmetologist, real estate agent.

h. Complex Self Employment – All self-employment plans that do not meet the criteria for low cost/low risk/low complexity, continued self-employment or supported self-employment fall under this category.

i. Multi-Level Marketing – As a marketing strategy, in which a person is compensated not only for sales they personally generate, but also for the sales of others they recruit into a business venture, creating a "down line" of distributors and a hierarchy of multiple levels of compensation.

j. Natural Supports – Long term supports provided by individuals naturally invested in the success of the VR customer (family and friends).

k. Startup Self-Employment - refers to an employment outcome in which a customer works in a business that she/he starts, owns, operates, and manages with the intention of being profitable.

l. Supported Self-Employment – refers to an employment outcome in which a customer works in a business that she/he owns, operates, and manages with natural or long term supports, with the intention of being profitable.

Eligibility Requirements

Participation in self-employment or supported self-employment as a vocational goal requires that:

1. The business venture is, at a minimum, 51% owned, controlled and managed by the IDVR customer. For those in supported self-employment, some IDVR customers may require the assistance of a guardian or conservator in controlling or managing a business.

2. Businesses must be organized as Sole Proprietorships, Corporations, General and Limited Partnerships, and Limited Liability Companies, as noted in Definitions-Forms of Organization.

3. The business venture is considered legal in all jurisdictions in which it operates (Federal, Tribal, State and local Governments). This includes business and other necessary licenses.

4. The business venture is accurately reporting to appropriate government agencies, including the Internal Revenue Service and State taxing agency or other applicable

5. State or local authorities.

6. The business venture is organized as a for-profit entity.

Financial Participation Requirements

Social Security beneficiaries are not required to financially participate towards the cost of their self-employment plan.

IDVR customers have a variety of sources to obtain their portion of the business costs. Some of these include:

- Investment of funds from microloans;
- Commercial and consumer loans;
- Loans from family;
- Forgivable loans;
- Equity grants;
- Equipment critical to the business operation;
- Inventory;
- Supplies;
- Facility (including fair value of existing facility in which the business will be operated)

a. In consideration of the business start-up capitalization noted in the Business Plan, financial participation by IDVR and VR customer for the entirety of the self-employment plan, per case is as follows:

Business Capitalization	Maximum IDVR Financial Assistance	Minimum Customer Participation
Under $2,500	100%	0%
$2,501 to $5,000	80% of startup capital	20%
$5,001 to $7,500	70% of startup capital	30%
$7,501 to $10,000	60% of startup capital	40%
$10,001 and up	50% of startup capital	50%

If IDVR's portion for business start-up and capitalization is more than $10,000, the Chief of Field Services must provide approval.

b. Financial participation will not be required for IDVR investment in:
   - Training and technical assistance.
   - Accommodations necessitated by the customer's disability in order to participate in training, technical assistance or in consideration of financial assistance.

Limitations and Restrictions

Services provided under a Self-Employment Plan must adhere to the stipulations of the Agency's Payment Policy (Section12.2) and the maximum agency contributions. Financial assistance for business start-up capitalization does not include:

1. Funding for speculative real estate development.
2. Deposits that are refundable to the customer or business.
3. Cash.
4. Salary or benefits for the customer, partners in ownership, or any employees of the business.
5. Purchase of real estate.
6. Erection of buildings.
7. Inventory or business supplies that include tobacco, firearms or alcoholic beverages.
8. Refinancing of existing debt – business or personal.
9. Business continuation expenses subsequent to the initial start-up costs.

10. IDVR does not support a customer hobby as a self-employment goal.

Self-employment involving payment for registration, legal services, patents, trademarks, copyrights, or franchise fees require an exception to policy approved by the Chief of Field Services.

Multi-Level Marketing plans are often similar to illegal pyramid schemes; therefore, VRCs are cautioned about supporting self-employment businesses with a multi-level marketing structure. Support for multi-level marketing businesses may be appropriate when the emphasis is on sales by the VR customer versus recruitment of down line distributors.

Types of Self-Employment

A. Start-up Business

a. Low Cost / Low Risk / Low Complexity Business Plan

I. Role of IDVR

When working with customers expressing an interest in self-employment the primary role of IDVR is to:

- Provide relevant information regarding the availability of self-employment services supported by the agency.
- Assist the customer in information gathering and assessment in deciding whether self-employment is an appropriate option to achieve their employment goal.
- Assess the customer's disability as it relates to the self-employment goal.
- Reduce or eliminate barriers to self-employment created by the disability.
- May authorize for the provision of external technical assistance including, but not limited to, business feasibility, training, business planning, and post start-up monitoring.
- Participate with the customer and external technical assistance to evaluate the feasibility of the business.
- Coordinate training and technical assistance services.
- Provide technical assistance as deemed appropriate at post start-up of the business.
- Monitor business development at post start-up.

II. Role of the IDVR Customer

Customer responsibilities, as part of the informed choice process relating to self-employment, include but are not limited to:

- Determining the concept of the business.
- Participating in the assessment process.
- Exploring the feasibility of the business venture. This may include gathering information, market feasibility, and likelihood of financial sustainability. This may include; collaboration with technical assistance.
- Writing the business plan with or without technical assistance and approval by the VRC.
- Contributing, as appropriate, financially to the capitalization of the business venture by utilizing all available financial resources.
- Assisting in the identification of existing and potential barriers including those created by the disability, as well as identifying possible solutions.
- Developing skills and abilities necessary to operate and sustain the business venture.
- Business implementation and management.
- Providing regular financial or other relevant documentation or information requested by the agency for post star-up monitoring.
- Fulfilling participation in the business start-up as noted in the Individualized Plan of Employment (IPE).

III. Assessment of IDVR Customer's Appropriateness for Self Employment

- Evaluation of the customer's interests, skills, aptitudes, and personality traits as they relate to self-employment. This may include; a) use of data gathering instruments, and b) formal vocational assessment to the degree necessary to ensure the customer has the basic skills necessary to operate and manage a small business.
- Ensure the viability of self-employment as it relates to the customer's ability to handle the physical, mental, emotional, and cognitive aspects of the business venture including their disability. This may require consultation with medical and/or psychological service providers that have been treating the customer. If clear information is not available additional assessments may be needed.
- Examination of the customer's financial goals related to self-employment should include consideration of issues such as impact on government benefits, supplementing family income versus primary source of support, and earning sufficient funds to maintain competitive employment standards. A referral for benefits planning may be appropriate.

IV. Writing an IPE – Developing a Business Plan

After a positive assessment of the feasibility of the business concept an initial IPE is written. Some of the key components of writing an IPE for business plan development include:

- IPE goal will be the anticipated vocational outcome that is the focus of the business plan.

- IPE must be identified as a self-employment IPE.

- Comprehensive assessment for this IPE is based on the appropriateness of self-employment as a strategy for the individual VR customer. It should be based on the feasibility analysis, the assessment of the customer's appropriateness for self-employment, and other information available.

Services provided as part of this IPE are intended to support the development, writing, and ultimate approval of the business plan. The following are key elements to the development of the business plan:

1. Customer Training and Technical Assistance:

- Customers may be expected to attend training and participate in technical assistance services related to self-employment. This could include options such as; training and technical assistance on subjects such as: exploring entrepreneurship, small business development, business plan development, small business management, accounting for business, and business financing.

- Customers may require business specific skill training to eliminate skill gaps or prepare for the operation of the business. This could include coursework such as accounting/bookkeeping, using computers in business, human resources in business, etc. Skill-building courses should be noted in the IPE as necessary.

2. Business Plan Development:

The Business Plan is viewed as an essential element in any business venture and will be the document used by IDVR to determine whether or not to participate in capitalizing the business venture.

- A basic Business Plan must be written and approved to the satisfaction for the VRC.

- The customer will prepare the Business Plan with or without external technical assistance from a service provider experienced in business plan development.

- Benefits counseling may be provided with a focus on the projected impact of revenues and expenses as noted in the Business Plan.

3. Process for Business Plan Review:

The customer's goal toward self-sufficiency and the level of the Agency's financial participation in the start-up capitalization of the business will determine the level of review and approval required.

- The counselor will review the plan for completeness according to the components listed in the definition of a Business Plan.

- All low cost/low risk/low complexity self-employment plans will be reviewed by the customer and the VRC.

  a. If the customer and IDVR agree, then the VRC and customer proceed to amend the IPE to initiate the self-employment plan.

  b. If the customer and IDVR agree, that revisions are needed the customer proceeds to revise the plan with or without technical assistance.

  c. The customer may decide not to proceed with the identified business goal. If so, the customer and the VRC proceed with developing a new IPE goal (this may or may not be a different self-employment option).

V. Amending IPE - Implementing the Business Plan

Once the business plan has been approved by the customer and the VRC an IPE amendment will be developed that identifies necessary services and activities to implement the business plan.

1. Update comprehensive assessment based upon the additional information acquired through the business plan development process.

2. Identifying specific VR services, cost, and vendors need to implement the self-employment plan. It is important that the financial responsibility for each party is identified on the IPE.

3. Identifying necessary training and technical assistance needed to implement the plan.

4. Identifying post start-up support services that may be needed.

5. Identifying the benchmarks for successful closure. At minimum, one benchmark must identify acceptable wage level for the customer (not less than Federal minimum wage standards). Additional benchmarks should be identified that are critical to the success of self-employment and how to proceed if the benchmarks are not met. It is important that these benchmarks be clearly written, and the consequences for not meeting the benchmarks are clearly explained to the customer and stated on the IPE. Examples of consequences for not meeting the benchmark on the IPE:

    - Evaluating the appropriateness of the benchmarks and possibly modification of the benchmarks (this would require an amendment to the IPE).

    - Withdrawal of IDVR support of the business and reassess other VR options.

    - Proceeding with case closure.

VI. Closure of Self-Employment Case

1. Successful Closure

Successful closure can be completed when the following has been established:

- Identified benchmarks have been achieved.
- At least 90 days of stable employment and at least six (6) months of business operation.

Equipment provided for the self-employment plan may be released or returned, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

2. Unsuccessful Closure

If adequate progress towards meeting the identified benchmarks is not made, the VRC proceeds with case closure unless the customer expresses interest in developing a new IPE goal. "All Other Reasons" would be the reason selected for case closure.

The customer is expected to return equipment provided for the self-employment plan, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

b. Complex Business Plan

I. Role of IDVR

When working with customers expressing an interest in self-employment the primary role of IDVR is to:

- Provide relevant information regarding the availability of self-employment services supported by the Agency.

- Assist the customer in information gathering and assessment in deciding whether self-employment is an appropriate option to achieve their employment goal.

- Assess the customer's disability as it relates to the self-employment goal.

- Reduce or eliminate barriers to self-employment created by the disability.

- Authorize for the provision of external technical assistance including, but not limited to, business feasibility, training, business planning, and post start-up monitoring.

- Participate with the customer and external technical assistance to evaluate the feasibility of the business.

- Assist in identifying resources for the capitalization of the business plan.

- Coordinate training and technical assistance services.

- Provide technical assistance as deemed appropriate at post start-up of the business.

- Monitor business development at post start-up.

II. Role of the IDVR Customer

Customer responsibilities, as part of the informed choice process relating to self-employment, include but are not limited to:

- Determining the concept of the business.

- Participating in the assessment process.

- Exploring the feasibility of the business venture. This includes conducting research, gathering information, market feasibility, and likelihood of financial sustainability. This may include collaboration with technical assistance.

- Writing the business plan with or without technical assistance.

- Researching the availability of financial resources.

- Contributing, as appropriate, financially to the capitalization of the business venture by utilizing all available financial resources.

- Assisting in the identification of existing and potential barriers including those created by the disability, as well as identifying possible solutions.

- Developing skills and abilities necessary to operate and sustain the business venture.

- Business implementation and management.

- Providing regular financial or other relevant documentation or information requested by the Agency for post start-up monitoring.

- Fulfilling participation in the business start-up as noted in the Individualized Plan of Employment (IPE).

III. Assessment of IDVR Customer's Appropriateness for Self Employment

- Evaluation of the customer's interests, skills, aptitudes, and personality traits as they relate to self-employment. This may include; a) use of data gathering instruments, and b) formal vocational assessment to the degree necessary to ensure the customer has the basic skills necessary to operate and manage a small business.

- Ensure the viability of self-employment as it relates to the customer's ability to handle the physical, mental, emotional, and cognitive aspects of the business venture including their disability. This may require consultation with medical and/or psychological service providers that have been treating the customer. If clear information is not available additional assessments may be needed.

- The customer has attended a training session, such as the Small Business Development Center's "Exploring Entrepreneurship" or another comparable program, to evaluate the advantages and disadvantages of business ownership and explore self-employment preparedness from a personal perspective.

- Examination of the customer's financial goals related to self-employment should include consideration of issues such as, impact on Government benefits, supplementing family income versus primary source of support, and earning sufficient funds to maintain competitive employment standards. A referral for benefits planning may be appropriate.

- Conduct a preliminary assessment of various funding sources for business capitalization. The customer's expectations relative to the financial support she/he anticipates/expects from IDVR should be discussed at the onset. It is important that the customer understands that IDVR will not be the sole source of startup capitalization and that any funding allocated to the start-up of the business will be consistent with IDVR policy related to financial participation.

IV. Assessment of the Feasibility of the Business Concept

Customers may be referred to outside resources for assistance in examining the concept, market and financial feasibility of the business. If the business idea is deemed feasible, the information developed at this stage will provide some of the basic data that will be used in completing the Business Plan to be written later.

Testing the feasibility of the business idea should be formalized through a written Feasibility Assessment documenting the following:

- Concept Feasibility: Clear description of the business idea; customer's background related to the business concept including education, training, direct experience and transferable skill sets; a summary statement identifying issues of concern regarding the feasibility of the concept; and a recommendation as to whether the business concept is feasible.

- Market Feasibility: Geographic description of market area; description of competitors working in or marketing to potential customers in geographic area; definition of target markets including size and scope of each market; zoning issues/requirements for establishing a business at intended location.

- Financial Feasibility: Capitalization requirements (start-up funding not to exceed 6 months) consistent with the individual's business concept; identification of resources for start-up funding and ongoing capitalization. Twelve (12) months of projected sales/expenses may be included, when appropriate.

V. Writing an IPE – Developing a Business Plan

After a positive assessment of the feasibility of the business concept an initial IPE is written. Some of the key components of writing an IPE for business plan development include:

- IPE goal will be the anticipated vocational outcome that is the focus of the business plan.

- IPE must be identified as a self-employment IPE.

- Comprehensive assessment for this IPE is based on the appropriateness of self-employment as a strategy for the individual VR customer. It should be based on the feasibility analysis, the assessment of the customer's appropriateness for self-employment, and other information available.

Services provided as part of this IPE are intended to support the development, writing, and ultimate approval of the business plan. The following are key elements to the development of the business plan:

1. IDVR Customer Training and Technical Assistance:

- All customers will be expected to attend training, when available, and participate in technical assistance services related to self-employment. This could include options such as; training and technical assistance on subjects such as: exploring entrepreneurship, small business development, business plan development, small business management, accounting for business, and business financing. Exceptions to the above requirement may be made with supervisory approval in limited circumstances.

- Customers may require business specific skill training to eliminate skill gaps or prepare for the operation of the business. This could include coursework such as accounting/bookkeeping, using computers in business, human resources in business, etc. Skill-building courses should be noted in the IPE as necessary.

2. Business Plan Development:

The Business Plan is viewed as an essential element in any business venture and will be the document used by IDVR, banks, micro lenders, and other funding organizations to determine whether or not to participate in capitalizing the business venture.

- A comprehensive Business Plan will be required for all complex self-employment goals. The content for a comprehensive Business Plan is a thorough assessment of all the components listed in the Business Plan definition.

- The customer will prepare the Business Plan with or without external technical assistance from a service provider experienced in business plan development.

- Benefits counseling may be provided with a focus on the projected impact of revenues and expenses as noted in the Business Plan.

3. Explore and Apply for Resources Available From Other Sources:

IDVR customers pursuing self-employment are required to explore funding from sources other than IDVR. These may include microloans, commercial and consumer loans, loans from family, forgivable loans, equity grants, and work incentives for Social Security recipients including Plans to Achieve Self Support (PASS) and personal property (inventory and equipment) essential to the operation of the business. If the business plan is approved and the IPE is amended, the customer will apply for other resources necessary to implement the business plan.

4. Process for Business Plan Review:

The customer's goal toward self-sufficiency and the level of the agency's financial participation in the start-up capitalization of the business will determine the level of review and approval required.

- The counselor will review the plan for completeness according to the components listed in the definition of a Business Plan.

- The business plan is submitted for technical assistance and feasibility review by an outside consultant (approved by the VRC and customer) with experience in business development.

- All complex self-employment plans will be reviewed by a self-employment team. The self-employment team will include the customer, VRC, RM, at least one outside consultant, and other individuals as appropriate.

  a. If the customer and IDVR agree, based on the feedback from the self-employment team, then the VRC and customer proceed to amend the IPE to initiate the self-employment plan.

  b. If the customer and IDVR agree, based on the feedback from the self-employment team, that revisions are needed, the customer proceeds to revise the plan with or without technical assistance.

  c. If the customer does not agree with the recommendations from the self-employment team the customer may choose to follow the appeal process. (See Section 4.0)

  d. The customer may decide not to proceed with the identified business goal. If so, the customer and the VRC proceed with developing a new IPE goal (this may or may not be a different self-employment option).

VI. Amending IPE - Implementing the Business Plan

Once the business plan has been approved by the customer and the VRC an IPE amendment will be developed that identifies necessary services and activities to implement the business plan.

1. Update comprehensive assessment based upon the additional information acquired through the business plan development process.

2. Identifying specific VR services, resources, cost, and vendors need to implement the self-employment plan. It is important that the financial responsibility for each party is identified on the IPE.

3. Identifying necessary training and technical assistance needed to implement the plan.

4. Identifying post start-up support services that may be needed.

5. Identifying the benchmarks for successful closure. At minimum, one benchmark must identify acceptable wage level for the customer (not less than Federal minimum wage standards). Additional benchmarks should be identified that are critical to the success of self-employment and how to proceed if the benchmarks are not met. It is important that these benchmarks be clearly written, and the consequences for not meeting the benchmarks are clearly explained to the customer and stated on the IPE. Examples of consequences for not meeting the benchmark on the IPE:

   - Evaluating the appropriateness of the benchmarks and possibly modification of the benchmarks (this would require an amendment to the IPE).

   - Withdrawal of IDVR support of the business and reassess other VR options.

- Proceeding with case closure.

VII. Closure of Self-Employment Case

1. Successful Closure

Successful closure can be completed when the following has been established:

- Identified benchmarks have been achieved.
- At least 90 days of stable employment and at least six (6) months of business operation.

Equipment provided for the self-employment plan may be released or returned, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

2. Unsuccessful Closure

If adequate progress towards meeting the identified benchmarks is not made, the VRC proceeds with case closure unless the customer expresses interest in developing a new IPE goal. "All Other Reasons" would be the reason selected for case closure.

The customer is expected to return equipment provided for the self-employment plan, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

B. Supported Self Employment

a. Role of IDVR

When working with customers expressing an interest in supported self-employment the primary role of IDVR is to:

- Provide relevant information regarding the availability of supported self-employment services supported by the agency.
- Assist the customer in information gathering and assessment in deciding whether supported self-employment is an appropriate option to achieve their employment goal.
- Assess the customer's disability as it relates to the self-employment goal and the nature and level of support required (Examples: guardians/family members, targeted service coordinator, psychosocial rehabilitation provider, Medicaid broker, SSA payee).
- Reduce or eliminate barriers to supported self-employment created by the disability.
- May authorize for the provision of external technical assistance including, but not limited to, business feasibility, training, business planning, and post start-up monitoring.

- Participate with the customer, support team, and external technical assistance to evaluate the feasibility of the business.
- Coordinate training and technical assistance services.
- Provide technical assistance as deemed appropriate at post start-up of the business.
- Monitor business development at post start-up.

b. Role of the IDVR Customer with their Support Team

Customer and support team's responsibilities, as part of the informed choice process relating to self-employment, include but are not limited to:

- Determining the concept of the business.
- Participating in the assessment process.
- Exploring the feasibility of the business venture. This may include gathering information, market feasibility, and likelihood of financial sustainability. This may include collaboration with technical assistance.
- Writing the business plan with or without technical assistance and approval by the VRC.
- Contributing, as appropriate, financially to the capitalization of the business venture by utilizing all available financial resources.
- Assisting in the identification of existing and potential barriers including those created by the disability, as well as identifying possible solutions.
- Identifying the areas within self-employment that need ongoing support and identify the specific individuals or resources that will provide that support.
- Developing skills and abilities necessary to operate and sustain the business venture.
- Business implementation and management.
- Providing regular financial or other relevant documentation or information requested by the Agency for post start-up monitoring.
- Fulfilling participation in the business start-up as noted in the Individualized Plan of Employment (IPE).

c. Assessment of Customer's Appropriateness for Supported Self Employment

A. Evaluation of the customer's interests, skills, aptitudes, and personality traits as they relate to supported self-employment. This may include; a) use of data gathering instruments, and b) formal vocational assessment to the degree necessary to ensure the customer has the basic skills necessary to operate and manage a small business with adequate support systems.

B. Ensure the viability of supported self-employment as it relates to the customer's ability to handle the physical, mental, emotional, and cognitive aspects of the business venture including their disability. This may require consultation with medical and/or psychological service providers that have been treating the customer. If clear information is not available additional assessments may be needed.

C. Examination of the customer's financial goals related to supported self-employment should include consideration of issues such as: impact on Government benefits, supplementing family income versus primary source of support, and earning sufficient funds to maintain competitive employment standards. A referral for benefits planning may be appropriate.

I. Writing an IPE – Developing a Business Plan

After a positive assessment of the feasibility of the business concept an initial IPE is written. Some of the key components of writing an IPE for business plan development include:

- IPE goal will be the anticipated vocational outcome that is the focus of the business plan.

- IPE must be identified as a supported self-employment IPE.

- Comprehensive assessment for this IPE is based on the appropriateness of supported self-employment as a strategy for the individual VR customer. It should be based on the feasibility analysis, the assessment of the customer's appropriateness for supported self-employment, and other information available.

Services provided as part of this IPE are intended to support the development, writing, and ultimate approval of the business plan. The following are key elements to the development of the business plan:

1. IDVR Customer Training and Technical Assistance:

   - Customers may be expected to attend training and participate in technical assistance services related to supported self-employment. This could include options such as; training and technical assistance on subjects such as exploring entrepreneurship, small business development, business plan development, small business management, accounting for business, and business financing.

   - Customers may require business specific skill training or support to eliminate gaps for the operation of the business.

2. Business Plan Development:

The Business Plan is viewed as an essential element in any business venture and will be the document used by IDVR to determine whether or not to participate in capitalizing the business venture. If the supported self-employment plan meets the criteria for a complex self-employment plan refer to the business plan development for complex self-employment plan. If the supported self-employment plan meets the criteria for low cost/low risk/low complexity plan refer to the business plan development for low cost/low risk/low complexity plan.

3. Process for Business Plan Review:

The customer's goal toward self-sufficiency and the level of the Agency's financial participation in the start-up capitalization of the business will determine the level of review and approval required.

If the supported self-employment plan meets the criteria for a complex self-employment plan refer to the business plan review for complex self-employment plan. If the supported self-employment plan meets the criteria for low cost/low risk/low complexity plan refer to the business plan review for low cost/low risk/low complexity plan.

II. Amending IPE - Implementing the Business Plan

Once the business plan has been approved by the customer, support team, and the VRC an IPE amendment will be developed that identifies necessary services and activities to implement the business plan.

1. Update comprehensive assessment based upon the additional information acquired through the business plan development process.

2. Identifying specific VR services, cost, and vendors need to implement the supported self-employment plan. It is important that the financial responsibility for each party is identified on the IPE.

3. Resources to provide long term support (Extended Employment Services, Medicaid waiver, private pay, or natural supports) are identified and secured.

4. Identifying necessary training and technical assistance needed to implement the plan.

5. Identifying post start-up support services that may be needed.

6. Identifying the benchmarks for successful closure. At minimum, one benchmark must identify acceptable wage level for the customer (not less than Federal minimum wage standards). Additional benchmarks should be identified that are critical to the success of supported self-employment and how to proceed if the benchmarks are not met. It is important that these benchmarks be clearly written, and the consequences for not meeting the benchmarks are clearly explained to the customer and stated on the IPE. Examples of consequences for not meeting the benchmark on the IPE:

- Evaluating the appropriateness of the benchmarks and possibly modification of the benchmarks (this would require an amendment to the IPE).
- Withdrawal of IDVR support of the business and assess other VR options.
- Proceeding with case closure.

III. Closure of Supported Self-Employment Case

1. Successful Closure

Successful closure can be completed when the following has been established:

- Identified benchmarks have been achieved.
- At least 90 days of stable employment and at least six (6) months of business operation.
- Verification of necessary long term supports.

Equipment provided for the supported self-employment plan may be released or returned, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

2. Unsuccessful Closure

If adequate progress towards meeting the identified benchmarks is not made, the VRC proceeds with case closure unless the customer expresses interest in developing a new IPE goal. "All Other Reasons" would be the reason selected for case closure.

The customer is expected to return equipment provided for the self-employment plan, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

C. Continued Self-Employment:

I. Writing IPE

1. Prior to completing the IPE, a comprehensive assessment must be completed.
2. Identify specific VR services, cost, and vendors need to implement the self-employment plan. It is important that the financial responsibility for each party is identified on the IPE.
3. Identify necessary training and technical assistance needed to implement the plan.
4. Identify post start-up support services that may be needed.

5. Identify the benchmarks for successful closure. At minimum, one benchmark must identify acceptable wage level for the customer (not less than Federal minimum wage standards). Additional benchmarks should be identified that are critical to the success of self-employment and how to proceed if the benchmarks are not met. It is important that these benchmarks be clearly written, and the consequences for not meeting the benchmarks are clearly explained to the customer and stated on the IPE. Examples of consequences for not meeting the benchmark on the IPE:

   - Evaluating the appropriateness of the benchmarks and possibly modification of the benchmarks (this would require an amendment to the IPE).
   - Withdrawal of IDVR support of the business and assess other VR options.
   - Proceeding with case closure.

II. Closure of Continued Self-Employment Case

1. Successful Closure

Successful closure can be completed when the following has been established:

- Identified benchmarks have been achieved.
- At least 90 days of stable employment.

Equipment provided for the continued self-employment plan may be released or returned, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

2. Unsuccessful Closure

If adequate progress towards meeting the identified benchmarks is not made, the VRC proceeds with case closure unless the customer expresses interest in developing a new IPE goal. “All Other Reasons” would be the reason selected for case closure.

The customer is expected to return equipment provided for the continued self-employment plan, consistent with Section 13 of the policy.

12.11 Effective Communication Services for Customers with Sensory Impairments

IDVR can provide interpreter services and note taking services for customers who are deaf, including tactile interpreting for customers who are deaf-blind; reader services, rehabilitation teaching services, note-taking services and orientation and mobility services for customers who are blind; telecommunications, sensory and other technological aids and devices.

NOTE~~ote~~: If the customer is enrolled in an academic/technical training program at an institution that receives Federal financial support, the institution will be responsible for the provision of interpreter services within the classroom or formal training environment i.e., outside the classroom, but mandated or supported by the class curriculum. (A regional exception has been made at the Eastern Idaho Technical College – EITC as per the agreement between IDVR and EITC).

12.12 Occupational Licenses, Tools, Equipment Initial Stocks and Supplies necessary in order to enter an Occupation

Occupational licenses, tools, equipment, initial stocks, and supplies may be purchased in order to adequately prepare the customer for a vocational outcome. Private pilot's license will not be secured through the financial support of IDVR.

IDVR will not purchase land or buildings for customers with disabilities. IDVR retains the right to reclaim occupational tools and equipment purchased by IDVR when:

- Customer's IPE is not completed.
- The tools and equipment are no longer necessary or appropriate for the existing or new employment goal.
- Case is closed other than rehabilitated.

12.13 Supported Employment Services

Supported employment services may be provided to customers with the most severe disabilities who require ongoing training on-the-job and support services.

12.13.1 Supported employment is defined as follows:

A. Competitive work (defined as payment of an hourly rate not less than minimum wage or less than the employer usually pays individuals who are not disabled) in an integrated work setting (defined as an environment in which the customer engages in as much contact with co-workers or the non-disabled general public as any other non-disabled person working in that job would experience) with ongoing support services for customers with the most severe disabilities for whom competitive employment:

    1. Has not traditionally occurred: or
    2. Has been interrupted or intermittent as a result of severe disability; and

3. Who, because of the nature and severity of their disability(ies), need intensive supported employment services or extended services in order to be gainfully employed; or

B. Transitional employment for customers with chronic mental illness.

NOTE~~ote~~: Non-competitive, non-integrated employment (sometimes referred to as Sheltered Work, Facility Based Work, Work Services, or Workshop Services) is not part of VR services. If a customer requests these services, IDVR will provide information about competitive, integrated employment to assist in informed choice. If the customer still request non-competitive, non-integrated employment they will be referred to the Extended Employment Services Program through the Extended Employment Services Referral Form.

12.13.2 Supported Employment Process:

A. Through an assessment (internally provided or through a review of external documentation) or through the provision of VR services, supported employment is identified as a necessary strategy for successful employment.

B. The VRC and customer will identify the level of ongoing job support necessary to maintain successful employment.

C. The VRC and customer will identify the availability of long term support strategies for the level of supported employment services identified.

D. If long term support strategies are available then an IPE may be written.

E. If long term support strategies are not available the case will be closed "Extended services not available."

12.13.3 Supported Employment Strategies

Natural Supports: Support from supervisors and co-workers occurring in the workplace to assist employees with disabilities to perform their jobs, including supports already provided by an employer for all employees. These natural supports may be both formal and/or informal, and include mentoring, supervision (ongoing feedback on job performance), training (learning a new job skill with a co-worker), and co-workers socializing with employees with disabilities at breaks or after work. Support provided by family, friends, or significant others are also included within this definition.

Extended Employment Services: (IDAPA 47.01.02) Funds Managed by IDVR/EES. There are four eligibility categories:

A. Developmental Disabilities (as defined in section 66-402, Idaho Code).

B. Mental Health: (Typically Schizophrenia, Major Mood Disorders, Borderline Personality Disorder, Delusional Disorder, Schizoaffective Disorder).

C. Specific Learning Disability.

D. Traumatic Brain Injury.

Medicaid Funded Employment Supports:

Developmental Disabilities – Adult DD Home and Community Based Services Medicaid Waiver (IDAPA 16.03.10.703.03). Eligibility for this waiver is determined by the Independent Assessment Providers (IAP) at the Idaho Center on Disability Evaluation. The Self-Directed option falls under this waiver.

Aged or Disabled Waiver – Supported Employment is a component included in this Home and Community Based Services Medicaid Waiver (IDAPA 16.03.10.326.17).

12.14 Post-Employment Services (PES)

A customer with a disability who had been previously rehabilitated may require additional services in order to maintain, advance in, or regain suitable employment. In order to qualify for this service strategy, the need must be based upon a disability previously documented in the eligibility determination section. Post-employment services require an amendment to the IPE. In order to qualify for these services, the customer's vocational needs must be minor in scope ($1,000 or less) and duration (6 months or less). This means the customer only needs relatively short-term services with minimal cost associated. Customers requiring multiple services over an extended period of time and/or a comprehensive/complex rehabilitation plan should be encouraged to reapply for the full-spectrum of VR services since their needs exceed the intent of post-employment services. PES can be initiated within three (3) years of successful closure. Once the record is destroyed, a new case must be opened.

NOTE~~ote~~: The intent of PES is to ensure that the employment outcome remains consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests and informed choice.

12.15 Rehabilitation Technology

Rehabilitation technology services (rehabilitation engineering, assistive technology devices and services) may be provided as compensatory strategies to increase, maintain, or improve functional capabilities of customers with disabilities. Rehabilitation technology services may be provided at any time in the rehabilitation process, including the assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, ~~extended evaluation,~~ trial work, services provided under an IPE, and post-employment services. Rehabilitation technology, including telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices are exempt from a determination of the availability of comparable services or benefits exist under any other program. IDVR may request the use of comparable services and benefits. Personally prescribed devices, such as eye glasses, hearing aids, or wheelchairs are the exception, they not exempt from the consideration of comparable benefits. (For further information, please review the series of comprehensive fact sheets provided by Idaho Assistive Technology Project located on the IDVR intranet web site. There are also direct links to the Idaho Assistive Technology Project web site at that location).

12.15.1 "Assistive technology service" means any service that directly assists a customer with a disability in the selection, acquisition, or use of an assistive technology device, including:

A. The evaluation of the needs of a customer;
B. Purchasing, leasing, or otherwise providing for the acquisition by a customer with a disability of an assistive technology device;
C. Selecting, designing, fitting, customizing, adapting, applying, maintaining, repairing, or replacing assistive technology devices;
D. Coordinating and using other therapies, interventions, or services with assistive technology devices, such as those associated with existing education and rehabilitation plans and programs;
E. Training or technical assistance for a customer with a disability.

12.15.2 An assistive technology device means any item, piece of equipment, or product system, whether acquired commercially off-the-shelf, modified, or customized that is used to increase, maintain, or improve the functional capabilities of a customer with a disability.

12.15.3 Vehicle modification may be provided as an assistive technology device only when the applicant/customer is otherwise precluded from achieving a vocational objective.

1. In the event that a vehicle requires modification. e.g., hand controls, lift installation, or structural revision, may be provided on vehicles with an expected life of five (5) years or longer after modification, as evaluated by a certified mechanic (paid for by IDVR). The customer must agree to maintain insurance on the vehicle for replacement costs of the modified equipment.

2. Any vehicle modification over $3,000 must include a minimum of two bids from approved vendors.

3. Adaptive equipment items that are not documented as medically and/or vocationally necessary will be the responsibility of the customer.

4. When a customer purchases a new vehicle requiring modifications they should check with the dealership to see if the vehicle modification assistance is available. The VRC will check with the customer to see if the customer is willing to access and apply the rebate to the cost of vehicle modification.

12.15.4 Housing modifications may be provided as a supportive service so the customer can benefit from a core vocational rehabilitation service. Typically these services are provided under an IPE.

12.16 Supportive Services

A. Maintenance is a funding provision designed to offset identified additional costs incurred as a result of participating in a rehabilitation service (expenses incurred by the customer while engaged in assessments required for determining eligibility or while receiving services under an IPE).

NOTE: Maintenance means monetary support provided to a customer for expenses, such as food, shelter, and clothing, that are in excess of the normal expenses of the customer and that are necessitated by the customer's participation in an assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs or the customer's receipt of vocational rehabilitation services under an individualized plan for employment. (Ref: 34 CFR, Part 361.5 (35)).

Counselors cannot pay maintenance for those existing living costs that a customer would normally incur regardless of the customer's participation in a plan of vocational rehabilitation services.

Maintenance intended to cover shelter related expenses will not exceed four (4) months per case without the Chief of Field Service's approval.

Maintenance intended to cover food expenses will not exceed four (4) weeks per case without the Chief of Field Service's approval.

Maximum per diem food rates for the state of Idaho can be found at: http://www.sco.idaho.gov/.

Maximum per diem food rates for out of state can be found at: www.gsa.gov.

VRCs should be aware and make their customers aware, that any maintenance payments for food, shelter, or clothing may impact SSI benefits.

B. Transportation is a service for identified travel and related expenses for customers to participate in a vocational rehabilitation services or assessment.

1. Actual costs may be paid for taxi, buses, airplanes, etc.

2. When using a privately owned vehicle, fuel assistance will be negotiated. This depends upon actual transportation expenses for participation in rehabilitation services. Routine vehicle maintenance is not covered by IDVR.

3. The VRC must take into account the following issues when confronted with a request from a customer to repair a privately owned vehicle:

   a. The overall condition and value of vehicle.

   b. The extent of the repairs.
   c. The availability of other appropriate transportation.

   d. The necessity that the vehicle be used for IDVR participation or work.

12.17 School Transition

IDVR participates in student transition planning as outlined at 34 CFR 361.22 of the Rehabilitation Act ~~Regulation~~. The Regulations require plans, policies, and procedures that provide for the development and approval on an individualized plan for employment as early as possible during the transition planning process but, at the latest, by the time each student who is determined to be eligible for vocational rehabilitation services leaves the school setting. The Act also provides for:

1. Consultation and technical assistance to educational agencies in planning for transition of students with disabilities from school to post-school activities, including vocational rehabilitation;

2. Transition planning by personnel of IDVR and the educational agency for students with disabilities that facilitates the development and completion of their Individualized Education Programs (IEP~~E~~'s) under section 614 (d) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA);

3. The roles and responsibilities including financial responsibilities, of each agency; and

4. Procedures for outreach to and identification of students with disabilities who are in need of transition services. Outreach to these students should occur as early as possible during the transition planning process and must include, at a minimum, a description of the purpose of the vocational rehabilitation programs, eligibility requirements; application procedures, and scope of services that may be provided to eligible customers.

    - Referrals should be made to the VRC as early as possible following the completion of the student's sophomore year. Earlier referrals can be made based on individual student need. All students with disabilities should be referred, not just those students in special education.

    - The VRC may participate and/or consult during the development of Individualized Educational~~al~~ Programs~~Plans~~ (IEPs), Individual Transition Plans (ITPs) and Child Study Teams (CSTs) at the invitation of the school and agreement between the VRC and CST members. VRC will determine the appropriate time to take an application when the focus is on the final vocational objective or formal planning for continued employment preparation after the student exits from high school.

    - The school district's responsibility is to provide a free and appropriate education to all students. This includes instructional aides, devices, and necessary services to achieve educational goals.

    - IDVR's responsibility is to facilitate the accomplishment of long-term vocational rehabilitation goals and intermediate rehabilitation objectives identified in the student's IPE. Only services that are required for achievement of the employment goal will be provided or coordinated.

12.18 Services to Family Members

The definition of "Family Member" is a relative or guardian of the customer or someone who lives in the same household as the customer and has a substantial interest in the well-being of the customer.

Conditions and Criteria:

A. Service may be provided only to individuals that meet the definition of family member.

B. The services to be provided are those which are deemed to be necessary to the successful completion of the customer's rehabilitation plan (IPE~~, Extended Evaluation, or~~ or Trial Work Period). The customer and VRC will make the determination as to whether a service to a family member is necessary to the vocational rehabilitation of the individual customer.

C. Comparable services and benefits are to be explored and if available, utilized prior to expenditure of agency funds.

D. IDVR funds can only be utilized if economic need is established on Financial Participation Assessment (FPA).

E. Family members may not have access to the customer's record of service without a release of information. Family members may have access to information pertaining to the services they received.

Procedures:

A. The category of Services to Family Members requires prior approval from the RM.

B. The IPE must set forth the services to be provided to the family member.

C. In developing the IPE the VRC must ensure that the customer and family member(s) understand the basis for the provision of services in order to avoid any misunderstanding as to the scope, nature, and duration of services.

D. Services under this section must comply with all other portions of the manual relating to the provision of IDVR services.

E. Services to family members must be terminated whenever one of the following conditions prevails:

   1. When a service(s) is no longer necessary to the customer's plan; or

2. When the customer's plan is terminated in accordance with case closure procedures; or

3. When Post-Employment Services are terminated.

F. When services are provided to family members, the record of service must include:

1. A rationale that services are required to support the customer's success in completing objectives of the IPE;

2. Data, including medical information, to support the decision to provide services (the least amount necessary to verify the need);

3. Identification of family member(s) receiving those services;

4. The cost of such services; and

5. Documentation of the time limited nature of these services.

12.19 Personal Care Assistant Services

A personal care assistant (PCA) assists a customer with a significant disability by performing personal activities of daily living requiring hands-on help, which cannot be performed by the customer because of the significance of the disability. PCA services including personal care related tasks such as:

1. Eating
2. Drinking
3. Toileting
4. Bathing
5. Transfers
6. Dressing
7. Grooming
8. Medications

PCA services do not include chore services, respite, cueing, or household tasks. In most cases, tasks performed by the PCA are customer directed. The PCA is not responsible for any tasks that the customer with a disability can perform independently.

PCA services have been developed to enhance the ability of a customer with a significant disability to live and work independently. The need for PCA services is normally identified through an independent living (IL) evaluation.

A PCA must have completed a State approved training program or have substantial knowledge and experience in providing PCA services.

It is the policy of the IDVR to provide PCA services to customers with significant disabilities, when PCA services over and above those required for normal daily living are required to assist the customer to complete the IDVR process. IDVR does not provide PCA services in lieu of existing PCA programs and providers. If the VRC determines that PCA services are necessary for the customer to complete the objectives of the IPE, the VRC will need to conduct or obtain a personal care assistant evaluation to determine the number of hours of PCA services that are required for participation in the IPE over and above the customer's normal daily living needs.

It is the responsibility of the customer and the VRC to identify, apply for and utilize any and all similar benefits for PCA services. PCA recruitment and management is the responsibility of the customer. Payment for PCA services is made through an authorization to the customer for PCA services. The customer then pays the chosen provider. IDVR will not exceed the current rate established by Medicaid. IDVR does not pay for standby time; only for direct service time related to the VR service that the PCA service is addressing. The customer is required to submit verification of services received from the provider to IDVR on a monthly basis to continue to receive PCA funded services.

IDVR PCA services are time limited in nature and are provided during the vocational rehabilitation process, if required, to assist in determining eligibility, for participation in vocational evaluation and assessment, and during implementation of an IPE with a goal leading to competitive employment. The provision of PCA services must be linked directly to the objective of the IPE. PCA services funded by IDVR must be for those tasks over and above PCA services normally required for tasks of daily living. No more than 40 hours per week will be authorized for PCA services.

When the IPE objectives have been successfully completed and the goal of competitive employment has been achieved, provision of PCA services required to maintain employment becomes the responsibility of the customer.

12.20 Services to a Group of Individuals

The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended authorizes the provision of rehabilitation services to groups of individuals.

Guidelines~~:~~

Services for a group of individuals with disabilities must be expected to substantially contribute to the vocational rehabilitation of a group of individuals, but does not relate directly to the individualized rehabilitation program of any one individual with disability. The decision to provide services to groups will be made based on the need for the services as well as the available resources of the agency.

Establishment

Under the authority of 34 CFR 361.49(a)(1), IDVR may pursue the establishment, development, or improvement of a public or non-profit community rehabilitation program that is used to provide vocational rehabilitation services that promote integration and competitive employment, including, under special circumstances, the construction of a facility for a public or non-profit community rehabilitation program. Examples of "special circumstances" include the destruction or natural disaster of the only available center serving an area or a State determination that construction is necessary in a rural area because no other public agencies or private non-profit organizations are currently able to provide vocational rehabilitation services to individuals.

Any CRP establishment activities undertaken by IDVR will be supported by the pre-planning requirements under 34 CFR 361.49(b)(1) & (2) and 34 CFR 361.29.

In order for IDVR to engage in activities to establish, develop or improve a public or non-profit CRP, pursuant to 34 CFR 361.49(a)(1), and use of non-Federal expenditures incurred by those activities to satisfy match requirement under the VR Program, IDVR must first satisfy several pre-planning requirements:

1. IDVR must have written policies that set forth the nature and scope of services that will be provided to groups of customers with disabilities, and the criteria that will be used to determine the provision of those services (34 CFR 361.49(b)(1)); and

2. Establishment activities must have been identified as a need in IDVR's most recent statewide comprehensive needs assessment and IDVR must have included in its State plan a discussion of the strategies it would use to meet that need (34 CFR 361.29).

If IDVR has satisfied the above pre-planning requirements for activities related to establishing, developing, or improving a CRP, then the following requirements must be satisfied in order for IDVR to use non-Federal expenditures incurred for these activities towards its match requirements under the VR program pursuant to 34 CFR 361.60(b)(3)(i):

1. The activities proposed must fit within the definition of establishment, development, or improvement of a CRP at 34 CFR 361.5(b)(17);

2. The establishment, development, or improvement of a facility for a CRP at 34 CFR 361.5(b)(18), or

3. The construction of facility for a CRP at 34 CFR 361.5(b)(12); and

4. The activities must be designed to provide services to IDVR customers and applicants.

Based on 34 CFR 361.5(b)(17), IDVR may:

1. The establishment of a facility for a public or non-profit community rehabilitation program.

2. Staffing, if necessary to establish, develop, or improve a community rehabilitation program for the purpose of providing vocational rehabilitation services to applicants or eligible customers.

3. Other expenditures related to the establishment, development, or improvement of a community rehabilitation program that are necessary to make the program functional or increase its effectiveness in providing vocational rehabilitation services to applicants or eligible customers, but are not ongoing operating expenditures of the program.

Employment Related Services to Customers with Disabilities

Under the authority of 34 CFR 361.49(a)(6), IDVR may pursue services that promise to contribute substantially to the rehabilitation of a group of customers but that are not related directly to the individualized plan for employment of any one customer.

The nature and scope of the services provided include:

1. Increase access to employment and educational opportunities for persons who are deaf or hard of hearing.
2. Increase awareness of the needs of persons who are deaf and hard of hearing through educational informational programs.
3. Encourage consultation and cooperation among departments, agencies, and institutions serving the deaf and hard of hearing.

SECTION 13.0 - CLOSURE

13.1 Closure During Application Status

A. No disabling condition

The VRC is unable to verify the existence of a disabling condition. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.
2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:
    a. Ineligibility closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the ineligibility determination.
    b.Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities)
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)
3. Referral to other agency (ies), including Idaho Department of Labor.

B. No impediment to employment

The VRC cannot establish that there is a substantial barrier to employment based on disability. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

    a. Ineligibility closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the ineligibility determination.
    b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities)
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)

3. Referral to other agency (ies), including Idaho Department of Labor.

C. Does not require VR services to achieve an employment outcome

The VRC has been unable to identify substantial VR services necessary to secure, retain or regain employment. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

    a. Ineligibility closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the ineligibility determination.
    b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

3. Referral to other agency (ies), including Idaho Department of Labor.

D. Unable to benefit from VR services

The VRC, through trial work ~~or extended evaluation~~ has established that the applicant is unable to benefit in terms of an employment outcome. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

    a. Ineligibility closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the ineligibility determination.
    b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

3. Referral to other agencies as appropriate.

4. Conduct a review of the ineligibility determination following the closure of the record within 12 months and annually thereafter, up to two (2) years, or longer if requested. The customer with a disability, or, if appropriate, the customer's representative, may have input into the review and re-evaluation. Signed documentation should be included of the review and re-evaluation if the review and re-evaluation is able to be completed.

E. Extended services unavailable

The VRC has determined that extended services are required and the VRC and customer have determined that the extended services are not available at this time. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

    a. Closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the determination.
    b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

3. Referral to other agencies as appropriate.

F. No longer interested in receiving services, unable to locate/contact or moved, death, institutionalized or incarcerated, transportation not feasible or available, transferred to another agency, and all other reasons.

These are closures without eligibility determination. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of (when death is a reason for case closure do not send any written documentation):

    a. Closure determination.
    b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
    c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

13.2 Closure During Eligibility Status

A. Unable to benefit from VR services, disability too severe for services

The VRC, through clear and convincing evidence has established that the customer is unable to benefit in terms of an employment outcome. An ineligibility determination, based on inability to benefit from VR services or disability too severe for services, may be completed after an initial eligibility determination. The decision requires IDVR -staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

   a. Ineligibility closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the ineligibility determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

3. Referral to other agencies or the Extended Employment Program, as appropriate.

4. Conduct a review of the ineligibility determination following the closure of the record within 12 months and annually thereafter, up to two (2) years, or longer if requested. The customer with a disability, or, if appropriate, the customer's representative, may have input into the review and re-evaluation. Signed documentation should be included of the review and re-evaluation if the review and re-evaluation is able to be completed.

B. Extended services unavailable

The VRC has determined that extended services are required and the VRC and customer have determined that the extended services are not available at this time. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

   a. Closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

3. Referral to other agenc~~y~~ies, as appropriate.

C. No longer interested in receiving services, unable to locate/contact or moved, death, institutionalized or incarcerated, transportation not feasible or available, transferred to another agency, and all other reasons.

The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of (when death is a reason for case closure do not send any written documentation):

   a. Closure determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities)
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)

D. Closure from the Order of Selection Wait L~~l~~ist

When the VRC is unable to contact (the VRC uses the closure reason – unable to locate/contact or moved) or the customer has declined VR participation (the VRC uses the closure reason – No longer interested in receiving services).

The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of (when death is a reason for case closure do not send any written documentation):

   a. Closure determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

13.3 Unsuccessful Closure After Implementation of IPE

A. Unable to benefit from VR services, disability too severe for services

The VRC, through clear and convincing evidence has established that the customer is unable to benefit in terms of an employment outcome. A closure determination, based on inability to benefit from VR services or disability too severe for services, may be completed after an initial eligibility determination. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

a. Closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the determination.
b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities).
c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)

3. Referral to other agencies or the Extended Employment Program, as appropriate.

4. Customer must return tools and equipment to the agency at the time of unsuccessful closure, in accordance to the tool agreement. Exceptions must be approved by the RM.

B. Extended services unavailable

The VRC has determined that extended services are required and the VRC and customer have determined that the extended services are not available at this time. The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of:

   a. Closure determination, explaining in clear and concise language the reason(s) for the determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities)
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)

C. No longer interested in receiving services, unable to locate/contact or moved, death, institutionalized or incarcerated, transportation not feasible or available, transferred to another agency, and all other reasons.

The decision requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification, or other appropriate mode of communication of (when death is a reason for case closure do not send any written documentation);

   a. Closure determination.
   b. Appeal rights (Rights and Responsibilities)
   c. Information regarding the Client Assistance Program (CAP)

13.4 Successful Competitive Closure After Implementation of IPE

A. Rehabilitated with supports

Customers in supported employment are determined rehabilitated when the objectives of the IPE for supported employment training are achieved and a plan for extended support services is verified through the activation of services related to the long-term source of support.

In order to determine that a customer has achieved an employment outcome, the case record must document:

1. That services provided under the IPE contributed to the achievement of the employment outcome.

2. That the employment outcome is consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice.

3. That the employment is in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with the customer's informed choice, that the customer is compensated at or above the minimum wage and his/her wages and benefits are not less than that customarily paid by the employer for same or similar work performed by non-disabled individual.
4. That the employment outcome has been maintained for a minimum of 90 days.

5. The customer and the VRC consider the employment outcome to be satisfactory and agree that the customer is performing well on the job. Whenever possible, confirm that the employer is satisfied with the work performance of the customer as well as IDVR services.

6. That an assessment occurred regarding whether a need exists for Post-Employment services and that the customer was informed regarding the purpose and availability of post-employment services, should the need arise.

7. Ownership of tools and equipment may be transferred to the customer at the time of closure if the tools and equipment are necessary for on-going employment purposes.

Case closure requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification or other appropriate mode of communication.

B. Rehabilitated without supports

In order to determine that a customer has achieved an employment outcome, the case record must document:

1. That services provided under the IPE contributed to the achievement of the employment outcome.

2. That the employment outcome is consistent with the customer's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice.

3. That the employment is in the most integrated setting possible, consistent with the customer's informed choice, that the customer is compensated at or above the minimum wage and his/her wages and benefits are not less than that customarily paid by the employer for same or similar work performed by non-disabled individual.

4. That the employment outcome has been maintained for a minimum of 90 days.

5. The customer and the VRC consider the employment outcome to be satisfactory and agree that the customer is performing well on the job. Whenever possible, confirm that the employer is satisfied with the work performance of the customer as well as IDVR services.

6. That an assessment occurred regarding whether a need exists for Post-Employment Services and that the customer was informed regarding the purpose and availability of post-employment services, should the need arise.

7. Ownership of tools and equipment may be transferred to the customer at the time of closure if the tools and equipment are necessary for on-going employment purposes.

Case closure requires IDVR staff to:

1. Provide an opportunity for the customer or his/her representative to receive full consultation regarding the closure decision.

2. Provide written notification or other appropriate mode of communication.

13.5 Closure After Post Employment Services (PES)

A. Closed unemployed; opening a new VR case

The VRC has made a determination that the scope of services is inappropriate for PES and the customer has agreed to apply for a new VR case.

1. PES is closed.
2. Customer applies for services.

B. Employment maintained or regained

The customer and VRC are in agreement the job is or has been maintained, regained or advanced in.

1. PES case is closed
2. Customer agreement with case closure is documented in the case record.

C. Lost job; no further services at this time

The customer's employment was not maintained, regained, or advanced in and no VR services are appropriate at this time.

1. PES case is closed
2. Customer has been informed of case closure is documented in the case record.

SECTION 14.0 ORDER OF SELECTION

14.1 Authority

Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended. ~~by the Rehabilitation Act of 1998, Sections 101 and 102.~~ 34 CFR ~~Part 361~~ §361.36~~, §361.3~~.

~~14.2 Policy~~

In the event that the projected fiscal and personnel resources of IDVR become inadequate to provide the full range of VR services, as appropriate, to all eligible customers, the Administrator will implement the Division's Order of Selection (OOS). ~~procedure. By law,~~ Federal regulations require the Division ensure ~~this procedure must insure~~ that customers with the most significant disabilities are served first. The criteria used for determining the OOS~~Order of Selection for services~~ is the severity~~category~~ of ~~significance of the~~ disability ~~as~~priority category defined in the Field Services Policy Manual Section 6.2.~~ and the application date for IDVR services.~~

14.2 Factors Prohibited in Order of Selection Consideration

Factors that will not be ~~considered in determining~~ used as criteria for establishing an ~~an~~ O~~o~~rder of S~~s~~election priority~~ category~~ include:

A. Type of d~~D~~isability;
B. Duration of residency, provided the customer is present in the state;
C. Age, gender, race, color or national origin;
D. Source of referral or cooperative agreements with other agencies;
E. Type of expected employment outcome;
F. The need for specific services or anticipated cost of such services; or
G. The income level of the customer or customer's family.

14.3 Administrative Requirements

Under Order of Selection the Division must:

- Continue to accept applications and make determinations of eligibility. This includes the continued provision of diagnostic services necessary to determine eligibility and the individual's priority under the Order of Selection.
- Continue to provide pre-employment transition services to students with disabilities who were receiving such services prior to determination of eligibility and assignment to a priority category.
- Continue to provide services to all individuals under an IPE who has begun to receive services prior to the effective date of the Order of Selection, regardless of the severity of the individual's disability.
- Implement the Order of Selection on a statewide basis.
- Notify all eligible individuals of the priority categories and their assignment to a particular category.
- Notify eligible individuals of their right to appeal their category assignment.
- Ensure all funding arrangements, including third-party cooperative arrangements and awards under the establishment authority, are consistent with the Order of Selection or renegotiate the funding arrangements to be consistent with the Order of Selection.
- Provide adequate referral assistance (including the documentation of a point of contact for the referral agency) to individuals with disabilities who are:
    1. not eligible for services or ~~1.~~ 2. are eligible, but are currently on a wait list.~~IDVR must ensure that it is funding arrangements for providing services under the State Plan, including third-party arrangements and awards, such as cooperative funding agreements with school districts, other State agencies or contractual arrangements, are consistent with the Order of Selection. If any funding arrangements are inconsistent, the Agency must renegotiate these funding arrangements so that they are consistent with the Order of Selection.~~

Determination of Severity of~~ignificant~~ Disability

When a VRC ~~determines a customer is eligible, the VRC also~~makes an eligibility determination, they also ~~establishes~~determine the ~~level of significance~~ severity of disability based upon the criteria established in the Field Services Policy Manual Section 6.0. The ~~level of significance~~ severity of the customer's disability is ~~identified~~ categorized into one~~with one~~ of the following three priority categories:

Priority 1 – Eligible individuals with the Most Significant disabilities (MSD).

Priority 2 – Eligible individuals with Significant Disabilities (SD).

Priority 3 – All other eligible individuals with Disabilities (D).

Individuals will be released from the statewide wait list based first on priority category and second by earliest date of application. Prior to any change to priority categories being served, the field and impacted customers, will be notified of the change and the effective date.

Reassessment of Severity of Disability

A request for priority category reclassification is allowable in cases where it would be necessary and appropriate for IDVR to authorize a reassessment of the significance of a disability when existing records and/or other evidence do not accurately describe the individual's current level of functioning. Regional Manager approval is required prior to a reevaluation of severity of disability. A Customer will make a request for reclassification of severity of disability by submitting a written request to the Regional Manager within 21 calendar days of notification of their priority category.~~Customers with disabilities~~

~~A. Customers with significant disabilities~~
~~B. Customers with the most significant disabilities~~

Maintenance of Statewide Order of Selection Wait~~ing~~ List
After priority category assignment, an individual will be served or placed on a wait list if their category is restricted.~~When a VRC completes the eligibility process and the determination of the significance of the disability determination, the customer is added to the statewide Order of Selection waiting list in the appropriate category by date of application. The date of application process is completed (see section 5.3). The case is transferred from the VRC caseload to the office Order of Selection waiting list.~~

Written notification will be provided to the customer informing them of:

- Their eligibility determination.
- ~~Their placement on the waiting list.~~
- The priority categories of IDVR's Order of Selection.
- Their assignment to a particular category.
- Their placement on the wait list (if applicable).
- Their right to appeal their category assignment.
- Their requirement to respond to agency contact within 30 days to avoid case closure and removal from the wait list.
- The availability of the Client Assistance Program (CAP).

Individuals ~~When resources are available, the Chief of Field Services notifies the RMs of the number of customers to take from the waiting list by priority category, application date(s) and office locations. RMs coordinate with the VRCs to transfer the corresponding cases from the Order of Selection waiting list in respective offices to VRC's caseloads.~~

~~A customer~~ on the ~~statewide Order of Selection waiting list may request that his/her case be transferred from one office to another by contacting the local IDVR office. The request for transfer will be processed by the RM where the case resides~~OOS wait list will be contacted at least once in the first 90 days ~~.~~

~~Transferring a New Case to the Order of Selection Waiting List~~

~~The RM is responsible for ensuring appropriate priority categories are being served, for maintaining the office Order of Selection waiting list and for verifying Information and Referral (I&R) is occurring. Cases will be transferred from a VRC's caseload to the office Order of Selection waiting list within ten (10) business days of the~~ after an eligibility determination is made. Subsequent contact shall be made at least every 180 days while the customer is~~date.~~

~~The RM will verify Information and Referral sources have been documented prior to transferring the case to the office Order of Selection waitlist.~~

~~Transferring a Case from the Order of Selection Waiting List to a VRC~~

~~Upon notification to initiate services for case~~ on the ~~Order of Selection waiting list for the specified priority category and application dates, the RM or designee must transfer cases from the Order of Selection office waiting list to a VRC within five (5) business days. The VRC is notified of the case transferred and is authorized to initiate services~~wait list.

The Division will conduct periodic projections of fiscal resources and its ability to serve customers in all priority categories.~~If a case is closed from the office Order of Selection waiting list, the case is automatically removed from the statewide Order of Selection list.~~

Initiating Services for Customers ~~Referred from the Order of Selection~~ on the Wait~~ing~~ List

Based upon current and projected fiscal resources, IDVR will determine when it is appropriate to ~~implement procedures to re-establish or maintain contact with customers while they are on the Order~~open a priority category and begin serving eligible individuals on OOS ~~of Selection~~ wait~~ing~~ list and notify field staff of ~~. Factors to consider are the length of time a customer has been on the list and the anticipated time before the customer's category will open~~this change.

Upon receipt of the case ~~transferred~~ from the Order of Selection wait ~~ling l~~ist, ~~the ID~~VR staff will initiate~~takes~~ the following steps:

1. Engage ~~To contact~~ the customer to determine if services are still needed and schedule an appointment.
2. ~~If telephone contacts are unsuccessful a letter will be sent to initiate contact.~~If initial contact attempts (e.g., phone or e-mail) are unsuccessful, a letter will be sent to notify the customer of their change in status and their need to contact IDVR to verify their continued interest in VR services.

3. ~~Reas~~Make reasonable ~~and timely~~ efforts to ~~find~~locate updated phone numbers and/or addresses for the customer.
4. If the customer has not responded within 30~~forty (40)~~ days from the date the letter was sent, IDVR staff will proceed with case closure.

VR staff~~Cs~~ need to consider the communication needs of the customer, including the need for information in alternate formats when initiating contact by telephone or letter.

Steps to contact each customer will be ~~are~~ documented in ~~the~~ case notes ~~management system narrative~~ and filed in the case service record.

~~Exceptions for Reopening Closed Cases~~

~~A VRC may request the RM to obtain permission from the Chief of Field Services to reopen a case on an exception to policy basis if a customer contacts IDVR after his/her case is closed. If the customer's lack of response was a result of exceptional circumstances that prevented the customer from responding, the VRC should consult with his/her supervisor about an exception to policy to reopen the case.~~

~~Customers Not Ready to Proceed with IPE Development upon Referral from the Order of Selection Waiting List~~

~~If a VRC contacts a customer to initiate services and she/he is not ready to begin working with IDVR, the VRC needs to help the customer make an informed decision about how to proceed. If a customer does not wish to, or is unable to proceed with IPE development, IDVR will close the case and the customer must reapply. IDVR cannot 'hold' a spot on the waiting list nor can a customer be put back at the top of the list. The VRC needs to discuss the reasons the customer is not ready to proceed and whether a reasonable time frame can be agreed upon to resolve the issues.~~

14.5 Information and Referral (I&R)

When operating under Order of Selection, IDVR is required to offer Information and Referral (I&R) services to customers who cannot be served and must wait for services because of the Order of Selection.

IDVR must document and retain information about referrals to other Federal and State programs that provide employment-related services.

Information and Referral Requirements

Federal regulations establish minimum requirements under I&R as follows. IDVR must:

A. Provide customers with accurate vocational rehabilitation information and guidance (which may include counseling and referral for job placement) to prepare for, get, or keep a job.
B. Refer customers with disabilities to other Federal or State programs that are best suited to address their specific employment needs, including partners in the w~~W~~orkforce development s~~investment s~~ystem.
~~C. Initiate a notice of referral identifying:~~
    ~~a. The name of the program to which the customer is referred;~~

~~b. A contact person in that program; and~~
~~c. Information about the most suitable services to assist the customer prepare for, get or keep a job.~~

~~14.6 Counseling and Guidance~~

~~To provide customers with accurate VR information and guidance, which may include counseling and referral for job placement, an IDVR counseling staff member talks to the customer about his/her need to prepare for, get or keep a job. The IDVR counseling staff member provides advice and guidance about how the customer might proceed, explains referral sources available, and offers to initiate a referral to another program, if appropriate. These interactions occur in the course of other activities, such as completing the application, intake, and eligibility determination.~~

~~For customers who choose not to apply for IDVR services because of the Order of Selection, a general guideline is to limit I&R services to one appointment. The VRC will NOT establish an on-going counseling relationship nor perform follow-up services regarding I&R.~~

~~Counseling and Guidance – Referrals~~

~~Each office will maintain a list of Federal and State programs with which IDVR has established a formal referral relationship. It is expected that the Idaho Department of Labor One-Stop Centers will be used extensively, but not exclusively, for the referral of customers who either choose not to apply or are on a waiting list to receive IDVR services. Other programs to be used in this capacity, as appropriate, include Tribal VR programs and other community programs. Because of limited resources in some areas and the unique needs of some customers with disabilities, there may not be an appropriate program available to every person.~~

~~Counseling and Guidance – Job Placement~~

~~IDVR counseling staff may provide brief counseling for job placement. If the customer intends to engage in independent, self-directed job search or related activities, the IDVR counseling staff member may provide brief counseling to assist the customer in this effort. Examples of counseling and referral for job placement may include, but are not limited to:~~

~~A. A counseling session with the customer to discuss what efforts to find a job the customer has already tried and offering other job search strategies and suggestions.~~
~~B. Reviewing and giving advice on a customer's resume.~~
~~C. Discussing reasonable accommodation issues and strategies for approaching an employer.~~
~~D. Discussing and providing the customer with access to the Internet or another resource.~~
~~E. Sharing information about the local labor market.~~

~~14.7~~ Documenting a Formal Referral

~~All referrals to employment-related programs must be documented, including referrals for customers who have applied and are waiting for services. Each RM, or designee, will identify and maintain the list of regional referral sources that require a formal referral. Each time a~~

~~customer is referred to one of the listed organizations, the IDVR staff member documents the referral in the case management system. Every case will have an entry in the case management system prior to transferring the case to the Order of Selection waiting list, or the case service record will document efforts to locate referral sources and the reason(s) a referral was not provided.~~

If a customer requests a referral, the IDVR staff member prepares and sends a written referral to the organization best suited to meet the specific employment needs of the customer. The VR counselor is required to document this referral in casenotes. In addition, the ~~ID~~VRC ~~counseling staff member~~ provides the customer ~~being referred~~ with the following:

A. A copy of the written referral notifying the other F~~f~~ederal or S~~s~~tate program about the referral.
B. The name of the person in that organization to be contacted by the customer being referred.
C. Information about the most suitable services to prepare for, secure, retain, or regain employment.

Informal Referrals

VRCs routinely provide information to applicants and eligible customers about ~~a wide array of~~ community assistance programs that may offer services or benefits to assist the customer ~~meet a variety of needs (food or clothing banks, medical programs, counseling services, etc.). These types of referrals are considered informal referrals. IDVR staff are encouraged to continue providing customers with information about other programs that offer services to assist them~~ in meeting a variety of needs. Formal documentation requirements that apply to workforce development system partners do not apply to informal referrals.

14.6~~8~~ Post Employment Services

Order of Selection does not impact or alter the provision of post-employment services. Post-employment services are considered an amendment of the IPE, and therefore, a customer who needs post-employment services is not required to meet the highest priority category currently being served~~iced~~ under an Order of Selection nor is the customer~~s~~ required to wait for services.

If substantial services are needed, PES is not appropriate. A new application should be taken and would be subject~~ed~~ to Order of Selection.

Proposed Rule IDAPA 47.01.02, Rules and Minimum Standards Governing Extended Employment Services.

REFERENCE

August 2006	Board approved the Temporary and Proposed Rules and Minimum Standards Governing Extended Employment Services.
November 2006	Board approved pending rule amendments to IDAPA 47.01.02.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Sections 33-2211 and 33-2303, Idaho Code

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) is an agency of the Idaho State Board of Education. In July of 2004 Governor Kempthorne transferred the administration of the long term vocational support services in Idaho from the Department of Health and Welfare to Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Legal authority to promulgate rules for the Extended Employment Services were established under House Bill 547 (2006). Rules promulgated at that time created IDAPA 47.01.02 establishing provider qualifications, defining eligible clients, and the services to be provided. There have been no updates to this section of Administrative Code since 2006.

IMPACT

IDVR does not anticipate any fiscal impact from the approval of these rules. The rules will provide guidance for community rehabilitation programs in the delivery of Extended Employment Services, information that will assist others in making appropriate referrals, and the authority for IDVR to intervene should providers fail to meet the standards set forth in the rules.

CAREER TECHNICAL EDUCATION

SUBJECT

Proposed Rule IDAPA 55.01.03, Career Technical Education Secondary Programs – Career Technical Schools

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Section 33-2202 through 33-2212, Idaho Code
Idaho Administrative code, IDAPA 55.01.03, Rules of Career Technical Schools

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Career Technical Schools are designed to provide high end career and technical programs at the secondary level. These programs help prepare students for high-skill and in-demand careers; schools are closely linked to postsecondary education and business and industry.

In order to be approved as a school, Career Technical Schools are required to meet a number of criteria, including specific attendance zone requirements, the offering of advanced opportunities for enrolled students, and be located at a separate site than a non-Career Technical Secondary or be approved as a cooperative service agency.

Operationally, Career Technical Schools are required to meet specific programmatic requirements, including programs that are based on industry standards, demonstrate a responsiveness to labor market skills, and promote the development of leadership, interpersonal and other workplace skills through career and technical student organizations.

IMPACT

The impact of these changes will align Administrative Code to existing practices, will help ensure consistency in how funds for career technical schools are calculated, and will update the language regarding advanced opportunities to align with the language in Board Policy Section III.Y.

55.01.03 - RULES OF CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

000. LEGAL AUTHORITY.
The State Board of Education is designated as the State Board for Career Technical Education and is responsible to execute the laws of the state of Idaho relative to Career Technical education, administer state and federal funds, and through the administrator of the State Division of Career Technical Education, coordinate all efforts in Career Technical education (Section 33-2202 through 33-2212, Idaho Code). (3-30-01)

001. TITLE AND SCOPE.

01. Title. The rules shall be cited as IDAPA 55.01.03, "Rules of Career Technical Schools." (3-30-01)

02. Scope. These rules serve the administration of Career Technical Education in Idaho and define the duties of the State Division of Career Technical Education. (3-30-01)

002. WRITTEN INTERPRETATIONS.
Written interpretations of these rules, if any, are on file at the office of the State Division of Career Technical Education. (3-30-01)

003. ADMINISTRATIVE APPEALS.
All appeals under these rules shall be conducted pursuant to the procedures set forth by the State Board of Career Technical Education. (3-30-01)

004. (RESERVED)

005. DEFINITIONS.

01. Administrator. An on-site school administrator, holding the appropriate career technical education administrator endorsement.

~~01~~02. Attendance Zones. For purposes of Section 33-1002G, Idaho Code, each high school is classified as an attendance zone. The attendance zone requirement can be met by having students enrolled in approved career technical school courses from at least two (2) high school zones within a district or at least two (2) high school zones in different districts participate in the career technical school. A minimum of fifteen percent (15%) of the total student body enrolled in an approved career technical school intermediate or capstone course must reside in attendance zones apart from the attendance zone of the majority of students. Cooperative Service Agencies must meet the fifteen percent (15%) attendance criteria on a program-by-program basis. (3-30-01)

0~~2~~3. ~~Dual Credit~~Advanced Opportunities. ~~Pursuant to~~Additional educational opportunities offered to students enrolled in career technical school programs, pursuant to state board of education governing policies and procedures. ~~Section 33-5109, Idaho Code, dual credit may be granted for Advanced Placement, College Level Examination Program, or Tech Prep class offerings that are approved through an accredited institution of higher education. 100. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE.

The purpose of this rule is to clearly define general implementation criteria, the criteria for approval for funding, the added cost unit calculation, the procedure to follow in calculating average daily attendance (ADA), the process to follow for fund distribution, and program accountability for Idaho Career Technical Schools. (3-30-01)

101. CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOL GENERAL APPROVAL CRITERIA.

For approval, applying districts/~~consortiums~~ Cooperative Service Agencies must meet at least four (4) of the five (5) criteria listed in Section 33-1002G, Idaho Code. Approval criteria: (3-30-01)

01. High School Attendance Zones. Two (2) or more high school attendance zones. (3-30-01)

02. ~~Dual Credit~~Advanced Opportunities. (3-30-01)

03. Field Experience. (3-30-01)

04. Funded as a Separate School. (3-30-01)

05. Separate Site or Cooperative Service Agency. Located at a separate site or approved by the State Board of Education as a cooperative service agency. (3-30-01)

102. CAREER TECHNICAL COMPONENT CRITERIA.

01. Program Criteria. Career Technical schools are intended to deliver high-end technical education programs that go beyond the scope of traditional Career Technical education. The lab should be appropriately designed for the type of program and the number of students enrolled. The program should have state-of-the-art equipment, current technology and strong links to business and industry. (3-30-01)

02. Career Technical School Program. Each program of a Career Technical school shall: (3-30-01)

a. Be based on industry standards that are measurable using a competency-based evaluation system. (3-30-01)

b. Demonstrate a responsiveness to students' needs and to labor market needs. (3-30-01)

c. Contain a sequence of instruction that follows a set of industry competencies. (3-30-01)

d. Reinforce basic and advanced academic skills. (3-30-01)

e. ~~Have at least one (1) dual credit technical course or be approved for postsecondary credit as part of a Tech Prep agreement.~~Meet the all of required standards defined through Technical Competency Credits, as outlined in State Board of Education Governing Policies and Procedures Section III.Y. and as aligned among participating postsecondary institutions. (3-30-01)

f. Promote access and equity for all students and school personnel. (3-30-01)

g. Incorporate active input from an appropriately qualified business/industry technical advisory committee. (3-30-01)

h. Ensure that all programs implement instructional delivery methods that use current teaching and industry technologies. (3-30-01)

i. Employ instructors who hold Career Technical certification to teach the occupation and who also hold a related industry-based credential or equivalent as approved by the Division of Career Technical Education. (3-30-01)

j. Promote the development of leadership, interpersonal and other cross-functional workplace skills through Career Technical student organizations ~~or other appropriate means~~. (3-30-01)

k. Ensure that the instructional setting is appropriate and effective regarding: (3-30-01)

i. Student-teacher ratios. (3-30-01)

ii. Number of lab work stations. (3-30-01)

iii. Number of quality work-experience sites. (3-30-01)

iv. Safety. (3-30-01)

v. Work-experience agreements. (3-30-01)

vi. Facility maintenance. (3-30-01)

103. APPLICATION PROCESS.
Applications for Career Technical school funding must be received by the Division of Career Technical Education on or before ~~the first Friday in July~~ April 15 for the following fiscal year. In the case of application renewals, failure to meet the application deadline will result in a 25 percent reduction in CTS funding. In the event of a new school application, failure to meet the application deadline will result in a denial of the application. (3-30-01)

104. CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOL ADDED COST UNIT FUNDING.
Section 33-1002G, Idaho Code, provides school districts an opportunity to establish Career Technical schools that qualify for funding appropriated for the specific purpose of supporting the added cost of Career Technical schools. The funds are appropriated to the State Board for Career Technical Education to be expended by the Division of Career Technical Education. Funding is based on the average daily attendance (ADA) of students enrolled in the career technical school. (3-30-01)

105. CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOL AVERAGE DAILY ATTENDANCE.
The Division of Career Technical Education shall use the enrollment reports sent to the State Department of Education to calculate Career Technical school average daily attendance (ADA) in accordance with applicable laws and rules (Section 33-1002, Idaho Code). Students in attendance at a qualifying Career Technical school shall be reported as aggregate hours and/or aggregate attendance. The aggregate hours and aggregate attendance will be combined to calculate the ADA for the career technical school. (3-30-01)

01. Aggregate Hours. The daily hours of all students enrolled in career technical school approved intermediate and capstone courses who attend less than two and one-half (2.5) hours per day shall be added together and reported as weekly aggregate hours. (3-30-01)

02. Aggregate Attendance. Students enrolled in career technical school approved intermediate and capstone courses who attend ~~attending~~ more than two and one-half (2.5) hours per day are to be reported as aggregate attendance. (3-30-01)

106. CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOL ADDED COST UNIT CALCULATION.
The Division of Career Technical Education shall use the Career Technical school average daily attendance (ADA) as the basis for added cost unit funding. (3-30-01)

01. State Support Unit Value. The added cost support unit value shall be based on state salary-based apportionment, state paid employee benefits (less state unemployment), base support, and safe environment distribution factors found in the Public School Support Program. (3-30-01)

02. Support Unit Divisor. Added cost support units for Career Technical schools shall be calculated by using the secondary support unit attendance divisor of eighteen and one-half (18.5) as shown in Section 33-1002(6), Idaho Code. (3-30-01)

03. Added Cost Support Factor. The added cost support factor for Career Technical schools shall be calculated by multiplying point thirty-three (.33) times the added cost support units generated in the Career Technical school. (3-30-01)

04. Estimated Reimbursement. The estimated reimbursement shall be calculated by multiplying the state support unit value by the added cost support factor. (3-30-01)

107. CAREER TECHNICAL SCHOOL ADDED COST UNIT FUND DISTRIBUTION.
Once the Career Technical appropriation is made, the per unit value will be determined by dividing the total units into the appropriation. (3-30-01)

01. Payment Distribution. Added cost support unit funds shall be distributed by the Division of Career Technical Education in two (2) payments: (3-30-01)

a. Seventy percent (70%) of the total estimated funds for which a Career Technical school is eligible shall be distributed each year following receipt of first-period enrollment data from the Department of Education. (3-30-01)

b. Based on actual support units generated during the year, the balance shall be distributed each year by July 15th. (3-30-01)

02. Reduced Funding. In the event that the legislature does not appropriate enough funds to cover at least ninety percent (90%) of the calculated per unit value, preference will be given to existing schools and funding will not be reduced to less than ninety percent (90%) of the previous year's level. (3-30-01)

03. Adjusted Distribution. In the event that program growth exceeds the amount of the requested appropriation on a given year, the distribution of funds to each Career Technical school will be based on the projected ADA from the Annual Application or the actual ADA from the enrollment reports, whichever is smallest. (3-30-01)

108. ACCOUNTABILITY.

01. Assessment Process. The Division of Career Technical Education shall develop an assessment process that includes measures and standards for Career Technical school programs. (3-30-01)

02. Administrator Responsibility. The administrator of each career technical school shall be responsible to provide onsite administration of the career technical school and submit all required career technical school documentation, as outlined by the Division of Career Technical Education.~~a complete report for each program on the measures and standards at the end of each fiscal year.~~ (3-30-01)

03. Accreditation. Each Career Technical school shall be accredited following Department of Education guidelines. This accreditation shall be appropriate for the individual type of Career Technical school that is developed. (3-30-01)

04. School Improvement Plan. The administration, faculty and staff at each Career Technical school shall be responsible to develop and implement a local school improvement plan based on the assessment process. (3-30-01)

Board Policy III.O.—Course Placement—First Reading

REFERENCE

June 2015	Board approved Repeal of Board Policy III.O. Equivalency Schedules.
October 2015	Board approved waiver of Board Policy III.Q.4.c, Admissions Placement Scores.

APPLICABLE STATUTES, RULE OR POLICY

Idaho State Board of Education Governing Policies & Procedures, Section III.Q.4.c

BACKGROUND / DISCUSSION

At its October 2015 meeting, the State Board of Education (Board) waived for a third and final time the placement section of Board policy III.Q.4.c. This section of policy covers placement in entry-level college courses and was waived until the end of the 2016 calendar year to allow for the creation and adoption of new placement mechanisms, especially in the wake of the news that ACT would be discontinuing the widely used COMPASS test at the end of CY2016.

The new placement mechanisms and processes currently under development by the institutions will be reviewed by the Chief Academic Officer and the Council on Academic Affairs and Programs (CAAP) prior to implementation.

The adoption of this policy will serve two primary purposes. First, it will allow the institutions to design and implement placement processes and mechanisms that allow them to properly place their students. Second, it will serve the Board's desire to ensure each institution's placement processes and expectations are found in a single location (much like the graph in Board Policy III.Q.4.c).

IMPACT

Approval of the proposed amendments would create a separate section of Board Policy regarding course placement and replace the current statewide placement policy.

ATTACHMENTS

Attachment 1 – Section III.O. "Course Placement" – First Reading. Page 3

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Given that course placement and college admissions are sufficiently separate areas of operation, CAAP recommends giving placement its own section of Board Policy. The proposed policy would create a new section of policy. CAAP recommends extracting Board Policy III.Q.4.c (currently under waiver) from III.Q and placing it in III.O. Board Policy III.Q is also in the early stage of being revised.

Currently, Board Policy III.Q.4.c provides one location where current placement related cut scores can be identified. While cut scores are currently waived, CAAP believes it still remains important for all critical placement related information to be located in one place.

This proposed policy was recommended for approval by CAAP at its May 26 meeting and recommended for approval by the Instruction, Research and Student Affairs (IRSA) at its July 21, 2016 meeting.

Staff recommends approval.

BOARD ACTION

I move to approve the first reading of the new section of Board policy III.O. Course Placement, as presented in Attachment 1.

Five-Year Program Plan

REFERENCE

August 2012	The Board approved the first iteration of the Five-Year Program Plan.
August 2013	The Board approved the Five-Year Program Plan update.
August 2015	The Board approved the Five-Year Program Plan update.

APPLICABLE STATUTE, RULE, OR POLICY

Board Policy Section III.Z. Planning and Delivery of Postsecondary Programs and Courses, Section 33-113, Idaho Code.

BACKGROUND/DISCUSSION

Section 33-113, Idaho Code requires the Board, in the interest of efficiency, to define the limits of instruction at all publicly funded institutions, and to limit wasteful duplication to the extent practicable. Board Policy III.Z. sets the method by which the Board limits duplication or evaluates the need for duplication as well as assigns responsibility for assessing the educational and workforce needs around the state.

Board Policy III.Z.2.a.ii. requires institutions to create program plans in alignment with their Statewide and Service Region Program responsibilities that describe proposed programs to be offered over a five year period and all programs currently offered. Board staff reviews institution plans for alignment with statutory and policy requirements, program responsibilities, and duplication.

On April 12, 2016, Board staff coordinated a work session with the provosts to review draft institution plans, statewide needs, and to identify and discuss programs that could potentially be viewed as duplicative or in conflict with Statewide Program responsibilities. This year, Board staff worked with the Division of Career and Technical Education (CTE) to coordinate the work session that would include a section for CTE programs, separate from academic programs.

The Five-Year Program Plan represents proposed programs for Academic Years 2016-17, 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20, and 2020-21.

IMPACT

The Five-Year Plan will provide a comprehensive picture of anticipated institutional academic program development. The Five-Year Plan is intended to serve as the foundation for advising and informing the Board in its efforts to coordinate educational programs throughout the state. Approval of the Five-Year Plan will provide the institutions with the ability to proceed to a program proposal development stage.

STAFF COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Institutions met on April 12, 2016 to review proposed programs, discuss areas of concern, and potential collaboration opportunities. Last year, staff reported that the College of Western Idaho (CWI) is proposing an Associate of Applied Science in Radiologic Technology for the 2019-20 academic year. Boise State University had at that time expressed concerns about the likely competitiveness of clinical sites for its existing B.S., Diagnostic Radiology program if CWI were to offer a Radiologic Technology program in the Treasure Valley. Both institutions reiterated that ongoing discussion is necessary as CWI continues to explore the viability of the proposed program. There were no other programs identified for future discussion.

The following represents a number of partnerships between institutions that are in progress or in the discussion stages.

UI	Computer Science, BS with NIC (Fall 2016)
ISU and CWI	Pharmacy Technology with NIC
BSU	-Joint Master of Public Administration & JD program – with UI (Fall 2018) -Criminal Justice, BS – with CWI (Fall 2017)
LCSC	Athletic Training, MS with UI (3+2) (in progress)
EITC	Medical Technician with ISU (discussion)
NIC	-Cybersecurity, AAS with UI (Fall 2017) -Medical Laboratory Technology, AAS w/5 technical colleges (Fall 2017)

IRSA reviewed the five-year plan at their July 21, 2016 meeting and will be prepared to discuss at the Board's meeting.

Staff recommends approval of the Five-Year Plans as submitted in Attachment 1.

Five-Year Program Plan

Delivery of Postsecondary Programs and Courses

Prepared by
The Office of the State Board of Education

Table of Contents

Five-Year Plan
Delivery of Postsecondary Programs

The State Board of Education established in alignment with Board Policy III.Z., a comprehensive process for the planning and delivery of postsecondary education. Consistent with this policy, institutions create an institution plan that describes all current programs and proposed programs to be offered in alignment with each institution's Statewide and Service Region Program Responsibilities. The process requires that institutions provide a level of programmatic information for each current program being offered and for each proposed program as part of the five-year plan development.

Statewide Program Responsibility
In accordance with Board Policy III.Z.1.g, "Statewide Program Responsibility shall mean an institution's responsibility to offer and deliver a Statewide Program in all regions of the state. Statewide Program Responsibilities are assigned to a specific institution by the Board, taking into account the degree to which such program is uniquely provided by the institution."

Service Region Program Responsibility
In accordance with Board Policy III.Z.1.e, "Service Region Program Responsibility shall mean an institution's responsibility to offer and deliver a Service Region Program to meet regional educational and workforce needs in its service region as defined in subsection 2.b.ii (1) and (2). Service Region Program Responsibilities are assigned to the Designated Institution in each service region, but may be offered and delivered by Partnering Institutions in accordance with the procedures outlined in this policy."

The Five-Year Plan specifically consists of proposed programs institutions have identified they will pursue over a five-year period. As proposed programs are developed, institutions must follow the program review process and procedures provided in Board Policy III.G, Postsecondary Program Approval and Discontinuance to acquire appropriate approvals prior to implementation of programs. If the program is to be delivered outside the institution's service region, a Memorandum of Understanding must be developed and agreed upon in cooperation with the Board's Chief Academic Officer prior to implementation.

The Plan also consists of a complete program inventory of programs currently being offered by Idaho's public postsecondary institutions. Programs are listed by CIP code and then alphabetically by institution. The list includes programs, options, and degrees offered through various departments and colleges.

Consistent with Board Policy III.Z., the Plan is updated on an annual basis. It is intended that the Five-Year Plan will provide guidance to the State Board of Education in its planning and coordination of educational programs.

Delivery of Programs

Consistent with Board Policy III.Z., “Statewide Program Responsibilities are assigned to a specific institution by the Board, taking into account the degree to which such program is uniquely provided by the institution.” The statewide program list is reviewed for alignment by the Board every two years.

Program offerings commencing 2017-2018
Master of Business for Veterans	master's level	Region II	Regional	Summer 2017	Distance (Blackboard) modality: Development of a new online Master Degree targeted to the unique skills and experiences of U.S. Veterans is being discussed in the college and the college expects to submit a detailed program proposal.	Internal reallocation for program startup
Chinese Language	B.A.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2017	Hybrid/combination modality: A degree program that will provide students with the necessary language skills to meet the needs of developing global markets. Demand for Chinese language skills in the fields of agriculture, engineering, business, education, architecture, and the sciences are growing. U.S. and Idaho companies are actively seeking out bilingual staff who can help them expand and develop markets within China and in the U.S. The UI Confucius Institute offers Chinese langauge courses through the department of modern languages and cultures. Expanding to Region III furthers the mission in accordance with Confucius Institute Headquarters in Hanban. MOU with Hanban signed in 2012.	Reallocation
Film Studies	B.A./B.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2017	Hybrid: New joint B.A. and B.S. degrees in film studies builds upon existing faculty strengths and courses already offered. Taught on the film school model, students will learn how to think critically and historically about film and culture while learning the fundamentals of film writing and film making.	Reallocation
1st year curriculum for Juris Doctor	J.D.	Region III	State-wide	Summer 2017	Traditional/hybrid combination modality: 1st year curriculum to be delivered in Boise (phased in), with the existing 3rd and 2nd years.	Reallocation

Law	BS/BA	Region II	Regional	Summer 2017	Hybrid: The BS/BA in law would be among only two or three in the country and would give students the opportunity to study law in the context of an undergraduate liberal arts curriculum. The course of study will introduce students to core skills and concepts related to legal reasoning and the operation of legal institutions in their domestic and global context.	Reallocation
Medical Science	B.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2017	Traditional Modality: This new degree program would serve to provide better advising opportunities and focus for students interested in preparation for medical school. It will not be a requirement for students with that career focus to enroll in this major, as we already have students from majors all across campus who successfully prepare for entrance to medical school -- this would simply provide another possible major for these students, and would consolidate the most appropriate coursework for their preparation in a single curriculum.	Reallocation
Mathematics Education	Ph.D.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2018	Traditional modality: The PhD in Mathematics Education Degree prepares students to pursue a career as a College Professor specializing in pre-service and in-service education of Mathematics teachers as well as the furthering of research in Mathematics Education.	Reallocation

Master's of Science in Nutrition	M.S.	Region I and Region II and Region III	Regional	Summer 2018	Online & Hybrid/combination modality: The Master's of Science in Nutrition will provide courses related to the science and behavior of nutrition, feeding, eating, and food preparation. This meets the mandate of the Accreditation Council for the Education of Nutrition and Dietetics requiring all registered dietitian nutritionists to hold an MS degree. The program is offered in Region II with faculty and clinical placements occurring in both Region I and Region III. There will be two options, one for current registered dietitans and an option for undergraduates pursuing the career.	Reallocation
Industrial Technology (INDT)	B.S.Tech.	Region I	Regional	Summer 2018	Traditional modality & Distance via Engineering Outreach: Industrial Technology provides students the ability to lead industry operations that are becoming more technical in nature and supervise direct labor. This degree bridges the gap between engineering degrees and technology degrees. There have been numerous requests to extend the program to CdA center campus.	Reallocation
Statistics	B.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2018	Traditional Modality: The BS in Statistics meets a growing need for students able to understand the science of collecting, analyzing, and interpreting information. With the explosion of data available in most fields, this degree meets a growing need. This degree will result from essentially taking the Applied Statistics and Actuarial Science options in the BS degree in Mathematics and converting them into this new degree. (That is, we would move responsibility for these majors from options within the current Mathematics B.S. to a new major administered by the Department of Statistical Science.) Only minor changes would need to be made to those options to conform with national standards for a BS in Statistics. Nationally, the BS in Statistics is a fast-growing degree.	Reallocation

German	B.A.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2018	Traditional/hybrid/study abroad modality: A degree program that provides students with the linguistic and cultural competencies to meet the needs of the global market. US companies seeking to operate in the EU, and German companies with a presence in North American and worldwide, recruit students who can work in a multicultural, German-and English-speaking environment. German is a high-value qualification in engineering and other STEM fields, music, architecture, arts management, archaeology, psychology, banking, business, and education.	Reallocation
Emerging Digital Media	M.A./M.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2018	Distance modality: Emerging media technologies are continually transforming media industries and media communication. The M.A./M.S. degrees allows media professionals and others seeking advanced credentials to develop skills in the effective use of emerging media forms. Potential students will include JAMM students seeking advanced media instruction as well as regional media and business professionals.	Reallocation
Women's and Gender Studies	B.A./B.S.	Region II	Regonal	Summer 2018	Hybrid modality: The B.A./B.S. program would provide students with a solid foundation in Women's and Gender Studies through course work that covers historical, sociological, political science, psychological, and cultural perspectives related to the study of women and men in society. The delivery method of the program would comprise a hybrid format of traditional and online modules for life-long learning opportunities that include courses addressing diversity and cultural competencies crucial for employment in many sectors today. These employment sectors include but are not limited to professions for both, women and men, in education, business, law, human resources, social services, media and communication, government, non-profit, and international organizations. Sociology	M.A./M.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2019	Hybrid/combination modality: M.A/M.S.; Focused on applied social science research/analysis. Applicable to non-profits, government agencies, and private industry. Research design, methods, evaluation, policy analysis, statistics, theory, internships, and reporting. Emphasis on human communities, attention toward addressing nationally significant questions at a community level. Program contributes research on social dimensions of any problem.	Reallocation
Communication	B.A./B.S.	Region II	Regional	Summer 2019	Hybrid: A degree in Communication focuses on how people verbally and nonverbally communicate at the individual, societal, and cultural levels. Students with degrees in Communication pursue careers as communication specialists and managers in a range of industries. This major was previously offered at the University of Idaho and had healthy enrollments and major count (100 to 150 majors), but was discontinued during the last recession in an effort to cut costs. Polytechnic Institute	Not Applicable as the Polytechnic Institute is not a degree program	Regions V and VI	Regional	2017-2018	A Polytechnic Institute as proposed by ISU is an overarching structure that will allow Idaho's higher education institutions, which are members of CAES (Center for Advanced Energy Studies), to locate faculty in Idaho Falls and offer certificate and degree programs either as a single institution or jointly with other member institutions. The institute is responsive to the recommendations of the LINE (Leadership In Nuclear Energy) Commission where a polytechnic institution is recommended for Idaho Falls as part of a strategy to insure that INL (Idaho National Laboratory) maintains its status as DOE's (Department of Energy) lead laboratory for nuclear energy in the United States.	Resource neutral	ISU will be the managing institution for the Polytechnic Institute consistent with its current role for University Place, which includes CAES. An academic governance structure that handles the intricacies of multiple institutions offering degrees, both independently and collaboratively, will be developed as institutions identify programs to deliver through the overarching structure of the Polytechnic Institute. It is expected that each institution will have representation commensurate with their role, in a fashion that ensures a winning relationship for all involved. Input from INL and potentially other relevant industry partners will shape the governance structure.
